Opposition has developed against the policies of Marcus Garvey and today saw the crystallization of that opposition as a powerful group which intends to fight to the finish the policy of Garvey of removing the headquarters of the organization from New York to Jamaica in the effort to keep the organization under his personal control. The delegates opposed to this policy are mainly from New York, Chicago, and the South.

DE PRIEST URGES RACE FARMERS TO ORGANIZE

Washington, D. C., Aug. 5. (CNS)—Congressman Oscar De Priest, of Illinois, urges Negro farmers to organize that they may be eligible for help from the $500,000,000 revolving fund appropriated for farm relief.

In a recent interview the Illinois Congressman emphasized the great necessity for the Negro farmers of the country to organize and meet the requirements of the Federal Farm Board if they hope to obtain the benefits of the new farm legislation.

Urging the organization of Negro farmers, Congressman De Priest said: "I feel that the matter of diversification of crops would tend largely to limit the danger of supsupage of crops in the wrong products."

"Now that the so-called Farm Relief Bill has passed, Negro farmers should proceed to comply with its provisions, meet its requirements and take advantage of a share in the $500,000,000 revolving fund. IF COMPETENT CO-OPERATIVE ORGANIZATIONS DO NOT NOW EXIST, THEN THE FARMERS SHOULD FORM SUCH ORGANIZATIONS AT ONCE IN ORDER TO MEET THE REQUIREMENTS OF THE LAW."

ANOTHER RACE CANDIDATE FOR CONGRESS

New York City, Aug. 9. (CNS)—While many voters in the Twenty-first Congressional District feel that Dr. Roberts, dentist, 349 Lenox Avenue, who made the race for Congress in 1924 against the late Congressman Royla H. Wheeler, would make a good showing in the special election in November, indications point to thenaming of Edward A. Johnson, who made the run last year, as the Republican nominee.

In the Nineteenth Assembly District Col. Charles H. Fillmore and his cohorts are waging a determined fight to win over the opposition of Leader Abraham Granthal. Francis E. Rivers a young attorney, it is claimed will oppose Granthal for the Assembly.

Wilson Passes State Embalming Board Exam

The subject of this sketch is one of Des Moines' popular younger set who by close application to business and study has gradually risen from the ranks and become one of our leading business men.

Ry. Co., and for about ten years ran from Des Moines to Kansas City, where he met, wooed and wed his better half, Mrs. Lena S. Wilson, an expert stenographer who, at the time of her marriage was stenographer to Atty. L. Amasa Knox, now a member of the Missouri State Legislature, and who is now for several years past and who is now and for several years the Historical Department of the State of Iowa.

For the past ten years Mr. Wilson has been assistant custodian of the Supreme offices of the Brotherhood of American Yeomen on Fifth Avenue, this city, just a block from his own modern home; but has utilized his leisure hours studying Embalming and Funeral Directing with Mr. V. L. Jones, the dean of Iowa Negro Embalmers and even before having completed his course organized the Jones-Wilson Funeral Home corporation which took over the business established by Mr. Jones more than twenty years ago and now located at 811 West 14th St.

Having completed the course of study and graduated from the Hohenschue-Carpenter School of Embalming, he was last week licensed by the State Board and has now taken over the general management of the Jones-Wilson Funeral Home, Mr. Jones, the former manager having recently removed to Los Angeles, California.

Mr. Wilson has recently had the place re-decorated and furnished with the most modern equipment and has added to his staff a lady attendant in the person of Mrs. Alice B. Bell, a practical nurse, who has had years of experience as an undertaker's assistant and will always be on hand to give the most careful attention to women and children who might happen to have relatives in the Funeral Home.

Hon. Homer G. Phillips of St. Louis was chairman of the Resolutions Committee which sponsored this resolution.

Hon. Charles H. Calhoun of Kansas City, Missouri, presented a resolution expressing regret at the untimely death of the Hon. William T. Francis, Minister to Liberia.

One of the most significant happenings of the first day's session was the expulsion of a member of the Association for unprofessional conduct, the Association serving notice through its courageous uncompromising attitude towards misconduct that the highest ethical standards would be maintained by the Association.

