Brown Gets Warm Reception at Campaign Meetings

The interest in the Brown for Judge Campaign continues to increase as the primary approaches. Both East and West side "Brown for Judge" club held enthusiastic meetings the one at Bethel A. M. E. Church and the other at Community Center, last Saturday evening.

On last Monday noon by arrangement of Harry E. Wilson, who is one of the chief accountants at the home office of the Manhattan Oil Co., at West 9th and Murphy Sts., he addressed the entire office and factory force of the Manhattan Oil Co., that same evening he appeared with four other judicial candidates before the South Side Club of East Des Moines on Tuesday evening he addressed the South East Des Moines Club. On Wednesday evening he addressed a women's meeting at Community Center, managed by Mesdames Mac Pide and Maude Woods. On Friday during the noon hour he appeared before the entire shop force of the Rock Island Railway Co., at Valley Junction, many of whom are voters in Des Moines, which meeting was arranged by Mr. C. C. Brown and at which the glee club under the direction of Mrs. Sadie Thomas, preceded the address with a fifteen minute concert at which they sang very effectively two campaign songs. On Saturday evening he addressed the one by Mrs. S. Joe Brown and the other by Miss Alta Davis. The outstanding event of the week however, was the monster "Brown for Judge Mass Meeting" held at St. Paul A. M. E. Church, Thursday evening under the auspices of the West Side Club, at which Noble F. Gray is president and at which the glee club sang and the ladies concert band under the direction of C. L. Washington, played and the members of our group were given an opportunity to see and hear all the other candidates as well as our own.

WEST SIDE ORGANIZES FOR BROWN

On Saturday evening, Feb. 4th, at a meeting held at the Community Center at the call of Capt. H. E. Wilson, general organizer, a number of enthusiastic supporters met and organized the West Side Brown for Judge club, electing the following officers: N. F. Gray, president; J. W. Shep-

More Fraud Found in Bank Failure

Memphis, Tenn., Feb. 18.—(PNS)—Although State Banking department representatives believe evidence of fraud against other Memphis Negroes not under arrest is as strong as that which resulted in the arrest of four officers of the Fraternal & Solvent Bank & Trust Company, state officials can take no action until an audit has been completed of pass books still outstanding.

It is estimated that at the conclusion of the audit a total shortage of $500,000 will be found and that criminal proceedings will be taken against four others in addition to those already arrested, either directly or indirectly connected with the bank's failure.

Classed as one of the worst bank failures in the State of Tennessee's history of misused funds, theft or collateral and general disregard of all banking precedent has brought the institution into the unfavorable limelight as has no other in years past.

Mayor Walker at Theatre Opening

New York City, Feb. 18.—(PNS)—"This is a city where men are measured by their achievements," declared Mayor James J. Walker in an address at the opening of the Princess Theatre in Harlem.

"This play tonight is an indication of the progress of the Negro group in our city. After all, no matter what the sinner is, the best we can do is just to be human. And this is a vindication of the progress of American government."

It is reported that Otto Kahn is aiding the Negro promoters in getting the theatre project under way successfully. The first play presented was "Week Mose," and was written and acted by an all colored cast. It is planned to make the Princess Theatre a Negro repertory house.

Tinkham Will Answer Swanson

New York, Feb. 18.—Representative George Holden Tinkham, of Massachusetts, has written to the N. A. C. P., to say he intends to reply to the speech of Senator Swanson of Virginia, who recently defended in the senate the means by which the southern states disfranchised the Negro.

"I am preparing a very careful and elaborate reply to Senator Swanson and Senator Swanson's defense of the nullification of the 14th and 15th amendments," writes Mr. Tinkham to the N. A. C. P. "As members of Congress have been quoting their statements, particularly those of Senator Swanson, they must be answered. Consequently I have postponed appearing before the Steering Committee until after I have delivered this statement, which will be the argument why it should be compulsory for Congress to act in the premises. I am planning upon the printing of my statement in pamphlet form and upon its wide distribution, not only to all the members of the house and senate, but to important newspapers, organizations and individuals in Washington and throughout the United States."

"They made it clear that it was a gesture of recognition that had received from the people of Britain, in a fine speech Mr. James B. Lowe (the 'Uncle Tom' in 'Uncle Tom's Cabin' film) reminded the audience of the fact that Florence Mills' charitable expeditions to the poor wanderers always to be found nightly on the Thames Embankment, had rightly and nobly inspired the thought of working a benefit for these other sufferers, rendered homeless by the flood."

N. C. Pastor, Alleged Father of Girl's Child Sues False Accuser

Raleigh, N. C., Feb. 18.—(PNS)—W. W. Rourke, well known in Raleigh and Greensboro, was released under $4,000 bond Wednesday following his arrest as a result of filing in Wake Superior Court a $25,000 slander suit by the Rev. O. S. Bullock, pastor of the First Baptist Church here, who claims that Rourke had charged him with being the father of an illegitimate child born to Rourke's sister-in-law, former secretary of the minister.

Charges and Counter-Charges Fly

The suit followed by a day a scheduled preliminary hearing of a slander charge made against the Rev. Bullock, pastor of the largest Negro church in the South. Though hearing was continued until Monday by Justice L. M. Waring on request of private prosecution, which set forth that the mother of the child was in no physical condition to appear. The defense counsel maintained at that time it was ready and anxious for a hearing and contended that there was present a witness, James Davis, who was ready to testify that he was the father of the child.

