Word from Messrs. Harvey and Horace Spencer of Mason City informs us that the Spencer Bros., of whom there are four, intend to incorporate under the firm name of Spencer Bros. & Co., and expect to enlarge in their business, that of cement and concrete work. We are glad to be thus informed and wish for them continued prosperity.

By the way, have you noticed the new features that are being promoted by The Bystander publishers? That should prompt anyone who is in arrears with their subscription to hurry and pay, so that these may be kept up and new ones added from time to time. It seems to me sometimes that some people seem to think that a newspaper can be run on wind, but such is not the case, no more than you could exist wholly on wind. We would suggest that those who are in arrears be fair and pay and get rid of that conscience whipping that has been going on within you for several years.

Florence Hall was ill a few days last week, but is now O. K.

The A. M. E. Sunday school scholars are practicing on the Easter program. Messrs. Boyd Berdo and A. L. Hall market sixty-seven of their hogs this week. They averaged 250 pounds and for which $12.10 per hundred was paid to Messrs. Berdo and Hall. Wasn't that a nice bunch?

The A. M. E. church will open a revival Sunday, February 25th. The revival will be conducted by Rev. R. H. Cato of Ottumwa. The church sent out a very capable lookout committee, consisting of Mrs. E. F. Butler, Mrs. Pearl Thomas, Mrs. B. T. Lewis and Mr. Pearl Thomas. The pastor, Rev. J. W. Dowden, and the members of the church hope by this means and Divine guidance to give the church a spiritual uplift. We also solicit the prayers of the saints everywhere.

Our quarterly meeting will convene on March 4th. All are welcome.

Chance to Make Up.

"Why so sorrowful, girl?" "We have parted forever. He writes me to send back the ring."

"Tell him to call for it," advised the experienced friend.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Proper Bestowal of Charity.

Dickens: There are not a few among the disciples of charity who require in their vocation, scarcely less excitement than the votaries of pleasure in theirs; and hence it is that diseased sympathy and compassion are every day expended on out-of-the-way objects, when only too many demands upon the legitimate exercise of the same virtues in a healthy state are constantly within the sight and bearing of the most observant person alive. In short, charity must have its reward, as the novelist of the play right well have his.

PLEA FOR SELF-RE

Shirley G. Dawes' Good Advice to Young Men in Business.

This is a hard world in business. It always has been and always will be. There are many good and generous men in it. There are many who will lend a helping hand to you in your adversity, but in the time of need you will not find them among the men who tried to get you to embark in speculation with your little surplus, and to sell you something which would help you to "easy money." Be self-reliant. Make your own investment into investments. When you cannot put your money in a good savings bank. Distrust the financial demagogues as you distrust the political demagogue. Keep your hand on your pocketbook as you travel life - first, to give always in proportion as you means to those who are poorer; second, to hold from those who would take through force or fraud what you need for yourself and yours. You will then, writes Mr. Dawes in the Saturday Evening Post, have your hand where most of the other fellows have only their eyes. In this alone you will have the advantage of them.

No More Gold Lace for Afghans.

The ameer has published an edict which applies to all parts of Afghanistan, prohibiting the import into the country of all kinds of gold lace, including embroidered kullias lungis and embroidered shoes. The ameer is evidently actuated by a desire to prevent his subjects from spending their hard earned money on showy dress. It is the poorer classes who are notoriously addicted to this extravagance which his majesty has decided to check. The gold laced coat of the Afghan is decidedly handsome, and although the ameer has acted wisely in bringing into general use clothing less costly, his majesty's orders will doubtless be received by his subjects with rather mixed feelings.

College Course in Politics.

The Columbia university belongs the credit of offering the first course designed to give students a practical knowledge of the conduct of political affairs. That institution has asked the bureau of municipal research in New York to give the members of the class the benefit of the experience it has derived from the study of the affairs of that city, and the invitation has been accepted. The growing demand for the adoption of the scientific methods of city governments lends support to the view that college men will be in demand in this department of the public service, hence the propriety and usefulness of a university course established on the lines indicated by the innovation at Columbia.

Haitians a Laz. Lot.

