A RIGHT WAY—A WRONG WAY

Some weeks ago a white man came into the Bystander office and said that he desired to renew his subscription. He lives in a small town in southern Iowa and at one time had been a member of the state legislature. He explained that he was anxious to get an intelligent view of the Negro question as seen by Negroes themselves and that he felt that the only way to get it was to read the Negro newspapers and books and to visit them wherever and whenever possible. Very good to be sure.

A few days ago a prominent white attorney of Des Moines who has read the Bystander for some time and is a regular subscriber (fortunately most of the lawyers in Des Moines are regular subscribers, a record of which the paper is very proud) stated that he enjoyed reading the paper and would subscribe as long as it was printed. He further said that he had his children come to his home so his children could read and get the Negroes' viewpoint of the problem. Exactly as it should be.

Without advertising here for more subscribers to the Bystander or any other Negro paper, it is well to call attention to the fact that it is a splendid idea for the white people to read Negro papers in order to get a correct viewpoint of the Negro problem, his likes and dislikes. Altogether too many say and do things which the Negro resent and which speakers sometimes use in what they consider a harmless sense. Upon being reminded that they have offended the Negro they plead ignorance.

Monday night several Negroes attended a boy scout banquet at the Hotel Fort Des Moines. Unfortunately as is usually the case, things were so maneuvered that all sat at the same table. Dr. Tow Weatherwax, one of the Broadlawn Tuberculosis hospital physicians, led the singing. Dissatisfied with the manner in which the audience was singing, he pointed to the Negro guests and said, "I want to see some white teeth shining next time."

Possibly he had no evil intentions when the remarks were made and yet any intelligent Negro would not hesitate to consider it a "dirty dig." And "dirty digs" are certainly out of order especially when trainers of boys we are teaching how to live are assembled. The editor of the Bystander does not know Dr. Weatherwax but he does know that the doctor does not know or care what the intelligent Negro consider undesirable remarks. Even though funny, they appeal to the Uncle Tom class of Negroes only.

DO YOUR SHARE

The Public Welfare Drive begins Saturday. You know what it is. Yet you are being told more about it in every paper you read. The directors are particularly anxious for it to succeed. It can and will if each fellow "shares". The Bystander is especially anxious that Negroes make a good showing in this drive not only because we share in the Welfare Bureau budget but also because Negroes should bear their share of the community projects. We do it for the Y and that is as it should be. Why not for the Welfare Bureau?

We are not so sure that it is not the fault of the Welfare Bureau itself in that Negroes do not contribute more because they do not go in for organizing Negro workers as the Y does. But that is no excuse why you should not give something. Nor should that be an excuse advanced at this time. If you have a complaint to offer, give first, and complain afterwards. The fellow who pays has a voice.

JUGGERNAUTS

In ancient times when it was customary for people to sacrifice themselves under the ponderous Juggernaut wheels (there were sixteen of these wheels ending their lives to please their Gods as they thought, a the spectacle would have considered how they might have been saved by adjusting the mechanism of the mind.

A Psychiatrist is one of the medical profession whose business it is to give those normal thinking who have begun to think and act wrongly. This is not always possible but the science is making such rapid strides and doing so much good that greater accomplishments are to be expected from time to time.

One writer dwelling on this mental condition of ancient times considered it a solution for the then vexing question of how all the people were to be accommodated on such a small world with the ever increasing population. Since then however, newer worlds have been discovered making it seem absurd that such a fear should have ever taken possession of the mind of anyone. Since that time, too, there has been an increase in disease due to infectious organisms and germs or what is more likely and reasonable an increase in knowledge which has led to the conclusion that germs were the cause of disease in a majority of the diseases which prevail.

In epidemics of disease the germs themselves have become the Juggernauts with the victims an unwilling sacrifice. In the influenza epidemic the victims fell beneath them well great numbers. The well thought out plans for the conquering of infectious diseases have long since begun to show positive results and the time will come when the attention will be directed to the cure of these non-infectious nature, for there are undoubtedly some that come under such a classification.

