Supreme Court Kills Richmond Segregation Law

Washington, D. C., May 22.—The United States supreme court affirmed the decision of the lower federal courts, holding invalid an ordinance of Richmond, Va., aimed at the segregation of races by prohibiting Negroes from occupying houses in white neighborhoods.

The case was taken through the federal courts by the colored people of Richmond, headed by the N. A. A. C. P. The judge of the district court held the law invalid and this position was upheld by Judge John J. Porter on appeal to the circuit court.

MRS. BROWN IN LONDON, ENG.

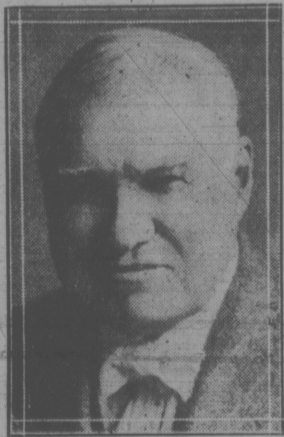

Atty. S. Joe Brown is in receipt of a cablegram from Mrs. Brown, dated May 22nd, and announcing the safe arrival of herself and party of delegates from the National Association of Colored Women, headed by Mrs. Ballie W. Stewart, president, in London, England, where they will visit several days, after which they will go by way of Berlin, Germany to Vienna, Austria, to attend the session of the International Council of Women, which convenes there on May 29th.

They sailed on the French liner Ile De France, upon which happened to be the notorious Harry K. Thaw, who was forced to stay on board when they disembarked at Plymouth, England, last Wednesday, for the reason that he had been listed as an undesirable alien by the British government.

Jarnagin in Race for Legislature

J. W. Jarnagin of Des Moines, who aspires to the nomination as one of the representatives in the legislature from Polk county, is admirably fitted for the position.

During the eight years that he was editor of the Iowa Farmer he delivered addresses at farmers' institutes and short courses in practically every county in Iowa. This gave him an opportunity to know the state as but few men does. He has visited all of the state institutions except one and this gives him a grasp upon the tremendous activities under the administrations of the state board of education and the state board of control.

J. W. JARNAGIN

Since 1913 Mr. Jarnagin has reported eight regular and two special sessions for a large list of Iowa newspapers and for a couple of national publications. This has given him a thorough knowledge of legislative procedure and if chosen to represent Polk county he would enter upon his duties as one trained for service.

He has had long and varied experiences and would take into his legislative work a knowledge of public service that would insure intelligent action in the solution of important and pressing problems.

He has the ability and the courage to represent Polk county and the state of Iowa in the general assembly in a most creditable manner.

The 44th general assembly will be confronted with issues of tremendous import to the taxpayers of Iowa, and men of experience and vision should be placed on guard.

Mr. Jarnagin has had contact with some of the outstanding Negroes of our country. He was personally acquainted with Fred Douglass, one of the notables of our race. He helped Prof. George W. Carver, now one of the greatest chemists in the world, to get a start, culminating in his going to the great institution at Tuskegee. He is a special friend and supporter of Laurence Jones, and spent a week a couple of summers ago as his guest at Piney Woods. He has always been fair and considerate in his attitude toward the Negro race.

Former Des Moines Man Honored

W. L. Hutcherson, for the past nine years executive secretary, Water Street Branch Y. M. C. A., at Wichita, Kansas, has been elected president of the Kansas State Chapter, the Association of Boys' Work Secretaries, Kansas Young Men's Christian Association.

This organization is composed of all secretaries doing work with boys—some score of men. However, Mr. Hutcherson and his associate, M. G. B. Winston, are the only Negro members.

Mr. Hutcherson is also a member of the Kansas State Boys' Work Committee and the State Camp Committee. He is a member Rocky Mountain Field Council, College Young Men's Christian Association, embracing five states. He is the first member of the race to serve on either group.

At their annual meeting held in Chicago last October, Mr. Hutcherson was elected vice president and chairman of the executive committee of the National Association of Colored Secretaries of the Young Men's Christian Association. He is a graduate of Tuskegee, class 1914, and served as a first lieutenant with the 92nd division in France. He was one of the delegates to the World's Conference, Y. M. C. A., 1925, Helsingfors, Finland.

