Wouldn't it be a grand and glorious thing if, in the event of war, the colored troops were as snobbish and as judicial to color as our U. S. War Department, and they'd refuse to contribute themselves by firing at black boys?

The Legionnaires at Detroit, in a melodious voice heard round the world, hollered "give us beer". Perhaps they believe that if they become beer bloated—beer is very fattening, you know—they'll present the appearance of being well fed, even if they do stand in the headlines and haunt newspaper kitchens this winter.

Seen in last Sunday's Register "Sheriff Raids Store to Stop Birth Control". Thanks for the tip, Mr. Keeling. We didn't know it was quite so simple.

Jacob Miller, 93, Pleasant Hill, Missouri, is wearing boots made 73 years ago. Many a parent, harassed at trying to keep his children shod, would like to hear him explain how to acquire longevity in footwear.

Last week we have a rival for our original thick skull in an 87 year old Mexican, who having received a skull fracture, walked unaided to a physician's office for treatment.

Someone at Pittsfield, Illinois, married three brothers in succession. Her name is Rosa Moorehead-Moorehead-Moorehead. A genealogist might lose his mind trying to dope out the intricacies of kinships arising from her series of marriages.

Toronto, Canada's mayor, William Stewart—and I've a brother of the same name—is trying to get wealthy public spirited citizens to provide free educational movies and high class books for the army of unemployed. If it's all the same, yer honor, we suggest that you confine your efforts to securing decent food and warm clothing for them this winter. Terribly hard to appreciate things cultural on an empty stomach.

Five thousand night riders at Clarksburg, W. Virginia, were charged with lynching Harry Powers, confessed murderer of two and three children, by the aid of a handful of policemen. A handful could hold back a mob, when we know of instances where the combined efforts of a militia, a corp of deputies and officials could not deter a mob from lynching one of

New Fight Opens On Walker Mansion on Hudson

New York, Sept. 25.—Efforts by Louis Isquith to get possession of Villa Lewaro mansion at Irvington-on-the-Hudson of the late Mme. C. J. Walker, at a reputed cost of $300,000 was thwarted Friday when attorney Marion R. Perry secured an arrest of Isquith. Attorney Perry, whose former home was in Little Rock, Ark., is the husband of Mrs. Mae Walker Perry, adopted daughter and chief-legatee of Mme. A'Leila Walker, who recently passed away.

Half of her holdings in the C. J. Walker Manufacturing company were bequeathed to Mrs. Perry by Mme. Walker.

his license September 10. Mr. Johnson, in a first attempt, passed the Missouri Board immediately after graduating last June, and duplicated this unusual feat here.

The Iowa Board states that he received high grades and is the first Negro to pass in an initial examination since 1917. Mr. Johnson served his apprenticeship at the Wilson Funeral Home, 811 14th street, under the personal supervision of Tug W. Wilson, owner, pictured above, who after two year's active management of this, the oldest funeral home in Iowa, has built up a very highly trained and efficient personnel. Mr. Johnson is now affiliated with the establishment as chief assistant embalmer and funeral director.

Bland of 1029 High Street, spoke last evening in the A. M. E. church. On account of the storm, the attendance was small, but Mrs. Whyte was most enthusiastically received by those who heard her. She was the speaker at the home of Mrs. Bland this afternoon when a number of the women of the city were invited to hear her. She speaks at the Nazarene church and will also be a speaker at a gathering in Fort Madison before she leaves Keokuk.

Deny Darrow To Aid Ala. Youths

New York, Sept. 25.—Another unnecessary step to discredit the activities of the N. A. A. C. P. was taken by the International Labor Defense over the week-end, when the general offices in New York issued a statement, attributed to J. Louis Engdahl, general secretary, which had for its purport that Clarence Darrow would not assist in the defense of the eight boys condemned to death at Scottsboro, Ala., as announced from the office of the N. A. A. C. P. last week.

NEGROES IN THE DIPLOMATIC SERVICE

Washington (CNS) Sept. 23.—Seven colored men now comprise the total list of those who are engaged in the foreign service of the United States, inquiry at the State Department here revealed this week. Of this number one, Charles E. Mitchell, is an accredited minister, four are career men, with the rank of consul, and two are non-career men with the rank of vice-consul. A career man is one who does not hold office at the will of any political party.