Sydney Brooks, writing to the London Chronicle about Haiti, says the Haitians were the first people in the world to abolish slavery, and Mrs. C. R. Miller, writing in Leslie's Weekly, says of Haiti: "In that little republic, covering about 10,000 square miles within five days' sail of New York, one may encounter more strange complications and a greater disregard for human life than in the remote countries of the east. Situated in the very heart of the West Indies, where civilization exists in a high degree, Haiti alone has kept her doors closed to progress. She became an independent state more than 100 years ago. Her rich lands were already under cultivation, but the lazy natives allowed the plantations to go to ruin, and forests have grown up instead."

Farm Employment for Criminals.

Gov. Harris of Ohio believes that criminals can be employed on a farm with advantage to themselves and the state. He proposes that prisoners in the penitentiary who are not condemned criminals be transferred to the reformatory and put to work on the state farm. "It is the conditions of our cities that breed crime," says the governor. "Most of it can be traced to idleness and drink, and idleness is frequently the cause of drink. There is little drink in the country and practically no idleness. If the young men had slipped over the bounds of law were taught scientific farming he would come to like it and escape the associates who carry him down when he returns to the city."

Milk an Intoxicant.

New York City alone consumes annually 840,000,000 quarts of milk. We drink 2,300,000 quarts a day. And this does not include mothers' milk for infants; just cows' milk—watered and unwatered, for both infants and adults. "Milk," says Emerson, "is readily made intoxicating in warm climates simply by agitation. This feature was quickly discovered." Being placed in a skin and slung from the shoulder or over the back, it was agitated by the motion of the hunter. Fermentation was soon well under way. The skin was undoubtedly none too clean, some milk of the previous day being left in it, which would

The Des Moines state officers of the Iowa State Federation of Colored Women's Clubs gave a reception at the home of the president, Mrs. S. Joe Brown, 1058 Fifth street, last Friday evening in honor of Mrs. Fred H. Gresham of Cedar Rapids, one of the state officers, who was recently elected postmistress of the house of representatives. Just the club women of Des Moines and their company were invited. It was a full dress affair and many of the ladies appeared in beautiful new gowns. Music and conversation was the principal order and dainty refreshments were served. All present reported a splendid time.

CORINTHIAN BAPTIST CHURCH
A good sermon was preached Sunday by our State Missionary, Rev. T. J. Carr of Ottumwa. The attendance was large.

The church is doing nicely and a new spirit is being put on. Everybody seems to be working to promote the cause.

F. J. Harris, church clerk, organized a church club in Highland Park last Thursday night with a large membership.

On next Sunday the 25th, Rev. Geo. W. Robinson, A. B., of El Paso, Texas will preach for us, and possibly he will hold meetings all the week. He is a man of high ideals and is well recommended.

You cannot afford to miss hearing him.

Valentine Party
The young ladies of the Mary Church club and Wednesday Night Bridge club were the guests of Miss Joburness Redmon at a Valentine party, last Thursday evening at her home. Progressive whist played at six tables made the time pass quickly. After the game the guests were invited into the dining room, where a surprise awaited them. Miss Redmon in the doorway swaying a basket of tulips. Each guest was invited to take one. On each tulip was a card with the following words "I bear a secret." The secret proved to be a tiny sheet of paper hidden among the leaves, on which was written, "Miss Joburness Redmon to Mr. Howard Kelso, March 28, 1917. A two course luncheon was served from a prettily appointed table. The whole scheme of red and white being carried out.

MRS. BROWN RETURNS FROM OTTUMWA.
Much Enthused Over Outlook of Coming State Meeting.

Mrs. S. Joe Brown, president of the Iowa Federation of Colored Women's Clubs, returned Wednesday evening from Ottumwa, where she appeared in a musical and lecture at the A. M. E. church, under the auspices of the campfire girls club of that city. On Tuesday evening Mrs. Brown appeared before the club women of the city and she is pleased to announce that the women of Ottumwa, under the supervision of Mrs. Helena Downey, first president of the I. F. C. W. C., and Mrs. Francis Hicks, charter member of the Federation, chairman of the credential committee, and president of the Ida B. Wells club, are making a strenuous effort for a successful meeting, and from all indications says that this, the fifteenth annual session, bids fair to be the greatest in the history of the organization.

