Racial Superiority Myth Missouri Rabbi Says

Mrs. Brown to Go Adrood

Mrs. S. Joe Brown, prominent civic and social worker of this city, has been named as one of a delegation to represent the Negro Women of America at the 8th Quinquennial session of the International Council of Women which convenes in Vienna, Austria, May 27th to June 9th, 1930.

MRS. S. JOE BROWN

This body will be presided over by Lady Aberdeen of Dublin, Ireland, and will comprise some of the leading civic and social workers of the world.

Mrs. Brown, who is a life Trustee of the National Association of Colored Women, which organization she will represent in Vienna, will be the first woman of her race from this state and one of the few from this country to have the honor of sitting in this International Council; and as far as we are advised will be the only representative of any race in this session from the state of Iowa.

"NIGGER" IS OBSCENE TERM

CAMBRIDGE, MASS., March 28.—(By The Associated Negro Press.)—Because of the vigorous protest of Attorney Ray W. Guild, "Personalities of Antiquities," a collection of essays by Arthur Weigald, has been banned from libraries in this city. In his petition for a hearing on the book, Mr. Guild said the book was obscene and offensive to common decencies.

One essay in the book, "Exploits of a Nigger King," drew the wrath of the young lawyer and caused him to ask for a hearing on the matter, after which a committee of the Cambridge Library trustees recommended that the book be removed from the library shelves.

One of the trustees, Russell A. Wood, said the book should be "thrown into the dump, forthwith." Objections to the term nigger was emphasized by Mr. Guild, who said the authority was not justified by using such a term in reference to the Negro race.

Edward P. Collier, acting chairman of the trustees, said he had read the book and found it more or less humorous. He said "nigger" is generally used in a contemptuous manner, and nothing would be gained by keeping Weigald's essays in the library.

BISHOP CAREY TRIAL IS POSTPONED

CHICAGO, March 27.—(A. N. P.)—Trial of Bishop Archibald Carey, civil service commissioner of the city of Chicago, scheduled to begin March 24, before Judge Otto Kerner, was continued to a date late in April, Monday morning through an agreement reached between the state's attorney and counsel for the commissioner.

ELECT RACE MAN MAYOR

ORMOND, Fla., March 27.—Ormond is all agog with excitement over the election of Isaac H. Sawyer as mayor. There were 348 registered Negro voters, which was the balance of power. Sawyer hails from Massachusetts.

Memphis, April 3.—(C.N.S.)—"No race is superior to another," Rabbi Ferdinand Isserman of Temple Israel, St. Louis, said addressing a dinner given by the Men's Club at the Poplar Avenue Temple here.

Basing his argument on the research of Prof. Frantz Boaz, noted anthropologist of Columbia University, he contended that "the difference between the barbaric races and the civilized races is not one of quality, but of time, of centuries."

"A race is not inferior, only backward, and the backward races of today may be the custodians of the culture and learning of the world tomorrow. This may be brought about by a change of history environment."

"Modern anthropology vindicates the teachings of religion," he said. "We will have a true brotherhood of man, which is the essence of religion, when we realize this racial unity."

Rabbi Isserman cited the histories of various races of the world which have been dominant at one time or another. "The Angles, Celts and Goths, ancestors of the ruling English, French and Germans of today, were barbarians 12 centuries ago when the Arabs, regarded as inferior today, were the ruling peoples. The numerals used today, the foundations of medicine, and the a, b, c of astronomy we owe to the Arabs," he said. "Caesar regarded the Angles, Celts and Goths as fierce, barbaric and savage."

Lincoln Post Buries Former Member

NEGRO LEGIONAIRES RESCUE COMRADE'S BODY

The members of local Negro veterans of the World War proved themselves to buddies, even after death, to one of their members, comrade Grover Manifee, who, after having been denied hospitalization by the Veterans' Bureau secured admission to the State University Hospital, where he died March 8th as the result of an operation for stomach trouble.

Having no money and no known relatives and the county having no funds out of which he could be transported back to Des Moines, his body was turned over to the University Medical College for dissecting material.

However, this information reached the officers and members of his Legion Post in time for them to secure an order through the local overseer of the poor to prohibit any action being taken in this direction until the Post Service Officer, Spencer Elliston, could secure from the Veterans' Bureau assurance that that department would reimburse anyone who gave Comrade Manifee a decent burial in the sum of $107.00 the amount the government allows in such case and Mr. Tug W. Wilson of the Wilson Funeral Home, 811 Fourteenth St., having agreed to return the body to Des Moines and give it a decent burial for that amount, the University authorities released it and it arrived in the city Tuesday evening and was given a Christian burial from the Wilson Funeral Home Wednesday afternoon at 1 o'clock, the Rev. P. C. Wilburn, of the Kyles A. M. E. Zion Church officiating. Interment was made in the soldiers' plot at Glendale.

