HURTS THE SOLDIERS' CAUSE

Representative Wright Patman of Texas, spoke in Des Moines a few weeks ago advocating payment in full of the soldiers' adjusted service certificates. He came under the auspices of the Veterans of Foreign Wars—a very splendid organization. The Texan made a good argument for the proposition and it was generally conceded that his reasoning was not refutable.

Since returning to Washington he has filed impeachment proceedings against Secretary Mellon charging that contrary to law he is carrying on trade and commerce while acting as Secretary of the Treasury.

Much of Mr. Patman's argument consisted of a criticism of Mr. Mellon; now incidentally he feels that if Secretary Mellon can be ousted, his fight is won.

This procedure is erroneous. Really it injures the cause of the bonus forces for Mr. Patman to get into a fight on a side issue which is bound to alienate some of Mr. Mellon's friends who otherwise favor the payment. The Veterans of Foreign Wars mean well in their campaign, but they have selected a poor man to carry the banner.

UNFORTUNATE

Persons not acquainted with the facts flinched at the thoughts of the withdrawal of the attorneys for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People from the Scottsboro, Ala., cases. They realize that these boys have been sacrificed at the cost of a squabble between the N.A.A.C.P. and the International Labor Defense movement.

Unfortunately Negroes find themselves at odds in groups. Whites do the same thing. When Negroes disagree they are divided; they persist in fighting among themselves. When whites fight among themselves it is for a principle. But in many cases whether scraps among blacks or whites, they are done for a principle.

This is true in this Scottsboro case even though there are whites and blacks on both sides. It is pretty well agreed that the I. L. D. organization is trying to catch the Negro with their fight in this case. They won't. Their methods will not work for they antagonize and embarrass the many people who are in a position to help. The N. A. C. P. has built up a reputation during its years of service that could easily be torn down in this one fight. It is unfortunate for the boys but the principle must prevail.

BANKS STILL CLOSE

Some time ago Iowa banks, along with those other states, were notified that they were permitted to borrow from the voluntary 500 million credit corporation sponsored by President Hoover. The concern was destined to be of great help in giving banks whose assets were

HEALTH TALKS

By Dr. H. H. London

SIZE

Excessive development to the point of gigantism or insufficient development resulting in diminutive forms called dwarfs is infrequent and found only occasionally although reliable authorities state that whole of the latter are to be found in China, Africa and Asia. Notable among Giants were Charlemagne who was seven feet tall, Gaborus, an Arabian who was nine feet high, and the Emperor Andronicus who was ten feet tall. These Giants have been strong in comparison, possessed of normal mental ability and of normal life span differing in this respect from the Giants of today who does not as a rule possess perfect health.

Legend and history give to the Dwarfs an astounding mental keenness and a physical alertness which makes them superior to normal human beings an instance of which is their ability to kill an elephant single-handed even when attacked by this huge form of animal life. There is obviously no physical ailment or derangement responsible for this Dwarfism in tribes it being merely a racial characteristic which keeps them all below four-foot-ten. The Gothic Giants were uniformly big men and possessed of strength in proportion to their size as their conquests at times showed to say nothing of the awe and fear incited by such size.

Rapid and excessive growth today especially in the young out of all proportion to the size of the ancestors is cause for alarm as almost all cases are due to some derangement in the glandular system. This is also true of Dwarfism. Those who are overgrowing at an early age need examinations to determine if the growth is normal and those who fail to attain normal size need help and frequently brilliant results are seen when these are taken care of in time.

frozen and which were hard pressed for cash. Several banks made application for loans; later many withdrew their applications when the Iowa representatives announced that these banks were in such better shape that they did not need the money.

This week seven sets of supplies from the banking department went through the mails to closed state banks in one day. If this credit corporation means anything it ought to be able to save these banks. If the banks are no good, examinations should have shown that before. Like depression, these things are not explained.

White prestige is shattered and the period of undisputed domination of the white race has come to an end.

These were the conclusions of Paul Hutchinson of Chicago, editor of the Christian Century, who addressed the Iowa Convocation of Ministers at the First Methodist church Monday afternoon.