American Legion Asked To Protest Treatment of Negro Troops

New York, Sept. 25.—An appeal is being made to the American Legion at its Detroit convention, opening September 21, to protest to President Hoover against the break-up of the 10th Cavalry and other famous Negro regiments of the regular army.

The appeal to the Legion forwarded to the National Commander, Ralph T. O'Neil, by the N. A. A. C. P., urges a Legion resolution asking the President to order the Negro regiments to be maintained intact.

WAR DEPARTMENT DECLINES TO ENLIST COLORED MEN IN AIR CORPS

New York, (CNS), Sept. 25.—What seems to be duplicity on the part of the officials of the War Department was revealed here last week, when information in the hands of the N. A. A. C. P. was released last week, indicating that not only was the War Department following a long established policy in depleting Negro combat units of the regular army, but that as well no Negroes were being admitted

Mammoth Crowd To Hear Congressman

Race Riot Feared In Heflin Lecture

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Sept. 24.—(By ANP)—A tense situation prevails in this city as a result of efforts that are being made on the part of Klau Klux Klan leaders to have former United States Senator Thomas J. Heflin deliver a speech in the Los Angeles district Friday night. City and county authorities have denied all facilities to Heflin.

In spite of the objection, however, of Negroes, Catholics and Irish citizens, the arrangements are proceeding. It is understood that the Klan has leased Bakersfield, on the highway to Fresno, for Friday night, and intend to have the former Alabama solon deliver his infamous "America at the Crossroads" speech. C. Rawlins is the Klan leader carrying forward the plans for Heflin.

In this city or county, Heflin was denied the use of any hall, baseball park, or other facilities.

The final arrangements have been made and all is in readiness to greet the Hon. Oscar DePriest, U. S. Representative, First Illinois Congressional District, who will speak at the State Fair grounds, tonight. The occasion marks the first anniversary celebration of the Negro Re-TO SPEAK AT FAIR-GROUNDS TONIGHT

LAST "HOUSTON MARTYR" MADE ELIGIBLE FOR PAROLE New York, Sept. 25.—Stewart Phillips, the last member of the 24th Infantry imprisoned for taking part in the 1917 Houston riot, will be eligible for parole and release from Leavenworth Penitentiary, if the recommendation of Warden T. B. White is accepted in Washington.

Slater, Jr., a committee composed of Atty. George H. Woodson, chairman, and Prof. James L. Dameron and Harrison Gould was appointed to draft suitable resolutions and forward to Council Bluffs, Iowa, the Slaters' new field of church labor.

THE ONLY COURSE

The color bar has been broken down at Michigan University to the extent that Negro girls are accepted in the new dormitories. The action comes following a resolution introduced in the State legislature inquiring into the action of the president and secretary who refused Negro girl applicants for rooms in the school dormitories.

This is as it should be. If Negro girls are able to pay for the best accommodation at school they should have it. Most of them are not. But why should a man with money to pay his way be forced to live in a boarding house. We contend, and rightfully so, that we should have equal accommodations in Pullman and dining cars; why should we not in the schools?

The Bystander is reliably informed that Negroes are not permitted to stay in the dormitories at the Iowa State University, in spite of the fact that it is a state institution, and Negroes' taxes help to support it. Such action by the state is a violation of our civil rights act. The same rule should apply there as at Michigan. It is a matter that should be taken up, not with any idea of raising a disturbance but as of downright justice.

After all one of the real tests of democracy is the extent to which Negroes enjoy sleeping and eating accommodations. And while the failure to make an effort to enjoy them may keep peace and dub you "a safe person", it is hard on the race. Michigan citizens have taken the right step. Every northern school, particularly state supported institution, should do likewise.

LINCOLN POST ACTIVITIES

The Iowa delegation at the American Legion Convention this week carried a resolution passed by the State Convention at Davenport urging that national legislation be passed putting a stop to lynching. The resolution is being sponsored by former United States Senator Dan F. Steack of Ottumwa, who represented Iowa on the resolutions committee.