WATERLOO, IOWA, NEWS

Rev. S. Bates of Maple Street Baptist Church, preached Sunday evening, one of the most inspiring sermons at Mt. Carmel Baptist Church. His subject was "Thy Kingdom Come". Everyone went home rejoicing. He will preach at Antioch Church Monday and Tuesday. Rev. Bates is stopping with Rev. and Mrs. Wm. E. Bell while in the city. Christ wants the true gospel in the church. We are glad to have such spiritual sermons. More love, do unto others as you wish them to do you. Religion does not exist as a should. More money and graft. Our churches are political halls instead of houses of prayer. Help us was against sin in every way. There is quite a large amount of sickness here among our group.

The music will be good, the staging elaborate, costumes striking, and the cast imposing. All will wear creations of crepe paper. Mrs. Adelaide Bowman is general chairman. See the names of characters next week. You can not miss the affair of the season!

PREPARE BRIEF FOR SUPREME COURT IN VIRGINIA WHITE PRIMARY CASE

NEW YORK, March 28.—The brief in behalf of the right to vote of Negro voters, sought to be excluded from the Virginia Democratic primaries by rule of the State Democratic Central Committee, is now being prepared for submission to the United States Supreme Court where the case is to be heard on appeal.

The case, known as West v. Biley, has been won in federal court for James O. West, the colored voter who brought the suit, and is being prepared by the Virginia authorities. Preliminary draft of the reply brief has been gone over carefully by Arthur B. Spingarn and by James Marshall, whose father supervised preparation of the case in its earlier stages.

This case, like similar ones being brought by the N. A. A. C. P., in Texas, Arkansas and Florida, brings before the Supreme Court the question whether state party committees can exclude colored voters from primary elections when the states are forbidden to do so by enactment.

If the Supreme Court should uphold the recent decision of Judge Grover in the Federal District Court of Virginia, a second decisive blow will have been struck against the white primary system in the South. Not only will it be unlawful for state legislatures to exclude Negroes from primaries, as was held in the first Texas White Primary case (Nixon v. Herndon); but in the event of a favorable decision in the present case, state party committees would be similarly prohibited from attempting such exclusion by "ruling" or by prescribing color qualifications for party members.

COURT CONVICTS MAN IN 12 HOURS

LOUISIA, Va., March 27.—After about twelve hours of deliberation a jury here late Thursday finally convicted Jean Jackson, one-armed local man, of stealing two chickens, and Judge passed out a sentence of six months in jail as punishment. Judge A. L. Browning headed down the decision after an all-day session of the jury.

Husb'nd Uses Club to Drive Assailent

DETROIT, Mich., March 27.—(A. N. P.)—An attempt was made here on Sunday night to kill Mrs. Iris Page Butler, who won the aldermanic nomination recently.

Mrs. Butler was asleep beside her husband when suddenly she felt a hand clutching her throat. She screamed and her husband awoke and drove the would-be murderer from the house with a club, which was the only weapon he could find.

Her nomination marks the first time in the history of Detroit that a Negro woman has been nominated for a place on the city council. Immediately following the counting of the votes her opponent, Stanley Jakowski, was named the winner by one vote. Mrs. Butler demanded a recount and she received the nomination with a majority of six votes.

Following the announcement of her nomination, Mrs. Butler received a telegram signed by the "Wreath of Roses Committee," warning her not to attend the banquet which was being held for the successful nominees at a white hotel. It is believed that the telegram was sent by some of her opponents' workers and that the attempt made on her life Sunday night also was the work of some assassin hired by Jakowski's supporters.

The prowler was no amateur, according to the belief of the police, who point to the fact that he gressed his hands so that he would leave no finger prints. A thorough search is being made for him.

MARCUS GARVEY WINS APPEAL

NEW YORK, N. Y., March 18.—(E. N. S.)—Information from Kingston, Jamaica, British West Indies, announces that the Appeal Court had reversed the verdict of the lower court on Feb. 2, which had imposed a sentence of six months without hard labor on Marcus Garvey, president of the Universal Negro Improvement Association, for seditious libel, for the publication of certain articles in his daily newspaper, "The Blackman," regarding the action taken by some officials of the government in that island. His editor, a Mr. Aikman, was also sentenced, along with his chief, to three months imprisonment in the St. Catherine District Prison, without hard labor. The case against the foreman, a Mr. Beecher, was dismissed.

THE IOWA BYSTANDER,
Des Moines, Iowa,

Gentlemen:
I have learned with a great deal of satisfaction that Dan W. Turner my old school mate and friend for many years is a candidate for the republican nomination for governor.

Knowing Dan as I do, and this is what we have always called him, I feel that your readers and the good folks of Iowa generally would appreciate a word from one who has known him from boyhood.

More than thirty years ago, with my parents I lived in Corning. My father and Dan's father were about the same age. Twenty-five Negro families lived there then. The A. B. Turner family was dear to the hearts of all these people. The older family was held in the highest esteem; Dan, his brothers and I went to school together, engaged in athletics, pulled the old fire engine together and on all occasions he was absolutely clean and fair.