Mr. Hutcherson is a former citizen of Des Moines. He attended the Fort Des Moines training camp, served with the 366th infantry at Camp Dodge. After the war he returned to Iowa and served as general secretary of the Y. M. C. A. at Buxton, 1919-1921.

Bennett Candidate For Second Term

Col. E. R. Bennett, formerly treasurer of Polk county, but now a member of the board of supervisors, for the First district, comprising West Des Moines, Highland Park, South Des Moines and Valley Junction, is a candidate for the republican nomination for second full term.

COL. E. R. BENNETT

Col. Bennett is well known to the readers of the Bystander and to the taxpayers of the city generally, having at one time been commander of the famous 168th Iowa infantry and a staunch member of the American Legion. He has always been unusually fair in matters concerning the readers of the Bystander and has made a splendid record as a member of the board of supervisors. He welcomes your support at the primaries on June 2, and promises to carry out the same fairness and efficiency which has characterized his past service.

CALL FOR CARS FOR THE MEMORIAL DAY PARADE

People who drive automobiles are requested to come to the assistance of comrades of the Grand Army of the Republic and their families on Friday, May 30th, and make it possible for them to participate in the parade with ease and comfort. This being especially their day, any patriotic citizen should be happy to render this service.

PROMINENT AUTHORITIES TO SPEAK AT URBAN LEAGUE CONFERENCE BUFFALO MEETING ON OCCUPATIONS

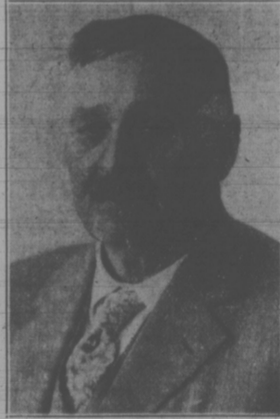

Prominent persons will speak at the Buffalo Conference of the National Urban League, to be held June 3rd to 6th, on the subject, "Vocational Opportunities For Negro Workers."

Among the speakers will be Miss Mary McDowell of the University of Chicago Settlement, one of the outstanding champions of better relations between the races; Miss Mary Van Kleeck of the Russell Sage Foundation, who served as chairman of the National Inter-racial Conference; Abram L. Harris, recognized as one of the leading economists of the race; Meredith Givens, research secretary of the Social Science Research Council; George E. Hutcherson, supervisor of guidance, New York state board of education; Franklin F. Hopper of the New York public library, and Dr. Sadie T. M. Alexander, assistant city solicitor of Philadelphia.

Urges Stewart's Nomination

By Harry P. Wilson

Mr. John Stewart, known to almost all Lee township population, having served as supervisor for a number of years, is asking your vote for re-election. Knowing Mr. Stewart as I do, I know of no one more deserving than he. He is one public official that has no respect of person, taking all in turn as they come, going out of his way on many occasions to do a favor or deliver a good turn. He no doubt has been the means of more benefit derived to Polk county widows than any other one man, he is second to none as to personal sacrifice to aid the poor and wanting of Polk county.

Mr. Stewart personally aided the writer in getting over many things for our group that probably would not have been a success had it not been for him, and we as a people should indeed be grateful to a man of the caliber that will continue on with that non-bias attitude serving the people as a whole—without reproach or a line of political scandal. A vote for John Stewart, I assure you, will be gratefully appreciated.

patriotic citizen should be happy to render this service.

The Des Moines Auto Club has courteously consented to register cars for this occasion. Call them at 3-5254, giving your name and car capacity. However, if you fall to register, just be at the court house at 9:30.

Members of the Grand Army and their families desiring transportation please be at the court house not later than 9:30, as all loading will be done there.

Negro Deaths Less Statistics Show

Death Rate Steadily Declining, But Still Too High—Tuberculosis Takes Heavy Toll

Atlanta, Ga., May 21.—Instead of dying out, as was at one time predicted, the Negro race in America is steadily growing more healthy and the life span of Negroes is increasing, according to a statement given out by the Commission on Interracial Co-operation. Basing its statements upon figures furnished by the United States Public Health Service and the Statistical Department of the Metropolitan Life Insurance company, the commission says:

"The gloomy prophecies of those who expected the solution of the American Negro problem through the Negro's extinction have been completely discredited by the experience of the last sixty years. In that period the Negro mortality rate has decreased fifty per cent or more, the present death rate being about 17 per thousand, as against 35 or 40 per thousand in reconstruction days."