President C. Francis Stradford delivered a brilliant and informing address upon the subject "Changes in Law brought by Social and Economic Forces". During the course of his remarks President Stradford said: "It is not enough to oppose residential segregation, disfranchisement laws, and separate schools; we must work incessantly to put on the statute books of every state a comprehensive Civil Rights Law which should be constantly

CROSS-BURNING COWARDS

On Sunday and Tuesday evening fire crosses were burned in the yard at 6810 Douglas Ave. The owner of the property, Roy M. Beck, and his family are out of town and let Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Venzant, colored, to occupy and look after their property. On Thursday morning about two bushels of rocks were picked up from the yard and off the top of the house eventually having been thrown there by these same cross-burners from a cornfield east of the house.

Some of the neighbors took the matter lightly and cited the fact that the Venzant family is occupying the property temporarily and as servants as the reason why they raise no objections to the property being occupied by colored people. Of course the neighborhood is occupied by a mediocre class of people; one that nobody gets a great deal of kick out of being numbered among neighbors.

This is not the first time a cross has been burned in the county, and in each case nobody has been punished for it. Except in one case when the court actually laid down on the job, nobody has ever been tried. Everybody realizes that it is not easy to apprehend criminals of this kind. Cowards are hard to deal with for they fight in the dark or while the other fellow's back is turned. And everybody hates cowards; even their own kind hates them for they can never be trusted.

The mayor of the town of Urbandale assured the family protection and Sheriff Park Findley dispatched two deputies to guard the home. It was the right thing to do. Of course the cowards won't come back for like snakes in the grass, they bite when no one is looking.

A REAL CIVIC ACCOMPLISHMENT

More than a hundred boys left Des Moines Wednesday to attend the Y. Camp. It was gratifying to see that so many parents had arranged for their youngsters to enjoy this healthful outing; that many organizations paid the expenses of some worthy boys; it showed a high sense of moral responsibility that several men and women who have no boys sponsored worthy campers unable to provide their own expenses. The Rotary club pays half the expenses of each boy which goes a long way toward making this period especially successful.

All these things show that the Y. M. C. A. is doing a big job for the youngsters, a job of which the citizens of Des Moines should be proud. Secretary Kitchen and his co-workers deserve great praise, and the continued wholehearted support of the work.

The Bystander is making its subscription collections by the use of a group of boys. We find this necessary because it is impossible for the editor to call on each one personally. You will do us a great favor if you pay them when they call or give them some definite date to return just as you do your daily paper carrier. It encourages them. The Negro in America

By J. G. Browne

We heard a sermon the other day, the subject was "The Two Seas of Palestine," both of them are fed by the river Jordan. The one surrounded by beautiful hills covered with foliage, a grand scenic body of water renowned in biblical history for many of the acts and teachings of the Christ were on and about the sea of Galilee.

All that Galilee receives from the Jordan it gives out again to the verdant valleys along its shores. This other sea is called the Dead Sea. It receives all and gives out nothing. It is a stagnant abomination to the region round about, no foliage, no birds, no fish, no living creature can approach it. What a lesson this should be to all intelligent human beings; you get out of life what you put into it. If you are grasping and miserly and selfish you warp your own soul till every living thing will shun you. The ego is one form of this.

Perhaps you have met some people who are always impressing upon the public their importance. How well they stand in the community, what schools they have attended, the worthwhile people of this locality always call me in on matter of importance. Nothing big happens here, unless I cause it to happen, all the good is my fault all the evil is the fault of others. They are the people who "never say a foolish thing and never do a wise one." The real man and woman never has to introduce himself. If you are truly intelligent, people will find out. The braggart is never great only in his own estimation. "He who would be the greatest among you let him be the servant of all." The bass drum is not the most valuable instrument although it makes the most noise. The best training for leadership is the ability to follow. Nothing in life means so much as the art of observing the good in others.

TUBERCULOSIS

The only sure safeguard against the development of Tuberculosis is in keeping the body in good condition in every known way. To do this one must have a proper amount of rest and sleep at night consisting of from six to eight hours depending upon the make-up or constitution of the individual. Rest, which is so important a part of the treatment once the disease is manifested, seems to have been curtailed or denied the individual previous to the development of the disease, playing a part in the causation. Good food which is so essential in the proper treatment is seldom denied or deficient and the lack of it never self-inflicted, but the appetite being poor, good food in proper amounts is not desired. While there is no doubt that the cause of the disease in the lungs is the infection of the lung walls and spaces by the germ of Tuberculosis the cause which allows this germ to tear down the walls is an exhaustion—a laying out of the vitality of the individual. So the need of rest in proper amount is obvious. Hereditary tendencies should not be ignored. A tendency to Tuberculosis in the ancestors should put the descendants on guard so they may be able to use all known preventive measures before any symptom shows itself.