On many occasions I was counted on to save the day in athletics and the boys were always pushing me to the front.

Aspiring to an office as chief executive of the state, it is well to know the background of the men. I commend him to my friends and believe that with the record he has made since I left Corning, that if elected Governor, he will give all the people a clean, honest administration.

Sincerely yours,

J. H. WOODS.

In that anxious time when baby was still sick you needed first your man the druggist. You needed his professional skill quickly and you got it quickly because he was nearby.

And what keeps him nearby? It's the everyday merchandise service with which he supplies you—the phase of the drug store which modern conditions have made necessary in order to keep the druggist's professional service available in time of need.

The druggist is still a professional man or woman—a pharmacist with a degree earned in college supported with a liberal scientific knowledge. In his prescription room his shelves are filled as they have been for generations with rows of chemicals, with which he compounds and dispenses the curative of a nation. KNOW YOUR DRUGGIST BETTER, HE IS YOUR DOCTOR'S RIGHT HAND MAN.

CLEAN-UP WEEK

The Junior Chamber of Commerce is conducting a clean-up, paint-up week in Des Moines, April 6-12. As in past years, various communities are contesting in order to determine which has done the best work in improving the appearance of their homes and communities. The Waterbury Circle Community won the contest last year.

This is indeed a worthy undertaking for it tends to make the residents of the communities which they live. Even though the very aristocratic section won the prize last year, communities with families of small means should work hard to take the prize this year for the improvement over former conditions rather than the perfection reached, should be the determining factor.

There are certain sections where there are altogether too much rubbish and old houses with windows out and in a general unsightly condition. Many are unoccupied and are sore spots in the communities in which they are located. The elimination of these unsightly conditions will remove the things which detract from the appearance of good properties and on the other hand to leave them brands the owner as undesirable neighbors. Nobody likes a dirty neighborhood. Let all see how well their neighborhoods can look.

A WORTHY CAMPAIGN

Some months ago The Chicago Whip, one of our leading weekly newspapers, launched upon a campaign to secure more and better employment for Negroes in Chicago. In certain parts on the south side several thousand Negroes make up the bulk of the population—possibly one hundred thousand living in one small area. In this area have been established stores of every description, and these stores get ninety per cent of their trade from Negroes. The Whip said that if these stores got the bulk of their trade from Negroes, Negro clerks, cashiers and bookkeepers should be employed.

Their representatives called on the owners and managers of these stores and on some occasions got point blank refusals. Some saw the justice of the appeal and responded immediately. Piteous publicity was heaped upon the recalcitrant managers, but one by one they have been won over—the Woolworth company being the most recent to join the ranks of those stores which are hiring Negro salespeople, cashiers and bookkeepers.

The Whip is to be commended for its fight. It has been made without fear or favor and on more than one occasion no doubt they offended some of the customers from whom their advertising revenue came.

New York, Mass. 48—Branches of the N. A. A. C. P., throughout the United States, are entering with enthusiasm upon the Moorfield Story-Louis Marshall Memorial Campaign which culminates next June in the Twenty-first Annual Conference of the N. A. A. C. P. in Springfield, Mass.

The Negro in America

By J. G. Browne

The co-operative alliance between the Civic Forum of the west side and the Boosters club of east Des Moines has successfully withstood the onslaught of its first political endeavor. This is the first political alliance of Negroes in the city that represented the rank and file of our group in all sections, ever able to accomplish such a feat.

This alliance has the respect and confidence of the majority of the Negro voters, because of the straightforward manner by which it presented their case and championed their cause. Its slogan "Opportunity—not alms; Justice—not pity" has brought far reaching results. The leaders of this united effort did not waver under the barrage of false accusations, and selfish innuendo hurled at them by the opponents of mass progress. The wailing of the foe was an indication to them that their bullets were hitting the enemy. This alliance has not only won the confidence of those it supported, but the respect of those, whom it fought.

The test of political sagacity, is the ability to choose wisely. An organization capable of selecting four winners out of five is one in which people generally will have confidence. This was accomplished through the safe and sane rule of the majority and not by means of demagogic rule or ruin individualism. Common sense, hard work and no bally hoo has placed the Civic Forum and the Boosters Club into the strategic position that they now occupy. Too much praise cannot be given to the men and women of these two organizations for the valiant work done in the precincts last Monday, March 31.

Through the united efforts of this alliance fourteen men have been put to work and we have not got started yet.

Any reader of this article can verify the truth of this statement by inquiry at the offices of these organizations. The leaders of this movement feel that this one accomplishment means more to the economic progress of the Negroes in Des Moines than that one individual receive a big political plumb. We do not mean to infer that we relinquish our rights to the latter but if there is a choice we prefer the distribution of jobs for many rather than preference for a few.