The meeting is the first ever to be held in the state where pastors of all denominations came together to discuss religious problems. The white race shattered its prestige in the World War when it exhibited its slaughtering prowess to Asia and Africa, he declared.

If that did not complete the shattering then the spread of movies from this country throughout the world has finished the job, he said. He condemned the modern movies as picturing American life as lived almost on an animal basis.

Discusses Race Issue. He discussed the racial issue as one of the problems of the times which should concern the clergy.

We are going to have to deal with the rising tide of color, the Rev. Mr. Hutchinson said. "But we don't yet realize this problem in this country."

The problem is in this country, however, he pointed out, since the young Negroes, who are educated are turning away from the Christian church and have an attitude of bitter cynicism against religion.

Charges Inconsistency. He decried the movement which sends missionaries to Africa to convert the Negro and yet refuses brotherhood to the Negro in this country.

STEWART REELECTED TO BOARD OF SUPERVISORS

John Stewart, veteran member of the Board of Supervisors, was elected chairman for the year 1932. This is the fifth time he has been chairman of the board. Mr. Stewart represents Lee township, better known as the East side, and has a host of friends who take pride in his activities in behalf of his constituents and his long service as a member of the board.

S. Joe Brown, attorney, Monday night was elected chairman of the Des Moines Interracial commission, which is now entering its eighth year in the city.

The commission heard Prof. Lawrence C. Jones, Negro, graduate of the University of Iowa, who is the founder and principal of Piney Woods school at Piney Woods, Miss.

The commission plans to bring to Des Moines as speaker George W. Carver, Negro, who was graduated from Iowa State College at Ames in the early '90's and since then has operated a laboratory at Tuskegee institute.

Resolutions were passed honoring the death of the late Julius Rosenwald, Chicago, whose philanthropies included gifts for Negro schools and Negro Y. M. C. A. buildings.

The Rev. Mr. Lane.

Other new officers are the Rev. Stoddard Lane, vice chairman; George W. Webber, secretary and treasurer, and the following members of the executive committee: Caspar Schenk, the Rev. George W. Robinson, the Rev. Clifton E. Rash, J. B. Morris, Mrs. M. W. McCoy and Mrs. Lillian Edmunds.

REV. GUY REELECTED HEAD OF MINISTERS FOR THIRD TERM

At the meeting of the Des Moines Ministerial Alliance held Tuesday, January 5, the present officers were unanimously re-elected as follows: President, Rev. W. E. Guy, pastor St. Paul's A. M. E. Church; vice president, Rev. A. Ross Brent, pastor Maple St. Baptist Church; S. E. Gilbert, "Y" executive secretary, elected secretary-treasurer. Rev. Guy has served three consecutive terms as president.

Chicago, Jan. 15.—Colored men and women in all parts of the country are requested to take part in observance of National Rosenwald Memorial Day Services on February 7, 1932. Working with the leadership of the Y. M. C. A.'s throughout the country, all organizations and individuals are expected to unite their efforts in paying tribute to Julius Rosenwald, who did so much towards uplifting of the under-privileged people of this country.

Through the leadership of the Wabash Avenue Y. M. C. A., in Mr. Rosenwald's home town, a committee representing the local Medical Society, the hospital, the clinic, health education projects, the medical schools, the college and university projects, the churches, and the citizens generally, passed a resolution designating February 7 as National Rosenwald Memorial Day. H. R. Crawford, Executive Secretary of the Wabash Avenue Department of the Y. M. C. A., will supply multigraphed biographical information that might be needed in conducting a Memorial Day program.

RADIO TELEGRAPH NOW GOES INLAND

Fourteen Cities in Nucleus of Network, With Plans for Twenty-nine as Wave Lengths Are Granted.

Plans for the immediate establishment of a radio-telegraph system serving all the interior of the United States through fourteen strategic cities just have been announced by General James G. Harbord, president of the Radio Corporation of America. The service will be managed and operated by the Corporation's subsidiary, R. C. A. Communications, Inc.