"The present life span of Negroes is about 46 years, which represents a gain in the last decade of approximately five years. Both in mortality rate and life expectancy the Negro today stands about where the white American stood thirty years ago. It means a bad showing in the light of the well known background disadvantages under which the Negro's progress has been made."

"A study of the two million policy-holders of the Metropolitan Life Insurance company reveals a mortality rate still lower, the figures for 1928 being 14.6 per thousand among this group, as against 17.5 per thousand in 1911. Most gratifying has been the decreasing mortality from tuberculosis among Negro children in the same period indicates that this peculiarly destructive disease is rapidly yielding to the determined assaults that are being made upon it."

"With all the gains that have been made, however, due to education, sanitation and public health service, the Negro death rate is still much higher than that of white people—87 per cent higher in the cities and 49 per cent higher in the rural communities, according to the figures of the Public Health Service."

"It will be a surprise to many to learn that the Negro death rate is much higher in the cities than in the rural districts, and higher in the northern states than in the south. In the census of 1920 Louisiana showed the lowest Negro mortality rate—12.5 per thousand—while seven other southern states showed rates of 17.2 or less. That of New York, on the other hand, was 17.6, while in other northern states the rate ran still higher, reaching a maximum of 29.4 in Michigan."

Shaw, World War Vet, for Treasurer

Dale J. Shaw, former deputy treasurer of Polk county, is a candidate for the republican nomination for county treasurer on the republican ticket.

Mr. Shaw was born and educated in Iowa and has resided in Polk county for twenty-seven years. He is an overseas World War veteran, a member of the Methodist Episcopal church, 43 years old, married and has one child. He has been prominently identified with the labor movement in the city of Des Moines and is well known in business circles. He solicits your support on his record both in public and in private matters and promises,

FRENCH STEAMSHIP LINE DISAVOWS COLOR BAR

New York, May 20.—In response to a communication from the N. A. A. C. P. the French Line, Compagnie Generale Transatlantique, has disavowed a statement of one of its agents who said colored people were not accepted as passengers in tourist third class on the French Line steamships.

The statement was made by H. A. Highman, general agent for the line in Boston, to F. Irvin Davis, a ticket agent of Hartford, Connecticut, who was inquiring for accommodations in behalf of Mr. Wilson, a colored teacher of music.

When the case was reported to the N. A. A. C. P., Walter White, acting secretary, at once asked the French Line concerning this reported color bar, reminding the steamship company that he himself had traveled on their ships, as had many other colored people.

In reply, Paul Cortanay, assistant general passenger manager of the French Line, wrote in part:

"In this connection we wish to state that the Compagnie Generale Transatlantique does not discriminate in color. For your information, we give you the following facts:

"On the 'De Grasse,' which left this side on April 23, we had a colored theatrical group totaling forty-five, mostly tourist class."

"On our 'Mexique,' September 4, 1929, as well as our 'France,' sailing from the other side September 11, we carried a party of seventy-five people."

"Also from here last May our S. S. 'France' we carried the entire Blackbirds troupe."

The N. A. A. C. P. has asked the French Line to inform its Boston agent of its policy.

BULLARD FOR COUNTY RECORDER

We feel privileged to announce the candidacy of Mr. John Bullard for the office of county recorder on the republican ticket.

John Bullard

He is foreman at the present time of the Sheuerman's Woolen Mill and a member of the Masonic order. Mr. Bullard has a family of eight children that are being educated in the schools of Polk county Iowa.

He is a taxpayer of the city of Des Moines and always willing and ready to give his support toward the cause if nominated and elected, to eliminate all waste of taxpayers' money in the operation in the treasurer's office and give honest, efficient and courteous service to all.

Ft. Dodge, Iowa, May 2, 1930.

Rev. Lewis Biggs 76 years of age, night watchman, fell through an elevator shaft to his death in the First National bank here Sunday night.

