NEWS FLASHES HERE AND THERE WE SAYS

If the exservice men secure the remainder of their compensation, it would be a fine thing to appoint a committee to see that the bonus money is spent for necessities and not extravagances.

The suspension of four very prominent Drake University athletes for drinking, coming so soon after the monster dry crusade staged at Shrine Temple, is a distinct feather in the cap of the wets, who are tired of resentative college students are not drinking.

The policy of giving married men preference in securing jobs is a good one, however I can't help wondering if the increasing numbers of single men who have joined the ranks of "kept men" and "gigolos" isn't in part due to the fact that most employers seem to embrace the fallacy that single men do not need food, clothing and shelter.

Trust a woman to stick her nose into everything. The funniest recent is that of a woman in a local hotel whose nose was caught in one of those in-a-door beds, which accidentally folded up silently and without warning during the night, squeezing her nose painfully. Of course she's suing the hotel.

I'd say crazy or nuts was that robber who seeking a promising victim with a fat pocketbook to snatch, picked on a poor, unpaid waitress and a hospital nurse. The combined wages of all their kind would not be sufficient for one to risk going to the penitentiary for.

H. S. M., in his column "Over the Coffee" Wednesday, says that the South is beginning to forgive and incidentally respect Abraham Lincoln. Yes, and I might add that the North has already forgiven the confederate General Robert E. Lee, as his picture has been hung in the Congressional Hall of Fame at Washington, in spite of the fact that he was a traitor to the United States Government.

WHITE FRATERNITY VOTES TO UPHOLD COLOR BARRIER

Madison, Wis., Feb. 18. — Because 13 or more negative votes will defeat any amendment to the constitution of Delta Sigma Rho, national honorary speech fraternity, Negroes will be barred from membership in the future, just as they have for the past 25 years.

Last May the University of Wisconsin chapter tried to initiate G. James Fleming, but found that it was not permitted by the national body. This started a fight on the campus which was taken to the national convention in June when the amendment was introduced.

Only half of the negative votes came from Chapters in the South, declared Prof. Henry L. Ewbank, president of the national organization, when he made the announcement.

The Daily Cardinal, university newspaper, has declared editorially that the next move is for the Wisconsin Chapter to withdraw from the national; and reports have it that Yale University and the University of Illinois are willing to withdraw also and form a new honorary society which will not raise bars of race, creed or color.

Noted Poet To Be Presented At YWCA

Langston Hughes, young Negro poet, novelist and lecturer, will present an evening of poetry and its relation to the background and life of the Negro in a lecture-reading of his own poems at the Y. W. C. A. on Friday, March 4.

Mr. Hughes was born in Joplin, Missouri, on February 1, 1902. He

LANGSTON HUGHES has lived in various parts of the United States and Mexico, and has worked as a seaman, visiting Holland,

France, Italy, Spain, and the West Coast of Africa. Since his graduation from Lincoln University he has devoted his time to writing. He has recently returned from a trip through Cuba and Haiti. His great ambition is to visit all the Negro countries of the world studying the lives and customs of darker people everywhere.

Mr. Hughes is the author of two books of poems, The Weary Blues, Fine Clothes to the Jew, and a recent novel, Not Without Laughter, selected by the American Library Association as one of the forty outstanding books of the year. This young poet's work has been translated into French, German, Russian and Spanish. Of his poetry Julia Peterkin says, "Stark, fierce, tragic bits of life fall into simple words." The Boston Transcript: "Full of racial rhythm and melody."

He has appeared in lecture-readings of his poems before various groups at Oberlin, Fisk, Princeton, Tuskegee, and other student centers, before literary clubs in New York, Cleveland, Buffalo, and many large cities, and under the auspices of the Urban League, Y. M. and Y. W. C. A.'s throughout the East. This is the first tour through the Middle West. The Des Moines appearance is being sponsored by the Committee on Colored Work of the Y. W. C. A.

N A A C P Hold Lincoln-Douglas Celebration

Des Moines Branch of the N. A. A. C. P. sponsored a Lincoln-Douglas celebration Friday night, the one hundred twenty-third anniversary of the birth of Abraham Lincoln, at the Corinthian Baptist Church.

In addition to eulogizing the leaders of the fight against Negro slavery, the celebration recognized the scholastic ability of Des Moines high school graduates.

Miss Catherine Williams, who was graduated from North High School in the midyear, was awarded $25 in gold by A. A. Alexander, who semi-annually gives a similar award to the Negro high school graduate with highest grades. Miss Williams had an average of 2.5 for her high school work. The perfect average would be 1.

J. B. Morris, attorney, spoke on the life of Frederick Douglass, who was born in slavery but who rose to a high place in the government.

George H. Woodson, who stood guard over the body of Mr. Douglass in 1896, was introduced to the meeting. A moving picture, "The Heart of Lincoln", was shown.

N. C. MINISTER EMPLOYS 500 WORKMEN

Asheville, N. C., Feb. 18. — Imagine the genuine joy and happiness that came into the families of five hundred workmen last week when one of Asheville's leading ministers put them at work on building a new church.

The Rev. J. A. Kigh felt that in these times of the most distressing depression every effort should be made to alleviate the suffering of the families of the poor. During one of his addresses to his congregation he declared: "Man's duty to God and to his country is to lend every possible aid to his less fortunate brother."

Former D.M. Girl Dies In California

Word has been received by the press that Miss Geraldine Glass, of Los Angeles, California, formerly of this city, until 1920, died Wednesday morning after three days' illness of double pneumonia. She was well known to the Des Moines young people and was a popular member of Corinthian Baptist Church and its various activities; she was a former North High student.