The stations will be at New York, Chicago, San Francisco, Los Angeles, Seattle, Denver, New Orleans, Kansas City, Detroit, Cincinnati, Cleveland, St. Louis, Boston and Washington, General Harbord's announcement reveals.

The establishment of the new service, which will give the inland cities direct communication with the world wide wireless networks radiating from New York and San Francisco to foreign countries, was made possible by the recent grant of ten exclusive channels and five shared channels from the Federal Radio Commission.

The above map shows the twenty-nine cities which the Radio Corporation of America hopes to include in an inland radio telegraph network soon. Work already is under way to give radio telegraph service to fourteen of the cities, on wave lengths already granted. These stations will be at New Orleans, Kansas City, Detroit, Cleveland, Chicago, Los Angeles, Seattle, Denver, St. Louis, Cincinnati, New York, San Francisco, Boston and Washington.

Other cities whose commercial importance and strategic location justified a place in the new radio network, General Harbord said, were Philadelphia, Miami, Fla., Savannah, Minneapolis, Memphis, Pittsburgh, Houston, Norfolk, Buffalo, Portland, Me., Rochester, Schenectady, Portland, Ore., Milwaukee, and many others which it is able means of communication with each other. "But its greatest significance, as the United States turns more and more to foreign markets, is that it brings Europe, South America and the Orient closer to America through radio's new and efficient avenues of communication." Supplementing General Harbord's announcement, W. A. Winterbottom vice-president in charge of communications, revealed that the construction program for the fourteen cities was already under way. Three million dollars has been set aside for the initial expenditure.

work for uplifting Negroes throughout the entire country. Mr. C. H. Tobias, Senior Secretary for the National Council for Colored Work, is requesting that all agencies and organizations join in the services on this day.

Favor Getting a Puppy to Buying a Mature Dog

Hints on Care and Training Given by Kennel Foundation.

Dog or puppy? The choice of one or the other must be made by everyone who contemplates adding a canine pet to his household, states the Kennel Foundation, Rockford, Illinois. While some prefer a perfectly-trained grown dog, most people are inclined to agree with Albert Payson Terhune that a puppy is more desirable. For one thing, a puppy does not cost as much as a grown dog, and its future is entirely in your own hands.

Eating is the biggest thing in a puppy's life, and what and how he eats will either make or break him, according to the Foundation. "Little and often" is probably the best rule of successful puppy rearing. Feed four or five times a day from weaning time till four months of age and no more than four times a day at six months. Increase the ration as you decrease the number of feedings, but never serve more than just a trifle over what the puppy will eat up quickly. When the average puppy is at the end of twelve months ready to enter full doghood, he should be getting no more than two meals a day, and preferably one. If the puppy does not finish the meal provided for him, what remains must be removed in a few minutes and nothing else should be given until the next feeding hour.

By nature the dog is a meat-eating animal, but under today's domesticated conditions, fresh raw meat from the butcher's is much too concentrated a diet. Research workers who have given thought to this problem in recent years have been able to develop scientifically-balanced canned meat foods which have taken all the guess out of dog and puppy feeding. They contain all the elements necessary for proper growth and development. Both puppies and dogs especially relish those made from horse meat. A part of every puppy's ration should be some dry food which has been softened with milk or water. This may be only a teaspoonful at six weeks, but should be increased with the size and condition of the animal. As the puppy grows older and its teeth stronger, dog biscuits in kibble or whole form may be substituted. The biscuits afford the exercise demanded by the puppy's jaw and serve to keep his teeth clean.

Teach your puppy to eat at a regular place and time. Having regular feeding times will be a big aid in housebreaking him. Make it a practice to take him out for a walk shortly after feeding.

Five Can Ride As Cheap As One

Los Angeles, Calif., Jan. 15.—Slowly the fog of mystery which has enveloped the circumstances surrounding the tragic death of Lieut. William J. French is clearing away, and it is becoming increasingly evident that the officer was a victim of foul play instead of a suicide as was broadcast to the world last week following the discovery of his body Jan. 2 on a lonely road about 50 miles from Gilroy.

