Eleven Men Perish In Prison Catastrophe

The Observer Pickens Threatened For Aiding In Investigation

By Chas. P. Howard

INDIA

India's fight for freedom is interesting to watch. Far more progress seems to be made in conferences between Gandhi and Viceroy Lord Irwin than was made at the round table conference in London. However, much is left to be done. Gandhi has a terrific task. He must deliver to the natives the substance of India's independence including control of India's finance by Indians and an early period control of the army and foreign affairs.

Gandhi began his civil disobedience movement one year ago, March 13. Within that time 30,000 of his followers have been sent to prison, for an ideal. Such personal sacrifices will, in due time, result in the realization of an ideal.

NATIONAL NEGRO REPUBLICAN LEAGUE

There is in process of organization the National Negro Republican League with headquarters at Washington, D. C. It is the plan to maintain in Washington a permanent headquarters and a permanent staff. The organization will be built along the lines of the two major parties, and in addition to the national body with headquarters in Washington will be State, County and City organizations. The idea is unquestionably sound. Only by maintaining an organization of this kind the year round, keeping our eye on legislation and men will it be possible for us to intelligently choose our candidates and issues. Only by financing this organization ourselves will we ever be able to direct its destinies. The organization is being headed by John R. Hawkins whose address is Prudence Building, 407 Florida Ave., Washington, D. C. A branch of this organization is in the process of perfection here. More will be heard of this later.

Davis were elected to membership. The Rev. Nate Broomfield was named Director of the chorus which was recently organized by the League. Mrs. T. Holmes and Mrs. E. R. Hall were put in charge of the three act drama, "A Southern Cinderella", which will be staged some time in April.

The monthly business meeting of the League will be on Friday evening, March 20th, with the Rev. and Mrs. Nate Broomfield, 1531 Buchanan St., as host and hostess.

The Pastor's Aid Society, of Bethel A. M. E. Church, under the presidency of Mrs. Virginia Smith, presents on Monday night the 16th, Mrs. Charley Washington with her 150 young people in a drama entitled "The Spiritual Feast" and the "Prodigal's Return".

DROUGHT RELIEF DISCRIMINATION REPORTED TO HEAD OF RED CROSS

NEW YORK, Mar. 6.—Relying upon the assurances of no discrimination in drought relief given by Judge John Barton Payne, Chairman of the American Red Cross, the N. A. A. C. P. has reported instances of such discrimination in smaller towns, with the request that steps be taken to remedy the conditions complained of.

A letter written to Judge Payne, by Walter White, transmits a report of an investigation made by a committee of the Little Rock, Ark., branch of the N. A. A. C. P., which shows that at England, Ark., Negroes were required to work on the streets and clear lands of private individuals in return for Red Cross aid.

Mr. White states that such instances are not general and that in some communities, colored people have fared well.

YWCA Makes Plans For Financial Campaign

The annual finance campaign of the Y. W. C. A., begins formally with a breakfast for the workers on Friday morning, March 20. Advance work will be done by workers previous to this time. One-half of the quota of the first report on Monday is the goal. Thursday, March 26, is scheduled as the day to go over the top. The branch quota is the same as last year—$600. In the 1930 campaign, this amount in contributions and subscriptions was received. (Any unpaid subscriptions are acceptable at this time). It is the desire of the 1931 campaign committee to exceed the accomplishments of last year.

More than 5,000 people attended group meetings during 1930. There are 11 departments, each of which is headed by a chairman, a member of the committee of management, who is assisted by a committee of women of the community. Committees vary in size from five to twelve. Girl Reserve Clubs are organized for junior and senior high school girls. There is a club of employed girls and college students. The music committee sponsors a quintette and a choral club. A forum for the discussion and study of literature by and about Negroes and of achievement by them is another successful project.

Legislator Forced to Apologize for Use of "Nigger"

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Mar. 12.—(By ANP)—A white member of the Legislature, Truman A. Shell, a Democrat and former judge from Carlinville, down in the southern end of Illinois, was forced to apologize for the use of the word "nigger" on the floor of the Illinois legislature last Thursday by four of the Negro legislators from Chicago.

As the roll was called, George W. Blackwell, Harry B. Gaines, Charles L. Jenkins, and William E. King each took the floor and flayed Shell. Flashed and abashed, Shell apologized.

