"About Town" Leaders Meet In National Capital With DePriest Alleged 'Confession' Made To Authorities

NEW FLASHES HERE AND THERE HE SAYS—

"Among the law violations by election officials were failure to number the ballots in ink; failure to roll and seal the ballots; breakage of seals on ballot boxes; voting of absentees as much as 10 years out of the state; voting by persons who did not pay their poll taxes until long after the legally specified time.

And they might have added, the time worn practice of including the Negro population in determining the number of their congressmen, when, generally speaking, the Negro is not allowed to vote in Alabama.

Gaining their stimulus from Russia's denunciation of the church, ten anti-church crusade, and are scheduled million atheists have organized an ed to hold world conference in Washington in 1933, in connection with unveiling a monument to Robert Ingersoll. All of these people can't be fooled, and for that reason, when the grim reaper beckons, a lot of them will be clutching at any kind of straw to scramble back to the fold of our favour.

If Sidney Lentz and Ely Gilbertson, contract bridge experts, are as antagonistic toward one another as the paper would have it, it suggest state militia of New York be called upon to maintain law and order while the bridge battle of the ages is in progress. Gilbertson has chosen his wife as partner, and if they should loose, the United States Army would be able to cope with the situation.

Kenneth Sonderleiter plead guilty to bootlegging, rather than have his aristocratic customers exposed—a very Quixotic gesture. That Hecker fellow "dry informer" doesn't seem to be as elated as one would think, over his victory in bringing Sonderleiter to the bar of justice.

REPUBLICAN NATIONAL COMMITTEE HIT BACK AT DEMOCRATS

Washington, Nov. 30, (ANP)—After sitting back in a Sphinx-like fashion for months, the National Republican Committee struck back at the Democratic party this week in an adroit manner by replying to the propaganda being spread among Negroes by the party of Jefferson, that the Negro is losing ground as to recognition by the G. O. P.

The reply to the criticism, which has gained momentum during the past three years, took the form of a statement setting forth the increase in Negro employees by the government under Republican administration and the recognition given them in carrying on the work of the government through various commissions appointed by the President, Herbert Hoover.

According to this statement, there are at the present time, 54,184 Negroes in the employ of the Federal government drawing salaries totalling $29,900,877 per annum.

Ask Federal Government For General Grant to Negro Colleges

New York, Dec. 4.—General grants by the federal government in aid of education would be inadequate to redress the inequalities in opportunity under which Negroes now suffer, according to a minority report of the President's National Advisory Committee on Education, the minority report being signed by John W. Davis, Ferdinand W. Johnson and Robert R. Moton.

The report, summarized by the N. A. A. C. P. points out that segregated schools prevail in 18 states where Negroes are numerous; that in many of these states Negroes are voteless and therefore unable to safeguard their school appropriations at the polls; that they are receiving an abnormally low proportion of state and federal education support; and that in Chicago, Dec. 4.—With his reputation as a lawyer, churchman and politician at stake, "Judge" William H. Harrison, former member of the Illinois pardon and parole board, went on trial Monday, Nov. 30, before a jury in Judge G. Fred Rush's criminal court on a charge of conspiracy in connection with the alleged acceptance of money to help a prisoner obtain parole from Joliet penitentiary.

Although evidence of a most damaging nature has been entered against him, the defendant appeared undisturbed Wednesday as his lawyer began laying the groundwork for his defense. The alleged confession Harrison is said to have made to George Williams of the state attorney's office, but which the defendant claims was obtained under duress and threats of death, was admitted into evidence by Judge Rush.

The defense asserts that after Harrison was arrested he was taken to Lawrence station, where he was questioned. His life was put in jeopardy, it was said, and choosing the lesser of two evils, he made the confession rather than submit to police brutality. In ruling on the admissibility of the confession, Judge Rush said the statements were not made under duress or threat.

Attorney Wendell E. Green, counsel for the defense, said his client is the victim of a well-planned frame-up and that he expects to be able to prove it before the conclusion of the trial.

A man and a Negro held up and robbed a colored woman and her husband who were in an automobile and after the robbery carried off the colored woman, whom the white man then attacked.

The Negro who is alleged to have accompanied the white man, was shot and killed by police officers who said they found the white man, Hodges, in an automobile with the colored woman.

The verdict in the case was returned after 25 minutes deliberation by the jury. A robbery charge against Hodges is still pending, according to the report to the N. A. A. C. P.

Watches in Havana Set

When Old Gun Is Fired
Among the world's odd timepieces is that by which Havana sets its clocks and watches. Never has it lost a minute, run down or chimed the wrong hour. Nor has its face necessitated the periodic washing that all clocks seem to need.

In fact it really isn't a clock at all, but a battery of 21 old Spanish guns, mounted on the parapet of Havana's fortress overlooking Havana harbor, one of which is fired nightly at nine o'clock, a custom that has prevailed for nearly four centuries.

Though Havana may bustle with activity throughout the day, hearing a thousand noises and sounds, it listens intently at nine o'clock for the rattle of one of the guns. The electric timepiece in the old fortress is controlled by the adjacent Observatorio Nacional. Each night a few seconds before nine o'clock a huge cannon, the approach of the hour, the guns are rained and then fired on the dot.

Years ago, before Cuba won its independence, the Spanish fired the gun twice daily—at 12 o'clock noon and at nine, when the gates of the old city of Havana were closed for the night. However, after Cuba became its own master, it was felt needless—and a trifle expensive—to fire the gun at noon, when the city's natural noises drowned the boom of the gun. So the noon shot was discontinued, effecting a saving of seven dollars a day at the time.