The Negro in America

By J. C. Brown

Negroes in America have shown the ability to remember and resent the difference of political office seekers to their wishes and desires. The alienation of the Negro vote in pivotal states through the attempt to build up a Republican regime in the south by sacrificing the Negro leaders of that section, will not benefit the G. O. P. in a close election. The few belated appointments given to some of the leading Negroes of Indiana, Ohio and Kansas came too late to have any effect on the black vote last Tuesday.

What the effect will be two years hence depends upon the follow up of this sudden change of heart within the last four months. The "song of hate" which seems to have been the motive force in the campaign of 1928, has become a boom-erang to all who benefited thereby. Bleese and Hefflin are no more, politically speaking. They who attempted to force Mr. Parker through over the protest of labor and the Negro, and unfortunate enough to have to face the voters last Tuesday, in many instances, have plenty of time for reflection; and unless there is a great turnover in the mental attitude between now and '32, many others will have the same time for reflection after November, 1932.

The N. A. A. C. P. is the great mental force that is moulding and directing Negro thought throughout this country, and it is leaving no stone unturned that might help to educate projects. We do it for the Y and that is as it should be. Why not for the Welfare Bureau?

We are not so sure that it is not the fault of the Welfare Bureau itself in that Negroes do not contribute more because they do not go in for organizing Negro workers as the Y does. But that is no excuse why you should not give something. Nor should that be an excuse advanced at this time. If you have a complaint to offer, give first, and complain afterwards. ## My Trip Abroad

By Mrs. S. Joe Brown

MY IMPRESSION OF PARIS

I come now to give my impression of that city which is not only styled the "heart and brain of France", but likewise of the universe. The city of Paris, which is the capital of France, dates back as far as 52 years B. C. It has a population of 2,838,416, and of this number about 45,000 are American born residents; and our own Henry O. Tanner, the celebrated world famed painter, and Josephine Baker, that matchless stage artist, are listed in this number.

Considering then Paris to be one, if not the most fascinating city in all the world with her 300 or more mythological decorative works-in-squares and gardens, 500 or more statues and medallions, and with her numerous avenues and magnificent boulevards. You would naturally expect to see that beautiful equestrian statue of Joan of Arc, mounted on her spirited steed, the great Napoleon, likewise mounted on his white horse, Lafayette, Shakespeare, Alexander Dumas, Victor Hugo, and even our own George Washington, the latter a gift of American women. These together with other more than life size statues in bronze, Marble, and other choice stones, serve not only to make Paris an attractive city, but to preserve to posterity the life and works of these sainted characters whom she delights to honor.

Again the record disclosed the fact that Paris has the largest and one of the most pretentious libraries in the world, with more than three million books on her shelves, its largest and most attractive theatre where her grand operas are held (and it is said they are rarely equalled and never surpassed), and the Eiffel Tower, which stands 984 feet high and covers about four acres. This tower was built for the exposition in 1889, and is said to be the highest of its kind in the world.

La Bastille, a bronze statue erected in 1840, stands 140 feet high, and is adorned with names of 615 combatants who fighting for public freedom, fell in the 18th Revolution which event it commemorates. At the summit is a bronze gilt statue genius of Liberty standing on a globe holding the torch of civilization and the broken chains of slavery.

"Place De La Concord" is the place where Louis the 16th, Marie Antoinette, and about 3,000 others met their tragic fate. "The famous Eight Bridges", the great Exchange building in her Greek and Roman style, Champs-Elysees her Grand and petite Palaces, and her Marley Horses, her British and American Chambers of Commerce, "the Pantheon with its dome rivaling that of St. Peter's at Rome, and St. Paul's at London, the Palace of Justice or Law Courts, the Town Hall, the Luxemburg Museum, and the Army Museum in which a bust of our General Pershing is to be found. All contribute to her glory.

Next week you are to hear more about this wonderful city.

The black voters of America as to what it all means and who are the Negroes' friends. We believe there has been a wholesome respect created in the minds of the political leaders that never existed heretofore. It is up to us to help keep the good work moving by getting the Negroes in Iowa organized.