Arrest Rourke at Home

Rourke was arrested by deputies as he was about to leave his home in an automobile. His bond was first fixed at $5,000 but later reduced to $4,000. It was signed by Mrs. Fannie F. Evans, his mother-in-law and mother of the girl whose child has caused the trouble.

ELKS GRANTED SPECIAL DISPENSATION

Hawkeye Lodge No. 160 of I. B. P. O. E. W. met in regular session February 15, 1928, Exalted Ruler N. F. Gray presiding.

The Grand Exalted Ruler J. Finley Wilson has granted a special dispensation for a membership drive. The lodge expects to have one of the greatest initiations of its history in March of this year. The Bills are getting ready to entertain the Midwestern Association in May. N. F. Gray, E. R., is doing all in his power to get the boys ready to do their part as hosts to the antlered herds of Missouri, Nebraska, Kansas and Iowa.

Educational week, sponsored by the Elks, will be celebrated in April; there is plenty of work for energetic, progressive race men to do, in this franchise.

COLUMBUS WOMAN LAWYER PLEADS NOT GUILTY

Columbus, O., Feb. 18.—(PNS)—Miss Daisy Perkins, leading race woman attorney of Ohio, pleaded not guilty in Criminal Court here Wednesday, to an indictment charging subornation of perjury.

The charges were made in connection with the trial of Leon Knight, accused of murder. Attorney Perkins was accused of having induced a witness to change his testimony.

Churches Observe Race Relations Day

In compliance with the suggestion of the Committee on Race Relations of the Federal Council of Churches, a number of Des Moines churches and other religious organizations observed the Race Relations Week during the past week by inviting members of the Negro race to appear before white audiences and vice versa.

Sec. Gordon H. Kitchen of the Crocker St. Y. M. C. A. was speaker before the young people's society of Plymouth Congregational church; Rabbi Manheimer was principal speaker at the Crocker St. Y.; the vested choir of St. Paul's A. M. E. church, assisted by Vincent Weiss, Jack Smith and Atrell Jett, put on the entire program at the Cottage Grove Presbyterian Church; Mrs. Jessye E. McClain was speaker before the young people at Trinity Methodist Church; Atty. S. Joe Brown appeared before the Young People's Society of the Simpson M. E. church and also at the Vesper Services at the Cottage Grove church and Mrs. S. Joe Brown before the Young People's Societies of both the 1st Unitarian and the Union Park Methodist churches and Miss Doan of the other race was speaker before the Young Peoples' Society of the Corinthian Baptist church on Sunday.

On Monday evening Secretary Kitchen appeared before the Junior Hi "Y" club at Woodrow Wilson Junior High school and on Wednesday evening before Hi "Y" club at East High and on Thursday evening Attorney Brown appeared before the Hi "Y" club of North High school, making this the most generally observed of any Race Relations week in history.

PROMINENT SPEAKERS INVITED TO ADDRESS N. A. C. P. IN LOS ANGELES

New York, Feb. 18.—The program is now being arranged for the 19th Annual Conference in Los Angeles, June 26 to July 3, and the N. A. C. P. and people of national importance, as well as leading citizens of California are being asked to deliver addresses.

Among those to whom invitations are being sent are Lieutenant-Governor Pitts of California; Jane Adams of Chicago, founder and head of Hull House; the celebrated film star, Mary Pickford; and U. S. Senator Samuel Shortridge of California.

Process Inevitable

NEGRO ARTISTS GAVE BENEFIT FOR THAMES FLOOD SUFFERERS

New York, Feb. 18.—In a letter to the N. A. C. P., Lady Mary Cook tells of a benefit concert recently given by Negro artists in London in aid of sufferers from the Thames river floods. Lady Cook writes:

"They made it clear that it was a gesture of recognition that had received from the people of Britain, in a fine speech Mr. James B. Lowe (the 'Uncle Tom' in 'Uncle Tom's Cabin' film) reminded the audience of the fact that Florence Mills' charitable expeditions to the poor wanderers always to be found nightly on the Thames Embankment, had rightly and nobly inspired the thought of working a benefit for these other sufferers, rendered homeless by the flood."

N. A. C. P. SUPPORT BILLS TO COMMISSION NEGRO BANDMASTERS

New York, Feb. 18.—At the request of Warrant Officer, Wade Hammond, band leader of the 10th U. S. Cavalry, the N. A. C. P. is supporting two bills introduced in Congress, H. R. 481 in the house and senate 750, known as the "Army Bands Act," which would authorize making commissioned officers of the bandmasters. These bills, if enacted, would make possible the granting of commissions to the four Negro band leaders now in the U. S. Army.

N. A. C. P. OFFICERS TO GIVE RADIO SERIES ON RACE PROBLEM

New York, Feb. 18.—Three members of the staff of the N. A. C. P. are to give a series of talks over the radio on the Negro and race problems in this country, it was announced today. The three officers are James Weldon Johnson, secretary; Robert W. Bagnall, director of branches; and Herbert J. Seligmann, director of publicity, who will talk from Station WEDV, at 31 Union Square, New York. The station is maintained by the Debs Memorial Radio Fund.