Beds in Closets Once

Matter of Necessity
This hygienic-minded age which is so ready at the European notion that fresh air at night is usually may be chagrined to realize that the open beds on which we sleep nowadays are a natural evolution of the beds with doors which can still be found in peasant quarters in Europe, says the New York Sun.

The last vestige of the old notion of sleeping in a closet was the four-poster bed which, to antique collectors, is a very desirable object. It was from sheer necessity that people used to sleep in closets. With central heating it was the only way to keep warm at night, but as houses were better built the closet doors changed to heavy curtains. The next development was the removal of the back and sides and substituting four posts with a canopy from which curtains hung.

Monks in Old Home

The old abbey of Saint Wandrille near Rouen, is inhabited again by the Benedictine monks, who used to live in it before the days of the expulsion of religious orders from France. The homecoming of the holy men must have frightened away a good many profane spirits, as the abbey belonged for several years to the Belgian writer, Maurice Maeterlinck, who with his former wife, the actress Georgette Leblanc, gave there great artistic parties, including productions of famous plays. The old cloisters contributed a beautiful scenery, and "Maeterlinck found there an unrivaled setting. Then Maurice Maeterlinck took to other pleasures and other affairs, and the abbey of Saint Wandrille was deserted. Now the monks sanctify it anew.—Exchange.

Beauty Now a Science

The invention of a device to measure beauty is claimed by Jose V. Soriano, student in the University of the Philippines. The machine consists of a circle divided into more than 20 parts and angles in which the beauty of the face one can be mathematically determined for purposes of comparison. The girl is viewed from different angles and her score is the sum total of the grades taken from the various angles. The highest grade that can be made is 2,000 points and the lowest 450 points.

Yellowstone in 1867

"An exploring party, which has been to the headwaters of the Yellowstone river, has just returned and reports seeing one of the greatest wonders of the world," said an article in the Montana Post on September 14, 1867. "For eight days they traveled through a volcanic country, emitting blue flame and living streams of molten brimstone. The hollow ground resounded beneath their feet as they traveled, and every movement seemed to break through. Not a living thing was seen in the vicinity. The explorers gave it the significant appellation of Hell."

Close Acquaintance

Mrs. S. had gone down to her precinct voting place to vote. She noticed another woman also waiting. "I've always voted a straight ticket," Mrs. S. remarked to the woman. "But this year I don't think I will, because I don't think much of Mr. S. of that party." "Do you know much about him?" "Well, rather," replied the woman. "You see, I'm married to him!"

Electric Accident Prevented

It used to be said of skyscrapers that they reared themselves at the cost of one human life per floor. Serious promotion of accident prevention has reduced these casualties until it is comparatively rare for high buildings to take life-takers weekly.

Simple Facts of Dog Feeding Told

If the feeding of your dog presents itself as a weighty problem, take heart! According to the Chappell Kennel Foundation, Rockford, Illinois, here is all that you need to know about his feeding: 1. Feed one heavy meal a day, preferably in the evening. Feed the light meal in the morning. Puppies require three to five meals a day, depending on their ages. Feed at the same hours each day. 2. Meat is the dog's natural diet. If you feed your dog a prepared, well-balanced meat food, with dog biscuits for variety's sake, he will need nothing else. 3. Don't feed table scraps, potatoes, boiled eggs, pork, and don't serve soupy foods. Refuse all chicken and fish bones. Pigs are nothing for dogs until taught to like them. 4. Provide plenty of water. 5. Never allow violent exercise directly after feeding. If a dog does not take readily to biscuits, which are essential to keep his gums hard and teeth clean, it is suggested that kibbled or broken biscuits be gradually incorporated into his regular ration until he gets used to eating them.

WHITE ALABAMA CLERGYMAN JOINS N. A. A. C. P. REPUUDIATES PREJUDICE

New York, Dec. 4.—Albert E. Barrett, native of Alabama, professor of literature and history of the Bible at Scarritt College, Nashville, Tenn., has sent his check for $2.50 covering membership in the N. A. A. C. P. and subscription to the Crisis.

The N. A. A. C. P. organization of the defense, including the retention of Fort, Eedow and Ray in Alabama, the state's leading criminal law firm; of Clarence Darrow, and the offer of Arthur Garfield Hays to give his services are outlined.

The article closes with a warning to America that "there is but one effective and intelligent way in which to counteract Communist efforts" among Negroes and that is "a drastic revision of the almost chronic American indifference to the Negro's plight."

"Give him jobs, decent living conditions, and homes," writes Mr. White. "Assure him of justice in the WASHINGTON, Nov. 26.—Postmaster General Walter F. Brown will become chairman of the Republican National Committee after the Republican National Convention in June, according to political leaders who have been conferring on the political situation.

Mr. Brown is said to be acceptable to the President, who, however, is unwilling to have him assume the chairmanship until next June. His selection was urged upon President Hoover recently by Senator James E. Watson, of Indiana, when Chairman Simeon D. Fass offered to resign when the Republican National Committee meets here next month to choose the convention city.

The attitude of the colored electorate was recently felt out when Col. Theodore Roosevelt, governor of Porto Rico, asked the views of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People regarding Mr. Brown's position on racial matters.

The response of the association is said to have been favorable. After polling its keymen, it was unable to learn anything that would cause it to oppose his selection.