Negro Health Week To Be Observed

H. Lyell Williams

Plans have been made throughout the United States for the celebration of a week for the improvement of Negro health.

The observance of the week, now in its seventeenth year, was begun by Dr. Booker T. Washington in 1915 and is annually promoted by the National Public Health Service, the National Negro Business League, the National Insurance Ass'n, the Annual Tuskegee Conference, State, County, City and various voluntary health and civic agencies.

It is estimated that 2,500 communities observed Negro Health Week last year. A wide observance is expected this year.

The official program for the week is as follows: Sunday, Mobilization Day (health talks and sermons); Monday, Home Health Day; Tuesday, Community Sanitation Day; Wednesday, School Health Day; Thursday, Adults Health Day (emphasis on annual health examinations); Friday, Special Campaign Day (survey of community health needs); Saturday, General Clean-up Day; Sunday, April 12, Report Day.

RULES FOR WAR VETERANS SEEKING THE BONUS LOANS

Washington, (CNS)—Attention is called to the fact that while "President Hoover lost his energetic fight for the limitation of bonus payments solely to the needy, his arranging with lightning rapidity for the commencement of the payment to one and all, was a magnificent example of respect for the law."

Those of the thousands of colored War Veterans throughout the country who desire to take advantage of the bonus loan, in order to expedite matters, should be sure to closely observe the rules for filing applications.

In case of previous loans Veterans should apply at bureau or office where the original loan was made. In case of previous unredemmed loans from banks applications should be made direct to Veterans Bureau at Washington.

Jesse Binga, 9522 South Pkwy., banker and real estate dealer, former president of the closed Binga State bank at State and 35th Sts., was indicted Thursday, March 5, by the grand jury on charges of embezzlement. He is accused of having misappropriated between $250,000 and $300,000 of funds belonging to the bank.

Church Officials Ask for StopLight on Keo Way

Seven months ago, following the death of Mrs. Bessie Kiser by an automobile at Twelfth and Keo Way, the Rev. William E. Guy, pastor of St. Paul's A. M. E. Church, recommended to the Trustee Board of that church that the Mayor and Commissioners of the city of Des Moines be memorialized to place Stop and Go Signal lights at that point.

REV. W. E. GUY

This was done and the matter was referred to Hon. Roscoe Bane. The energetic pastor of St. Paul's appeared before the City Commissioners last Thursday morning and renewed the request formerly made by St. Paul Trustee Board of which he is chairman. Dr. Guy, when seen in regard to the probable results of his appearance before the Commissioners, spoke quite optimistically and declared that he expected the Stop-and-Go lights to be installed, three of the Commissioners having spoken favorably and no one having denied the urgency of the need for traffic regulation at this point.

Dr. Guy returned Monday evening from Omaha where he served the congregation of St. John's A. M. E. Church both morning and evening, exchanging pulpits with Rev. I. S. Wilson, D. D., who preached at St. Paul's. In the afternoon Dr. Guy preached the communion sermon at Bethel, Rev. J. B. Bell, pastor. Presiding Elder Wells, father of Mrs. A. Ross Brent, conducted the quarterly communion service.

'Meant No Harm In Dark-ey Jokes' Says Crouch

Mayor Parker Crouch declared Saturday he meant no offense when at Monday night's Argonne post meeting he told several jokes in which he used the word "darky."

The mayor's statement is in answer to an editorial by Charles P. Howard, writer of the column, "The Observer," in the Iowa Bystander.

"I do not use the word 'nigger', the mayor said, "and in using the word 'darky' I most certainly meant no offense. I know a number of famous songs like 'Way Down Upon the Swanee River' in which the word 'darky' is written into the text. They are sung universally, by white and colored folk alike.

There are nicknames for persons of most every nationality which are ac-

ONL YONE INDICTMENT IN FLORIDA PEONAGE ACTIVITY

PENSACOLA, Fla., March 13.—Only one indictment and trial on peonage charges grew out of all the investigations of impressment of non-white labor in Florida made by the U. S. department of justice officials during the past year.

the Director of the Census, as returned by the Fifteenth Census enumeration is 4,189,803 as against 4,099,613 for the same states in 1920.