Among the features of the coming meeting will be the unveiling of the portrait of Booker T. Washington that is now being made by Henry O. Tanner in Paris, France, which will be hung in our Iowa hall of fame, and through the courtesy of Mr. A. P. Owens, manager of the Grand opera house of that city, Mrs. Brown is pleased to announce that this most beautiful and spacious auditorium, which rents for $50 per evening, has been donated for the unveiling of this painting, at which time, among other noted guests from various sections of the country, Mrs. Mary B. Talbert of Buffalo, N. Y., president of the National Association of Colored Women, will be present.

The Original "Katzenjammer Kids"
Coming to Berchel Theatre, Friday and Saturday, March 2d and 3d.
"Katzenjammer Kids," the newest cartoon musical comedy, which will shortly play an engagement in this city, is said to be a distinct departure from any cartoon play ever staged. It is a big song, dance, fun and girl show, magnificently and massively staged and costumed with the latest creations of feminine fashions.

Rare Washington Portrait
A rare and curious mezzotint portrait of George Washington in the library of the late Lafayette S. Richardson of Lowell, Mass., was auctioned off last year in Boston. It is entitled "George Washington, late president of the United States of America, etc." and was published March 14, 1891, by H. Hinton London. It is a small folio and is colored by hand. It looks as much like George III. as it does the Father of His Country. Baker, who wrote the "Engraved Portraits of Washington," says that only one impression of this mezzotint has come under the notice of the writer. It was in neither the Clarkson nor the Carson sale of Washington portraits.

Insist on Yellow Flour.
Charles Christadoro, an expert on flour and grains, sounds the keynote of the new situation brought about by the bleached flour decision when he says in a communication to the editor commenting on the bleached flour decision: "The housewife will now insist on yellow tinted or creamy flour, and will learn to realize that a natural flour very white can in no manner compare with the creamy or yellow flour in so far as glutens and muscle building values are concerned. As from 85 to 90 per cent. of the large flour mills of the country were using this bleaching process, the decision is far-reaching."—National Food Magazine.

That's what EXELENTO QUININE POMADE does. removes Dandruff, feeds the roots of the hair, and makes it grow long, soft and silky. After using a few times you can tell the difference, and after a little while it will be so pretty and long that you can fix it up to suit you. If Exelento doesn't do as we claim, we will give your money back. 25c by mail on receipt of stamps or coin. AGENTS WANTED EVERYWHERE. Write For Particulars. EXELENTO MEDICINE CO., Atlanta, Ga.

Murray Street Man's Curiosity Brings Him Prize: Interest In Papers Pays Dividends
"Curiosity, more than anything else, led me to try Tanlac. Of course I had stomach trouble and read the stories in the Des Moines papers about Tanlac. I didn't have much faith in it, nevertheless I decided to try it," said David F. Conn, 802 Maury street, Des Moines.
"That small investment paid big dividends. It not only saved me druggists' bills, but relieved me of stomach ailments when nothing else had helped me. I feel better than I have for months. Never have any gas or bloating. Furthermore my nerves are steady. I can go to bed and sleep all night without waking. In the mornings I feel fresh and rested. "I cannot recommend Tanlac too highly."

John Mc Nerney, druggist, Sixth and Grand avenue, Des Moines, says: "It is scores of such people that have made Tanlac the record breaking success that it is. Their words cannot be doubted, for their experiences are at first hand. If you have stomach, kidney, liver or catarrhal ills you will find Tanlac an ideal tonic and restorative."

CONTENT
Robert Greene.
Sweet are the thoughts that savour of content,
The quiet mind is richer than a crown,
Sweet are the nights in careless slumber spent,
The poor estate scorns Fortune's angry frown:
Such sweet content, such minds, such sleep, such bliss,
Beggars enjoy, when princes oft do miss.

