The Week's Poem

By Viola P. Jones

COMMON CLAY

Men's lives are life un moulded clay To shape or mould it as you may;
 If 'tis your want to be some good,
 You can be if you only would.

You may not be so very great But all of us can be first rate, You may not sit in the Mayor's den, You may not be a member of the

THE NEGRO IN AMERICA

J. G. Browne

Colonel Higginson expected a charge upon his troops by the Confederate cavalry; therefore he gave orders to fix bayonets, and prepared to receive the enemy kneeling, and the enemy delivered his fire over the heads of the black soldiers. "My soldiers", says Colonel Higginson, "in turn fired too rapidly being yet beginners, and it was, both sides had opportunity to do some execution. "I could hardly tell whether the fight had lasted ten minutes or an hour, when, as the enemy's fire had evidently ceased or slackened, I gave the order to cease firing. But it was very difficult at first to make them desist; the taste of gunpowder was too intoxicating. One of them was heard to mutter indignantly, "Why do Colonel order cease firing, when de Seese-blazing away at de rate of ten dollar a day?" The enemy beat a precipitate retreat, and left Colonel Higginson's Negro troops in undisputed possession of the field. The dead and wounded were tenderly taken up by their more fortunate comrades, and the command returned to township Landing with out being again assailed by the enemy. Surgeon Seth Rogers wrote: One man killed instantly by a ball through the heart and seven wounded, one of whom will die. Braver men never lived. One man with two bullet holes through the large muscles of the shoulders and neck brought off from the scene of action, two miles distant, two muskets, and not a murmur has escaped his lips. Another Robert Sutton, with three wounds—one of which being on the skull, may cost him his life—would not report himself till compelled to do so by his officers.
While dressing his wounds, he quietly talked of what they had done and what they could yet do. Today I have had the Colonel order him to obey me. He is perfectly quiet and cool, but takes this whole affair with the religious bearing of a man who realizes that freedom is sweeter than life.

Yet another soldier did not report himself at all, but remained all night on guard and possibly I should not have known of his having had a buckshot in his shoulder if some duty requiring a sound shoulder had not been required of him today.

Thus, this, the battle of the "Hundred Pines" though it decided no important military question, it was of tremendous significance to the Negro the vessel through a hail storm of bullets, occasionally taking a shot at the enemy from the pilot house. The men who were detailed to man the guns fought them with the coolest courage, although they were exposed to the musket and artillery fire of the enemy.

As musketry fire was valueless against the enemy on the bluffs, the troops were confirmed to their quarters below but it took great firmness on the part of the officers to keep them from rushing on deck.

BETHEL A. M. E. CHURCH

Rev. A. W. Hackley, presiding elder of the Des Moines district, held the 3rd Quarterly meeting for Rev.
Faint and members Sunday. He preached three sermons. In the afternoon Rev. T. L. Scott, pastor of St.
Paul church worshipped with us. On Monday evening we held the Quarterly Conference all reports were very good.

The Mothers' and Daughters Banquet given last Tuesday evening by the Constellation Club, was a success.
The Junior Missionary Society carnival was given this week.

Rev. J. W. Fant and wife attended the outing given by the Ministerial Alliance at the Y. W. C. A. camp last Monday.

The willing workers club met at the home of Mrs. Ella Douglas last Friday with Mrs. Yeager acting as hostess.

The Junior Missionary Society sponsored a two-day carnival of Friday and Saturday evenings which was indeed a success as well as a social success. They raised $18.00 eighteen dollars. Mrs. Ivory Ligon who is Supt. of the Girls is a good Supervisor.

The Ministerial Alliance met at Bethel Tuesday and was served dinner by the Willing Workers Club.

PAYNE CHAPEL AT WATERLOO HOLDS QUARTERLY MEETING

This third quarterly meeting has been a success in every particular.
Sunday morning was love feast and general class. The presiding elder was on hand, he preached an inspiring sermon, which was enjoyed by all. In the afternoon, we had with us, the Rev. Dr. Smith of the M. E. church, La. Conference who preached.
His sermon was full of spiritual power. Fifty-four came to the altar and took the Holy Communion, besides nine (9) shut-ins, who took it to their joy and comfort in their homes.

