Messrs Carl McWilliams, La Ransal Early of Monmouth, Ill. were Galesburg callers Sunday.

The Jolly 14 club gave a party at the home of Miss G. Crawford Friday, March 23rd. The evening was spent in dancing. All report Miss Crawford a royal entertainer. Out of town guest was Mr. La Ransal Early of Monmouth. The P. H. club was entertained at the home of Miss M. Alcon Wednesday, March 21st.

Mr. H. Crawford who has been ill for the past week, is able to be out again.

CORRECTION.

My Dear Mr. Thompson: I am writing to call your attention to a mistake that was made in regard to the amount of money raised by the Second Baptist church here during the campaign and came out in the Bystander two weeks ago, and after ten days of labor we secured $5,000. Five hundred dollars of the amount was given by Mr. and Mrs. Geo. W. Lawrence of this city. The church is doing a great work and is expecting to do greater things in the near future. They are ready to begin the new building, which will cost from $10,000 to $12,000 and which is to be free of debt.

MT. PLEASANT, IOWA.

The P. E. committee held a social at the A. M. E. church March 22nd. A neat sum was cleared.

The Bethel A. M. E. Jubilee Singers rendered a program at the (white) M. E. church March 20th. The amount taken in was $75, which will be paid on the paving assessment.

A card from Dr. James Crump informs us that he is now enjoying a lucrative practice in Pittsburgh, Texas. Jim is a long ways from his former friends, but that's nothing; Jim will make friends wherever he may hang out his shingle.

On Monday night of last week Chas. Burkley was taken suddenly ill, and for a time fears were entertained for his recovery, but he is now able to sit up and take on some nourishment.

Mrs. Lewis Wallace has again cast her lot with the A. M. E. church in this city, coming from an A. M. E. church at Pittsburgh, Penn. Lewis Wallace, her husband, will be back here in a short time, and they expect to make this their home in the future. We welcome them back.

Sunday April 1st, is quarterly meeting and the Rev. J. H. Ferrabee, P. E., is expected to be present and administer the sacrament at the afternoon service. The quarterly conference will probably be Monday night when everybody is expected to give in his report.

While in Des Moines last week a couple of days we had a pleasant visit with the editor at the Bystander office, and also with the efficient printer-press man, H. Jacobs. Since our last visit to the office Mr. Thompson has installed some new fixtures and cabinets, which improves the efficiency of his plant. We also had the pleasure of meeting Mr. McCree, the popular druggist, who is doing a nice business in the drug line. Mr. Parten, a printer, we ran across also. We enjoyed a nice visit with Mr. Will Jones, who has been confined to his house with inflammatory rheumatism. Mrs. Geo. C. Young and Mrs. Chas. Clay also had their part in helping to make our visit to the city a pleasant one. Our primary visit to Des Moines was to see Mrs. Black, who has been in the Methodist hospital for a couple of weeks for treatment, but is now nicely located at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Williams, relatives of Mrs. Black, who are doing everything possible for her comfort.

When you look at the picture in the corner of "Health Hints" in The Bystander you are seeing the Dr. Booker as he really is. But to meet and talk with him is a pleasure that all should seek who have the opportunity. He extends to strangers volumes of courtesies, and sacrifices his time and home to be at your service in entertaining one who is a stranger in the city. Nuff said. You know the rest.

Henry Campbell's house caught fire at about 6 o'clock last Monday morning, but the fire company got there and had the fire put out almost before the occupants of the house knew the house was on fire. No serious damage was done, only a small hole was burned in the roof.

Mrs. Eva Gwinn and daughter, Miss Luba, entertained a few friends at dinner last Sunday complimentary to Mrs. Lewis Wallace, who has recently moved back to Washington to live.

N. L. Black visited Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Washington at Albia on his return home from Des Moines.

EASTER LILLY.

What more fitting way to help commemorate the resurrection of Him who said, "Consider the lilies," than to send a blooming lily to a loved one on Easter day?

There is nothing more appropriate for Easter than the lily, and nothing more appreciated during the Easter season.

Buy plants and flowers direct from the growers and thus get them fresh. Our assortment is such that we can satisfy most any requirement.

The young men's club of Mt. Zion Baptist church will have installation of officers and a reception Friday evening March 30th.

ROCK ISLAND, ILL.

Mrs. Therie Monroe has passed into the great beyond. She passed away last Sunday at 9 p. m., after a valiant fight with pneumonia. Mrs. Monroe was 63 years of age. She was born in the state of Louisiana. She came to this city twenty years ago. She was preceded by her husband, Samuel, in death. She was a faithful member of the A. M. E. church and also a member of the stewardess board. She was a member of the S. M. T. lodge. She is survived by three sisters, Mrs. Nannie Brown, Mrs. Lucinda Fauts and Mrs. Mary Ford of Philadelphia.

The Allen Christian Endeavor League of the A. M. E. church is meeting regularly again and all are invited to attend.

