To the editor of the Iowa State Bystander:

I am back again from the Appalachian Exposition at Knoxville, Tenn. I really found more than I expected to see. That was, indeed, a great exposition; it was a new movement for the South. It was, indeed, marvelous, magnificent, and a mammoth presentation, of which the most important events were the showing of the wonderful development of the resources of the South, and a conspicuous part which has been played by our race.

It was shown by the representation of the Negroes at this exposition that they are still alive to every interest that adds to the progress and pace of the modern day.

To appreciate the scope and magnitude of this exposition, one would have to see it for themselves. I am today more of a believer in the advancement of the race than I have ever been before.

With the door of opportunity shut against him, yet when the writers shall write the names of men of fame and fortune to the world, the Negro's name will be written there too.

At this exposition the negroes were up-to-date in the following departments: Agriculture, live stock, raising poultry, millinery, dress making, domestic science, history, inventions, manufactured products, and education, and was given the credit of having the best educational exhibit on the ground.

The greatest need of the colored man today is co-operation. With the push and will of the negro today, with his art of doing things with completeness, if once the race could combine and go into co-operative business, there is no telling the showing it would make in the next ten years, but there is a lack of confidence in the masses, and in the leaders or advisors.

Here are some of the new features of this Appalachian Exposition. It is an incorporated association and stock company, whose shares are sold to white and colored, and is incorporated for ten years.

When I was in Knoxville I made inquiry as to whether or not any more stock is to be sold, and was informed that the sale of stock had been closed. One of the stockholders informed me that he thought the association would pay out this year for the expense of building and preparing the ground, and perhaps there would be a small dividend if the gate receipts kept up at the rate they were now going. I inquired about the receipts, and was told that they averaged $10,000 a day.

The president of the colored department, a very prominent gentleman by the name of Dr. H. M. Green, who is quite a property owner in Knoxville, and does business in a three story building, which he owns, known as the Green Building, 108 East Vine avenue. He is also one of Knoxville's city aldermen. Dr. Green was aided in his work by Prof. W. D. Edgington, of one of the West Virginia universities, a young man of good common sense description.

A number of very estimable ladies also assisted Dr. Green in the work. Mrs. Nannie Evans, of Athens, Tenn.; Mrs. M. T. Manson, Mrs. W. H. Lane, Mrs. W. W. Burk, (all of Knoxville), with a number of others, gave valuable service.

The grounds are larger than our state fair grounds, and very much prettier.

Jim crowed? Yes, but I will tell you about that in our next.

The spirit of the setting up of this Appalachian Exposition was Mr. Wm. J. Oliver of Knoxville, a very wealthy plow and wagon manufacturer. He declared that in this exposition should be represented all the people, and said that all people should be privileged to all departments on the ground, and to all buildings on the ground. This idea was carried out. There was no "Jim crowing" on the Appalachian ground. We had at this exposition some of the best colored speakers in the country to deliver speeches each week, and on the 8th of October the speech making was closed by Col. Roosevelt.

At this point, Mr. Editor, I will close, and finish in our next. Yours very respectfully, T. E. BARTON.

ANOTHER WOMAN CURED

By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Black Duck, Minn.—"About a year ago I wrote you that I was sick and could not do any of my household work. My sickness was called Retroflexion. When I would sit down I felt as if I could not get up. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and now I am perfectly cured, and have a big baby boy."

Mrs. ANNA ANDERSON, Box 19, Black Duck, Minn.

Consider This Advice.

No woman should submit to a surgical operation, which may mean death, until she has given Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made exclusively from roots and herbs, a fair trial. This famous medicine for women has for thirty years proved to be the most valuable tonic and invigorator of the female organism. Women residing in almost every city and town in the United States bear willing testimony to the wonderful virtue of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It cures female ills, and creates radiant, buoyant female health. If you are ill, for your own sake as well as those you love, give it a trial.

Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass., invites all sick women to write her for advice. Her advice is free, and always helpful.

NEED MONEY FOR GOOD WORK

Plans of the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis.

