A NEGRO COUNTESS!

Miss Josephine Baker, affectionately known as "The Darling of Paris," and formerly a member of the Shuffle Along Company, has married Count De Albertini, a Roman Count of proven royal descent.

CHAS. P. HOWARD, Attorney

Des Moines people will remember Miss Baker as the tall "End Lady" with the Shuffle Along Company, capable of twisting her face and form in so many ridiculous shapes.

The marriage of an American girl to a European of royal descent is generally the source of wide spread social comment in America, but the White Press has religiously refrained from discussing Miss Baker's wedding to the Count.

It has for many years been the ambition of wealthy, blue-blooded, socially distinguished American mothers to marry their daughters off to European titles. I don't get the idea but if this class of people go to the ends they do to accomplish it, then Josephine's feat by her own little lonesome must be all right.

As far as I am able to discover Miss Baker is the first American Negro girl to become a regular "Honest-to-goodness Countess."

When the Vanderbilts, Astors, Morgans and similar groups spend their vacations in Europe and royalty assemblies, Josephine will be there and they won't dare snub "Countess D. Albertini."

Troops Follow N. Carolina Mob

Morgantown, N. C., June 30.—During the wildest excitement, chases, rumors and everything to fan the flames of race hatred, two companies of N. C. National Guard keeping pace the furtive members of a would be mob seeking the blood of a Negro and a third regiment in readiness to pounce on the mobbers to suppress their activity.

It is claimed that nearly 3,000 men and boys are searching swamps, woods, hills and valleys in an effort to find Broadus Milor, alleged to have assaulted a young white woman.

Thursday night the mob was at fever heat when a riot call bell was sounded and men rushed to the scene with the hope of seeing the lynching bee. But Miller had not been found, and the national guard were on hand. The men stealthily slunk in to the woods and quietly disappeared.

Officials of the National Guard declare that North Carolina will not be disgraced with another outbreak of mob violence.

Indianapolis, June 23—Delivering the keynote address last night at the opening mass meeting in Caleb Mills Hall, of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, now in 18th Annual Conference here, Judge Ira W. Jayne of the Wayne County Circuit Court, Detroit, and a member of the Association's Board of Directors, voiced his hope in the Negro's struggle for equal opportunity in America.

"I am not yet ready to believe that the majority of my fellow men, that is my white fellow men, have had their sense of justice eaten away by the canker of race prejudice," declared Judge Jayne. "I believe that in the hearts and minds of a multitude of your fellow white citizens similarly situated, alike in everything but color, there is an abiding sense of justice which may be successfully aroused."

Alexander Speaks at NAACP Meet

DIRECTOR OF INTERRACIAL COMMISSION ADDRESSES RACE CONFERENCE

Indianapolis, June 25—Declaring that a new South has come into being, directed largely by businessmen, many of whom are turning to the Republican Party, Dr. Will W. Alexander, of Atlanta, Director of the Commission on Interracial Relations, last night addressed the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People now in 18th Annual Conference here.

"The new leaders of industry in the South are hardly conscious of the race question at all," said Dr. Alexander. "To them it is a labor question and an industrial question. They are preoccupied as the rest of the nation is in making money. With them the hot spot in their thinking is neither the race problem, politics, or fundamentalism; it is business. They do not get excited over the race problem except as it might affect industry. They are willing to listen with minds open and go at least as far as the best interests of industry demand."

Colleges Studying Race Relations
"The most obvious change which is taking place in the South with relation to the race problem is the intelligent interest of many college teachers, college students and thoughtful people generally. In the old days there was much talk but little study. In nearly 100 colleges courses of study on various phases of the race problem are now in the regular curriculum. Thousands of students are working and writing on these themes and an exhaustive examination of these papers from all parts of the South reveals that they are thoughtful, honest and liberal."

"The churches in the South, I refer to white churches have in the past been silent. This silence is being broken. Two great Southern denominations are today working out fairly well."

