"About Town"

NEW FLASHES HERE AND THERE VE SAYS—

The austere spinster type of teacher is fast disappearing, as is evidenced by the bevy of good-looking young teachers in convention here, which might be one of the obscure reasons why youth has gone in for education strong.

Armistice Day—when men used to strut around in full regalia, bragging of their brave and heroic deeds overseas—is becoming a quiet as a shadow, as peeps as a W. C. T. U. fruit cocktail, and as insignificant as political promises after election.

The Dubuque, Iowa, school board seems to think that the subject of rum is just another rum idea, as they denied a national W. C. T. U. lecturer the privilege of appearing before classes there last week.

Henry Ford, automobile magnate, says the depression will surely end, if the general public will spend its money not foolishly but freely. I'll believe he is really sincere, if he'll add a postscript denouncing folks who mortgage homes to buy cars.

CAN YOU REMEMBER WAY BACK WHEN ?

Women wore shoes, sported Spanish shawls and combs on formal occasions, and mountains of false hair, which looked like horse hair. When furs and muffs were the rage. When they wore kimonos and those shapeless mother Hubbard dresses around the house and three and four voluminous undershirts for decency's sake? When ruffles and knife pleats were the despair of all laundresses. When afternoon luncheons consisted of at least five courses and not a salad, cocktail and a cigarette. When ladies hesitantly pronounced "legs" "limbs" in the presence of the opposite sex and very prettily added an apologetic blush for sweet modesty's sake.

When men wore ear muffs, pleated shirts of rainbow hue, pearl button shoes, rolled their own and always gave a lady their seats in crowded street cars. When masculine wealth was often gauged by the number of monstrous yellow gold teeth showing; and racy fellows back home from Omaha, Seattle or St. Louis, sported diamond insets in their teeth. When doctors recommended rock candy and whisky for colds. When a woman without an escort after dark was considered declassé. When high school and college graduates were next to the Gods. When youngsters who slicked their hair washed their face, neck and teeth regularly and came to school dyked out, were considered sissies and had a hard time justifying their existence with the toughnecks.

When feet-bags went barefoot until the first frost. When the dog-walk and camel walk was the dance craze among the younger set. When no stag party was complete without tap beer, and a distinctly man's Hors-d'Oeuvre of limburger and blood-cheese, garlic and onions. When a number six shoe was considered large for a woman, and who furtively whispered the number to the clerk.

NAACP Willed Walker Home

New York, N. Y., Nov. 12.—When the will of Madam C. J. Walker was probated, it revealed that the Villa Lario was left to the N.A.A.C.P., after the death of her daughter, A'Leila Walker, who had a life interest in it. There was, however, the provision that the Association must be doing good work, satisfactory to the trustees of the Walker Company.

On the death of A'Leila, it was found that the company had never been able to set aside a maintenance fund named in Madam Walker's will and that expenses amounting to $65,000, including a $15,000 mortgage, had accrued against the villa.

Virginia Ravens to Play at New Billiken Hall on Monday Night

Opening with a crowd of more than four hundred on Halloween night, followed by another full house on November 7, the new Billiken Hall at 12th and Center, started with a bang far beyond the expectations of its owners. The public does appreciate the new Billiken Hall.

On November 10, the management offers the Virginia Ravens of Davenport with popular dance music and entertainment.

Everybody is talking about the Billiken Hall because it offers everything imaginable for the dance public. They further realize that the hall is owned and operated by Negroes and that money spent there aids Negro business all along the line.

Clubs, lodges and individuals are urged to take advantage of this hall. Information and engagements may be had by calling Russell Jackson, manager, at 4-7532 or 3-5628.

The fifteenth annual offensive against hunger begins in Des Moines Friday night as 1,300 workers in the annual campaign of the Des Moines Community Chest open the drive for $370,800.

Game Cancelled After Tragedy

Birmingham, Ala., Nov. 12.—What, turmoil and another suggestion of "white supremacy" brought death to Professor L. R. Boaz of Chattanooga, Tenn., instructor in tailoring and assistant coach of football at Alabama A. & M. College and placed Head-coach B. C. Green on the Supreme Court hospital in a serious condition as a mob of white hoodlums gauged them here Saturday following an auto accident.

Driver Causes Accident

Messrs. Boaz and Green had arrived in Birmingham just ten minutes prior to the trouble to attend the Morris Brown-Alabama State game. While driving through a section of Birmingham known as "Five Points," a white truck driver backed into the car being driven by Green, badly damaging it.

The two parties involved in the accident, parked on the side of the street and were discussing the possibility of a settlement, when a second car in which five white men were riding drove up and inquired what was up. Upon finding that the Negroes were trying to effect a settlement from the white truck driver, one of the whites in the second car exclaimed, "this is a white man's country, you can't talk to a white man like that," then suddenly another of the five whites struck Boaz a crushing blow beside the jaw which sent him reeling to the ground.