Details concerning her death will be in next week's issue.

WHITE CHALLENGES TELEPHONE OFFICIAL WHO TELLS 'DARKEY' STORY AT MEET

New York, Feb. 19. — A "darkey" story told by Malcolm C. Rorty, vice-president of the American Telephone and Telegraph Co., at a Christian student conference in Duck Hill Falls, Pa., last week end, brought a response quite different than that gentleman expected from his audience.

Walter White, secretary of N. A. A. C. P., who was attending the conference as a leader of group discussion, advanced up the aisle and pointedly remarked that he had not expected to find discourtesy and racial slurs from a speaker at such a conference. Mr. White made it clear to the platform speaker and to all those present that certain words were resented and could not be used with impunity in the presence of colored Americans.

10 APPEALS FOR LEGAL AID COME TO N. A. A. C. P. IN ONE DAY

New York, Feb. 19. — No less than ten appeals for legal assistance came to the N. A. A. C. P. in a single day, February 8, of this week, bringing a conservative estimate that no less than 2,000 such appeals come to the national office during the year.

GABRIEL OF 'PASTURES' PASSES ON

Indianapolis, Feb. 15. — Samuel Davis, "Gabriel" of "The Green Pastures", will not get to blow that trumpet he has threatened to sound for several years while playing alongside de Lawd in that famous play. Davis died in a local hospital here Monday a victim of heart trouble.

Davis was the second man to have the part of Gabriel in the show. Wesley Hill, who was understudy for Davis, was run down and killed by a taxicab a week after Davis was engaged.

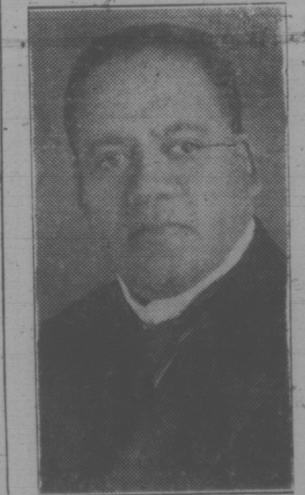

NINE BY TWELVE FOOT EMBROIDERED MAP OF U. S. AT LIBRARY

An embroidered map of the United States measuring 9 feet by 12 feet is on display in the auditorium of the Des Moines public library. The work has been done by Frederick H. Rowe, 1443 Des Moines Street, a former baseball pitcher. There are 36 different colors and shades used in outlining the various states, oceans, lakes and state symbols.

Each state has a different emblem, either its state flower or something for which the state is noted as: Iowa, the ear of corn; Kansas, the sunflower; Missouri, the mule; Nebraska, the gold-rod; Nevada, the Boulder dam; New York, the Empire State Building, etc. The map, which will be on display at the World's Fair in Chicago, will be at the library for the next week.

Rev. Guy To Deliver Series Of 4 Lectures

The Rev. William E. Guy, pastor of St. Philip's A. M. E. Church, is announcing a series of four sermons on "What the Des Moines Negro Wants."

The subjects to be treated include Race Relations, Industrial Opportunity or the Lack of It, Social Participation and Municipal Politics. The preacher announces that he will ask some questions with reference to the operation of the Civil Service Commission with its present personnel. "Why do the Negroes, no matter how intelligent or competent, never pass the Civil Service examination in Des Moines?" "If one happens to pass, why no appointment of Negroes?" "During these months of depression, has race prejudice operated against Negroes?" "Have Negro employees been victimized?" "Can Negro youth be reasonably expected to make good under an educational system that excludes Negro teachers on account of race?" "Has the Negro been given a square deal by the present city administration?"

The subjects suggested by the foregoing questions will be among those covered by Dr. Guy in the course of the series of sermons. "What the Des Moines Negro Wants, As to Race Relations" will be the subject of the first sermon on the evening of Sunday, February 28th, at 7:45 o'clock. The Senior Choir under the direction of Mrs. Joburns Kelso will feature the singing of spirituals.

Porters Protest Sly Wage Cut

PULLMAN COMPANY IN 'SLY METHOD' CLIPS PORTERS' WAGES

Chicago, Ill., Feb. 18. — Reports coming to Chicago headquarters of the Brotherhood of Sleeping Car Porters reveal that the rank and file of the Pullman porters were astounded when they read newspaper accounts of a $5 cut in their monthly wage. They were no less astounded when they learned that there had been secret conferences at which these matters had been discussed without their knowledge and consent.

Tips Almost Vanish Because a very substantial part of the porter's income is derived from gratuities, or tips, and due to the depression the tip has decreased drastically, and with the $5 cut the porters will stand a cut of around 33 1/2 per cent, the brotherhood wishes to inform the public of the true conditions of the porters. Up to the present date the Pullman porters have received no official announcement from the company of the pay cut, but in the financial columns of some of the leading newspapers there was a small article announcing the cut.

To Celebrate Washington Day

Des Moines Negroes will celebrate the two hundredth anniversary of George Washington's birth, Sunday, February 21st, at 3:30 P. M. at the Corinthian Baptist Church, 9th and School Streets, under the joint auspices of the Crocker Street Branch, Y. M. C. A.; the Lincoln Post of the American Legion; the Lincoln Post Auxiliary and Troop 59 of the Boy Scouts of America.

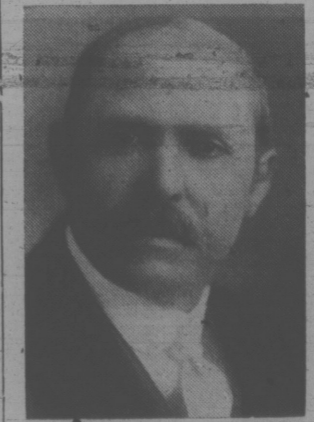

Hon. Harvey Ingham, editor in chief of the Register and Tribune, will deliver the principal address and H. E. Wilson, Robt. T. Dacus, Spencer Elliston and Mrs. Lillian Edmunds the four Negro members of the City-wide Washington Bicentennial Committee, will speak.