New Air-Mail Service Between United States and Chile Boosts Friendship of Two Countries

South's Cotton and Other Goods Find Market There While Chilean Nitrate, Copper and Iron Increasingly In Demand Here

THE air-mail service soon to be inaugurated by the United States Post Office Department, through a recent contract with the Pan-American Grace Airways, Inc., between the United States and Chile, will, in the opinion of the Chilean Minister of Finance, Don Pablo Ramirez, bring about a more friendly feeling between the two nations and further extend trade relations.

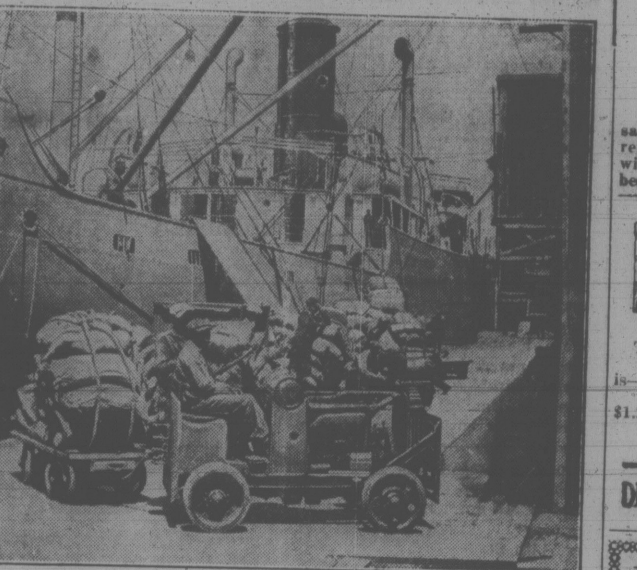

General view-Chilean Nitrate of Soda mining and extracting plant, located in nitrate plains of Northern Chile, said to be the driest spot on earth. In the foreground, caliche (the nitrate of soda-ore) is being sorted from other rock and loaded onto cars for transporting to the extraction plant.

At the plant (center) the caliche is crushed and dissolved in hot water to separate the insoluble substances from the nitrate. The solution is placed in large vats, where precipitation and crystallization of the nitrate of soda take place. Trains carrying the finished product to the Coast are observed in the right background. Workers' quarters are shown at the extreme right.

(Inset) Don Pablo Ramirez, Chilean Minister of Finance, a recent visitor to the United States.

Senator Ramirez is the first cabinet official of the Chilean Government to visit a foreign country during term of office. He came to pay Chile's respects to President Hoover and to confer with American importers relative to extending the sales of nitrate of soda, one of the most valuable natural resources of his country.

"Cutting the time from twenty to seven days in mail and perhaps pasenger service between New York and Santiago, Chile, will be a great step forward in bringing us closer to the United States, as well as in establishing a friendlier feeling and in adding to the rapidly growing developments," he said.

"At present more than one-fourth of all the foreign or imported goods used in Chile come from the United States, largely in the form of manufactured goods, valued at approximately $50,000,000 annually. I predict there will be an increasing amount of raw material furnished the United States manufacturers from Chile, while Chile will continue to take increasing amounts of finished products, chiefly in the form of cotton goods, mining equipment, electrical equipment, agricultural implements, railway equipment, and other machinery for the installation of domestic industrial plants. Already Chilean industries have employed more than $650,000,000 of United States capital, mainly in bar nitrate, copper and iron mines, and at the present rate of development we must look to the United States or Europe for additional assistance," Senator Ramirez said.

He advised the American importers that the mining of nitrate of soda has recently surpassed all previous records. "Your farmers," he said, "are now the greatest consumers of nitrate of soda, using approximately a million tons annually. With unlimited beds from which to supply United States farmers with their nitrate fertilizers, my Government proposes to do all within its power to mine and deliver it in the best mechanical condition and at the lowest possible price."