Join the Civic Forum or the Boosters Club. It costs you nothing more than that you have common sense enough to know the value of your right of suffrage. Register and be ready to vote in the primaries June 2nd, 1930. "Come with us and we will do you good." "Our liberty we prize, our rights we will defend." We are not out to avenge wrongs but to grasp opportunity.

War Department Says Gold Star Mothers Are Not Complaining and Their Complaint Would Have More Weight Than Others

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 27.—(C.N.S.)—Not a single Gold Star mother or widow who is eligible to make the trip to Europe as the guest of the federal government has formally registered her protest against the jim-crow arrangements for the pilgrimage to the European graves of their heroes, War Department officials told a reporter for the Capital News Service on Friday.

No Complaint Made

While protests against the policy of segregating the mothers on their sacred pilgrimage to the battlefields of France have been voiced by a score of national organizations, prominent citizens and practically every Negro newspaper throughout the country, the mothers themselves have registered no complaint, it was pointed out. The protests were considered but caused no change to be made in the plans. In the absence of the protests of the mothers and widows themselves, officials claim to be justified in their conclusion that they are satisfied, it is frankly stated.

Mothers Silent

"The mothers themselves, who are to be the guests on this tour, are not complaining," said Col. William Gibson "yet their complaint would have more weight than any others."

Colonel Gibson is in charge of the arrangements for the trip, which are being made by the office of the quartermaster general.

222 To Go

Continuing, officials point out that even after complaints began pouring into the War Department following the exposure of the "jim-crow" plan

TUBERCULOSIS

A disease which holds its own against the efforts of those who would subdue it but which must some day give over to cure very soon after being diagnosed as such, Tuberculosis, very widespread among human beings, must some day take its place among the curable diseases. Come to think of it it's not such a bad one to handle in this decade when recognized early and the proper course taken; not so difficult to recognize either if the possibility of its beginning is considered. This recognition is unfortunately up to the person who is probably the one affected and if he does not seek early diagnosis becomes impossible.

Any weakness which is not explainable should be investigated with the possibility of this disease in its beginning. Any cough which hangs on should have the same attention. There are weaknesses and coughs from other things of course some of which are serious and some which are not, but these are symptoms which almost always accompany Tuberculosis in the early stage of the disease. Aside from the fact that it may be and almost always is curable in its early stage the necessity for its early recognition is of importance to prevent the spread of a disease whose control is a matter of the utilization of all the means available.

Smiles As He Tells How to 'Handle' Them.

NEW ORLEANS, March 23.—A middle aged plantation owner was on his way to Atlanta penitentiary Tuesday night after pleading guilty to a charge of holding his Negro farm hands in peonage as slaves. Given Eighteen Months He was James E. Pigott, lanky cotton planter of considerable wealth, who was sentenced to eighteen months when he confessed to Federal Judge Wayne Borah he often chained his Negroes to trees when they attempted to escape from his plantation in Washington parish, near here.

"But why do you send me to jail for this?" Pigott asked when he was sentenced. "Many planters all through the south make it a practice to hold Negroes who work for them and owe them money."

Pleads Guilty

Pigott stood before the court and smilingly pleaded guilty to all the counts of the peonage charges except allegations that he had beaten his Negroes with tire chains. "I handle Negroes the same way every one else in this country does," Pigott said. "There isn't any other way to handle them."

Pigott said he advanced food and lodging during off months, and then when crop time came he would deduct his advances from the Negroes' pay. He acknowledged that the advances almost always were more than the Negroes' wages.

Negroes Don't Testify

Preston Allen, Herbert Dyson, and Jesse Hall, three Negroes who said they were at one time held by Pigott, were in the courtroom but were not called to testify. It was Hall's escape from Pigott's farm that led to the charges being filed against the planter.

NEW YORK, March 23.—Harriet Pickens, daughter of William Pickens, field secretary of the N. A. A. C. P., is the first of her race to receive the coveted award of the "S" pin, one of six awarded at Smith College, Northampton, Mass., one of the foremost women's colleges in the country.

by the Capital News Service, four additional mothers have signified a willingness to make the trip, bringing the total number up to 222 to go in 1930 and five to sail at some later date.

In the meantime, newspapers and local organizations are being urged to prevail upon the eligible mothers to refuse to make the trip under the present arrangements.

ARKANSAS HALTS RACE VOTE

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., March 27.—Another instance of the attempt of Southern Democrats to deny race citizens the power of suffrage which is rightfully theirs, materialized here Wednesday when the rules of the party denying Negroes the right to participate in the party primaries were upheld by the State Supreme Court.

Stores Will Sell City Railway Weekly Passes

Weekly trolley passes have been placed on sale in more than eighty community and downtown stores, it was announced by the Des Moines Railway company Tuesday. Sale of passes on street cars was discontinued March 26.

Street car patrons may now purchase weekly passes at twenty-eight locations in the downtown loop district and at neighborhood stores on every car line. Community drugists, open evenings and Sundays, will handle the greater part of the weekly pass sale.