The Women's Glee Club of the Des Moines Chamber of Commerce, the Norden Singers, and two Negro quartets, the Burn's Juniors, and the Capital City and Mr. D. B. Brown, violinist will render musical numbers.

Atty. S. Joe Brown, Commander of Lincoln Post, will preside.

California Man Here For Meeting

Dr. E. R. Driver, pastor of Saints Home Church, of the Church of God in Christ, Los Angeles, California, is in the city to conduct his first quarterly district meeting. Dr. Driver is overseer for the State of Iowa, and will preach his introductory sermon, Monday evening, February 22, at the Church of God in Christ No. 2, 850 Tenth Street. The general public is invited to hear Dr. Driver, who is a brilliant speaker and an Oxford University man.

Grand Exalted Ruler Again Cancels Engagement

Successful Protest On Discriminatory Can Labels

CONCERN ORDERS STOCK REMOVED

New York, Feb. 18. — The organized buying power of Negro grocers struck a telling blow against economic discrimination last week when the National C. M. A. Stores, Inc., through its president, A. L. Holsey, secured an apology from Francis H. Leggett & Company, 27th street and North River, wholesale grocers, for selling canned tomatoes bearing the legend, "Packed by White Labor Only."

The tomatoes were discovered in the Peoples Model Grocery, a C. M. A. store, 2066 Seventh avenue, and immediately the matter was taken up with Kenneth Murphy, colored salesman for the store, who sold the goods. Mr. Murphy immediately got in touch with Arthur Ehrenfeld, buyer for Leggett, and asked what must be done. He was instructed that the offending goods would be picked up at once by a Leggett truck, and a new brand substituted for the same price.

While the tomatoes were being picked up by the Leggett truck, Mr. Ehrenfeld wrote a sharp letter to the canners in West Virginia, asking what they meant by sending out merchandise with such a label, saying their goods had caused them the greatest embarrassment with one of their best customers, and they wanted an explanation. Mr. Murphy promised that as soon as the reply was received from the West Virginia canners it would be made public. He apologized to the grocers for his company, and so did Mr. Ehrenfeld.

Professor Tells of Negroes in George Washington Era

Washington, D. C., Feb. 19. — In an address on "Negro Leaders in the Washington Era," last Wednesday at Howard University, Dr. Charles H. Wesley, head of the department of history at Howard University, recalled Negro contemporaries of George Washington who should be remembered in celebration of the 200th anniversary of the first President's birth.

Dr. Wesley's address in part follows: In celebrating the 200th anniversary of the birth of Washington, it is not natural that much will be said of his associates in national affairs. It is of interest, therefore, to call attention to some of his Negro contemporaries who, as leaders of their group made a definite contribution to American progress during the Washington era. There were Negro leaders in various fields of their group life, the first of which was that of organized religion. In Savannah, Ga., George Leile and Andrew Bryan began the organization of the first Negro Baptist Church in 1773.

Absalom Jones, who had been a slave, in Delaware, together with Richard Allen, attended St. George Methodist Episcopal Church in Philadelphia, where one morning in 1787 they were interrupted in prayer and asked to withdraw to the seats in the rear of the gallery that had been set aside for Negroes. Absalom Jones said to the usher: "If you will leave us alone, we will go out and bother you no more. Wait until prayer is over."

Overruling a motion to dissolve the injunction restraining W. J. Shepherd, J. G. Browne, Bennie Branch, Wm. Rhomes, Archie McGuire, Simon Wilson and Harry Crewse from interfering with Noble F. Gray, George H. Edmunds and W. J. Newcomb and all other officers and members similarly situated as officers of Hawkeye Lodge No. 160, I. B. P. O. E. W., for which the latter secured the temporary injunction, Judge Don Allen of the Municipal Court upheld the original writ injunction, Tuesday of this week. Further he restrained Shepherd and his associates from proceeding further in an action of replevin brought to recover the records until a proper determination of the legal officers of the lodge may be had.

The ruling Tuesday followed a lengthy hearing in Municipal Court on the motion to dissolve the injunction. The decision further restrained Shepherd and his associates from interfering with the property and records of Gray, Edmunds and Newcomb.

J. Finley Wilson, grand exalted ruler of the Elks, was scheduled to be in Des Moines, February 14. Extensive plans had been made to hold a mass meeting at St. Paul's church, a smoker at Brooks Cafe and a dance on Monday night. Wilson disappointed Messrs. Shepherd, Browne and the group which had invited him here. He failed to appear and has given no reason for breaking the engagement.

The fight is apparently at a standstill with both sides waiting time to bring developments.

Attorney James B. Morris and Clarence I. Spencer represented Gray, Edmunds and Newcomb, while Attorney Charles P. Howard represented Shepherd.

'SCOTTSBORO' BY CLARENCE DARROW, FEATURE OF MARCH 'CRISIS'

New York, Feb. 19. — A statement on the Scottsboro cases, by the noted criminal lawyer, Clarence Darrow, is the featured article in the March number of the Crisis magazine, just published.

In the article Mr. Darrow tells how and why he and Arthur Garfield Hays withdrew from the defense of the 8 Negro boys condemned to death in Alabama. He tells of his visit to Alabama, and of the efforts made to induce him and Mr. Hays to forsake the N. A. A. C. P. which had retained them as attorneys.