Southern Justice Makes Another Demonstration

Memphis, Nov. 12.—(AP)—"Southern Justice" flaunted her true colors here on Wednesday morning when a white man shot and killed a Negro who dared to threaten him, and was freed without even the semblance of a trial.

Jesse Cummings, the man who was killed, the story runs, was employed at the Union commissary. On Wednesday morning he engaged in a fight with another employee of color at the plant, and J. R. Johnson, a white employe, intervened. Cummings, still runs the story, resented this intervention on the part of Johnson and "threatened" to kill him and Johnson pulled his gun and shot Cummings to death.

A. R., who is also a gold star father.

The pastor, Rev. Wm. E. Guy, delivered an impressive discourse upon the subject, "The Militant Call to Peace," and the supplicated choir under the direction of Mrs. Johanna Kelsa, rendered "America."

Third Senator Who Ignored Voters Runs Far Behind

Congratulations pour in on N. A. A. C. P. For Leading New Jersey Fight

New York, November 6.—The third of the United States senators who voted to seat Judge John J. Parker of North Carolina on the Supreme Court Bench, David Baird, Jr., of New Jersey, has followed his predecessors, Henry J. Allen of Kansas, and Roscoe McCulloch of Ohio, into defeat, Negro voters providing a large part of the ammunition for the victory. Baird was defeated as candidate for Governor of New Jersey by one of the largest majorities ever recorded in New Jersey and in all Negro districts ran far behind his party.

Congratulations by telegram and telephone are pouring in on the National Office of the N. A. A. C. P., which sent every member of the National Office staff into New Jersey to address the mass meetings arranged by the New Jersey State Conference of Branches.

URGED TO USE NEGROES AS REPRESENTATIVE PERSON HOOD

Washington, Nov. 12.—Feeling that in many instances Negroes are not in touch in an "organizational-way" with the agencies which have to do with relief, John W. Davis, member of the President's Organization on Unemployment Relief, has written each state representative urging that Negroes be represented in connection with relief plans which are to be promoted in the states next week.

Negroes are now serving in the Iowa State and Pals' Saunty Unemployment Committee.

Regrets were expressed for the absence of Des Moines' two Negro "Gold Star Mothers," Mrs. Hattie Campbell and Mrs. Polly N. Nuckles, the former who is in company with a group of other Negro Gold Star Mothers visited the grave of her son Eugene Campbell in Flanders Field last May.

Dean of Women at Fisk Killed in Auto Spill

Chattanooga, Tenn., Nov. 13.—Miss Juliette Derricotte, dean of women at Fisk University, and Miss Nina Mae Johnson, a senior at that institution, both lost their lives as the result of an automobile accident which occurred on the highway near Dalton, Ga., Friday afternoon at about 4 o'clock.

The party was en route to Athens, Ga., from Nashville, via Atlanta, when another Ford car, driven by an unknown white man and coming from the road, the car plunged forward into the ditch and turned completely over. The driver of the offending car did not stop.

Skull Fractured

Miss Derricotte suffered a compound fracture of the skull and died at the Wheeler hospital here Saturday afternoon. Miss Johnson suffered a fractured skull, which was followed with a concussion of the brain from delay in treatment. Wins Suit Over Theatre Seats

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 13.—Dr. and Mrs. Donovan Givens, 1422 St. Aubin Ave., were awarded damages against the B. F. Keith corporation, operators of the R-K-O theater, by Judge John Rubiner in common pleas court Monday. The action against the theater was the outcome of the refusal of the ushers to permit the doctor and his wife to occupy seats on the main floor.

The plaintiffs declared that when they entered the theater on the evening of March 31 they were met by the chief usher and informed that they would have to accept seats in the balcony because Negro people were not seated on the main floor. The ushers further claimed that the theater told them that "we have 2,000 Colored patrons and they all sit upstairs."

The ushers testified that the plaintiffs were not directed to the balcony but were, on the contrary, directed to seats away from the center aisle, which, it is claimed, had no more available seats. The defendants testified that this practice is uniformly followed whenever the center aisle has been filled up so that the extreme end aisles will be filled.

When they had been denied the privilege of occupying seats on the main floor, the Givens asked to talk with some one higher in authority than the usher. An argument followed with the manager, who came and the officers were called, but could do nothing as no disturbance had been created.

Break with President

They point out that individually a majority of the members of the board of trustees express dissatisfaction with Dr. Johnson. A majority of them are said to have personally broken with him. They say that he has failed himself to be no educator. But collectively they support him and vote to carry out his proposals.

By carrying the fight against Dr. Johnson to congress they believe they will be able to bring sufficient influence to bear to force the board of trustees to request his resignation.