In Iowa for the year 1930 the white population was 2,448,382, and the Negro, 17,380; in 1920 the white was 2,384,181 and the Negro, 18,005.

In Des Moines for 1930 the white population was 136,724, and the Negro, 5,428; in 1920 the white, 120,887, and the Negro, 5,512.

KENANSVILLE, N. C., March 13.—Eleven prisoners came to their death in the Duplin county stockade, one mile south of here on Route 40, early Saturday morning, March 7, "by means of being burned to death by fire from an unknown cause" for which no criminal negligence is charged to anyone.

A coroner's jury came to that decision late Saturday while a gentle shower fell upon the still smoking ruins marking the site of the state's worst prison catastrophe, and county employees were gathering up the heap of skulls and bones that the previous night had belonged to 11 living beings serving short terms for infractions of the law of the land and distributing them into 11 new pine coffins.

How the blaze started, no one could say definitely, but on evidence presented at the coroner's inquest it was generally accepted that defective electrical wiring in the roof was responsible for the blaze.

The amazing thing about it all was that only the 11 Race prisoners, chained and locked in the cage in the north end of the structure, were the only ones to die in the confusion and disorganization which fell upon the camp when an emergency arose for which it was unprepared, even to the extent of usable hose and fire extinguishers.

The door confining the 11 men in the inferno was never opened until the ruins had been cooled by the application of many buckets of water.

WE AGREE

The reporter of the Evening Tribune (Des Moines) of March 3, covering the Roland Hayes recital, said:

"Had Booker T. Washington been present at the Borch Theatre Monday night he would have been pleased. For there stood one of his race and a rather noted young member at that, singing to an audience composed of his own people, half of the white race. And the plaudits that singer, Roland Hayes, received were equally enthusiastic from both groups."

"The concert was a striking example of the harmony into which both races can be brought by a distinguished member of one."

"The concert was likewise an achievement from the strictly musical standpoint. Mr. Hayes displayed uncommon artistry and feeling throughout his program."

The Bystander agrees with this sentiment and will go further to say that in public places generally, the average patron is too busy and in many cases too intelligent to spend his time objecting to Negroes being treated civilly.

Of course some people will object to Negroes receiving fair treatment, but they are in the minority. It is ridiculous to let this small minority control an institution's policies on the rights of American citizens.

After all the managers can see that Negroes are treated fairly if they have the courage to do what is right and proper.

A NEED FOR INDUSTRIAL OPPORTUNITY

Here in Des Moines the white and Negro people enjoy a most friendly relationship. This fine feeling is due to the contact the races have had in the Interracial Commission, the N. A. A. C. P., religious and social uplift organizations and the American Legion and the activity of the Negroes in politics. But with all this fine relationship, the Negro is still far down the ladder of industry.

Educational, social or political opportunity can gain little without economic opportunity. The latter is the Negroes' greatest handicap today.

Generally, when work gets scarce, Negroes are the first to be laid off; when it becomes plentiful, they are the last to be put on. A great many institutions here employ no Negroes because they know little about Negro labor or because some former employees has not done well on the job and the whole race is penalized.

Undoubtedly business conditions are on the upward trend. Payrolls will be added to in the future rather than be cut. Now is the time to get in and sell Negro labor to the industrial and commercial institutions. The organizations we have can but create sentiment. It takes more effort and some substantial steps should be made to secure a branch of the Urban League in Des Moines.

HEALTH TALKS

CONTROL OF DISEASE

Some author who failed to sign his name wrote these words: "It is not so much being free from faults and imperfections as overcoming them that is an advantage to us; it being with follies and weaknesses and errors, as with the weeds of a field, which, if destroyed on the soil where they grow, enrich and improve it, more than if they had never sprung up." This is true to a limited extent of disease.

If all the people in the universe were physicians the viewpoint of the physicians themselves would be easy to understand. It is sometimes difficult to appreciate or to understand without full knowledge and so it becomes necessary that we take for granted certain things told us by those who are supposed to know and who have had special training in certain lines. We acquire confidence or faith in certain things and certain people after a trial or on the word of someone else who knows. This interdependence of one class on the other is what constitutes life commercial or otherwise.