The schedule of these addresses is as follows:

Tuesday, February 14, 9:15 P. M., Mr. Seligmann on "Disfranchisement of the Negro in the South."

Thursday, February 16, 9:15 P. M., Mr. Bagnall on "Negro Achievement in America."

Saturday, February 18, at 9:45 P. M., Mr. Johnson on "Negro Literature and Music."

At 10:35 P. M., Mr. Bagnall on "Segregation and Jim Crow."

Russia World in Itself

The areas controlled by Russia comprehend nearly every material natural resource of modern civilization—minerals of all kinds, base and precious; every variety of timber, excepting tropical; every character of cereals, vegetable and fruit lands—being as near to self-contained as any other power excepting the British empire.

Scot To Hold First Billiard Tournament

There will be a Billiard Tournament at G. M. Scott's Billiard Parlor, 1006 Center street, starting on Monday, February 20, 1928. This will be 100 points handicap straight rail. The following persons have entered the tournament: Newcomb, Lewis, Williams, Gillette, Watkins, Wyatt, Owens, Maxin, Solomon, Blagburn, Wakefield, Dixon, Earnest, Diggs, Young and Johnson.

Odd Monkey Specimen

One of the most interesting specimens in the world zoos was the monkey that didn't have a tail, in Australia. He was the most humane-like of all Old-world monkeys on exhibition. He did not have even the vestige of a rudimentary tail and his cry was a single wail, singularly like the cry of a child. He was all black except for a white frontal band over his eyes.

Rachel's Tomb

A protest was made to the governor of Jerusalem by the Jewish community council against granting a contract to Arabs to repair Rachel's tomb, which is four miles from the city, says the Pathfinder Magazine. This tomb, which has been venerated by the Jews for 5,000 years, was protected by the Crusaders with a small building crowned by a cupola. It has been restored many times.

On Building

He that alters an old house is 'tied as a translator to the original, and is confined to the fancy of the first builder. Such a man were unwise to pluck down good old building, to erect, perchance, worse new. But those that raise a new house from the ground are blameworthy if they make it not handsome, seeing to them method and confusion are both at a rate.—Thomas Fuller (1642).

Invention of Champagne

Dom Perignon, a Benedictine monk, who was appointed cellarer to his monastery in 1668, fell upon the idea of "marrying" the different wines produced in the vineyards around him. Champagne was the result.

Bridegroom Also Missing

An absent-minded professor failed to turn up at his daughter's wedding at a West End church. It didn't matter, for the bridegroom did the same thing!—Everybody's Weekly, London.

THE BANKER-FARMER MOVEMENT GROWING

There are several reasons for the growth of the banker-farmer movement in Pennsylvania. William S. McKay, Chairman of the Agricultural Committee, Pennsylvania Bankers Association, has reported to the Agricultural Commission of the American Bankers Association. The cooperation and leadership of the county agents in the several counties of the state; the appointment and functioning of county chairmen of agriculture known as Key Bankers, one of whom here is in each county of the state; and the organization of county bankers associations, whereby agriculture is given consideration by all the banks, are responsible for this interest. The following table shows the activities in the year:

Project	Number of Counties
Test young farmers to state college for special course	5
Encouraged farm shows	19
Field agricultural tours	6
Sponsored various club activities	25
Have illustrated lectures on poultry, cow testing, and improved farm methods	1
Distributed purebred livestock, chicks, and disease-free potatoes	13

"There is probably no class of business men that has a greater opportunity for helpfulness than the bankers in this movement," declares Mr. McKay. "It builds up a substantial community which makes for better banking institutions; it adds to the material prosperity of our state, but above all, it is the expression of a service which will react favorably upon the character of those interested."

BANKERS HELP OUT

The Oklahoma Bankers Association for the past twelve years has financed through its five groups ten scholars in the A. & M. College at Stillwater. The winners are chosen by the Extension Department of the college on the merits of the club work done by the boys and girls over a certain period of time. The groups of the association finance the first year of the winner's college work.

Naturally

When a girl engages herself to wed a poet, it is usually a mark of impracticality. Mary, however, showed that she had a level head on her shoulders when she announced her engagement to her employer. "So you're going to marry a poet!" he said. "Then I suppose you'll leave me." "Oh, no," Mary protested. "I don't intend to leave. But I'll need more salary."

Wonderful Evolution

Expressive of progressive evolution read: Rags make paper, paper makes money, money makes banks, banks make loans, loans make poverty, poverty makes rags. —You best fit!

Rev. Griffin, Former Des Moines Minister, Urges Brown's Election

Through the columns of your esteemed paper I want to congratulate the citizens of Des Moines on their good judgement in selecting Attorney S. Joe Brown as candidate for a judgeship on the Municipal bench, not because Brown is a Negro but because he is a capable and worthy man with character and intellectual fitness to serve in such capacity.

During the four years of residence in your city and while serving as pastor of St. Paul A. M. E. church I had ample opportunity and occasion to study Mr. Brown as churchman, citizen and lawyer. I can truthfully say that in all of these respects he proved himself a man worthy of the trust and confidence in any matter placed in his hands.

On more than one occasion I have had white men of the legal profession to remark to me "Brown knows more law than a majority of lawyers in town and if he was a white man he would fill some of the highest offices in the State of Iowa."

