

IOWA STATE BYSTANDER.

VOL. XX NO. 19

DES MOINES, IOWA, FRIDAY, OCTOBER 24, 1913.

Price Five Cents

CITY NEWS.

A delegation of high Masons left Wednesday for Clarinda to set up a new lodge, consisting of John L. Thompson, S. Joe Brown, H. E. Jacobs, B. J. Hack and Dr. A. J. Booker.

Prof. Powell of Alabama, who has spent the summer in our state in the interest of his college, called in our city this week preparatory to taking his leave for California. He was well pleased with his work in Iowa.

Mr. Claude Weeks, formerly of Ottumwa, but now of New York City, is visiting relatives and friends in the city for a few days.

Wanted—A good barber; none but sober, industrious men need apply. White patrons only. Address J. M. Mitchell, Fulton, Ill. Box 175.

All persons having claims against N. Wiley will please make the same known on or before November 15, 1913.—N. Wiley.

Rev. T. L. Griffith was initiated into the mysteries of Masonry at the meeting of Doric lodge, No. 30, last Thursday evening.

Mrs. Alice Houston was hostess to the Wednesday Evening Bridge club. This was prize evening. Mrs. Louise Gray being the recipient. After daily refreshments, club adjourned to meet next week with Mrs. Lucile Howard.

Miss Susie Lee read an interesting paper on Negro Religious Institutions at the Lyceum last Tuesday, at which time Mr. W. H. McCree was elected to membership. Meeting next week with Gus Durden at 1547 West Twentieth street.

Prof. L. C. Jones of Braxton, Miss., president of the Piney Woods institution, spent a few days in our city preparing to leave for his southern home. Prof. Jones and wife are young Iowa people who have cast their lot in the work of enlightening the race in the south and we of Iowa are proud of their success so far. Prof. Jones is a graduate of the Iowa State university. They will soon leave for a brief visit to St. Joseph, Mo., and then south.

The tableaux entertainment to be given at the Union Congregational church next Tuesday, October 28, will be a unique and interesting entertainment. All are invited.

The R. C. Embroidery club will meet Saturday, October 25, at Mrs. M. C. Marshall's, 77th Tenth street.

Miss Marie Bell was hostess to the M. C. T. club Monday evening. After the lesson, quotations and current events were given and refreshments served. Lesson next week, "Caxton & Mallory," Mallory's Marie D'Arthur. Hostess next week is Mrs. H. R. Graves, with Marie Bell as teacher.

Mrs. Wm. W. Whitfield was called to Ogden owing to the serious illness of her daughter, Mrs. M. Crawford, who accompanied her home and is now under the care of Dr. Booker.

Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Morton, formerly of this city but now of Omaha, Neb., were pleasant visitors at the residence of their mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Whitfield.

Mrs. Earnest McGuire returned from Buxton Monday where she attended the funeral of her brother, Wm. Lee.

Mrs. Lizzie Palmer-Berrey of Jersey city, N. J., arrived in our city to visit her old friends. While here she will be the guest of Mrs. Harrison Gould.

A PUBLIC MEETING.

The public are invited to attend a mass meeting of the business and moneyed men of Des Moines in the interest of the Masonic Temple Building association of our city. Good speaking and singing. Those who will address the meeting are Revs. B. U. Taylor, T. L. Griffith, T. M. Brumfield, S. Bates and Rev. Lee, S. Joe Brown, J. B. Rush, Drs. Jefferson, Booker and Wilson, R. N. Hyde and others. Refreshments will be served. The meeting will be held at the North Star Masonic hall, Tenth and Center streets. All are invited. By order of the board of directors.

Mt. Moriah Tabernacle, No. 567, entertained the Sir Knights and friends at the residence of Rev. and Mrs. Bates, 1318 Stewart street, Tuesday evening, October 21. A delightful time was spent by all that were present. Music and singing were the features of the evening. All members of Mt. Moriah Tabernacle, No. 567, extend their thanks to Rev. and Mrs. Bates for kindness shown to them for the use of their beautiful home to entertain their guests.

Dt. Della Bryant, H. P. Dt. Florence B. Taylor, C. R.

Andrew Jackson Stewart, aged 56 years, who was killed by a Northwestern train Wednesday night near Yoder, Iowa, was buried from the Union Congregational church on Tenth and Park streets Sunday afternoon at 2 p. m. He was born in Lincoln county, Mo., March 5, 1857. He leaves to mourn a wife, a brother, C. S. Stewart of Des Moines, a sister, Mrs. Annie Taylor of Los Angeles, Cal., and two nieces, Mrs. H. W. Hughes and Mrs. W. A. Jackson of Des Moines, and three nephews, Carl Taylor of St. Joseph, Mo., and George Taylor of Boone, Iowa, and C. S. Stewart, Jr., of Des Moines.

NEW MASONIC LODGE ORGANIZED.

The Grand Master, John L. Thompson, of the Most Worshipful United Grand Lodge, A. F. & A. M., for Iowa and jurisdiction, organized and set up a new lodge at Clarinda, Iowa, last Wednesday night of seventeen members. There were candidates from Gravity, Sharpsburg, Creston and Red Oak. Many of the candidates were the well to do farmers. The work was nicely exemplified by Grand Master Thompson, Grand Senior Warden S. Joe Brown, Past G. S. W. and G. Auditor H. E. Jacobs, B. J. Hack and Dr. A. J. Booker of Des Moines, Iowa. The people in southwestern Iowa are much enthusiastic over this distinguished meeting of high lodge men and the great results accomplished out there.

BURLINGTON, IOWA.

All services at St. John's were well attended last Sunday. In the evening the choir rendered a special song service, for which they received many compliments.

Rev. B. R. Penn has moved from 606 Angular street to the parsonage next door to the church on Central avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Birditt were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Squire Henderson for a few days the past week. Mr. B. F. Wheeler has returned from a business trip to Omaha, Neb. Mrs. Alec Burton has returned to Chicago, after a ten days' visit with her husband, who is employed at the Union hotel.

Mr. Robert Brown and wife have returned to their home in Chicago, after spending a very pleasant week with Mr. Brown's parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Brown, of 1065 Leebick street. They were entertained on Tuesday evening at 6 o'clock dinner by Mrs. Alexander Drew; on Wednesday evening at a 6 o'clock dinner by Mrs. Matt Ross, and on Thursday evening Mrs. Peter King entertained informally with a whist and dancing party, after which the guests were served with refreshments.

On last Friday evening Mrs. G. W. Brown entertained a party of children in honor of her granddaughter, little Miss Collier Brown of Chicago.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry King left Friday for Chicago, Indianapolis, Ind., and other points in the east. While here they were entertained by Mrs. L. M. Abel with a party of seven at the Frederick A. Cook north pole expedition lecture.

Mrs. Edward Williams entertained at a 6 o'clock dinner. Covers were laid for six.

Mrs. Alexander Drew entertained at a 7 o'clock dinner for a party of ten.

Mrs. Matt Ross entertained at a 6 o'clock dinner.

Mrs. Agnes Lamb has returned from St. Joseph, Mo., where she spent a week visiting her daughter, Mrs. J. H. Jordan.

Members and friends of the church gave a welcome reception on last Tuesday evening for Rev. B. R. Penn and family. The address of welcome by Mrs. Julia Folks expressed the sentiments of all present. The pastor's response was highly appreciated. A short but pleasing program was rendered. Light refreshments were served and the pastor was the recipient of a neat purse, for which he was very thankful.

ST. PAUL BUDGETARIAN.

St. Paul had its first taste of winter this season on the 20th inst., when the mercury stood at 23 above, and when the snow began falling thick and fast late in the afternoon we realized that winter was imminent. It was said that the day was the coldest October day we've had since 1896.

The dedication of Zion Presbyterian church did not take place Sunday, as was announced, owing to the fact that they wanted to dedicate the parsonage at the same time, which was not quite completed. The services have been postponed indefinitely.

A matinee whist club has been organized, with seventeen ladies as members. They propose to meet every second and fourth Tuesday afternoon at the homes of the members. And once every two months entertain at a night meeting their husbands. The following officers were elected: President, Mrs. W. Taudy; vice president, Mrs. Stella Lee; secretary, Mrs. Bessie Miller; treasurer, Mrs. A. Stanley; purchasing committee, Mesdames Mattie R. Hicks and Mildred Johnson. The first meeting will be held Tuesday afternoon of the 21st with Mrs. Elizabeth Echols as hostess.

The entertainment given by Queen of Sheba chapter, O. E. S., at Tschida hall Thursday evening last was quite well attended and a neat sum realized for the order, for which they thank all who assisted in making the affair a success.

Mrs. L. H. Davis of Chicago is visiting her mother, Mrs. Abe Lyles, of Rondo street.

Miss Mabel Moffit has issued cards for a Halloween party to be given at her home, 128 W. Arch street, Friday evening, October 31.

Mrs. B. J. Sears will be hostess for the Self-Culture club Wednesday, October 22, at which time Mrs. Mattie Hall will lead the topical study of Bryant's "Thanatopsis."

Mrs. Lenora Brown and two children left recently for Maysville, S. C., where Mrs. Brown is to be matron of a school. They were also accompanied by the little Misses Virginia Jenkins and Alice Melker, who will attend school there.

Mrs. Grace Dover has returned to the city, after an absence of about two years.

MASON CITY.

Mrs. Carl Davis of Ottumwa, Iowa, is in the city visiting with her mother, Mrs. Walter Davis.

The oldest child of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Ewing is reported sick with typhoid fever, but is better at this writing.

Master Edwin Cowell, who also is a victim with typhoid fever, who has been very sick for several weeks, is much better.

Mr. W. L. Jones, who spent several weeks in Chicago on business, returned home Tuesday.

Rev. A. L. Tolson of Oskaloosa, Iowa, is expected in the city to hold quarterly conference for Rev. Woodford, as Rev. Wheeler, the presiding elder, was unable to get here. A special rally is planned by the Ladies' Aid and stewaresses of the church.

Mrs. Bernice Eaton of Fort Dodge is in the city visiting with her parents for a few days.

Mrs. Cole of Winnipeg, Canada, spent a few days in the city visiting her sister, Mrs. L. J. Fisher. She departed Saturday for Chicago for a few days' visit.

MACON NEWS.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Harris will leave tonight for their home in Oakland, Cal., after a month's pleasant visit with relatives.

A number of strangers are in town this week doing the Chautauqua.

Rev. and Mrs. Gales and Dr. J. H. Garnett and wife have returned from Kansas City, where they attended the state convention.

Mrs. Addie Hoskins is visiting relatives in the city for a few days.

Miss Corinne Pickett, one of the students of W. C., was called to Shelby on account of the death of her aunt, Mrs. Dora Wardsfield.

Mr. J. B. Harris of Quincy, Ill., is the guest of relatives in the city.

We are very glad to hear of Mrs. Pearl Braxton preparing to open a restaurant—Wednesday on Cricket street.

We are sorry to hear of Mrs. Sallie Williams having her limb amputated. We hope her very much improved.

Dr. J. E. Smith has returned from St. Louis.

Mrs. Dulas Braxton was hostess of a 6 o'clock dinner Wednesday in honor of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Harris of Oakland, Cal.

Mrs. Susan Snell entertained at a dinner last Wednesday in honor of Mrs. C. Harris and family.

Mr. Fred Hoskins of Rock Island visited his mother, Mrs. Ann Hoskins. Miss Carrie Pettis is in Shelby for a few days.

Mrs. Va Smith still remains very sick.

SIoux CITY, IOWA.

Rev. and Mrs. J. H. Garrison have arrived in our city and are cozily located in the parsonage. In the Rev. and wife have efficient leaders and it is our duty to help them. We fully believe by lending them our hearty co-operation we shall be able to accomplish much, and that this year will be one long to be remembered in the era of Sioux City.

On last Wednesday evening a surprise party was given in honor of Rev. and Mrs. J. H. Garrison by the members and friends of the A. M. E. church. They were the recipients of quite a supply of edibles.

The A. I. P. club spent its pleasure evening with Mrs. Arthur Webb as hostess last Friday evening. A program was rendered and the evening came to a close by the hostess serving a delectable three-course luncheon.

The Art and Culture club was entertained last week by Mrs. C. B. Watkins. Mrs. M. H. Spencer will be the hostess this week.

Mrs. W. H. Hudson has arrived home, after a pleasant visit of several weeks in Chicago.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Hudson will entertain at breakfast Tuesday Presiding Elder Rev. S. B. Moore, Rev. and Mrs. J. H. Garrison and Rev. Joseph W. Norris.

The choir of the A. M. E. church will render a musical program next Sunday evening under the auspices of Mrs. A. M. Askew.

The A. M. E. church has in progress a "Two Dollar Rally" for the benefit of the trustees, which is to be held Thanksgiving day. Every member is requested to pay the two dollars to help alleviate the indebtedness of the church.

The chicken and oyster supper given by the stewardesses was quite a success financially, $8.50 being realized.

The condition of Mr. Jackson Askew remains unchanged at this writing.

BUXTON, IOWA.

Mt. Zion Baptist Church. On account of the rain which continued throughout the day Sunday our services were very poorly attended. This, however, did not in any way detract from the forcefulness of Pastor Woodard's sermons. In the morning he preached the first of a series of sermons from the ten commandments and used as a text Evodus 20:3.

Miss Reala Buford, our very young organist, is proving quite helpful to us and will soon give entire satisfaction.

Mr. G. W. Pendleton, our leading tenor singer, was somewhat indisposed Sunday, but is much improved at this time.

Mr. P. M. Jones of Enterprise was an over Sunday visitor in the city.

Mr. Morris Deslet, who has been confined to his home, 22 E. Third street, since April, is slowly improving.