To be afflicted with a disease or a physiological defect (which does not constitute real disease but is a slight abnormal working of some organ) should be only a temporary condition for there are means at hand to cure or improve almost any disease mentioned, cancer now included. Certain diseases create immunities so that the same disease cannot be contracted again; the presence of one disease usually excludes another; and the dependence of certain portions of the body on a certain balance of germs themselves lets us know that germs are not always undesirable.

Scientific research has done wonders as is evidenced by the control of Diabete, the cure of Diptheria, the conquest of Syphilis, the control of Yellow Fever, and the cure of Malaria and many others not mentioned to say nothing of great improvements in methods of diagnosis. The human being nevertheless is far from physical perfection and will need working on for a long time.

Washington, D. C., March 6.—Dante Bellegarde, envoy extraordinary and minister plenipotentiary from Haiti, speaking last night before the Musoit club, dispelled the idea that had prevailed in local political circles during the American occupation that the people of Haiti did not wish this country represented at Port au Prince by a man of color.

Appearing as a special guest of the club Saturday night on invitation of Lucien Hibbert, Howard university professor, the minister was introduced by Dr. Emmett J. Scott, who also presented a radiogram from Charles E. Mitchell, minister plenipotentiary of Liberia, who has arrived in Monrovia.

Sioux City, Iowa.—Police Wednesday arrested Mark Brown, 38, preacher, of Council Bluffs, who they charge shot and killed his estranged wife, Mrs. Elizabeth Brown, 20, and wounded Paul Richardson, 20, here Tuesday night.

The shooting occurred when Brown met his wife and Richardson walking along the street, police said. A brief argument followed the meeting when Brown pulled a gun from his pocket and fired five shots.

One of the bullets pierced Mrs. Brown's body. Another bullet struck Richardson in the left side of the chest.

GREEN PASTURES RECORD PLAY OF YEAR

New York, Mar. 5.—(CNS)—"The Green Pastures," New York's most sensational dramatic piece, rounded out a year's run on gold. Aside from having an all-star colored cast, the play was awarded the Pulitzer prize, while a member of the cast won the Harmon award for 1930 for the highest achievement in the drama. He was Richard B. Harrison, who plays the role of the Lord.

One year of the play, with very little change save a new angel Gabriel—the first one, Wesley Hill, having been killed by a taxicab. More than 400,000 persons have attended the 424 for the last five years, was elected to succeed himself. He is editor of the Atlanta Independent, Atlanta.

New York, March 6.—Col. Hubert Julian, former air minister to the king of Abyssinia, is now in Bermuda for a three weeks' rest preparatory to taking off on a nonstop flight to the Land of the Lion of Judah some time this summer. Before his departure for Bermuda Col. Julian, whose last exhibition before King Haile Selassie I or Abyssinia ended in the crashing of his plane at the emperor's crash and in his discharge from the royal air service, left confident that he would make a successful flight.

Hagerstown, Md., March 5 (CNS)—Senator Heflin, Democrat of Alabama, in an address here last Monday, flayed the proposed repeal of the "jim crow" law in the state of Maryland. The senator spoke here in connection with the celebration of the birthday anniversary of George Washington.

Nashville, March 6.—After three days of celebration, during which time matters of the most vital interest were under consideration, the National Negro Press association closed its annual convention here last Friday, February 27.

Hard to Grasp Facts of the Stellar System

At first the brain reels a little in the attempt to grasp the facts of the stellar system, even explained with the lucidity and exactness of which Sir James Jeans is a master. From the vast extensions of the sky he carries us into the inmost recesses of the atom, where the electron whirls around its perpetual circuit several thousand million times every second. These numbers, says the London Spectator, are but double painting, and it is simpler to say that the electron travels as far in a second as our latest airplane travels in an hour. Sir James Jeans has a happy fertility in such comparisons, and forcibly strikes the imagination when he tells us that if the carbon atom were magnified to the size of Waterloo station, its electrons would be represented by six wasps flying round in the vast vacuity. All the rest is emptiness; and so in the celestial spaces it is immense odds against any given spot being occupied. "We live in a gossamer universe; pattern, plan and design are there in abundance, but solid substance is rare."