Many thanks are extended to sister Ida Mae Bugg for taking us in her car to these shut-ins. The presiding elder preached in the evening to a large and appreciative audience. This

PEACE, BE STILL

By Elmeda Evans, Mt. Pleasant

Oh, what a glorious day it must have been,
When Christ our Lord was here among men; Preparing hearts for the Holy Spirit to lead, Comparing the kingdom of heaven to a grain of mustard seed; How it's considered so small among the nationality,
And yet the only thing that leads to immortality;

That blessed day when the disciples took Jesus for their guide, And according to his will, passed over the stormy sea with Jesus to the other side;

When the tempest began to rage and they wished for Jesus them to chastise, Cried in anguish, "Master, carest thou not that we perish?"

Praise God for His tender love to his children that doth his will!
Listen to His tender voice as He said to the sea, "Peace, be still."
Oh! my brother in Jesus Christ Who for us gave His life for sacrifice, Why should we grow weary upon this sea of life,

And sigh when we come in contact with sin and strife?
Let us all resolve to take Jesus as our guide,
And with Him pass over this stormy sea with Jesus.

When temptations and enemies attempt to do us ill, Listen to His tender voice, "Peace, peace be still."

PENNSYLVANIA-MINER ASSISTS IN NEW YORK TAG DAY FOR MINERS

New York City, May 17 (PNS).— George W. Hawkins, of Brownsville, Pa., militant Negro mine worker and recently completing a tour of the mining communities, was here Saturday, Sunday and Monday in connection with the tag day held in behalf of the Miners Relief Committee.

Hawkins in describing the conditions among unorganized mine workers as well as among the striking miners, said: "Thousands are absolutely without shelter of any kind.
Disease is widespread. In many instances when doctors are called, they refuse to respond."

Receives Aid for Miners Mr. Hawkins spoke in several white and colored churches on Sunday. His appeals received a hearty response in a financial way. Mr. Hawkins is the son of a prominent Baptist minister of Brownsville, Pa., whose congregation is composed largely of miners.
Both father and son are interested in miners relief work on a large scale.

REV. J. P. SIMS,
Pastor A. M. E. Church.

Overseer Vindicates Rev. McGlothen

St. Louis, Mo., May 19, 1928.

To "The Iowa Bystander":

A short while ago I was notified of some differences existing in the church of God in Christ at Des Moines, Iowa, in which there was a misunderstanding between the pastor, Elder G. W.
McGlothen and the overseer of the state, Elder F. W. McGee. According I sent Elder Chas. Peas, overseer of Kansas and Elder C. G. Brown, assistant overseer of the Western Missouri and Nebraska to investigate and settle the affair.

I am informed by the brethren whom I sent there that all matters were settled satisfactorily and peacefully and in the spirit of Christ. Elder Mc-Glothen is free to continue his work of the ministry at Tenth and Park Ave.

Signed: C. N. MASON,
General Overseer.

GRANT-BRAINED HEPLIN SINGS NEGRO-CATHOLIC BLUES

(Continued from Page 1) Gate of William J. Bryan, Wayne B. Wheeler and Frank B. Willis. Oh, they would have poisoned me long ago if they could have gotten by with it, he said. "The men of the South will stand together, God bless them. We shall hold the line; he shall not pass. God gives me strength to fight and I shall use it day and night." He then declared that men of the south would not support any man who believed in social equality of the Negro. "The American people must know just what is being done to buy the Democratic party and put this Tammany 'Roman' Catholic appointed leader at the head of the Democracy of the nation and they are going to know it if I can give it to them."

To Honor Daughter Ruler

The concluding social events will be held Tuesday evening at Turner's hall, when the local daughter Elks will honor Mrs. Ella Berry at a reception and the brother Elks will stage a speaker for the grand officers and visitors.

Parade on Sunday

The parade is to be staged at one o'clock Sunday afternoon. Bands and Louis, Leavenworth, St. Joe and Okla-Homa City will compete for marching honors. Many floats will appear in the line of march, the local master of social sessions stated. Following the parade a ball game between Scott's Little Giants, local city champions and Marshalltown will be held for the benefit of the "Bills" at the Western league ball park.