The homely house that harbours quiet rest,
The cottage that affords no pride nor care,
The mean that grees with country music best,
The sweet consort of mirth and modest fare,
Obscured life sets down a type of bliss:
A mind content both crown and kingdom is.

HEALTH HINTS.

A. J. Booker, M. D.

The passage of the "literacy test-migration" bill is going to have a great effect upon the future of the Negro. Any act which is wide in its scope will work a hardship on some classes, while others will be greatly benefited. In the passage of this bill there was a backward step so far as the open door policy of this country is concerned; the attitude is quite contrary to all which America has meant to the downtrodden of Europe.

Any thoughtful observer must have noticed that we have not had opportunity to develop a national type, neither sentimentally nor physically, and that many of our problems are made more difficult by the polyglot ideas of our citizens. Too, it must be remembered that many disseminators of advice are not citizens, but people who live here on account of the so-called "easy pickings" which this country affords. So evident are these facts that great effort is being made to educate foreigners and incorporate them into the civic and social affairs of this country rapidly.

While this new bill will cut off many, many people from this great opportunity of living in America, those who are here will be pushed to the utmost by the dominant Americans, through fellows of their kind. The Negro must look to himself for any advancement; he must shift for himself; unless he is alive to the wonderful chances developing in this country he will be more than ever the "hewer of wood and the drawer of water." The next twenty years will determine to a nicety just what our status will be, economically, socially and civily. The most unfortunate corollary to this fact is that we have no great leader to push our case, no central and national interest which is effective in its scope to reach all the people. In this we are greatly handicapped.

There is no undivided sentiment among us, nor the other race, whether it is best for the Negro to bank up in the south or to venerate the country.

In this respect of having no racially wide medium of reaching all our people and of not cherishing our local leaders we show ourselves at least inadequate to cope with a situation, if one would not say that we demonstrated an inferiority. The great medium of the church is not put to work in this direction and the secret organizations are powerless, since there is no direct connecting link between the two.

Surely we are face to face with a racial crisis and it is said that a leader always arises in such hours. It seems like a case of the same old story of each one for himself and the devil take the hindmost.

It is true that we are the bone of much intellectual contention, but no practical good comes of it. The great hue and cry is to get the foreigner to speaking the English language and to think in terms of whatever it means to be an American, while we are supposed to be sufficiently well enough along to look out for ourselves. It is high time that communities got to looking after every individual in their bounds and attempting to develop each man, regardless of his standing, into an individual of highest efficiency and race loyalty, which amounts to dollars and cents.

FORT DODGE, IOWA. (Special to Bystander.)

Miss Bettie Winn of Dayton, Ohio, is visiting her sister, Miss Ethel Winn of this city.

Mr. Neely of Buxton, Iowa was in the city over Sunday, visiting with old friends. While here he dined with Mr. Frank Perkins and remained over night with Mr. Fred Coleman. Mr. Neely came from Ames here, where he has been attending the Ice Cream Manufacturers' short course, an extension of Ames University.

A very enjoyable evening was spent by all who attended the duplex card party given by Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Steps at the Franklin and Stepp's apartments.

Cold weather kept many people from the birthday reception given Rev. L. W. Biggs last Tuesday.

Plans for Easter are under advisement by both churches; a fine program will be rendered.

The new band organization under the direction of Mr. Frank Perkins gave a entertainment Wednesday for the benefit of the organization. The band is getting along nicely.

Mr. W. H. Jameson's condition remains the same.

Mr. Fred Coleman and Mrs. Clarence Coffman made a trip to Boone Wednesday.

Severe Cold Quickly Cured.

"On December first I had a very severe cold or attack of the grip as it may be, and was nearly down sick in bed," writes O. J. Metcalf, Weatherby, Mo. "I bought two bottles of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and it was only a few days until I was completely restored to health. I firmly believe that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is one of the very best medicines and will know what to do when I have another cold." Obtainable everywhere.

ALBIA NEWS.

Miss Edith Harris attended the burial of Miss Lillian Parker in Des Moines Thursday of last week.

Mrs. Andrew Stovall of Hiteman, underwent an operation at the miners' hospital, and returned to her home on Tuesday.