MISS JOSEPHINE BAKER

Masons Here In 1928

The large delegation of representatives of the three auxiliary departments of the Des Moines Negro Prince Hall Masons, the O. E. S., the Royal Arch and the Knights Templar, returned last evening from a four-day convulse in Cedar Rapids, where they succeeded in capturing for Des Moines not only the joint convulse for 1928, but also the heads of these three departments for the ensuing year.

Mrs. John L. Thompson, was re-elected Grand Matron of the O. E. S. for Iowa and Jurisdiction, which includes a part of Minnesota; Branham N. Hyde was elevated to the office of Grand High Priest of Royal Arch Masons and W. C. Rhodes was elevated to the office of Grand Commander of the Knights Templar of the Iowa Jurisdiction which includes a portion of Nebraska, as well as Minnesota.

Other Des Moines representatives honored at the convulse were: Mrs. Rubenia Harper, appointed Deputy Grand Matron; Mrs. Helen Henry, appointed Warder; Mrs. Mattie Warricks, appointed Grand Electa and John L. in the O. E. S.; C. C. Johnson, S. Joe Brown, and J. A. Wilson, elected Thompson appointed Grand Attorney Grand Generalissimo, Grand Recorder and Grand Guard, respectively in the Knights Templar Conclave; and W. A. Hammers, J. W. Rhodes elected Grand King and Grand Treasurer respectively, in the Royal Arch Convocation.

Plan To Go To Local Churches
It suggests the appointment of a special commission to thrash out the legal problems in connection with property rights. The plan calls for the organic commission's report to be sent first to the board of bishops of each church connection, and then with their approval and revisions to the General Conference of the A. M. E. in Chicago and the A. M. E. Zion in St. Louis in 1928. Following the action taken in these conferences the amended and approved plan is to then go to the various conferences, quarterly conferences and local churches in the two church organiza-

Leaders of Two A. M. E. Churches Meet; Discuss Merger Plans

Pittsburgh, Pa., June 30—At the joint session of the bishops of the A. M. E. and the A. M. E. Zion churches held in Avery Mission Temple, the city, Friday June 24th, a report of the joint commission on organic union of the A. M. E. and A. M. E. Zion churches was read by Dr. John R. Hawkins, financial secretary of the A. M. E. Church and secretary of the joint commission.

Report Greeted With Applause
At the conclusion of the reading of the section referring to the name of merged church organization—the United Methodist Episcopal Church—a prolonged storm of applause was given the more than 2,000 persons attending the meeting. The tentative plan for the episcopal districts was roundly applauded, as well as suggestion for allocation of officers for the first four years of the proposed organization.

Stupendous Commercial Transaction
This movement is regarded by many as the biggest concerted organization effort ever undertaken by Negroes. Fully one and one-half million members will be involved. The transaction will affect over 10,000 individual church organizations representing a real estate value of nearly $36,000,000 and involving the handling of nearly $7,000,000 annually. The territorial scope of the organization is worldwide, including the United States, Canada, Mexico, South America, Africa, and the Islands of the Sea. The proposed merger is one of the biggest pieces of legal business ever executed by Negroes. The handling of various individual church charters, transferring deeds and property rights of the two organizations into the new one offers Negro lawyers throughout the world unprecedented legal work.

Keep Floors Beautiful

Beautiful floors are largely a matter of prevention—the great secret is to put them in perfect condition—and then keep them that way. Doorways, passages and tracks become worn and unsightly first. You can keep these spots looking well by waxing them frequently—this requires but little time and effort if a good quality of prepared wax and floor polishing brush are used.

Banning Names Ship after Home Town

Claims Feather-Weight Championship

Des Moines has the only claimant of the World's Colored Featherweight Title in the person of Emmett Thomas as Ansel Beel former featherweight champion has retired. Thomas is 21 fights and has never taken the count, and offers to fight any 126 pounder in the ring today. Thomas' record shows he has fought Prince Saunders, Geo. Savage, Jimmie Raymond, Sammy White and many other boys. Chuck Smith is now guiding his destiny and can be located at 318 Seventh St., Des Moines, Iowa. Report all news for the Sport's Editor by Wednesday Morning, at 9:00 A. M. Come to the office with your articles, the stenographer will type them if your English is too limited or you are too lazy.