Original Steeplechase

Steeplechase is a horse race in which the competitors have to surmount obstacles such as hedges and ditches in order to reach the winning post. The first race of the kind was held in Ireland by a party of fox-hunters, who actually made a distant church steeple the goal of the impromptu race. Such matches soon grew in favor, and steeplechasing became a recognized branch of horse racing.

50 MEN HANG ALLEGED SLAYER IN COURTHOUSE YARD

Center, Tex., May 21—A mob stormed the jail here Monday, removed a Negro charged with the killing of a farmer, and lynched. The Negro, known as Evans was accused of clubbing to death John Wheeler. About fifty men were in the mob, who dragged Evans from the jail and hanged him to a large oak tree in the courthouse yard. This is the first lynching occurring in the United States in 1928.

Originals of Names Old

Glasgow, the second city of the British empire today, obtained its name from two Celtic words, "glas," meaning green, and "glen," meaning deer-deer green place. Dublin came from "Dubh," meaning black, and "linn," meaning pool. Rutland is a corruption of Rothland.

Baldwin For Clerk

In making my request once more to the voters of Polk County, I do so for several good reasons.

In the first place I am an old time resident of this county and state, and during my incumbency in office have brought about some economic reforms that has been greatly to the advantage of the taxpayers.

I am responsible for the change in methods of making reports to the State Board of Health of marriages and divorces, and have saved my county alone about fifteen hundred dollars each year for the past five years saving just about half of my salary.

I am also responsible for the law on our statute books which has eliminated a county collector of costs which prior to my activity was collected by a collector who received 50% of all monies collected.

Under my present system all delinquent costs are collected by my office and every dollar of it paid in to the county treasurer, which has caused a saving of perhaps some two or three thousand dollars each year.

I am the only county officer in this county or any other county that I know of who did not lose a single dollar by reason of banks closing. That I had on one of our closed banks almost five thousand dollars when it closed its doors, but by reason of good business I had a good depository bond and every dollar was paid to me by the banking company within ten days after a receiver was appointed.

Fifty per cent of the male employees of my office are ex-servicemen, which will indicate my attitude toward those who served our country best.

For the above reasons I am asking the suffrage of the people of my county at the primaries, June 4th.

Editor Must Never Err

When a plumber makes a mistake, he charges twice for it. When a lawyer makes a mistake, it is just what he wanted, because he has a chance to try the case all over again. When a carpenter makes a mistake, it's just what he expected. When a doctor makes a mistake, he buries it. When a judge makes a mistake, it becomes the law of the land. When a preacher makes a mistake, nobody knows the difference. But when the editor makes a mistake—good-night!—The Outlook.

Checkered Sandwich

Checkered sandwiches for the bridge luncheon is the demerit cri of fashionable society. Dairy morsels of white and whole wheat bread, made to look like mosaic work, appeal not only to the palate but the eye. Spread them with any filling you like, or simply serve them in their pristine innocence with clear tea and a portion of lemon. Either method is quite correct. And then there's cheese and parsley, rolls and layer loaf sandwiches, both companion favorites of the hostess with a taste for the individual.

Checkered Sandwiches

Lake three-layer sandwiches of alternating one-half inch slices of whole wheat and white bread, spread generously with margarine or butter. Slice the three-decker down in one-half inch slices. Combine three of these slices to make cubes, using first a slice with the whole wheat bread in the center, then the white, then the whole wheat. Spread each layer with margarine or butter, press, and slice thin. These sandwiches are picturesque as well as delicious.

Cheese-Parsley Roll

Cut away the crust from a sandwich loaf and slice lengthwise of the loaf in thin sections. Spread the whole slice with butter or margarine, then with a filling made from cream cheese, softened with cream or salt dressing and mixed with bits of chopped parsley. Roll each long slice up like a jelly roll, let stand a few minutes, and slice thin.

