WONDERFUL! WONDERFUL!

Why Suffer when You Can be Cured by this Wonderful Man--A Natural Born Healer--He has no Equal as a Healer.

DR. J. M. WILSON, The Marvelous Healer.

It cures the most stubborn diseases when all others have failed to give relief. Dr. Wilson has cured many afflicted persons at their own home without seeing them. There is not one out of the large number he has treated by his method of HOME TREATMENT but what are perfectly satisfied, and would not exchange the benefits they have received for their money back, were it possible even if the price they paid had been ten times as much.

This mighty healer locates the trouble of them who CALL on him without them telling him; he tells them how they feel. He has never had time to visit outside of the city as he desires to. Since he opened his office in Des Moines he has been kept too busy TREATING and CURING all forms of disease.

HE IS GOING TO ACCOMMODATE THOSE WHO ARE NOT ACQUAINTED with his method and are not able to come to Des Moines. All persons applying to me for HOME TREATMENT and paying for same during the month of June will receive a full month's treatment for HALF of the regular price.

I successfully CURE every disease known to humanity, where the usual methods, namely, drugs, surgery, etc., have failed to give relief. If you want my help this is your chance.

"In Unity There is Strength" was thus treated long years ago in Aesop's Fables, and it stands good to-day. Unity on a correct basis, on a correct principle, on something of general benefit is always to be encouraged. "Unity and Strength" do not compromise with wrong.

SIX YEARS OLD.

On Friday June the 8, 1894, the IOWA STATE BYSTANDER made its first appearance, and with this issue we celebrate the sixth anniversary of the paper. For six years the BYSTANDER has made its weekly visit to its patrons, without missing a single issue. Six years ago we promised to stand by and defend the interest of the progressive and law abiding members of the race, and to show the progress made by our people from a literary, as well as a financial stand point, and to defend their business as well as political rights. For these principles we have stood guard and will not surrender one foot of ground where the interest of the race is in question. We have fought race prejudice where ever it showed its cloven foot. As to how well we have discharged our duty our readers shall be the judges, and as to the progress made by the BYSTANDER we invite you to visit our office and compare it with other journals of equal age.

SKILLED LABOR.

There is a brick mason in town—when Saturday night comes 24 big dollars are laid in his hand. There is a carpenter in town—when Saturday night comes 15 big dollars are his to spend for his family. There is a printer in town—when Saturday night arrives 21 large silver dollars, just as good as gold, are placed in his pocket for him to use for his own and his family's comforts—and on we might go in regard to skilled labor—the labor that is the product of hand and brain. Can as much be said of unskilled labor? It requires several years of study and labor to master a good trade, but comparatively no time to master a position requiring no skill. Behold the difference in the salaries—in the number of the "dollars of our daddies!"

COLOR LINE DRAWN

IN THE NATIONAL FEDERATION OF WOMEN.

Mrs. Windsor of Iowa and the Other Iowa Delegates Favor Equality.

The biennial meeting of the Women's Club Federation was opened last Monday and the most exciting thing is the attempt on the part of the Federation to refuse to admit the colored delegates. The Iowa delegation adopted a resolution Wednesday morning favoring the seating of colored delegates by a vote of 17 to 6. Much feeling was shown. The resolution also opposed the reorganization of the federation by a vote of 17 to 10. In the general federation board the only speakers defending the seating of colored delegates were Mrs. James Windsor of Des Moines, Mrs. Chas. Morris of Wisconsin and Mrs. Decker of Colorado.

"The principal discussion has arisen regarding Mrs. Josephine St. Pierre Ruffin, who is here as a delegate from the Woman's Era club of Boston. At the board meeting this morning, after an animated debate, the matter of admitting Mrs. Ruffin was laid on the table. Mrs. Ruffin however, is also a delegate from the Massachusetts state federation, and will be received as such, although probably not as the representative of a colored club. One of the board members told me that if the matter had not been laid upon the table this morning, the entire southern delegation, would have walked out of the meeting, which would have meant the complete demoralization of the present biennial. Mrs. Ruffin is attractive in appearance, being very light in color, and having a soft pompadour of gray hair. She was educated in Boston and Salem, and married when only 16. Mr. Ruffin, a graduate of Harvard. Mr. Ruffin has been prominent in public life in Boston, serving in the council, two terms in the legislature and was finally appointed to a judgeship in the municipal court of Charleston, being the first colored man to occupy a position on the bench north of the division line between north and south.

The application of the Phyllis Wheatley club, colored, of Milwaukee, is also up for discussion. It will probably not be received by the board."

MRS. RUFFIN'S CASE.

It is indeed painful to the intelligent people of this country to note the drawing of the color line question by the National Woman's Club of Federation. Mrs. Ruffin of Boston, Mass., who was sent as a delegate to represent the "New Era Club," which had been taken in as a full member, several months ago, by the federation which had received their money, are now trying to oust her. While the New Era Club is not anxious to force itself on any organization, but when asked to become a member, and now to refuse them as a delegate is a gross injustice, and it simply shows the prejudice and narrowness of some club women. Any club that would be guilty of such ideas is not fit to be called a club. We hope that common justice will ultimately prevail.

The 14th anniversary of the Galilee Baptist church of Evans, Iowa, will be celebrated Sunday, June 10, in an appropriate manner. Their intelligent pastor, Rev. D. J. Tate, has arranged a good programme, and they invite their friends to come, as all will be courteously received.

DAVENPORT REPORT.

The Dunbar Literary society met at the Third Baptist church May 30. Mr. M. B. Anderson, president and Mrs. E. J. Saunders, secretary, had charge of the meeting. The programme was cut short in order to give away to the discussion of the South African war by Rev. F. F. Walker. He claimed that England was justified in the steps she was taking, and he made a noble address in that direction.

Mr. and Mrs. James Herrington have just built an addition to their residence. Mr. Lindsay Pitts has done quite a great deal of remodeling, and papering in his building on East Fifth street, and it shows a beautiful improvement on the inside.

The Tabernacle will give a grand entertainment in Rock Island, Ill., June 5th. Quite a crowd is going from here. Mrs. W. D. Parker will sing a solo, Mrs. Hattie Hoskins will recite an essay and J. T. Mabry an address. All three are from this city.

On June 4th occurred the grand concert and entertainment at the Baptist church, given by the Juniors of the Third Baptist Sunday School. Forty boys and girls rendered the program which was highly appreciated by the large crowd that was present. Zood Davis won the prize for ticket selling by disposing of $3.50 worth of tickets. It was a grand success in every way, and was greatly due to the interest taken in it by Mrs. James Bell and Mrs. Hughes, and to whom the superintendent feels very grateful. Ethel Rogers was president of the concert and Ray Hughes, Secretary.

Rev. M. J. Burton leaves for the convention at Des Moines, Monday. J. T. Mabry will leave on the late train Tuesday night, and possibly the other delegates will go on the same train.

Mrs. Mary Miller, Mrs. James Warren, Mrs. Buckner and Mr. A. D. Corbin and others, whose name we were unable to get, went to Clinton, Decoration day.

Secret organizations seems to be blooming in the city very much at present.

On June 1st occurred the grand reception to Rev. F. T. Walker, tendered him by Mrs. Humphrey, at her beautiful residence, on Twelfth and Ripley streets. Quite a large crowd responded to the invitation to be present. Miss Mary Humphrey favored the guests with a very beautiful solo; Rev. Burton made some interesting remarks as did Mr. Ben. Hopkins and Rev. Walker. It is useless to say all had a nice time, as Miss and Mrs. Humphrey both are noted as fine entertainers. Ice cream and cake was served at a very late hour.

Mr. A. D. Corbin is studying law, and from to ad the Davenport Republican gives him, he will surely make it a success.

Please don't fail to have your subscription ready, no later than June 11th, when the agent will make his last call before leaving for Des Moines.

NUTS AS A CROP.

The raising of the edible nuts is one of the great industries of China.

Walnuts are sometimes eaten raw; sometimes used (like almonds) to flavor cakes; sometimes preserved in sugar.

Chestnuts are grown to the extent of about 500 tons, but not for export. Price ranges from $3 to $5 per hundredweight.

Hazelnuts are grown at a great distance, and only a few hundredweight reach Canton for sale. Price ranges from $4 to $6 per hundredweight.

The various nuts can be grown at great profit in the southern states of our union, and their cultivation will furnish an opportunity for many enterprising men.—Atlanta Constitution.

Walnuts are grown to the extent of about 1,000 tons, of which about 500 tons are exported. Price ranges from $3 to $7 per hundredweight. The above are only used as an adjunct food—not as a regular article of diet.

A recent consular report gives much valuable information upon that article of production. Peanuts are grown around Canton to the extent of about 1,000 tons. About 100 tons were shipped to Canton this year for the purpose of expressing the oil. Price ranges from $2 to $3 per hundredweight.

Hazelnuts are occasionally eaten raw, more frequently cooked as below described. Peanuts and chestnuts always cooked. A quantity of sand, about the size of No. 2 shot, is heated in an iron pan over a wood fire. The nuts are stirred in the heated sand until sufficiently roasted. The sand, of course, may be used several times for this purpose.

RICH MAN'S DOUBLE CRIME.

C. D. Reinhart Kills His Wife and Fatally Wounds Himself.

ODEBOLT, June 7.—Charles D. Reinhart, owner of the Reinhart flats in Sioux City, shot his wife three times and then put two bullets into his lungs. He will not survive. Reinhart and his wife had some angry words and he started to take her to relatives near Lakeview. When about half way on the road he committed the crime. The horse turned around and started back, being stopped a few minutes later near the home of Hon. Asa B. Smith. Mrs. Reinhart was dead and her husband sat in the buggy with his arm around her in an unconscious state. He revived later and stated that he had planned the deed deliberately. Reinhart owns 800 acres of land in Sac county. He has been a quiet, orderly citizen, and the deed surprises his acquaintances. Mrs. Reinhart was a fine woman and was highly respected. She was about 35 years old. Reinhart's age is 28.

SUSPENSION IS REPEALED.

Des Moines Criminal Taken Back to the Penitentiary.