The officer had been shot through the head and his automobile had crashed into a tree off the roadside. Investigation of the case now centers around Mrs. Gertrude McEnroe, middle-aged divorcee, about whom the police have learned but little. It was Mrs. McEnroe who, according to her own testimony before a coroner's jury, accompanied Lieut. French on his last ride. She declared the officer assaulted her with a hammer, shot himself and then deliberately steered his car into the tree. Her version of the death and facts pertaining thereto apparently were accepted, as a verdict of suicide was returned and she was released.

Soldiers Not Satisfied
Brother officers of Lieut. French, dissatisfied with Mrs. McEnroe's statements started a private investigation. Later Major General Malin Craig, commandant of the Ninth corps area, appointed a board of inquiry composed of two majors and a lieutenant and ordered it to San Jose to demand District Attorney Fred L. Thomas of Santa Clara county to reopen the inquiry and fill some of the omissions and explain some of the discrepancies in the story as related by Mrs. McEnroe.

N.A.A.C.P. GOT FREE SPEECH FOR NEGRO, DECLARES J. E. SPINGARN AT ANNUAL MEET

New York, Jan. 15.—In its 23 years of existence, the N. A. A. C. P., has opened the doors of public discussion to problems of race, declared J. E. Spingarn, President, addressing the annual mass meeting last Sunday in St. Mark's M. E. church.

"Twenty-three years ago when the Association was founded," declared Mr. Spingarn, "the problem of race discrimination was at the nadir of discussion. Virtually no one dared to ask anything for the Negro beyond training to make him a good worker. If the N.A.A.C.P. has done nothing else it has given the Negro free speech. No one now fears to get up and ask anything for the Negro. If you think we have done nothing remember that 23 years ago few men could get up and demand full rights for colored people and be heard."

Rev. A. Clayton Powell, pastor of Abyssinian Baptist church, presented the attitude of Jesus toward world problems, declaring that attitude was opposed to the selfish use of wealth and to race discrimination. Walter White, the Association's Secretary, reported on the work done in 1931, and presented a life membership medal to John H. Howard, of New York.

Watches in Havana Set When Old Gun Is Fired

Among the world's old timepieces is that by which Havana sets its clock and watches. Never has it lost a minute, run down or chimed the wrong hour. Nor has its face necessitated the periodic washing that all clocks seem to need.

In fact it really isn't a clock at all, but a battery of 21 old Spanish guns, mounted on the parapet of Cejano's fortress overlooking Havana harbor, one of which is fired nightly at nine o'clock, a custom that has prevailed for nearly four centuries.

Though Havana may bustle with activity throughout the day, hearing a thousand noises and sounds, it listens intently at nine o'clock for the rattle of one of the guns. The electric time piece in the old fortress is controlled by the adjacent Observatorio Nacional. Each night a few seconds before nine o'clock a bugle sounds the approach of the hour, the gun is rammed and then fired on the dot.

Years ago, before Cuba won its independence, the Spanish fired the gun twice daily—at 12 o'clock noon and at nine, when the gates of the old city of Havana were closed for the night. However, after Cuba became its own master, it was felt needless—and a trifle expensive—to fire the gun at noon, when the city's natural noises drowned the boom of the gun. So the noon shot was discontinued, effecting a saving of seven dollars a day at the time.

Matter of Necessity

This hygienically minded age which scoffs so readily at the European notion that fresh air at night is unhealthy may be chagrined to realize that the open beds on which we sleep nowadays are a natural evolution of the beds with doors which can still be found in peasant quarters in Europe, says the New York Sun.

The last vestige of the old notion of sleeping in a closet was the four-poster bed which, to antique collectors, is a very desirable object. It was from sheer necessity that people used to sleep in closets. With a central heating it was the only way to keep warm at night, but as houses were better built the closet doors changed to heavy curtains. The next development was leaving off the back and sides and substituting four posts with a canopy from which curtains hung.