A telegram was sent Frank Miles, editor of the Legionaire, Monday, urging that the delegation support a resolution sent the Legion by the N. A. A. C. P. urging that the enlisted personnel of the four Negro regiments in the regular army be not reduced.

Action in both of these matters was taken at the instigation of Lincoln Post, No. 126, American Legion of Des Moines. While cited as information to some of the public, it may be said that they serve to illustrate the kind of work the Legion is doing in this and other communities. It further demonstrates the possibilities of the connection gained by contact with the Legion; contact that every Negro ex-service man needs. These instances are good points upon which to sell the organization.

HEALTH TALKS

By Dr. H. H. London

HEALTH EXAMINATIONS

Preventive Medicine has for its purpose the protection of the body against disease and the control of disease before advanced changes have occurred in the organs and tissues. This marks a great advance in the prolongation of life and in the improvement of the health of all individuals when its soundness and practicability is realized. Having just been thought of in recent years, perhaps only within the last decade, it is quite probable that it could not have been introduced with any effectiveness earlier as so many of the preventives have been only recently discovered and put into practice. No doubt by the time the Public realizes to the man the full value of this form of medical attention cures for all diseases will have been found but as limited as our knowledge is about some things which the future holds we have vision enough to see that any extensive destruction of any organ or part cannot possibly yield to a cure or specific as we call it. For this reason the early detection and application of cures will always be the logical and appropriate procedure.

If there was no other argument for Health Examinations at periods than the existence of diseases in childhood those who are mature could well feel that they had lost in the argument had they taken the negative side, having as judge the statistics which show a certain number of disabilities which have resulted indirectly from some disease in infancy.

The advice "be examined", genuine as it indeed is, should be received and transformed into an auto-command—a command to the self, if healthy bone and blood and sinew is desired.

is his second appearance here. Everybody remembers the fine reception he got before and the splendid impression he made upon his audience.

Mr. De Priest has done wonderfully well on his job. Beseated by foes within and without his race and party he has drawn about as little criticism as any man could under the circumstances.

The remarkable thing about Mr. De Priest is that in spite of all else he fights for his race first, party afterwards. That is as it should be. He is looked upon as a representative of twelve million Negroes. As such he finds it essential to give advice in communities to fit the locality. He will continue to do well under this system of leadership.

In the Gola Country

When I entered the Gola town of Genne, just above the line of Grand Cape Mount County, the place seemed deserted save for a group of old men eyeing my party suspiciously from the veranda of the chief's house. No women, children or young folk were to be seen. It looked queer because the town is marked prominently on the maps. I called my Buzi headman to engage the chief in conversation and tell him who I was. Meanwhile, my stewards got out bags of gleaming salts and stalks of trade tobacco for presents or "dash".

PATIENCE IS KEY TO DOG TRAINING

Use Tact and Kindness to Bring Out the Best of Animal's Ability.

A properly trained dog is a delight to himself and his master. He loves to do his master's bidding, and were every dog well-trained, there would be little complaint about dogs and their deeds, states the Chappel Kennel Foundation, Rockford, Illinois.

Probably 95 per cent of dogs have the ability for training and only require effort, patience and repetition to bring it out of them.

The early training of a dog is most important. A dog not trained or disciplined during the first twelve months of his life, will not be nearly as manageable and dependable when grown.

Only one person should be the dog's instructor during the entire course of training. After a dog is trained, he should go through the commands for anyone who gives them properly.

The first and biggest lesson you can teach him is obedience, founded upon full confidence in you as his master. All the rest will take care of themselves as a matter of course.

Causes of failure to secure obedience from a dog after weeks of training may be set down as two. The act has not been repeated often enough or it has been repeated too many times on the same day. Two or three commands a day are sufficient. But stop work only on a successful performance.

A dog does not know the difference in the meaning of words. After many trials and much work he can be taught to do so and so when a certain word is spoken. But the meaning of the word itself is beyond him. A word spoken in a kind way will make him glad and wag his tail; the same word spoken in a rough way will make him run in fear.