I am glad that the opportunity has come and that the right man has been selected to make the race. You are following along the same lines adopted by the backers of Judge Albert George in Chicago. The battle was half won when they selected a man who in every phase of his life was the equal of every other man placed on the ticket.

My only regret is that I am unable to be with you and help to put the job over and cast my vote with yours. I know the people of Des Moines. I know of your loyalty to every movement tending toward the public good and I know that you will stand true to your colors in honoring one who is worthy.

With best wishes for success, I am, Sincerely yours,
WILLIAM H. GRIFFIN,

SENATOR SWANSON'S ANSWER

On January 28th, Senator Swanson of Virginia in an elaborate article printed in the New York Times answers the critics of the south with regard to the enforcement of the 14th and 15th amendments. He cites many cases decided by the U. S. Supreme Court and one by the Supreme Court of Massachusetts to substantiate his contention that the matter of suffrage was left to be regulated by states except that no regulation could be made on the grounds of race, color or previous condition of servitude. He winds up with this nice little paragraph which attempts to justify the action of these states.

We have enacted laws providing for qualifications and requirements for voting which we deem necessary to protect ourselves from a class of voters whose introduction into politics has been most ruinous, not only to ourselves but to themselves and the entire country.

The senator might well have spent his time on some other line of reasoning for any writer today shows himself ignorant who contends that these courts have held otherwise or that is not the law. So far so good. His argument would be fine if it had been made fifty years ago but in this day of wonderful private and in many cases good public schools even in the south the number of Negroes prevented from voting because of lack of educational qualifications would not be large; with the millions accumulated by Negroes in the south in farms, homes and business establishments in the south the property qualification does not worry the Negro. He could vote in large numbers.

Then where is the trouble? It is the bull dog who stands at the polls, with orders not to let Negroes vote, and gets away with it. Knowing the existence of these conditions thousands of Negroes remain away from the polls rather than cause riot and bloodshed at every election. Let the south enforce even its own laws fairly and Negroes will vote in ample numbers.

THE NEGRO IN AMERICA

J. G. Browne

The Germans in Mercer county, Ohio, manifested the general feelings of the foreign element toward Negro migrants in the first half of the nineteenth century. This community registered its protest against the settling of Negroes by the following resolutions:

Resolved, "That we will not live among Negroes, as we have settled here first, we have fully determined that we will resist the settlement of blacks and mulattoes in this county to the full extent of our means, the bayonet not excepted."

Resolved, "That the blacks of this county be, and they are hereby respectfully requested to leave the country on or before the first day of March, 1847; and in the case of their neglect or refusal to comply with this request, we pledge ourselves to remove them, peacefully if we can, forcibly if we must."

Resolved, "That we who are here assembled, pledge ourselves not to employ or trade with any black or mulatto person, in any manner whatever, or permit them to have any grinding done at our mills, after the first day of January, next."

Weekly Health Talks

by Dr. Hubert H. London

Cancer of the Breast

All lumps in the breast are not cancers and all apparently harmless lumps in the breast are not harmless. Very many of them are tumors other than cancer, but none should be disregarded and treated as harmless tumors until it has been actually determined that they are not cancerous and not liable to become so. This in a few words means that all tumors of the breast of whatever nature should be removed in part or wholly, examined and their true nature determined. If the tumor is small it can be removed wholly and sections made to determine whether it is benign or harmful or malignant or cancerous. If it is very large its true nature can no doubt be determined with a fair degree of accuracy before section is made and in such a case it would make up a great part of the breast substance and if removed at all most of the breast would come away with it. About as many varieties of tumor are found in the breast as elsewhere which means that a great percentage of those found will not be harmful but the one that is sometimes regarded as harmless by the person affected is the one which turns out to be malignant.

In the prevention of lumps in the breast which is in a sense the prevention of the beginning of cancer in the breast it is important that all forms of undue pressure and irritation be avoided. Anything that exerts undue pressure against the breasts or pins them too tightly against the chest wall will in a great many cases be the factor causing a lump to form there. The cause of cancer anywhere is not known; the only thing that is known concerning its beginning is that irritation in any form is a factor in its development.

Avoid all irritation to the breasts and find out the nature of any lump existing there.

The Week's Poem

By Viola P. Jones

I LIVE TODAY

I live today, for who knows
What tomorrow's day will bring
I cannot tell but what
Death rides upon its wing.

I do today the work which
My two hands can do,
And if tomorrow really comes
I'll do it all anew.

I smile a smile at all today
Who may perhaps pass by my way
For maybe when tomorrow comes
My smiles may die and fade away.

I'll do a good deed while I may
For who knows but what another day may come
And it will be to late if
I have left the deed undone.

I'll scatter sunshine where I am today
And maybe I can fill the lives of those Around me, brimming o'er with happiness.

For tomorrow, I may not pass again that way.

Each day that's ended, 'tis my desire to have complete
In all the things that I can do to be worth while,
And if tomorrow never comes or not
I'll end to-day's day with a smile.

Magic Power Adds Hours
In the artistic and utility schemes of things nothing is so dominant as lighting and its media, luminaires. By the press of a button or the turning of a switch we brighten and beautify the home. This magic invisible power simplifies our daily tasks, lightens the burden of housekeeping and adding more hours to our day, more luxury, more convenience.