French Enjoy Fishing

No fewer than 10,000 fishermen took part in a competition and congress which was held at Vichy, writes the Paris correspondent of the London Sunday Observer. The number is not only sufficient to show what a placid person the Frenchman really is—at least when he reaches a certain age—but also that he has a natural passion for sport. I do not mean sport as he understands the word, for he does not really care about games, but sport in the sense of shooting and fishing. Game shooting is far more a pursuit of the whole people of France than in England, and there is hardly a middle-aged Frenchman who is not a fisherman.

Hands' Changed

He was a stout man, and his feet were big in proportion. He wore stout boots, too, with broad toes. When he went into the boot shop to buy another pair, he found he had some difficulty in getting what he wanted. A dozen pairs were shown him.

"No, not square toes—must have square shoes," he insisted.

"But, sir, everybody is wearing shoes with pointed toes. They are fashionable this season."

"I'm sorry," said the stout man, as he prepared to leave the shop. "I'm very sorry to have troubled you, I'm sure. But you see, I'm still wearing my last season's feet!"—London Tit-Bits.

Unfortunate Early Savant

Henry, Marquis of Villena, a Castilian savant in the reign of John II, studied astronomy so diligently that he lost all run of his worldly affairs and caused a wit of his day to comment sarcastically: "He knew much of heaven and nothing of earth."

His blind neglect of his financial concerns cost him all his possessions and reduced him to extreme penury in his last years. He was suspected of necromancy, and at his death in 1534 the king's ecclesiastical agent threw more than a hundred of his precious books into the flames.—Detroit News.

Concerning the Law

The true view, as I submit, is that the law is what the judges declare. The statutes, precedents, the opinions of learned experts, customs, and morality are the sources of the law; that back of everything lie the opinions of the ruling spirits of the community; who have the power to close any of these sources; but that as long as they do not interfere, the judges, in establishing law, have recourse to these sources.—John Chipman Gray.

D. Bee. Know Beekeeper

One often hears the statement that bees know their master. This is not true. During the working season a bee lives for only about six weeks, two of which are spent in the hive. It is hardly likely that a beekeeper would examine a hive frequently enough to become known to such short-lived creatures even if he had the ability to distinguish between different human beings.

Sir James Jeans has a happy fertility in such comparisons, and forcibly strikes the imagination when he tells us that if the carbon atom were magnified to the size of Waterloo station, its electrons would be represented by six wasps flying round in the vast vacuity. All the rest is emptiness; and so in the celestial spaces it is immense odds against any given spot being occupied. "We live in a gossamer universe; pattern, plan and design are there in abundance, but solid substance is rare."

French Enjoy Fishing

No fewer than 10,000 fishermen took part in a competition and congress which was held at Vichy, writes the Paris correspondent of the London Sunday Observer. The number is not only sufficient to show what a placid person the Frenchman really is—at least when he reaches a certain age—but also that he has a natural passion for sport. I do not mean sport as he understands the word, for he does not really care about games, but sport in the sense of shooting and fishing. Game shooting is far more a pursuit of the whole people of France than in England, and there is hardly a middle-aged Frenchman who is not a fisherman.

Hands' Changed

He was a stout man, and his feet were big in proportion. He wore stout boots, too, with broad toes. When he went into the boot shop to buy another pair, he found he had some difficulty in getting what he wanted. A dozen pairs were shown him.

"No, not square toes—must have square shoes," he insisted.

"But, sir, everybody is wearing shoes with pointed toes. They are fashionable this season."

"I'm sorry," said the stout man, as he prepared to leave the shop. "I'm very sorry to have troubled you, I'm sure. But you see, I'm still wearing my last season's feet!"—London Tit-Bits.

Unfortunate Early Savant

Henry, Marquis of Villena, a Castilian savant in the reign of John II, studied astronomy so diligently that he lost all run of his worldly affairs and caused a wit of his day to comment sarcastically: "He knew much of heaven and nothing of earth."

His blind neglect of his financial concerns cost him all his possessions and reduced him to extreme penury in his last years. He was suspected of necromancy, and at his death in 1534 the king's ecclesiastical agent threw more than a hundred of his precious books into the flames.—Detroit News.

Concerning the Law

The true view, as I submit, is that the law is what the judges declare. The statutes, precedents, the opinions of learned experts, customs, and morality are the sources of the law; that back of everything lie the opinions of the ruling spirits of the community; who have the power to close any of these sources; but that as long as they do not interfere, the judges, in establishing law, have recourse to these sources.—John Chipman Gray.