'UNITY' ENDS AT LUNCH ROOM; N. A. A. C. P. PROTESTS

Kansas City, Mo., February 19. — "Unity" ended at the threshold of the Unity Inn in Kansas City, Mo., when a group of students from the University of Kansas sought lunch there, during an academic tour, on January 24. Two Negro women among the twenty students were told they could not lunch in the Unity Inn in company with their fellow-students because it was against the rule to serve Negroes at the Inn.

John L. Love, president of the Kansas City Branch of the N. A. A. C. P., has written to Charles Filmore, of the Unity School of Christianity which owns the Inn, asking whether Unity Christianity ends when eating begins. The N. A. A. C. P. protest, writes Mr. Love, is made "not only on behalf of the self-respect of the parties concerned in the discrimination, but also on behalf of the teachings of the Unity School of Christianity." Mr. Love quotes from doctrines of the school in order to remind the school of its own professions.

NEGROES CONTEMPORARIES OF WASHINGTON

Dr. Carter G. Woodson of the Society for the Study of Negro Life and History, of Washington, D. C., has written a number of articles for the Negro press in which he has attempted to call the attention of the national and local committees charged with arranging appropriate celebrations for the George Washington bi-centennial, that Negroes were engaged in important functions during Washington's time.

Recently in an address on "Negro leaders in the Washington Era", Dr. Charles H. Wesley, head of the department of history at Howard University, recalled Negro contemporaries of George Washington extracts from which are printed in another column of this issue.

To the public generally, but to the Negro particularly, who is often challenged about these facts, the address is well worth reading. Among the many he speaks of Andrew Bryan and George Leile, organizers among the Baptist; Absalom Jones and Richard Allen, organizers of A. M. E. church, James Durham, physician; Phyllis Wheatley, the poetess; Benjamin Bannicker, astronomer; Prince Hall, masonic fraternal organizer.

FEDERAL RECOGNITION IN IOWA

Recently President Hoover has named two fine young men for federal posts in Iowa: Robert Colflesh, United States Attorney, and Gerald Jewett, collector of Internal Revenue. Both had the backing of Senators Dickinson and Brookhart; both are well qualified.

The Bystander desires to call attention of Senators Dickinson and Brookhart and the appointees just mentioned that Iowa Negroes have no representation in the federal set up in Iowa, except that of janitors and cloak room men. These, of course, we appreciate but they certainly do not compensate for the support given the Republican organization in the state by Negro voters; especially they do not give adequate recognition of the whole-hearted support given Senator Dickinson in his primary campaign in 1930.

With the support of the late Senator Cummins, Attorney George H. Woodson was appointed deputy collector of customs by the late President Harding and held the post until his retirement on pension under the administration of Mrs. I. H. Tomlinson last year. However, there are other Negroes qualified to hold some of the federal jobs at the disposal of these

HEALTH TALKS

COUGHS

Coughs occur frequently in all persons at times regardless of age or sex or nationality. Various diseases are accompanied by it and the severity and frequency of the cough has much to do with the determination of the condition which exists.

Generally speaking, a cough in one of mature age is of less significance than a cough in an infant or in a child. There are many exceptions to all statements concerning physical conditions but it seems that a beginning cough in an infant is in need of immediate treatment and curtailment more so than in one of older age.

Pneumonia is serious at any age but somewhat more so in infancy. Older children who cough when infected with the germ of Whooping Cough are not of a necessity affected with a serious condition unless this disease is neglected and allowed to go unchecked when lung tissue is damaged to an extent to affect the heart or to cause the beginning of a Pneumonia.

Grownups take cold and cough for two or three days or a week without any particular damage having been done. Such is usually the result of an inflammation of the bronchial tubes. The inflammation of these tubes is occasioned by various kinds of infecting agents or germs and it is not always easy in the beginning to say which one is causing the condition. At times it is any of the common cold organisms and at other times the germ of Influenza and not infrequently the germ of Tuberculosis is responsible.

WE ARE A MUCH HATED NATION

Japan hates us because of our famous "exclusion act." China hates us because we've intruded upon them. England hates us because of the Boston Tea Party. The Philippines hate us because we won't give them their independence. Haiti hates us because we won't give them their absolute freedom. Russia hates us because we don't recognize their government. Germany hates us because of the World War. Hawaii hates us because of America's conduct toward darker races. Mexico hates us because of border warfare and ruthlessness of our big gentlemen. One of the best methods Senator Dickinson and his followers can use to back up the promises made in his campaign to give Negroes fair consideration, is to give some recognition to the Negro constituents.

SUPREME COURT APPOINTEE

Chief Justice Benjamin N. Cardozo, a Jew, of the New York Supreme Court, has been named by President Hoover to fill the vacancy on the United States Supreme Court, caused by the resignation of Justice Holmes. It seems that his appointment has the endorsement of the leadership of the nation.

Candidates for this office are scrutinized closely by all interests but to date there appears little opposition. But what opposition that has developed is led by William H. Anderson, general secretary of the American Protestant Alliance and a former secretary of the New York Anti-Saloon league.

With all the best minds favoring the appointment, it is unfortunate that this organization, if it really represents anything, should allow itself to be drawn into a fight which anybody knows is ultimately based on Justice Cardozo's race.

THE DES MOINES WATER WORKS

The growth and prosperity of any community is judged more, perhaps, through the service afforded by its public utilities, than in any other one way. Des Moines stands the test well. Every loyal citizen should be proud of the splendid way in which the Des Moines Water Works, municipally owned since 1919, has performed its important function of furnishing unexcelled service to the community at all times.