Mrs. Sarah Johnson of 13 East Thobrey street, who spent several weeks last winter with friends and relatives, is at home again.

Little Miss Marie Dues is this week rejoicing over the gift of a very pretty Bible given her by her Sunday school teacher for perfect conduct during the Sundays of the past three months.

The Monday evening Bible class was largely attended this week and in the absence of the pastor, who is attending the state convention (white) was taught by Deacon D. W. Carter.

Mr. J. L. Thompson, R. G. Potter and R. H. Stewart were callers at the residence of Mr. Lewis Nolan last Sunday, who has been sick for some time.

Mr. J. M. Moore was called to Des Moines last Sunday on business.

Mr. Richard Oliver is back to our city again.

Mr. J. H. Reasby is the representative of the Buxton concert band. We are glad to see Mr. Alexander out again, who was injured at mine 16, with fractured arm.

St. John's A. M. E. Church. On account of the bad weather there weren't very many out to Sunday morning services.

We are glad to have our pastor back this year.

Rev. J. L. Wharton's family arrived in our city a few days ago from Chicago.

The Christian Endeavor is growing. Come out and take part.

Mrs. Sadie Smith, formerly of Buxton, now residing in Des Moines, is in Buxton for a few days, to the pleasure of her many friends.

Buxton Briefs. Mr. J. E. Downs is still on the sick list.

Mr. Lewis Nolan is still on the sick list.

Mr. Peterson went to Louisville, Ky., last week to see his brother, who Mr. J. L. Thompson was here on business last week, getting subscribers for The Bystander.

They are having some fine motion pictures in Cooperstown. Mr. Asa Williams is manager.

We are glad to see our old friend, Mr. John Harris, back again from Chicago in our city.

Mr. Andy Jeffries went to Knoxville on Tuesday on business.

Mrs. Mary B. Brown is suffering a very hard attack of pleurisy.

Mr. Wm. W. Lee, who has been sick for some time, died Thursday, October 16. The funeral was held at the St. John's A. M. E. church Sunday, October 19th, at 2:30 o'clock, Rev. J. L. Wharton officiating. He was a member of St. John's A. M. E. church and also a member of Cedar Grove lodge, No. 18, A. F. and A. M. He leaves to mourn his loss a wife, two children and a mother and father, sisters and brothers and relatives and a host of friends.

Y. M. C. A. Notes. The Y. M. C. A. has entered into its fall and winter work and the men and boys are spending many pleasant hours each day in the two buildings. Sunday afternoon at 3:30 there will be the regular afternoon meeting. Be sure that you are there to hear the speaker of the afternoon. Tuesday night is Bible class night. Come out and bring a friend. A glee club has been formed and the men are doing fine.

The Y. M. C. A., with the aid of the ministers of Buxton, are making plans and getting ready for Dr. Drum, who will visit Buxton some time in November. The different gym classes have been started for both the men and boys. Football and basketball practice has also started and the men and boys are taking a great deal of interest in these two sports, as well as indoor baseball, handball and many other games. Many are finding enjoyment in our fine swimming pool. Everything points to a very busy, interesting, healthful and helpful season of work.

DAVENPORT NOTES.

Stewardesses day rally at the A. M. E. church was quite a success.

Twenty-one society ladies went to Clinton, Iowa, last Wednesday afternoon in honor of the Violet Reading club, which was entertained at the beautiful residence of Mrs. Holland Williams. Mrs. Williams served the ladies in fine style.

Mrs. Cecil Carter is on the sick list. Mrs. Ruth E. Bright, who has been visiting in Denver, Colo., for the last three months, returned home Sunday a. m.

Mr. and Mrs. D. S. Johnson of 636 Lauren street entertained the following guests at a 6 o'clock dinner on Wednesday: Prof. S. J. Hunter of the Nobuxeb school, Miss, and Prof. S. F. Furr of Newport News, Va., Prof. Homser of Tuskegee, Ala., Mr. R. T. Hastings and Mrs. C. H. Merchant.

Bro. David Delward is very ill at his home, 1425 1-2 Harrison street.

Mr. B. F. Hopkins met with a painful accident at Silvis, Ill., last Wednesday. He is resting easy at this writing.

Mrs. Eva Gordon is on the sick list. Mrs. Georgie Perkins, who was quite sick last week, is able to be out.

Miss Hattie Richardson entertained Monday evening in honor of her cousin, Mrs. Victoria Johnson of Springfield, Ill. Quite a number of young folks enjoyed themselves until a late hour.

The E. L. D. club met at the A. M. E. parsonage Friday afternoon and elected the following officers: President, Mrs. Jennie Johnson; vice president, Mrs. Esther Stovall; treasurer, Mrs. Ida Cunningham; secretary, Miss Hattie Richardson; assistant secretary, Mrs. L. F. Phillips; custodian, Mrs. Geo. Perkins; program committee, Mrs. C. H. Marshall. The hostess served the club to light refreshments.

Mrs. Lizzie Thomas, formerly of Davenport, now of Fort Madison, Iowa, was a special guest of the Violet club at Clinton, Iowa, last week.

Prof. S. S. Furr of Newport News, Va., made a splendid talk at Davenport Ministerial association Monday morning. Mr. Furr was introduced to the association by the secretary, Rev. B. H. Cheney. Mr. Furr presented his cause in a clever way, receiving the approval of the association.

Mrs. M. J. Crawford, son and daughter, Master Horace and Miss Arvine, of Galesburg, Ill., are visiting Mr. and Mrs. David Delward, 1425 1-2 Harrison street.

Quite a number of Rock Island people visited Bethel A. M. E. church on Sunday morning and evening. Come again. You are welcome.

The Boys' Athletic club will entertain at Bethel A. M. E. church on Tuesday evening, October 28th.

The next meeting of the E. L. D. club will be held at the A. M. E. church, at which time there will be a discussion, should the local clubs provide a home for friendless girls that come into our city?

KEWANEE, ILL. The literary society of the A. M. E. church could not meet last Thursday on account of the inclement weather, but will hold their regular meeting Thursday, the 23d, when the officers of the ensuing term are to be elected.

A Halloween social is to be held the latter part of this month in Germania hall, given by the younger class. All are invited to attend. No date is as yet set for the event, but a good time is assured all who come.

Rev. A. Madison of the Second Baptist church went to Galesburg on Sunday, where he preached for the church there.

Rev. Hunter of Mattoon, Ill., has been given charge of the Second Baptist church here.

The social at the A. M. E. church Monday was well attended. Quite a sum was cleared.

The Blind Boone Concert company is booked here for the 31st at the Methodist church (white). All colored people are invited to attend, for it is for all.

QUINCY, ILL.

Eulalia C., the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Garfield Howell, died Saturday night and was buried Monday afternoon from the home on Vine street. The bereaved parents have our heartfelt sympathy.

A goodly number of friends and members of Union Baptist church attended the cornerstone laying of the above named church and great was the manifestation of interest, both spiritually and financially.

Mr. J. B. Harris left for Macon, Mo., to attend the family reunion, at which Mr. and Mrs. E. Harris of Oakland, California, a brother who has not been seen for years, will be present.

Mr. Wm. Steward, a brother of Mesdames Ella Davis and P. Triplett, died at St. Mary's hospital Sunday. Through the Bystander we extend our sympathy.

There are plans being made for a night school for colored boys and girls by some of the ministers and educators of this city. This opportunity ought to be seized by all whom fortune prevents their attending during the day.

ALBIA NEWS.

Mrs. R. B. Manly was with the ladies that visited at Mrs. Roy Grayson's home last week and at Hocking and Riverville.

A large crowd gathered at the home of Mrs. Chas. Washington on Monday evening and awaited the coming of Mrs. R. B. Manly to an invited supper with a few friends, to give her a birthday surprise. The worthy lady received many congratulations, with a fine raincoat for a birthday present from the guests and a present from Mr. and Mrs. Smith.

Mrs. James Jamison was an Ottumwa visitor Saturday.

Wm. Benning, cement contractor, with his men has been working in Oskaloosa this week.

Under the management of the Sewing Circle club about twenty-five or thirty gathered at the home of Oscar Roper on Tuesday evening with laden baskets for an indoors picnic in honor of Mr. Oscar Roper's birthday. Table linen was spread from door to door and a bountiful lunch was served. And the club presented Mrs. Roper with a souvenir spoon.

Mr. Edmonds of Hocking was in Albia to attend both parties.

Mrs. Oscar Roper went to Oskaloosa on Wednesday to visit a few days.

The Rev. R. B. Manly has been visiting several weeks in Chicago and is busy all the time. He has recently purchased a new automobile. He has an exemplary wife and owns a beautiful residence. Mrs. Belle Morman also owns valuable property in the north part of the city. She has about a sixteen room house. They are old settlers here and highly respected. W. S. Miller is another hustling man here. Rev. W. W. McKamey, formerly of Kirksville, has charge of the Baptist church. S. A. Lewis and Mrs. Lottie Ewing are also substantial citizens here.

MONMOUTH, ILL.

Mrs. Warren Murphy is visiting Mrs. Samuel Wallace from Ft. Madison, Iowa.

Mrs. Charles Wallace entertained Mrs. Warren Murphy on Thursday evening. Whist and music was the feature of the evening. She was also entertained by Mr. Lue Doss on Saturday evening.

A party was given in honor of Miss Viola Murphy at Mrs. Charles Wallace's. Twenty-five little girls and boys were present.

Mrs. Warren Murphy and daughter and Mrs. Samuel Wallace were invited for Sunday dinner at Mrs. W. R. Lash's.

EDITOR'S OBSERVATIONS.

John L. Thompson. Huntsville was our next stop. Here lives about 1,000 colored people, many doing well. The majority of them are following the mining pursuits and some are farming. Mr. S. T. Pettigrew, who has been a school teacher in this part of Missouri for many years and one of the prominent secret society men in this state, lives here. He owns a very beautiful home on a hill overlooking the city. His wife is very sick and has been more than a year. He is grand secretary of the U. B. F. of Missouri and has been for many years. This society is the largest and strongest society among the colored people in this state. They pay the grand secretary a yearly salary, which takes all of his time, and they have a large business in this city and many in southern states. Below I give you a brief synopsis of their financial statement and a complete idea of the immense amount of money that this great colored organization handles.

Financial condition of the United Brothers of Friendship and Sisters of the Mysterious Tens of Missouri and its jurisdiction for the year commencing September 1, 1912, and ending August 30, 1913:

S. T. Pettigrew, grand secretary of the state of Missouri. Dues collected by local lodges $20,636.82 Dues collected by local temples 31,310.66 Collected from other source by lodges 11,809.11 Collected from other sources by temples 13,196.40 Beneficiary fund collected

It was Ye Editor's great pleasure to attend the opening of this college and meet the teachers. It was very inspiring and effective. I realized this was a great foundation of the institution that future generations will be beneficiaries too. I was the guest of honor for half a day at the institution, also had the pleasure to accompany some business men out near the river and saw some very valuable land which was owned by the colored people. There are many colored farmers here and most of them doing well. Upon our return to the college we had a splendid dinner awaiting our arrival, which we enjoyed very much, as well as the splendid breakfast. While Prof. Bruce's wife was not present, yet the teachers and others made it very pleasant for the visiting guests. I can only close, by producing the interview from Prof. Bruce, which is as follows. He says: "We are necessarily a working school without pretense, talk and without frills and feathers. Both teachers and students work alike. The school has a girls' hall fairly well equipped, worth $10,000, but needs most of all a boys' building to accommodate forty or fifty boys, and I think that charitably disposed colored people of Iowa, Nebraska, Kansas and Missouri should investigate this hard working school and should help us by giving some building or land or stock or other equipment as a testimony of their interest and best wishes. The Bartlett Agricultural and Industrial school deserves full and proper equipment and its faculty is composed of college and university as well as industrially trained men and women and we will thankfully receive any donation or gift that you may desire to give."

Our next stop was at Salisbury. This is a beautifully located town, with about 900 colored people. Many are old settlers here, well fixed and highly respected. They have a splendid school, Prof. Bolden of Moberly being the principal. Mr. C. H. Bentley is engineer at the flour mills. Mr. Dammeron is a contract painter. He had injured his knee, but is somewhat better. He is a thorough race man. Mrs. J. L. Hairgrove is one of the successful ladies of this town. She owns valuable property and is doing nicely. W. P. Moss is also doing well. Elijah Hincheleo is one of the coming young men and owns valuable property. Mr. McAdams is doing well, also J. T. Russell. There are several contractors here and they all seem to be busy. There are two churches here and it is reported they are doing well.

Dalton was our next stop. This little town of about 800 inhabitants is nestled away in the hills of Chariton county, on the main line of the Wash. Of this 800 inhabitants fully one-half are colored. This town is made known by the location of the Bartlett Agricultural and Industrial school for colored youths. This school was founded by Prof. N. C. Bruce, who is principal. The school is non-supported by any church organization or the government. It is intensely religious and Christian throughout. It is a school of thorough scientific agriculture, home economics, manual training and applied Christian ethics. Its aim is a pure, good life for colored people as in Hampton, Tuskegee and other great industrial schools. In fact it is the only school of that kind in Missouri representing the great rich agricultural valley of the northwest. The buildings are located upon a beautiful high rolling campus of seventeen acres within five minutes' walk of the railroad and overlooking the town and surrounding country.