Rev. Biggs was on duty in the building and without his knowledge one of the tenants had run the elevator upstairs. He opened the door to go to another floor and fell on a flight to his death.

The deceased had been a resident of Fort Dodge for a number of years and at one time pastored the Baptist church. He is survived by his wife and several children.

Garst Will Continue Findley's Policies

Promising the citizens of Polk county a satisfactory program of law enforcement, Morrison Garst, candidate for the republican nomination for sheriff in the primary election, June 2, is gaining substantial strength in every section of the county as the campaign draws to a close, according to reports received at his headquarters in Des Moines.

"I believe that Sheriff Park A. Findley has given Polk county an outstanding administration in law enforcement," Garst said today, "and, if nominated and elected, I pledge myself to odel my administration on the foundation laid by Findley."

"That means a sane and sensible, yet firm enforcement of the law, without fear or favor, for the best interests of every citizen of Polk county," Garst added.

"If nominated and elected, I plan to maintain day and night patrols in all sections of the county, to protect our citizens from bank and store robbers, from chicken and hog thieves, and from joy-riders and hoodlums. Now that law enforcement officers in Chicago and other large centers are scattering the gangs that have thrived there, it is important, in my opinion, to maintain extra vigilance to keep these crooks from landing in our community and pulling any of their nefarious jobs."

Garst, who is the only ex-soldier candidate among those seeking the office of sheriff, will pull a heavy vote among the war veterans, according to present indications. They point of his training, his ability and his courage as important factors why he should be nominated and elected.

of this county and city as well.

The voters of Polk county will be justified in nominating and electing Mr. Bullard at the June primaries for the office of county recorder.

Mr. Bullard pledges himself to give an honest and economical administration of this office.

Your consideration of Mr. Bullard will be greatly appreciated.

Sincerely,
By Clara Carlin and Mrs. Van Langham, Mgr. John Bullard's Headquarters.

ANOTHER VICTORY

In April, 1929, the city of Richmond, Va., passed an ordinance prohibiting white and colored people from living in the same block, commonly called the Segregation Ordinance. Negroes of Richmond, headed by the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, attempted to block its passage, urging that the proposed ordinance was not only unfair and discriminatory, but also that the United States supreme court had already held such a law unconstitutional, citing the case of Buchanan vs. Warley, commonly known as the Louisville, Kentucky, Segregation Case.

Judge Groner from the United States district court, eastern district of Virginia, held the ordinance invalid. The city of Richmond appealed to the circuit court. Prker recently rejected as a U. S. supreme court justice, upheld the decision of the lower court. The city of Richmond recently carried the appeal to the United States supreme court and on Monday of this week a decision was handed down upholding the lower court and affirming the former decision.

Again the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People has won a sweeping victory over those who in spite of the decisions to the contrary, continue to fight to discriminate against the Negro.

ADVICE TO CANDIDATES

The primary campaign is at its height. There are some close races. There are some lessons which some of the candidates have not learned and which are bound to cost them many votes.

During the past few campaigns Iowa Negroes have taken very active part. Under the regime of Senator Chas. A. Rawson, national committeeman, and W. L. Stern, state chairman, Negro voters have been given substantial representation in the conduct of the campaign.

Representation does not prevail in certain campaign headquarters during the present primaries. On the other hand some of the candidates insist on dealing with the Negro voter as of fifty years ago, giving him little attention except on election day. This position is very unsatisfactory and certain candidates who otherwise should have almost a solid backing among Negroes find them uninterested.

Candidates will further realize that the Negro voters are backing candidates who propose to give the Negroes consideration after election day. Some of the candidates have had ample opportunity to demonstrate their desire for the Negro's support to the extent that they have actually given some jobs. Others have not, complain because Negroes are using this unfairness as campaign material and still offer nothing for the future. These candidates should be opposed to the limit.

Negroes will not support candidates who offer no places for their boys and girls, many of whom

The Negro in America

By J. G. Browne

The Negroes of this city and state need a newspaper, by means of which we can present our position and desires on all public questions, local, state and national.

Since the Iowa Bystander answers this requirement, it behooves the Negroes of this state to contribute to its support. If we do not do this, the shame rightfully falls on us.