The fact is the home today which does not list the service of the Water Works among its most useful adjuncts, cannot be counted as modern. It would be hard, indeed, for the person who has made daily use of this utility, to conceive of a situation under which he might well get along without it. And yet — of the many who daily turn the faucets and watch the resulting steady flow of pure water, there are few who stop to realize that the consequence is but the visible evidence of a finely rendered public service.

Des Moines is fortunate in its public water supply. Since 1871 it has been obtained from one of the largest and most unique ground supplies in the United States — the water-bearing sand stratum of the flat Racoon River Valley. The water is collected by means of an infiltration gallery system. Thus the water which enters the gallery is free from all turbidity, or suspended matter, with a greater percentage of the bacteria content removed by the natural process of filtration. This system — peculiar to but six cities throughout the country — is unique, because nature here has provided the process for which most cities are required to expend large sums of money in order to duplicate the results.

The Des Moines Water Works, as it stands today, a "going concern," is the outgrowth of a service which was inaugurated more than sixty years ago as a private enterprise. Its history has been one of continuous expansion, and today its service to some 32,000 metered customers, over approximately 350 miles of pipe, equals a total pumpage of more than 5,000,000,000 gallons of water per year.

The wheels of progress have ground out an entirely new age within the history of the Water Works, yet, alert to each changing trend, constantly endeavoring to improve the service, its management has ever kept pace with the times. In consequence, the affairs of the Des Moines Water Works have been handled with the same integrity of purpose as to be found in any other successful industry.

WRIGHT IS CANDIDATE FOR BAILIFF

B. H. Wright, Deputy Clerk of the District Court, is a candidate for Municipal Court Bailiff. He has been in the Clerk's office for nine years, four of which have been spent in charge of the criminal division.

He is married, an overseas veteran, and has been a resident of Des Moines for many years. Mr. Wright gave as his references any judge of the District Court or any Des Moines attorney and promises to give the city a fair and efficient administration. He is asking support on that basis only.

day. Mr. Johnson is co-author with his brother, James Weldon Johnson, of two books of Negro spirituals and a number of other musical compositions.

At a joint meeting of the Trustee and Stewards Board of St. Paul's A. M. E. church held January 31, 1932, a summary of two years work under the administration of Rev. W. E. Guy was made. Out of appreciation of the progress made in these two years, it was the action of the two boards that a committee of three be named to write and publicly express to the public their deep feeling of gratitude. Mr. R. S. Sims, secretary of the Official Board, Miss Susie L. Hart, secretary of the Trustee Board and Mr. O. L. Glass, treasurer of the Trustee Board were named as this committee.

F. H. Cheley

F. H. Cheley has probably had more experience with, and a keener appreciation of boys than any other man in America. For 25 years he has been a professional worker with the National Boy Scouts of America, the National Council of the Y. M. C. A., and the Highlander Boy Foundation. During all of that time he has worked with, written of, and been closely associated with boys varying in ages from eight to eighteen years. He has written many popular books on the subject including "The Boys' Book of Campfires," "Campfire Yarns," "Marked Trails for Boys," "The Job of Being a Dad," "Bettering Boyhood," and others.

Mr. Cheley has written a new newspaper series entitled "The Home and That Boy of Yours." It is unusual, it is interesting, and the series will appear in these columns.

The Home and That Boy of Yours

BY F. H. CHELEY

MISTAKES FATHERS MAKE

"THE trouble with my Dad," one of the boys told me, "is that he is always saying what he thinks, without thinking what he says. He's one of these hot-headed chaps, good, fine as gold when he isn't blustering, who is always so cock sure, that he ought to be awarded a gold medal for jumping at conclusions. According to him, he just couldn't be wrong and what I think or say on any subject is as he says 'just pure bunk'." He looks at me and ridicules my logic and says all the time, "Well, where did you get that kid idea, so I've just learned to keep my mouth shut and let him do the talking, when he's around and I do mine when he isn't present."

"He thinks I'm glum and grumpy and unappreciative and a lot of other things — and perhaps I am, but whose fault is it? There are ever so many things I'd like to discuss with him. I do respect his judgment. He is a good provider for me, all that, but he knows too much for me."

Think of the tragedy of it! Here is a sensitive boy who cannot bear to be ridiculed (not many of us can), who day by day is withdrawing within himself, afraid to express his thoughts; he lited into believing they are not any too sound, anyhow; initiative inhibited, natural exuberant enthusiasm squelched; personality dwarfed and frustrated, all because a thoughtless father will not

FIGHT PLAN TO SEND NEGROES SOUTH—GOVT WOULD SUPPLY TRAINS

New York, Feb. 11.—A warning of opposition by the Negroes of the nation to a plan to return Negroes from northern cities to southern farms has been sent to President Hoover and to leaders in the Senate and House of Representatives by the N. A. A. C. P. The project, outlined in a special Washington dispatch to the New York Herald-Tribune by Mark Sullivan, is called a plan for the "deportation of Negroes" into peonage, in the N. A. A. C. P. letter. The plan is called economically unsound because even the Negroes and whites now on southern farms cannot earn a decent living; discriminatory and heedless of the lynching, mob violence and jim crowism from which southern Negroes have escaped north.

The plan suggested as an alternative to the LaFollette relief bill, which the N. A. A. C. P. is supporting, would provide federal funds for trains to take "indigent" Negroes from New York, Detroit and Chicago back to the South from which they were lured through the ill balanced prosperity of a few years ago.