It was Ye Editor's great pleasure to attend the opening of this college and meet the teachers. It was very inspiring and effective. I realized this was a great foundation of the institution that future generations will be beneficiaries too. I was the guest of honor for half a day at the institution, also had the pleasure to accompany some business men out near the river and saw some very valuable land which was owned by the colored people. There are many colored farmers here and most of them doing well. Upon our return to the college we had a splendid dinner awaiting our arrival, which we enjoyed very much, as well as the splendid breakfast. While Prof. Bruce's wife was not present, yet the teachers and others made it very pleasant for the visiting guests. I

BOIL GOAT'S MILK

Facts of Practical Interest to All Who Raise Goats.

Malta Fever is Transmitted by Animal's Milk, and Has Affected Families on Goat Ranches in Texas and New Mexico.

Washington.—Scientists of the bureau of animal industry have compiled a bulletin which is of practical interest to all who raise goats and to such invalids as have been prescribed goat's milk as a diet.

Proofs have conclusively established that the transmission of a fever known variously as "Malta," "mountain," "slow typhoid," or by certain other designations, to man, is accomplished by the milk of infected goats.

Careful observation in Texas and New Mexico show that the disease has always made its appearance among people connected with goat raising. Entire families have been taken sick with it on goat ranches. The sickness appears usually after the kidding season, during the months of April, May and June, when the people are in closer contact with the goats.

Observations have also shown that just over the border in Mexico goat herders are not nearly so liable to the disease. Conclusions have been drawn that this is not due to any natural immunity but to the fact that the Mexicans always boil the milk before drinking it, while the Americans use it raw.

The general opinion has prevailed that the United States is free from Malta fever, and that the disease has only occurred through importations. However, it now seems evident that the Malta fever has existed in Texas and New Mexico for at least 25 years. The fever takes its name from Great Britain's island in the Mediterranean, where the disease has been exceedingly prevalent among British soldiers and sailors. Its occurrence in tropical and subtropical localities has been noted in almost every country. A number of cases have been reported among our soldiers who had just returned from the Philippine Islands.

Pasteurization of infected milk for 20 minutes at 145 degrees Fahrenheit is sufficient to destroy the organism which transmits the disease. Therefore, milk pasteurization for the destruction of typhoid and tuberculosis germs will also be free from Malta fever germ.

The symptoms of human beings are usually pronounced and give rise to a more or less severe affection. The most striking symptom is an attack of fever with periods of normal temperatures. The duration of these periods varies considerably during the disease. The fever may be remittent or intermittent; it may be continuously high or low, and at all stages of the disease the type of the fever may change. It may be very acute from the onset, the fever setting in with chills and rise of temperature associated with severe headache and pain in the back, and a general ill feeling. The pulse and respirations are generally affected in accordance with the height of the fever. The course of the disease may extend for from six weeks up to a year, and cases have even been observed in which relapses have occurred for three years. In human beings the mortality is estimated at three per cent.

In animals the course of the disease always appears to be protracted. Cases have been noted in goats that extend over a period of more than a year. The prognosis in animals is always favorable as far as the health is concerned. But although the disease has no active effect on goats, its eradication must be considered for the public health, and it is particularly important since there has been a tendency recently among physicians to advise the drinking of goat's milk for children and invalids.

CATTLE DISEASE ERADICATED.

Owing to the fact that many importers of pedigreed British cattle, sheep and swine are unaware that the prohibition against the importation of ruminants and swine from Great Britain, on the ground of the presence of foot-and-mouth disease in these countries, has been removed, the British Ambassador through the state department, has requested the secretary of agriculture to make wide public announcement that the disease has been eradicated and that importations to the United States are now permitted.

The United States department of agriculture, in order to prevent the introduction of this and other diseases from abroad, has been exercising a very watchful supervision over all importations of live cattle from foreign countries. On June 25, 1912, as the result of a cablegram advising a fresh outbreak of foot-and-mouth disease in Cumberland, England, and later cablegrams advising of the detection of foot-and-mouth disease in the Liverpool market and among Irish cattle from Swords, Dublin, and later reports during June, July and December, 1912, as to the presence of this disease, the department discontinued the issuance of permits and concealed outstanding permits, and continued to refuse such issuance throughout the year 1912. On January 18, 1913, the issuance of permits for cattle from the Channel Islands, where there had been no case of foot-and-mouth disease, with transshipment at Southampton subject to the supervision of Gargantuan Drinker. In the matter of drinking capacity, "tanking up" is peculiarly fit when applied to the camel. A single thirsty animal may drink as much as twenty gallons. This fact, as a writer in the London Times happily points out, gives new meaning to Rebekah's watering of the camels of Abraham's servant. After she had "drawn water" until they had "done drinking," the servant, "wondering at her, held his peace." And "well he might," says the Times naturalist, for Rebekah's act of kindness to the stranger was, in view of the camel's capacity (and there were ten of them in the train), a mighty big job.

Two Hearts That Beat as One. Dibbs—Going to marry! Why, I thought you intended to remain single. Gibbs—Well, I did, but I met a young woman who had decided to remain single also, and finding such harmony of disposition in each other, we determined to get married.

Ladies and Cricket. Ladies' cricket matches were not uncommon in the eighteenth century, and were apparently highly popular. In 1747 a game between the Maids of Charlton and the Maids of Singleton in the artillery ground, London, attracted "the greatest number of spectators ever seen at any public diversion." In fact, the finish of the game had to be postponed owing to the breaking in of "the company" whereby "some of the players were very much frightened." In 1768, too, at Uppham, in Wilts, eleven married played eleven single women for a plum cake and a barrel of ale. The cake and ale went to those who lacked husbands.—London Chronicle.

A Poor Stick. "I'll never go joy riding with that Johnny again," declared the first chorus girl.

"Why not?" inquired the other half of the sketch.

"He wouldn't smash his auto, badly as I need advertising."

Bureau Drawers. To make bureau drawers slide easily rub the parts that catch with common yellow soap.

Her Feet. "Cinderella was about the only person, taking into account the episode of the slipper, who achieved the impossible."

"In what way?"

"She did the right thing and put her foot in it at the same time."

She'll Learn. Clarence—"What do you think? Helen had the nerve to tell me that she believes about half of what I tell her." Maud—"Oh! well, she's still young and credulous."

How They Live. "When I get to New York, I wonder how all those teeming millions manage to grab out a living."

"Say on."

"But when I leave, with a depleted bank roll, the mystery is not so great as it was."

Twin Mysteries. Among the mysteries unaccountable are why a man wants to wear side whiskers and why a city wants to hold a world's fair.—St. Paul Dispatch.

BEAUTIFUL PRINCESS PATRICIA IS ENGAGED

Princess Patricia is engaged. At least that is what the Londoners are saying. They have said it before, many times. But this time "they say" it is so. And this time there is good reason to believe that they are right. It is quite probable that an official announcement will soon be made of the betrothal, the betrothal that will be a real one. The wedding will probably take place the early part of next year.

Prince Adolph Friedrich, heir to the duchy of Mecklenburg-Strelitz, is the lucky man.

Grand Duchess Augusta of Mecklenburg-Strelitz, sister of the late Duchess of Teck, and consequently an aunt of Queen Mary, is said to be responsible for the royal match, for there are matchmakers in royalty as well as among ordinary non-titled folk.

At present the direct line of the grand ducal family of Mecklenburg-Strelitz is in danger of dying out. That is one reason why Grand Duchess Augusta is so anxious for the young people to marry. If this match succeeds she has reason to be quite proud of her ability as a real matchmaker. She will be second to none. She will have succeeded where the late King Edward, as well as many other people of title, have failed.

"Marrying Patricia" has been one of the problems of royal English society for several years. It has been a difficult problem. Princess Patricia is beautiful. She always has been. Marrying her to a suitable prince was not difficult because of her lack of charm or beauty, for she is one of the most attractive and popular of the royal family. There were suitors from far and near. But Patricia herself was the problem. She smiled on them or at them. She coquetted and flirted. She led them to believe that perhaps she really cared. But in the end, when the fatal question was asked, Princess Patricia laughed, and the answer was always "No."

Princess Patricia is twenty-seven years old, old enough for even a royal prince to consider matrimony seriously. Years ago, when royally married at sixteen, she would have been considered an old maid. Today she is "just the right age" for matrimony.

She was born on March 17, 1886. St. Patrick's day and her own name, Patricia, evoked the name "Pat," and as "Princess Pat" she is known to her dearest friends and to the people who are most interested in her.

Princess Patricia's whole name is Princess Victoria Patricia Helen Elizabeth of Connaught. She is the daughter of the Duke of Connaught, governor general of Canada, the only brother of the late King Edward.

Princess "Pat" in spite of her title, was brought up simply at Baginbun. The Duchess of Connaught had her own ideas as to how a princess should be trained and educated. She brought up her two daughters according to those ideas, with the result that Patricia, Margaret and Patricia, two princesses, Margaret and Patricia, were considered the most beautiful girls in England when they were first formally presented at court.

Princess Patricia is engaged. At least that is what the Londoners are saying. They have said it before, many times. But this time "they say" it is so. And this time there is good reason to believe that they are right. It is quite probable that an official announcement will soon be made of the betrothal, the betrothal that will be a real one. The wedding will probably take place the early part of next year.

Prince Adolph Friedrich, heir to the duchy of Mecklenburg-Strelitz, is the lucky man.

Grand Duchess Augusta of Mecklenburg-Strelitz, sister of the late Duchess of Teck, and consequently an aunt of Queen Mary, is said to be responsible for the royal match, for there are matchmakers in royalty as well as among ordinary non-titled folk.

At present the direct line of the grand ducal family of Mecklenburg-Strelitz is in danger of dying out. That is one reason why Grand Duchess Augusta is so anxious for the young people to marry. If this match succeeds she has reason to be quite proud of her ability as a real matchmaker. She will be second to none. She will have succeeded where the late King Edward, as well as many other people of title, have failed.

"Marrying Patricia" has been one of the problems of royal English society

for several years. It has been a difficult problem. Princess Patricia is beautiful. She always has been. Marrying her to a suitable prince was not difficult because of her lack of charm or beauty, for she is one of the most attractive and popular of the royal family. There were suitors from far and near. But Patricia herself was the problem. She smiled on them or at them. She coquetted and flirted. She led them to believe that perhaps she really cared. But in the end, when the fatal question was asked, Princess Patricia laughed, and the answer was always "No."

Princess Patricia is twenty-seven years old, old enough for even a royal prince to consider matrimony seriously. Years ago, when royally married at sixteen, she would have been considered an old maid. Today she is "just the right age" for matrimony.

She was born on March 17, 1886. St. Patrick's day and her own name, Patricia, evoked the name "Pat," and as "Princess Pat" she is known to her dearest friends and to the people who are most interested in her.

Princess Patricia's whole name is Princess Victoria Patricia Helen Elizabeth of Connaught. She is the daughter of the Duke of Connaught, governor general of Canada, the only brother of the late King Edward.

Princess "Pat" in spite of her title, was brought up simply at Baginbun. The Duchess of Connaught had her own ideas as to how a princess should be trained and educated. She brought up her two daughters according to those ideas, with the result that Patricia, Margaret and Patricia, two princesses, Margaret and Patricia, were considered the most beautiful girls in England when they were first formally presented at court.

Princess Patricia is engaged. At least that is what the Londoners are saying. They have said it before, many times. But this time "they say" it is so. And this time there is good reason to believe that they are right. It is quite probable that an official announcement will soon be made of the betrothal, the betrothal that will be a real one. The wedding will probably take place the early part of next year.

Prince Adolph Friedrich, heir to the duchy of Mecklenburg-Strelitz, is the lucky man.

Grand Duchess Augusta of Mecklenburg-Strelitz, sister of the late Duchess of Teck, and consequently an aunt of Queen Mary, is said to be responsible for the royal match, for there are matchmakers in royalty as well as among ordinary non-titled folk.

At present the direct line of the grand ducal family of Mecklenburg-Strelitz is in danger of dying out. That is one reason why Grand Duchess Augusta is so anxious for the young people to marry. If this match succeeds she has reason to be quite proud of her ability as a real matchmaker. She will be second to none. She will have succeeded where the late King Edward, as well as many other people of title, have failed.

"Marrying Patricia" has been one of the problems of royal English society

for several years. It has been a difficult problem. Princess Patricia is beautiful. She always has been. Marrying her to a suitable prince was not difficult because of her lack of charm or beauty, for she is one of the most attractive and popular of the royal family. There were suitors from far and near. But Patricia herself was the problem. She smiled on them or at them. She coquetted and flirted. She led them to believe that perhaps she really cared. But in the end, when the fatal question was asked, Princess Patricia laughed, and the answer was always "No."

Princess Patricia is twenty-seven years old, old enough for even a royal prince to consider matrimony seriously. Years ago, when royally married at sixteen, she would have been considered an old maid. Today she is "just the right age" for matrimony.

She was born on March 17, 1886. St. Patrick's day and her own name, Patricia, evoked the name "Pat," and as "Princess Pat" she is known to her dearest friends and to the people who are most interested in her.

Princess Patricia's whole name is Princess Victoria Patricia Helen Elizabeth of Connaught. She is the daughter of the Duke of Connaught, governor general of Canada, the only brother of the late King Edward.

Princess "Pat" in spite of her title, was brought up simply at Baginbun. The Duchess of Connaught had her own ideas as to how a princess should be trained and educated. She brought up her two daughters according to those ideas, with the result that Patricia, Margaret and Patricia, two princesses, Margaret and Patricia, were considered the most beautiful girls in England when they were first formally presented at court.

Princess Patricia is engaged. At least that is what the Londoners are saying. They have said it before, many times. But this time "they say" it is so. And this time there is good reason to believe that they are right. It is quite probable that an official announcement will soon be made of the betrothal, the betrothal that will be a real one. The wedding will probably take place the early part of next year.

Prince Adolph Friedrich, heir to the duchy of Mecklenburg-Strelitz, is the lucky man.