MOTHER ALLEN IS SPEAKER

By S. JOE BROWN

Perhaps the most epoch making event of the 57th Anniversary Celebration held at St. Paul A. M. E. church, this city this week was the address made by Mother Annie Allen, 93 years old, who is the only living charter member of the church and who was the first clerk of the church when it was organized a few doors from her present residence on Park St., Aug. 6th, 1872.

Notwithstanding her ninety three years, mother Allen, stood for nearly a half hour without support except from her sturdy cane, and with a clear strong voice and well chosen words related interesting bits of her experience from the time she came to Des Moines, more than sixty years ago down to the erection and occupation of the present $100,000 structure on 12th and Crocker Sts.

The only other person present who had any personal knowledge of the beginnings of the church was Rev. Henry McCraven, now a local Elder in the church, who though not then a member, was one of the three persons who signed the original articles under which the church was incorporated in 1879 and personally solicited $3000 in cash and all the bricks that went into the first building which was erected at the corner of 2nd and Center Sts., during the summer of 1882.

Other speakers on the program were

Rev. Geo. W. Robinson, pastor of the Corinthian Baptist Church, Rev. H. L. Overton, pastor of the Burns M. E. church and Atty. S. Joe Brown, the latter of whom read from several legal documents on file in the County Recorder's office, among which were the articles of incorporation of the African Methodist Church Aid Committee, composed entirely of white men with the late Judge C. C. Nourse as chairman, whose articles gave the object of their incorporation to be the securing of funds for the purchase of ground and the erection of a meeting house for the Negro congregation.

Perhaps the best evidences of the wonderful strides that have been made by this organization are the fact that on Sunday last the present pastor, the Rev. Geo. W. Williams, delivered a successful Diplomas showing the successful completion of a two year course of preparation in Sunday School Teacher Training to a class of ten, all of whom are teachers in his Sunday School; and that at the conclusion of the program Tuesday night, he installed into office a corps of fifty officers for the ensuing year for this church whose entire membership, fifty-seven years ago numbered sixteen.

The program Tuesday evening was presided over by Mr. Harrison Gould, the oldest Steward in the church in point of service and at its conclusion light refreshments were served by the ladies usher board under the leadership of Mrs. Rosa Brooks; and a birthday cake containing fifty seven candles was cut and pieces passed out as souvenirs of the occasion.

The Telephone Triangle Three groups of people are vitally concerned with telephone service: The public which uses the service; the investors who provide the money to build telephone property; and the employees who build, maintain and operate the telephone system. Original Steeplechase Steeplechase is a horse race in which the competitors have to surmount obstacles, such as hedges and ditches, in order to reach the winning post. The first race of the kind was run in Ireland by a party of fox-hunters, who actually made a distant church steeple the goal of the impromptu race. Such matches soon grew in favor, and steeplechasing became a recognized branch of horse racing.

Odd Monkey Specimen

One of the most interesting specimens in the world was the monkey that didn't have a tail, in Australia. He was the most humalike of all Old-world monkeys on exhibition. He did not have even the vestige of a rudimentary tail and his cry was a single wail, singularly like the cry of a child. He was all black except for a white frontal band over his eyes.

On Building

He that alters an old house is tied as a translator to the original, and is confined to the fancy of the first builder. Such a man were unwise to pluck down good old building, to erect, perchance, worse new. But those that raise a new house from the ground are blameworthy if they make it not handsome, seeing to them method and confusion are both at a rate.—Thomas Fuller (1642).

In the afternoon session of the First day Hon. Homer G. Phillips of the Mound City Bar Association of St. Louis, Mo., spoke. The morning session of the second day's work was featured by the most brilliant array of legal talent ever gathered together upon one program in the history of the Association among whom were, Judge James A. Cobb of the Municipal Court of Washington, D. C.; William H. Maynes, former special assistant attorney general in the Grand jury murder investigation; Raymond Alexander, serious-minded and prominent attorney of Philadelphia.

At the beginning of the afternoon session of the second day Homer G. Phillips of St. Louis, Mo., chairman of the Resolutions Committee, presented to the Association two very important resolutions which were unanimously approved by the body.

