SPECIES	NO.	DATE	LOCATION - COMMENT - OTHER OBSERVERS
August and the first half of September were hot and dry, with falling water levels in area marshes. Good rains in late Sept. and the month of October brought water levels up again, and even produced some field ponds. We got about 4 inches of snow on Nov. 23 and 8 inches ~~[illegible]~~ Nov. 27 and 28.
cattle egret	1	Oct. 20	on edge of field pond 2 miles west of Ventura, Hancock County white-winged scoter	1	Oct. 21	in private marsh 3 miles SE of Ventura, Cerro Gordo County (saw white on wing as it dived) greater scaup (both females)	2	Nov. 8	Rice Lake, 4 miles SE of Lake Mills, Worth County — (in-hand identification; both had been killed by duck hunters; I checked their kill) black brant	1	Nov. 18	5 miles N of Riverton, Fremont County (shot by hunter — identified by Carl Priebe; see attached memo)