The change in weekly pass distribution methods has been made in an effort to eliminate delays-in-service especially on Monday mornings, it was stated, and to relieve conductors of responsibility for carrying large sums of pass sale money.

Among the principal stores to handle weekly trolley passes are the following: Walker Street Pharmacy, East 16th and Walker. Kerr Drug Company, East 18th and Walker. Higgins Drug Co., 10th and Center. Community Drug Co., 12th and Center. Carlisle Pharmacy, 17th & Crocker.

FACE UPKEEP COSTS WOMEN $50 YEARLY

NEW YORK.—Budget your beauty. Be as business-like about the essentials of your toilet-table as about those of your pantry and linen-chest. "Haphazard accounting of household expenditures by home makers vanished about the time electricity supplanted elbow-grease in the American home," Mrs. Helen Rubinstein, beauty specialist of London and Paris, said today, in a discussion before a home economics institute class here. "Scientific budgeting of income today should cover every living expenditure from breakfast food to skin food."

"Government statisticians estimate that the average American woman spends $50 a year on her face. In my opinion, this is the minimum low which the woman of moderate means may not safely go if she wishes to retain her beauty. This amounts to about 18 cents a day. The maximum may, of course, run into thousands of dollars annually."

INFANTS OF FOODS GETS BETTER CARE THAN MOST BABIES

WASHINGTON, D. C.—The most cared-for food in the world is margarine, the baby of the foodstuff family. Not only do rigid laws govern every step taken in its manufacture and sale, but inspectors of margarine manufacturers guard it from contamination as not one human infant in a million is guarded. From the farm and coconut groves to the housewife's door, the loving care of scores of persons is given to every pound.

"Government attention to the purity and wholesomeness of margarine begins in the great packing plants with an inspection of the beef and lard from which the wholesome fats contained in the product are obtained, and continues through the various phases of processing and handling until it has reached the stage where the label is applied to the container and the margarine is ready for shipment," it is disclosed in a bulletin of the Institute of Margarine Manufacturers, just made public here.

"The government sees to it that the milk used in every pound of margarine is produced and handled under the most sanitary conditions and finally pasteurized; Uncle Sam knows to a point the amounts of vegetable oils, animal fats, milk, and salt which go into its composition. Even the water content is strictly specified, as is the information that shall go on the label of the finished product."

Red tape shrouds the making of margarine like a baby's blanket. The Bureau of Animal Industry watches over it. So does the Bureau of Internal Revenue and on top of it all the manufacturer-parents of the product keep a keen parental eye open and watchful twenty-four hours a day.

TELLS BEST OIL FOR WINTER USE

NEW YORK.—An old theory that motorists should use lighter oil when cold weather strikes has been exploded by the American Research Foundation, which has just issued a bulletin explaining why it is a mistaken notion that winter driving necessitates lighter oil than summer driving.

"The reasons, as pointed out in the bulletin, are: "First, in cold weather the clearance between the piston and cylinder is greater and in starting the gasoline leakage will be much greater than at its normal operating temperature. "Second, leakage of gasoline past the piston rings into the crank case has a greater effect upon the diluting, or thinning, of the motor oil in cold weather than in warm.

"If thinner oil, therefore, is used in cold weather to facilitate starting, this oil will become too thin under operating temperatures to properly lubricate the engine parts during the operation." And, he also points out that the lubricating oil will also be too thin to produce the proper seal on the piston rings, thereby further increasing the gasoline leakage and resulting in loss of power."

CHESTERTOWN, Md., March 27.—(C.N.S.)—It was certainly not an ill wind that blew $500 in $5 bills into the arms of Harrison Jenkins—but the second gust—well, that's another matter.

Jenkins was bound for the railroad station when he saw a $5 bill blowing toward the station the number of bills, scurrying along in the March wind, became more numerous, and Jenkins gathered up $50 in $5 bills and two $1 notes.

But the second gust of wind was not so kind and blew Jenkins face to face with an employe of the Sun Oil Company who had dropped on the street a bank book containing $517 in $5 bills. He had just discovered his loss when Jenkins walked up with several of the bills still in his hand.

Jenkins returned the money and received a $1 bill as a reward.

MIDNIGHT RAMBLERS

By Mrs. A. Gould

When you do your midnight rambling, Watch your step, now while you creep, For there is always one watching, When you think they are all asleep.

Night is for the owls awaking, For they cannot see in light, So my friends you stop your creeping, And try to go out in the light.

If you wish to meet your Jesus, We must walk within the light, For in darkness we may stumble, So let us walk in broad daylight.

Now the time has come my brother, That we must act as well as talk; So let us quit our midnight rambling, And read the handwriting on the wall.

We all want to meet our Saviour, He may come in the night So its left to you my brother, Quite your creeping in the night.

Now if you do love your Saviour, Walk in daylight like a man; And remember Jesus watches, And hold to his unchanging hand.

