ESTRANGED HUSBAND STABS WIFE

Victim in Hospital; Man Cannot Be Located

Following an argument with her estranged husband, Mrs. Seretha Taylor, 28, of 1055 Thirteenth street is suffering with a deep gash in her back which was inflicted by her husband, William Taylor, who resides at 1318 Day street near Mrs. Taylor's present residence.

Although all details have not been made public, reliable information is given that Taylor tried to arrange a meeting with his former wife. After having talked for a few minutes, they, without doubt, disagreed upon some point, where upon Taylor is alleged to have stabbed her in the back.

The present scrape was not the first event of trouble in the Taylor family. Because of past maltreatment, upon the complaint of Mrs. Taylor, her husband was put in jail. Evidently the differences were not settled.

Mrs. Taylor is the mother of four young children. She is the sister of the late James McQuerry, who, on June 30, killed himself after shooting Mrs. M. Kelly in a similar escapade.

A new confirmation class was started Friday of this week. The Mission is making splendid progress under the direction of Father Roberts.

SEGREGATED "NEGRO WELFARE GUILD" DEFEATED IN GRAND RAPIDS, MICHIGAN

New York, Oct. 10.—Effort to establish a segregated "Negro Welfare Guild" in Grand Rapids, Michigan, has been defeated by the N. A. A. C. P. and cooperating bodies, according to information received from Floyd H. Skinner, president of the Grand Rapids N. A. A. C. P.

Among the groups lined up in opposition to the segregated institution were three churches, both Elk lodges, Crispus Attucks American Legion post, Pleriar Club, and Business and Professional Men's Luncheon Club.

The plan for a separate welfare guild was opposed by the N. A. A. C. P. because it would have introduced segregation where it had not previously existed.

LYNCHING PICTURES TAKEN OFF MARKET BY PROTEST

New York, Oct. 10.—Protest by the Terre Haute, Indiana branch of the N. A. A. C. P. has stopped the sale of pictures of the Marion lynching, where two colored boys were done to death. Mrs. Grace Evans said the N. A. A. C. P. had objected to the public sale of the picture because they were stirring ill feeling between the races. Negatives of the pictures have been turned over to Mrs. Evans by the maker and seller of the pictures.

Mrs. Lizzie Morris, of 2818 3rd street, underwent an operation Tuesday, October 14th at Mercy Hospital. She is doing nicely.

CO-EDS REFUSED LODGING AT CLUB HOUSE

Detroit, Oct. 16.—(ANP)—The members of segregation which have been smoldering for two years at the University of Michigan were fanned into a flame again a few weeks ago, when race girl students were refused admission to the Mosher Jordan dormitory.

Because of this seeming open attempt at discrimination, which is against the civil rights law of Michigan, some of the students in disgust returned to their homes.

Since the completion of the new $800,000 dormitory which it is claimed was built by private interests and not by the state and which was opened this year, colored girls were refused admittance which brought to the front again this controversy.

Rev. and Mrs. Guy Honored At Banquet Last Week

The officers of St. Paul's A. M. E. Church, supported by the loyal membership, in a colorful and enthusiastic manner, extended a formal welcome to their pastor, the Rev. Dr. William E. Guy and his family on Friday night, October 10th. It was an inspiring event and attests the fine esteem in which the people of that outstanding church and the entire Des Moines community hold this clergyman who has so certainly the hearts of the people since coming here last February.

A committee, composed of the women of a dozen of the church clubs with Mrs. Dora McGuire as the leading spirit, very artistically and beautifully decorated the church in autumn colors employing both artificial and natural material. Dressed in symbolic white they served the reception guests, assisted by the men of the church dressed in tuxedos.

The guest of honor and other guests assembled in the church auditorium and at the signal marched to the reception room, Dr. and Mrs. Guy and their sons, Newell and Vance, leading the procession of more than one hundred fifty guests. They were followed by the ministers of the city, members and friends. While refreshments were being served the following program was rendered:

Young People Need Assurance Says Dan Turner

Anamosa, Iowa, Oct. 16.—Special: "The problem of keeping our young people on the farm is not a psychological problem but an economic one and will be solved only when we can give the young folks assurance that on the farm they will receive fair remuneration for their work so that they can live in some degree of comfort and educate their children with the hope that eventually, they may achieve financial independence and own the land they till as the result of their labors", Dan W. Turner, Republican candidate for governor, declared before a Republican rally meeting here today.