Grand Duchess Augusta of Mecklenburg-Strelitz, sister of the late Duchess of Teck, and consequently an aunt of Queen Mary, is said to be responsible for the royal match, for there are matchmakers in royalty as well as among ordinary non-titled folk.

At present the direct line of the grand ducal family of Mecklenburg-Strelitz is in danger of dying out. That is one reason why Grand Duchess Augusta is so anxious for the young people to marry. If this match succeeds she has reason to be quite proud of her ability as a real matchmaker. She will be second to none. She will have succeeded where the late King Edward, as well as many other people of title, have failed.

"Marrying Patricia" has been one of the problems of royal English society

for several years. It has been a difficult problem. Princess Patricia is beautiful. She always has been. Marrying her to a suitable prince was not difficult because of her lack of charm or beauty, for she is one of the most attractive and popular of the royal family. There were suitors from far and near. But Patricia herself was the problem. She smiled on them or at them. She coquetted and flirted. She led them to believe that perhaps she really cared. But in the end, when the fatal question was asked, Princess Patricia laughed, and the answer was always "No."

Princess Patricia is twenty-seven years old, old enough for even a royal prince to consider matrimony seriously. Years ago, when royally married at sixteen, she would have been considered an old maid. Today she is "just the right age" for matrimony.

She was born on March 17, 1886. St. Patrick's day and her own name, Patricia, evoked the name "Pat," and as "Princess Pat" she is known to her dearest friends and to the people who are most interested in her.

Princess Patricia's whole name is Princess Victoria Patricia Helen Elizabeth of Connaught. She is the daughter of the Duke of Connaught, governor general of Canada, the only brother of the late King Edward.

Princess "Pat" in spite of her title, was brought up simply at Baginbun. The Duchess of Connaught had her own ideas as to how a princess should be trained and educated. She brought up her two daughters according to those ideas, with the result that Patricia, Margaret and Patricia, two princesses, Margaret and Patricia, were considered the most beautiful girls in England when they were first formally presented at court.

Princess Patricia is engaged. At least that is what the Londoners are saying. They have said it before, many times. But this time "they say" it is so. And this time there is good reason to believe that they are right. It is quite probable that an official announcement will soon be made of the betrothal, the betrothal that will be a real one. The wedding will probably take place the early part of next year.

Prince Adolph Friedrich, heir to the duchy of Mecklenburg-Strelitz, is the lucky man.

Grand Duchess Augusta of Mecklenburg-Strelitz, sister of the late Duchess of Teck, and consequently an aunt of Queen Mary, is said to be responsible for the royal match, for there are matchmakers in royalty as well as among ordinary non-titled folk.

At present the direct line of the grand ducal family of Mecklenburg-Strelitz is in danger of dying out. That is one reason why Grand Duchess Augusta is so anxious for the young people to marry. If this match succeeds she has reason to be quite proud of her ability as a real matchmaker. She will be second to none. She will have succeeded where the late King Edward, as well as many other people of title, have failed.

"Marrying Patricia" has been one of the problems of royal English society

for several years. It has been a difficult problem. Princess Patricia is beautiful. She always has been. Marrying her to a suitable prince was not difficult because of her lack of charm or beauty, for she is one of the most attractive and popular of the royal family. There were suitors from far and near. But Patricia herself was the problem. She smiled on them or at them. She coquetted and flirted. She led them to believe that perhaps she really cared. But in the end, when the fatal question was asked, Princess Patricia laughed, and the answer was always "No."

Princess Patricia is twenty-seven years old, old enough for even a royal prince to consider matrimony seriously. Years ago, when royally married at sixteen, she would have been considered an old maid. Today she is "just the right age" for matrimony.

She was born on March 17, 1886. St. Patrick's day and her own name, Patricia, evoked the name "Pat," and as "Princess Pat" she is known to her dearest friends and to the people who are most interested in her.

Princess Patricia's whole name is Princess Victoria Patricia Helen Elizabeth of Connaught. She is the daughter of the Duke of Connaught, governor general of Canada, the only brother of the late King Edward.

Princess "Pat" in spite of her title, was brought up simply at Baginbun. The Duchess of Connaught had her own ideas as to how a princess should be trained and educated. She brought up her two daughters according to those ideas, with the result that Patricia, Margaret and Patricia, two princesses, Margaret and Patricia, were considered the most beautiful girls in England when they were first formally presented at court.

Princess Patricia is engaged. At least that is what the Londoners are saying. They have said it before, many times. But this time "they say" it is so. And this time there is good reason to believe that they are right. It is quite probable that an official announcement will soon be made of the betrothal, the betrothal that will be a real one. The wedding will probably take place the early part of next year.

Prince Adolph Friedrich, heir to the duchy of Mecklenburg-Strelitz, is the lucky man.

Grand Duchess Augusta of Mecklenburg-Strelitz, sister of the late Duchess of Teck, and consequently an aunt of Queen Mary, is said to be responsible for the royal match, for there are matchmakers in royalty as well as among ordinary non-titled folk.

At present the direct line of the grand ducal family of Mecklenburg-Strelitz is in danger of dying out. That is one reason why Grand Duchess Augusta is so anxious for the young people to marry. If this match succeeds she has reason to be quite proud of her ability as a real matchmaker. She will be second to none. She will have succeeded where the late King Edward, as well as many other people of title, have failed.

"Marrying Patricia" has been one of the problems of royal English society

for several years. It has been a difficult problem. Princess Patricia is beautiful. She always has been. Marrying her to a suitable prince was not difficult because of her lack of charm or beauty, for she is one of the most attractive and popular of the royal family. There were suitors from far and near. But Patricia herself was the problem. She smiled on them or at them. She coquetted and flirted. She led them to believe that perhaps she really cared. But in the end, when the fatal question was asked, Princess Patricia laughed, and the answer was always "No."

Princess Patricia is twenty-seven years old, old enough for even a royal prince to consider matrimony seriously. Years ago, when royally married at sixteen, she would have been considered an old maid. Today she is "just the right age" for matrimony.

She was born on March 17, 1886. St. Patrick's day and her own name, Patricia, evoked the name "Pat," and as "Princess Pat" she is known to her dearest friends and to the people who are most interested in her.

Princess Patricia's whole name is Princess Victoria Patricia Helen Elizabeth of Connaught. She is the daughter of the Duke of Connaught, governor general of Canada, the only brother of the late King Edward.

Princess "Pat" in spite of her title, was brought up simply at Baginbun. The Duchess of Connaught had her own ideas as to how a princess should be trained and educated. She brought up her two daughters according to those ideas, with the result that Patricia, Margaret and Patricia, two princesses, Margaret and Patricia, were considered the most beautiful girls in England when they were first formally presented at court.

Princess Patricia is engaged. At least that is what the Londoners are saying. They have said it before, many times. But this time "they say" it is so. And this time there is good reason to believe that they are right. It is quite probable that an official announcement will soon be made of the betrothal, the betrothal that will be a real one. The wedding will probably take place the early part of next year.

Prince Adolph Friedrich, heir to the duchy of Mecklenburg-Strelitz, is the lucky man.

Grand Duchess Augusta of Mecklenburg-Strelitz, sister of the late Duchess of Teck, and consequently an aunt of Queen Mary, is said to be responsible for the royal match, for there are matchmakers in royalty as well as among ordinary non-titled folk.

At present the direct line of the grand ducal family of Mecklenburg-Strelitz is in danger of dying out. That is one reason why Grand Duchess Augusta is so anxious for the young people to marry. If this match succeeds she has reason to be quite proud of her ability as a real matchmaker. She will be second to none. She will have succeeded where the late King Edward, as well as many other people of title, have failed.

"Marrying Patricia" has been one of the problems of royal English society

for several years. It has been a difficult problem. Princess Patricia is beautiful. She always has been. Marrying her to a suitable prince was not difficult because of her lack of charm or beauty, for she is one of the most attractive and popular of the royal family. There were suitors from far and near. But Patricia herself was the problem. She smiled on them or at them. She coquetted and flirted. She led them to believe that perhaps she really cared. But in the end, when the fatal question was asked, Princess Patricia laughed, and the answer was always "No."

Princess Patricia is twenty-seven years old, old enough for even a royal prince to consider matrimony seriously. Years ago, when royally married at sixteen, she would have been considered an old maid. Today she is "just the right age" for matrimony.

She was born on March 17, 1886. St. Patrick's day and her own name, Patricia, evoked the name "Pat," and as "Princess Pat" she is known to her dearest friends and to the people who are most interested in her.

Princess Patricia's whole name is Princess Victoria Patricia Helen Elizabeth of Connaught. She is the daughter of the Duke of Connaught, governor general of Canada, the only brother of the late King Edward.

Princess "Pat" in spite of her title, was brought up simply at Baginbun. The Duchess of Connaught had her own ideas as to how a princess should be trained and educated. She brought up her two daughters according to those ideas, with the result that Patricia, Margaret and Patricia, two princesses, Margaret and Patricia, were considered the most beautiful girls in England when they were first formally presented at court.

Princess Patricia is engaged. At least that is what the Londoners are saying. They have said it before, many times. But this time "they say" it is so. And this time there is good reason to believe that they are right. It is quite probable that an official announcement will soon be made of the betrothal, the betrothal that will be a real one. The wedding will probably take place the early part of next year.

Prince Adolph Friedrich, heir to the duchy of Mecklenburg-Strelitz, is the lucky man.

Grand Duchess Augusta of Mecklenburg-Strelitz, sister of the late Duchess of Teck, and consequently an aunt of Queen Mary, is said to be responsible for the royal match, for there are matchmakers in royalty as well as among ordinary non-titled folk.

At present the direct line of the grand ducal family of Mecklenburg-Strelitz is in danger of dying out. That is one reason why Grand Duchess Augusta is so anxious for the young people to marry. If this match succeeds she has reason to be quite proud of her ability as a real matchmaker. She will be second to none. She will have succeeded where the late King Edward, as well as many other people of title, have failed.

"Marrying Patricia" has been one of the problems of royal English society

for several years. It has been a difficult problem. Princess Patricia is beautiful. She always has been. Marrying her to a suitable prince was not difficult because of her lack of charm or beauty, for she is one of the most attractive and popular of the royal family. There were suitors from far and near. But Patricia herself was the problem. She smiled on them or at them. She coquetted and flirted. She led them to believe that perhaps she really cared. But in the end, when the fatal question was asked, Princess Patricia laughed, and the answer was always "No."

BEAUTIFUL PRINCESS PATRICIA IS ENGAGED

Princess Patricia is engaged. At least that is what the Londoners are saying. They have said it before, many times. But this time "they say" it is so. And this time there is good reason to believe that they are right. It is quite probable that an official announcement will soon be made of the betrothal, the betrothal that will be a real one. The wedding will probably take place the early part of next year.

Prince Adolph Friedrich, heir to the duchy of Mecklenburg-Strelitz, is the lucky man.

Grand Duchess Augusta of Mecklenburg-Strelitz, sister of the late Duchess of Teck, and consequently an aunt of Queen Mary, is said to be responsible for the royal match, for there are matchmakers in royalty as well as among ordinary non-titled folk.

At present the direct line of the grand ducal family of Mecklenburg-Strelitz is in danger of dying out. That is one reason why Grand Duchess Augusta is so anxious for the young people to marry. If this match succeeds she has reason to be quite proud of her ability as a real matchmaker. She will be second to none. She will have succeeded where the late King Edward, as well as many other people of title, have failed.

"Marrying Patricia" has been one of the problems of royal English society

for several years. It has been a difficult problem. Princess Patricia is beautiful. She always has been. Marrying her to a suitable prince was not difficult because of her lack of charm or beauty, for she is one of the most attractive and popular of the royal family. There were suitors from far and near. But Patricia herself was the problem. She smiled on them or at them. She coquetted and flirted. She led them to believe that perhaps she really cared. But in the end, when the fatal question was asked, Princess Patricia laughed, and the answer was always "No."

Princess Patricia is twenty-seven years old, old enough for even a royal prince to consider matrimony seriously. Years ago, when royally married at sixteen, she would have been considered an old maid. Today she is "just the right age" for matrimony.

She was born on March 17, 1886. St. Patrick's day and her own name, Patricia, evoked the name "Pat," and as "Princess Pat" she is known to her dearest friends and to the people who are most interested in her.

Princess Patricia's whole name is Princess Victoria Patricia Helen Elizabeth of Connaught. She is the daughter of the Duke of Connaught, governor general of Canada, the only brother of the late King Edward.

Princess "Pat" in spite of her title, was brought up simply at Baginbun. The Duchess of Connaught had her own ideas as to how a princess should be trained and educated. She brought up her two daughters according to those ideas, with the result that Patricia, Margaret and Patricia, two princesses, Margaret and Patricia, were considered the most beautiful girls in England when they were first formally presented at court.

Princess Patricia is engaged. At least that is what the Londoners are saying. They have said it before, many times. But this time "they say" it is so. And this time there is good reason to believe that they are right. It is quite probable that an official announcement will soon be made of the betrothal, the betrothal that will be a real one. The wedding will probably take place the early part of next year.

Prince Adolph Friedrich, heir to the duchy of Mecklenburg-Strelitz, is the lucky man.

Grand Duchess Augusta of Mecklenburg-Strelitz, sister of the late Duchess of Teck, and consequently an aunt of Queen Mary, is said to be responsible for the royal match, for there are matchmakers in royalty as well as among ordinary non-titled folk.

At present the direct line of the grand ducal family of Mecklenburg-Strelitz is in danger of dying out. That is one reason why Grand Duchess Augusta is so anxious for the young people to marry. If this match succeeds she has reason to be quite proud of her ability as a real matchmaker. She will be second to none. She will have succeeded where the late King Edward, as well as many other people of title, have failed.

