Little Johnny Shaffer is on the sick list.

W. H. Birney has gone to Sioux Falls, S. D., for a two weeks' visit.

All communications must be signed by the parties writing them to insure publication.

The first Sunday in December is the grand rally day for a new lot at East Side Baptist church.

The East Side Baptist Church will have Thanksgiving services at 11 a. m. on Thanksgiving day.

Dr. Williams sermon for next Sunday night will be "The Bible on Dancing." Come out and bring your bible.

I. E. Williamson was one of the clerks of election in this city. He is an excellent man and thoroughly competent.

Mr. and Mrs. I. E. Williamson, formerly at 1108 West Eighth street, are now located in rooms 16, 17, 18 and 19 over 623 Walnut street in the Golden Rule block.

Will Franklin was arrested in Peoria and brought back to this city charged with stealing diamonds—a wagon load—worth about $50. His is a case of vicious associates and idleness.

The ladies of the Afternoon Social club entertained their husbands at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Jackson, of Eighth street, Saturday evening. A most excellent time is reported.

One of the grandest entertainments of the season will be given at the Y. M. C. A. auditorium on November 21. The proceeds are to go to St. Paul's A. M. E. Church. Remember and don't miss going—it will be good.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Hudlin arrived in the city from Phillipsburg, Kas., Saturday evening. They are looking well and wife fairly well pleased with the grasshopper and cyclone state express themselves as greatly in love with Iowa and its metropolis.

A number of young folks gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Stanton, 117 West Seventh street, a few evenings since and proceeded to make the home scene of much merriment. Refreshments were served and the evening delightfully spent.

The Ladies Afternoon Social club met Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Hopkins. After usual business and artistic needle work, an elegant lunch was served. The society adjourned to meet with Mrs. Austin, 1031 B. street. Mrs. McAfee, Sec'y.

Grand turkey dinner at the East Side Baptist Church on Thanksgiving day. You are hereby cordially invited to come out and hear the Thanksgiving sermon at 11 a. m., and thereafter take your Thanksgiving turkey with the church. Dinner 25 cents. Secure a ticket from the committee.

Albert Bell was clerk of the election board in the third precinct of the second ward. We have heard several compliments passed on his work. His book was clean and accurate. This board was one of the first to complete its work and give the totals of the day's voting. Mr. Bell is also township clerk and we understand he is giving excellent satisfaction.

St. Paul A. M. E. Church on Second and Center. T. Reeves, pastor. Preaching morning and evening. Sunday School at 3 p. m. John Hardy, sup. Class Meeting at 12 m. Subject of sermon at 10:30 "Eternal Life: is the Christian's Conception of it Scientific." Subject of sermon at 7:30 "Conversion: Why Imperative." Good singing by choir. Free seats and a hearty welcome to all.

The H. B. S. R. C. met at the home of Mrs. A. O. Smith with the president in the chair. It being business day the program was omitted. Program for November 14: History. Mrs. Blagburn; Longfellow; Mrs. Bell; Questions; Mesdames Wilburn, Williamson and Banks; Original Sketch, Mrs. Birney; Paper, Mrs. Banks; Oracle, Mesdames Hamilton, and Birney; Critic, Mrs. Palmer.

It is wonderful how quick some people take offense at pieces which appear in newspapers where no name is mentioned. Society did its duty, such people would best be forgotten. They are generally "caking," the same to society that a potato is to a barrel of sound ones. After such people have been forgotten, let us have a happy lives, and any short-comings must be a thing of the past.

Reeves, is much pleased with his congregation, and feels assured if the same working spirit manifests itself in the future as in the past that nothing but success can attend such efforts.

Gordon & Mash are making new improvements in their Aborn House barber shop. They will occupy the ground floor, using the old shop for a bath room exclusively. It will be a handsome place. The old room has been occupied as a barber shop for nearly twenty years. By strict attention to business they have built up a trade that demands more room. When they took the shop it was doing little business and was shaving for ten cents. They have raised the price to fifteen cents and employed more men. They are two worthy young men and deserve success.

The Pathfinders contemplate renting a hall to be used as permanent quarters where they can entertain their friends in royal style.

Mr. Felix Adkins returned to his situation on the dinner Tuesday evening after visiting in this city several days.