D. Bee. Know Beekeeper

One often hears the statement that bees know their master. This is not true. During the working season a bee lives for only about six weeks, two of which are spent in the hive. It is hardly likely that a beekeeper would examine a hive frequently enough to become known to such short-lived creatures even if he had the ability to distinguish between different human beings.

CONTROL OF DISEASE

Some author who failed to sign his name wrote these words: "It is not so much being free from faults and imperfections as overcoming them that is an advantage to us; it being with follies and weaknesses and errors, as with the weeds of a field, which, if destroyed on the soil where they grow, enrich and improve it, more than if they had never sprung up." This is true to a limited extent of disease.

If all the people in the universe were physicians the viewpoint of the physicians themselves would be easy to understand. It is sometimes difficult to appreciate or to understand without full knowledge and so it becomes necessary that we take for granted certain things told us by those who are supposed to know and who have had special training in certain lines. We acquire confidence or faith in certain things and certain people after a trial or on the word of someone else who knows. This interdependence of one class on the other is what constitutes life commercial or otherwise.

To be afflicted with a disease or a physiological defect (which does not constitute real disease but is a slight abnormal working of some organ) should be only a temporary condition for there are means at hand to cure or improve almost any disease mentioned, cancer now included. Certain diseases create immunities so that the same disease cannot be contracted again; the presence of one disease usually excludes another; and the dependence of certain portions of the body on a certain balance of germs themselves lets us know that germs are not always undesirable.

Scientific research has done wonders as is evidenced by the control of Diabete, the cure of Diptheria, the conquest of Syphilis, the control of Yellow Fever, and the cure of Malaria and many others not mentioned to say nothing of great improvements in methods of diagnosis. The human being nevertheless is far from physical perfection and will need working on for a long time.

Washington, D. C., March 6.—Dante Bellegarde, envoy extraordinary and minister plenipotentiary from Haiti, speaking last night before the Musoit club, dispelled the idea that had prevailed in local political circles during the American occupation that the people of Haiti did not wish this country represented at Port au Prince by a man of color.

Appearing as a special guest of the club Saturday night on invitation of Lucien Hibbert, Howard university professor, the minister was introduced by Dr. Emmett J. Scott, who also presented a radiogram from Charles E. Mitchell, minister plenipotentiary of Liberia, who has arrived in Monrovia.

Sioux City, Iowa.—Police Wednesday arrested Mark Brown, 38, preacher, of Council Bluffs, who they charge shot and killed his estranged wife, Mrs. Elizabeth Brown, 20, and wounded Paul Richardson, 20, here Tuesday night.

The shooting occurred when Brown met his wife and Richardson walking along the street, police said. A brief argument followed the meeting when Brown pulled a gun from his pocket and fired five shots.

One of the bullets pierced Mrs. Brown's body. Another bullet struck Richardson in the left side of the chest.

GREEN PASTURES RECORD PLAY OF YEAR

New York, Mar. 5.—(CNS)—"The Green Pastures," New York's most sensational dramatic piece, rounded out a year's run on gold. Aside from having an all-star colored cast, the play was awarded the Pulitzer prize, while a member of the cast won the Harmon award for 1930 for the highest achievement in the drama. He was Richard B. Harrison, who plays the role of the Lord.

One year of the play, with very little change save a new angel Gabriel—the first one, Wesley Hill, having been killed by a taxicab. More than 400,000 persons have attended the 424 for the last five years, was elected to succeed himself. He is editor of the Atlanta Independent, Atlanta.

New York, March 6.—Col. Hubert Julian, former air minister to the king of Abyssinia, is now in Bermuda for a three weeks' rest preparatory to taking off on a nonstop flight to the Land of the Lion of Judah some time this summer. Before his departure for Bermuda Col. Julian, whose last exhibition before King Haile Selassie I or Abyssinia ended in the crashing of his plane at the emperor's crash and in his discharge from the royal air service, left confident that he would make a successful flight.

Hagerstown, Md., March 5 (CNS)—Senator Heflin, Democrat of Alabama, in an address here last Monday, flayed the proposed repeal of the "jim crow" law in the state of Maryland. The senator spoke here in connection with the celebration of the birthday anniversary of George Washington.