Another cause of poor control over a dog is failure to reward him. A dog likes to be praised and feel that he is appreciated. A kind word, a pat on the head will usually go about as far as anything else. A bit of such food as kibbled biscuit, given at the end of each successful act helps him to feel that he is appreciated.

Simple Facts of Dog Feeding Told

If the feeding of your dog presents itself as a weighty problem, take heart!

According to the Chappel Kennel Foundation, Rockford, Illinois, here is all that you need to know about his feeding:

1. Feed one heavy meal a day, preferably in the evening. Feed the light meal in the morning. Puppies require three to five meals a day, depending on their ages. Feed at the same hours each day.
2. Meat is the dog's natural diet. If you feed your dog a prepared, well-balanced meat food, with dog biscuits for variety's sake, he will need nothing else.
3. Don't feed table scraps, potatoes, boiled eggs or pork, and don't serve soupy foods. Beware of chicken and fish bones. Dogs care nothing for sweets until taught to like them.
4. Provide plenty of water.
5. Never allow violent exercise directly after feeding.

If a dog does not take readily to biscuits, which are essential to keeping his gums hard and teeth clean, it is suggested that kibbled or broken biscuits be gradually incorporated into his regular ration until he gets used to eating them.

U. S. BOY-DOG CONTEST

The sum of $250.00 in cash and fame by having their likenesses reproduced in oil on canvas is being offered by the Chappel Kennel Foundation, Rockford, Ill., in its contest to find America's typical boy and dog. The contest closes September 15th.

Favor Getting a Puppy to Buying a Mature Dog

Hints on Care and Training Given by Kennel Foundation.

The choice of one or the other must be made by everyone who contemplates adding a canine pet to his household, states the Chappel Kennel Foundation, Rockford, Illinois. While some prefer a perfectly-trained grown dog, most people are inclined to agree with Albert Rayson Terhune that a puppy is more desirable. For one thing, a puppy does not cost as much as a grown dog, and its future is entirely in your own hands.

Eating is the biggest thing in a puppy's life, and what and how he eats will either make or break him, according to the Foundation. "Little and often" is probably the best rule of successful puppy rearing. Feed four or five times a day from weaning time till four months of age and no more than four times a day at six months. Increase the ration as you decrease the number of feedings, but never serve more than just a trifle over what the puppy will eat up quickly. When the average puppy is at the end of twelve months ready to enter full doghood, he should be getting no more than two meals a day, and preferably one. If the puppy does not finish the meal provided for him, what remains must be removed in a few minutes and nothing else should be given until the next feeding time.

By nature the dog is a meat-eating animal, but under today's domesticated conditions, fresh raw meat from the butcher's is much too concentrated a diet. Research workers who have given thought to this problem in recent years have been able to develop scientifically-balanced canned meat foods which have taken all the guess out of dog and puppy feeding. They contain all the elements necessary for proper growth and development. Both puppies and dogs especially relish those made from horse meat. A part of every puppy's ration should be some dry food which has been softened with milk or water. This may be only a teaspoonful at six weeks, but should be increased with the size and condition of the animal. As the puppy grows older and his teeth stronger, dog biscuits or kibbled or whole corn may be substituted. The biscuits afford the exercise demanded by the puppy's jaw and serve to keep his teeth clean.

Teach your puppy to eat at a regular place and time. Having regular feeding times will help a dog aid in unlearning him. Make it a practice to take him out for a walk shortly after feeding.

Detroit, Mich., Sept. 18.—The new Mosher-Jordan dormitory at the University of Michigan will be open to Race coeds this fall. This was made known Saturday when two Detroit students received communications from the university stating that their applications for rooms had been accepted and the rooms would be at their disposal when the fall term opened.

The new $800,000 building, which was thrown open to the students last fall, created a racial issue when Race girls claimed that the university refused to accept them as residents in the new dormitory.

BLOOD PRINCIPAL FOOD OF MOSQUITO

Most relentless of all insects in its torture of humans is the blood-thirsty female mosquito. The male is harmless. Not only does the female sink her "dagger" deep into the flesh and leave a swollen and irritating wound to get her fill of blood, but in that wound she injects a poisonous fluid and oftentimes dangerous disease germs to cause sickness and death, according to the Rex Research Foundation.