What "a Million for Tuberculosis from Red Cross Seals" will do in providing some of the 275,000 beds needed at once in the United States for consumptives, is explained in a recent bulletin of the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis. There is just about one bed for every ten indigent consumptives, and if all tuberculosis persons in the country are counted, both rich and poor, hardly one for every 25 or 30. If sufficient hospital accommodations are provided only for those who are too poor to pay the full price for their treatment, fully 275,000 more beds in special institutions for tuberculosis would be needed at once. The immense outlay necessary to provide and maintain so many beds in hospitals, make it imperative, the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis declares, that such institutions be erected from public money, either municipal, county or state. In order to get appropriations for public hospitals for tuberculosis, agitation is necessary, and in order to create a campaign of agitation, organization is demanded. But in order that an organized campaign may carry on an effective campaign, funds are needed. I know that these funds it is proposed to secure in so many communities as possible from the sale of Red Cross seals.

WICE WORDS.

A Physician on Food.

A physician, of Portland, Oregon, has views about food. He says: "I have always believed that the duty of the physician does not cease with treating the sick, but that we owe it to humanity to teach them how to protect their health, especially by hygienic and dietetic laws.

"With such a feeling as to my duty I take great pleasure in saying to the public that in my own experience and also from personal observation I have found no food equal to Grape-Nuts, and that I find there is almost no limit to the great benefits this food will bring when used in all cases of sickness and convalescence.

"It is my experience that no physical condition forbids the use of Grape-Nuts. To persons in health there is nothing so nourishing and acceptable to the stomach, especially at breakfast, to start the machinery of the human system on the day's work.

"In cases of indigestion I know that a complete breakfast can be made of Grape-Nuts and cream and I think it not advisable to overload the stomach at the morning meal. I also know the great value of Grape-Nuts when the stomach is too weak to digest other food.

"This is written after an experience of more than 20 years, treating all manner of chronic and acute diseases, and the letter is written voluntarily on my part without any request for it."

Decorah, Ia., Oct. 27.—The Decorah, Ia., postoffice is in the list approved by the board of trustees of the postal savings bank system who have approved a list of forty-eight second class postoffices at which the list will be given its first trial. The list includes one office for each state and territory.

The trustees are Postmaster General Hitchcock, Secretary of the Treasury MacVeagh and Attorney General Wickersham. They met in the office of the postmaster general.

The list they formally approved was selected after careful investigation by the postal officials with a view to making the first test of the service as thorough as possible under the limited appropriation of $100,000 provided by congress, which includes all the expenses of equipment, including the engraving and printing of forms, certificates, bonds, clerical assistance, etc.

Owing to the smallness of this appropriation it has been impossible to establish postal savings banks during the first year in the large cities.

Communities were chosen in which the conditions were exceptionally favorable for the development of a postal savings business, mostly industrial centers where wage earners will be especially benefited by the kind of banking facilities afforded.

A large patronage of the service is expected by the officials from foreign born Americans in these cities who are now remitting considerable sums to their native country usually in the form of money orders.

Many of the pieces selected, particularly those in the west, are not adequately provided with other savings institutions.

A FOLDING CLOTHES RACK

One That is Easily Made and Will Be Found Valuable on Wash Day.

To every housewife the folding clothes rack, shown in the illustration, will be of the greatest value on every ironing day, and with the added advantage that it may be folded up and placed in a very small space when not in use, together with its easy construction makes it possible for every housewife to possess one. To build a center post 2 by 2 inches is first cut and to this are nailed "feet" or a bottom support, these need not be over eight inches long when the rack is unfolded, as shown in the illustration, it is securely braced from tipping over. Four small uprights are now cut equal in height to the main upright and these are connected to upright with three or four crossbars upon which the clothes are hung; these are fastened with screws so as to permit the joints to work easily and each set of bars is fastened to one of the four sides of center post or upright. This permits the horizontal bars to be braced up, thus folding the rack into a small space, when not in use.—Household.

HINTS FOR THE HOUSEWIFE

Suggestions Regarding Various Phases of Housework That Are Worth Trying.

Rust on steel can be removed by rubbing sweet oil well into the surface. Let it stand two days; then rub the steel with unslaked lime until surface is clean.

In cleaning wallpaper with bread crumbs use two-day-old bread. In small places; clean with downward light stroke. Never go over same surface and never work horizontally. Cut away soiled part of bread continually.

When gas mantle are blackened they can be cleaned by sprinkling with salt when flame is turned low. Turn light full for a minute and repeat until clear.

Try mixing flour and water for thickening with a fork instead of the usual spoon. It is less likely to turn lumpy.

Iodine stains on woodwork should be removed at once, as they make an ugly spot. Soak up with blotting paper, then rub the spot with a soft cloth moistened in camphor.

As housecleaning time approaches do not forget the use of dampened cloths in furniture-cleaning. Dust is easily removed in this way without streaking woodwork or filling lungs.

