Resigns

By Marion F. Downer.
Chicago, Ill., June 22—Rev. H. Y. Tookes, pastor of the Greater Bethel A. M. E. church and one of the best known ministers of the A. M. E. church in America, created a sensation last Sunday morning when he announced that he had wired Bishop A. J. Carey, presiding bishop of this district, who was at Wilberforce University, to deliver the baccalaureate address, his resignation to become effective next Sunday. He announced that he would deliver his farewell sermons next Sunday morning at 11 a. m., and 8 p. m. and would go directly from the church to the railroad station. Physicians advised him, for the protection of his health, to move to a warmer climate.

The Rev. Mr. Tookes is returning to Florida, where he has been offered a lucrative position by Bishop J. S. Flipper, who was assigned to Florida by the recent general conference. Bishop John A. Gregg of Kansas and A. L. Gaines of Baltimore also offered large charges, but in order to get in a warmer climate, he accepted the Florida offer, it is said.

Eight Texans Lynch Negro At Houston

Houston, Texas, June 22—The body of Robert Powell, 24-year-old Negro who was abducted from the Jefferson Davis Hospital here early this morning by an unmasked band of eight men, was found hanging from a bridge eight miles from Houston, at 6:30 a. m.

Charged with Murder

Powell, charged with slaying of A. W. Davis, city detective, was taken from the Negro ward of the hospital shortly before 3 o'clock this morning. Deputy Sheriff S. Y. Q. Brubaker, who was guarding the Negro, said three of the men covered him with pistols, disarmed him, and after placing a rope around the prisoner's neck carried him from the building. Hospital attendants said the men fled in two automobiles.

Powell was accused of shooting A. W. Davis in a gun battle Sunday, last. The Negro was seriously injured. Governor Makes Move

With the finding of the body, an announcement came from Austin that Gov. Dan Moody had ordered three state rangers, headed by Captain Frank Hamer, to come to Houston to assist in an investigation.

which the public did not know until a few days before his death. Mr. Meredith was one of Iowa's leading citizens. Starting a modest publishing establishment, years ago, he developed one of the greatest farm journals in the world and built a plant which stands as a memorial to him and a great credit to Des Moines.

A man of great vision and interested in civic betterment of all groups and classes, Mr. Meredith gave freely to the outstanding projects fostered by Negroes in Iowa, notable among which was the Negro girls home at Iowa City, the Frederick Douglass Memorial at Anacostia, D. C., and was a member of the Des Moines Branch,

By Allie E. Winston
The Iowa and South Dakota Ministers-Deacons Union, Sunday school and B. Y. P. U. conventions which convened June 12, with the First African Baptist church of Keokuk were brought to a close Sunday night, June 17. The convention this year was one of the best in the history. called to his door and shot twice. Closing the door he crawled into another room. Securing his gun he shot and killed (alleged to have) deputy sheriff J. F. Phillips.

"2. The high sheriff went to the scene of the alleged crime and persuaded two brothers of the deceased William Blackman, to allow him to have them confined in jail to keep them 'mob law' and to afford them protection. This they were overjoyed to do, even though they were until informed by the sheriff.

"3. Upon the date of the lynching, the high sheriff left the city of Alexandria to convey two prisoners to the state penitentiary, in Baton Rouge, La., thus setting a precedent as prisoners are usually conveyed to the penitentiary by deputy sheriffs. The two prisoners, carried to the penitentiary were so desperate that it was necessary for the high sheriff to accompany them, as is shown by the fact that one of them had recently returned from Chicago that he might surrender to a charge of petty lar-

The Rev. George W. Slater, Jr., nationally known speaker of Alberta, Canada, will deliver a lantern-slide lecture on "The Advancement of the American Negro" at St. Paul A. M. E. church, 12th and Crocker Streets, Monday, June 25, according to an announcement made yesterday by officers of the church.

The Rev. Mr. Slater, who is father of the noted "Duke" Slater, former grid-iron star at the University of Iowa, is president of the Dominion Colored Association, an organization of Negro Canadians and is District deputy grand master of the Northern Alberta District, Washington jurisdiction, A. Earn Way to Y Camp

The Bystander is offering an unusual opportunity to boys and girls of Des Moines and vicinity to attend the annual Y. M. or Y. W. camp at Boone, Iowa. Any boy or girl who has ambition can easily earn his way to America's most popular vacation, camping.