"Marrying Patricia" has been one of the problems of royal English society

for several years. It has been a difficult problem. Princess Patricia is beautiful. She always has been. Marrying her to a suitable prince was not difficult because of her lack of charm or beauty, for she is one of the most attractive and popular of the royal family. There were suitors from far and near. But Patricia herself was the problem. She smiled on them or at them. She coquetted and flirted. She led them to believe that perhaps she really cared. But in the end, when the fatal question was asked, Princess Patricia laughed, and the answer was always "No."

Princess Patricia is twenty-seven years old, old enough for even a royal prince to consider matrimony seriously. Years ago, when royally married at sixteen, she would have been considered an old maid. Today she is "just the right age" for matrimony.

She was born on March 17, 1886. St. Patrick's day and her own name, Patricia, evoked the name "Pat," and as "Princess Pat" she is known to her dearest friends and to the people who are most interested in her.

Princess Patricia's whole name is Princess Victoria Patricia Helen Elizabeth of Connaught. She is the daughter of the Duke of Connaught, governor general of Canada, the only brother of the late King Edward.

Princess "Pat" in spite of her title, was brought up simply at Baginbun. The Duchess of Connaught had her own ideas as to how a princess should be trained and educated. She brought up her two daughters according to those ideas, with the result that Patricia, Margaret and Patricia, two princesses, Margaret and Patricia, were considered the most beautiful girls in England when they were first formally presented at court.

Princess Patricia is engaged. At least that is what the Londoners are saying. They have said it before, many times. But this time "they say" it is so. And this time there is good reason to believe that they are right. It is quite probable that an official announcement will soon be made of the betrothal, the betrothal that will be a real one. The wedding will probably take place the early part of next year.

Prince Adolph Friedrich, heir to the duchy of Mecklenburg-Strelitz, is the lucky man.

Grand Duchess Augusta of Mecklenburg-Strelitz, sister of the late Duchess of Teck, and consequently an aunt of Queen Mary, is said to be responsible for the royal match, for there are matchmakers in royalty as well as among ordinary non-titled folk.

AFRO-AMERICAN CULLINGS

The failure of the negro public schools to accomplish their mission is evident in the examination of applicants for admission to Prairie View—unsuccessful applicants. For example, the writer asked an applicant what a noun was. He could not answer and yet he had "finished" the sixth grade in a certain negro public school. There are many such cases, enough to reveal the inadequacy of the negro public schools in Texas. Texas spends more for negro education than any state in the Union and pays its negro teachers the best salaries.

But there is a crying need of better teaching. The trouble is not so much the ignorance of the negro teacher and their indifference to the acquiring of good method in the schoolroom, and above all the lack of industry and application on the part of both teachers and pupils. The county superintendents naturally visit the white schools most. Yet the negro school needs supervision the most. Perhaps the county superintendent could appoint a faithful, honest and competent negro teacher, who would not traduce or underestimate her fellow teachers, who would aid in reforming the negro schools.

The writer believes that if there were a more general interest taken in the negro schools by the school authorities and the white leaders, ministers, merchants and lawyers and doctors, there would be better negro schools. But too often no one ever enters a negro school except the pupils and their teachers. No one seems interested and the teacher is left to her own devices and her chief occupation gets to be, in some instances, the mere "marking time" and drawing her monthly meager. Public servants need to be held to a strict personal accountability.

Swiss national exposition will be held in Bern in 1914.

"Uncle Irving" is dead at the age of 104, relates the Cincinnati Enquirer. The industrious ex-slave, whose picturesque figure was familiar to patrons of the Sixth street market, where he was employed, celebrated his one hundred and fourth birthday last Monday by taking a holiday, and on Friday he breathed his last. His funeral will be held tomorrow afternoon in the Calvary Baptist church. The aged darky was of that vanishing school, the ante-bellum negro, whose native winsomeness and wholesome simplicity endears him to all, especially southerners. "I lives right with Gaud—that's all." This was "Uncle Irving's" invariable reply when asked for his creed and formula for his long life and contentment. He had clear memories of the days when the eighteenth century was young. Born in Warsaw, Ky., in 1808, he lived in slavery until his fiftieth year, when freed by President Lincoln's emancipation proclamation. The half century of slavery was a span of pleasant years for him, he often said. He always spoke gratefully of his first master, Thomas Brown of Warsaw, who bought him when he was five years old for $500. He would also speak proudly of the fact that he one time brought $1,000 on the block. For years "Uncle" Irving Brown had been a zealous member of the Baptist church. He often represented his church at conferences and meetings in other cities. Three times he was chosen a delegate to Yellow Springs. He was a trustee of the church until the day of his death.

St. Martin's college, a Protestant Episcopal school for colored boys, which has been occupying a building at 173 Catharine street, Philadelphia, is endeavoring to find a location in the country where it may reopen as a farm school. Several desirable farms within easy access of the city have been investigated by prominent churchmen and laymen of the city. Because of insufficient funds to finance this proposition, however, no specific negotiations toward the proposed change have as yet been completed.

An attempt has been made to interest the wealthy laity in the city in order to receive their moral and financial support in the new movement. Active solicitation and advertisement of the scheme have not been resorted to, for it is believed that when a suitable fund has been chosen the necessary funds will be forthcoming.

Recently a wealthy layman of Glen Loch has intimated that he might be able to provide the requisite means and farm to establish the enterprise in lower Chester county. Other possible sites are being withheld, pending the negotiations for the property near Glen Loch.

Father will wander around and accumulate a mixed cargo of beer, booze, train oil, garlic, onions and limburger, and will happen to remember that he hasn't loved mother up for a week. Then he will go home and get mad because mother doesn't want to kiss him.

The old-fashioned girl who used to have to carry the washup up to her room when she wanted to take a bath had rosier cheeks than the girl who finds it work to turn on the faucets these days.

During a recent election in Sweden the interesting fact was revealed that only 3.6 per cent. of the women voters were disqualified for failure to pay taxes, as compared with 24.6 per cent. of the men.

After meeting a nice young man for the first time a girl always lays awake for an hour wondering if she made an impression.

In 1912 France imported 224,544,900 gallons of wine and exported 50,002,400 gallons.

Booker T. Washington, president of the National Negro Business league, delivered the principal address at Philadelphia. He spoke in part as follows: "This, the fourteenth meeting of the National Negro Business league, marks also the fiftieth anniversary of our freedom as a race. It is, then, both timely and fitting that this great gathering of the representatives of the backbone and progress of our race should be held in Philadelphia. It is most appropriate that this meeting should take place after 50 years of freedom in this city, where 137 years ago that immortal document, the Declaration of Independence, was issued. Whether the American negro was meant at that time to be included within the scope and meaning of the words of the Declaration of Independence has been a debatable question. However that may be decided, we mean as a race through this and similar organizations to make ourselves such a useful and potent part of American citizenship that in all the future no one will dare question our right to be included in any declaration that relates to any portion of the body politic.

"During the 50 years of our freedom we have been subjected to some pretty severe tests. First, there were not a few who raised the question as to whether or not the American negro could survive in a state of freedom. We answer that question by showing that when freedom came to us we were 4,000,000 in number; now we have grown to over 10,000,000 free American citizens."

An electrical meter has been in constant service in New York for 17 years and is still accurate.

The march of the Tenth cavalry, a negro regiment, from Ft. Ethán Allen, Vt., to the camp of instruction near Winchester, Va., has not attracted much attention, but it was a fine performance. The distance traversed was 705.90 miles and the route was through five states and over several mountain ranges. The start was made on June 16, and Winchester was reached on July 19. Four days the regiment rested, and the average daily ride was 23.53 miles. The weather was generally hot, the maximum temperature being about 100 degrees on several days. One horse died of colic; three, overcome by heat, were shot, and eight were left on pasture for their own good. The ages of the horses ranged from five years to twenty-three—it appears the veteran survived. One hundred and thirty-eight pack mules shared the march, and all trotted into the instruction camp in good condition.

No hospital returns have been published, but the troopers doubtless did better than the horses. Negro soldiers are hardy and merry on the march, making light of the hardship and discomfort. The Tenth is a crack regiment, as every one of its white officers will testify, and it had been stationed for a long time in a salubrious country. Perhaps, remarks the New York Sun, there are white regiments in the army that could have ridden from Vermont to Virginia in quicker time than the Tenth, but none could have finished the march in better temper and under better discipline.

The Chinese have a saying that an unkind word dropped from the tongue cannot be brought back again by a coach and six horses.

For testing the germinating qualities of seeds quickly an Iowa man has patented a cabinet something like an incubator, warm moisture rising through the walls and dropping on the seed trays.

Seventeen-year-old Dora Gray of Salem, Ore., is a page or pages in the state senate, and it is the first time in the history of the Oregon legislature a girl has held such a position.

A New Yorker has invented a motor truck with four rear wheels instead of two, so mounted on short axles that the load is equally distributed among all of them regardless of the roughness of a road.

Biography is useless which is not true. The weaknesses of character must be preserved however insignificant or humbling; they are the errata of genius and clear up the text.

In these modern days, you cannot hide the light of the city that is set by a waterfall, nor stop the growth of the one with a water-trot.

Little Willie overheard his father speaking of some one who had been weighed in the balance and found wanting. "I guess maybe he forgot to drop a penny in the slot," suggested Willie.

There are 50 seats on a street car, but the man who hasn't had a bath since the Johnstown flood always sits down right beside YOU.

The greatest recorded depth of the Antarctic ocean is 25,200 feet, and its area 7,500,000 square miles.

Success depends largely upon your ability to go without something to eat until you reach the end of the rainbow.

One never learns to really appreciate his home town until he is compelled to live elsewhere.

And many a man's conservatism is due to the fact that he hasn't the money.

Europe has an area of 8,890,000 square miles.

ALL WORTHY A TRIAL

DISHES POPULAR IN MEXICO MAY BE APPRECIATED HERE.

Highly Flavored But Tasty Are All These Recipes—Delicious Chile Sauce—Turkey Dressing Our Southern Neighbors Like.

Chile Sauce.—Take a half peck of ripe tomatoes, three green peppers, three large onions, five cups of brown sugar, one teaspoonful each of ground allspice, cloves and cinnamon. Chop the onions and peppers together, put in a preserving kettle with two and a half cups of vinegar and boil for an hour and a half, salt to taste. Bottle. Red Chile Sauce (Chile Colorado).—Take six large ripe tomatoes, three tablespoonfuls of brown sugar, one spoon each of ground ginger and cinnamon; half a spoon of ground cloves; one cup of vinegar; half a spoon of ground mustard; one pod of dry red pepper; two large white onions, a bit of clove or garlic. Cook until it thickens. Bottle and it will keep indefinitely.

Chicken With Almond Sauce.—Boil a chicken, either whole or cut in pieces; an onion, a carrot, a bit of garlic, a piece of ham, some thyme, sweet marjoram and a half cup of vinegar, the chicken when cooked to be served with the following sauce: Grind four ounces of almonds, heat a little lard with a clove of garlic well mashed, then dissolve a little flour in some of the stock and stir, to prevent browning too much. Add a piece of butter and a ladle full of stock. Incorporate the almonds, the ham and parsley, chopped fine; add salt, pepper and a dash of nutmeg. Chop two hard boiled eggs, fine chopped, put in chicken and boil. This is a dish fit for a king. It is said that it was the one Spanish dish to which the Aztecs took kindly.

Turkey Dressing.—Until within the last few years, after the introduction of the American cooking stove, Mexicans rarely baked fowls, as they prefer their fowls and meats boiled. The following recipe for cooking and dressing turkeys is followed by the housekeepers on all the haciendas (plantations) and not a few city cooks. It is a variation from the baked turkey of the United States. Bake the turkey or fowl, spread with lard and pepper, put on in a large pot and boil. When nearly done take out and stuff with this dressing: Five small green onions, five apples that have been boiled and mashed through a colander, four ounces of ham cut into small bits, pepper and salt. Fry this all together until done, stuff the turkey, put back in pot and boil until done. Remove from pot; have ready a large, deep vessel in which there is boiling lard. Put in the turkey, and turn frequently so that it may be browned on all sides.

Stuffed Beets. Boil new beets of even size until tender. Set aside for several hours, or overnight, covered with vinegar. When ready to serve rub to the skin, scoop out the center of each to form a cup and arrange the cups on lettuce leaves. For each five cups chop fine a cucumber. Make a French dressing of two tablespoonfuls of oil, a teaspoon of vinegar (scant), one-fourth of a teaspoonful each of paprika and salt. Stir the dressing into the cucumber and fill the beets with mixture. Take the beet removed to form cups, cut slices, forming stars or any shape, and decorate the top of each cup.

Chopped radish, cress, olives or celery are all excellent for a filling.

Mix and sift two cups of pastry flour, four teaspoonfuls baking powder, and one-half teaspoon salt. Work in two tablespoonfuls butter, then add gradually three-fourth cup of milk. Roll onto floured board, roll to one-third inch thickness and shape with small, round cutter, first dipped in flour. On half the pieces place a date from which the stone has been removed, brush round edges with melted butter, cover with remaining pieces, press edges firmly together, place in buttered pan and bake in a hot oven from 12 to 15 minutes.

Escalloped Oysters. This amount is for two. Use one pint of oysters. Roll into fine crumbs a dozen and a half of crackers. Take a quart (enameled or crockery) dish, butter it well, then put in a layer of the cracker crumbs to cover the bottom, then cover with a layer of oysters and bits of butter and a little shake of pepper and salt, and so on alternately, until oysters are used, having last layer of oysters. Then pour over the top the oyster liquor and a cup of milk with an egg beaten up in it. Put in oven and bake about three-quarters of an hour. Delicious.