To beat furniture put damp, unlinty cloths over the upholstered parts and beat until it is black with dust; then turn to other side. Continue with fresh cloths until no more dust shows.

Learn to know what damp means, especially when used upon polished woodwork. Think it means wet and you will be reviling valuable information as "newspaper rubbish." Dip a cloth in hot water, wring it as hard as you can, then shake it in the air and it should have about the right amount of moisture.

For convenience in dish-washing have a rubber-scraper, also a chain man for greasy pots. Dark crash dishes should be supplied for pots and pans and the use of dish towels forbidden for this purpose.

Cold Catsup.

One and a half pints of pure cider vinegar, one pint of granulated sugar, three-fourths of a cup of salt, three-eighths of a cup of white mustard seed, two tablespoonfuls each of ground black pepper and cinnamon, one teaspoonful each of ground mace and cloves, one ounce celery seed, two roots of horseradish chopped, one cup of chopped onions, three chopped peppers, one-half peck ripe tomatoes, peeled and chopped. Put the tomatoes, peppers and onions through the food-chopper. Add the other ingredients, mix well and turn into a crock or into jars. In a warm climate it would be well to cook and seal this catsup.

Ground Rice Pudding.

Steam one-quarter pound of ground rice and one pint of cream a quarter of an hour, then favor it with vanilla, add one ounce of butter, the yolks of four eggs, let it cool and beat it for half an hour; beat up the whites of the eggs to a froth, which mix in gently; steam a quarter of an hour. Serve with one-half pint of boiled custard, having one ounce of soaked and mashed chocolate stirred well into it; pour into the bottom of the dish. Serve.

Anise Cakes.

Beat four eggs very light, stir into them one and one-half cups of sugar, and a Dover eggbeater, whip and add hard. When very light, stir in a pint of flour sifted twice with a generous teaspoonful of baking powder. Last of all, putting in a drop of anise and beating hard for a minute after each drop is added. Set aside untouched for eight hours, and drop on floured tins and bake.

Black Pudding.

One cup of molasses, one cup of raisins, one cup of water, one bowl of breadcrumbs, three eggs, two cups of flour, one teaspoonful each of soda, cinnamon and cloves, one-quarter teaspoonful of grated nutmeg. Mix and steam for three hours. Eat with hard or liquid sauce.

NATURAL ACT FOR MOTHER

Women Understand That Not Herolam but Simply Love Prompted Self Sacrifice.

A few days ago in a somewhat "quaint neighborhood, a house caught fire. The flames shot quickly through the litter on the floor and the untidy array of clothing on the walls. A woman talking with a neighbor ran screaming to the house and without an instant's hesitation sprang through the smoking doorway into what later seemed an inferno. A moment later she staggered out, her hands and face blackened and blistered and her clothing on fire. In her arms she bore her baby, safe from harm.

The afternoon papers came out with the story, printed under headlines extolling this mother's heroism. Men read it on street cars, and as their eyes gleamed with the stirring of the spirit which leaps to noble deeds they said: "That woman dared to do what most men would be afraid to do." But the mothers who read it at home did not think that way. Perhaps the danger to the baby, the wrecking of the home and the burns the woman suffered brought moisture to their eyes, but to them the act was not one of heroism—it was simply what any natural mother, no matter how timid, would do under the same circumstances.—Cleveland Leader.

A Logical Landlord.

Many a tenant will sympathize with the man in this story, from the Philadelphia Record. He was renting a small house which the landlord had refused to repair. One day the owner came to see him. "Jones," he said, "I shall have to raise your rent." "What for?" asked Jones, anxiously. "Have taxes gone up?" "No," the landlord answered, "but I see you've painted the house and put in a new range and bathtub. That, of course, makes it worth more rent."

At the First Try.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one disease that never has been cured in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. It is a disease of the urinary tract, and is caused by the use of stimulants, such as alcohol, tobacco, and coffee. It is a disease that is often overlooked, and is often mistaken for other diseases. It is a disease that is often cured by the use of medicine, but it is often cured by the use of the Catarrh Cure. Easy for Her.

An extremely corpulent old lady was entertaining her grandchild at luncheon when she found occasion to reprimand the little girl for dropping some food on the tablecloth.

"You don't see grandma dropping anything on the table," she said.

"Of course not," replied the child; "God gave you something in front to stop it."

She Probably Could.

Senator La Follette, approval of certain scandals, said at a dinner in Madison: "These things recall the legislator who remarked to his wife, with a look of disgust: 'One of those land lobbyists approached me today with another insulting proposition.'"