We take advantage of this publication's columns to place our social and civic activities before the public. To do this and not contribute to its maintenance is petit larceny. In the city of Des Moines alone there should be a paid up subscription of 3,000 and for the entire state there should be 9,000. This would insure sufficient income for the continuous weekly appearance of this enterprise.

It is up to you, Mr. Reader, to help put this proposition over. If you are not willing to do this, your conscience should stop you from ever making any claim to race pride or stressing any sentiment or desire for progress within our group in this community. The press is the means by which religious, civic, economic and political endeavors are nurtured; it is the beacon light of all progress—therefore it is a necessity, and especially is it so with us.

Our religious and social life cannot be followed through the columns of the white press; it parades our vices, but not our virtues. Therefore it is necessary for us to provide a means by which we can let the local public know that all of us are not vicious and void of ordinary human intelligence. The failure of so large a number of our group to support an enterprise so worthy and necessary is prima facie evidence of the lack of intelligence. In our next discussion we will attempt to disclose some means by which we hope to assist our weekly paper. This is one of the specific efforts already discussed by some of the members of the steering committee of the Community Forum and the Booster club of the East Side. Stop knocking and push.

Weekly Health Talk

By Dr. Hubert H. London

The Thymus Gland is a structure located in the upper portion of the chest, which reaches its greatest size at about the end of the second year of life, at which time it grows smaller and smaller until there is practically no trace of it remaining.

It evidently serves a function during the life of a child before birth and for two years after. What this function is is debatable but it does undoubtedly have something to do with the formation, conservation or utilization of lymph or its parts.

Of greatest importance regarding it is its abnormal increase in size at birth or between birth and the second year of life. This increase in size causes a form of difficult breathing similar to asthma and a spasm which sometimes takes the life of a child. One author states that from forty to fifty per cent of all babies born have some abnormal enlargement of this gland, but not all of them large enough to cause symptoms which are due to pressure upon the structures conveying air to the lungs.

The prognosis as regards health and life is good if the treatment is carried out as soon as the condition arises. Since it seems that there is probably some hereditary basis for thymic enlargement, previous thymic disease should suggest a preparation and readiness to cope with an enlargement is subsequent birth.

Mission Circle will meet at the home of Mrs. E. P. Green on Monday. The Busy Bee club will meet at the home of Mrs. Franklin of Mason City, Iowa, Thursday evening.

MOTHER GRIFFIN AS I KNEW HER

An Eulogy by S. Joe Brown (Atty.)

My association with Mother Elizabeth Griffin began more than twenty-seven years ago, when I was first elected superintendent of Sunday school of this, the St. Paul A. M. E. church.

At that time I was only a young man twenty-seven years of age and she a woman in her forties, who had been an officer and a teacher in the school for almost as many years as I.

had been on earth; yet I received from her the highest degree of encouragement and all the deference due to a superior officer, notwithstanding my lack of age and experience.

Both she and her devoted husband were conspicuous because of the fact that they were always to be found in the Sunday school with their children, and because of the further fact that notwithstanding the fact that they lived about the farthest of any of our members, they were usually there when I arrived, although I was always on time.

The three children, Mildred, Elwood and Howard, were then all in the primary department, but she has led them step by step until she has seen them grown up in the church, the daughter, after having completed and graduated from the teacher training department, became herself the teacher of the largest class, but one, ever graduated from this department; has seen this same daughter graduate not only from the high school but from the university, happily married to one of Chicago's leading professional men and the mother of a beautiful daughter bearing her grandmother's name, Elizabeth.

She has seen her youngest son elevated to office of financial secretary of this same church, the husband of one of its class leaders and the father of three beautiful children, one of whom is also an officer; and yet at the time of her passing she was still serving as a teacher in the Sunday school and chairman of the deaconess board.