The Harlem Globe Trotters of New York City, the fastest road team ever to appear in the middle-west will play the Jewish Community Center, City Champions, at the Central "Y" Gym Friday evening, February 19. This brilliant aggregation has been playing throughout this section of the country for the past several years, but this marks the first time that a worthy foe could be found for them in Des Moines. During this time every team of any consequence has been met by the Globe Trotters and has succored inevitable defeat. They have played seventy-seven games this season winning all but three; their percentage column reads like a Notre Dame football record. The team includes three young athletes who made basketball history at Wendell Phillips high school in Chicago.

S. L. BIRT CLUB OBSERVES 14TH ANNIVERSARY

Commemorating their 14th anniversary, the S. L. Birt club held a banquet and program in the dining hall of St. Paul's A. M. E. church, Friday evening, February 12. Hundreds of the members of the club were their guests. Mr. Roberts Sims was an outside guest. After dinner speeches were given by club guests and the response by Mrs. Essie Davis. Mrs. A. Perry was mistress of ceremonies and presided over the following program: Rev. W. E. Guy, pastor, was main speaker; Mrs. Ethel Williams gave a history of the club; Mrs. Izora Mackay talked on the late Rev. S. L. Birt as a Master Builder; duet by Misses Velma Oliver and Doraelva Mackay; reading, Miss Wenonah Patton; vocal solo, Mrs. Sophia Nichols.

The Merry Widows' Industrial Club will meet Sunday, February 21, at the home of Mrs. Nelle Parker, 1329 Center. The following short program will be rendered: Trio, Miss Zella Cassell and Leland and Olando Johnson. Reading by Mrs. Jean Thomas; Solo by Mrs. M. Douglas and an address by Mrs. Lillian Edmunds.

At the regular meeting of the Book Lovers on Friday, February 19, Mrs. Virginia Martin gave an interesting review of "The Good Earth" by Pearl S. Buck. The story is written of China, but is equally true of life wherever it is lived. On February 25, Mrs. Bessie Hughes will review "Dancing Gods, Indian Ceremonies of New Mexico and Arizona" by Erna Fergusson.

Mrs. Drew Williams, 1334 McCormick street, a member of the Boosters' Art Club, is seriously ill with the flu at her residence.

"The Bachelor Benedicts," newly organized young married men's club, gave a buffet supper recently to which their wives were invited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Luther Clark, 1322 Day street. Club members and their wives present were Mr. and Mrs. P. J. McClamman, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Carr, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Burke, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Shepherd, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Proctor, Mr. Lloyd Shelton and Mr. and Mrs. Luther Clark.

Word has been received in the city of the death of Mrs. Isadore Blagburn Seller, February 13, at Washington, D. C., who was the daughter of J. F. Blagburn, former Des Moines resident, who is now in the Recorder of Deeds office at Washington.

Regular social night of Lincoln Auxiliary was held Tuesday evening, February 16, at the Community Service, 907 15th street. Mrs. F. White, Americanization chairman, had charge of the program.

Papers on "Washington" and "Douglass" were read by Mesdames Ida M. Smith and Helena Elliston, respectively. Mrs. S. Joe Brown gave some very pertinent commentaries on the life of Lincoln. Lincoln Post members were guests at the luncheon which followed. On Sunday afternoon February 21, a patriotic program will be held at Corinthian Baptist church. Mesdames Essie Davis, Sophia Nichols, Bess Hughes, Helen Hudson and Ida Smith will attend the president-secretary conference at Hotel Savery, Monday, February 22. A business meeting will be held March 1.

BURNS M. E. CHURCH NEWS

The Church Council held their monthly meeting at Corinthian Church Sunday evening, February 7. The session will be dinner guests on March 4, of the Clubs of St. Paul's A. M. E. church. Mrs. S. Joe Brown will be toast. The auxiliaries report $500.00 in their goal, which closes March 13. Rev. A. Ross Brent spoke at the three o'clock meeting, and his choir rendered the music. Burns quartette sang at Prairie City Sunday morning. Rev. J. L. Overton and congregation worshipped with Rev. James Brett Kenna, pastor of the First M. E. Church, 10th and Pleasant Streets, last Sunday. Burns quartette sang at this service. The Steward Board served dinner Thursday evening, February 18, at 5:30.

Mrs. Tug W. Wilson, 811 14th St., is convalescing slowly at her residence, from an attack of flu.

The Booster Club met Sunday afternoon at the Community House with Mr. H. E. Wilson presiding. A Washington dinner, will be held, Feb. 22. S. E. Gilberj, secretary of Y. M. C. A., will be the speaker. Corinthian Troupes St. Paul in Hard Fought Game, 15-9 By Q. R. M.

The Corinthian Baptist Cagers upset the St. Paul team for the second successive time this season in the feature game of last Friday evening's basketball fare at West High School. Especial mention need be made of the fact that this game was far cleaner and therefore more interesting for the spectators. Elbert Webb was high point man for the victors, dropping in three baskets, with Smith coming through with five points; Webb's play at guard was outstanding. For the vanquished; Brown, Woods, and Allen did the best work offensively, with Ashby and Wilson featuring on defense.

Union Baptist in defeating the Trojans 15 to 7, took over first place in the senior division. Rowland of Union featured with seven markers. The Weasels and Scorpions waged a torrid battle only to end the game in a tie 11-11. The extra period necessary to decide the winner will be played this coming week. The Fellowship club nosed out the Roadside Juniors 12-10 in a grand battle; Bill Lightner was the big ace for the winners, making 10 of their points. Fulton and Bailey were also outstanding performers for the victors. Sharp, Lee and Walker did the best work for Roadside. The Panthers won their game from Bethel by forfeit.

BOYS' DEPARTMENT OF Y. M. C. A. PLANS MANY ACTIVITIES

The boys' department of the Crocker Y. M. C. A. has launched a membership drive and is trying to secure at least two hundred members by the middle of March. We are doing all in our power to help and encourage the boys to pay their membership.