"The greatest single contribution which our state government can make toward the solution of this problem at this time is to take immediate and positive steps to reduce taxes on farms, homes, merchandise and other visible property. This can be done first, I think, by eliminating all unnecessary and wasteful expenditures in state and local government; and second, by equalizing taxes so that each individual shall carry his fair share and only his fair share of the tax burden."

This is the most important question confronting us as a State; and Chambers of Commerce, and business men, generally, are deeply interested in having a fair revision of our taxes brought about, as they are coming more and more to realize that there can be no substantial prosperity for business unless the farmers are doing well."

tory at the university and were directed to rooming houses in the neighborhood, wherever such place could be found.

Because of this seeming open attempt at discrimination, which is against the civil rights law of Michigan, some of the students in disgust returned to their homes.

Since the completion of the new $800,000 dormitory which it is claimed was built by private interests and not by the state and which was opened this year, colored girls were refused admittance which brought to the front again this controversy.

Past Commander Wished to Spare Friends of Mobs

RESOLUTION PREPARED BUT NEVER REACHED FLOOR

Boston, Mass., Oct. 16.—(ANP)—If anybody had an idea that this year's convention of the American Legion, held in this city with its traditional spirit of fair play, was going to be composed of a majority of delegates who carried such a spirit in their own breasts, the official action of the Legion will convince such a person that the American Legion is the same baby-faced pretender on the rights of man and justice as between citizens today that it was when organized in St. Louis.

A strong effort was made by colored Legionnaires, assisted by some white friends, to have the Legion take a stand on lynching and on the discrimination by the War Department in the treatment of Gold Star mothers.

The celebrated Arkansan, Col. O. L. Bodenhamer, national commander of the Legion, eagerly lent his influence to a movement which caused the proposed resolution to be tabled without ever reaching the floor of the convention.

Said Commander Bodenhamer of Arkansas when he was interviewed: "We could never allow this to come up on the floor of the convention."

PAIN IN THE ABDOMEN

The person who has a severe pain in the abdomen needs no persuasion or urging to induce him to require the services of one who has a reputation for relieving or taking away that pain. The very word "discomfort" which is sufficient to cause a desire for relief, regardless of the cause or the condition underlying it, and whether or not it is serious or irrespective of what the result will be, relieved or unrelieved, it is logical human behavior to desire relief as soon as possible. Human behavior having been observed throughout the ages another observation of note is not out of place, in the absence of pain and having been relieved the underlying cause is oftentimes disregarded or neglected allowing the cause for the pain to continue to inflict damage to the organ until the reappearance of the discomfort or pain at which time the destruction of tissue may have gone on so far that complete repair is impossible. A slight pain in the region of the stomach may not reveal the real seriousness of the condition in the organ as this organ may be more outspoken in its reaction to green apples than to a destruction of its inner lining. Slight discomfort may mean an ulceration and the investigation which reveals such a condition would be of incalculable importance to you, if you knew what these small ulcerations mean if given time to pierce through the stomach wall. The train of circumstances which follows such an accident are of such nature that attention to the condition in the beginning is the logical procedure and the only one which can guarantee a happy ending.

My Trip Abroad

By Mrs. S. Joe Brown

Recently the woman passed through one of the poor sections of New York at 8 o'clock, just when hundreds of school children were being released. Directly ahead of her three little girls strolled. One of them, a pale child who looked as if sunlight and vegetables were not part of her daily regime, was conducting a monologue. In a high pitched, excited voice she was describing a bedspread which had been sent as a gift to the child's mother.

The Negro in America

By J. C. Browne

We are glad to note that the Negroes of America are in a state of fermentation, there is evidence of this in the news reports. Every week we read of some new organization being formed by our group to improve our status, and promote our progress. The Negro Credit Union, that was recently organized in Des Moines is one of the best methods by means of which we can be helped financially. The credit union movement was initiated by a millionaire philanthropist of New England, to help emancipate working people from the clutches of loan sharks.