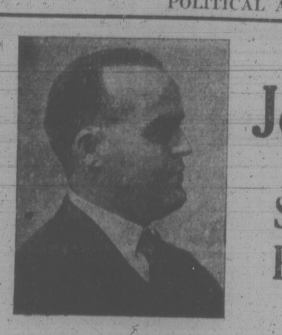

I shall never forget how when two months ago we launched a financial campaign which will not culminate until next Sunday and I informed her that she was among the other four who had been assigned to the company of five, of which I was captain, each of whom were asked to contribute the sum of $10, and she paid hers, the first of any in my club and first of any among the entire membership, so far as I have been able to learn, feeling, I am sure, that it would be her last contribution of that character, for she said to me in the soft tone that characterized her voice, I want to pay my assessment now, for I am planning on going to the hospital for Readers of the Bystander have every reason to be for him because of his recognition of and service to the colored people.

RETAIN MISS SAMUELSON

From the Mason City Globe-Gazette. Not since the days of Sablin has Iowa experienced a more able administrator of its system of public instruction than has been supplied by Miss Agnes Samuelson, the present state superintendent. She will have an opponent on the republican ballot when she comes up for renomination in June. Whether this opponent will mean opposition remains to be seen.

One could go back to the scenes and put a finger on the political promptings behind the candidacy of the rival candidate. One could show that his candidacy is backed by men and influences which have not been for the good of education in Iowa up to this time. But that would be a negative approach and Miss Samuelson can rest her case on affirmative action.

It is to be remembered that Miss Samuelson entered upon the duties of her office after a period of ally cat-fights in the department of public instruction. Politics rather than sound educational ideals had been permitted under the administration of her immediate predecessor to dominate the department's policies. Out of this water, Miss Samuelson developed cooperation, harmony and unified efforts among all the educational forces of the state. She proved herself a leader.

Her dream was for a well balanced course of education, from kindergarten and one-room school to the junior college unit. She was no hobby rider. She did away with personal considerations in the conduct of her work. She preserved the school for its proper function—teaching not exploitation and propaganda.

Long after Miss Samuelson has completed her work as head of the public school system, the state course of study evolved under her direction by 200 committees will stand as a memorial to her wisdom. This work, into which Miss Samuelson was able to attract the services of the leading educators of the state, has standardized curricula, unified teaching efforts and established achievement ends. It has brought large benefits to every child of school age in the state of Iowa. The true measure of Miss Samuelson was reflected in this work. The accomplishment was so outstanding that it has brought national recognition to Iowa. There should be a universal desire to retain the services of one so abundantly capable as Agnes Samuelson has proved herself to be. Our state today occupies the highest relative position in the educational world it has ever attained. Who would wish to eliminate the principal factor which has made this possible?

CLARINDA NEWS

The school here closed for this term. We are glad to note that there are always a few of our young colored Americans who are making good in school. Miss Lena May Pemberton was graduated and a grand reception was given for her Friday at the A. M. E. church. She was very much delighted for the honor they gave her, also very thankful for the many presents.

RED OAK NEWS

Mr. D. Jones will graduate May 29. Our girls and boys need to be encouraged to get an education and a trade of some kind and have a strong Christian character. Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Pemberton, the girls' parents, should be complimented for the interest they are taking in their children. They had two girls, twins, to graduate last year. Mr. Lewis Arnett made a trip to Des Moines last week on business. Mother's Day was observed. Both churches had a splendid program. Mr. Lewis Arnett has purchased nine fine chinchilla rabbits and will raise rabbits. These are a pure breed and high class. The sick Mrs. Howard is just about the same. Mr. Arnett put two dogs to rest after they had killed his goat. Mrs. Arnett is getting along fine.

MONTGOMERY ADVERTISER EDITORIAL GIVES CREDIT WHERE CREDIT IS DUE

New York, May 20.—The Montgomery Advertiser, one of Alabama's outstanding white dailies, begins as follows an editorial, entitled "The Defeat of Judge Parker": "The N. A. A. C. P. laid Judge John J. Parker low. He had other effective opposition, but it was this organization that broke his back. Judge Parker is a lily white republican from a southern state and the N. A. A. C. P. has long been hostile to lily-whitism, and its influence is so potent that it can make the G. O. P. elephant jump through the hoop at any time it cares to crack its whip. President Hoover had not anticipated an attack from this source."

WHY DAN TURNER

Should Receive the Republican Nomination for Governor

I have known Dan Turner for forty years. I knew his family and have followed his career closely through all these years. The good people of Iowa will make no mistake in placing him at the head of the government. J. H. Woods.