DETROIT, MICH. NEWS
Nov. 6.—In an open letter, Charles C. Diggs, prominent undertaker here and a defeated candidate for the common council, branded United States Congressman Oscar De Priest of Chicago, as a traitor for his untimely speech here Saturday at the Light Guard armory before a crowd of 5,000 persons.
The Chicago congressman, hissed and booed because he sought to dissuade in a local political affair, was urged in the letter to stay home and attend to his own affairs.
Diggs' letter reads:
Detroit, Mich., Nov. 2, 1931.
Congressman Oscar De Priest, Chicago, Ill.:
Dear Congressman De Priest: Your action in hiring yourself out last week to come to Detroit, Mich., and speak for one Mr. Emmons, candidate for mayor, whom you know does not represent the best interest of your group in our city and whom you know is the choice of less than 5 per cent of the citizens here, proves conclusively that members of your group and your congressional district in Chicago and other parts of the country, who say that Chicago needs an honest, younger and more qualified man of our race as congressman from Illinois, are right. You came here under camouflage of dealing with the unemployment question and as representing the national Republican committee.
Answering No. 1, you express no program for unemployment relief, only outlining what you thought the man would do for us who paid you to come here. We, as citizens of Detroit, are our own best judges.
Answering No. 2, the national Republican party has no interest in a non-Protestant election in Detroit, not even our local and state Republican officials are taking any interest in Mr. Emmons, only to vote for his opponent, Mr. Murphy, who led Mr. Emmons in the primaries by 86,000 votes. Senator Roxborough, our own representative of Lansing, is for Murphy. It appears that our congressman from Illinois is taking a large responsibility upon himself to come to Detroit to protect the Republican party without the cooperation and best wishes of the Republican officers of our state from governor down. I would say in conclusion that your speeches about national affairs are quite entertaining, but our interest in local political affairs in Detroit and your interests can be better served in the future by your remaining in Chicago, where I understand you have an acute unemployment problem that should claim your attention.

Senator Roxborough, our own representative of Lansing, is for Murphy. It appears that our congressman from Illinois is taking a large responsibility upon himself to come to Detroit to protect the Republican party without the cooperation and best wishes of the Republican officers of our state from governor down. I would say in conclusion that your speeches about national affairs are quite entertaining, but our interest in local political affairs in Detroit and your interests can be better served in the future by your remaining in Chicago, where I understand you have an acute unemployment problem that should claim your attention.

DETROIT, MICH. NEWS
Nov. 6.—In an open letter, Charles C. Diggs, prominent undertaker here and a defeated candidate for the common council, branded United States Congressman Oscar De Priest of Chicago, as a traitor for his untimely speech here Saturday at the Light Guard armory before a crowd of 5,000 persons.
The Chicago congressman, hissed and booed because he sought to dissuade in a local political affair, was urged in the letter to stay home and attend to his own affairs.
Diggs' letter reads:
Detroit, Mich., Nov. 2, 1931.
Congressman Oscar De Priest, Chicago, Ill.:
Dear Congressman De Priest: Your action in hiring yourself out last week to come to Detroit, Mich., and speak for one Mr. Emmons, candidate for mayor, whom you know does not represent the best interest of your group in our city and whom you know is the choice of less than 5 per cent of the citizens here, proves conclusively that members of your group and your congressional district in Chicago and other parts of the country, who say that Chicago needs an honest, younger and more qualified man of our race as congressman from Illinois, are right. You came here under camouflage of dealing with the unemployment question and as representing the national Republican committee.
Answering No. 1, you express no program for unemployment relief, only outlining what you thought the man would do for us who paid you to come here. We, as citizens of Detroit, are our own best judges.
Answering No. 2, the national Republican party has no interest in a non-Protestant election in Detroit, not even our local and state Republican officials are taking any interest in Mr. Emmons, only to vote for his opponent, Mr. Murphy, who led Mr. Emmons in the primaries by 86,000 votes. Senator Roxborough, our own representative of Lansing, is for Murphy. It appears that our congressman from Illinois is taking a large responsibility upon himself to come to Detroit to protect the Republican party without the cooperation and best wishes of the Republican officers of our state from governor down. I would say in conclusion that your speeches about national affairs are quite entertaining, but our interest in local political affairs in Detroit and your interests can be better served in the future by your remaining in Chicago, where I understand you have an acute unemployment problem that should claim your attention.

How can she be so stupid?
It is dumb stupidity for any woman to have bad breath. It offends others—ruins you socially. The worst of it is you, yourself, never know when you have it. But you can be sure that you won't have it by gargling with Listerine. It instantly ends halitosis—improves mouth hygiene, and checks infection. Lambert Pharmaceutical Company, St. Louis, Mo., U. S.