Jackson, professor of bacteriology at Howard University, and specialist in public health has been invited by President Herbert Hoover to be a delegate to the White House Conference on Child Health and Protection, which is called in the City of Washington, November 19 to 22nd.

COLOR BAR TO BE INVESTIGATED

New York, Oct. 31.—Reports that the Essex County Tuberculosis Hospital in New Jersey had declined to permit colored physicians to have access to their patients brought to the hospital for treatment, are to be investigated by the New Jersey State Conference of the N. A. A. C. P. The New Jersey N. A. A. C. P. has appointed a committee of physicians to get all facts in the matter, looking to whatever action may be necessary to remedy the exclusion of colored doctors.

BOOKER RICHMOND PLEADS SQUARE DEAL FOR NEGROES

Booker Richmond, former Chariton high school student and but recently admitted to the bar in the State of Iowa with highest honors, was the speaker at the weekly assembly of Chariton high school students Friday morning. Richmond's address concerned the race question in the United States and he made an eloquent plea for a better understanding of the problem.

Declaring that the Negro race in the United States has not the opportunity of education granted universally to white children, Richmond asked his listeners to make an effort to keep racial hatred from poisoning their minds. "We do not want to enter your homes, we do not want to eat at your table," Richmond said, "we ask only for the opportunity to be given an education whereby we, too, can raise ourselves from the mire of ignorance."

WHITE YOUNG PEOPLE OF MISSISSIPPI M. E. CHURCH INVITE NEGRO TO ADDRESS THEM

Prof. Laurence C. Jones, founder and principal of the Piney Woods School has returned to Des Moines after a flying trip to Mississippi where he was called to deliver the opening address of the Methodist Young People of Mississippi, an organization representing the entire white Methodist church of that state. The meeting was held in the auditorium of Whitworth College, Brookhaven, Miss., which was only a few blocks from where two of our group were lynched last summer because of a dispute with an oil station man.

The address of Principal Jones developed "The Spirit of Interracial Good Will and Cooperation", in which he summarized the races who were intolerant and bigoted and therefore failed in their mission and the races whose prosperity are due to practicing peace and good will. After the address Prof. Jones was invited to deliver the same address in three white Southern churches.

He was accompanied on the trip by Frank Mathews, Senior college student of Simpson College who was granted a weeks leave of absence by the college to make the trip and by Hubert Jones. They returned to the city Thursday morning.

FRESH GARTERS THE THING TO RENEW OLD CORSETS

What part of an article gives out first? Where the greatest strain is, naturally, and with corset, corset or girdle, or whatever article one finds most comfortable and convenient, the part that is sure to go first is the hose supporter that gets a constant tug and strain all day long. They also get somewhat soiled from constant rubbing against clothing, which makes the whole garment seem shabby and worn out. The next time you are tempted to discard your girdle, try washing it and then putting on a fresh pair of Hickey so-on garters and see what a difference it makes.

The old ones can be ripped off and the new ones put on in a fifty by simply stitching around the convenient tub tops which come with the so-on garters. In selecting garters, whether to replace old ones, or in getting an entirely new girdle, the wearer should see that good, live elastic is used and that all metal parts are smooth and rounded so as not to catch the fingers or tear the stockings and, to promote the long life of sheer hose, the supporter buckle and iron should both be entirely protected with rubber where it touches the stocking.

STURDY WAISTS FOR ACTIVE YOUNGSTERS

Dressing the children sensibly suggests having them wear as few separate garments as possible. This not only saves washing and expense, but what is most important, means greater freedom of movement, and free circulation of air around the body. A Hickey pantie waist, drawers or bloomers and, for the girl, a little frock and shorts-and blouse for the boy, are all the healthy child needs except in the most severe weather, when knit underwear may be worn.

The pantie waist is the key garment, so to speak, of the child's outfit. To this the garter is fastened, and drawers, shorts, bloomers and skirts buttoned. For this reason sturdy materials and strong, unbreakable bone buttons, securely taped on, are necessary features. In selecting the waist one should note also that the essential parts are double stitched, that the stout tabs or patent pin tube attachments are provided for the garters.