Monks in Old Home

The old abbey of Saint-Wandrille, near Rouen, is inhabited again by the Benedictine monks, who used to live in it before the days of the expulsion of religious orders from France. The homecoming of the holy men must have frightened away a good many profane spirits, as the abbey belonged for several years to the Belgian writer, Maurice Maeterlinck, who, with his former wife, the actress Georgette Leblanc, gave there great artistic plays. The old cloisters contributed a beautiful scenery, and "Machbeth" found there an untroubled setting. Then Maurice Maeterlinck took to other pleasures and other climes, and the abbey of Saint-Wandrille was deserted. Now the monks sanctify it anew.—Exchange.

Minimum of Waste in Sardine-Canning Plant

In a Down East sardine canning factory the only thing that is wasted is the sardine. That may not be a dead loss, for there are persons who as yet think like the snail of a sardine factory. The scales are sold to the manufacturers of artificial pearls. The fish men in demand in Germany and in this country. The waste oil is collected and utilized in the production of paints and varnishes. Even the tin cuttings from the cans are baled and shipped to England for reprocessing into new sheets of the metal.

Down East sardines are sent to 95 different countries. In Java, when representatives sought a new market, the natives would have nothing to do with the "little fishes boiled in oil." Two hundred free cases were offered by the prospective customers would place a 1,000 case order. At last the deal was made. The sardines were heaped high on trucks, together with boxes and crates, and taken from bazaar to bazaar, and sold. Thus introduced, there was no further difficulty in adding Java to the list of sardine consumers.—New York Times.

Hard to Grasp Facts of the Stellar System

At first the brain reels a little in the attempt to grasp the facts of the stellar system, even explained with the lucidity and exactness of which Sir James Jeans is a master. From the vast extensions of the sky he carries us into the inmost recesses of the atom, where the electron whirls around its perpetual circuit several thousand million times every second. These numbers, says the London Spectator, are but dazle painting, and it is simpler to say that the electron travels as far in a second as our latest airplane travels in an hour. Sir James Jeans has a happy fertility in such comparisons, and forcibly strikes the imagination when he tells us that if the carbon atom were magnified to the size of Waterloo station, its electrons would be represented by six wasps flying round in the vast vacuity. All the rest is emptiness; and so in the celestial spaces it is immense odds against any given spot being occupied. "We live in a gossamer universe," pattern, plan and design are there in abundance, but solid substance is rare."

One of Life's Tragedies

They sat gazing into each other's eyes. At last he slipped from the sofa and, kneeling at her feet, gave utterance to the sweeping thoughts that were swelling up his mind. "Darling," he said, "sometimes I think how lucky I was to be born in the same century as you, to have met you. It seems as if Fate had intended us for each other since the beginning of time, and that at last the great design has been completed in our love. It has been Fate, my dearest, Fate."

Paper Barometer

Fleury's Twentieth Century Book of Recipes publishes the following method of making a paper barometer: Saturate white blotting paper with the following liquid and then hang up to dry: Cobalt chloride, 1 ounce; sodium chloride, 1/2 ounce; calcium chloride, 1/2 ounce; anacardic acid, 1/2 ounce; water, 3 ounces. The amount of moisture in the air is roughly indicated by the changing color of the paper, rose red indicating rain; pale red, very moist; bluish red, moist; lavender blue, nearly dry; blue, very dry.

Unfortunate Early Savant

Henry, Marquis of Villena, a Castilian savant in the reign of John II, studied astronomy so diligently that he lost all run of his worldly affairs and caused a wit of his day to comment sarcastically: "He knew much of heaven and nothing of earth." His blind neglect of his financial concerns cost him all his possessions and reduced him to extreme poverty in his last years. He was suspected of necromancy, and at his death in 1534 the king's ecclesiastical agent threw more than a hundred of his precious books into the flames.—Detroit News.

What a Penny Can Do

I heard a wise man say: "Give crown and guinea, but not your heart away." Young men, however, are apt to be careless of their hearts, mindful of their pounds and guineas, but rarely, very rarely, mindful of their pennies. A penny, they know, will tell them their weight, will purchase exactly one stick of chewing gum. Some may even know that a penny will light a 40-watt bulb for three and a half hours. But pennies are generally a nuisance. You get them when you buy a newspaper. You can never tip with them.

