NEW BUSINESS ENTERPRISE.

Our city has been favored this year with some good and substantial business enterprises that are doing well and enjoying good business. The best one perhaps is The Superior Auto Co., headed by J. H. Spriggs, F. Adams, Chas. Stewart and Mr. Wagner. They built a new building and are doing a large business. The American Co-Operative Company recently organized and incorporated has opened a large first class dry goods, groceries and notion store near the corner of Ninth and Center streets, where they are enjoying a good trade of both races. This company is operated and managed by J. L. Shelton, J. G. Brown, E. T. Blagburn, W. H. Humboldt, J. B. Morris and several others are interested.

This store merits the support of every colored person.

The Stop Inn cafe is another new business just opened on Eleventh and Center streets with a first class up to date cafe, which is enjoying a large trade.

Mr. E. Winn's new second hand store is another new venture which is proving a great success to the business interests of the colored man. There has been several panitoriums and barber shops opened up here this year.

The Bystander wishes for each of them a prosperous business. It is the real duty of our colored people to trade with those people and boost their business so they will be able to employ our girls and boys in these places of business.

HEADQUARTERS RESERVE OFFICERS' TRAINING CORPS

(Prairie View State Normal & Industrial College, Prairie View, Texas. Sept. 17, 1919.

To the Editor, Des Moines Bystander, Des Moines, Iowa,

My dear Mr. Thompson:

I have just noticed in your paper mention of my transfer to this station, and thinking of the many pleasant hours spent in your city, due to the great hospitality of the Des Moines people, I thought they would probably appreciate a line or two of information about the institution, as well as my work here. The state of Texas should be complemented for the work it is doing in the elevation and the fitting of Negro youths to take their places as useful citizens of this great nation.

The institution has a land area of between 1,500 and 1,800 acres, beautifully situated on a hill about two miles from the station at Prairie View; most of its buildings constructed of brick; and an enrollment of about 600 students, to date. As school has just begun, it is only fair to believe this number will be increased in the near future.

In addition to a curriculum that embraces the literary sciences, and also a commercial course, many industrial trades and professions are taught. Some are mentioned here, viz: Auto mechanics, in all its phases, blacksmithing, including wheelwright work, broom-making, electrical engineering, hat making, carpentry and cabinet making, mattress making, shoe making, and tailoring, household economies: Cooking and sewing. A steam laundry with all modern machinery and appliances is operated for the accommodation of all persons connected with the school, and for practical training of young people who desire to take up this class of work. We have also a college course, at the successful completion of which, degrees are conferred.

A full agricultural course is given, treating on horticulture, dairying, stock raising, and veterinary science. An ice plant is also maintained at the school.

The head of the institution (principal) is Dr. J. G. Osborne, a Negro of sterling quality, high ambition, great efficiency, and a Christian gentleman, in whom, one who has had experience in executive work, can readily see, and appreciate the one great necessary requisite, leadership.

The faculty and teacher force consists of men and women who have the interest of their people at heart, and are showing that the confidence placed in them by the state of Texas is well merited. They hail from some of the best institutions of learning in the country, viz: Ames, Amherst, Boston Technical, Columbia, Harvard, Howard, University of Illinois, University of Kansas, University of Minnesota, University of Pennsylvania, and many others too numerous to mention.

A well regulated hospital is maintained, and several young ladies are being trained in nursing.

It is gratifying indeed, to see all of this administrative work fully in the hands of Negroes; to see a large electrical plant furnishing power, heat, and light for the entire institution under the full control of one of our race.

Dr. W. B. Bizzell (white) is president of this and three white schools of this state. He is righteously proud of P. V., and a real friend of our race. All of the Texans (white) with whom I have talked, are deeply interested, and very proud of the school, and those who are connected with it, enjoy the respect and confidence of the people of this locality.

The R. O. T. C. work which the undersigned has in charge promises to be successful. Enrolled in this work, to date, 185, out of whom we hope to make suitable material for the officer personnel of the military forces of the great nation on earth. I am exceedingly proud of the honor of being one of the teachers in this great institution of useful education, and am sure I am the recipient of your very sincere wishes and prayers for ultimate success.