DES MOINES, June 8.—Ollie Blair, who was granted a suspension of sentence from the governor March 14, has been taken back to the penitentiary at Ft. Madison because of a violation of the conditions of the suspension. After Blair was ordered back to the penitentiary an attempt was made to declare him insane but the case has been dismissed. If indications of insanity develop at Ft. Madison the prisoners will be removed to Clarinda, where there is a department for criminal insane. Blair was sentenced for eight years in May, 1896, after being convicted of breaking an entry into a railroad car. For the past week he has been closely watched by the pardon clerk and was found to be drinking and keeping bad company, two direct violations of the terms of suspension.

BIG STRIKE AT MASON CITY.

Railroad Laborers Go Out for Higher Wages.

MASON CITY, June 8.—All of the men working on the construction gangs of the Iowa & Minnesota division of the Northwestern, about 300 in number, have gone out on a strike for higher wages. The men had been getting from $1.50 to $1.75, but had for some time been dissatisfied and by a prearrangement of forces they walked out in a body and refused to resume work until the raise of 25 cents a day which they ask for is granted. The work on the new yards and depots was progressing rapidly and the track was about to enter the city from the south. How long this will block work is uncertain, but it will have the effect of a serious set back unless the men can be persuaded to go back to work.

EX-CONGRESSMAN HOLMES INSANE.

Due to Financial Trouble and Continued Ill Health.

BOONE, June 7.—Hon. A. J. Holmes, formerly congressman from the Tenth Iowa district, has been declared insane and sent to the state hospital at Clarinda. The insanity commissioners found that the case was more serious than they had expected and the only question remaining for them was the determination of whether or not any relief might be obtained at the hospital for the insane. Dr. DeTar advised that the only hope rested with the hospital, and the board made an order for the transfer of Major Holmes to the hospital at Clarinda. The mental blight and misfortune of Major Holmes is the result of two causes: financial trouble and continued ill health.

FELL ACROSS HOT STOVE.

Frightful Accident to Mrs. M. M. Tabar of Fort Dodge.

FORT DODGE, June 7.—Mrs. M. M. Tabar, while engaged in washing clothes, received burns from which she may lose the use of her arm and may lose her life. She was removing the steaming clothes from the boiler when she was seized with an epileptic fit. She fell across the stove and her arm fell into the seething water of the boiler. It was fully two minutes before her family found her in this position. Her body and arms were horribly burned and the hand and forearm literally parboiled. Opiates were administered to the agonized woman to relieve her sufferings.

Railroad Man Killed.

CRESTON, June 7.—Switchman Will Sandall was instantly killed in the Burlington yards by being run over by a switch engine. He was a member of the night force and had just gone to work. The first move the switch engine made resulted in his death, he missing the foot board. The entire engine passed over him, badly mangleing him. He was a young man recently married.

The articles of incorporation provide for building a railroad from Clinton to Dubuque, by way of Maquoketa and Farley.

Iowa Congressman Looked Upon as Sure Nominee for Vice-President.

WASHINGTON, June 6.—The Cook county republican club, of Chicago, will escort to the national convention the republican candidate for vice-president. E. M. Craig, president of the club, wired to Congressman Dolliver of Iowa, tendering to him the support of that organization for vice-president, and requesting the privilege of escorting him to the convention with a special train, and the old Iowa State band on board to furnish the music. Mr. Craig said that the club special would go by way of Detroit, Buffalo, Niagara Falls, Scranton and Trenton. Mr. Dolliver was too modest to accept the offer, but Congressman Lorimer of Chicago, who received a copy of the message, wired back for the club to go ahead with its arrangements. Mr. Lorimer did not act without knowledge of what is likely to happen at Philadelphia. Mr. Dolliver is now the administration candidate for vice-president. The enthusiasm with which his name has been accepted in congress and throughout the country has been watched by president McKinley and other leaders, and the president has today suggested to some of those who are urging Dolliver's nomination that they keep his name to the front, as there is no man in the field more acceptable to him, as the head of the ticket, for second place. Senator Hanna has also sent word along the line that Dolliver is the man, and the Dolliver boom has taken the lead over all the others. Senators Allison and Gear, Speaker Henderson, and all the Iowa congressmen, are enthusiastic in their support of their colleague and his prospects for the nomination.

Dubuque Man to Be Lashed.

A shooting affray occurred a few nights ago at a dance given at a new meat market, at Schleswig, in which Gus Buhs was shot by William Schroeder, one of the leading young business men of Schleswig. At first it was thought Buhs was not injured, but the latest report is that he may die. Schroeder has been arrested, but his hearing has been postponed until June 12, awaiting the recovery or death of Buhs.

Burglars blew up the safe of the Sheldahl Savings bank with dynamite and stole about $1,000 in currency, making their escape. The bank had fortunately just sent $1,000 by express to the Central State bank at Des Moines, saving that amount. The bank loses nothing, having been fully insured in a bankers' casualty company. The bank is owned by wealthy farmers of the vicinity and the president is W. D. Schaal, cashier, R. F. Graeber. There is no clue to the burglars.

It is announced that Archbishop Keane, archbishop of Damascus, and late rector of the Catholic university in Washington, has been appointed to succeed Archbishop Hennessy as metropolitan of Dubuque. The bill creating him archbishop of Dubuque has been sent to Archbishop Keane, and Rome is awaiting the latter's acceptance or declination. The above statements are based upon information contained in a letter received by a local priest from a correspondent in Rome, who stands close to the authorities.

Belmond dispatch: Word was received from Eldora announcing the death of Ole Hill, a young man who was taken there from Belmond to the reform school in March. His case was an extraordinary one. His skin was devoid of pores and he could not sweat. That was the cause of his death. He was compelled to work in the sun, and in a few hours succumbed, although the authorities had been warned about his condition. When he was taken from Belmond he evidenced insanity, and nearly every one thought he should have been taken to the insane asylum.

WAR HAS ONLY JUST BEGUN.

Declaration of President Kruger at Machadorp.

LONDON, June 8.—The executive offices of the Transvaal government are in a railway car which is shunted on a switch at Machadorp Station. President Kruger caused the interior of the coach to be reconstructed some time ago with a view to contingencies that have now arrived. A correspondent of the Daily Express, who went from Lorenzo Marquez to see President Kruger, was received by him. The president sat smoking a long pipe. He looked worried, but his bearing was quiet and determined. He did not make the least objection to being interviewed.

"Yes," said President Kruger, "it is quite true that the British have occupied Pretoria. This, however, does not end the war. The burghers are fully determined to fight to the last. They will never surrender so long as five hundred armed men remain in the country. I feel deeply encouraged by the fine work Steyn and DeWet are doing in the Free State."

The correspondent suggested that the war was over, inasmuch as the capital had been taken.

"The capital!" exclaimed Mr. Kruger with energy. "What is a capital? It does not consist of any particular collection of bricks and mortar. The capital of the republic, the seat of government, is here in this car. There is no magic about any special site. Our country is invaded, it is true, but it is not conquered. The government is still effective."

SANCTIONED BY EMPRESS.

China's Dowager Supports the Boxer Movement.

SHANGHAI, June 6.—The China Gazette says it has the highest authority for stating that the dowager empress ordered the Tsung Li Yamen to face all Europe rather than to interfere with the Boxer movement. Elsewhere it is asserted that the viceroy ordered the troops to oppose further landing of parties from foreign warships and that the troops now engaged in operations are designed to prevent further foreign re-inforcements from reaching Peking.

TIENTSIN, June 6.—A representative of the Associated Press visited Huang Tsun, on the Peking-Tien Tsin railway, and found the station burned and two bridges damaged. An officer commanding Chinese troops said two hundred of his men bolted, and only fifty remained. These fought well, killing a number of Boxers. The bolting troops were badly cut up in an adjacent broken country. Sixty were killed or wounded. Bands of Boxers are patrolling the neighborhood. All Chinese railway employes are deserting their posts, and troops sent to guard the stations appear worse than useless. A guard of 250 sent to Fang Tai bolted at Lu Kou Chao when they heard of the trouble at Huang Tsung.

"BOXERS" ARE NOW IN CONTROL.

Have Flags With "Kill the Foreigners" On Them.

LONDON, June 8.—Telegraphing from Tien Tsin under date of June 6, a correspondent says:

"I left Tien Tsin this morning en route for Peking, accompanied by General Nieh, supposed to be one of the best Chinese generals, with sixty soldiers. We proceeded to Lofa, a distance of thirty-one miles. We found the plate-layers' cabins in flames and telegraph poles cut, and men were engaged in destroying others in the villages near the railway, where flags were seen bearing the inscription 'Kill all foreigners.'"

"I saw smoke, evidently from the burning houses in the distance, but General Nieh refused to proceed further, being in mortal fear of the 'Boxers,' though the foreigners endeavored to persuade him to disentrain his troops, who were firmly convinced that it is useless to fight the 'Boxers,' as other Chinese say they have seen 'Boxers' hit with bullets rise and run away. There seems little prospect of the resumption of traffic to Peking unless foreign powers assume control of the railway until the Chinese government proves itself capable of managing communications with its capital."

BOERS ESCAPED WITH GUNS.

The Entire Army Successfully Retired From Pretoria.

LONDON, June 7.—Until the situation in the neighborhood of Pretoria is enlightened, officials here as well as others, will find difficulty in prognosticating Lord Roberts' immediate program. It appears evident the Boer commander-in-chief, Botha, with all his guns, withdrew in good order, probably along the Delagoa Bay railroad, with a view of joining Kruger; the Transvaal forces will remain practically intact, with Kruger, Steyn, Botha and Reitz safe in a position to continue the direction of affairs. The fact that Kruger's wife and Botha's wife left Pretoria is an indication that the president does not count on a long resistance. In any case it will probably take Roberts a week to organize the campaign of pursuit.

COMMISSIONERS HAVE ARRIVED.

Philippine Commissioners Reach Manila and Are Received by MacArthur.

MANILA, June 5.—The transport Hancock arrived Sunday after a fine voyage, having on board the new Philippine commission. The judges of the supreme court were the first visitors to the transport, and they were followed by General MacArthur's staff. Two companies and the band of the Twentieth infantry and a battery of the Sixth artillery escorted them to the ayuntamiento, where they were received by General MacArthur.