Parsley Jelly. This is a very economical jelly and delicious. Take any quantity of parsley, cover with water and boil about half an hour. Then run through the jelly bag, measure and allow one cup of sugar to one cup of juice, add two or three roses geranium leaves, which give a fine flavor. Now boil all together until it becomes as thick as honey.

Lemon Biscuit. One cup lard, three cups white sugar, one pint sweet milk, two eggs, pinch of salt, five cents' worth of carbonate of ammonia, five cents' worth of oil of lemon. Dissolve ammonia in milk, mix stiff enough to handle easily, roll one-fourth inch thick. Pick with fork and have oven hot. Get the ammonia and lemon at the drugists.

Jam Roll. Two eggs, their weight in flour and butter and not quite in powdered sugar, two teaspoonfuls of baking powder. Rub butter; mix ingredients, lastly eggs. Bake ten minutes, spread on buttered paper, then spread jam and roll.

When Beating Eggs. When beating the whites of eggs always add a pinch of cream of tartar when they are about half beaten. This is excellent, as it keeps the eggs from falling before being used.

SPORTS

FOOTBALL

Football is going to be introduced into Iowa prison.

University of Texas has a player named Slaughter.

Chicago expects Stagg's team to win the conference title this year.

Shaw, Llewellyn and Whitney form a sturdy trio in the Dartmouth back field.

Brown has only five veterans, Captain Henry, Ben, Mitchell, Casey and Andrews.

Walter Eckersall says the new rules are better than any others in the history of football.

Germaine, a former Carlisle star, has been engaged to coach the line candidates at Villanova.

Eddie Vanderboom, former Wisconsin halfback, is assisting Head Coach Juneau with his alma mater this year.

Penn's strength this year is said to be in the line instead of the back field, as has been the case the last few years.

John McGovern of Minnesota, former All-American quarterback, has been engaged to coach McAllester college in St. Paul.

Boland, whose name appears from time to time in reports of the Princeton practice, is the former Mercersburg and Lafayette star.

Jack Bennett, Penn's best end in the early '90s, says that the present Quaker squad looks better to him than in any recent years.

Barrett, who is starting at Cornell, is a brother of the Barrett who played on Penn State several years ago. The brothers hall from Cleveland.

Law is proving a more consistent drop kicker than Hobe Baker at Princeton, but the latter can get more distance into his attempts.

Howard Jones, the new head coach of Yale, says if men on his eleven get hard knocks he does not intend that they should expect apologies.

Harry H. Varner, an alumnus, has been chosen assistant coach at the University of Virginia, and it is said he is in line to be head coach next year.

While falling on the ball, Jim Melick, star center of Swarthmore, landed on his elbow in an odd position and his shoulder was thrown out of joint.

Coach Warner of Carlisle is tutoring three men—Captain Welch, Guyon and Crane—in the fine art of goal kicking with the hope of finding a successor to Jim Thorpe.

Hoar, who pitched for the Atlantic City Tri-State League club this season, is playing on the Gettysburg College eleven. Is that professionalism or not? Looks like another Jim Thorpe.

Hopper, Glass and Platt are expected by Buckness enthusiasts to prove real stars. Buckness also lays claim to one of the biggest men in the east in Danowski, a 225 pounder, who played tackle on last year's Buckness Academy team.

MISCELLANEOUS

Alva Richards, the American who won the high jump championship at the Olympic games has entered the Cornell agricultural college.

It is probable that Dr. E. Lasker, world's chess champion, and A. K. Rubinstein, Russian champion, will be soon matched to play for the title, as they recently posted forfeits.

In the London Athletic club sports at Stamford Bridge the Polytechnic team of eight men beat the London Athletic club team in the mile relay race in the record time of 2 minutes 59 seconds.

G. W. Galsick of Chicago won the English diving championship at Holburn Baths. The judges decided the contest on three dives from a low board, 5 feet 4 inches, and from a high board, 17 feet.

Bert Lewis of Auburn, Ill., carried off all the honors in the three-day trap shooting tournament at Long Beach. Against a stiff wind he broke 91 out of 100 targets, winning the Metropolitan handicap.

Sam Gordon, star oarsman of the Vesper Boat club of this city, matriculated in the freshman class at the University of Pennsylvania and will be a candidate for the freshmen crew next spring. In 1911 Gordon was the national singles sculling champion.

Jean Bounin, the wonderful French distance runner, who holds the world's record for an hour, has an original method of training for a runner. It includes physical culture, fencing, swimming and wrestling.

Barney Oldfield received credit for a world's record he made last April at Bakersfield, Cal., where he drove a car one mile on a circular dirt track in 46.25. This record had been thrown out by the contest board of the American Automobile association, but the decision was reversed.

CAPTAIN STORER.

Besides leading his team Captain Storer of Harvard will add much strength to the Crimson colors by his ability as a lineman in their struggles with the other eastern colleges for the coveted championship.

BASEBALL

Joe Tinker will be re-engaged to manage the Cincinnati Reds in 1914.

If the Athletics' infield is worth $100,000, wonder what the outfield, composed of Cobb, Jackson and Speaker, would be worth?

Dode Criss, famous as a home-run clouter three years ago when he was with the Browns, has been caught in the draft by the Yankees.

Manager Huggins of the Cardinals tried very much to land Billy Purcell of Montreal and King Cole of Columbia, but lost out in the drafts.

Second Baseman Curry of the Holyoke team in the Eastern association, was fined $200 for spiking a player by a judge in the superior court.

Bob Murphy, a Washington semipro player who has been signed by Manager Callahan of the Sox, will be given a trial next spring on the training trip.

WRESTLING

Doctor Roller of Chicago lost a handicap wrestling match to Floyd Domer at Clinton, Ia., failing to throw Domer twice in forty-five minutes. Roller secured one fall in :35.

AQUATIC

Sir Thomas Lipton has invited Edward Keep, banker, yachtman and present owner of the Seawanhaka, the fastest cabin sloop afloat, to sail on his challenger in the proposed cup race.

GOLF

Miss Myra Helmer of the Midlothian club, Chicago, is the new champion of the Women's Western Golf association, winning her match with Miss Ruth Christlind, Cleveland, in the finals of the open tournament at Memphis, 5 up and 3 to play.

TENNIS

Mrs. George W. Wightman of Boston, formerly Miss Hazel Hotchkiss of San Francisco, captured the women's national tennis championship in the challenge match on the Cricket club courts. Mrs. Wightman defeated the title holder, Miss Mary Brown of Los Angeles, in straight sets by scores of 6-0 and 6-3.

BILLIARDS

Calvin Demarest defeated Kujitr Tamura, champion billiardist of Japan, 800 to 288, in their 18.2 match.

Yamada, despite his staggering defeat by Hoppe last season, in which the Jap scored but 33 to the champion's 500, has by no means given up his ambition to wrest Hoppe's 18.1 title from him. He will challenge again.

PUGILISM

Jack ("Twin") Sullivan of Boston outpointed Tom McMahon in a ten-round bout at Erie, Pa.

Young Jack O'Brien shaded Tommy Hagar, the tough eastern welter, in a six-round battle at Philadelphia.

Matt Wells, the English light-weight pugilist, was given the verdict on points over Owen Moran, another British pugilist, in a 20-round contest.

HORSE RACING

Blondella, dam of the world's champion trotter Uhan, is dead at the Castleton stock farm. Blondella was the property of David M. Look, a millionaire horse breeder of New York.

Uhan goes right along smashing trotting records. The latest to fall before his sterling assault was the Illinois record for the mile smashed at Galesburg.

AFTER MANY YEARS INTO SEVEN CLASSES

Bit of Romance of the Kind That Does Something to Sweeten Life.

by JANET REESE.

Many times he had proposed, and just as many times she had refused him; but they remained good friends. It was just after one of the offers and refusals that, half jestingly, half seriously, they agreed to meet in a favorite, select roof garden ten years hence, so that each might know what the other had read, and the girl declared that they must put the finishing touch to a romantic situation by wearing red roses, and the youth laughingly assented. Even though he married, he was to keep the appointment. It would be but a meeting of one old friend with another, the girl said. She, of course, would be wedded to none—not with her glorious career to follow.

Five of the ten years passed with their freight of events. The girl and youth were now man and woman, and had married—each other. Fame had come to the woman—mystery to the man. The woman had found it necessary to dispense with the man or the career, and it was the man who had been told to go.

Five more years, alternately slipping and dragging away, brought the night of the engagement, made ten years before. The man had not heard of the woman for a long time—the last he had heard was that she was in the continent. She had written some books—he had heard of them, but had not read them. They had been the cause of his desolation.

With a low, mirthless laugh at his own foolishness, the man took the elevator to the roof garden—a red rose nestling in his buttonhole. The garden had changed but little, and with an odd, choking sensation, he sought and found the little corner which she had liked best, a corner screened by drooping palms, so that two could be alone with the stars and music.

He came with no thought that the woman would be there. No doubt she had forgotten the romantic agreement of ten years ago, but it pleased his fancy to keep the appointment, even though she would not know. Besides, by closing his eyes he could almost see her on the other side of the table, and imagination appeases the hunger of loneliness for awhile. He even ordered the dishes she liked best, remembering with a reminiscent smile her fondness for glaces.

For what seemed a long time he sat there. The dinner grew cold, and the waiter cleared it and a large tip away, with a curious look at the generous patron. The man's glare went out and the red rose in his buttonhole dropped dimly on the table. With a sigh he rested his arms upon the balcony rail and dropped his head upon them.

At the far end of the garden an orchestra was playing the Rosary, and perhaps it was his heart-rending cadence which made him dream of the girl as she had loved him. So alluringly near did she seem that he reached out his arms toward her; but the little table intervened, and she seemed to smile mockingly at his vain attempts. As he wearily dropped his arms the fragrance of roses seemed stifling him, so that he could hardly breathe. Yes, he knew now, it was the red roses she was wearing in the dream, for she had come nearer and was bending over him. In a maze, he saw in the dark depths of her eyes a word of love and longing.

After all, it was only a dream, he told himself bitterly, and surely the gods were cruel to torture him so. Strange, when he looked again she was still there! Well, when he tried to crush her in his arms he would find but thin air as one does in dreams. Yet ah, it was true! As he held her close he felt the beating of her heart, the clinging sweetness of her lips.

Only the waiter saw, and he merely smiled, for many strange things happen in a roof garden.—Buffalo Express.

NEWSBOY REPARTEE.

He who persists in wearing a straw hat in these perilous days for straw hats should never indulge in repartee in the street. A newsboy thrust his papers persistently under the nose of one of these straw-hatted young men, and the young man was finally moved to say in an impatient tone: "For the love of Mike, no, no. Get that, son?" The newsboy squinted for a moment and then remarked in a loud voice: "Sure I get it, cull; excuse me for not seeing the straw roof. You're saving your pennies up for a derby for Christmas. Papies!"

ROOSTER HEADS GUINEA FLOCK.

A rooster, as leader of a flock of guinea fowls, is a novelty on the farm of John W. Smith, near Burrsville. This unusual case of affinity is accounted for by the fact that guinea fowl never forget when grown their protector when chicks. This particular rooster manifested an interest in the brood when they were mere peepers, and now they stick to him to the exclusion of their own kind.—Milford (Del.) Dispatch to the Philadelphia Record.

MAN AND THE MOTOR.

"I suppose the driver of a car comes to have a sort of sympathetic understanding with the machine." "Yes," replied the man who had stopped to make repairs. "There is a mysterious relationship between us. For instance, whenever my car is broke I know that I am going to be."

ACCOUNTS TRANSFERABLE.

A couple of pickpockets had been following a rich-looking man for some minutes, when they saw him enter a lawyer's office. "What shall we do now?" asked one. "Wait for the lawyer," replied the other. "He'll have the swag and the other follow the empty pockets."

STRAW VOTING NOW.

What has become of the old-fashioned woman who used to put fresh straw under the parlor carpet every spring?—Chicago Daily News.

Expert Divides the Criminals of the World.

Suggestion Made That, as Different Motives Actuate Those Who Go Wrong, Punishment Should Be Graded Accordingly.

Shakespeare, in "As You Like It," enumerated the seven degrees of a lie, and now the international congress has made a similar classification of crimes, dividing them into seven distinct groups.

As Shakespeare makes his character, Touchstone, say, the degrees of a lie are: The retort courteous, the quip modest, the reply churlish, the reproof valiant, the countercheck quarrelsome, the lie with circumstance, and the lie direct.

Criminals fall into the following groups: Criminals of mood, criminals of emotion, criminals of opportunity, criminals of habit, criminals by profession, feeble-minded criminals and the criminal insane.

The criminal of mood or of occasion is the "good man gone wrong," such as the bank teller who borrows a little money for a private need, and being unable to pay it back, goes from small theft to bigger theft in the endeavor to square his books again.

The criminal of emotion is seen in the man who shoots his wife's lover or commits an assault in anger. The criminal of opportunity is he who has a twisted mental attitude, which, however, he controls until the appearance of what seems to be an easy opportunity, into which trap he readily falls.

The criminal of habit is usually a product of slow growth, frequently having been associated with criminal classes in his childhood. To him crime conveys no special shame.

The criminal by profession is characteristically the man who thinks he has perceived that a living can be more easily obtained by crime than by hard work. He is rarely guilty of an emotional crime.

The feeble-minded criminal is especially a product of a civilization now moving so rapidly that he cannot keep up with it and takes refuge in a vague resentment against society.

The insane criminal class embraces all those in which the mind centers are seriously disturbed.