"The wife, a young and pretty woman, clasped her hands. 'Oh, good!' she cried. 'Then I can have that sable stole, after all, can't I, dear?'"

When we first began our wonderful work of growing all kinds, all qualities all lengths, and all conditions of hair, even to the growing of hair on bald places of the head, many persons scorned the idea that such a thing was possible; but we have grown the hair for hundreds; rapidly achieving success. The proof of the value of our work is that we are being imitated and largely by persons whose own hair we have actually grown and the further fact that they have very frequently mentioned us when trying to sell their goods (saying that theirs is the same or "just as good") or referred to PORO. We advise you to use only PORO Hair Grower, (the oldest and best of its kind.) See that the name PORO is on every box, not genuine without it. Prepared only by Mrs. A. M. POPE.

To Whom It May Concern: I find it a pleasure to say a word in praise of Madame Perkins and her remarkable success in scientific scalp treatment.

Madam Perkins, for many years a resident of Denver, is an active member of Zion Baptist church, and one of the most favorably known women in our state. The beautiful hair of hundreds of women in our city and other parts of the state is a tribute to her phenomenal success in her profession. The wonderful growth of her own hair is a most remarkable testimony. I cheerfully recommend her to all ladies who may be interested in the growing and beautifying of the hair. Respectfully, DAVID E. O'VER, Pastor Zion Baptist Church.

To Whom It May Concern: Having taken Mrs. T. D. Perkins' treatment for the hair for about nine months, I can say it has given perfect satisfaction in every way. My hair was not two inches long when I began to take the treatment, and was very un-healthy in some places. I could not get it up at all. In these nine months my hair has grown six and one-half inches in length all over my head. I can advise any woman who wishes to have hair to take treatment of Mrs. Perkins, following her instructions, they will have the same result as I have. I cannot praise Mrs. Perkins' treatment enough. Try them.

Philadelphia, Pa., Dec. 19, 1909.

Dear Mrs. Perkins: Your letter at hand, and I am very glad to hear from you. My hair is doing fine, I must say, I am greatly pleased with it. It seems to draw many people's attention very much, and I am doing all I can for you by telling them of your wonderful treatment. I am following your instructions in every way. I do not let anything come between me and my hair that is to care for it as you have instructed me. I wish you much success in your work. MRS. DENICE BRADLY, 1318 S. Dorrance St.

Conway, Ark., Nov. 30, 1909.

Mrs. T. D. Perkins: I am, indeed, sorry I can't hear from you. This is the second time I have written you and the last I heard of you you were going west, but I am indeed proud to say that my hair is doing fine under your treatment. I would never regret anything for the way it is growing and I intend to use your treatment as long as I can keep in touch with you. Hoping an early reply, I remain as ever, yours, LIZZIE TARDLY.

Philadelphia, Pa., Nov. 13, 1908.

Mrs. T. D. Perkins, Denver, Colo. Dear Madam: I now write you what your wonderful hair remedy has done for me. My hair had been falling out for over a year, it came out in spots larger than a dollar. Blackheads and pimples came in the bald spots and my scalp began looking better and the blackheads and pimples disappeared. New hair came in, and after using your remedy six months my hair was all in again. I also had the worst case of dandruff. Your shampoo and scalp treatment have cured me after hundreds of other remedies had failed. I cannot praise your remedy half enough, and advise all others to try them as I have, and they will find good results if they follow full instructions. I am, yours truly, EVERETT S. P. DAWSON, 125 N. Third Street, Phoenix, Ariz.

Marshall, Va., Dec. 28, 1909.

Mrs. T. D. Perkins: My Dear Madam: I really feel ashamed to put off writing you so long, but I am kept so very busy all the time. I have an invitation to care for, so I neglected to write you, however I received my goods all right and am more than delighted with the results. My hair looks like a new suite of hair altogether. I have had many of my friends to ask me what I was doing for my hair, it was looking so much better. I am perfectly willing that you should use my name in any way you wish if it will be of use to you, a wish every woman and girl know of your wonderful treatment. I shall send in for another supply as soon as I need it. Wishing you much success, I will close wishing you a merry Christmas and obtain the glory. I trust you will live long for you are doing a noble work for our women. Manchester, Va., April 4, 1910.