Lord Roberts Reports Surrender of the Thirteenth Regiment.

LONDON, June 6.—Following is the text of the dispatch from Lord Roberts announcing the disaster to the Thirteenth battalion of the Imperial Yeomanry, which numbered between 400 and 500 officers and men:

"Pretoria Station, June 5.—I regret to report that the Thirteenth Imperial Yeomanry had to surrender to a very superior force of the enemy, on May 31, near Lindley. On receiving information of the battalion being attacked, I ordered Methuen to proceed with all speed to its assistance.

"Methuen was then on the march, on the Heilbron side of Kroonstad, and, half an hour after the receipt of my telegram on June 1, he started off. By 10 a. m. of the following day he had marched forty-four miles in twenty-five hours, but he was too late to rescue Colonel Sprague's yeomanry.

"Methuen attacked the Boers, who were between 2,000 and 3,000 strong, and after a running fight of five hours completely routed the enemy.

"It is a very regrettable circumstance; but I trust it will not be very long before the Irish yeomanry are released from captivity."

BRITISH ARE IN PRETORIA

City Surrendered, But Few Prisoners Were Taken.

LONDON, June 6.—The war office has received the following from Lord Roberts:

"PRETORIA, June 5.—Just before dark yesterday the enemy were beaten back from nearly all the positions they had been holding, and Ian Hamilton's mounted infantry followed them to within two thousand yards of Pretoria, through which they retreated hastily. De Lisle then sent an officer with a flag of truce into the town, demanding its surrender in my name. Shortly before midnight I was awakened by two officials of the South African republic, Sandberg, military secretary to Commandant General Botha, and a general officer of the Boer army, who brought me a letter from Botha, proposing an armistice for the purpose of settling terms of surrender.

"I replied that I would gladly meet the commandant general the next morning, but that I was not prepared to discuss any terms, as the surrender of the town must be unconditional. I asked for a reply by daybreak, as I had ordered the troops to march on the town as soon as it was light.

"In his reply, Botha told me he had decided not to defend Pretoria and he trusted women, children and property would be protected. At 1 o'clock a. m. today, while on the line of march, I was met by three of the principal officials with a flag of truce stating their desire to surrender the town.

"It was arranged that Pretoria should be taken possession of by her majesty's troops at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

"Mrs. Botha and Mrs. Kruger are both in Pretoria. Some few of the British prisoners have been taken away, but the majority are still at Waterval. Over 100 of the officers are in Pretoria. The few I have seen are looking well."

NEW YORK DEMOCRATS.

Ex-Senator Hill in Control and The Chicago Platform Not Endorsed.

NEW YORK, June 7.—The democratic state committee selected delegates-at-large to the Kansas City convention as follows: David B. Hill, Richard Croker, Edward Murphy and Augustus Van Wyck. The platform adopted contains no reaffirmation of the Chicago platform of 1896, but a declaration that the party in the state will support the platform of the Kansas City convention. The platform declares against war taxes in time of peace, declares for parity of gold and silver as currency, demands abolition of all customs and tariffs between Porto Rico and the United States, condemns trusts and monopolies, and entangling alliances; demands just and liberal pension laws and election of United States senators by the people, and favors the nomination of William J. Bryan. The convention gave promise of being very stormy, but ended quietly. The particular feature of the convention was the domination of affairs by ex-Senator D. B. Hill. The silver men profess to be satisfied with the result.

BRABANT LOSES HEAVILY.

Several Parties Sent out by Him Captured by the Boers.

MAZERU, Basutoland, June 5.—Gen. Brabant's horse has been subjected to several captures at the hands of the Boers. Lieut. Rundle, with twenty men, while searching a farm house in the Ficksburg district, were captured. Two of the men were wounded. Lieut. Lees, and two men were captured while commanding. Another patrol of body horse, numbering twenty men, while pursuing a small party of Boers were surrounded and captured. Count Gleichen sent thirteen men of the Provincial horse, under Lieut. Bowker, with flag of truce, to Senekel, to demand the surrender of that place. The Boers captured the entire party and after robbing the men of all but their clothing sent them to Urade, whence some of them managed to escape. Most of those who succeeded in eluding their guards, however, were recaptured.

Otis Is Allowed to Land.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 5.—After five days in quarantine at Angel Island, Major General E. S. Otis, who arrived on the 30th from Manila, was allowed to land yesterday. Several cases of small pox on board the transport Meade were the cause of the quarantine and General Otis and all on board had to submit to vaccination.

The raising of the edible nuts is one of the great industries of China.

Walnuts are sometimes eaten raw; sometimes used (like almonds) to flavor cakes; sometimes preserved in sugar.

Chestnuts are grown to the extent of about 500 tons, but not for export. Price ranges from $3 to $5 per hundredweight.

Hazelnuts are grown at a great distance, and only a few hundredweight reach Canton for sale. Price ranges from $4 to $6 per hundredweight.

The various nuts can be grown at great profit in the southern states of our union, and their cultivation will furnish an opportunity for many enterprising men.—Atlanta Constitution.

Walnuts are grown to the extent of about 1,000 tons, of which about 500 tons are exported. Price ranges from $3 to $7 per hundredweight. The above are only used as an adjunct food—not as a regular article of diet.

A recent consular report gives much valuable information upon that article of production. Peanuts are grown around Canton to the extent of about 1,000 tons. About 100 tons were shipped to Canton this year for the purpose of expressing the oil. Price ranges from $2 to $3 per hundredweight.

Hazelnuts are occasionally eaten raw, more frequently cooked as below described. Peanuts and chestnuts always cooked. A quantity of sand, about the size of No. 2 shot, is heated in an iron pan over a wood fire. The nuts are stirred in the heated sand until sufficiently roasted. The sand, of course, may be used several times for this purpose.

THE NEWS IN IOWA

RICH MAN'S DOUBLE CRIME.

C. D. Reinhart Kills His Wife and Fatally Wounds Himself.

ODEBOLT, June 7.—Charles D. Reinhart, owner of the Reinhart flats in Sioux City, shot his wife three times and then put two bullets into his lungs. He will not survive. Reinhart and his wife had some angry words and he started to take her to relatives near Lakeview. When about half way on the road he committed the crime. The horse turned around and started back, being stopped a few minutes later near the home of Hon. Asa B. Smith. Mrs. Reinhart was dead and her husband sat in the buggy with his arm around her in an unconscious state. He revived later and stated that he had planned the deed deliberately. Reinhart owns 800 acres of land in Sac county. He has been a quiet, orderly citizen, and the deed surprises his acquaintances. Mrs. Reinhart was a fine woman and was highly respected. She was about 35 years old. Reinhart's age is 28.

SUSPENSION IS REPEALED.

Des Moines Criminal Taken Back to the Penitentiary.

DES MOINES, June 8.—Ollie Blair, who was granted a suspension of sentence from the governor March 14, has been taken back to the penitentiary at Ft. Madison because of a violation of the conditions of the suspension. After Blair was ordered back to the penitentiary an attempt was made to declare him insane but the case has been dismissed. If indications of insanity develop at Ft. Madison the prisoners will be removed to Clarinda, where there is a department for criminal insane. Blair was sentenced for eight years in May, 1896, after being convicted of breaching an entry into a railroad car. For the past week he has been closely watched by the pardon clerk and was found to be drinking and keeping bad company, two direct violations of the terms of suspension.

BIG STRIKE AT MASON CITY.

Railroad Laborers Go Out for Higher Wages.

MASON CITY, June 8.—All of the men working on the construction gangs of the Iowa & Minnesota division of the Northwestern, about 300 in number, have gone out on a strike for higher wages. The men had been getting from $1.50 to $1.75, but had for some time been dissatisfied and by a prearrangement of forces they walked out in a body and refused to resume work until the raise of 25 cents a day which they ask for is granted. The work on the new yards and depots was progressing rapidly and the track was about to enter the city from the south. How long this will block work is uncertain, but it will have the effect of a serious set back unless the men can be persuaded to go back to work.

EX-CONGRESSMAN HOLMES INSANE.

Due to Financial Trouble and Continued Ill Health.

BOONE, June 7.—Hon. A. J. Holmes, formerly congressman from the Tenth Iowa district, has been declared insane and sent to the state hospital at Clarinda. The insanity commissioners found that the case was more serious than they had expected and the only question remaining for them was the determination of whether or not any relief might be obtained at the hospital for the insane. Dr. DeTar advised that the only hope rested with the hospital, and the board made an order for the transfer of Major Holmes to the hospital at Clarinda. The mental blight and misfortune of Major Holmes is the result of two causes: financial trouble and continued ill health.

FELL ACROSS HOT STOVE.

Frightful Accident to Mrs. M. M. Tabar of Fort Dodge.

FORT DODGE, June 7.—Mrs. M. M. Tabar, while engaged in washing clothes, received burns from which she may lose the use of her arm and may lose her life. She was removing the steaming clothes from the boiler when she was seized with an epileptic fit. She fell across the stove and her arm fell into the seething water of the boiler. It was fully two minutes before her family found her in this position. Her body and arms were horribly burned and the hand and forearm literally parboiled. Opiates were administered to the agonized woman to relieve her sufferings.

Railroad Man Killed.

CRESTON, June 7.—Switchman Will Sandall was instantly killed in the Burlington yards by being run over by a switch engine. He was a member of the night force and had just gone to work. The first move the switch engine made resulted in his death, he missing the foot board. The entire engine passed over him, badly mangling him. He was a young man recently married.

CLINTON, June 5.—Articles of incorporation of the Clinton, Dubuque & Northwestern railroad have been filed at Clinton. The stockholders are H. W. Seaman, Clinton; Charles G. Gates, Chicago; E. W. Boynton and W. S. Keefe, Davenport; William Knefick, Rock Island. The officers are: President, H. W. Seaman; vice-president, Charles G. Gates; secretary and treasurer, E. W. Boynton. The articles of incorporation provide for building a railroad from Clinton to Dubuque, by way of Maquoketa and Farley.

DOLLIVER'S BOOM UNDER WAY.