The Last Scrivener

"I am the last public scrivener in Paris." A serious little man was speaking to a representative of the Paris Solr. "Things have changed," he continued, "and when the buildings about here were being pulled down to move. There are not so many letters to write now, for ever the little man has learned to pencil their own love missives. I still have, however, a few clients."

Foil Fiends by Training Dog to Eat From Own Dish

With reports of dog-baiters at work in many localities, the Chappel Kennel Foundation, Rockford, Illinois, is stressing upon dog-owners the necessity of training their animals not to eat food at any other place than at their regularly appointed eating dish. There are still some animals having two legs, walking upright, classed technically as human beings, who purposely put out poisoned meat for dogs, cats and the like, the Foundation points out. All instances of this kind should be reported immediately to the proper authorities. Unfortunately, the laws do not provide severe enough penitentiary sentences for these wretches. In the meantime, the wise course to follow and one that will save possible grief and heartache, is to train your dog to refuse food offered by strangers and to teach him to avoid eating at any time and place.

There is no better way of teaching your dog not to accept food from strangers than to feed him a good, wholesome, well-balanced meat ration regularly at an appointed time each day, at the same place, and in the same utensil. A well-fed dog is more disposed to attend to his own affairs. Today, soon after he has eaten his regular meal, take your dog outside. Place some tempting morsel in front of him. Very likely he will lurch forward to seize it. Command, "No," fiercely. This may not stop him. Slap him lightly on the shoulders or hind-quarters, (never on the head, muzzle or loins,) and again command, "No." Next, let a stranger offer the tempting morsel. Repeat the punishment. Then walk with him through an alley and let him run loose. Keep near him, and the instant he moves to take a piece of refuse or garbage, command "No" and move toward him. It will not be long before the dog will understand what you are driving at, and your worries in this respect will be over for good.

Monarch's Neat Rebuke to Overzealous Priest

King Leopold of Belgium—merry old soul—had a caustic wit. On one occasion when he was at his chalet at Ostend, the parish priest approached him and asked for a private word with him. When the two were alone, the priest began to read Leopold II a long sermon: "Sire, I am profoundly grieved," he said, "there is a rumor, I am sorry to say, that your majesty's private life is not marked by the austerity suited to the lofty and difficult task which God has laid upon the monarchs of this earth. Remember, sire, that it behooves kings to set an example to their subjects."

Unprofitable Smartness

A farmer's son who had been some time at the university came home to visit his parents. Two fowls were placed on the table for supper, and the young student said he could prove that there were really three fowls. "This," said he, "is one, and this is two, and two and one make three." "Since you have made it out so well," said his father, "your mother shall have the first, I'll have the second, and ye may eat the third yourself."

Paper Money

The use of paper money began about 600 years ago in Italy, when the goldsmiths and silversmiths deposited bullion under supervision and the receipts circulated as currency. All the original states issued paper money in Colonial days. The first federal paper money was issued in 1775, under authority of an act of the Continental congress.

Remark That Silenced Silly Women at Opera

Who says that American men are lacking in cultural interests and confine their conversation to the three prosaics—business, sports and profligation? During intermission at a Philadelphia orchestra concert the other night this reporter, seeking enlightenment, joined a group of veteran music-lovers. He heard this: "So I turned to those two chattering women behind me and said, 'Ladies, you are barbarians.' And they didn't talk again that night while the program was on." "Well, you made out better than I did once at the Metropolitan. I guess I was too polite. I said: 'Pardon me, ladies, but the music has begun.' They talked more and faster than ever." "Aw, you don't know how. I certainly squelched two girls sitting beside me at a certain opera one night. I said: 'Excuse me, girls, but Wagner didn't write any parts in this opera for female voices in the gallery.'" "Gee, you know how to do it, all right."—Philadelphia Record.

A Well-Fed Dog is More Disposed to Attend to His Own Affairs.

The day in which the dog was looked upon more or less as a garbage can has definitely passed. Nevertheless, states the Foundation, a number of incidents reported recently indicate that there are still on the market dog foods which will not only sicken the animal but menace the health of the children of the household. As safeguard and protection to both dog and owner, therefore, the Foundation urges that no canned dog food be used that does not have the wording: "U. S. Inspected and Passed by the Department of Agriculture" on the label.