The boys' department is putting on a series of three programs to help the boys pay their memberships. One was given Thursday, December 17, at Corinthian Baptist Church in which we helped between thirty and forty boys pay part or all of their membership. The next program will be given at Bethel A. M. E. Church, Thursday, February 25. Parents and friends are asked to help put these programs over by buying tickets. Everyone buying tickets and attending these programs will more than get their money's worth, tickets 20c.

After the middle of March members of clubs and boys having paid their membership fee of $1.00 will be given all preference on first consideration in all activities in building and elsewhere. The committee has a representative from the east, west and south sides and as nearly as possible every church. The boys' department has six clubs throughout every section of the city except the south side and we are still organizing clubs.

The names of the boys work committee and the program will be printed in the next week's issue of the By-stander. The boys ages in this department range from nine to and including 17 years. The membership fee is one dollar a year.

Greetings from the Moderator

Dear Brethren and Sisters: This is my first message to you since our last annual meeting. We are about to pull through one of the most trying winters known to this generation. Everyone has suffered some sacrifice for humanity during the last few months. More people have been thrown out of work and more homes have been made destitute than ever before. All of that tells us that God is still on his throne. We are still his subjects, and not until we learn to obey our King's command may we expect not to suffer.

To a great extent we have neglected our duties to this church. His servants and His Son, Jesus Christ. Therefore the world must suffer.

The various Boards of the State will meet at Maple Street Baptist church, Des Moines, Rev. A. Ross Brent, Pastor, Tuesday, Wednesday, March 15 and 16. This should be a far-reaching meeting. Our State Mission field is suffering, our National work is in a deplorable condition and our home for worn-out preachers is to be saved. If every church, Mission Circle, Sunday School and B. Y. P. U. doesn't send something for the work we are doomed.

Oh! My co-workers let us do something beside talk. We are depending on you.

The following subjects will be discussed at the Board Meeting: "Woman's Part in World Redemption," Mrs. I. M. Goggs; "The Sunday School and the Modern Church," Mr. H. Dudley; "The Young People's Place in the Present Day Program," Lloyd Shelton. These will be discussed on the opening day.

Yours truly,

GEORGE W. ROBINSON.

NEGROES CONTEMPORARIES OF WASHINGTON

Dr. Carter G. Woodson of the Society for the Study of Negro Life and History, of Washington, D. C., has written a number of articles for the Negro press in which he has attempted to call the attention of the national and local committees charged with arranging appropriate celebrations for the George Washington bi-centennial, that Negroes were engaged in important functions during Washington's time. He has urged further that these celebrations should not only show the Negro mental capacities but also following the higher pursuits of life.

Recently in an address on "Negro leaders in the Washington Era", Dr. Charles H. Wesley, head of the department of history at Howard University, recalled Negro contemporaries of George Washington extracts from which are printed in another column of this issue.

To the public generally, but to the Negro particularly, who is often challenged about these facts, the address is well worth reading. Among the many he speaks of Andrew Bryan and George Leile, organizers among the Baptist; Absalom Jones and Richard Allen, organizers of A. M. E. church, James Durham, physician; Phyllis Wheatley, the poetess; Benjamin Bannicker, astronomer; Prince Hall, masonic fraternal organizer.

This, to be sure, is valuable history and if the local programs have not included some of this information, Negro representatives should see that it is done.

FEDERAL RECOGNITION IN IOWA

Recently President Hoover has named two fine young men for federal posts in Iowa: Robert Colfesh, United States Attorney, and Gerald Jewett, collector of Internal Revenue. Both had the backing of Senators Dickinson and Brookhart; both are well qualified.

The Bystander desires to call attention of Senators Dickinson and Brookhart and the appointees just mentioned that Iowa Negroes have no representation in the federal set up in Iowa, except that of janitors and cloak room men. These, of course, we appreciate but they certainly do not compensate for the support given the Republican organization in the state by Negro voters; especially they do not give adequate recognition of the whole-hearted support given Senator Dickinson in his primary campaign in 1930.

With the support of the late Senator Cummins, Attorney George H. Woodson was appointed deputy collector of customs by the late President Harding and held the post until his retirement on pension under the administration of Mrs. I. H. Tomlinson last year. However, there are other Negroes qualified to hold some of the federal jobs at the disposal of these

By Dr. H. H. London

COUGHS

Coughs occur frequently in all persons at times regardless of age or sex or nationality. Various diseases are accompanied by coughing and the severity and frequency of the cough has much to do with the determination of the condition which exists. Generally speaking, a cough in one of mature age is of less significance than a cough in an infant or in a child. There are many exceptions to all statements concerning physical conditions but it seems that a beginning cough in an infant is in need of immediate treatment and curtailment more so than in one of older age. The seriousness of Pneumonia in infancy is basis for this statement.

Pneumonia is serious at any age but somewhat more so in infancy. Older children who cough when infected with the germ of Whooping Cough are not of a necessity affected with a serious condition unless this disease is neglected and allowed to go unchecked when lung tissue is damaged to an extent to affect the heart or to cause the beginning of a Pneumonia.

Grownups take cold and cough for two or three days or a week without any particular damage having been done. Such is usually the result of an inflammation of the bronchial tubes. The inflammation of these tubes is occasioned by various kinds of infecting agents or germs and it is not always easy in the beginning to say which one is causing the condition. At times it is any of the common cold organisms and at other times the germ of influenza and not infrequently the germ of Tuberculosis is responsible. Knowing this there is wisdom then in catching a cough in the beginning and in bringing to bear all measures for its relief and eradication.