Iowa Congressman Looked Upon as Sure Nominee for Vice-President.

WASHINGTON, June 6.—The Cook county republican club, of Chicago, will escort to the national convention the republican candidate for vice-president, E. M. Craig, president of the club, with Congressman Dolliver of Iowa, tendering to him the support of that organization for vice-president, and requesting the privilege of escorting him to the convention with a special train, and the old Iowa State band on board to furnish the music. Mr. Craig said that the club special would go by way of Detroit, Buffalo, Niagara Falls, Scranton and Trenton. Mr. Dolliver was too modest to accept the offer, but Congressman Lorimer of Chicago, who received a copy of the message, wired back for the club to go ahead with its arrangements. Mr. Lorimer did not act without knowledge of what is likely to happen at Philadelphia. Mr. Dolliver is now the administration candidate for vice-president. The enthusiasm with which his name has been accepted in congress and throughout the country has been watched by president McKinley and other leaders, and the president has today suggested to some of those who are urging Dolliver's nomination that they keep his name to the front, as there is no man in the field more acceptable to him, as the head of the ticket, for second place. Senator Hanna has also sent word along the line that Dolliver is the man, and the Dolliver boom has taken the lead over all the others. Senators Allison and Gear, Speaker Henderson, and all the Iowa congressmen, are enthusiastic in their support of their colleague and his prospects for the nomination.

Dubuque Man to Be Marshal.

DUBUQUE, June 6.—George G. Perry, of Dubuque, has been appointed United States marshal for Alaska. He was formerly a member of the republican state committee. It is also stated that George Grace, of Dubuque, Senator Allison's former law partner, will be federal judge of Alaska.

At New Hampton recently an 18-year-old daughter of Mrs. F. M. Barber was nearly burned to death by the careless handling of a gasoline stove. She ran into the street in flames, and a passerby threw a rug over her, extinguishing the flames. Mrs. Barber was also slightly burned, and the kitchen caught fire, but it was soon put out by the neighbors.

Mrs. Edward Ahort, of Dow City, became tired of her marital relations with her husband, Edward Ahort, and eloped with the hired man, named Lee. Two companies and the band of the Twentieth infantry and a battery of the Sixth artillery escorted them to the Ayuntamiento where they were received by General MacArthur.

IRISH YEOMANRY CAPTURED.

Lord Roberts Reports Surrender of the Thirtieth Regiment.

LONDON, June 6.—Following is the text of the dispatch from Lord Roberts announcing the disaster to the Thirtieth battalion of the Imperial Yeomanry, which numbered between 400 and 500 officers and men:

"Pretoria Station, June 5.—I regret to report that the Thirtieth Imperial Yeomanry had to surrender to a very superior force of the enemy, on May 31, near Lindley. On receiving information of the battalion being attacked, I ordered Methuen to proceed with all speed to its assistance.

"Methuen was then on the march, on the Heilbron side of Kroonstad, and half an hour after the receipt of my telegram on June 1, he started off. By 10 a. m. of the following day he had marched forty-four miles in twenty-five hours, but he was too late to rescue Colonel Sprague's yeomanry.

"Methuen attacked the Boers, who were between 2,000 and 3,000 strong, and after a running fight of five hours completely routed the enemy.

"It is a very regrettable circumstance; but I trust it will not be very long before the Irish yeomanry are released from captivity."

BRITISH ARE IN PRETORIA

City Surrendered, But Few Prisoners Were Taken.

LONDON, June 6.—The war office has received the following from Lord Roberts:

"PRETORIA, June 5.—Just before dark yesterday the enemy were beaten back from nearly all the positions they had been holding, and Ian Hamilton's mounted infantry followed them to within two thousand yards of Pretoria, through which they retreated hastily. De Lisle then sent an officer with a flag of truce into the town, demanding its surrender in my name. Shortly before midnight I was awakened by two officials of the South African republic, Sandberg, military secretary to Commandant General Botha, and a general officer of the Boer army, who brought me a letter from Botha, proposing an armistice for the purpose of settling terms of surrender.

"I replied that I would gladly meet the commandant general the next morning, but that I was not prepared to discuss any terms, as the surrender of the town must be unconditional. I asked for a reply by daylight, as I had ordered the troops to march on the town as soon as it was light.

"In his reply, Botha told me he had decided not to defend Pretoria and he trusted women, children and property would be protected. At 1 o'clock a. m. today, while on the line of march, I was met by three of the principal officials with a flag of truce stating their desire to surrender the town.

"It was arranged that Pretoria should be taken possession of by her majesty's troops at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

"Mrs. Botha and Mrs. Kruger are both in Pretoria. Some few of the British prisoners have been taken away, but the majority are still at Waterval. Over 100 of the officers are in Pretoria. The few I have seen are looking well."

NEW YORK DEMOCRATS.

Ex-Senator Hill in Control and the Chicago Platform Not Endorsed.

NEW YORK, June 7.—The democratic state committee selected delegates-at-large to the Kansas City convention as follows: David B. Hill, Richard Croker, Edward Murphy and Augustus Van Wyck. The platform adopted contains no reaffirmation of the Chicago platform of 1896, but a declaration that the party in the state will support the platform of the Kansas City convention. The platform declares against war taxes in time of peace, declares for parity of gold and silver as currency, demands abolition of all customs and tariffs between Porto Rico and the United States, condemns trusts and monopolies, and entangling alliances; demands just and liberal pension laws and election of United States senators by the people, and favors the nomination of William J. Bryan. The convention gave promise of being very stormy, but ended quietly. The particular feature of the convention was the domination of affairs by ex-Senator D. B. Hill. The silver men profess to be satisfied with the result.

BRABANT LOSES HEAVILY.

Several Parties Sent out by Him Captured by the Boers.

MAZERI, Basutoland, June 5.—Gen. Brabant's horse has been subjected to several captures at the hands of the Boers. Lieut. Rundle, with twenty men, while searching a farm house in the Ficksburg district, were captured. Two of the men were wounded. Lieut. Lees, and two men were captured while commanding. Another patrol of body horse, numbering twenty men, while pursuing a small party of Boers were surrounded and captured. Count Gleichen sent thirteen men of the Provincial horse, under Lieut. Bowker, with flag of truce, to Senekel, to demand the surrender of that place. The Boers captured the entire party and after robbing the men of all but their clothing sent them to Urade, whence some of them managed to escape. Most of those who succeeded in eluding their guards, however, were recaptured.

Otis Is Allowed to Land.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 5.—After five days in quarantine at Angel Island, Major General E. S. Otis, who arrived on the 30th from Manila, was allowed to land yesterday. Several cases of small pox on board the transport Meade were the cause of the quarantine and General Otis and all on board had to submit to vaccination.

CHAPTER IV.

But Namarah raised her hands and hid her face from sight, and Adina's voice began to tremble as he spoke to her again, and said, full tenderly:

"Didst thou not know, Namarah, when I told thee I would send thee a message by thy bird, but that I lacked the courage, that that message was my love for thee? As God beholds me, maiden, my heart hath even been knit to thine since first my eyes fell on thee; and if thou love me not, my life is all over for me."

Still was silent the maiden Namarah, so that Adina's heart grew cold with fear within him, and his voice brake as he spoke once more:

"I go forth to battle, O maiden, to fight against the enemies of the Lord and to shield thy father. It may be that death awaits me, and if thou hast in thy heart aught of tenderness toward me, I pray thee speak, or let me go to death and silence and forgetfulness."

Then did Namarah turn to him, a sudden trembling passing over her whole body, and dropping her hands from before her face, she stretched them out toward him. Whereat Adina fell upon his knees and bowed his head, thinking it was her to bestow her blessing upon him in token of eternal farewell. But with a swift and silent motion, Namarah was at his side, and before he could lift his bended head, her soft arms clung around his neck.

"Maiden," he muttered in a voice deep with passion, while he reached upward his strong arms, and held her in a close and gentle clasp, though he rose not from his lowly posture. "Tell me, I pray thee, what thou meanest. Is it for pity thou dost clasp me? If so—"

But Namarah bent her head above him, and made answer:

"No, not pity—love."

Then did he spring to his feet, and stand erect in all the comely beauty of his goodly youth, and drawing her close against his breast, he bent his head and kissed her. It was to Namarah the first time she had ever felt her heart respond to any sign of love, and Adina's heart was even as virgin as her own. It was this in the heart of each that made that moment's rapture. It was a long, long time that neither spoke. Their arms were folded close about each other, and once and again their lips met and clung to those of the sacred kisses which are the fruit of purity of life. Then spake the young man Adina:

"Wilt thou have me tell thy father, Namarah, that we may have his blessing on our betrothal—for I think he will not turn him from me, seeing he hath but lately told me that he oweth unto me his life."

But Namarah answered:

"Nay, I would have him go forth to the fight, as hath been his wont of yore, believing himself my only object of care and love and prayer. He hath told me that he wills that I shall marry, and when thou comest back with him victorious, then will I tell him all, and ask his blessing. But, ah, Adina, my most loved one, my new-found joy and hope, how if the enemies of the Lord should slay thee, that thou returnest to me no more!"

And at these words she fell to weeping, and sobbed upon his breast. But Adina comforted her strongly, and bade her pray to God with faith, telling her he felt within himself that God would prosper the army of her father Jephthah, and bring them back victorious.

"Then will I claim thee for my bride, Namarah, thou fairest of women and maidens, and joy will be ours as long as life shall last."

Namarah clasped him closer yet, and turned her face upward to receive his kiss; and behold, as his lips rested upon hers, they heard the doves near by cooing and calling.

"Thou shalt give me one of thy birds, Namarah," Adina said; "and I will make for it a little cage, and carry it with me; and when the enemies of the Lord shall have been vanquished, then will I send thee the tidings on the wings of thy bird."

And the idea pleased Namarah, and side by side they went together to where the doves slept, and Namarah opened the door and called them to her with the little call they knew so well; and, although the time was late and strange, they circled round her head, and one of them settled on her shoulder. Namarah took it gently in her hand, and ere she gave it over to Adina, she kissed the crest of its snow-white head.

"Come back to me in peace and triumph," she said.

