STILL IN DEADLOCK

Action of Caucus Fails to Relieve The Situation

KENYON RECEIVES 69 VOTES

Republicans Holding Out Prevent Election of Judge Kenyon Yesterday—No Word Has Come From Judge Deemer.

Des Moines, March 31.—Judge Kenyon received 69 votes for U. S. senator, needing only 8 votes to make him senator to succeed Dooliver. He gained Hogan, Hunt and Jacobson, who have been voting for Deemer.

The increase in the Kenyon vote is the net result of a caucus of 60 republicans Wednesday night in the house chamber, when Kenyon was made the unanimous choice of the majority of the republicans. The gain represents the changes of those who agreed to abide by the result of the caucus.

Early yesterday there was gossip that Deemer would not further permit the use of his name, but this was unfounded. The friends of Deemer, also including George and Finlayson, temporarily out of the Kenyon camp, stood by their man, leading the deadlock unbroken.

GOVERNOR APPOINTS JUDGES James P. Hewitt of Altoona and W. S. Hamilton of Ft. Madison in Respective Districts.

Des Moines, March 31.—James P. Hewitt of Altoona, member of the law firm of Miller, Hewitt & Wallingford, will be the fifth judge of Polk county. His appointment was announced by Governor B. F. Carroll yesterday morning.

Judge Hewitt was formerly associated with the firm of Parker, Hewitt & Wright. He has been practicing law in the city for the past twenty years, during which time he has been connected with some of the biggest cases tried in the county. Mr. Hewitt was attorney for the Western Union Telegraph company when it won the million dollar suit brought against it by the state of Iowa.

He possesses what is known among attorneys as the judicial temperament, which makes his selection meet with general satisfaction. Governor Carroll also announced the appointment of W. S. Hamilton of Ft. Madison as the extra judge in the first judicial district. The appointee is the father of J. C. M. Hamilton, a democrat, and the youngest member of the present house of representatives. The senior Hamilton is, however, one of the oldtime standard republicans.

Short Line to Corydon. Corydon, March 31.—Not for a decade has there been so much excitement here as there was yesterday when half a dozen Rock Island officials arrived in a special car and announced that if they were given a street to enter the town they would build the extension of the Short Line from St. Paul to Kansas City through here.

Sues Rich Estate. Keokuk, March 31.—Mrs. Mary Wolfe, widow, has brought suit at Keosauqua against the executor of the will of John Lightfoot for $15,000 alleged damages for breach of promise on the part of Lightfoot, who died in 1910, leaving an estate worth $80,000.

Falls Dead as Daughter Dies. Davenport, March 31.—Mrs. Louise Hoepfer, after witnessing the death of her sixth daughter, Mrs. Louis Wilson, fell over on her bed and died instantly. One child had died each year for the past six years. She was 71 years old.

DR. WASHINGTON BADLY INJURED

Majestously Assaulted by Infuriated White Man in N. W. York.
TAKEN TO FLOWER HOSPITAL

Head of the Famous Tuskegee (Ala.) Institute, a Man of International Reputation, Who Has Been Honored by Kings and Presidents, Roughly Handled by Brute Force.

By N. BARNETT DODSON.

New York.—The assault on Dr. Booker T. Washington on Sunday evening, March 10, by one Henry A. Ulrich, at or in the neighborhood of 11 1/2 West Sixty-third street, this city, was one of the most brutal, unprovoked and malicious attacks upon a human being imaginable. According to Dr. Washington's own statement, he arrived in New York on Saturday and put up at the Hotel Manhattan, where he usually stays when in this city.

On Sunday afternoon he spoke at the Mount Olivet Baptist church and later at the Church of the Pilgrims, in Brooklyn. Returning to his room in the hotel, he changed his clothing and about 9 o'clock went in search of the auditor of the Tuskegee Institute, who he understood from a letter which he received from Mr. Emmett J. Scott, his private secretary, was stopping with friends at 11 1/2 West Sixty-third street.

Upon arriving at the above number Dr. Washington scanned the names on the bells leading to the different doors for the name of the person mentioned in Mr. Scott's letter, with whom the auditor of Tuskegee was stopping. Finding what he thought was the right name, he rang the bell, but got no response. Thinking that the occupants were possibly at church, he returned to the street and walked up and down the block for some time. He went back the second time, but did not succeed in getting an answer to his ring. To convince himself of the name of the person and the number of the house he went back the third time.

It was on this third visit that the said Henry Ulrich made the attack upon him, saying that Mrs. Ulrich had stated to him that a colored man in the vestibule had accosted her as she entered, calling her "sweetheart." This statement Dr. Washington emphatically denies. He says that he spoke to neither man, woman nor child either on his way to or at 11 1/2 West Sixty-third street. Dr. Washington also denies the charge that he had been drinking. The noted educator attempted to make two things very clear to the public—first, that he had not drunk anything all day Sunday, and second, that he did not nod, motion or bow to any one that night, nor had he ever been drunk in his life.