Herman Banning, of Ames came to Des Moines Tuesday and purchased an aeroplane which he has christened "Miss Ames". He plans to enter the flying game immediately.

Mr. Banning formerly operated a garage in Ames which was recently destroyed by fire. He is an experienced mechanic and had built up a splendid business in Ames. He is one of the few Negroes in America who are in the flying game.

Harris Makes Third Sunday Afternoon

Daredevil Harris made his third parachute jump at the old Fisher field East 30th and Scott Sts., Sunday afternoon. His performance was highly successful. A large crowd gathered to see him.

Fish Praises Negro Troops

Indianapolis, June 24.—Speaking last night in Caleb Mills Hall before a mass meeting of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People now in 18th Annual Conference here, Congressman Hamilton Fish, Jr., launched into a vigorous attack upon those who had impugned the courage and loyalty of the Negro soldier in the war, including in his denunciation General Bullard. Congressman Fish himself commanded colored troops at the front during the war.

Wounds Sweetheart; Kills Himself

Rosemary, N. C.—June 30, 1927.—Buddie Clark, Jr., age 23, shot his sweetheart here. After leaving her home he walked back a short distance to his home and shot himself, dying instantly. The woman is in Roanoke hospital and will probably recover.

The Grand Lodge, K. of P. and Grand Court of Calantha, Jurisdiction of Iowa, are holding their annual meeting at St. Paul A. M. E. Church, June 28th to 30th, inclusive. The opening sessions were held Tuesday and on Tuesday evening the public reception was held at St. Paul Church. A large delegation is in attendance. Officers report the lodge order in better condition than ever before.

Gray Testifies Against Heise in N. Y. Court

New York City, June 30—Edward Gray testified that Augustus Heise assistant prohibition administrator, had promised appointment as a dry agent if he would obtain evidence warranting dismissal of three Negro prohibition agents on Heise's staff.

Gray said that the evidence that he was asked to get was to be used against the three Negro agents who are among four prohibition agents on trial on a charge of conspiring to obtain bribes. Heise has already admitted to the court that he is guilty of the application of the "third degree" methods.

WHITES FIRE AT NEGROES WHEN WHITE WOMEN MINGLE

(Preston News Service)

Little Rock, Ark., June 28.—Tuesday night Johnnie Johnson was killed and Robert Allen was wounded and arrested following a clash between officers, bystanders, and white mobsters.

It is said that the trouble started when Johnson and Allen appeared for a rendezvous with two white women on East Second Street near the Rock Island viaduct. White men suspected that the women were meeting the Negroes and are said to have forced the women to notify the police that they expected the Negro men. Officers accosted the men when they stepped from their auto at the appointed place.

It is reported that Johnson argued with the officers and opened fire and was killed. A large crowd of white men gathered almost immediately and are said to have begun firing. It is believed that the bullets from the guns of the mob killed Johnson, wounded Allen and two of the officers.

The coroner's verdict was that Johnson met his death at the hands of an officer of the law while resisting arrest. Police say that they are looking for the persons who fired at random into the crowd. No arrests have been made, however. It is also reported that Allen is still in jail and no charge has been or will be preferred against him. He, however, it is understood, has been advised that he will be kept in jail for safe-keeping for a few days. And when he is released he is advised by officers to leave Little Rock as he might easily become the victim of a riot or lynching.

Derivation of Hangar

Hangar is an old French word, applied in cognate districts to the barn-like structures with a roof and open sides; used as rough shelter for stacks, grain and the like. It was in France that the problem of aircraft was first taken up generally, and so when they were naturally named after the nearest thing they resembled—the "hangars" of the French farmyards.

POLITICAL STROKES

The presidential election is more than a year off and yet there are some pretty definite indications pointing to what will happen in November, 1928. Coolidge is strong—stronger than some leaders will admit. He will go back to Washington in the fall with a program which will satisfy a large number of farmers—all of them can't be thus assuring another victory for him.