And then, when Adina had taken the dove from her, she realized that the moment of parting was come, and with a great wave of love and tenderness and longing sweeping over her, she gave herself into her lover's arms to receive his last embrace.

Solemn and sweet and silent it was, there in the holy moonlight; and when at last she raised her head to speak, there were brave words on her lips.

"Thou knowest the meaning of our city's name," she said. "Take it for an omen to comfort thee and rest thy heart, and I will even rest so on it, too."

"'Ye, I know it,' he answered; then kissed her once more, and murmuring the words 'Mizpeh!' between his half-parted lips, he turned and left her alone.

CHAPTER V.

It was many a weary day that Namarah waited for tidings which came not. It was her habit to sit at work with her maidens upon the roof, or else high up in the top chamber of the house, and always she would place herself near to the window which looked toward the field of battle, and none knew why it was that she strained her eyes so wistfully into the air, as if she looked for and expected some token in the heavens. Often her work would fall from her fingers, and she would rest a long time idle, with no sound escaping her, except the deep-drawn sighs which none knew how to interpret. The maidens that were her companions looked on at this and marvelled. They knew that Namarah was ever a loving and solicitous daughter, but it was not uncommon for her father to be away and in danger, and this was something more than her usual concern for him. She had lost heart in her work, also, and cared no longer for the amusements and pastimes with which it had formerly been her wont to occupy herself. But, in spite of this, her interest was more tender than ever before in those who were sick or in trouble, and she spent much time in prayer.

Her chief amusement and diversion during this time were her doves, and sometimes, after feeding them she would place herself on the garden seat and let them climb and flutter all about her, and take their food from her mouth and fingers, and even from the meshes of her hair. She had told to no one the secret of her heart, and these silent witnesses of her meetings with Adina seemed now the nearest thing to him that there remained to her.

At length, one morning, when Namarah had grown paler than was her wont, with long waiting and watching, she stood at the easement of her chamber, and her listless gaze that had been long fixed wearily upon the distant scene, became in a moment alert and animated. Far up in the blue she had seen a flying bird, and at that sight her heart within her always trembled. Perhaps it was a skylark, or even one of her own pets, wandered farther than its custom away from home. Yes, it was a dove—a snow-white carrier—and surely, one of her own, as there was none like them in that region. She had never known one of hers to fly so high as that before, and the throbbing of her heart grew violent, as she looked up and saw it pausing and circling above her head. Surely she caught sight of a tiny object, not a feather, between its wing and breast, as the bird swooped downward and flew into the pigeon house.

With limbs that shook with hope and fear, Namarah stole softly through the silent halls and chambers, down the garden path and into the place where all her birds were together. They were cooing and muttering and gabbling as if something out of the common had happened to them, and when she paused in the doorway and called, they all came fluttering to her. One by one she touched them with her hands and felt beneath their wings. They were too exactly each like each to distinguish among them, but all of them came tamely to her call, it being her habit to stroke and smooth them as she would. Just as her heart began to sink with disappointment, she noticed one with broken feathers, and her fingers touched something smooth and hard, and lo, there was, indeed, the thing she sought—a tightly folded paper, tied with a small cord under the bird's wing. Her hands trembled as she loosed it, and she hid it hurriedly in her bosom. Then she ran swiftly through the garden paths and back to her own room, where she shut herself in, and taking out the precious paper, pressed it to her lips and then fell upon her knees in prayer. She entreated God most earnestly that the tidings might be good; her heart swelled with praises to His holy name, and her faith was strong in the answer to her prayers, as she opened the paper and read. These were the words:

"Most Dear Maiden—It hath pleased the God of Israel to send the hosts of Jephthah, thy father, a complete and mighty victory, and we, be, even now, upon our way to thee, returning in triumph and great thankfulness of heart. Thou wilt greet me as thy chosen and sanctioned husband, Namarah, for thy father hath so commended my bearing in the fight, wherein I was able to render him good service, that he hath promised me that I shall choose my own reward, and I have chosen even the maiden Namarah to be my wife. I have even so spoken to thy father, feeling sure that at that moment he would not say me nay, and he hath even given me his blessing, and avowed that I have found favor in his eyes. The white bird will bear to thee those tidings, and before set of sun we shall be with thee. God grant to me, O maiden, that thy heart may reach forth to mine with the same love wherewith I feel mine reach to thee, as I write these lines, to be held in thy dear hands beneath thy dear eyes. THY ADINA."

Now, as the maiden Namarah read these words, there rose within her so great a rapture that her very face did glow and become radiant with joy. For until her eyes had rested on the young man Adina, she had known not what it was to feel the mighty love wherewith a tender virgin loveth, with her soul and heart at once, the youth whose nobleness and virtue command her worship and devotion, and the exceeding joy of this moment wrapped her soul in a great wave of ecstasy, that made the shining of her eyes like unto the light of stars. To feel that Adina loved her, he who was unto her eyes the very prince of men, and that her well-beloved father looked with favor on their union was a bliss so great, that almost she felt as if her heart within her must burst for very joy. As she sat in her chamber alone, and read again and yet again the precious message that the bird had brought, such visions as ever fill the minds of maidens when love is come in truth passed like pictures before her. She saw herself meeting with Adina without the need of concealment and she felt again those arms about her and those kisses on her lips, at the mere memory of which she thrilled. She saw the calm delight upon her beloved father's face, as he blessed her union with Adina, and gazing further yet into the future, she saw herself the happy wife and mother.

CHAPTER VI.

Now when the sun began to sink toward the west, Namarah called to her maidens, and arrayed herself in garments richly wrought and beautiful, as one that keepeth a great feast. Her robe was all of white, embroidered with gold, and the encrusted folds fell heavily about the splendid curves of her most noble figure. In her loosened hair were twisted chains of gold that wrapped it in and out, and made a light and darkness beautiful to see. About her shoulders, which her robe left bare, she wrapped a scarf of golden tissue, through which her gleaming neck and arms shone fair as moonlight seen through sunbeams.

And when the maidens and all the household of Jephthah wondered to see her so adorned, she spake, and said unto them:

"I go to meet my father Jephthah and his host returning from victory."

And when they asked her:

"How knowest thou that he hath won the day, and is returning?"

She made answer, as the saying was: "A little bird hath told me."

And they knew not how true indeed were the words she spake.

And as the sun sank lower and lower and it began to draw toward evening, behold, there fell upon the ears of Namarah and her maidens the distant sound of tramping horses and anon the notes of a trumpet.

"They be notes of victory; even as thou hast said," spake one of the maidens, while Namarah stood and listened, breathless and half troubled, like an image of too perfect joy. And Namarah said:

"I will even go forth to meet them."

Whereat her maidens wondered, for it was her custom to await her father within the house, a feeling of timidity ever preventing her from appearing before the eyes of the soldiers. But now there showed in all her bearing a very noble pride, so that she looked no longer a shy and trembling maiden, but a woman and the daughter of a conqueror. There was a most rich hue of roses on her cheeks, and her great eyes blazed and sparkled, so that Namarah looked that day a being of such glorious beauty as none who looked on her had ever seen before.

To Keep Glasses On.

"Isn't it strange," said Mr. Burton, while in a reminiscent mood, "how discoveries are made? Of course, that is a general statement, but to the case in question. I wear glasses, as you know, but I found great trouble in keeping them on. They were continually following the laws of gravitation and falling to the floor. The trouble was that I did not have a bridge of size, and I spent money and time experimenting with different kinds of springs and clips and nose pieces, but all proved failures. Now, the other night I had an idea (that's all right, I am guilty of an idea once in a while) that if I would put some powdered rosin on my nose that would hold 'em for a while, so I accordingly hunted up my friend, the violinist, and getting some rosin, made a test. Was it a success? Why, I can turn a hand-spring backward and those glasses are still doing business at the old stand." —Richmond Times.

PACIFIC RAILROAD SETTLEMENTS.

The Crowning Achievement of the McKinley Administration.

Washington Letter: "The settlement of the Pacific railroad indebtedness must be ranked as one of the greatest achievements of President McKinley's administration," said General Charles Dick, member of Congress from the Nineteenth District of Ohio, and secretary of the Republican National Committee, to-day:

"All efforts, either by Congress or the executive departments prior to 1897, were of little avail in protecting the government's interests in these roads. In fact, there were grave doubts whether the government would succeed in being reimbursed, even in part, the vast sum expended by the United States in aid of their construction. But the government has realized in cash or its equivalent, within two years, the sum of $124,421,671 out of about $130,000,000 that was due, and more than half the money collected was for accrued interest that had not been paid."

"The discovery of gold in California; the rapid increase in wealth and population in the territory west of the Rocky mountains, and a movement on the part of the older states to establish closer connections during the Civil war with those outlying communities, led Congress in 1862 to authorize the construction of a railroad to the Pacific ocean. The direct benefit to be derived by the government was its use for postal, military and other purposes. The act of July 1, 1862, chartering the Union Pacific Railroad Company was not sufficiently liberal, and therefore nothing was accomplished after its provisions. Though the Union Pacific Company was organized no one was found who would venture money in the construction of the road."

"On July 2, 1864, Congress amended the act of 1862, by making provisions more favorable to the companies. The act of 1862 provided that the government should have a first mortgage on the property of the company, while the act of 1864 provided substantially that, for the bonds the government should issue in aid of the construction of the road, it should take a second mortgage. Two companies were organized under the provisions of the act of 1864, and entered energetically upon the work of construction. The road was built from the California end eastward by the Central Pacific Railroad Company, and from the Missouri river westward to the common meeting point at Ogden by the Union Pacific Company."

"Their lines were united May 10, 1869, anticipating by more than seven years the time required by Congress. The Union Pacific Company constructed 1,034 miles, and the Central Pacific 743 miles. The road of the latter company was subsequently extended 140 miles, and the lines of the two companies from the Missouri river to San Francisco represent a mileage of 1,917 miles."