Here is how it's done: go out one or two days and sell fifteen or more subscriptions and carry the money to the office and the management will give you a receipt to the Y camp fully paid. Present this to the Crocker St. Y or to the Blue Triangle and it is a snap for a hustling boy or girl who is a go-getter. Enter this contest today by calling at the Y. M. or Y. W. or to the Bystander office or just telephone any the following: Market Walnut 8614-J, Mr. Dimitry, circulation, Market 4398, Walnut 2073 or tion manager. Say, "I wish to enter the camp contest."

"4. Practically one week after the lynching, only one newspaper has had any comment to make and no efforts have been put forth by any parish or state officers to even start an investigation, no effort has been made to replace the burned homes or reimburse the aged father, who has been driven from the only home he has ever known no restitution has been made.

"5. The foregoing facts leave the public with but one opinion, namely, that the entire sheriff's force either participated in, or were in sympathy with the mob. Further information elicits the following: The high sheriff was a staunch supporter of the present Governor, Huey P. Long, and was the coroner, who is also related to the deceased deputy sheriff. There were no doubts arise whether the Negro fought, bled and died, then for mine, give me Heathenism."

E. T. MEREDITH
In the death of Hon. E. T. Meredith, Des Moines has lost one of its foremost citizens. His high ideals, his community interest and accomplishments have been extolled by the daily press throughout the country. The Bystander feels that another side of Mr. Meredith should not go unnoticed.

Mr. Meredith gave freely to the Frederick Douglass Memorial and the Girls Home at Iowa City, both projects sponsored by Negroes. He was a member of the Des Moines Branch N. A. A. C. P. But he did not stop at that. There are a great many white people who sympathize with the Negro and show it with charity. They will help Negro schools in the south but stop there. And this is very fine but when it comes to giving a Negro a chance to become independent by giving decent employment in their establishments, they draw the line. Mr. Meredith did not do this. Not only did he hire janitors but journeymen besides. If Des Moines had more men like the late Mr. Meredith, it would not be so difficult for Negroes to make a living nor the trained boy and girl to get employment in keeping with his preparation. We deplore Mr. Meredith's death.

THE NEGRO IN AMERICA

By J. G. Browne
Up to the time that the Fifty-fourth Regiment of Massachusetts Volunteer Infantry started for Morris Island to participate in the assault upon Fort Wagner the department of the South had not done any military service of much importance.

The road to Charleston, both by land and sea, was a net work of forts and fortifications. Fort Wagner was a thoroughly garrisoned earthwork extending across the northern end of the island, a little over a mile from Fort Sumpter. It was necessary to reduce this fortress in order to bring siege guns to bear on Fort Sumpter and the city of Charleston, which was the heart of the rebellion.

Eager for Action
The Fifty-fourth had suffered a loss of fourteen killed, seventeen wounded and thirteen missing, while on James Island. This taste of war had made them eager for action. This Negro Regiment from the Old Bay State was to have its fighting ability tested in South Carolina before a haughty foe, behind a formidable barrier, under whose guns the valor of the best trained white troops had been tried and recoiled. These black men were yet in motion on the morning of July 16th, from James to Morris Island. They marched all day over the hot sand of South Carolina, under a burning July sun. The march continued all night through rain and darkness, over broken dikes and through narrow causeways, with now and then a short halt, only to move onward toward that terrible chasm of death. Silently, willingly, courageously, they went onward, not fearing danger, but dreading delay in this exhausting march until six o'clock on the morning of the 18th when they reached Morris Island.

Plans Set for Charge
General Quincy A. Gilmore had his plans all set for the charge upon Fort Wagner. He intended to open a bombardment at daylight the morning of the 18th and by heavy ordinance reduce its effectiveness and complete its destruction by the bayonet, but a tempest delayed the cruel designs of war. In the presence of Heaven's muttering thunder and fiery blasts the military operations were suspended. It was Nature's prelude to this awful carnage and orgie of death and all else kept silent before Him. At about eleven o'clock the storm diminished and mounted messengers sped in every direction, the land forces with their navel supports, moved in preparation for the terrible conflict. Fire at 12:30 P. M.