Nashville, March 6.—After three days of celebration, during which time matters of the most vital interest were under consideration, the National Negro Press association closed its annual convention here last Friday, February 27.

Hard to Grasp Facts of the Stellar System

At first the brain reels a little in the attempt to grasp the facts of the stellar system, even explained with the lucidity and exactness of which Sir James Jeans is a master. From the vast extensions of the sky he carries us into the inmost recesses of the atom, where the electron whirls around its perpetual circuit several thousand million times every second. These numbers, says the London Spectator, are but double painting, and it is simpler to say that the electron travels as far in a second as our latest airplane travels in an hour. BROWN OBITUARY

Thomas Brown was born in Staunton, Virginia on the 10th of May, 1889, and departed this life in Iowa City, Wednesday, March 4, 1931, at 2:30 P. M., being 41 years, 9 months and 24 days old. Tommie Brown was reared by his grandmother, Mrs. Jennie Brown in and near Mutehakinook, Iowa.

About fifteen years ago he came to Des Moines, making his home with his cousin, Mrs. Mary Clay Howard. He was genial, patient, good natured, and universally liked—whether it was his co-worker at the Hubbel Bldg., the head physician at Iowa University Hospital, or the acquaintances he made in the course of his life. As a member of St. Paul's A. M. E. church, he was faithful and loyal.

Brown was Past Exalted Ruler of Hawkeye Lodge, Number 160, I. B. P. O. E. W., and a good citizen. He leaves behind the following relatives: Three uncles, Washington Brown of Albia; Jacob Brown of Waterloo and French Brown of Des Moines; his wife Mrs. Julia Brown; two aunts, Mrs. Bettie Enzer of Des Moines and Mrs. Minnie Washington, Pershing, Iowa and a host of other relatives and friends.

Funeral services were held Saturday, March 7, at 1 P. M., from St. Paul's A. M. E. Church, Rev. W. E. Guy officiating. The Elks Lodge had charge of the remains. Interment at Glendale Cemetery.

We wish to thank our many friends for the kindness shown during the illness and at the time of the death of our husband and nephew, Thomas Brown, who died at Iowa City. We also wish to thank the Elks Lodge and the Past Exalted Rulers Council for their kindness; Rev. W. E. Guy for his wonderful remarks; and L. Fowler & Son for their efficient service.

Mrs. Julie Brown, wife; Mr. and Mrs. French Brown.

SHILOH BAPTIST CHURCH NEWS

Mildred Fields, Reporter

We owe a debt of gratitude to the ministers, choirs and laymen of the churches of the city who came to us during our financial drive. The drive was sponsored by the building club. Deacon Robinson is the President. The building filled to overflowing and good collections were an inspiration of the week. Our pastor, Rev. J. L. Lucas, was confined to his home the greater part of the week; however, he is now up. A number of our members are on the sick list. Sunday morning Rev. Briggs filled the pulpit, preaching, "Ye Must Be Born Again." In the afternoon, Rev. Tutt of Union Baptist preached, his subject being "Peter, Whom Do You Say I am?" A wonderful sermon and gathering. The evening services were very interesting; Rev. Patten of Corinthian was the speaker.

NOTICE

The Spring meeting of the Executive Board and all departments of our state workers will meet in Davenport, March 24-25, Tuesday and Wednesday, with the Mt. Zion, Third Baptist church of which the Rev. I. M. Coggs is pastor. All the churches and Mission circles are urgently requested to make their reports to this Board Meeting, or send the same to the office of the Executive Secretary.

LINCOLN POST RECEIVES RECOGNITION

Past Commander, Sam Walker, of Lincoln Post has received a letter from O. L. Bodenheimer, Past National Commander of the American Legion, together with a card of recognition, monogrammed with the Legion Emblem, for work that Lincoln Post accomplished while Walker was Commander. During his command Lincoln Post excelled in its prescribed quota of members and did much for the comrades who needed help—securing entrance to the Government hospitals for some of its members was one of the most important.

Spencer Elliston, Service Officer of Lincoln Post, is due much credit for securing the hospitalization of the Vets. Walker served two terms as Post Commander, and is now membership-chairman and is making great gains in securing members. The men are doing fine by paying their dues regularly in spite of the business depression, and under Commander Kitchen should have a very successful year.