Some of our mid-western friends have been told that if Al Smith gets the democratic nomination the South would not support him. How silly; the one thing which holds the party together in the dear old South, the backbone of the party, its antipathy toward the Negro. If a dog gets the democratic nomination he will be elected. That's how such men as Blease and Pat Harrison stay in office. There is going to be a real battle on within the democratic ranks and in November.

The Negro in History

By J. G. Browne

If one will take the pains to study and know the records made by black men and women in America, long before the shackles of bondage were ever struck from the slaves, amidst the bloody conflict of 1861-1865; it is not to know the better, the perjury, and deceitful lying of the perpetrators of human slavery. White people cannot truthfully say they had no way to know the Negroes possibilities or capabilities, nor can they say that such achievements as Negroes have made are the result of mixed blood.

While the Colonies were subject to Africa in America were slaves or the Great Britain the descendants of African children of slaves, and except in very few cases, they had little or no traces of white blood in their veins. A few generations before the Revolutionary War, a respectable minister of ability, Morgan Godwyn had written a book to prove that the Negro could not be used as a beast of burden without causing remorse of conscience. It was about this time or shortly thereafter that Phillis Wheatley was brought from Africa in 1761, at the age of seven years, and sold in the streets of Boston, as a slave to Mr. John Wheatley, who desired her as a personal attendant for his wife. She was a native born African girl, torn from her home ten thousand miles distant, with an old piece of carpet forming her only dress. Her frequent attempts to make letters upon the walls with chalk were noticed by a daughter of education, the ease and rapidity with which Phillis learned astonished them and she was not allowed to associate with the other servants. She mastered the language in sixteen months; carried on an extensive and elegant correspondence at 12 years of age; composed her first poem at fourteen, became a proficient Latin scholar at seventeen and an author at nineteen, when she published her first collection of poems. An edition of her poems published in Boston in 1774 a card was attached "We whose names are underwritten do assure the world that the poems specified in the following pages were written by Phillis, a young Negro girl, who was bought an uneducated barbarian from Africa." After the death of her benefactors, Phillis married John Peters a journeyman baker, a free man of intellectual ability. Three children were born to them but all died in infancy.

On December 5, 1784 Phillis passed to the great beyond, but not before Providence had proved that environment and opportunity work the same wonders on a black savage from the tropics of Africa that they do on the Nordic's of cultured Boston.

In the latter part of the Seventeenth Century a black prince arrived on the shores of the Chesapeake Bay, by compulsion, not by choice; he was brought here a slave. He was no ordinary man, he clung to his heathen gods and refused to work for those who had him in control, he was of noble mien, dignified and possessed rare intelligence, even retaining to the last the name which he brought with him from Africa—Banaka—Baneker.

The year in which William Penn made his permanent settlement on the banks of the Delaware, an English peasant woman, having accidentally spilled a can of milk—so the story goes—was charged with and found guilty of stealing. She was transported to Maryland, where she was bound to service for seven years, a mild sentence, because she could read. She saved her money and bought a small farm, on which she subsequently placed Baneker, though he would not work, touched the heart of Molly Welch who liberated and married him. Four children were born to this union, one of whom, Mary Baneker married about the year 1730 to Robert a native African who was given his freedom on being baptized in the Episcopal faith. Robert like many more of his race did not take the name of the white people who claimed him a slave, but called himself Baneker, after his wife, the daughter of the African prince. Their oldest son, Benjamin Baneker, was born November 9, 1731, just three months before George Washington. In 1737 his father purchased a hundred acre farm ten miles from Baltimore, at that time a village of less than thirty houses, thus started Benjamin Baneker in the forest primeval.

The Query Box

J. G. Browne

1. How many Negroes fought with Perry in the battle on Lake Erie; and where in the United States is the Negro past in this engagement commemorated in art?

2. Was there any just cause for speculation as to what colored soldiers would do under black officers in battle, during the world war?