BAPTISTS ASSOCIATION EXPRESSES REGRETS OF REV. MYERS' PASSING

The officers of the Iowa and South Dakota Baptist Association in executive board at the Maple Street Baptist church, Rev. A. Ross Brent, pastor, take this method of expressing our deepest sympathy to our Moderator, Dr. G. W. Robinson, in the loss of his cousin and faithful co-worker, Rev. James A. Myers, who passed on, December 12, 1929.

Rev. Myers made many life long friends in this state. He rendered several years of valuable service in the pastorate of many churches in Iowa. Indeed a great man in Israel has fallen. He was an officer of the Iowa and South Dakota Baptist Association at the time he was called to New Jersey.

We regretted very much to give him up because of his Christian usefulness in this state. He has gone to get his reward, gone to a better home. May we all look up and say, There's a bright home on high, We shall see bye and bye, For no darkness nor shadow will be, For God's glory will shine with a brightness divine, That bright home is for you and for me.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 27.—(CNS)—Just ten days prior to the futile attempt of Sen. Cole Blease to prevent the confirmation of Judge Jas. A. Cobb as judge of the Municipal Court of the District of Columbia, Judge Cobb handed down a decision against the fiery senator from the Palmetto State, it was learned here Saturday.

Judge Cobb ordered the senator from South Carolina to pay to the Industrial Loan Bank of South Carolina $186, with interest from March 4, 1925, and costs, and further ordered that this judgment be satisfied March 21, 1930.

Bleese Refuses to Pay

The Industrial Loan Bank, through their agent, C. H. Seebold, filed suit in the Municipal Court to recover on a judgment awarded against the senator in the County Court of Richland county, S. C., on March 4, 1925, in the amount of $172, which Senator Blease had refused and failed to pay in spite of repeated and insistent demands.

An alias summons was served on January 5, 1929, after Mr. Blease refused to accept the original summons issued April, 1928. He moved the court to vacate the writ of subpoena, claiming that he was a citizen of South Carolina only in Washington on business pertaining to the United States Senate; that the judgment was rendered in South Carolina, and that he had no property in the District of Columbia over which the court had jurisdiction.

Attacks Negro Judges

The motion was overruled January 12, 1929, by Judge Cobb, who handed down a decision for the plaintiff on March 8, 1930; ten days before the senator makes an attack upon "nig-Columbia Recording artist, and an all-ger" judges on the floor of the Senate Negro cast of 75 singers and dancers, and three days before the settlement of Columbia over which the court had jurisdiction.

Featured in "St. Louis Blues" are the Bessie Smith, famous blues singer and RCA Gramercy studios in New York, making it possible to secure the best Negro talent the musical comedy and revue stages could offer. Among the featured players are Isabel Washington, Broadway star of "Harlem" and "Bamboula," and Jimmy Mordecai, popular night club entertainer.

Dudley Murphy conceived and directed the film, which was produced at RCA Gramercy studios in New York, making it possible to secure the best Negro talent the musical comedy and revue stages could offer. Among the featured players are Isabel Washington, Broadway star of "Harlem" and "Bamboula," and Jimmy Mordecai, popular night club entertainer.

MIDNIGHT RAMBLERS

By Mrs. A. Gould

When you do your midnight rambling, Watch your step, now while you creep, For there is always one watching, When you think they are all asleep.

Night is for the owls awaking, For they cannot see in light, So my friends you stop your creeping, And try to go out in the light.

If you wish to meet your Jesus, We must walk within the light, For in darkness we may stumble, So let us walk in broad daylight.

Now the time has come my brother, That we must act as well as talk; So let us quit our midnight rambling, And read the handwriting on the wall.

We all want to meet our Saviour, He may come in the night So its left to you my brother, Quite your creeping in the night.

Now if you do love your Saviour, Walk in daylight like a man; And remember Jesus watches, And hold to his unchanging hand.

The officers of the Iowa and South Dakota Baptist Association in executive board at the Maple Street Baptist church, Rev. A. Ross Brent, pastor, take this method of expressing our deepest sympathy to our Moderator, Dr. G. W. Robinson, in the loss of his cousin and faithful co-worker, Rev. James A. Myers, who passed on, December 12, 1929.

Rev. Myers made many life long friends in this state. He rendered several years of valuable service in the pastorate of many churches in Iowa. Indeed a great man in Israel has fallen. He was an officer of the Iowa and South Dakota Baptist Association at the time he was called to New Jersey.