It is suggested, and with much authority, that since each of these classes works from entirely different motives, and as the result of different characters, their punishments should not be on the same plane. Thus it does no good to imprison an emotional criminal, for he would not commit a crime again unless his emotions were stirred. Equally it is of no use to set free the habitual criminal by giving him a short sentence, for he cannot do other than continue what is his life habit.

Doctor Weygant urges that the judiciary be given no further powers than to pass a prison sentence of indeterminate term, leaving the question of freedom to be determined by the prison physician, much in the same manner as release from a lunatic asylum is arranged.

IF WE HAD NO LAW?

A contributor to the American Magazine writes in "The Interpreter's House" in part as follows: "I am right, I think, in affirming that you would live precisely the same life you are living now if there had never been such a thing as a statute existing anywhere in the world. You have no more personal relation to the statutes, they no more affect your conduct or guide your impulses than if you were living in the moon. If they were all wiped off the books tonight you would go on living just as good a life without them as you did with them. Does the law ever consciously influence you, or do you ever even think of it in a personal way, from one year's end to another?"

For you the law is practically non-existent. So it is for me, and so it is for Smith, Jones, Brown and everybody we are acquainted with all over the United States.

WILDERNESS PETS.

Owls make very amusing pets, but lose the "happy family" knack as they grow older. A friend of mine had one that he wrongly kept tied to a stake by a cord. It was of that "tiger of the north woods" species, the great horned owl, and while apparently quiet, blinking with those great yellow eyes in the manner that has made the country people believe they are sightless in bright light, he had a surprising way of "coming to life" whenever there was any particular reason for doing so. My friend had a favorite kitten that usually gave the owl a wide berth, but one day it strayed within the danger zone. The result was that the apparently somnolent mass of brown feathers suddenly galvanized itself, a powerful claw shot out, a piteous mew was heard, and then—finis felis domesticus!—Outing.

SENSIBLE VIEW.

"Marriage should be regarded sensibly," said a certain bishop at a wedding breakfast in Duluth. "Marriage," the bishop continued, "is no ecstatic dream of love. Of course, there is love in every successful marriage, plenty of love; but—" The bishop smiled. "—but," he resumed, "this love is kept most of the time in cold storage so as to make it keep."

CHECKING PROFANITY.

In an Edinburgh hotel the bar counter contains a slot, into which each visitor who is heard to swear must drop a penny, and a notice to that effect is displayed. These pennies are at intervals collected and sent to aid the funds of one of the local institutions.

NO INFALLIBILITY.

Dictionaries are like watches,

ROCK ISLAND, ILL. Died, Friday, October 17, at 5:30 a. m. at the home of her daughter in South Rock Island of dropsy, Mrs. Winnie Houston, aged 95 years. Short funeral services were held from the home Friday evening at 5 o'clock, conducted by Rev. Whitfield and Rev. Broyles, after which the body was shipped to her old home in Springfield, Ill. The funeral was held Sunday afternoon at Mt. Zion Baptist church, of which the deceased was a member, of for the last fifty years. Grandma Houston was a woman of deep religious convictions and her daily talks showed to the world that she was living to not only gain her reward but to also wear her crown. She leaves to mourn her loss three children, Mr. H. Houston and Mrs. Wm. Rice of Rock Island and Mr. Chas. Houston of Springfield, Ill., besides twenty-nine grandchildren and ten great grandchildren. Many beautiful floral tributes were sent from Rock Island, showing the high respect in which the deceased was held. We can only say in memory of Grandma Houston: There will be one vacant chair. We will linger to caress her as we breathe our evening prayer. Mrs. John Garland is improving from her recent illness. The Eastern Star ladies are planning for an entertainment the first Thursday in November. Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Golden, Jr., recently purchased one of the lots from the McKinley church, paying $350 cash. Mr. and Mrs. H. Houston and Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Rice returned from Springfield on Monday, after attending the funeral of Mrs. Winnie Houston.

They Make You Feel Good. The pleasant purgative effect produced by Chamberlain's Tablets and the healthy condition of body and mind which they create make one feel joyful. For sale by all dealers.

ROCK ISLAND, ILL. On Wednesday evening, October 15, members of McKinley Baptist church and friends gave a surprise to Rev. Whitfield and wife. They entered the house by singing "Showers of Blessings," each having his arm laden with something to show respect to pastor and wife. A splendid lunch was served. Mr. William Remington had heard the pastor was fond of ice cream, so he came and brought two gallons. In the midst of enjoyment the pastor quoted Psalms, 37th chapter and 25th verse. The party lasted until 11:30. Pastor and wife wishes to thank those who took part in the surprise. The Little Gleamers of McKinley Baptist church will give an entertainment Halloween evening. Mrs. Wm. Moore entertained Rev. Saunders and wife at dinner last Sunday. Mrs. Marshall and Mrs. Stovall of Davenport, Iowa, attended the reception at Wayman's chapel on last Friday evening. Mrs. Elizabeth Hardin of Moline attended services at McKinley Baptist church Sunday evening. There was a reception given on last Friday evening, October 17th, in honor of Rev. Saunders and family.

CLINTON, IOWA. Clinton has experienced the first effects of winter this week, ice forming to a great extent, making everyone think of the dreary season which is upon us. Mrs. M. O. Culbertson is confined to her home on account of an operation which she had to undergo at one of the local hospitals last Saturday. Reports are that she is doing nicely, with hopes that nothing serious will terminate. Mrs. Geo. Robinson was called to the bedside of her mother in Huntsville, Mo., last week, leaving late in the week. Jesse Mitchell of Fulton, Ill., was in Clinton on Sunday. Twenty-one ladies of Davenport, members of the Violet club of that city, were the guests of Mrs. Holland Williams, one of the members, at her home on 3d ave., Wednesday, Oct. 15. A custom of the club is to come to Clinton every October and meet with one of their members. After a business session the guests were served at an elegant course dinner. Some of the ladies of the city were also guests and ye correspondent. The following ladies were the honored guests from out of the city: Mesdames Frances Baker, president, Archibald Perkins, Chesterfield, Jennie Johnson, Effie Dudley, S. Washington, L. Applewhite, M. Hale, D. Snow, J. D. Williams, Betty Baker, Square Burns, C. Cain, M. Howard, W. H. Green, Jane Young, Mary Allen, Betty Davis, Sarah Hart, E. M. James, all of Davenport, and Mrs. E. J. Thomas of Fort Madison. The ladies took the 8:15 I. & L. train to their homes, happy with their day's outing. J. N. Hancock is now cosily located on Sixth avenue with his popular restaurant in the newly erected Hoffman flat building. His quarters were especially designed for him. Sunday the formal opening was held with an elaborate dinner, which was largely patronized. The columns of The Bystander are always open for all items of interest, especially to the subscribers. Telephone or send any items to the local representative, who will give it attention. Subscriptions are also solicited and the settling up of delinquent subscriptions.

HITEMAN. Mrs. George Lewis is on the sick list this week. Mrs. J. W. Bowles and daughter of Fort Madison is visiting her sister-in-law, Mrs. H. T. Randolph. Miss Bettie Burkley, one of our last year's graduates, is teaching school in Anderson, Iowa. Mrs. Nora Grayson is on the sick list. Mrs. Addie Randolph has left for Enterprise, Iowa, to make her future home. She also took her little daughter, Lavinia, who will make her a two week's visit and return to her grandparents. Rev. J. W. Bowles, who is helping Rev. T. J. Carr run a revival meeting in Ottumwa, spent Saturday visiting relatives, returning to his work Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Sam Brooks are preparing to move to Des Moines, Iowa, where they will make their future home. A Marvelous Escape. "My little boy had a marvelous escape," writes P. F. Bastians of Prince Albert, Cape of Good Hope. "It occurred in the middle of the night. He got a very severe attack of croup. As luck would have it, I had a large bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in the house. After following the directions for an hour and twenty minutes he was through all danger." Sold by all dealers.

CEDAR RAPIDS, IOWA. Miss Dimple Randolph met with quite an accident last Monday night at the rink. We hope it does not prove serious. Little Will Lovell, who was scalded last week, is getting along nicely. Mrs. Hicks is indisposed this week. Miss Maud Dorraine and auntie, Mrs. Lillian Morris, have returned from Des Moines and report a pleasant visit. Mrs. Myrtle Woods and Mrs. Greene, who are ill at Mercy hospital, are improving nicely. Mrs. Mary Joyce has returned from Colorado and other points, much improved in health. The Culture club met with Miss Mae Terry on Thursday evening. The J. S. Y. club met Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Horace Flowers, at which time Mrs. Joyce gave a talk on her trip west. Mrs. Lelia Warn Price visited a few days in Marion last week. Mr. Dude Price, Miss O. Morgan and Miss Naomi Harrison have returned home, after a successful season with a theatrical company. Miss Ardith Morgan did not return, as she expects to join another company soon. These young people are certainly making good. Miss Coalsen has returned to her home in Des Moines, after a few months' stay in our city. A certain young man looks very lonesome. Mr. Fred Sims and Mr. Albert Greene of Toledo passed through here last Monday en route to Chicago. The J. S. Y. club will give a Halloween entertainment at the home of Mrs. Lavella on Friday, October 31st. Mr. and Mrs. Roberts and daughter, Miss Helen, have returned from a visit in Chicago. They report a fine time. Mr. C. J. Sims will give a Halloween ball at Canfield's hall October 31st. Our new presiding elder, Rev. Moore, held his first quarterly meeting last Sunday week and preached three good sermons during the day. We cordially welcome Rev. Moore, as he comes highly recommended. Rev. Ervin of Des Moines is in our city and expects to make his future home here. We heartily welcome him and his family to our city.

OTTUMWA, IOWA. Miss Hazel Clark of Battle Creek, Mich., is visiting her mother, Mrs. Mate Clark, on Division street. Mrs. Bertha Shelby, nee Gunn, and baby of Chicago have returned to their home, after visiting her grandmother, Mrs. Mary Taylor, on Marion street. Mrs. Taylor is very proud of being in a family of five generations. Her mother, at a ripe old age, is still living and able to do all her work, with the assistance of a small boy on her farm in Texas. Rev. Bowles of Fort Madison is here assisting Rev. Carr in carrying on his series of meetings. They are having good success and will continue for another week. Rev. Andrew N. Webb has returned from Madison, Wis., and filled his pulpit both Sunday morning and evening. The Faithful Few society and twenty-five friends were entertained at the beautiful home of Mr. and Mrs. Wells Fowler on Plum street Thursday evening, October 16. The evening was spent in general conversation and some excellent music, the honored guest being Mrs. Helm of Chicago. Mrs. Fowler is a royal entertainer. The guests were served to an elaborate supper of four courses. The hostess is one of Ottumwa's best cateresses. All had an enjoyable time. The society will meet at Mrs. Mary Green's on November 6th. Rev. Gordon was a visitor a few days last week on business. Mrs. George Jackson entertained at dinner Sunday quite a number of her friends.

GALESBURG, ILL. Mrs. Pauline Anderson has returned from a short visit with relatives at Monmouth. Rev. S. B. Jones of Peoria visited a short while in Galesburg last week. Rev. Jones preached Sunday at the Allen chapel and proved himself an able speaker. Rev. and Mrs. Jones left for their home Monday. The Culture club met Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. Mattie Thompson. A short program was enjoyed, including remarks along club lines from Mrs. Mattie Ball of Denver. Dainty refreshments were served. Mr. B. E. Richardson was a visitor in Chicago last week. A quiet wedding took place Wednesday evening at the Second Baptist church when Mr. J. P. Anderson of Detroit and Miss Daisy Gash were united in marriage. Rev. Webster officiating. Mr. and Mrs. Anderson will make Galesburg their home. Word has been received of the death of Mrs. Emma Thomas at Salt Lake City. Mrs. Thomas was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Bell of this city. The Thimble Circle met Friday with Mrs. J. Wagner, the president. After the usual business transactions, light refreshments were served. At the home of Rev. S. L. Birt on Monday evening occurred a surprise birthday shower in the nature of a pound party. A large number of members and friends of the church were present and many and varied were the gifts received. Miss Marie Dunaway left Monday for a visit in Des Moines. FT. MADISON NEWS. Rev. Bowles left Monday for Ottumwa to help in a revival meeting. Mrs. Bowles and daughter, Helen, are visiting in Hiteman this week. Rev. L. H. Owens is in St. Louis this week attending to business. The White Rose club will meet Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Ambrose Jackson. A program will be rendered. The members and friends of the A. M. E. church are preparing to give a fine concert some time in November, presenting Fifty Years of Freedom, including solos and recitations. Mrs. E. J. Thomas has returned from Clinton and Davenport and reports a fine time. The Willing Workers club will meet Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Eubanks. Mrs. Ruth Marshall and daughter, Willene, are visiting at the home of Mrs. E. J. Thomas, 118 Spruce street. Mrs. Williams of Keokuk spent Sunday with her daughter, Mrs. Eubanks. Mrs. Charles Henry is on the sick list, but the Sunday school children hope to see her out Sunday. The members of the Third Baptist church are going to give a social on Thursday, the 30th. Mrs. Nellie Parker of Rock Island is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. McClelland. Mr. Garrett Dunlap is quite a football player. He played with the team at Carthage, Ill., Saturday.

DAVENPORT, IOWA. (Special to the Bystander.) Mrs. Ruth Bright returned home Sunday morning, after a three months' visit in Denver, Colorado Springs, Salt Lake City and many other points of interest in the west. After residing in Chicago for the past two years, Mrs. Gertrude Smith has returned home for the winter. The opening of the A. L. club will be the third Thursday in November at the residence of the president, Mrs. R. Bright. All members are requested to be present.