Health and Business
Ill health is the real cause of business depression, declares Doctor Huntington of Yale. There comes a spell of general ill-health, followed by more numerous deaths, and this so depresses the population and creates such a feeling of panic that one of its results is a financial crisis, which is thus in reality due to the weakening effects of ill-health.

"You don't know where this room is?"

"No, I never saw the print. Upstairs somewhere, for he—"
"Upstairs! Then the thing to do, if we can get that paper from the doctor, is to locate the room at once."

Jack Bailey did not recognize the direction where her thoughts were tending. It seemed terrible to him that anyone should devote a thought to the money while Dale was still in danger.

"What does the money matter now?" he broke in somewhat irritably. "We've got to save her!" and his eyes went to Dale.

Miss Cornelia gave him an ineffable look of weary patience.
"The money matters a great deal," she said, sensibly. "Some one was in this house on the same errand as Richard Fleming. After all," she went on, with a tinge of irony, "the course of reasoning that you followed, Mr. Bailey, is not necessarily unique."

She rose.
"Somebody else may have suspected that Courtleigh Fleming robbed his own bank," she said thoughtfully. Her eye fell on the doctor's professional bag—she seemed to consider it as if it were a strange sort of animal.

"Find the man who followed your course of reasoning," she ended, with a stare at Bailey, "and you have found the murderer."

"With that reasoning, you might suspect me!" said the latter a trifle touchily.

Miss Cornelia did not give an inch. "I have," she said. Dale shot a swift, sympathetic glance at her lover—another less sympathetic and more indignant at her aunt. Miss Cornelia smiled.

"However, I now suspect somebody else," she said. They waited for her to reveal the name of the suspect but she kept her own counsel. By now she had entirely given up confidence if not in the probability at least in the intelligence of all persons, male or female, under the age of sixty-five.

She rang the bell for Billy. But Dale was still worrying over the possible effects of the confidence she had given Doctor Wells.

"Then you think the doctor may give this paper to Mr. Anderson?" she asked.

"He may or he may not. It is entirely possible that he may elect to search for this room himself! He may even already have gone upstairs!"

She moved quickly to the door and glanced across toward the dining room, but so far apparently all was safe. The doctor was at the table, making a pretense of drinking a cup of coffee, and Billy was in close attendance. That the doctor already had the paper she was certain; it was the use he intended to make of it that was her concern.

She signaled to the Jap, and he came out into the hall. Beresford, she learned, was still in the kitchen with his revolver, waiting for another attempt on the door, and the detective was still outside in his search. To Billy she gave her order in a low voice.

"If the doctor attempts to go upstairs," she said, "let me know at once. Don't seem to be watching. You can be in the pantry. But let me know instantly."

Once back in the living room the vague outlines of a plan—a test—formed slowly in Miss Cornelia's mind, grew more definite.

"Dale, watch that door, and warn me if anyone is coming!" she commanded, indicating the door into the hall. Dale obeyed, marveling silently at her aunt's extraordinary force of character. Most of Miss Cornelia's contemporaries would have called for a quiet ambulance to take them to a sanatorium some hours ere this—but Miss Cornelia was not merely, comparatively speaking, as fresh as a daisy—her manner bore every evidence of a firm intention to play Sherlock Holmes to the mysteries that surrounded her, in spite of doctors, detectives, dubious noises or even the Bat himself.

The last of the Van Gorder spinsters turned to Bailey now.

"Get some soot from that fireplace," she ordered. "Be quick. Scrape it off with a knife or a piece of paper. Anything."

Bailey wondered and obeyed. As he was engaged in his grimy task, Miss Cornelia got out a piece of writing paper from the drawer and placed it on the center-table, with a lead pencil beside it.

Bailey emerged from the fireplace with a handful of sooty flakes.

"Is this all right?"

"Yes. Now rub it on the handle of that bag." She indicated the little black bag in which Doctor Wells

One of Iowa's Most Prominent and Successful Attorneys, Got no Optical Help Until Lew Arntz took Charge of His Case

This certifies that about five years ago I was compelled to undergo an operation in having my right eye removed, as it had been blind for some time and was interfering with the left eye. The operation was successful with the exception of leaving the socket so misshapen that it seemed impossible to ever be able to wear an artificial eye. I consulted the best eye specialists in Iowa, Kansas City, Mo., Washington, D. C., and Chicago, Ill., who all tried their best to fit me, but utterly failed and after repeated trials positively declared I could never wear an artificial eye. About eight months ago I consulted Lew Arntz, who I knew had quite a large practice in the optical line and here is where I met success.

Arntz took an ordinary artificial eye, reshaped it by grinding away certain parts so as to make it fit the misshapen socket. I wore it a few days when he again changed it for a larger and more perfect one. He changed from time to time until now I am able to use an ordinary artificial eye. Several of the first ones had to be reshaped in order to form a groove or culdesac back of the lower lid, which was partly closed or cut away but is now perfect. This took a great deal of skill and patience, which I have a reason to believe Arntz possesses. He has also fitted glasses to my left eye, which are very satisfactory and better than any other gotten elsewhere as I can use them for both far and near seeing. Of course my sight is not perfect, but at least 100% improved when using the glasses prescribed by Dr. Lew Arntz.

DES MOINES LAWYER IN COURT IN ST. LOUIS

John L. Thompson, prominent lawyer in Des Moines, and former editor of the Bystander, left Monday night for St. Louis, Missouri, where he will appear before the United States Circuit Court of Appeals in behalf of a member of the other race.