Dr. Washington and Ulrich were arrested by a policeman after the former had been badly beaten. They were

Dr. BOOKER T. WASHINGTON AS HE APPEARED IN COURT TUESDAY, MARCH 21. Taken to the station house, where a charge of felonious assault was made against Ulrich, whom the magistrate held for a further hearing and examination in court Monday afternoon. But when the case was called in the West Side court Monday afternoon Wilford H. Smith, attorney for Dr. Washington, presented to Magistrate Cornell of that court a signed statement from the attending physician to the effect that Dr. Washington was too ill to appear, whereupon Justice Cornell set 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon for a hearing, holding Ulrich in $1,500 bail. Dr. Washington's right ear was badly torn, his face bruised and his head cut so severely that sixteen stitches were required to close the wound. He was attended at the Flower hospital.

The fact that Dr. Washington was unable to appear in court on Monday to press his charge against Ulrich started many wild rumors as to the possibility of his appearing at all against his assailant. The public was becoming alarmed, and sentiment in Dr. Washington's favor ripened thick and fast. Some satisfaction, however, was had by the following official statement given out by Seth Low, president of the board of trustees of Tuskegee Institute:

President Seth Low's Statement. As president of the board of trustees of the Tuskegee Institute I was shocked to read this morning of the assault that had been made upon Dr. Washington last night.

The facts are these: Dr. Washington reached New York on Saturday morning from Michigan. Yesterday morning he took at the Mount Olivet Baptist church in the afternoon at the Church of the Pilgrims, Brooklyn. In the evening about 9 o'clock he started out to find Mr. Smith, a certified public accountant, who is auditor of the Tuskegee Institute, a white gentleman, whom he expected to find staying with friends at 11 1/2 West Sixty-third street. This is an apartment house, the first occupied by different families on different floors, whose names appear with bells on an index below.

When Dr. Washington first reached the house he entered the vestibule and could get no reply to the bell he rang, and so he moved up and down the street and around the neighboring block where the New theater stands, returned to the house twice, each time entering the vestibule, but not the house.

On his third visit he entered the vestibule and was leaning over to try to find the name he was looking for when suddenly a man rushed in from the street and began to assault him. He defended himself and got out into the street, when a second man with a stick struck him. Then he tried to escape, when both he and the first one of his assailants were taken to the station house by a policeman who met them. From the time Dr. Washington left the hotel until he was assaulted he spoke to nobody, neither man nor woman, and he had no drink.

To assure inquirers that Dr. Washington would surely appear in court Tuesday afternoon Counselor Wilford H. Smith gave out the statement that his client wished a thorough investigation of the most unfortunate affair and would push his case to the limit of the law against his assailant. By 1 o'clock Tuesday the courtroom was crowded with spectators, both white and colored, who had come to witness what is considered to be an all important case. Mrs. Ulrich, who accuses Dr. Washington of calling her "sweetheart," walked to the court, while Dr. Washington came in an automobile, accompanied by his counsel, Borough President McAneny, D. Macon Webster, ex-Governor D. B. S. Finckh and other distinguished men.

When the case was called counsel for Ulrich entered a plea of not guilty. Magistrate Cornell then told the lawyer that he would hold his client in $500 bond for special sessions. No time was given as to when the case would come up in that court. Disappointed at not seeing and hearing argument by counsel on either side, the crowd left the courtroom in disgust. One white man was so badly affected by the disposal of the case that he immediately fainted on reaching the sidewalk.

Wilford H. Smith, counsel for Dr. Washington, is a lawyer of known ability and has no fears as to the outcome of his client's case. As a pleader and prosecutor in admiralty he is admitted to have few equals. As a race man he is not of the kind to easily give up a fight for justice according to law. He is well fortified with facts and witnesses to support Dr. Washington's statement as to why he went to 11 1/2 West Sixty-third street on the evening of March 10.

Dr. Washington has received thousands of messages, letters, telegrams, notes and personal calls from friends all over the United States expressing their sympathy and confidence in him. He was greatly pleased Tuesday morning when he received the following personal letter from President Taft:

The White House, Washington, March 21, 1911.
My Dear Dr. Washington: I am greatly distressed at your misfortune, and I hasten to write you of my sympathy, my hope that you will soon recover from the wounds inflicted by insane suspicion or viciousness and of my confidence in you, in your integrity and morality of character and in your highest usefulness to your race and to all the people of this country.

It would be a nation's loss if this untoward incident in any way impaired your great power for good in the solution of one of the most difficult problems before us. I want you to know that your friends are standing by you in every trial and that I am proud to subscribe myself as one.