Although to many people a mosquito is just a single humming pest that goes around under cover of darkness puncturing skins, there are many varieties of this pest—the Foundation point out. Some of these breed in old tin cans containing water and in rain barrels; others in swamps and ponds, while still others breed in clear, cool water. And there are also mosquitoes which prefer the stagnant water of sewers. The principal food of all common mosquitoes is blood of humans, animals, birds, and even snakes.

The mouth parts of the female mosquito are admirably adapted to piercing the skin. The "dagger" is made up of a bundle of six very fine sharp needles which puncture the skin easily and through which the mosquito pumps blood into her stomach. Before the blood is drawn, however, she injects a poisonous fluid which thins the blood so that she can draw it up readily. It is this poison that causes the familiar mosquito bite.

The best cure for mosquito bites is their prevention. This is done most effectively in or about the home by destroying the mosquito before she gets a chance to land on her victim. Spraying with a good spray made expressly to kill mosquitoes and other insects is a sure way to exterminate these pests. This spray material floating in the air as a fine mist, while harmless to humans, and nonstaining to household furnishings, also keeps other mosquitoes from entering the room.

CHEMICAL SPRAY

SPEEDS MAN'S WAR ON HOUSEHOLD FLY

All through the ages, since human misfortunes were first chronicled, mankind has struggled to protect itself from its chief peacetime and wartime enemy and annoyance—the common house fly which is credited nowadays with causing 75,000 deaths annually.

Paulus Silentarius, the Roman, accomplished the first really progressive step in exterminating the fly in the Sixth century, A. D., according to O. F. Hedenburg, director of the Rex Research Foundation, Chicago, which is staging a modern nation-wide warfare on household insect pests. This wily Roman ordered a fine net built around his bed to keep the flies away so he could sleep in peace.

His method proved so good that it was used until recent years, as was the later and more widespread idea of "swatting."

"More real progress in fly extermination has been made in the last five years than in the previous five centuries through the development of scientific chemical sprays which destroy flies in homes and elsewhere wholesale without injuring humans or animals," Doctor Hedenburg said.

This crowning achievement was accomplished at Mellon Institute in the form of liquids, which, sprayed into the air, form a mist cloud that may be breathed by people with perfect safety but which quickly and efficiently eliminates all insect pests in a room. It leaves no stain on clothing or walls.

Doctor Hedburg declares that homes should be sprayed with a good insecticide twice daily, once, perhaps in the afternoon, to protect baby's nap, and once just before bedtime, thus destroying all germ carrying or otherwise destructive insects that may have entered through open doors or meshes in the screens.

WAR DAILY CONDEMNERS

WAR DEPARTMENT ACTION Philadelphia (CNS) Sept. 16.—The Philadelphia Record, a leading white daily of this city, urged in its editorial columns last week that the War Department rescind the "secret order" issued recently affecting Negro soldiers of the American Legion in this city, has been awarded the state trophy for the largest increase of membership of any post. One hundred fifty-four members were added to their roster. The presentation of the trophy took place in Joplin last week at the annual state convention.

HOUSE FLY MOST HARMFUL INSECT

Capable of Carrying Six Million Germs to Human Body or Food.

A loss of $858,000,000 annually is caused in the United States by "public enemy" insects which may be classified as household pests, according to O. F. Hedenburg, director of the Rex Research Foundation, Chicago, which is engaged in a nation-wide campaign for insect extermination.

These insects cause the loss either by carrying germs or destroying property, Doctor Hedenburg said. He added that the most destructive and dangerous seven kinds of insect foes to the human race are the fly, mosquito, moth, cockroach, bedbug, flea and ant.

Washington (CNS) Sept. 16.—That the bottom had dropped out of the National Benefit Life Insurance Company appeared last Thursday when John R. Pinkett, second vice-president of the company, filed a bill in equity through his white attorneys, O'Brien & O'Brien and Alexander H. Bell, asking that a temporary and permanent receiver be appointed in the District of Columbia and that the company be dissolved. Pinkett's bill alleges that so badly is the company impaired that it will take in excess of one million dollars to place it once again on a stable basis.