Mr. Thompson is perhaps the first colored lawyer from Iowa to be admitted to practice in the United States Circuit Court of Appeals of that district. Attorney Thompson is a graduate from the law school of Drake University and was admitted to the bar in 1898.

The Mary Church Terrel club met at the home of Mrs. Pearl Thompson Monday evening.

"Haberdashery"
While scholars have never quite decided upon the origin of this word, it is generally accepted as being a corruption of "habt the das" the German for "Have you that" the sort of phrase that a peddler would use of the small "general utility articles" in his pack. Germans very largely made up the peddlers of the Middle Ages, and the old-time haberdasher was a person who peddled in every conceivable type of trifle.

CROCKER ST. Y. M. C. A.

The Race Relations Day program sponsored by the Crocker St. Y. through the Religious-Work Committee. Rabbi Mannheim brought a real message to those who heard him last Sunday afternoon.

The rest of the program consisted of trio, Miss Hortense Woods, Mrs. Corene Jackson and Miss Roberta Maupin; violin, Miss Betty Jane McGee; vocal solo, Mrs. W. W. Jones; reading, Miss Burnis Marks; vocal solo, Mrs. Joburnis Kelso; duet, Miss Evelyn Roberts and Miss Mary Ash-ton; piano solo, Miss Lucille Semmoa. Almost every number of the program was encored back.

The program for Sunday, Feb. 19th will be in charge of Miss Mildred Marshall. A good musical and literary program as in store for you at 3:30 P. M. Come.

The Sunday School League will be played at West High only from now on. The East High gym will be available for industrial or working boys only. School boys will not be allowed on the floor. Each Wednesday night an industrial team will play a white team.

The S. S. League standing follows:

	Won	Lost	Pct.
Burns M. E.	4	0	1,000
St. Paul A. M. E.	4	2	.500
Corinthian Boys	1	3	.250
Maple St. Boys	1	3	.250

The Boys' band meets on Monday afternoon from 4 to 6 P. M. at the Crocker St. Y. M. C. A. Boys from 9 to 14 years of age are invited into the organization.

The Glee club rehearsals have been changed from Saturday evenings to Thursday evenings. Those who care to join are welcome to do so. Rehearsals from 8 to 9 P. M.

Do you know that—
(1) Our boys' band is the only one in this part of the country?
(2) Our junior team played a good game in the annual city tournament?
(3) That our Sunday afternoon meetings are enjoyable and delightful as well as educational?

Y. W. C. A. NOTES

Sunday being Race Relations day, Blue Triangle was called upon to take part in the program of the Young People's meeting at the Jordan Methodist church, Hillside Ave. and Indianola Road. A group from the Girls' Glee club gave selections which were well rendered by the congregation of adults and young people. Mrs. Willis was the speaker. She was introduced by the Branch Secretary, Miss Crawford. It was a happy occasion for all.

The Negro History Association was hostess to our vesper service, Messrs. J. C. Browne and H. T. Steeper were the speakers. Many helpful words were spoken.

Miss Anna Wilson, a student at Drake University, will be hostess Sunday, February 19th.

January 18th and 19th the following were elected members to the Committee of Management: Mesdames Ethel Williams, Korinne Jackson, Mary M. Woodson, Goletha Trotter, Nell Esters. The Nominating committee for 1928 is: Mesdames Theretta Johnson, Etha Copeland, Jessie Davis, Adah Johnson and Pauline Wilson.

Colossal Moth Damage
Damage caused by ordinary moths exceeds more than $200,000,000 each year in the United States alone, according to a recent investigation of scientists who sought means to reduce the figure. These men discovered that the only sure means of preventing damage was to spray woven articles with an odorless, colorless liquid which moth worms dislike so much they starve. As it is the moth worm, and not the flying moth that eats, this method has proved entirely effective.

A Painful Reminder

For a long time the restaurant proprietor had out a sign—"Home Cooking." Then he removed it. "I see," remarked a customer, "that the old sign has gone." "Yes, I took it down." "But why?" "Well, I came to the conclusion that it was doing the place no good. I got to watching passersby. A great many would take a look at that sign and then hurry on."—Weekly Scotsman.

Shadows

By Clifford Wesley Mackay

Lawrence Chapman and the other Negro students at Des Moines university should be commended. It was Chapman who made an outcry when all of the Negro students were seated together in chapel, and an apology from the administration was the result. No doubt Chapman knew the wisdom of hitting segregation in its infancy. Perhaps had he let the chapel incident go by unnoticed further segregation would have resulted. The blame was shifted to the office girl who said that she thought the Negro students would prefer sitting together. A poor excuse is better than none and seemingly the Caucasian brothers are rather adept at making them when it comes to explanation for segregation.

Passing by one of the local churches, ye editor heard a minister lamenting the fact that so many of the youth were going in for medicine, teaching and like professions and so few were entering the ministry. And then after reading where during the past year 100 Negroes died to every 83 that were born, in the state of Iowa where conditions are supposed to be comparatively good, ye editor really wonders what is needed most; ministers to send them to Heaven or doctors to keep them on earth. Solve it yourself.