With best wishes for the excellent health of yourself and family, I am Very truly yours, C. C. COOPER, Captain Infantry.

He is survived by his mother, Mrs. Harriet Tyler of Burlington; two sons, Leon and George, Jr., of Burlington; one sister, Mrs. Mary Hickey of St. Paul, one brother, Charles Tyler of St. Paul, and two nephews, Homer Orange of Chicago and Harold Orange of Burlington.

Fifteen grade and high school boys met at the home of Howard Nelson and organized a social club. The officers are: Charles Powers, president; Odell Smith, vice president; Cecil Ridour, secretary and Howard Nelson, treasurer. They are planning for many good times. We wish them success. Their first social pleasure was a surprise party given on Miss Geraldine Baker last Tuesday evening at her home. Nice refreshments were served and a pleasant evening was spent by all. Miss Lola Wyatt of Ft. Madison, was an out of town guest.

The next time the boys give a social or party of any kind they will see that the refreshments are inside and the back door is locked. Master Charles Hedge and Quinten Palmer were considered too young to belong to the club so they have taken a vow to play even with the boys. They only took one brick of ice cream and half of one cake.

Mrs. Goldie Clark gave a musical and drill last Friday evening at the parsonage for the benefit of the pastor. It was a grand success. Twenty ladies looked very pretty all in white and carrying flags. Mr. Ollie folko was drill-master.

Mr. Ben Humphrey, formerly of Burlington was a visitor in the city a few days last week. He was en route from Omaha, Neb., to St. Louis, Mo.

Mrs. S. Edwards and Miss Alice Smith spent last Sunday in Monmouth, Ill.

Influenza.
Recurrences are characteristic of influenza epidemics, and the history of the last pandemic and previous ones would seem to point to the conclusion that this one has not yet run its full course. On the other hand, this epidemic has already shown three more or less distinct phases and has been more severe, at least in mortality, than the three year epidemic of 1889-1892—facts which justify the hope but not the conclusion, that it has run its course already. I firmly believe in hoping for the best, but being prepared for the worst.

While some of us are trying to argue ourselves clear of an epidemic this fall and winter, occasional cases are being developed in different communities, which can not help but give us concern as to the ultimate outcome.

The fact that a previous attack brings immunity in a certain percentage of cases should allay fear on the part of those afflicted in the previous epidemic. In looking up the tables and compilation of statistics I find that the last year's epidemic agrees in a great way with the influenza epidemic of 1889. Since this is true and if it returns again by studying what has been, we will have some basis, however, probably imperfect; upon which to direct our energies to fight this dreaded plague.

The percentage of the population attacked varied from 15 per cent in Louisville to 54.3 per cent in San Antonio, Tex., the aggregate for the whole being grouped about 28 per cent. This agrees with scattered observations in the first phase of 1889-1890 epidemic.

The case incidence was found to be uniformly highest in children from 5 to 14 years old, and progressively lower in each higher age group. It was slightly higher in females than in males of corresponding age; usually higher in the white than the colored population.

The ratio of pneumonia cases to total population varied from 5.3 cases per 1,000 in Spartanburg, S. C., to 24.6 per 1,000 in the smaller towns of Maryland. The ratio of deaths to population varied from 1.9 per 1,000 in Spartanburg to 6.8 in Maryland towns. The death rate was notably high in children under 1 year of age, in adults from 20 to 40 and in persons over 60; higher in males than females of comparable ages; higher among the whites than the colored.

The prompt recognition of the early cases and their effective isolation should be aimed at. In this connection I again as in my previous article, call your attention to the fact that the cases may appear to be just ordinary colds.

I shall through these articles, attempt to keep my readers medically or otherwise new developments medically or otherwise concerning influenza. Shall discuss another phase of this disease in my next paper. In the meantime my most earnest request is that you above everything else co-operate with your physician and health authorities in every way they advise in order that we may have a united front to combat this dreaded disease.