Advises Use of Slogan to Overcome Dejection

Slogans are advocated as an aid to a healthy mental outlook by James D. Weiland, who considers their effect and lists a number in an article in Psychology Magazine.

A good slogan can brighten our whole horizon, all us with courage and an emotional stimulus. It directs and holds the attention to a bracing thought. For instance, when a man is down in the dumps it is comforting to think that "the men who try to do something and fail are infinitely better than those who try to do nothing and succeed," or that "there are more chances and opportunities in life than we know."

No independent candidate filed nomination papers.

PUBLISH BALLAD ABOUT LICORISH, NEGRO VESTRIS DISASTER HERO

New York, Oct. 3.—Lionel Licorish, Negro, quartermaster of the ill-fated Lampart & Holt steamship Vestris, who saved sixteen people after the steamer sank, is the subject of a poem, "Ballad of the Golden Hands of Lionel Licorish," by Sarah N. Cleghorn, in the October Survey Graphic.

OHIO BRANCHES OF N.A.A.C.P. LAUNCH ANTI-MCCULLOCH DRIVE

New York, Oct. 3.—Political revolt against the Senators who voted to confirm Judge John J. Parker of North Carolina as a member of the Supreme Court is assuming formidable dimensions in Ohio. In that state, on Sunday, Oct. 5, a state-wide conference of branches of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People was held to launch a campaign among colored voters and among liberal whites against the candidacy of Senator Roscoe C. McCulloch, who seeks reelection. Walter White, Acting Secretary of the N.A.A.C.P. is to address the meeting, which is being held in Columbus, and another of the speakers will be C. E. Dickinson, president of the Ohio State Conference of N. A. A. C. P. Branches.

The court ruled that if other parties made similar ones to the democratic rule that Negroes could not vote in primaries, he would be deprived of the privilege guaranteed him by the Constitution. Hence, the democratic rule is illegal.

The above is just another example of the attitude of the democratic party toward the Colored voter. And yet we find democratic candidates here and there appealing to Colored voters to support them in the November elections. If the democrats do not want the Colored voters to take part in the primaries, and pass laws and rules prohibiting them from doing so, why should they expect the Colored voters to vote for them in the November elections? The Colored voter cannot be so easily fooled.

What no state legislature dared do without obviously defying the Negro's Circuit Court of Appeals declared that portion of the law to be unconstitutional because it had enabled the democratic party of Virginia on June 11, 1924, to adopt the following regulations:

"All white persons qualified to vote at the election for which the primary is held may vote in the primary
On April 8, 1930, James O. West, Negro, of Richmond, Virginia, attempted to vote in the democratic municipal primary. The election judges barred him from voting, citing the above rule of the democratic party. He filed suit against the election judges, charging that his constitutional right of suffrage had been abridged.

the action of the Republican administration in consolidating all important service men's work under the United States Veterans' Bureau, speeding up relief activities and doing away with unnecessary red tape.

Sioux City, Iowa, Oct. 8:

Stating that many gross inequalities exist in Iowa's present method of tax assessment on property thus working a hardship on many taxpayers, Dan W. Turner, Republican candidate for Governor, in a speech made here today on the Republican campaign caravan tour, urged a more uniform "yard-stick of measurement" so that all citizens, in all taxing districts, will be assessed on the same basis.

"The State Board of Assessment and Review is making a sincere effort to equalize assessments and has added to the assessment rolls a great deal of property that hitherto has not been listed. They are doing a commendable piece of work and any revision of our taxation laws will undoubtedly add to their powers and responsibilities. If we can strengthen the laws relating to assessment of property so that all visible property

Cedar Rapids, Iowa, Oct. 3rd: Declaring that John J. Raskob, as head of the Democratic party, is making a deliberate attempt to "smear" the Hoover administration, Congressman Cyrenus Cole, in addressing the Fifth District Republican Conference here Thursday, charged the Democrats with borrowing a "rule or ruin policy" from the racketeers, hi-jackers and gangsters of the criminal world.