The subdued voice and steady gaze of the anxious officers, as they transmitted their orders, told the mighty responsibility and terrible object of their mission. Promptly at 12:30 p. m., from a semi-circle of batteries more than a mile in length, leaped a flash of fire.

PREGNANCY

If it is necessary for a mother to have the assistance of a physician at the time of birth, it is also best for the success of the birth that she have a complete physical examination as soon as she discovers that she is pregnant. If she has never given birth to a child, it is imperative that she have this examination early. For example, suppose a prospective mother comes to the end of her pregnancy period without ever having had a physical examination.

If her pelvis is not too small to permit her child to be born normally and with ease she will have no trouble with the birth, provided, of course, her heart and kidneys are O. K. But, even if the heart and kidneys be in a normal state and the pelvis is contracted or too small for the child to pass normally, she will have trouble and difficulty necessitating perhaps the removal of the child in some other way or cause the death of the child, because this irregularity was not recognized sooner.

A physician, seeing the case early in pregnancy, would make the measurements, examine the kidneys and heart, and be able to give the right kind of treatment when labor began. If the heart and kidneys were found to be in bad condition, this would

THE MAIL MAN

I wonder what a mailman thinks,
What is on his mind,
While he's carrying his pack
Of mail all the time?

I wonder if he ever thinks
Of what is in his pack?
Of human hearts all entwined,
Right upon his back.

Some messages of sorrow there,
Some missives full of pain.
The mail man must deliver them,
In sunshine or in rain.

Some meaningless advertisements,
Some heavy catalogues.
The mail man must be very strong,
With shoulders firm and broad.

There's one thing about a mail man,
Though,
That won't give you any thrills;
Is when he stops at your house,
And fills your box with bills.

But after all, the mail man
Only does his work.
And whether the message be good or bad,
His duty he never shirks.

be remedied before term so that harm would not come to the mother. Then, too, perhaps an unrecognized tuberculosis in the mother would not permit her to have a child without irreparable damage to her.

These are some of the reasons why a mother-to-be should be examined, and they are good ones, having been arrived at through years of observation on women in the pregnant state.

Shadows

By Clifford Wesley Mackay

"A new day is dawning in the south," has been the cry of optimists for the last year or so. Yet no concrete evidence had ever come to our attention until this week following the lynching of a Negro in Houston, Texas. The victim was taken from the Jefferson Davis hospital by an unmasked band of eight men and hung to a bridge outside the city limits. Rather a novel reception to the Democrats who are to convene there. But the officials, thanks to this "new day dawning" business, are really making an effort to find the members of the mob. Gov. Dan Moody has issued a call to the state rangers, and has posted a reward of $2,000 for the capture of the guilty parties. Not to be out done the mayor of Houston has posted a reward of $250 each for the capture or information leading to the capture of the culprits. It is said that even a posse of white citizens have been sworn in to go on a man-hunt. Surely this is a new day when white men of the south will band together to hunt other white men, guilty of only committing such a paltry crime as the hanging or burning of a Negro.

It is interesting to note that of the six resolutions presented by the Negro members of the resolution committee at the national republican convention, only the one concerning lynchings was adopted. Those disregarded as impractical for the platform of the party was the demand for a strict enforcement of the 14th and 15th amendments, the abolition of segregation in Washington, the stoppage of peonage in the south, a fairer selection under the civil service laws of the country, and an abolition of lily whitism in the party.

The queer part about it is that with the exception of one, all of these resolutions effect mainly the south, the weakest section of the republicans, yet the section which the party leaders seem to fear the worst.