The dummy of a Negro woman, which constantly moves up and down over a washbasin contrasted with an electric washing machine is the method the Yoss Washing Machine Co. advertises its product in one of the stores on Walnut street. The figure dressed in a red calico dress with a bright red handkerchief tied about her head provokes the mirth of the passers who swarm around the window. Rather funny how come merchants seek the patronage of people by ridiculing them. Queer reasoning!

Reformers forget that necking is an ancient pastime. It is even said that Apollo dined with Diana on ambrosia and nectar.

Says Eugene Gordon, feature editor on the Boston Post in his article on "Negro Inhibitions" in the February issue of the American Mercury, "In any social gathering in these colored United States the young man of genuine African color and features must be thrice the superior of his lighter-skinned competitor, else he will lose."

Rather hard dose to swallow isn't it? Ye editor took unto himself the idea to experiment with ladies of Des Moines. Entering a dance hall, he was astounded to overhear a conversation about a gentleman fair enough to eat any place in the city without difficulty. The ladies were vowing that they would never dance with him again. The reason was not ascertained. Experimenting further, ye editor who himself, fits Gordon's description of the "tabooed," asked a certain fair-skinned young woman for a dance and was not refused. And now the suggestion is made to Gordon to alter his statement to read "in some" for his definition is unapplicable to Des Moines.

Highest Flight of Birds

The highest flight of birds is estimated to be 25,000 feet. This altitude is attained by the large type of bird, the smaller ones flying 23,000 feet. It has been said, however, that geese have been known to fly the Himalayas at 85,000 feet.

Invention of Champagne

Dom Perignon, a Benedictine monk, who was appointed cellarer to his monastery in 1668, fell upon the idea of "marrying" the different wines produced in the vineyards around him. Champagne was the result.

Read The Following Testimonial From A Satisfied Customer:

For more than fifteen years, and up till about a year ago, I was almost blind; so much so that I was not safe in walking the streets alone, much less being able to read and work. I doctored for granulated eyes, ulcers, nearsightedness, astigmatism, and many other eye diseases, until at last my eyes got so dim and inflamed from use of poisonous remedies and imperfectly fitted glasses that I think in a short time I would have gone entirely blind. But my eyesight has again returned. I can today read fine print and do my work without any difficulty, and had it not been for the skill of Lew Arntz, Doctor of Optics, in prescribing glasses for me, I think I would never have gotten any help. My eyes are steadily growing stronger and they are now not far from normal. The eye lashes, which were entirely burned off by poisonous remedies, have grown out again and are altogether normal. Respectfully,
POLENA BASS.

Lesson for February 19

TWO MIRACLES OF POWER

LESSON TEXT—Mark 4:15-20. GOLDEN TEXT—What manner of man is this that even the wind and the sea obey him?

PRIMARY TOPIC—Jesus Stills the Storm. JUNIOR TOPIC—Jesus Rules the Storm.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—The Universal Power of Jesus.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Jesus' Power over Nature and Human Life.

1. Jesus Calms the Sea (vv. 35-41).

1. Crossing the sea (vv. 35, 36). Weiried by teaching the multitudes, He proposed that they take ship at evening time to the other side of the sea, doubtless to escape from the throngs of people.

2. Overtaken by a storm (v. 37).

Even though Jesus was in the boat with the disciples they were overtaken by a storm. It is not God's will that we should escape the storms, but those who have Christ on their boat are safe because that boat cannot go down.

3. Jesus asleep in the storm-tossed boat (v. 38).

In the midst of the turbulent elements He was resting in sleep. The day had been a very strenuous one and He was weary.

4. The terrified disciples (v. 38).

In their minds nothing but disaster and death awaited them. They were not only terrified, but they chided Jesus for sleeping while they were in such great danger.

5. Christ's rebuke (vv. 39, 40).

(1) The wind (v. 39). This showed the Lord's mighty power to control the forces of nature.

(2) The disciples (v. 40). He rebuked them for their lack of faith. He showed that they were looking upon their circumstances instead of upon their Lord.

6. The effect upon the disciples (v. 41).

They were filled with great fear. A little while ago they were afraid in the face of the storm; now they are afraid in the presence of the Lord.

11. Jesus Heals the Gadarene Demoniac (5:1-20).

Into the stilling of the tempest, Jesus crossed to the other side of the sea into heathen territory.

1. Met by a demon possessed man (vv. 1-4).

This man was in a desperate condition. He was so fierce that no one could safely pass that way.

2. What the demons knew about Christ (vv. 7-9).

They knew that He was the Son of God and that He had come to destroy the devil and his works.

3. Christ's power to deliver from the devil (vv. 10-13).

He cast out the demons from the man (v. 8). The demons quail before Christ, not daring to dispute His power, so they begged to be permitted to enter the swine.

4. The effect upon the people of the city (vv. 14-17).

The keepers of the swine fled to the city and made report of what had occurred. This miracle brought the people out, but when they realized the loss of their hogs they besought Him to leave their country.

5. The man who was healed sent home to testify (vv. 18-20).

No doubt it would have been safe and pleasant to abide with Jesus, but his friends needed his testimony. The best witness for Christ is one who has been saved by Him.

6. The effect upon the people of the city (v. 14-17).

The keepers of the swine fled to the city and made report of what had occurred. This miracle brought the people out, but when they realized the loss of their hogs they besought Him to leave their country.