The Association went on record in the first of these resolutions as endorsing the creation of the Hoover Crime Commission, and the work which it is to undertake, although the failure to appoint a Negro member of the Commission was deplored.

The second Resolution condemned the discriminatory state and municipal laws in respect to the transfer, conveyance, ownership, and occupation of real estate by Negroes, and likewise condemned the crime of lynching of human beings, the crime of peonage, the denial of the right to participate in State and local elections and primaries in Southern States, and condemned the denial to the Negro of an equal industrial opportunity. The work of the N. A. A. C. P. and Urban League was commended. The Association directed its executive officers to commence a nation-wide program of law enforcement. Judge James A. Cobb of Washington, D. C., commenting upon this matter said that the only firm ground upon which the Negro can stand is that of Law Enforcement. The laws protect the weak and oppressed.

The election of officers concluded the activity of the Association at its business sessions Friday evening. Raymond Pace Alexander of Philadelphia, Pa., was elected President to succeed C. Francis Stratford of Chicago, Illinois. Irvin C. Mollison was re-elected secretary.

George Ellis, Chicago, Illinois; Charles Robinson, Washington, D. C., Vice Presidents; Atty. Geo. Woodson of Des Moines were made members of the Executive Committee.

Judge Albert B. George of the Municipal Court of Chicago, the only colored Judge elected by a city wide constituency of three million, delivered the principal address at a Public Mass Meeting held by the Association at Rev. Brady's Second Baptist church.

PRESSURE COOKER BIG AID IN HOME CANNING

Summer is here with all its luscious fruits and tender green vegetables and every homemaker's thoughts are turning to canning.

The ideal canner is the pressure cooker, which is recommended by the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Foods canned in this cooker are sterilized at temperatures much higher than boiling point. Higher temperatures give added safety in the canning of such vegetables as peas, beans, and corn.

In addition to making for safety in canning, pressure cookers save time and fuel.

Originals of Names Old Glasgow, the second city of the British empire today, obtained its name from two Celtic words, "glas," meaning green, and "gao," meaning dear-dear green place. Dublin came from "Dubh," meaning black, and "linn," meaning pool. Rutland is a corruption of Redlands.

raw cabbage, turnips and liver. But Vitamin C is the elusive one, and one of the most important, too, because it is essential to good health, and especially prevents scurvy which is apt to be prevalent among children not getting a balanced diet. There are plenty of fruits and vegetables which abound in this necessary vitamin, but it has been found to be the one most easily destroyed by cooking. It is useless to give your family plenty of spinach, cabbage, less time in the kitchen, and the saving in fuel is considerable. Several vegetables can be cooked in the pressure cooker at one time and the flavors will not mix. Moreover, the flavor in vegetables so cooked is so much improved that there will be no difficulty in persuading each member of the family to eat his full quota no matter how strong his old prejudice may have been, against them.

Electro Magnet Now—Used to Milk Cows

In Albany, N. Y., where he was born more than 150 years ago, there was unveiled the other day a statue of Joseph Henry, discoverer of the electro magnet. The statue depicts Professor Henry examining an electro magnet, the principles and workings of which were discovered by him in a room of the Albany Academy, in front of which the statue stands.

Many of modern industry's most important tasks are possible of performance only because of Henry's discovery of the electro magnetic force. The most recent application of the electro magnetic force is reported by the DeLaval Engineering Laboratories, which have harnessed the electro magnetic force to achieve uniform milking of cows—a goal sought by scientists for over 20 years. This is accomplished by means an udder pulsator and controlled from a pulso pump by magnetic force. This simple and inexpensive method insures perfect milking with the least trouble and attention on the part of the operator.

John Henry shares with Morse the honor of inventing the telegraph.

Posodas
The nine-day celebration in Mexico just before Christmas is called the "Posodas." It is a combined Christian and Aztec year-end holiday. The Aztecs originally celebrated December 10 to 21, and the Christians December 22 to 24. Being unable to suppress each other, the two tribes finally compromised and extended the Posodas to include both festivals.

Blackberry a Nuisance
War on the blackberry has been declared in New Zealand. During the last few years this fruit has encroached upon nearly 100,000 acres of valuable dairying land, and thousands of pounds have been spent on vain efforts to defeat it. Insects have now been sent to New Zealand to eat up the blackberry.