We regretted very much to give him up because of his Christian usefulness in this state. He has gone to get his reward, gone to a better home. WASHINGTON, D. C. March 27

(C.N.S.) The opening of the Fair department store, located at Seventh and I streets, Northwest, on April 1, with an all-colored sales force numbering approximately 100, will mark the beginning of a new economic era in the history of the colored people of Washington. The Fair, which occupies about 20,000 square feet of floor space with three floors stocked with first-class merchandise, catering to all tastes and pocketbooks, has been acquired by the Mercantile Trading Company of which Thomas H. R. Clarke is president. According to Mr. Clarke, the company plans to press forward their program of establishing stores in other cities in order to create a purchasing

BLAMING FARMER FOR DAIRY SLUMP DECLARED UNFAIR

WATERLOO, Wis.—Claims that butter prices have slumped because farmers are eating substitutes are an unjust indictment against the dairy farmer and are inuring rather than aiding the dairy industry. State Senator John C. Schuman, of Waterloo, declared in a statement issued here: "The inference of these assertions which purport to explain why America is confronted with a $5,000,000 pound butter surplus," said Senator Schuman, "is that dairy farmers are ruining their own business. The interests inquiring these statements throughout the dairying sections are attempting to convince the public that butter is the only dairy product suffering from surplus. This is far from the real facts. All dairy products including fluid milk and cream are below normal market value to the farmer. There was an increased surplus of 90,000,000 pounds of evaporated and condensed milk in storage at the beginning of 1934 over the previous year. Powdered milk showed an added surplus of $2,315,977. The dairy market division of the Bureau of Agriculture reported recently that the average price of cheese in 1929 was the lowest since 1923. If the accusation that farmers caused the butter surplus is true, then they could be equally blamed for the surplus of all these products. It is probable that all these accusations are in reality based on information supplied from butter people who are naturally not interested in the farmer's welfare or earning power, but solely in the margin of profit they themselves obtain. That is why, when a butter surplus confronts them, they blame the farmer for eating substitutes. It has been an immemorial pastime to blame the farmer for all the ills of agriculture. When he understands that the real facts are being suppressed, his resentment will be an unpleasant experience to those who are throwing dust in his eyes."

WONDER CAVERN IS LURE TO TOURISTS

COBLESKILL, N. Y.—If Rip Van Winkle had taken his little nooze in the Hudson Highlands lately, instead of during the Revolution, he would have had real occasion to rub his eyes on awakening. Men have lately been prying at nature in Mystery Van Winkle's old neighborhood, unearthing secrets at which Rip could only make guesses. What would flip them, for instance, of electric elevators descending through a concrete shaft, 125 feet into the earth, into underground chambers where a host of electric lights play on the walls of a stately and stately? This is the engineering feat recently completed for the pleasure of tourist-travelers at Howe Caverns here. It is not inconceivable that Rip himself may have stumbled over the cavern's rocky roof in his eagerness to get out of earshot of Dame Van Winkle's tongue. But engineers of the cavern, reminded by geologists of the twin wonder to Niagara Falls, did not become wiser to the white man in his lifetime. Howe Caverns remained unexplored until recently because of its extreme inaccessibility. Incessant motor travel in the neighborhood has led to the construction of roads which place the entrance to the cavern on the main highway (Salisbury Road, New York State Route 7), forty miles west of Schoharie.

STOCK MARKET CRASH BOOSTS BOOK SALES

NEW YORK—Far from injuring the book business, the recent doings in Wall Street have actually stimulated it to book sales. The business of making and marketing books, which has not only held its own but has advanced into new lines of thought, according to Harry L. Hollingsworth, professor of psychology at Barnard College, Columbia University, and contributing editor of the World Book Encyclopedia. Prof. Hollingsworth explained that he reached this deduction not only from consideration of the present situation, but of the reaction of the public mind to the panic of 1929 and the years of post-war disillusionment. "History and human nature are repeating themselves today. The demand, however, is not for the diversion of fiction, New York dealers say, but for substantial works of respectability of the World Book type. Biographies and scientific volumes also show gains. In times of uncertainty, people want the sort of reading they can 'sink their teeth into.' power that will give it prestige in the best markets of the country. The opening of this store will

DO HIRSUTE ROMEOS WIN MARITAL RACE?

NEW YORK—Is a gentleman with a moustache any the sweeter in the kissing? Does he look more important or distinguished for allowing his upper lip to run into a hirsute garden? Has he more of the virile male about him as a result of letting his beard grow? Just what women think of whiskers as an aid to many a claim will be determined by a poll of 1,000 beauties along New York's rials. It is announced here by Charles M. Pritsker, an official of the Autogrip Safety Razor company. "In business the man who spends a few minutes every morning in front of his mirror, stropping his safety razor to insure a perfect edge and shaving off the stubble, is a two-to-one favorite in the race for success," said Pritsker. "It remains to be seen what's what in the race for the haven of marital bliss."

VARIETY OF FOODS BEST AID TO HEALTH

CHICAGO—Science has proved the theory that nature has provided a single and complete food for the human body in some form or another, according to a bulletin issued here by the American Research Foundation. "Pigeons and doves are more fortunate than human beings in having a single food provided for all their needs since they can thrive readily on grain alone," says the bulletin. "But human beings must eat a wide variety of foods to obtain all the elements necessary to the health and well-being of the body. The average varied food ration contains plenty of vitamins and other elements needed to nourish and sustain the health. An adequate amount of fats is necessary, since fats supply energy to the body in the form of heat and power to work. Tests have proved that 'wholesome' margarine, which is a combination of animal fats, vegetable oils, salt, and milk, supplies the body pound for pound with the same amount of heat and energy as any other fats."