Layer Loaf Sandwiches

Remove crust from a sandwich loaf as before and cut in five lengthwise slices. Spread with margarine or butter. Put bread together like a layer cake, then cover the entire loaf with softened cheese after the manner of frosting a cake. Decorate the top with twelve holes, before using and press before covering with cheese. The first layer may be filled with chopped sweet pickles and parsley, moistened with dressing; the second with hard-cooked egg yolk mixed with margarine or butter; the third with hard-cooked egg whites chopped, mixed with cream cheese and dressing; and the fourth with finely chopped cold ham or tongue with dressing.

RICH PROFITS IN BEETS ON FARMS

Crop Made Into Sugar Nets Growers of United States $55,000,000 Last Year.

Chicago—One hundred thousand farmers in the United States are engaged regularly by growing sugar beets to satisfy the nation's sweet tooth, according to a bulletin issued here by the U. S. Beet Sugar association.

"More than $55,000,000 was paid to farmers for their sugar beets in 1927," says the bulletin. "Approximately 800,000 acres of land were devoted to sugar-beet culture in 19 states, and there are 102 beet sugar factories in the United States in which $280,000,000 in capital is invested. Production of beet sugar amounted to 1,070,000 tons for the year.

"Sugar beets are one of the most profitable of American crops and the farmers growing them are, in effect, partners in the beet sugar industry. The beet sugar industry must establish plants in farming communities, since it is essentially an agricultural industry depending on the farm for its product and because sugar beets cannot be shipped great distances without deterioration. The factory not only furnishes a cash market close to the door of farmers, farm laborers and mechanics living near by. It increases the business of the railroads, and the small town banks and merchants.

"Raising sugar beets improves the soil and increases the yield of succeeding crops. The extensive root system of the plant opens and aerates the ground, enabling it to retain and utilize a greater supply of air and water. The roots frequently descend into the soil to a depth of seven or eight feet. The small roots remain in the ground after the beet is pulled and contribute valuable fertility in the process of decay.

"Beets are an important factor in crop rotation. Results in scientific crop rotation with beets as the pivot have demonstrated that the productivity of the soil in yielding crops can be increased from 50 to 80 per cent.

"By-products, including beet tops, beet pulp and molasses, have developed an extensive sheep and cattle-raising industry in the neighborhood of the beet sugar factories. In localities where beet pulp was used as a feed for steers in 1927, an investigation showed that while pulp made up 82 per cent of a combination ration, its actual value amounted to only 37 per cent of the total cost.

"Not every farming area in the United States may grow sugar beets. But the present sugar beet producing areas might be greatly expanded if farmers were assured adequate tariff protection, insuring them against the invasion of foreign sugar produced under cheap labor conditions and living standards with which they cannot compete."

NEGRO WOMAN RE-SELECTED POLK COUNTY JUVENILE COURT AT NATIONAL PROBATION OFFICERS CONFERENCE AT MEMPHIS TENNESSEE

Mrs. Effie M. Watkins of Des Moines, only Negro woman Juvenile Court Officer in Iowa, was re-elected to the National Probation Officers' Conference, held at Memphis, Tennessee, April 30, to May 2, inclusive. While there Mrs. Watkins also attended the National Conference of Social Workers which convened from May 3 to the 9th. Mrs. Watkins motored through, accompanied by Mrs. Fug W. Wilson and Mr. V. L. Jones of Des Moines; and Dr. Retha Partee, her sister, and Dr. Crosthwaite, both of Chicago. The conference was a signal success. The greatest present day problems were discussed. The need of developing scientific and efficient agencies for the treatment and prevention of crime was stressed. Psychiatry, a subject which has not been given any appreciable amount of attention in relation to crime was an important topic. Judge Mary M. Bartelme, Chicago, presided at most of the meetings. There were numerous open forum sessions. All the representatives were eager to know more of Iowa and the crime situation, and Mrs. Watkins called upon repeatedly to present the different problems prevalent in Iowa. Of the three hundred Probation Officers present, twelve were colored. Judge Cornelia Kelley of Memphis presided and Mrs. Watkins and her colleagues generally speaking the national courtesy and hospitality of the south.—Virginia V. Stewart, Reporter.