"In aid of these roads and connecting branches the United States issued bonds to the amount of $64,623,512. Failing to be reimbursed for the interest paid on these bonds, it became necessary, in protection of the interests of the government, to pass the act of May 7, 1875, known as the 'Thurman Act.' This act provided that the whole amount of compensation which might from time to time be due to the railroad companies for services rendered the government should be retained by the government, one-half to be applied to the liquidation of the interest paid and to be paid by the United States upon the bonds issued to each of the companies, and the other half to be turned into a sinking fund. But it soon became apparent that, with the approaching maturity of bonds issued in aid of the roads the provisions of the 'Thurman Act' were not adequate to the protection of the government's interests. Efforts were persistently made looking to a settlement of this vast indebtedness, but without success. So recently as the Fifty-fourth Congress an attempt was made to pass a bill to refund the debts of the Pacific Railroad Companies, but it was defeated in the House by a vote of 167 yeas to 102 nays."

"On January 12, 1897," continued General Dick, "the day following the defeat of the funding bill, the attorney general was informed by the President that default had occurred in the payment of the Union Pacific and the Kansas Pacific indebtedness to the Government, and he was directed to make arrangements to secure, as far as practicable, the payment of their indebtedness. An agreement was entered into between the government and the re-organization committee of the Union Pacific Railroad, by which the committee guaranteed, should the government undertake to enforce its lien by sale, a minimum bid for the Union and Kansas Pacific lines that would produce to the government, over and above any prior lines and charges upon the railroads and sinking fund, the net sum of $45,754,059.99. In performance of this agreement the bid was guaranteed by a deposit of $4,500,000."

"Bills were then filed in the United States Circuit courts for the foreclosure of the government lien. The decrees entered for the sale of the roads not being satisfactory to the government, papers were prepared for an appeal. Then the re-organization committee came forward with an offer to increase its bid to $50,000,000 instead of $45,754,059.99. Subsequently, to settle all points in dispute, the re-organization committee decided to abandon this second bid and to increase the minimum amount to be offered for the property to $58,448,223.75, being the total amount due the government on account of the Union Pacific road, as stated by the secretary of the treasury, including the sum of $4,549,368.26 cash in the sinking fund. Such an amount was bid by the re-organization committee on November 1, 1897, and the sale was confirmed by the court on November 6, 1897. After the confirmation of the sale the whole amount was paid into the treasury of the United States in convenient installments, thus relieving the government from any loss whatever upon its claim for principle and interest due upon its subsidy, and bringing to a final and most satisfactory termination one of these long-standing and troublesome questions."

"In the case of the Kansas Pacific indebtedness, by decree of the court an upset price on the sale of the property was fixed at a sum which would yield to the government $2,500,000. The re-organization committee in conference with the government declared its purpose of making no higher bid than that fixed by the decree of the court, so that the government was confronted with the danger of receiving for its total lien upon this line, amounting to nearly $13,000,000, principal and interest, only the sum of $2,500,000. Believing the interest of the government required that an effort should be made to obtain a larger sum, and the government having the right to redeem the incumbrances upon the property, which were prior to the lien of the government subsidy, by paying the sums lawfully due in respect thereof out of the treasury of the United States, the President, on February 8, 1898, authorized the secretary of the treasury to pay the amounts lawfully due upon the prior mortgages upon the eastern and middle divisions of said road."

"The re-organization committee of the Kansas Pacific offered to bid for the road a sum which would realize to the government the whole amount of the principal of the debt—$6,303,000. It was believed that no better price than this could be obtained at a later date if the sale should be postponed, and it was deemed best to permit the sale to proceed upon the guaranty of a minimum bid which would realize to the government the whole principal of its debt. The sale thereupon took place, and the property was purchased by the re-organization committee. The sum yielded to the government was $6,303,000. It will thus be perceived that the government secured an advance of $3,803,000 on account of its lien, over and above the sum which the court had fixed as the upset price, and which the re-organization committee had declared was the maximum which they were willing to pay for the property."

"The result of these proceedings against the Union Pacific system, embracing the main line and the Kansas Pacific line, is that the government has received on account of its subsidy claim the sum of $64,751,223.75, which is an increase of $18,997,163.76 over the sum which the re-organization committee first agreed to bid for the joint property, leaving due the sum of $6,588,900.19 interest on the Kansas Pacific subsidy. The prosecution of a claim for this amount against the receivers of the Union Pacific Company in 1898 resulted in securing to the government the further amount of $821,897.70."

"The indebtedness of the Central Pacific Railroad Company to the government became due January 1, 1898, when default in payment was made by the company. The deficiency appropriation act of July 7, 1898, appointed the secretary of the treasury, the secretary of the interior and the attorney general a commission with full power to settle the indebtedness to the government growing out of the issue of bonds to aid in the construction of the Central Pacific and Western Pacific roads, subject to the approval of the President."

"An agreement for the settlement of this indebtedness was entered into between the commissioners and the railroad companies on February 1, 1899. The amount then due to the United States for principal and interest upon its subsidy liens upon the Central Pacific and Western Pacific railroads was $58,812,715.48, more than one-half of which was accrued interest upon the principal debt. The agreement for settlement provided for the funding of this amount into promissory notes bearing date of February 1, 1899, payable respectively on or before the expiration of each successive six months for ten years, each note being for the sum of $2,940,635.78, or one-twentieth of the total amount due. The notes bore interest at the rate of 3 per cent annum, payable semi-annually, and had a condition attached to the effect that, if default be made either of the payment of principal or interest of either said notes or in any part thereof, then all of the notes outstanding, principal and interest, immediately became due and payable, notwithstanding any other stipulation of the agreement of settlement."

"It was further agreed that the payment of principal and interest of the notes should be secured by the deposit with the United States treasury of $37,820,000 face value of first refunding mortgage 4 per cent gold bonds, to be thereafter issued by the Central Pacific or its successor having charge of the railroads then owned by the company, such bonds to be part of the issue of not exceeding $100,000,000 in all, and to be secured by mortgage upon all railroads, equipments and terminals owned by the Central Pacific Railroad Company, the mortgage being a first lien upon the property."

"In pursuance of another provision of the agreement, the four earliest maturing notes were purchased by Speyer & Co., March 10, 1899, and the proceeds, amounting to $11,762,543.12, and accrued interest to the date of payment, $35,771.02, in all $11,798,314.14, were received by the Treasury March 27, 1899, as part payment of the indebtedness of the Central Pacific and Western Pacific Railroad Companies. The proprietors of the various companies comprising the Central Pacific system were subsequently conveyed to a new corporation called the Central Pacific Railway Company, which later executed the mortgage and bonds provided for by the agreement of settlement."

"On October 7, 1899, bonds were delivered to the Treasury Department by the Central Pacific Railway Company to secure the outstanding notes held by the Treasury. The United States, therefore, holds the notes of the Central Pacific Railroad Company to the amount of $47,050,172.36, bearing interest payable semi-annually at the rate of 3 per cent per annum, and secured by the deposit of an equal amount of first-mortgage bonds of the Pacific Railway Company, thus providing, beyond any doubt, for the sure and gradual payment of the whole of this subsidy debt, and providing in the meantime for the payment of interest at the rate of 3 per cent upon the unpaid balances. The United States, through the settlement agreement thus entered into will be reimbursed the full amount of the principal and interest of the Central Pacific and Western Pacific debt, aggregating $58,812,715.48."

"The amounts due to the United States March 1, 1900, from Pacific railroads on account of bonds issued in aid of their construction, were as follows:

of a minimum bid which would realize to the government the whole principal of its debt. The sale thereupon took place, and the property was purchased by the re-organization committee. The sum yielded to the government was $6,303,000. It will thus be perceived that the government secured an advance of $3,803,000 on account of its lien, over and above the sum which the court had fixed as the upset price, and which the re-organization committee had declared was the maximum which they were willing to pay for the property."

"The result of these proceedings against the Union Pacific system, embracing the main line and the Kansas Pacific line, is that the government has received on account of its subsidy claim the sum of $64,751,223.75, which is an increase of $18,997,163.76 over the sum which the re-organization committee first agreed to bid for the joint property, leaving due the sum of $6,588,900.19 interest on the Kansas Pacific subsidy. The prosecution of a claim for this amount against the receivers of the Union Pacific Company in 1898 resulted in securing to the government the further amount of $821,897.70."

"The indebtedness of the Central Pacific Railroad Company to the government became due January 1, 1898, when default in payment was made by the company. The deficiency appropriation act of July 7, 1898, appointed the secretary of the treasury, the secretary of the interior and the attorney general a commission with full power to settle the indebtedness to the government growing out of the issue of bonds to aid in the construction of the Central Pacific and Western Pacific roads, subject to the approval of the President."

WESTERN WOOL VALUES.
Farmers in Idaho See the Benefits of Protection.
Western wool values continue to attract the attention of farmers. Idaho affords an interesting exhibit, as follows:
Year.	Pounds.	Farm Price in Cents.	Total Value.
1891	3,513,946	12	$45,799
1892	3,883,539	13	47,694
1893	5,169,534	10	51,695
1894	5,458,829	6	32,730
1895	6,438,055	6	41,859
1896	7,082,964	6	44,258
1897	9,823,853	5	39,525
1898	11,559,401	9	1,022,722
1899	15,183,160	12	1,541,974
1900	18,610,624	12	2,236,229

The value of Idaho's wool decreased by one-half under free trade, but it is now back to regular protection prices. In 1891 the value of 3,514,000 pounds of Idaho wool was $45,799. But double the quantity was worth less money in 1896.

Just before President McKinley was inaugurated in 1897 the value of 9,633,000 pounds of Idaho wool was $866,954. This year, for less than twice the quantity, the farmer in that state got nearly three times as much money.

Prosecution, Not Protection.
The Republican party prosecutes and punishes those of its public officials who betray their trusts. Protection for dishonesty never was a Republican practice.

Disappointing Democracy.
The peaceful and satisfactory solution of a labor difficulty is always a disappointment to Democratic leadership.

Varieties of Populism.
Middle-of-the-road Populism continues to show fight to the variety that dodges about the fence corners.

Last fall I sprained my left hip while handling some heavy boxes. The doctor I called on said at first it was a slight strain and would soon be well, but it grew worse and the doctor then I had rheumatism. It continued to grow worse and I could hardly get around to work. I went to a drug store and the druggist recommended me to try Chamberlain's Pain Balm. I tried it and one-half of a 50-cent bottle cured me entirely. I now recommend it to all my friends. — F. A. BASCOER, Erie, Pa. It is for sale by all Druggists.