"It is an issue that will have to be met on the 4th of November," Mr. Cole continued. "On that day every American voter will have to choose whom he will support, Hoover or Raskob, the one trying to lift the country out of a depression and the other trying to beat it back. Which one represents the America of our traditions and of our ideals—Hoover or Raskob? Waterloo, Iowa, Oct. 4:

Declaring that chain farming would be detrimental to the highest type of citizenship in Iowa, Dan W. Turner, Republican candidate for Governor, speaking before a Third District Republican gathering here today, deplored the recent agitation by certain economists in behalf of "large scale" farming.

"The assertion has been made that large corporations can farm tracts of land and produce crops at a lower cost than can be accomplished by individual farmers," Mr. Turner said. "Farms that are directed from an office in Chicago or New York with an overseer on the ground and the heterogeneous kind of help that would be used in farming these large tracts, will tend to undermine the high type of citizenship which Iowa has long boasted."

Creston, Iowa, Oct. 7: Pointing to the state and nationwide governmental program of work now being carried on to rehabilitate disabled war veterans, G. C. Greenwalt, Republican candidate for Secretary of State, in addressing the Eighth District Republican rally meeting here today, lauded action of recent Republican congresses and legislatures in recognizing the nation's obligation to service men.

"In the disabled veterans hospital at Knoxville, over 600 mental cases are now being cared for," Greenwalt pointed out. "A recent congressional act has permitted the erection of another addition of 150 beds, and leaders are now at work on plans to still further enlarge the hospital. This is just one of the many splendid hospitals throughout the country which have been established by act of congress. This entire program of rehabilitation work has been inaugurated and carried out in keeping with the pledge of the Republican party to help pay the debt we owe to the men who served our country during the recent war."

Greenwalt, who is a former vice-commander of the Iowa department of the American Legion, also lauded is assessed on the same standard of value, and at the same time provide a fair Tax Law to reach invisible property and incomes that are now entirely escaping, we will have gone a long way toward solving the tax problem."

SPECIALIZING IN DISEASES OF WOMEN

That call for Watson, in 1876, was shouted over a short wire . . .

Now we talk easily over thousands of miles

Come here Mr. Watson I want you!

ON March 10, 1876, the first sentence was heard over the telephone: "Mr. Watson, come here, I want you," said Alexander Graham Bell, the inventor, to his assistant, Thomas A. Watson.

Today in the United States alone, more than 83,000,000 telephone calls are made in an average day.

The telephone which transmitted the first sentence was a crude instrument . . . for years persons shouted when they telephoned and strained their ears to hear the words coming to them.

Hundreds of improvements have been made in telephone equipment, and today a person speaking in a normal tone is heard clearly across the continent or across an ocean . . . telephoning thousands of miles has been made almost as simple and easy as talking across a desk.

Whenever Bell System scientists and engineers discover a way to improve telephone service, patrons of this Company share the benefit. All inventions, discoveries and improved methods of providing telephone service are available to this Company.

In each community we constantly strive to provide service which pleases our patrons . . . and to do this at the lowest possible charges consistent with the financial safety of the business.

NORTHWESTERN BELL TELEPHONE COMPANY

The Northwestern Bell Telephone Company, which operates in the states of Iowa, Minnesota, Nebraska, North and South Dakota, is an American Company of the Bell System. It owns and operates more than 600,000 telephones. Its lines connect with more than 200,000 telephones of other companies in these five states and with nearly 50,000,000 others throughout the United States and in foreign countries. It employs more than 15,000 men and women.

EVANGELIST COOK TO BE HERE

On Sunday, October 12th, Rev. Henry Cook, of Chicago, will begin his two weeks Revival Campaign at the Corinthian Baptist Church, 9th and School Streets. Those who attended the Revival meeting at Union Baptist Church in the Spring, remember what a glorious change he brought about in that community.

Evangelist Cook is a young minister of no mean ability and a clean-cut christian gentleman. His capabilities along his line of endeavor seem unlimited, and his spiritual deepness can be perceived at a moment's glance. Rev. Cook is coming here under the auspices of the Young People's Forum of Corinthian Church.

This meeting is somewhat unique, due to the fact that every detail is being carried out by the Young People. It is to be known as the Young People's Revival. Let us urge upon each and every one to attend this meeting, especially the young people of the city. You will all miss a spiritual treat if you fail to attend this meeting. The date is October 12th, 1930, with Rev. Cook filling the pulpit at both morning and evening services.