Mrs. T. D. Perkins: I am writing to let you know how nicely my hair is growing. It looks like another head. I am so proud of my hair I hardly know just how to thank you. When I looked over the list of more than five hundred people that are taking your treatment, and you say that is only half, I was proud to find my name among the many. I will always use your treatment, and I am sure you will get many more customers among my friends, as they have said they would write you real soon relative to your treatment. I wish you all the success. PEARL DAVIS, Germantown, Pa., March 17, 1910.

Dear Mrs. Perkins. I should have written before this. I trust you had a safe trip home. Well, I want to tell you how well pleased I am with your scalp treatment. I feel that I can stand before the glass and see my hair growing. I must tell you I would not be without your treatment for anything. It was the good Lord that caused me to write to you in regard to my hair. I wish you success in your work and trust you will help others as you have helped me. Your grateful friend, DELLA PEARL.

February, 1910.

Mrs. T. D. Perkins. Dear Madam: I have been thinking for some time of writing and telling you how well my hair is doing. Since using your treatment my hair has grown five inches. You know you could scarcely find enough to ball up when you gave me the first treatment. I wondered myself what was going to hold those little pins in. Your treatment is indeed wonderful and I am very proud to have met you and have you give me my first start in growing my hair. I am pleased to tell every one the good you have done for me and I am sure you will get many of my friends to take your treatment when they see what wonders you have done for me. LOUISE COOPER, 4109 Walnut Street, West Philadelphia. Philadelphia, Penn., April 24, 1910.

Dear Madam Perkins. This is the third month I have used your scalp treatment, and I am greatly pleased with its success. My hair has grown more than four inches, and has taken on new life. It is very soft. I am very well pleased with the treatment for such a short time. I will write you from time to time to let you know just how well my hair is getting on. Very truly yours, JENIE ARCHER.

To Whom It May Concern: After reading in the Philadelphia Tribune of Madam T. D. Perkins, the Scalp Specialist of Denver, Colo., demonstrating in Philadelphia, I decided to write her relative to my hair. I received a prompt reply, and sent for her treatment at once. Being so well pleased with the same I went to Philadelphia to have her give me a personal treatment. I never used anything that was so wonderful for the hair, as her treatment. My hair started to grow from the very first, the treatment not only causes the hair to grow, but removes dandruff and makes the hair soft and glossy. My husband thinks my hair is beautiful and says that it is the best I have ever used. I advise all good women that want good hair to write Madam Perkins, for she is doing just what she advises to do, for those that will carefully follow her instructions. MRS. E. M. WATERS, 1703 West 3rd Street.

Dear Mrs. Perkins: How much I wished I had known you years ago, and taken your treatment for the hair. I would have had better hair today if I had. In the few months I have used your treatment there is such a decided change in my hair and scalp. This is the best treatment I ever used and I intend, and if your customers would tell the truth they will say the same. I before to use it as long as I am able to buy it. I wish more of our women knew of your work and would take your treatment. Yours truly, MRS. ROSANA JACKSON, 1818 Fourth Street.

To the Public: I have known Mrs. T. D. Perkins more than ten years and never knew her to have hair more than two inches long until the past three years. I was more than surprised when she took her hair down to prove to me it was all her own. I put my scalp in her charge at once, and words can never express the wonderful results of her treatment. I have tried so many hair treatments that my hair was in a dreadful condition. Mrs. Perkins' first treatment proved beyond a doubt her knowledge of the care of the scalp. I trust every woman who may read this will write Mrs. Perkins and secure a place in her class for treatment for beautifying and growth of the hair. Respectfully yours, MRS. ED. HARRIS, 2218 Clarkson, Denver, Colo.

Dear Madam: I have been using your hair treatment for four months, and I must say it is wonderful. My hair was so short I could hardly pick it up when I began using it, and in one week's time I could see an improvement. I have used many things on my hair to make it grow, but none ever did the good yours has. I can without exaggeration say this is the most wonderful tonic I have ever used. My hair has grown wonderfully since I started to use it, and I must say I am highly pleased with the method of treatment, and I can and will gladly recommend you to anyone wanting their hair to grow. I am one wishing to know more about this wonderful treatment and its growing qualities can write or call at my address, 1858 North Clark Street, Chicago, Ill. Monroe, Va., Sept. 28, 1910.

My scalp is clean and my hair is black and full of life, and is growing nicely. It is much thicker, and I have only been using the treatment six weeks, and I see such a great change in my hair, and scalp. I hope I will be able to say more of your wonderful scalp treatment in my next letter. Yours truly, MRS. S. A. CASHWELL.