Sleeplessness.
A good remedy for sleeplessness is to wet a towel and apply to the back of the neck, pressing it hard up against the base of the brain and fastening over the cloth to prevent its rapid evaporation. The effect will be prompt and pleasant, cooling the brain and inducing a sweet and peaceful slumber. Warm water is better than cold for the purpose. This remedy will prove useful to people suffering from overwork, excitement or anxiety.

Willing to Obey.
"When you feel any temptation, comin' along," said the friend and adviser, "you mus' say: 'Get thee behind me, Satan.'"
"That's what I done said," answered Mr. Erasmus Piskley, "an' don't brag 'bout it hyus Satan answer me back: 'Lal! all right. We's both gwine de same way, nohow, an' it do' make no diff'ence to me which leads de guh-cassation.'"

Protective Device.
When a telephone line is electrostatically charged the telephone acts as a condenser. The winding serves as one plate of the condenser, the frame of the receiver as the dielectric and the person who is holding the receiver to his ear as the other plate of the condenser. In order to prevent the condenser from discharging through the person, a German inventer provides a ground and the receiver is so constructed that the capacity of the wire is smaller than that of the person.

PLEA FOR SELF-RELIANCE.

Charles G. Dawes' Good Advice to Young Men in Business.

This is a hard world in business. It always has been and always will be. There are many good and generous men in it. There are many who will lend a helping hand to you in your adversity, but in the time of need you will not find them among the men who tried to get you to embark in speculation with your little surplus, and to sell you something which would help you to "easy money." Be self-reliant. Make your own investment into investments. When you cannot put your money in a good savings bank. Distrust the financial demagogues as you distrust the political demagogue. Keep your hand on your pocketbook as you travel life—first, to give always in proportion to your means to those who are poorer; second, to hold from those who would take through force or fraud what you need for yourself and yours. You will then, writes Mr. Dawes in the Saturday Evening Post, have your hand where most of the other fellows have only their eyes. In this alone you will have the advantage of them.

No More Gold Lace for Afghans.
The Amerer has published an edition, which applies to all parts of Afghanistan, prohibiting the import into the country of all kinds of gold lace, including embroidered kullas lungis and embroidered shoes. The Amerer is evidently actuated by a desire to prevent his subjects from spending their hard-earned money on showy dress. It is the poorer classes who are notoriously addicted to this extravagance which his majesty has decided to check. The gold laced coat of the Afghan is decidedly handsome, and although the Amerer has acted wisely in bringing into general use clothing less costly, his majesty's orders will doubtless be received by his subjects with rather mixed feelings.

Proper Bestowal of Charity.
Dickens: There are not a few among the disciples of charity who require their vocation, scarcely less excitement than the votaries of pleasure in their; and hence it is that diseased sympathy and compassion are every lay expended on out-of-the-way objects, when only too many demands upon the legitimate exercise of the same virtues in a healthy state are constantly within the sight and bearing of the most unobservant persons alive. In short, charity must have its romance, as the novelist or the play-wright must have his.

Rare Washington Portrait.
A rare and curious mezzotint portrait of George Washington in the library of the late Lafayette S. Richardson of Lowell, Mass., was auctioned off last year in Boston. It is entitled "George Washington, late president of the United States of America, etc." and was published March 14, 1801, by J. Hinton London. It is a small folio and is colored by hand. It looks as if "Father of His Country," Baker, who wrote the "Engraved Portraits of Washington," says that only one impression of this mezzotint has come under the notice of the writer. It was in neither the Clarkson nor the Carson sale of Washington portraits.

Insist on Yellow Flour.
Charles Christadoro, an expert on flour and grains, sounds the keynote of the new situation brought about by the bleached flour decision when he says in a communication to the editor commenting on the bleached flour decision: "The housewife will now insist on yellow tinted or creamy flour and will learn to realize that a natural flour very white can in no manner compare with the creamy or yellow flour in so far as gluten and muscle building values are concerned."
"As from 85 to 90 per cent. of the large flour mills of the country were using this bleaching process, the decision is far-reaching."—National Food Magazine

We Grew Our Hair, Now Let Us Grow Yours with PORO TRADE MARK REGISTERED.

When we first began our wonderful work of growing all kinds, all qualities, all lengths, and all conditions of hair, even to the growing of hair on bald places of the head, many persons scorned the idea that such a thing was possible; but we have grown the hair for hundreds, rapidly achieving success. The proof of the value of our work is that we are being imitated and largely by persons whose own hair we have actually grown and the further fact that they are very frequently mentioned when trying to sell their goods (saying that theirs is the same or "just as good") or referred to PORO. We advise you to use only PORO Hair Grower, (the oldest and best of its kind.) See that the name PORO is on every box, not genuine without it. Prepared only by Mrs. A. M. POPE.