FORT DODGE NEWS

By William Brown
The messenger of death came to the home of Mr. Wm. Jackson last Thursday and took his wife whose age was 56 years, 9 months and 14 days. The funeral was held Saturday. The attendance was large. The services were in charge of the reporter, assisted by Rev. Reid, pastor of Copping Chapel-A. M. E. Church. We learn that sister Clara West is yet very sick. Mother Martin is not feeling so well these days. Her son and daughter-in-law were over to visit her last week. Their visit was short. Sister Chambers has been very sick the past few days but she is a little better. Sister S. S. Lewis was laid up a few days but she is much better at present. Mother Benning remains about the same. Sister Hannah Thompson is feeling fairly good. She seems to be on the road to Well. We hope to see her soon. The services at the Second Baptist church had a nice shower of rain after noon and by six o'clock it was much cooler. The reporter was the dinner guest of Brother and Sister Sam Hays Sunday. Owing to the sudden change in the weather the church services at the Second Baptist Church were not well attended Sunday night. Mrs. West of whom we spoke as being very ill was taken to Iowa City Monday afternoon. We hope to see her back home soon. Mother Martin is very poorly again at the home of her daughter, Mrs. John Wilson, of Ninth Avenue. Let the race paper be read by all lovers of the race.

Millions of Hours Lost by Disabling Illnesses

On an average, each person in the country has at least one disabling illness every year, the committee on the "cost of medical care" has reported after a survey of various sickness reports compiled by the United States public health service and other organizations. Men have a disabling sickness about once a year, women about twice and children over twice during the school year. Colds, bronchitis, grippe, influenza and pneumonia are oftenest the cause of these disabling illnesses and cause the longest disability. On the same basis of the number of cases and total time lost, digestive disorders and diseases also take a high place. About 180,000,000 cases of disabling illnesses occur in the United States each year. Adding nondisabling illnesses more than doubles the figure, the committee reported. The $8,000,000 wage earners in the country lose at least $20,000,000 work days a year, and the 24,000,000 school children lose 170,000,000 school days a year. These figures account for only one-half of the total population.—Kansas City Star's Science Service.

Early Postal Records Destroyed by Flames

The first 60 years of American postal history are almost a complete blank because of the great fire of 1838, which destroyed the Post Office building at Washington and with it almost every vestige of postal records. Years later a postmaster general was forced to admit to congress that he was unable to supply the names of assistant postmasters general who had served from the beginning of the system.

One volume alone was saved from the flames by a youthful messenger in the office of the auditor of the treasury for the Post Office department. This book, still in existence and now under control of the chief clerk of the Post Office department, is a ledger of postal revenues for the years 1776, 1777 and 1778. So far as is known, no other postal records of the early years are in existence.—Detroit News.

Monarch's Neat Rebuke to Overzealous Priest

King Leopold of Belgium—merry old soul—had a caustic wit. On one occasion when he was at his chateau at Ostend, the parish priest approached him and asked for a private word with him. When the two were alone, the priest began to read Leopold II a long sermon: "Sir, I am profoundly grieved," he said. "There is a rumor, I am sorry to say, that your majesty's private life is not marked by the austerity suited to the lofty and difficult task which God has laid upon the monarchs of this earth. Remember, sire, that it behooves kings to set an example to their subjects."

For 20 minutes the king listened patiently to the utterances of the good man, until the priest, dejected from want of breath, relates Evelyn Graham (in his authorized biography of King Albert, nephew of Leopold). "What a funny thing, Monsieur le Cure," said the king, fixing him with a cold look and smiling slightly. "Do you know, people have told me exactly the same thing about you! I only refused to believe it."—Kansas City Times.

Little Profit Found in Search for Sensation

A time comes to a little more than playing around. We must not think for a second that there should be no play. That would be unwise. But what is foolish is the attitude that brings us to the belief that, to gain happiness—for that is, after all, what we are trying to get—we must indulge in all sorts and all kinds of fun and frolic.