SPERMATORRHOEA Is a diseased condition of the sexual organs of the male, where they are so weak as to permit of a relaxation of the muscles, ducts and fibers, as to allow a leakage of seminal fluid. This loss saps the vitality, undermines the constitution and wrecks the general health. Nine men out of every ten suffers in this way.

VARICOCELE Is an enlargement of the veins of the scrotum, it is very painful and if permitted to enlarge, will gradually grow worse, and finally rob a man of his power.

IMPOTENCY This condition which renders a man useless, as his power is now gone, may be removed by so strengthening the entire sexual organism as to fully restore the desired vigor.

A preparation prepared solely and distinctly to improve the condition of the hair of the negro race. Not a worthless, offensive, obnoxious, greasy mass of injurious nostrums, but a delicately perfumed unguent, beautiful to look upon; made to adorn the lady, polish the gentleman, benefit youth, and gladden old age. OZONO straightens knotty, nappy, kinky, refractory hair. OZONO does this alone. No hot irons are necessary; no plastering down with grease. OZONO individually straightens, without any outside assistance. It will cause the hair to come back on bald spots. It will restore gray hair to its natural color. It will cause the hair to grow long and straight, soft and fine, and beautiful as an April morn. It will cure all itching, burning, running, humiliating Scalp Diseases, Dandruff, Tetter, Scurf, and Eczema. Itch cannot live after OZONO has been applied. It is as pure as the dew-drop, beautiful as the morn, and harmless as the rippling water in the babbling brook. Cleanliness is next to Godliness; filth is a crime. If your hair is short and harsh and kinky; if your scalp is covered with scurf and dandruff, or itch, or eczema, it is doubtless your fault alone. If your little ones' heads are a mass of crusty, scaly, flaky scurf, teeming with germs and microbes, that are invisible to the naked eye, but which are sapping the life from the hair and destroying it forever, and you allow this state to go on, it is a crime. It is your place to stop this—a duty you owe to yourself, to your child, to your Maker. OZONO is your remedy. OZONO will positively and permanently remove all the diseases, and straighten and beautify the hair, making it silky and glossy and black as the raven's wing. OZONO, as compared with other hair remedies, stands as high as the mountain peak, fair as the lily, and glorious as the sun. OZONO is King. The price is 50c. a box. It requires about four boxes to complete the treatment.

OUR GRAND OFFER.

Write to us at once, enclosing the small sum of ONE DOLLAR, and we will immediately forward to you four large boxes of OZONO. We will also send you one large bottle of ELECTRIC SKIN REFINER, which makes rough skin soft and brightens the blackest skin, making it several shades lighter. Now, there is much fraud practiced with face bleaches. Understand, we do not advertise this bleach to make one white. God alone can accomplish this, and it would be miraculous. Upon your faith from frauds. We assert that our Refiner will soften rough skin and brighten black skin, but it can do no more. Take our advice; don't fool with any bleach that is advertised to make you white; it is more apt to poison you. We will also include one fancy jar of ELECTRICAL SKIN FOOD, which is a sure remedy for all Skin Eruptions, Pimples, Black Heads, Liver Spots, and all Skin Diseases. It will remove Wrinkles, Scars, Facial Blemishes, and will positively take out Small-Pox Spots. This is saying a great deal, but it is true. It makes the old look young and the young look younger. And lastly, to prove our liberality, we will add a one-pint package of ANTI-ODOR. This remedy removes all smells and odors arising from the human body. Its uses are too numerous to mention. Full directions go with all goods. This grand aggregation is worth $3.50. Send $1.00, mention the name of this paper, and you will get the goods at once. We ship all orders same day goods are received.

We wish to state that we are a thoroughly reliable firm, having many thousand dollars in our business. We refer to the editor of this paper, or to any business house in Richmond. Our remedies and our business is founded on the altar of truth. Write your name and address plainly.

HON. FRANK F. MERRIAM.

It is a source of much pleasure that we are able to present to our readers the familiar face of Mr. Merriam, the present State Auditor, who is a candidate for the nomination for his second term. Mr. Merriam is a self made young man, and by his honest hard efforts has succeeded. He was a member of the 26th and 27th General Assemblies, and by his good judgment and affability won the respect and esteem of all the members. He is an active republican when in good health. For the past 9 month he has been very sick and was taken out West for his health. At one time the physician gave him up, but by that indomitable will power he passed over the critical time, and is now improving nicely; in fact is able to be at his duties again. He is a staunch friend of the colored race and is always willing to assist and give them a chance in the race of life. He will be a strong addition to the ticket and we hope his re-nomination will be by acclamation.

A Card of Thanks.

I wish to say that I feel under lasting obligation for what Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has done for our family. We have used it in so many cases of coughs, lung troubles and whooping cough, and it has always given the most perfect satisfaction, we feel greatly indebted to the manufacturers of this remedy and wish them to please accept our hearty thanks—Respectfully, Mrs. S. Dorr, Des Moines, Iowa. For sale by all Druggists.

OZONO will positively and permanently remove all the diseases, and straighten and beautify the hair, making it silky and glossy and black as the raven's wing. OZONO, as compared with other hair remedies, stands as high as the mountain peak, fair as the lily, and glorious as the sun. OZONO is King. The price is 50c. a box. It requires about four boxes to complete the treatment.

OUR GRAND OFFER.

Write to us at once, enclosing the small sum of ONE DOLLAR, and we will immediately forward to you four large boxes of OZONO. We will also send you one large bottle of ELECTRIC SKIN REFINER, which makes rough skin soft and brightens the blackest skin, making it several shades lighter. Now, there is much fraud practiced with face bleaches. Understand, we do not advertise this bleach to make one white. God alone can accomplish this, and it would be miraculous. Upon your faith from frauds. We assert that our Refiner will soften rough skin and brighten black skin, but it can do no more. Take our advice; don't fool with any bleach that is advertised to make you white; it is more apt to poison you. We will also include one fancy jar of ELECTRICAL SKIN FOOD, which is a sure remedy for all Skin Eruptions, Pimples, Black Heads, Liver Spots, and all Skin Diseases. It will remove Wrinkles, Scars, Facial Blemishes, and will positively take out Small-Pox Spots. This is saying a great deal, but it is true. It makes the old look young and the young look younger. And lastly, to prove our liberality, we will add a one-pint package of ANTI-ODOR. This remedy removes all smells and odors arising from the human body. Its uses are too numerous to mention. Full directions go with all goods. This grand aggregation is worth $3.50. Send $1.00, mention the name of this paper, and you will get the goods at once. We ship all orders same day goods are received.

We wish to state that we are a thoroughly reliable firm, having many thousand dollars in our business. We refer to the editor of this paper, or to any business house in Richmond. Our remedies and our business is founded on the altar of truth. Write your name and address plainly.

Mr. Jones who was sick all winter is up and on a fair road to recovery. We are glad to see him out again.

Miss Della Howard and her mother of Albia spent Sunday with her sister, Mrs. G. L. Suter.

The hobo element is giving Marshalltown a wide berth since the city is furnishing them with work.

There is no need of any one breaking a law when they know it is to be obeyed. We have seen the results of people who break laws instead of obeying them.

James Sellers, the pugilist, who broke out of quarantine, returned to see his wife and was caught and given 30 days in jail.

Mr. J. L. Wallace has gone to Chicago to live. We are sorry he has gone, but wish him luck.

Mrs. Wheeler is talking of attending Grand Court.

Parents should look after their boys and girls for the forces of darkness are getting in line to "way lay" every one they can.

Some are mad because their actions are spoken of in these items. Well, when you learn to behave yourselves on the streets I will stop writing of it.

Work is a little dull here and the boys are trying to drink up all the beer and whisky in the city, and then complain because they can't get work.

Mr. C. P. Gilmore is working at the packing house.

The census enumerators think that the population of our city will reach 16,000 or 17,000.

Marshalltown is a first-class city and has more main lines of railroad, and more passenger trains in 14 hours than any city in Iowa, except Council Bluffs.

Would Not Suffer So Again for Fifty Times Its Price.

I awoke last night with severe pains in my stomach. I never felt so badly in all my life. When I came down to work this morning I felt so weak I could hardly work. I went to Miller & McCurdy's drug store and they recommended Chamberlain's Cough Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. It worked like magic and one dose fixed me all right. It is certainly the finest thing I ever used for stomach trouble. I shall not be without it in my home hereafter, for I should not care to endure the sufferings of last night for fifty times its price.—G. H. WILSON, Livermore, Burgettstown, Washington Co., Pa. This remedy is for sale by all Druggists.

IOWA CITY BRIEFLETS.

(Last Week's Correspondence.)

Rev. E. D. Wilson, Pastor of the Second Baptist Church of Rock Island, gave an entertainment and debate Monday night assisted by Iowa City's home talent. Prof. J. W. McNeil was to have been the opponent in the debate, but owing to a severe sore throat, Mr. Gilbert Bailey was appointed in his stead. He made a very strong argument which won the debate. The Professor, however, made the closing address in his usual forcible way. The question was, Resolve: That water is more forcible than wind.

Mrs. Pearl Lytton Singleton left Saturday via Cedar Rapids for her home in Golconda, Illinois.

Mr. Gilbert Bailey is here from Cairo, Ill. for an extended stay.

Prof. S. Joe Brown of Marshall, Texas, is expected in our city soon to spend the summer.

Miss Henrietta Jones of Albia, who has been attending the S. U. I., left Wednesday for her home. Her many friends regret to see her go and hope to see her return next fall.

The Brown family moved from 613 to 609 Iowa Avenue this week.

Messrs. Chas. Thompson of Wappello, and Ed Carter of Muchakinoek, went to their respective homes Friday. Both of these young men are S. U. I. students. Mr. Thompson a sophomore and Mr. Carter a freshman. They lead their classes and we believe they will lead their race in the future. They will be heartily welcomed when they return to resume their studies next fall.

Messrs. Tom Saddle and Walter Martin of Cedar Rapids made a business trip to our city last week.

