Graduates And Teachers In Booker Washington's School Now In Army Training Camp, The Great Spirit Of Booker Washington Still Lives.

Here is a remarkable gathering of men in training at Fort Des Moines for commissions in the United States army. All are graduates of, or teachers in Tuskegee institute, Tuskegee, Ala., the famous school founded and built by the late Dr. Booker T. Washington. It is the more remarkable that these men are by no means exceptional, for the camp is, in large part, made up of college graduates, men who in civil life are engaged in all sorts of business and professional activities. They are the picked men of the race and are taking advantage of what many regard as the greatest

E. Lee, O. Bery F. Smith, Charles J. Blackwood, H. H. Hanis, Earl E. Dickinson, C. C. Clayton, Edwin H. Lee, Harold E. Smith, Joseph E. Wiley, W. L. Hutcherson, Frank L. Drye, John W. Ovietrea, Augustus J. Hunt, Felix J. Washington, Walter S. Ross.

It was Susie's 10th and Marcellus' 2nd birthdays. The children were delighted by a company of thirty. Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Neely, Mrs. Allen Cannady and daughter, Rosie, who is home for the summer vacation from Washington, D. C., high school; Miss Thelma Lewis, Dr. and Mrs. L. R. Willis took the children for a lovely car ride, making two trips, in the cool of the evening. The guests departed, wishing Susie and Marcellus many more such birthdays.

The Buxton concert band were engaged by the grand lodge of the K. P.'s, which convened in Albia, Iowa. The boys put in three days' good blowing, but report a nice time.

Y. M. C. A. Notes. The three reel colored feature which was shown at the Y. M. C. A. auditorium proved to be a decided hit with all who saw it. The house packed to its full capacity. Everybody is anxiously waiting for the next Lincoln feature, which will be shown soon. Watch for the date of this beautiful Negro drama.

Miss Sidney Davis, who for many years has been engaged in the Baptist missionary work, has been engaged by the Y. for a lecture on the subject of courtship and marriage. We sincerely urge upon every man and woman in Buxton to make it a point to hear this lecture.

Last week Buxton was honored with a visit from Prof. I. M. Horton of Kansas City. Prof. Horton is well known and highly esteemed for the noble and constructive work that he has so unselfishly rendered to his people. He has been principal teacher and instructor of some of the best colored schools in Kansas City. Prof. Horton is one of the patriotic and worthy boys who answered the call at Fort Des Moines for military training. He is now returning to Kansas City. He expects to be later appointed to some special line of training.

The Hon. Geo. H. Woodson has informed us that he has been successful in securing a leave of absence for several of the Fort Des Moines boys in order that they might be able to spend a Sunday with the Buxton churches and Y. M. C. A. We don't as yet know the exact date of their coming, nevertheless we are looking forth to the time as a big feature for the people of Buxton.

The Buxton band played a three day engagement at Albia in connection with the K. of P. grand lodge session which was held in this city.

Many of our Y. members will more than likely be taken in the first call for the army. We intend to present each man called away from Buxton with a pocket Bible to take along as a source of guidance.

Our last Tuesday Bible class was very interesting. Subject, "Sin and Repentance," found in 2 Chron. 33: 3-16.

Summer Complaint.

During the hot weather of the summer months some member of almost every family is likely to be troubled with an unnatural looseness of the bowels, and it is of the greatest importance that this be treated promptly, which can only be done when the medicine is kept at hand. Mrs. F. F. Scott, Scottsville, N. Y., states, "I first used Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy as much as five years ago. At that time I had a severe attack of summer complaint and was suffering intense pain. One dose relieved me. Other members of my family have since used it with like results."

Chronic Constipation.

It is by no means an easy matter to cure this disease, but it can be done in most instances by taking Chamberlain's Tablets and complying with the plain pointed directions that accompany each package.

"WHO CALLS." (Special for Bystander.) Citizens, friends, prepare, prepare. This is the voice of the multi-millionaire. His heart is callous when mercy pleads, His eyes are blind when humanity bleeds.

Desert your mothers, children, wives. Go to the front, give up your lives. We'll see that worthy tears are shed. Even though your loved ones go unfed.

Thrust your bayonet into the foe. He is an enemy, this you know. Hack him, shoot him, cripple and blind; Conscience is only a thing of the mind.