Sometimes it extends beyond that; we seek every kind of sensation we possibly can in our pursuit of gaiety. Whenever a new idea is mooted we go after it with renewed vigor, in the hope that the boredom of life—as some limited minds regard it—will be changed to a really good time. We only manage to secure the maximum of contentment by accepting the debts and credits—taking the former at their real valuations, and making the utmost of the credits.—Exchange.

Chateau of Knowledge

The speculative mind of man is like a colossal chateau set on a hill. It is surrounded by perpetual darkness. The chateau has countless windows facing in all directions. There is, at first, but one light, a flickering glimmer, in one small window level with the ground. Ages pass. Another window slowly lights up. Gradually, as time flows away, a thousand windows in the chateau flame with light. Tower windows begin to glimmer. Finally, the whole chateau is a blaze of light. For behind each window a mind labors in a small dark room shaped like a human skull to create a light of its own. From the tower windows the lights gleam the dusk for a great way. But the most powerful light from the largest window is merely an inch trying to eat the Infinite.—The Thinker.

First Uses for Sideboard

The dining room sideboard once served a different purpose from that of holding the family silver or glass. The sideboard, known first as a credence table, held all the dishes that were to be served at a dinner. An underling of the house, then, in the presence of the guests, tasted each dish of food on the credence table to make sure there was no poison that might be fatal to the guests. But gradually, as people became less vicious and the desire to poison one's enemy, or friend, became less customary, the credence was utilized for the display of silver and table service.—Brooklyn Eagle.

Causes of "Blood Rain"

There are many cases of so-called uncrucious showers in which the substances found on the ground did not actually fall from aloft. Thus some alleged rains of blood are due to the deposit of red fluid ejected by certain species of lepidoptera emerging simultaneously in large numbers from their cocoons, and others to the rapid multiplications in rain pools of algae and rotifers containing red coloring matter. The well-known red snow of polar regions results from the case of similar organisms.

SMUT INFECTION OCCURS WHEN SEED GRAIN SPROUTS.

THE wide-spread campaign to enlist growers in a real battle against wheat smut, that fetid-smelling fungus which has been taking an annual toll of something over 10 per cent in the producing sections of the country, appears to be making real headway. Facts about the danger of stinking smut and methods for controlling it have been widely spread by use of farmers' demonstration trains, county agents, state agricultural colleges, and the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Losses in crop profit through reduced yield, increased production costs, and dockage for smut some times running as much as 20 cents a bushel, can be prevented, and, because of the tendency of the smut spores to be spread from one farm to another by threshing machines, growers in many wheat-producing sections are now co-operating in a real move to obliterate smut losses.

In the first six months' shipments of last year's Kansas wheat crop, one out of every eight cars was graded as smutty by the U. S. inspectors. Kansas farmers lost at least $1,183,000 dockage on these shipments, and this is only a small loss compared with the loss through reduction of yield which may run anywhere from a few per cent to as high as 50%. Assuming an average reduction in yield of 15% from seed-borne flag smut and seedling blight caused by seed-borne scab, the Kansas farmers lost $3,570,720 on these shipments from smut.

Extensive research and experiment by state and U. S. experiment stations, have proved the dust after being cleaned, the seed grain should be treated with an efficient fungicide dust at the rate of 2 to 3 ounces per bushel for wheat and rye, and 3 ounces per bushel for barley and oats to control the seedling blight. Cereals in the Hochst control both of these diseases and materially reduce smut infections as well.

The fact that one big grower produced 6.9 more bushels of smut-free wheat per acre last year after Cereas treatment of his seed than was obtained from his untreated seed is evidence of what may be frequently expected by following the practice of treating seed wheat and treatment of seed. After being cleaned, the seed grain should be treated with an efficient fungicide dust at the rate of 2 to 3 ounces per bushel for wheat and rye, and 3 ounces per bushel for barley and oats to control the seedling blight. Farmers Bulletin No. 1556 recommends that "Seedling blight can be controlled by proper selection of varieties and treatment of seed. After being cleaned, the seed grain should be treated with an efficient fungicide dust at the rate of 2 to 3 ounces per bushel for wheat and rye, and 3 ounces per bushel for barley and oats to control the seedling blight.