The Y. W. C. A. Gymnasium Class gave a very fine exhibition last Thursday evening at the Opera House. Miss Maggie Mason being a member of the class was one of the participants.

Mr. James Jones has moved to Ottumwa.

Iowa City is jubilant because the Bystander comes regularly now. We hope the good work will continue.

MT. PLEASANT NEWS.

Mr. Logan Brooks of Keokuk, Iowa, was in the city last week attending the graduating exercises of his cousin, Miss Oneida Hedge.

Mrs. Nina Scott and sons, and Mrs. Hackney, all of Minneapolis, Minn. are the guests of Mrs. Scott's parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. H. McCracken.

Mrs. George Logan and her little daughters left last Saturday for LaCede, Mo., to visit her sick mother. Mrs. Logan lost her father about six weeks ago, but she did not receive the sad intelligence until he had been dead about five weeks. She has the sympathy of the community.

Mrs. Teresa Jones and son of Ottumwa were in the city last week on account of the serious illness of Mrs. Jones father, Mr. Joe Arbuckle.

Mr. Henderson Tansil is indisposed.

About all of Mt. Pleasant's young men have left town, some having gone to Minneapolis, some to Omaha, and some to parts unknown.

Our four young ladies who graduated were the recipients of many beautiful presents from their numerous friends. We all hope this is not the end of their education, but a beginning of a broader and higher knowledge.

Little Glaes and Jessie Anderson gave a party last Monday to their friends. Light refreshments were served and all departed in highest glee.

Mr. J. W. Fiddler's barber shop was burglarized last Friday night, and twenty-five dollars worth of razors and clippers were stolen.

Mr. Wm. Spots of "The Burlington" spent a few days with his family.

The young ladies of the A. M. E. S. gave a jubilee concert last Tuesday evening to raise money to send the delegate to the Convention which convenes in Keokuk, Iowa, June 14th and 15th.

Mr. Arbuckle is still quite sick.

RACE ECHOES.

Edward W. Cosby, colored, is telegraph editor of the Buffalo, N. Y. Evening Times. He is, perhaps the only colored man in America holding such a position.

Mrs. Nancy Washington, a colored woman of Boston, celebrated her 105 birthday recently. She has been married six times and is now a widow.

Robert Thompson, died recently at his home, Carlisle, Ky. leaving an estate valued at from $50,000 to $60,000. He was the wealthiest Negro in that section.

The will of Anna H. Sutton, (white) left an estate approximating $200,000, all went to relations except $15,000 bequeathed to the New York colored mission institute.

A colored prize fighter name Edward Teachout, was knocked down in Chicago last week in a boxing match, he never recovered from the blow. The autopsy held on the body shows he died of hemorrhage of the brains.

The "Jim Crow" street cars are being boycotted by our people at Atlanta, Ga., and it is estimated that there is a loss of $5,000 a month to the street railway Co.

Rev. R. O. Ranson, of Chicago has been selected by the bishops council of the A. M. E. conference recently held at Columbus, O., as delegate to the Methodist Ecumenical conference that will meet in London next year.

An attempt was made in Augusta, Ga., some time ago to draw the color line on the street cars. The colored people refused to ride upon the cars and the street car companies soon ceased to draw the color line. The same will be true in Atlanta if we do not yield to the discrimination.—Atlanta Age.

THE MEN WITH THE HOE.

Does the poet fairly represent the American farmer, after a thorough investigation of this question, there seems to be a pretty general consensus of opinion that he does not. While many of the verses may describe the tiller of the soil in the old world, but not the American farmer of today, and while many verses have as their basis the old time tiler of the soil, but they are intended to apply, in a greater sense to all who are forced to excessive physical labor to supply their wants or to quench the ambition of the mind, there are many thousands of such workers in this country, and in the broad sense we conceive them to be the men with the hoe.

There are thousands of this class, they can be found in the workshops, the factories as well as on the farms, but much less do we see it on the farms than in the cities and towns. The rich man whom the world calls the successful man is the man with the hoe, he has as a rule been so wrapped up in his money getting, that he has never looked beyond his own narrow horizon, he seldom ever appears on the broad highway of thought, of art, or of sympathy for his fellow man.

In the great struggle for the mighty dollar, or a great name, does the merchant, the mechanic, the professional man, the politician, differ from the rich man, and as we see it they are the men with the hoe.

We know by experience that farming is at times hard, but the training and experience of those years have been valuable to us. The boy on the farm cannot help absorbing the honest qualities, that surround him on every hand, he will unconsciously draw into his own being the wide expansiveness of the fields, as well as the calm and quiet dignity of the woods and the lofty ruggedness of the hills that surround him, the man who has spent his life in the city should envy him who has spent his amid the nourishing and strengthening influence of the farm.

The farmer knows that he is a unit in the body politic, his voice at the polls determines affairs of state, the American farmer is far above the farmer of other countries.

Who has harder row to hoe than the rich man has in watching his gold, the lawyer in holding his clients, the politician in keeping his followers in line, the laboring man in pleasing his employer, the merchant in holding his patrons, these are all men with the hoe and a much harder row than the farmer. The farmer of this country as a rule owns the land he cultivate, they have better income which enable them to live in better houses, eat better food, wear better clothing, spend more money for education, newspapers and good books.

THE NORTH-WESTERN NEGRO IN GENERAL AND THOSE OF IOWA IN PARTICULAR.

In the above named section where the land is nearly all taken or being taken up by capitalists and home seekers, and trade unions debar the Negro, and the white Yankee think it no disgrace to perform any kind of work from boot-blacking on up, the negro meet with many difficulties in establishing and managing, successfully, a creditable business for himself. Yet, it can be said in praise of their splendid achievements that there are a few men in the Northwest who are successful in their business. I will mention only some of them as I am not personally acquainted with all of them. I am sorry to say.

In the city of Des Moines, there is, or was, two or three Afro-Americans engaged in what I considered a successful shoe-shining business. They seemed to have everything with which to run the plant and knew how to do the work. They were cheerful and did their work with great dispatch. There is nothing to hinder those men from dignifying their business so as to enable them to hold their own in competition with their white brethren. I hope they will do so. In Keokuk, there is another one of our men engaged in the shoe dressing business, by which he supports his family. I mention this new branch of business for encouragement. We must not despise the day of small things.

BARBERS.

We have quite a number of our men in the barber business. Among them I will mention F. Jones of Keokuk, George Jones and S. M. Cratic of Oskaloosa, and T. E. Barton and Mr. Lewis of Des Moines. These men, as well as others not named, are holding their own, notwithstanding the sharp competition which the white man with every advantage that has been brought into the trade during the late years.

RESTAURANTS.

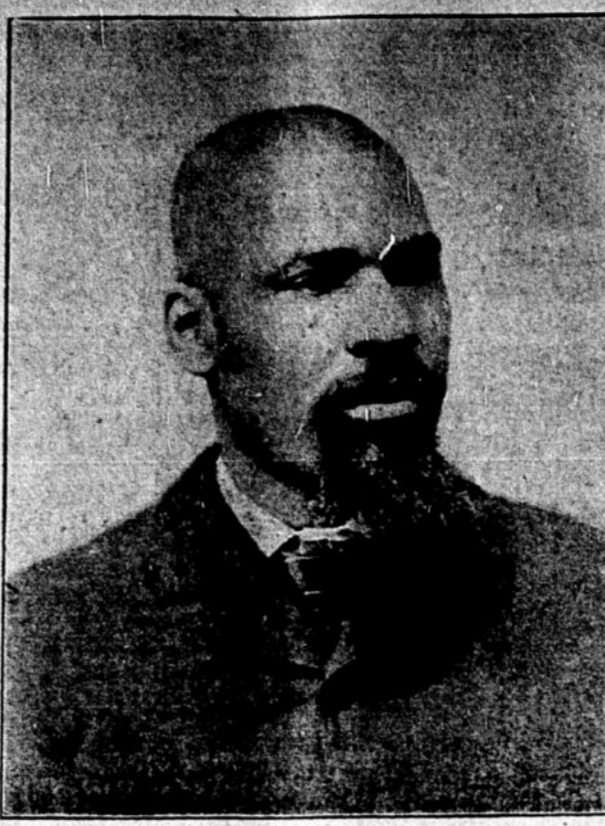

Some of the most successful restaurants in the State of Iowa is managed by Afro-Americans. Among them, I will mention Mr. Marshall Perkins, of Cedar Rapids, Mr. Culbertson of Clinton, and Mrs. Anna Hall of Des Moines. Mr. Perkins is doing a splendid business. His rates are standard, his trade first class, and with him there is no color line, as his cooks, waiters and guests are of mixed blood. Indeed, Mr. Perkins is doing much to destroy race prejudice. I am told that Mr. Culbertson of Clinton is carrying on a very nice restaurant and confectionery business. Mrs. Anna Hall is one of the most plucky business women among us. She manages her business well, and often serves as many as seventy or eighty persons at one meal with but little help. She pays her bills, and is saving some money. She gives good substantial meals and has splendid trade. Doctors, lawyers, preachers, teachers, editors, and men of other business and also fashionable ladies sit down to her table.

The above picture is a likeness of one of our well known and highly esteemed citizens, Robert N. Hyde, a successful business man, who will represent the 7th Congressional district in the National Republican Convention at Philadelphia. This month, as alternate delegate. Mr. Hyde is quite prominent in city, county and state politics, having been many times a delegate to all of our state conventions. While with a limited education, he has risen by his common sense, honest dealings and good judgment to be considered influential in our state. He is the patentee of H. & H. and still owns a half interest; he also patented the Electric Fan and Carpet Cleaner which he daily operates successfully, and is business manager of the Moveable Calk Horse Shoe Co. He leaves next week for Philadelphia.

TIME AND SPACE are practically annihilated by the ocean cables and land telegraph systems which now belt the circumference of Old Earth in so many different directions. "Foreign parts" are no longer foreign in the old meaning of the term. Europe, Africa, Asia, are "next door" to us. What happens there today we know to-morrow—if we read THE CHICAGO RECORD, whose Special Cable Correspondents are located in every important city in the world outside of the United States.