3. Where was African slavery first introduced in America?

4. When and where did the first signs of social life appear in the American Negro?

5. What government pioneered in the abolition of the slave trade, and what other governments followed in chronological order?

Pioneer in District

The first white man authentically known to have set foot on the soil of the District of Columbia was Capt. Henry Fleet, an English mariner and trader, who made an expedition up the Potomac in 1682 to buy beaver furs from the Indians. He anchored six miles below the falls of the Potomac.

They are located at the Commodore Hotel, 1100 Center and on the first telephone pole in the 200 block on South Union. In doing this Roy has made it possible at all hours to enjoy Rogers Taxi service to be second to none in Des Moines. Brains of Men and Women
The brain of man is usually heavier than that of woman, although at birth and at the age of fourteen the female brain is heavier. The average weight of the adult male's brain is about 4 1/2 ounces and of the female about 4 1/8 ounces. Weight of brains, however, has no direct relation with intelligence.

Electrical Heat
The bureau of standards says that large carbon filament lamps are probably still made in small quantities for heating purposes. They are used in so-called "cozy glow" or "radiant glow" bathroom heaters. Wire resistance units are now very generally used instead of lamps. Such lamps are called "heater lamps."

Electric Insect
A strange phenomenon of nature is an electric caterpillar, found in Nigeria, which feeds on mistletoe flowers. A tingling sensation, distinctly resembling an electric shock, was felt by a collector while handling them, although the insects had no bristles or other protrusions that would cause irritation.

Adjustment in Charges For Long Distance Telephone Calls Within Iowa

Effective June 21

An adjustment in charges for long distance telephone calls handled over the lines of the Northwestern Bell Telephone Company between points in Iowa, will become effective on June 21.

Although the changes to be made are not material and will affect less than 20 percent of all Iowa long distance calls, we are taking this means of informing you regarding them, as it is our aim to let the public know at all times what we are doing and why.

This adjustment will involve considerable reductions for some of the greater distances and small increases for some of the shorter distances. The reductions will be more as the distance is greater and also will be more for person-to-person than for station-to-station calls. At 195 miles person-to-person calls will be reduced 35 cents and day station-to-station calls 15 cents. Where increases are made, the maximum increase for both station-to-station and person-to-person calls will be only 5 cents, except for a few person-to-person calls on which the increase will be 10 cents.

The adjustment is being made to bring about an improvement in the relation between the long haul and short haul rates. Existing rates for the longer distances are relatively too high under present conditions and those for some of the shorter distances slightly too low. The changes are not being made for the purpose of increasing the Company's revenue.

For distances up to 30 miles there will be no change in long distance rates. On person-to-person calls there will be a decrease for some distances between 80 and 96 miles while beyond 96 miles all rates will be reduced. On such calls for distances between 30 and 80 miles there is either a small increase or no change.

On station-to-station calls the decreases will be effective for some distances between 112 and 152 miles and for all calls for distances beyond 152 miles. The increases will be effective for some distances between 30 and 112 miles.

Following are a few examples showing the old and new charges for long distance calls from this exchange:

To	Old Rate	New Rate
ATLANTIC
Person-to-Person	$.70	$.75
Station-to-Station Day	.50	.55
COUNCIL BLUFFS
Person-to-Person	$1.20	$1.05
Station-to-Station Day	.85	.85
DAVENPORT
Person-to-Person	$1.55	$1.25
Station-to-Station Day	1.10	1.00
NEVADA
Person-to-Person	$.35	$.40
Station-to-Station Day	.25	.30
SIoux CITY
Person-to-Person	$1.45	$1.25
Station-to-Station Day	1.05	1.00

Our Manager will be pleased to furnish you complete information regarding this adjustment in long distance telephone charges.

In Switzerland a house hidden beneath the water of a lake for years is now gradually reappearing. It is presumed that the plumber has found the leak.

Bumpered

Said a medical man: "I was house surgeon in a well-known asylum, and one day had some difficulty in getting a telephone number. The operator said something which I did not quite like. I asked, 'Do you know to whom you are talking?' 'No,' came the voice over the wire—but I know where you are!"