OTTUMWA, IOWA. (Special to the Bystander.) Henry E. Williams, deputy grand master of the most worshipful united grand lodge of Iowa, was dangerously and not seriously injured by an explosion at the big fire in Ottumwa on Sunday evening. There were six others injured.

OBITUARY. Mr. Walker Waldon died at his home in Newton, Iowa, October 11, 1913, at 3:30 a. m. Deceased was 74 years, 9 months and 21 days old at his death. Mr. Waldon was born in With county, Virginia, near Richmond, served as a soldier in Company E, Sixtieth regiment colored infantry, November 5, 1865, was married to Mrs. Elizabeth Henry of Newton, Iowa. To them were born five children, four boys, one of whom died in infancy, Paul of Indianapolis, Ind., and Jesse of Indianapolis, Ind., and one girl, Mrs. Vie Ella Mays of Newton. He was a devoted husband and father. It was always his to do what he could in kindness to others, was an ardent church worker and a Christian gentleman. Had been a member of the A. M. E. church for over forty years. He leaves to mourn him a devoted wife, Mrs. Elizabeth Waldon, four sons and one daughter, two of whom were present at his death and burial. Mr. J. O. Waldon of Springfield arrived too late for the funeral. He also leaves three brothers and a host of relatives and friends. Funeral was held at A. M. E. church, conducted by Rev. Ervin O. Taylor, pastor of the A. M. E. church, Des Moines, who spoke impressively to those present. Those who attended from out of the city were Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Fisher of Des Moines, Mrs. Emma Fisher and daughter, Violet, of Des Moines, Mr. and Mrs. Marion May and two children of Des Moines, Iowa, Mrs. Clara Miller of Enterprise, Iowa, Mrs. Eva Renfro of Grinnell and Mrs. Waldon of Minneapolis. Interment at Newton cemetery.

NOTE OF THANKS. We thank those who so kindly assisted in the illness and death of our loved one. We thank you for the beautiful flowers and kindness. Mrs. Elizabeth Waldon. Mr. J. O. Waldon. Mrs. Vie Ella Mays. Mr. J. J. Waldon.

HEALTH HINTS. So much stress has been put upon the school girl and boy, and still there is more that can be said. Cleanliness should be taught to a very high degree. Some of these lessons of cleanliness, the parent should not depend upon the child learning at school. For instance, the parent before starting the children out to school every morning should see that their finger nails are clean and kept in good shape. This can easily be done by the use of a nail file. The hand of a person has very much to do with the general make-up. The habit of biting the finger nails is often developed at an early stage. While deep in study, unconsciously they develop this habit, which should be avoided very much; because it causes what is known as "hang nails," the cuticle becomes very ragged, causing the fingers to become sore and unable the child to handle its pen properly. This habit of biting the fingers also often causes felons to come on the finger. It injures the fingers, and the mouth never being sterile, the fingers having germs on them, causes infection, leaving the finger deformed at times. On arriving home from school at noon and evenings, see that the child does not rush to the table without first washing its hands. Germs are on their school books and they collect on their hands while handling them.

As the cold winter mornings are coming on now, the hands should be thoroughly dry before going out into the cold air; if not they become chafed. Little ones, so eager to get out of mornings, do not regard these little necessary things, but a little vaseline applied will heal the bruises. When the hands are kept soft and clean, and the nails in good condition, the teacher does not hesitate to take hold of them the same as other children. Clean hands, clean faces, clean bodies, clean food, clean minds and morals.

Burke's Cafe 1021 West Broadway A New modern Cafe Everything first class Good Rooms Open at All Hours. C. H. BURKE, Council Bluffs, Manager, Iowa.

SHERIFF'S SALE. State of Iowa, Polk County, ss: Brown Mercantile Company, plaintiff, vs. W. A. Price and Jane Price, defendants. Notice is hereby given, That by virtue of a transcript execution, to me directed by the clerk of the district court of Polk county, Iowa, against the goods, chattels, lands, tenements, etc., of above named defendants in favor of Brown Mercantile Company, plaintiff, I will offer at public sale, to the highest and best bidder, for cash, at the east front door of the court house, in the city of Des Moines, Polk county, Iowa, on the 20th day of November, 1913, between the hours of 9 o'clock a. m. and 4 o'clock p. m., on said day, all of said W. A. Price and Jennie Price's right, title and interest in and to the following described property, situated in Polk county, Iowa, to-wit: Lots eleven (11), twelve (12) and thirteen (13), block nine (9), Town of Runnells, Polk county, Iowa. Sale to commence at the hour of 10 o'clock a. m. of said day. Witness my hand this 2nd day of October, 1913. Sheriff of Polk County, Iowa. J. F. Griffin, Sheriff of Polk County, Iowa. By J. H. Kelley, Deputy. Date of first publication, October 3, 1913. Published and printed by the Iowa State Bystander.

REAL COLORED PEOPLE'S HAIR WE are the largest Importer and Manufacturer in this line. Plaits, Wigs, Pomps Puffs, Braids and Transformations in stock or to order. All our goods guaranteed to stand combing and washing and to hold the color and crimp. All shades matched, none too difficult. Mixed gray our specialty. Send 2c for catalogue. Straightening combs and toilet articles our specialty. The Only and Old Reliable. MME. BAUM'S HAIR EMPORIUM 486 8th Avenue New York City Mail Orders Promptly Attended To

MME. BAUM'S Well-Known Toilet Preparations These Toilet Preparations are guaranteed to be pure and free from all injurious ingredients and guarantee under the Pure Food and Drug Law. Serial No. 44425 Price per bottle, 50c. MME. BAUM'S French Vegetable Tonic, an absolute hair grower. Per bottle 50c. MME. BAUM'S Shampoo, splendid wash for scalp and skin, 50 cents. MME. BAUM'S Hair Dressing will put new hair on on those bald temples. 50c, 75c and $1.00 per bottle. MME. BAUM'S Face Bleach and Skin Whitener, liquid or cream. 50c, 75c, $1.00 per bottle or jar. MME. BAUM'S Hair Dressing, 50c per box. MME. BAUM'S Oil Cream for cleansing the skin. 50c per jar. MME. BAUM'S Skin Food, for nourishing the skin. 50c per jar. MME. BAUM'S Brilliantine and Ideal Hair Dressings will render the hair soft and glossy; will comb 50c, 75c, $1.00 $1.50. MME. BAUM'S Dandruff Remedy will absolutely remove dandruff and make the hair grow. Parcel Post Stamps only accepted as payment of postage.

An Evening Chat by Bell Telephone Bell Telephone service bridges space between distant friends and brings them voice to voice. Long Distance telephoning is the quickest as well as the most convenient and satisfactory method of communicating with distant friends or business associates. Ask "Long Distance" for rates anywhere.

IOWA TELEPHONE COMPANY

Green's Cafe The Old and Reliable Place to get good meals or lunches Ice Cream and Cigars 114 E. 5th Street Phone 4908-y E. Green, Prop. Davenport Ia

More Than Enough Is Too Much. To maintain health, a mature man or woman needs just enough food to repair the waste and supply energy and body heat. The habitual consumption of more food than is necessary for these purposes is the prime cause of stomach troubles, rheumatism and disorders of the kidneys. If troubled with indigestion, revise your diet, let reason and not appetite control and take a few doses of Chamberlain's Tablets and you will soon be all right again. For sale by all dealers.

VIVIAN L. JONES Funeral Director The very best service guaranteed Prices the lowest Calls answered promptly day or night No extra charges for distance—Reverse all phone charges PHONE: 4 Maple 2548 Residence Black 1658. Office 619 East Court Ave Des Moines

When in Mexico, Mo., go to Mr. & Mrs. James H. Coleman For Good Meals, Lunches and Rooms We carry a good line of groceries and will deliver to any part of city. We deliver trunks, baggage, etc Give us a call Prompt service Guaranteed. S. E. Cor. of Park and Walnut Sts

Chronic Dyspepsia. The following unsolicited testimonial should certainly be sufficient to give hope and courage to persons afflicted with chronic dyspepsia. "I have been a chronic dyspeptic for years, and of all the medicines I have taken, Chamberlain's Tablets have done me more good than anything else," says W. G. Mattison, No. 7 Sherman St., Hornellsville, N. Y. For sale by all dealers. When visiting in Omaha, Nebraska see D. G. Russell for neatly furnished rooms—all modern up-to-date houses. Phones, residence Douglas 5033; Office Douglas 3198. 1918 and 1922 Cummins street.

Chance to Make Up "Why so sorrowful, girl? We have parted forever. He writes me to send back the ring." "Tell him to call for it," advised the unperturbed friend.—Louisville One Star Journal. Are you a subscriber to The Bystander? ORIGINAL NOTICE. In the district court of the state of Iowa, in and for Polk county, November term, 1913. Mrs. Phillomena Small vs. John Small. To the Above Named Defendant: You are hereby notified that the petition of the plaintiff in the above entitled cause will be filed in the office of the clerk of the district court of the state of Iowa, in and for Polk county, on or before the 16th day of September, 1913, claiming of you an absolute divorce from the bond of matrimony now existing between you, on the grounds of cruel and inhuman treatment and habitual drunkenness. For further particulars you will see petition on file, and that unless you appear and defend before noon on the second day of the November term, 1913, of said court, which will begin and be held in the court house in Des Moines, Polk county, Iowa, on the 3rd day of November, 1913, default will be entered against you and judgment and decree rendered thereon. J. B. Rush, Attorney for Plaintiff.

ORIGINAL NOTICE. In the district court of the state of Iowa, in and for Polk county, November term, A. D. 1913. Josie Taylor, Plaintiff, vs. George Taylor, Defendant. To the Above Named Defendant: You are hereby notified that the petition of the plaintiff in the above entitled cause is filed in the office of the clerk of the district court of the state of Iowa, in and for Polk county, Iowa, claiming of you a divorce from the bonds of matrimony on the grounds of drunkenness, cruel treatment and adultery. For particulars see petition, and unless you appear thereto and defend before noon of the second day of the next term, being the November term of said court, which will commence at Des Moines on the 3rd day of November, 1913, default will be entered against you and judgment and decree rendered thereon. Dated this 25th day of September, 1913. S. Joe Brown, Attorney for Plaintiff.

MAGIC HAIR GROWER AND STRAIGHTENING OIL The most wonderful hair preparation on the market. When we say Magic we do not exaggerate, as you can see great results in the first few treatments. We guarantee Magic Hair Grower to stop the hair at once from falling out and breaking off, making harsh, stubborn hair soft and silky. Magic Hair Grower grows hair on bald places of the head. If you use these preparations once you will never be without them. Magic Hair Grower and Straightening Oil are manufactured by Mesdames South and Johnson. We also do scalp treating. Magic Hair Grower, 50c. Straightening Oil, 35c. All orders promptly filled; send 10c for postage. Money must accompany all orders. Agents wanted—Write for particulars. We carry everything in the latest fashionable hair goods at the lowest prices. We make switches, puffs, transformation curls, coronet braids, and combings made to order, matching all shades a specialty. Send samples of hair with all orders. 2416 Blondo St., Omaha, Neb. Phone, Webster 880

Iowa State Bystander PUBLISHED FOR CO. BY FRIDAY, OCTOBER 24, 1913. Entered at the postoffice as second class matter. Published every Friday by the Bystander Publishing Company, Des Moines, Iowa. Office in Chemical building, corner Seventh and Mahberry streets. Iowa phase, Walnut $99. Official paper of the M. W. U. Grand Lodge of Iowa, A. F. & A. M. and International Grand Congress of Heroines of Jericho of America, and Western Baptist Association.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION. One year $1.50 Six months $1 Three months $1 All subscriptions payable in advance. Advertising rates for display ads, 20 cents per inch, for each insertion. Three to six months' contract, 15 cents per inch. Local advertising, 10 cents per line for each insertion, counting seven words to a line. For churches and secret societies where admission is charged, one-half of the above-mentioned rates. For professional, legal and announcement cards, yearly contracts, etc., terms are given on application. All advertising is to be paid in advance. Send money by postoffice order, money order, express or draft, to the Iowa State Bystander Company, Des Moines, Iowa.

Jones Cafe The Old Reliable Place to get your meals PHONE RED 318 W. 3rd St 3027 Rooming House at 3rd St. 216-218

A good place to get Rooms and Board down town is at Mrs Ella Epperson 507 Grand Avenue Meals are Served to the Public Phone Red 4076. MRS. ELLA EPPERSON, Prop.

Hotel Buxton A new modern steam heated hotel—Everything first class Cigars, Soft Drinks, Lunches etc Open Day and Night O. PETERSON, Phone 261 Proprietor Buxton, Iowa

MME. JOHNSON AND SOUTH The most wonderful hair preparation on the market. When we say Magic we do not exaggerate, as you can see great results in the first few treatments. We guarantee Magic Hair Grower to stop the hair at once from falling out and breaking off, making harsh, stubborn hair soft and silky. Magic Hair Grower grows hair on bald places of the head. If you use these preparations once you will never be without them. Magic Hair Grower and Straightening Oil are manufactured by Mesdames South and Johnson. We also do scalp treating. Magic Hair Grower, 50c. Straightening Oil, 35c. All orders promptly filled; send 10c for postage. Money must accompany all orders. Agents wanted—Write for particulars. We carry everything in the latest fashionable hair goods at the lowest prices. We make switches, puffs, transformation curls, coronet braids, and combings made to order, matching all shades a specialty. Send samples of hair with all orders. 2416 Blondo St., Omaha, Neb. Phone, Webster 880

WESTERN COLLEGE Will open its doors for the reception of students Monday, September 29th, 1913 Here is found a pleasant and comfortable home, sanitary surroundings, thorough instruction, good discipline and christian culture. For further particulars, address, J. H. GARNETT, President, Macon, Mo.