We're making millions out of the war! It's only death or perhaps a scar. You are a patriot; for you we cheer, And on your grave drop the mourner's tear.

Has the black man ever attempted treason? Has any citizen had more reason? He's always first and ready to fight. When it comes to setting his country right.

Is the new freedom a freedom true, The same to all as it is to you? Or must the black man always be a slave In this "land of the free and home of the brave?"

Shame on a country and those at its head Whose feelings of right and justice are dead. Shame on the laws that permit them to kill The rights of its citizens at their sweet will.

Ask Anyone Who Has Used It. There are families who always aim to keep a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy in the house for use in case it is needed, and find that it is not only a good investment, but saves them no end of suffering. As to its reliability, ask anyone who has used it.

If you are thinking of buying clothes, the Glasgow Tailors at 319 Sixth avenue, now in their eighteenth year of business in Des Moines, is the place to patronize. This firm originated the popular price of $15, no more no less, for suit or overcoat and built up a wonderful trade by giving most excellent values for the price. However, just now owing to the advance in price of woollens and labor the "No more, no less" is temporarily suspended—and "some more," "none less" substituted. They will soon add a uniform department and be in a position to save their customers money on uniforms. Remember the "Old Glasgow" at 319 Sixth avenue.

BADLY RUN DOWN. "I had become greatly run down and my nerves were in terrible condition. I had frequent headaches and became very weak and was unable to do anything. I recovered my strength, and have since recommended Dr. Miles' Nervine to many of my friends who have used it with satisfactory results." MRS. FRANCES WHITLOCK, 179 Broadway, Schenectady, N. Y.

IOWA STATE FAIR AND EXPOSITION

DES MOINES, AUGUST 22-31
Iowa's Sixty-Third Annual Exposition of Industry and Resources

CONSIDER A FEW OF THE NUMEROUS FEATURES that help to make the IOWA STATE FAIR the most perfectly-balanced and the most thoroughly enjoyable of any and all the great expositions of agriculture and livestock in the country.

THE MOST BEAUTIFUL EXHIBIT

At the State Fair last year was the great HORN OF PLENTY pouring forth its mighty tide of GOLDEN CORN, symbolic of Iowa's right to be called THE LAND OF PLENTY. Will be reproduced again this year in all its glory.

THE AGRICULTURAL BUILDING

Will be a great exposition in itself, alone and apart from all else, with its exhibits of field, orchard and garden. County Exhibits, individual farm exhibits, displays of grains, grasses, vegetables, fruits, flowers, etc., etc.

IOWA'S OWN GREAT STOCK SHOW

Iowa is the center of the meat-producing territory and, naturally, owners of purebred stock from all over the country plan to show at the IOWA FAIR. Will be greater than ever this year because of unusually prosperous conditions in the livestock world.

THE IOWA HEN AND HER FAMILY

Will attend the fair this year in a body. Last year they laid more than 1,000,000 DOZEN eggs. This year they expect to beat even that record, but several thousand of them will take a vacation and attend the BIGGEST POULTRY SHOW OF THE YEAR IN IOWA.

A TRACTOR SHOW AND DEMONSTRATION

That will make any and all shows of the kind held in Des Moines in other years look like cheap imitations. More than thirty different styles and models of tractors will be on exhibition and put through their paces.

HUNDREDS OF OTHER FEATURES OF INTEREST—County Agricultural Exhibits—Highway Commission Exhibits—Domestic Science Exhibits—School Exhibits—Boys' Judging Contests—Livestock Parades—Individual Farm Exhibits—Home Canning Club Work—Horticultural Exhibits—Industrial Exhibits—State Institutions Exhibit—Wild Game Exhibits—etc., etc., etc.

Watch This Space in a Coming Issue: It Will Tell You All About the Best Entertainment Program Offered at any Iowa State Fair

MUCH PUREBRED STOCK GOING TO STATE FAIR

The extraordinary conditions prevailing in the live stock industry presage another record-breaking show of purebred stock at the coming state fair. There never was quite such a general and widespread interest in purebred animals of all kinds as there is at the present time, nor was the breeding industry ever resting upon more stable foundations. The outlook is rosy enough to please the most pessimistic, and the gospel of pure blood is being spread to the farthest corners of the country.