Cut is also an important part of the waist. The arms must be full cut to avoid binding and the front and neck sufficiently low not to show above the outer garments.

When buying the children's clothes, see that they are the kind they can easily get in and out of themselves.

RUBBER APRON KEEPS SKIRTS WRINKLE-FREE

A wrinkled skirt is as taboo by well-dressed women as are crooked nose seams or ill-kept hands. In these days of close-fitting frocks with rippling hemlines, a creaseless skirt is more essential than ever. One of the best ways of keeping your dresses in good condition and with the minimum of effort and expense is to wear a Hickey sanitary apron at all times. This tends to keep body warmth and perspiration from creating one's skirts and makes pleats stay in much longer.

Sanitary aprons can be had in a variety of shades, styles and weights and at prices to suit all purses. There are sturdy aprons of good weight rubber for service use, silk faced, lace edged aprons for the woman who insists on daintiness at all times, and the softest, flullest aprons of kossamer weight in beautifully patterned rubber for evening and dress wear. In all styles, a shaped band of net-meshhook or silk over the hips makes the apron fit smoothly and allows for ventilation.

Many women prefer to have a sanitary apron in each frock, so that there is no extra garment to be put on, nor strugs around the waist, and the apron is always in perfect position. The apron is removed before the frock is sent to the cleaners. It should be washed in lukewarm water with pure soap flakes, and dried with a towel. In addition to keeping skirts wrinkle free and to affording delicate protection the use of a sanitary apron tends to make transparent garments shadow proof.

Johnson, of Howard University will be master of ceremonies.

"I ALWAYS ride street cars down to work, Bill. It's just like adding an extra twenty dollars to my monthly pay check. I figured it cost eight cents a mile to drive my auto. Now I leave it home and ride on a weekly pass for almost nothing."

"You see, driving downtown is only a habit. There's good street car service out my way, and real comfort too on these new street cars. They get me down to my office just as quickly as my auto."

"Try trolley riding for a month yourself, Bill. You'll be converted, too. And—believe me—you'll be dollars to the good at the end of the month."

Thousands of progressive Des Moines business men ride trolleys to work each day. Street car riding abolishes parking difficulties, eliminates day-long storage on the city's streets, and provides a pleasant means of increasing income.

NOVEL PLAY APRON FOR LITTLE GIRLS

"Just like Mother" is reason enough for little girls to do a good many things, including the very sound and helpful practice of helping with the dishes now and then. With a little tlickery rubber apron to wear, a dainty, yet practical replica of Mother's big one, she will be delighted to take on this small task, and also to wear it when she is doing the necessary washing and ironing for a large family of dolls.

In the style shown here, one of many available, the little apron is slipped over the head and fastened at the side.

affording complete protection to the little frock underneath and yet cool and unobtrusive. It has the faintest of ruffles all the way round and a front ornamented with applied rubber motifs designed to capture the childish feminine heart.

These aprons, which are as suitable for play as for work, can be easily washed by using lukewarm water and soap flakes. Do not wring them out, but squeeze gently and wipe with a dry cloth. They should not be ironed.

In the first meet of the present school year at Drake University, which was held for the purpose of ascertaining the strength of the track squad, two local Negro boys were winners of medals awarded. Robert Webb, Jr., former West and North High star scored first and second places in the 440 yard run and the 100 yard dash, respectively, and was given a gold and silver medal. Elbert R. Hall, Jr., crack East High school weight man of two years ago, placed second in the shot-put, third in the discus and fourth in the javelin.

When it is considered that neither of these boys have been in training for more than a year it looks as though they will be valuable additions to the track squad.

It was announced Tuesday, Nov. 4, that Roland Hayes, singer of international fame, will be in Des Moines on March 2. The announcement was made by J. G. Browne, 1415 Maryland Ave., who is to be the local promoter of this outstanding musical event of the theatrical season in Des Moines. Brown received a telegram from W. H. Brennan, manager of the Boston Symphony Orchestra, which is in charge of Hayes' American tour, sending the contract for the recital.