Mr. George Hanley, of Mt. Pleasant, visited Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Scott a few days ago.

NOTICE. The ladies of the Willing Workers Sewing Society of St. Paul's A. M. E. Church will hold a fair for the benefit of the trustees in the church parlors Tuesday and Wednesday evenings, November 12th and 13th. Supper and refreshments in connection with the fair. Corner Second and Center streets. Every day invited to attend. Admission, 10 cents.

Mrs. J. A. ALLEN, President. Mrs. WARRICK, Secretary.

A True Bear Story. Stranger (up in Maine)—"I presume you have seen a good many bears in your time."

Hunter—"Bout a thousand."

Stranger—"I wish you would tell me a bear story—a true one, of course, every detail exactly as it happened."

Hunter—"Oh, yes. All right. I'll give you one; but you won't care for it. Back in the sixties, about sixty-nine, I think, or maybe it was seventy, I was walkin' along, not thinkin' of anything in particular, except Josh Peabody's chances of election—Josh and me were great friends—when all of a sudden, just as I'd crossed a log over a stream, and sat down on the further end of the log for a little rest, I felt a jar, and looking up, there at the other end of the log, with one paw on it, was the biggest, ugliest-looking bear you ever see. I had my gun, but it was empty, and I hadn't as much as a bird-shot to load with—just going home, you know. My huntin'-knife had got lost somehow that same day, and all I had was an old-fashioned Barlow pocket-knife, a good deal the worse for wear. Well, I looked at that critter, and he looked at me for 'bout two minutes, when I sort of idled off the log and crept along up the stream about twenty feet, meantime openin' the old Barlow knife. I couldn't get any further on account of a high bank, a thicket of laurels, and the jagged roots of a big tree that was blown over. Well, there I stood, and there that critter stood, me eyin' him and him eyin' me, fer full ten minutes, when all of a sudden—"

"Mighty good cigar this is."

Stranger—"Yes, yes; go on."

Hunter—"Oh! yes. All of a sudden that bear crossed over the log and walked away."

CURRENT NOTES.

Neil: "What was Mrs. Newlywed's maiden name?" Belle: "Her maiden name was to get married."—Philadelphia Record.

Old Fog: "What do you learn at school, little girl?" Little Girl (bewildered): "What do we learn at school? What don't we learn?"—Somerville Journal.

Pert Miss (in bloomers): "You stare at me, sir, as though you expected to see me wearing horns!" Innocent Young Man: "Yes, I thought you might be the girl woman!"—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

"I wonder," mused serious October, "how September happened to get thirty days." "Possibly," rejoined merry May, "she didn't have the money to pay her fine."—Detroit Tribune.

"There are some cases," said the young man, "in which scientists say that smoking is beneficial." "Um—yes," replied the man of years. "It's a good thing for a ham, for instance."—Washington Star.

"Yes, Rollo, your great-grandfather remembers a game played in this country two centuries ago called baseball. It was not so hot as it was played, but I think it was two nines against one umpire."—Syracuse Post.

THE REVIEW OF REVIEWS

Edited by ALBERT SHAW

IT WAS in April, 1901, that the first number of the American Review of Reviews was printed. The new idea of giving the best that was in the other magazines in addition to its own brilliant, original articles, took America by storm, as it had taken England—though the magazine itself was not at all a reprint of the English edition. It dealt most largely with American affairs, and is edited with thoroughness and independence, in its own office.

The Review of Reviews is a monthly, timely in illustration and text, and instantly alive to the newest movements of the day, to a degree never before dreamed of. Thousands of readers, who offer their commendations, among them the greatest names in the world, say that the Review of Reviews gives them exactly what they should know about politics, literature, economics and social progress. The most influential men and women of all creeds and all parties have agreed that the Review of Reviews is a family can afford to lose its

THE REGULAR DEPARTMENTS

Besides the special articles and character sketches of thrilling interest and incidents, the Review of Reviews has these regular departments:

The Progress of the World.—An illustrated editorial review of the month's events which, illustrating, news and writers about conditions in their proper significance.

Leading Articles of the Month.—Editorial essays on the current events of the month, written by the most influential men and women of the day.

Current History in Caricature.—Caricatures of the current events of the month, drawn by the most skillful artists of the day.

Other departments review carefully new books, plays, and current events, and are a daily record of current events.