We believe every Negro voter should be for Dan Turner, because his general attitude toward us is reported to be more friendly than that of his opponent and because he advocates an income tax that will relieve the burden of the small home owner and increase and are not paying their share of the taxes. Attorney and Mrs. S. Joe Brown.

I believe Dan Turner is best suited to serve the interest of all the people of Iowa. Rev. Ross Brent.

Iowa needs a strong constructive head to lead the state. I believe Dan Turner is such a man. His early association and active participation in the affairs of the state make him eminently qualified for Governor. Atty. James B. Morris.

GILBERT C. GREENWALT THE CANDIDATE

History in Brief of Gilbert C. "Kelly" Greenwalt, Republican Candidate for Secretary of State.

Gilbert C. "Kelly" Greenwalt, of Des Moines, Republican candidate for Secretary of State, is of pioneer Iowa stock. His career is a striking example of how an earnest boy may attain success in America by his own efforts.

Born on a farm near Hastings in Mills county, he has packed a tremendous amount of fine activity into his forty-one years of life. His father is L. L. Greenwalt, a native of Fremont county, who has resided at Hastings since 1876 and has been postmaster there the last seventeen years. His grandfather, Samuel Greenwalt, came to southwestern Iowa from Pennsylvania in the early thirties.

GILBERT C. GREENWALT

Gilbert Greenwalt graduated from the Hastings high school in 1907. He entered Simpson college that fall and worked his way through to graduation from the business department in 1911, but found time to participate in all branches of sport. While at Simpson his ability to slide in baseball won him the nickname by which he is now known to thousands.

Upon leaving Simpson, equipped to be a commercial instructor and an expert on athletics, he taught and coached at Creston high school for a year, then taught at East High School, Des Moines, a year, and for the four years after that until the United States got into the World War, he was an instructor and assistant coach at North High School. While there he was manager of athletics and his whole record as an instructor and coach—due to his keen interest in youth, was outstanding.

Greenwalt joined the army in May 1917. In August he was commissioned a second lieutenant at Fort Snelling, and was assigned to Company D, 350th Infantry, Eighty-eighth Division at Camp Dodge. Made a first lieutenant in July 1918 he went overseas and had more front line service than any other officer in the Eighty-eighth. He was "up front" eight consecutive weeks without relief.

His service and ability was an assignment to several special Army schools after the Armistice was signed, and for a time he was an instructor at the American University at Beaune, France. He was honorably discharged in August, 1919.

Business called him and he held the position of office manager and auditor for a manufacturing concern until he organized a large motor delivery firm which is still operating successfully.

In 1922 he accepted an administrative position with the United States government, where he has helped to aid a host of disabled World War veterans.

Greenwalt has held many important offices in Argonne Post of the American Legion, of which he is a charter member. His work for his post won comrades to elect him Seventh district commander, and he was re-elected. When Junior Baseball was launched by the American Legion, Greenwalt was selected as the best man for state director, nationwide attention attended his efforts. At the last Iowa Legion convention he was elected a department vice commander, which place he resigned when he became a candidate for Secretary of State. He was reappointed state athletic officer and he is also a Capt de Carre France of Voltaire 71 of the Forty and Eight.

In March 1921 Greenwalt organized Company A, 168th Infantry, Iowa National Guard, and in May 1923 was promoted to Major and commanding officer of the First Battalion. He is now Senior Major in Iowa. His hobby is boys but he is a devotee of rifle marksmanship and has led several Iowa teams at the national matches at Camp Perry, Ohio.

Greenwalt and Miss Margerita Cook were married in 1917. They have three sons, aged 11, 8 and 6 years respectively, and an adopted daughter who is in high school. Mrs. Greenwalt is the daughter of John A. Cook formerly of Hampton, Iowa, who was for a time secretary of the House of Representatives.

Mrs. Greenwalt devotes much of her time to the Parent Teachers' Association. Mr. Greenwalt is intensely interested in public school education. He has a most engaging personality and is extremely popular with all who know him. His campaign headquarters are at 625 Flynn-Building, Des Moines.