Crocker Street Y Notes

The annual Crocker Street Y Camp will open August 8th and end August 16th. Last year the camp was the largest in America for any single period. The camp this year has been enlarged to accommodate 108 boys and twelve leaders. The fee this year is only five dollars ($5.00) including round trip transportation up to camp and back. Some persons have repeatedly asked how can we send a boy for this small amount. We can do this because the leading men of the city both white and colored, are interested in our boys and they are interested to the amount of five dollars a boy (every boy we take to camp, half of his fee is paid). We have to limit ourselves to a certain number so the first come the first served. Sign up today by paying a portion of your camp fee. Mothers and fathers should see that every

THE REPUBLICAN PARTY

The one great question in Kansas City among the Negroes was "Who was going to command the Negro Republican forces during the campaign?" Several candidates were active. The leading ones were Homer Phillips, John E. Hawkins, W. T. Venna, and J. Finley Wilson. It is fair to say, however, that all factions are in accord on one thing and that is whoever the leader chosen may be, he must not be a job seeker, have money enough to not need the job, courageous, and he must outline and urge a policy looking toward a greater participation of the Northern Negroes in the councils of the Republican party.

Mellon, Big Gun

The convention itself was a wonderful spectacle to see. The supreme power unquestionably was Andrew Mellon, Secretary of the Treasury. When Mr. Mellon arrived in the convention hall the first-day the entire audience arose and cheered. There were numerous famous national characters there. Among them were Graham McNamee of New York, announcer of the National Broadcasting company, Will Rogers, the noted comedian, Theodore Roosevelt and young Bob LaFollette; with both of whom we shook hands and talked. Senator Borah, Miss Medil McCormick, daughter of Mark Hannah, "Big Bill" Thompson, mayor of Chicago and Mrs. Mabel Willbrandt, an assistant to the Attorney General.

Mrs. Willbrandt read the majority report of the Committee on Credentials and made the legal argument in its support. Her argument, though legally unsound and meritoriously unfounded was powerful and effective. It was a real strategical stroke to have a woman present that unfair, diabolical report. By the adoption of that report the Republican Party substantiated Billy Whittman in the South and pitched Negro delegates overboard. White men use brains in their devilment. It was not to be expected that white men would vote down the plea of a white woman, though she were dead wrong in every premise, and they did not. Let no one tell you that the Negro delegates from the South are other than gentlemen of highest intelligence and of most astute political ability.

(To be continued next week)

boy goes to camp. The Sunday School Tennis Tournament will be held in the near future. Teams may be organized now and entered at the Crocker Street Y Office. Girls and boys and men and women are invited to enter. The Committee of Management met in its regular monthly meeting at the Crocker Street Y, last Saturday evening, June 16th. The meeting was presided over by S. Joe Brown, who is completing his seventh year as chairman of our department. Reports were given by F. O. Morrow, chairman of physical work; W. W. Jones, chairman of religious work committee and by Gordon H. Kitchen, executive secretary.

CAMP, AUGUST 8-AUGUST 16
"Every Boy in Camp."
We have given some hundreds of tickets to boys which will admit them to Western League games free of charge. We have plenty more of Knot Hole tickets which will be given to boys from six years to fifteen if they call at the Crocker Street Y. They are free for the asking. During the vacation the Crocker Street Department will conduct a swimming meet. A Sunday School Tennis Tournament, ping pong, checkers, horseshoes and pocket billiards for boys who frequent the building. Any boy may sign up for these sports and recreation.

We have added new books to our reading department. We have, through the courtesy of the Iowa By-stander press, every outstanding Negro publication on our reading file. Pay us a visit and read what we are doing elsewhere.

Persons interested in an annual city wide picnic met at the Crocker Street Y last Wednesday evening and organized a permanent organization known as the Des Moines Picnic Association. This body will sponsor its first picnic, July 4th, at Grandview Park. The Corinthian Sunday School although defeated by the Maple Street Baptist Team last Friday afternoon, at the West High stadium, is still far ahead of the pack in games won.

Happy Shade, local colored heavy-weight, is scheduled to fight in Cedar Rapids, July 2nd, according to his plans. He is scheduled for next Wednesday, June 20th, at the ball park. Unlike the majority of the fighters entering the ring lately, Godfrey is not engaged in a fight for the title. The reason is that Mr. Tunney has said he did not want any portion of Georges game. Friends of Godfrey are predicting an early knockout but George himself says the fighting Johnny seven rounds, and after that the fight shall go down in history. There are about 75,000 expected to attend the fight if the weather is good. The fight is to take place in New York City.