7. The man who was healed sent home to testify (vv. 18-20).

No doubt it would have been safe and pleasant to abide with Jesus, but his friends needed his testimony. The best witness for Christ is one who has been saved by Him.

8. Christ's power to deliver from the devil (vv. 10-13).

He cast out the demons from the man (v. 8). The demons quail before Christ, not daring to dispute His power, so they begged to be permitted to enter the swine.

9. The effect upon the people of the city (vv. 14-17).

The keepers of the swine fled to the city and made report of what had occurred. This miracle brought the people out, but when they realized the loss of their hogs they besought Him to leave their country.

10. The man who was healed sent home to testify (vv. 18-20).

No doubt it would have been safe and pleasant to abide with Jesus, but his friends needed his testimony. The best witness for Christ is one who has been saved by Him.

11. Jesus Heals the Gadarene Demoniac (5:1-20).

Into the stilling of the tempest, Jesus crossed to the other side of the sea into heathen territory.

1. Met by a demon possessed man (vv. 1-4).

This man was in a desperate condition. He was so fierce that no one could safely pass that way.

2. What the demons knew about Christ (vv. 7-9).

They knew that He was the Son of God and that He had come to destroy the devil and his works.

3. Christ's power to deliver from the devil (vv. 10-13).

He cast out the demons from the man (v. 8). The demons quail before Christ, not daring to dispute His power, so they begged to be permitted to enter the swine.

Lesson for February 19

TWO MIRACLES OF POWER

LESSON TEXT—Mark 4:15-20. GOLDEN TEXT—What manner of man is this that even the wind and the sea obey him?

PRIMARY TOPIC—Jesus Stills the Storm. JUNIOR TOPIC—Jesus Rules the Storm.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—The Universal Power of Jesus.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Jesus' Power over Nature and Human Life.

1. Jesus Calms the Sea (vv. 35-41).

1. Crossing the sea (vv. 35, 36). Weiried by teaching the multitudes, He proposed that they take ship at evening time to the other side of the sea, doubtless to escape from the throngs of people.

2. Overtaken by a storm (v. 37).

Even though Jesus was in the boat with the disciples they were overtaken by a storm. It is not God's will that we should escape the storms, but those who have Christ on their boat are safe because that boat cannot go down.

3. Jesus asleep in the storm-tossed boat (v. 38).

In the midst of the turbulent elements He was resting in sleep. The day had been a very strenuous one and He was weary.

4. The terrified disciples (v. 38).

In their minds nothing but disaster and death awaited them. They were not only terrified, but they chided Jesus for sleeping while they were in such great danger.

5. Christ's rebuke (vv. 39, 40).

(1) The wind (v. 39). This showed the Lord's mighty power to control the forces of nature.

(2) The disciples (v. 40). He rebuked them for their lack of faith. He showed that they were looking upon their circumstances instead of upon their Lord.

6. The effect upon the disciples (v. 41).

They were filled with great fear. A little while ago they were afraid in the face of the storm; now they are afraid in the presence of the Lord.

11. Jesus Heals the Gadarene Demoniac (5:1-20).

Into the stilling of the tempest, Jesus crossed to the other side of the sea into heathen territory.

1. Met by a demon possessed man (vv. 1-4).

This man was in a desperate condition. He was so fierce that no one could safely pass that way.

2. What the demons knew about Christ (vv. 7-9).

They knew that He was the Son of God and that He had come to destroy the devil and his works.

3. Christ's power to deliver from the devil (vv. 10-13).

He cast out the demons from the man (v. 8). The demons quail before Christ, not daring to dispute His power, so they begged to be permitted to enter the swine.

4. The effect upon the people of the city (vv. 14-17).

The keepers of the swine fled to the city and made report of what had occurred. This miracle brought the people out, but when they realized the loss of their hogs they besought Him to leave their country.

"Speed Ball"

There are two games played under the name of speed ball. One is played in Maryland, and another in Michigan. Speed ball, as played in Michigan, originated with D. Mitchell, in charge of intramural sports at the University of Michigan.

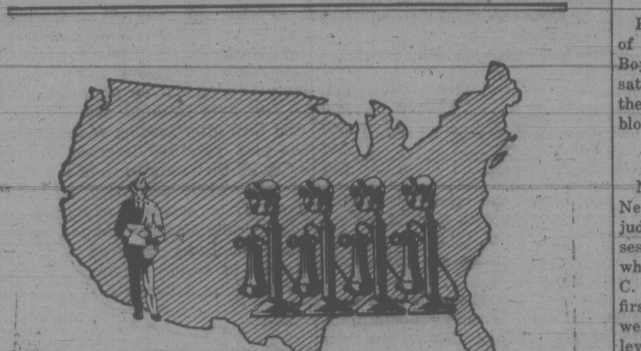

Man's Real Worth

A man's ledger does not tell what he is, or what he is worth. Count what is in man, not what is on him, if you would know what he is worth—whether rich or poor.—Henry Ward Beecher.

The Printed Word

Every reporter at one time or another makes each of his friends mad. It is so easy to disgust people with the printed word. You can say something to your best friend and he will take it as a joke.

Rickard Makes Godfrey

Tex Rickard has made Godfrey the biggest and outstanding card in America by ignoring him. It was Rickard's own fault he lost the Godfrey and Paulino fight which is to take place in Los Angeles.