90 PER CENT OF NATION'S BABIES DUE FOR RICKETS

CHICAGO—The average baby has only one chance in ten of escaping rickets, dread deforming malady. "Ninety per cent of the babies of America have rickets in some form or another," declared Esther Ackerson Fischer, nationally known dietitian. "Prevalence of this disease could be reduced by proper preventive measures. Rickets is due to under-nourishment or to lack of a correct program of feeding and infant care. If mothers consulted their family doctors more frequently and followed their advice on nutrition and care, the ravages of this disease could be greatly lessened. Rickets occur most frequently in temperate zones and may be cured by giving the baby sufficient direct sunlight or by feeding him regularly a good grade of pure cod liver oil."

FATS MAKE UP THIRD OF FOODS CONSUMED

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Women who have made New Year vows to shun all fatty foods might as well hang down the "never again" sign and either resign themselves to rounded contours or find some other way of reducing. And here's why! Something like one-third of the food the average American eats comes under the category of fat, it was explained by Dr. J. S. Abbott, secretary of the Institute of Margarine Manufacturers here. "The average person on a diet may not realize he or she is eating fat," declared Dr. Abbott, "but they're getting it in large quantities in one way or another daily. It is essential to life. There is fat in a surprising number of the foods we eat. The crumbly coconut covering on the layer cake and the bridge club hostess' server is full of delicious fat. Macaroni and salad dressings are made with highly refined olive oil or cottonseed oil. A steak would not be fine and savory if it were not fat. The wholesome margarine, made from milk, vegetable oils, and meat fats, that goes on millions of American tables daily and into the cooking of toothsome dishes is another valuable source of fat supply. There is a fat content in milk, cream, and dozens of other articles of food."

MEDAL TO OPERATOR 11,000 MILES AWAY

Malcolm P. Hanson, With Byrd Near South Pole, Hears Tribute.

One of the most striking methods of making an award of merit ever devised was the recent presentation of the Veteran Wireless Operators Association medal in a speech by David Sarnoff in New York to Malcolm P. Hanson, radio operator with Byrd, listening by radio in the Antarctic wastes near the South Pole. Mr. Sarnoff, Executive Vice-President of the Radio Corporation, praising Hanson, mentioned also the tribute of the wife of the operator, who had consented that her husband go on the hazardous expedition for the sake of science. After she had received the medal for safe keeping, Mrs. Hanson, deeply touched, spoke to her husband across the vast distance. Within a few minutes Hanson's reply came by radio telegraph through the receiving station of R. C. A. Communications, Inc. at Riverhead, Long Island. In addition to thousands at the Radio World's Fair, where the presentation was made, an uncounted number heard the tribute over the network of the National Broadcasting Company. "It is my privilege," Mr. Sarnoff said, "to pay tribute tonight to a man who has made an unusual contribution to science and civilization. Although he is 11,000 miles distant from this glass-enclosed room in Madison Square Garden, where I now stand, he is nevertheless able, through the instrumentality of Radio, to listen to the sound of my voice. That act alone is worthy of commemoration, even in this age of extraordinary progress in science."

FLEEING MAN CAUGHT BY A RADIO PICTURE

Constantino Queruben has a chance today to share a certain pride with the old crook character in Bayard Veller's famous play, "Within the Law," in that he introduced a new era in criminal history. Veller's character boasted that he was the first man to use a Maxim slinger in shooting his victim. Queruben was the first man captured by detectives by means of a radio photograph. The chase after which Queruben is being taken back to New York to face charges of swindling and forgery extended over 5,500 miles and ended in Honolulu harbor. The sleepy Filipino was roused from his berth at 1 o'clock on a recent morning and identified positively by a facsimile radio photograph, taken from an original in the files of the Bureau of Information in New York Police Headquarters and projected 2,600 miles across the Pacific Ocean by the Radio Corporation of America.

Telephone Adventures of the Bright Family

"Of Course, You Can't Find It," Said Mom, "You're Using the Old Directory."

"I've looked high and low all through this directory and Sherlock Holmes himself couldn't find Jim's telephone number in it," Pop said, Mom saying, "Well, of course, you can't; you're using the old directory." "Well," Pop said, "where's the new one? And what's this old one doing here?" And Mom said, "You'll find the new one right in the drawer there." She wasn't home when the new one was delivered, so they couldn't pick up the old one. Pop found it and saying something about using out-of-date directories wasn't fair to good dispositions, he took the old directory downstairs and threw it in the furnace, meaning it's best to get rid of old directories and always use the new one.