Mr. Walker is Commander of Marvum Hill Barnum Post, Number 1973, V. E. W., which meets the second and fourth Thursday of the month at the Community Service at 8:00 P. M.

New Orleans, March 6.—Social equality, as food for southern discussion, came up again this week when the local white dailies began giving front page publicity to the fact that T. Reed, secretary of Governor Long's flood control committee, were guests with Congressman Oscar De Priest at the dinner given by the Illinois congressional delegation at Washington last Friday in honor of Mayor William Hale Thompson of Chicago.

A few nights ago a spectacular fire left a warehouse a smoking ruin. Five alarms were sounded. Eleven reporters—two working and nine out to enjoy the fire—rushed to the scene. A columnist, who had no business there but loves to run after the engines, got his feet wet and caught cold.

Sophisticated Boyhood

It may be the age in which we are living that is responsible. You can't tell. But in the light of observation the sophistication of the nine-year-old becomes an actuality.

Volcanic Islands Act as Safety Valves

Nihoa is one of the Tonga, or Friendly Islands, situated halfway between Samoa and Fiji in one of the most restless geological areas in the world. Stretching across the South Pacific from Samoa to Nihoa Island, New Zealand, there is a huge fissure in the earth's crust.

Diseases of Goldfish

Fungus diseases often attack the goldfish, sometimes so severely that there is nothing to do but make a fresh start. One remedy for the disease is a salt bath, using a heaping teaspoonful of salt to two quarts of water.

Obeying Instructions

Farmer Smith had a supply of winter cabbage to plant. Arriving at the farmyard, he called over one of his laborers. "George," he said, "I want you to plant these cabbages, but remember to plant them well apart."

Early "Dictionaries"

Before there was a dictionary, people literally "did without." Over 2,500 years ago the Assyrians had one of their languages pressed in cuneiform characters on clay tablets. One authority says: "The Arabians, the Greeks, and the Romans, too, compiled dictionaries; they did not make any attempt at giving all the words of a language, but contented themselves with listing rare or difficult words."

RUBBER APRON KEEPS SKIRTS WRINKLE-FREE

A wrinkled skirt is as taboo by well-dressed women as are crooked hose seams or ill-kept hands. In these days of close-fitting frocks with ruffling hemlines, a creaseless skirt is more essential than ever. One of the best ways of keeping your dresses in good condition and with the minimum of effort and expense is to wear a flackory sanitary apron at all times.

Forget Troubles

Troubles mainly themselves too largely in fearful anticipation. The result is wasted worry. Remember the adage of the ancient philosopher who remarked: "I am an old man and have had many troubles, but the most of them never happened."—Grit.

Just as the oak from which came the navy that made Britain mistress of the sea, became the national tree of England, so did the beautiful lofty palm, which gave oil, timber and dates to its people, become the national tree of what we like to call the Holy land.

A young woman entered an east-end drug store and bought some supposed ly salted peanuts. "There's no salt in these peanuts," she protested. "Well, we don't salt them much; salt hardens your arteries."

Ancient City of Bergamo

One of the most picturesque towns of Lombardy in Italy is the ancient little city of Bergamo, perched on a conspicuous hill and still refulgent of the days when the Venetians made it one of their fortresses. It is a quaint and crooked place with many interesting buildings. The church of Santa Maria Maggiore, dating in part from 1187, has excellent Romanesque work of black and white marble.

Chivalry in 1867

"When you tread on a lady's train in the street, you are not required to apologize," observed the Providence (R. I.) Journal on July 18, 1867. "You have a right to be in the street. So has the lady; but she has no more right to carry her train with the expectation of having it respected than she has to bring her cradle to Market square and rock her baby in it. You have a right to stay on the sidewalk, and if any foolish woman chooses to lay five yards of satin between your feet and the flags, it is her risk, not yours."—Kansas City Times.

Chinese Immigration

Prior to the discovery of gold in California in 1848 there were no Chinese laborers in the United States. From 1840 to 1850, according to immigration records, only 35 entered the country, but during the next decade 41,807 came to the port of San Francisco. About 1870 Chinese coolie immigration began to be a political issue and the treaty signed November 17, 1880, gave the United States the right to regulate, limit or suspend the immigration of new Chinese laborers and not to prohibit altogether.