King Leopold of Belgium—merry old soul—had a caustic wit. On one occasion when he was at his chalet at Ostend, the parish priest approached him and asked for a private word with him. When the two were alone, the priest began to read Leopold II a long sermon: "Sire, I am profoundly grieved," he said, "there is a rumor, I am sorry to say, that your majesty's private life is not marked by the austerity suited to the lofty and difficult task which God has laid upon the monarchs of this earth. Remember, sire, that it behooves kings to set an example to their subjects."

For 20 minutes the king listened patiently to the utterances of the good man, until the priest desisted from want of breath, relates Evelyn Graham (in his authorized biography of King Albert, nephew of Leopold). "What a funny thing, Monsieur le Curé," said the king, fixing him with a cold look and smiling slightly. "Do you know, people have told me exactly the same thing about you! I only I refused to believe it."—Kansas City Times.

Sophisticated Boyhood

It may be the age in which we are living that is responsible. You can't tell. But in the light of observation the sophistication of the nine-year-old becomes an actuality.

Witness the following: A window display of a tire house. Toy automobiles scooting around at an amazing speed. Crowd composed almost entirely of adults peering with obvious amusement. Two urchins approach from the background. One of them elbows his way to the front. The other is not so successful. "What is it?" yells the one from the back. "Aw, just a tire advertisement," says the other with disgust.

Diseases of Goldfish

Fungus diseases often attack the goldfish, sometimes so severely that there is nothing to do but make a fresh start. One remedy for the disease is a salt bath, using a heaping teaspoonful of salt to two quarts of water. The patient should be left for about a week in this solution, which is renewed daily. If no noticeable improvement is shown in four days, increase strength of solution to about double, leaving the fish in this for two days. Then reduce the solution to its original proportions, after which the fish may be returned to the aquarium.

Road Map

The Bible at Mary Anne's house, did not have pictures or maps. One day the family was visiting some friends. When Mary Anne picked up her Bible and found a map of Palestine in it she took it to her father, exclaiming: "Look, daddy, there's a road map in my Bible."

Beauty Now a Science

The invention of a device to measure beauty is claimed by Jose Y. Soriano, student in the University of the Philippines. The machine consists of a circle divided into more than 20 parts and angles in which the beauty of the fair one can be mathematically determined for purposes of comparison. The girl is viewed from different angles and her score is the sum total of the grades taken from the various angles. The highest grade that can be made is 2,000 points and the lowest 450 points.

Yellowstone in 1867

"An exploring party, which has been to the headwaters of the Yellowstone river, has just returned and reports seeing one of the greatest wonders of the world," said an article in the Montana Post on September 14, 1867. "For eight days they traveled through a volcanic country, emitting blue flame and living streams of molten brimstone. The hollow ground resounded beneath their feet as they traveled, and every movement seemed to break through. Not a living thing was seen in the vicinity. The explorers gave it the significant appellation of Hell."

10TH CAVALRY TO RECEIVE COMBAT TRAINING

New York, Jan. 15.—The War Department, capitulating to nation-wide resentment against the turning of famous old Negro regiments of the regular Army into service detachments, has issued an order that the 10th Cavalry is to be maintained on a combat basis, receiving regular combat training. This information, received by the N.A.A.C.P., was made public at the Association's annual mass meeting on Sunday, by the Secretary, Walter White, who paid warm tribute to the

Dog Holding Most Appeal for You Is One to Choose

What is the best breed of dogs? This is the question most frequently asked of the Chappel Kennel Foundation, Rockford, Illinois. Invariably the answer is this: That breed of dog is best which appeals to you the most. By all means, try and get a purebred animal, because the chances are that you will get added pleasure out of owning it.

In selecting a home dog, people usually look for a companion, a playmate for the little folks or a guard. Below are listed some of the general characteristics and temperaments of some of the more popular breeds of dogs as worked out by the Foundation for the guidance of those seeking impartial advice.