Iowa is not only what might be called the geographical center of the great meat-producing territory, but breeders of the state own more purebred horses, cattle and swine by far than those of any other state in the Union. No other state fair is so popular with breeders, and no other state fair even pretends to put on a stock show to compare with the magnificent displays of priceless animals to be seen each year at the Iowa Fair.

HERE'S AN EXHIBIT THAT'S GOING TO MAKE A HIT WITH POULTRY GROWERS.

Tons and tons of advice—and that means a good deal, for much of it is pretty light—have been preached, peddled and promulgated of late concerning the poultry industry. Growers have been told that it is the simplest matter in the world to double their output of poultry and poultry products, and have been urged to DO IT NOW! Some of the advice has been all right and some of it has been altogether rotten, as many a practical poultryman will cheerfully testify. Any man who uses his head for thinking purposes knows that the poultry output cannot be doubled, or even greatly increased, hot off the bat, and all such talk is pure bunk.

The average poultry grower in Iowa and other states is already producing to the capacity of his equipment, and to overdo the matter in poultry growing is to invite speedy disaster in a dozen ways—which is another fact the seasoned poultryman will swear to. This roost-in-the-free system, attempting to grow poultry minus both experience and equipment, is plain business idocy.

The duty of the hour is to properly care for the season's hatch. That is job enough for the present. Then if preparations are made next fall and winter, in the way of poultry houses and other equipment, next Spring the output CAN be doubled, or at least greatly increased. What Iowa needs today first of all is more and better poultry houses and modern equipment. Knowledge will come thru experience.

Mr. Joseph Dagie, President of the Iowa State Poultry Breeders' Association, which, by the way, is a branch of the American Poultry Association, believes that more satisfactory loads can be hauled if the horse is hitched before the cart instead of at the other end, as some over-enthusiastic persons would have it. He has worked out a plan in co-operation with the state fair management that is so practical and well-stocked with educational value that good results are certain to follow.

A modern sanitary poultry house and runs will be built near the Poultry Building. It will be fully equipped with incubators, brooders, hatching rooms, roosting rooms and all the rest of it, everything needful to carrying on the business after businesslike methods. A practical poultryman, one who knows the game in all its ramifications from fighting lice to banking the profits, will be in charge, ready at all times to explain, elucidate, demonstrate or do anything else asked for the enlightenment of the layman.

The plant itself will be constructed by the Permanent Building Society, which organization includes all the clay working plants in the state, brick, tile, block, terra cotta, etc. The plant will be equipped with appa-tus and stocked with poultry by the State Poultry Breeders' Association. It will be one of the most complete and practical exhibits ever put on for the benefit of state fair visitors, and will probably furnish more real information than a train load of literature and hot air. By all means go into the poultry business, but go into it right—and here will be the opportunity to learn the right way.

SEE THE CANNING DEMONSTRATIONS.

The Ames College building on the state fair grounds will be headquarters for the food conservation movement that has taken such a hold on everybody. For ten days the state fair grounds will be a great food efficiency camp of the most practical sort. Lecturers and expert demonstrators from Ames and Washington will be in charge to explain the newest and most efficient methods of preparing food-stuffs of all kind for future use.

The hot pack, the cold pack, sugared and sugarless methods of preserving, pickling, canning and drying, the entire list will be demonstrated every day of the fair. For some time past the government experts have been following a line of experimentation in dry-curing all kinds of vegetables. Their efforts have proved successful and the experts from Washington will exploit their newly-acquired and proven ideas at the fair.

The canning season has always been one of strenuous exertion and worry for the housewife, but the new methods employed have robbed it of its terrors. The housewife no longer has to kill herself off with the heat and strenuousness of it and then live in constant fear that everything she has "put up" will spoil. The world certainly "do move," in housekeeping arrangements as well as in other affairs, as the fair visitor will discover through the medium of these canning demonstrations.

COLLEGE BUILDING WILL BE CENTER OF INTEREST.

The Ames College Building will be a lively and interesting spot during the state fair. Expert demonstrators and lecturers from both Ames and Washington will hold forth there and exploit the newest and best methods of saving meats, vegetables and fruits for future use.