Mrs. James Watson has left for her home in Canton, Ill. While in this city she stopped at the home of Mrs. James Hoskins.

Both of the colored churches will have fine Easter day programs.

The Boosters cleared the sum of $52 for the A. M. E. church.

Scores of Negroes have come to this city within the last month. The long heralded "exodus" from the south has started in earnest. Therefore the churches and civic organizations should "get together" to help these immigrants secure employment and places of residence.

The Baptist church has just completed a successful two weeks' revival.

Mrs. A. Stithe is visiting with her mother in Chicago.

CLARINDA, IOWA.
(Special to Bystander.)

The Busy Bee restaurant will soon be doing business again, at their location on S. Ninth street. When Mr. R. T. Lain was burned out the 28th of last October, it left him with a number of boarders and roomers, but no restaurant to do business in. The boarders have been taken care of in his residence on Grant street, just across the block from their restaurant.

Mr. Lain meanwhile started to rebuild, and has his new building nearly completed, on the site of the building which was destroyed by fire. The new building is larger than the old one, which will permit of carrying a stock of groceries on the first floor, besides serving lunches and short orders at the counter in front, and tables for the regular boarders in the rear. A cement floor is being laid in the front of the building. A cellar in the rear will hold the steam heating plant, which Mr. Lain intends to use for heating purposes. There will be a number of bedrooms upstairs for the roomers, besides a ladies' waiting room upstairs. It is Mr. Lain's purpose to build on the rear of the building now being erected, making that part of the building his kitchen, and bathroom, besides a refreshment room where people may come and get soft drinks in the summer time. Mr. Lain is one of our Clarinda colored men who deserves much credit for the enterprise he has shown in helping to build up the town.

How To Prevent Croup.

HEALTH HINTS.

A. J. Booker, M. D.
There are a great many people who run about with voices of maximum volume which are controlled by brains, if any, of the smallest quantity.
The first and greatest protection which can be shown a people is to insure them a means of livelihood and a protection of whatever they may be fortunate enough to acquire, as a mark of thrift and prudence.

Property cannot be created over night, but babies are born every day. Consequently there is more importance attached to preserving property than to protect life. The cheapest thing in the world is life. Abraham Lincoln was more interested in saving mules than he was in the officers. He could create officers, but mules cost money.
The first thing any person living in this country, regardless of how imposed upon they feel, would do if their house were robbed, or someone set the place on fire is to call the police. Something is always done in these cases. It is not a matter of religion, race nor of prayer, but it is call the police.
The first thing an industrious man does is to get a job in order to buy bread, and usually he buys the bread from the same race type from whom he gets the money. After he gets more money than he can spend for bread and clothes he gets some ground either with a house on it or he builds one.

The span of life is three score and ten years, but a man's house and lot are his and his heirs forever. His neighbors may make it unpleasant for him, but it is his forever. They may destroy his life, but the title stands. Millions of people go to bed every night feeling secure of the protection of life and property and their faith is well founded.

Property owners usually are a more conservative set of people than those who have a monopoly on hot air and have nothing to protect nor feel uneasy about.

When people get to thinking and can distinguish between noise and nonsense and reason and facts they will begin to take stock in their well-being, and security which is based upon conservatism and thought, rather than noise and braying of bipeds who are misnamed.

No man can defend discrimination not to give people a justification for keeping up devilish practices.

At this time most people are concerned with the outcome of this nation so far as the war is concerned. You will not make a hit with any red-blooded citizen of this country by telling him this is not your country and you will not fight for it that you have grievances. There are very few people who are entirely satisfied, either here or abroad. Things are going to warm up about these parts and the best thing to do is to beat it for the place you will fight for. In family affairs the outsiders get the worst of it, and there might come a time when those who will not work cannot eat. This is a grand and glorious country; opportunities are here such as one will find in no other country on the globe. In Iowa we are blessed. There are privileges all out of proportion to payments. The free school system is fitly capped by a free state university; men are given opportunity to do public work as an encouragement to all of us. The state furnishes hospitals for children who are deformed, the tuberculosis sanitarium takes care of unfortunates; the local charities help without discrimination, getting very little from us. Our battles are fought in the press every week at least, ministers of the gospel are telling people about us and helping to make things better.

If these things do not warrant the feeling of protection and make a fellow feel that he is willing to share the hazards of the commonwealth, in the name of the gods at once, what will stir gratitude and patriotism?

If your tongue is hung on a swivel and you have no thought, then at least accept the chance of being mistaken for being wise by keeping your mouth shut and not embarrassing those who have a conception of public duty.

There are a great many people whom the audience might think were sensible if they had sense to be quiet. To speak right out in meeting does not of itself show courage or wisdom; of course if a man wants to create sympathy for his lack of reason he may get by provided the listener is a pacifist.

The people who do not claim this country as theirs are usually the ones who would not know where to go if they had a ticket and a basket given them.