SUPREME COURT APPOINTEE

Chief Justice Benjamin N. Cardozo, a Jew, of the New York Supreme Court, has been named by President Hoover to fill the vacancy on the United States Supreme Court, caused by the resignation of Justice Holmes. It seems that his appointment has the endorsement of the leaders of the nation.

Candidates for this office are scrutinized closely by all interests but to date there appears little opposition. But what opposition that has developed is led by William H. Anderson, general secretary of the American Protestant Alliance and a former secretary of the New York Anti-Saloon league.

With all the best minds favoring the appointment, it is unfortunate that this organization, if it really represents anything, should allow itself to be drawn into a fight which anybody knows is ultimately based on Justice Cardozo's race.

THE DES MOINES WATER WORKS

The growth and prosperity of any community is judged more, perhaps, through the service afforded by its public utilities, than in any other way. Every loyal citizen should be proud of the splendid way in which the Des Moines Water Works, municipally owned since 1919, has performed its important function of furnishing unexcelled service to the community at all times.

The fact is the home today which does not list the service of the Water Works among its most useful adjuncts, cannot be counted as modern. It would be hard, indeed, for the person who has made daily use of this utility, to conceive of a situation under which he might well get along without it. And yet — of the many who daily turn the faucets and watch the resulting steady flow of pure water, there are few who stop to realize that the consequence is but the visible evidence of a finely rendered public service.

Des Moines is fortunate in its public water supply. Since 1871 it has been obtained from one of the largest and most unique ground supplies in the United States — the water-bearing sand stratum of the flat Racoon River Valley. The water is collected by means of an infiltration gallery system. Thus the water which enters the gallery is free from all turbidity, or suspended matter, with a greater percentage of the bacteria content removed by the natural process of filtration. This system — peculiar to but six cities throughout the country — is unique, because nature here has provided the process for which most cities are required to expend large sums of money in order to duplicate the results.

The Des Moines Water Works, as it stands today, a "going concern," is the outgrowth of a service which was inaugurated more than sixty years ago as a private enterprise. Its history has been one of continuous expansion, and today its service to some 32,000 metered customers, over approximately 350 miles of pipe, equals a total pumpage of more than 5,000,000,000 gallons of water per year.

The wheels of progress have ground out an entirely new age within the history of the Water Works, yet, alert to each changing trend, constantly endeavoring to improve the service, its management has ever kept pace with the times. In consequence, the affairs of the Des Moines Water Works have been handled with the same integrity of purpose as to be found in any other successful industry.

WRIGHT IS CANDIDATE FOR BAILIFF

B. H. Wright, Deputy Clerk of the District Court, is a candidate for Municipal Court Bailiff. He has been in the Clerk's office for nine years, four of which have been spent in charge of the criminal division.

He is married, an overseas veteran, and has been a resident of Des Moines for many years. Mr. Wright gave as his references any judge of the District Court or any Des Moines attorney and promises to give the city a fair and efficient administration. He is asking support on that basis only.

day. Mr. Johnson is co-author with his brother, James Weldon Johnson, of two books of Negro spirituals and a number of other musical compositions.

At a joint meeting of the Trustee and Stewards Board of St. Paul's A. M. E. church held January 31, 1932, a summary of two years work under the administration of Rev. W. E. Guy was made. Out of appreciation of the progress made in these two years, it was the action of the two boards that a committee of three be named to write and publicly express to the public their deep feeling of gratitude. Mr. R. S. Sims, secretary of the Official Board, Miss Susie L. Hart, secretary of the Trustee Board and Mr. O. L.

F. H. Cheley

F. H. Cheley has probably had more experience with, and a keener appreciation of boys than any other man in America. For 25 years he has been a professional worker with the National Boy Scouts of America, the National Council of the Y. M. C. A., and the Highlander Boy Foundation. During all of that time he has worked with, written of, and been closely associated with boys varying in ages from eight to eighteen years. He has written many popular books on the subject including "The Boys' Book of Campfires," "Campfire Yarns," "Marked Trails for Boys," "The Job of Being a Dad," "Bettering Boyhood," and others.

Mr. Cheley has written a new newspaper series entitled, "The Home and That-Boy of Yours." It is unusual, it is interesting, and the series will appear in these columns.

The Home and That Boy of Yours

By F. H. CHELEY

MISTAKES FATHERS MAKE

"THE trouble with my Dad," one fine boy told me, "is that he is always saying what he thinks, without thinking what he says. He's one of these hot-headed chaps, good, fine as gold when he isn't blustering, who is always so cock sure, that he ought to be awarded a gold medal for jumping at conclusions. According to him, he just couldn't be wrong and what I think or say on any subject is as he says 'just pure bunk.' He laughs at me and ridicules my ideas and says all the time, 'Well, where did you get that idea,' so I've just learned to keep my mouth shut and let him do the talking, when he's around and I'd mine when he isn't present."

"He thinks I'm glum and grouchy and unappreciative and a lot of other things — and perhaps I am, but whose fault is it? There are ever so many things I'd like to discuss with him. I do respect his judgment. He is a good provider and all that, but he knows too much for me."

Think of the tragedy of it! Here is a sensitive boy who cannot bear to be ridiculed (and many of us can), who day by day is withdrawing within himself, afraid to express his thoughts, belittled into believing they are not any too sound, anyhow; initiative inhibited, natural exuberant enthusiasm squelched; personality dwarfed and frustrated, all because a thoughtless father will not make any effort to see what kind of an emotional environment he creates and maintains in his home.

He works long hours for his family; has no other objective except to be a worthy parent; but in getting emotional satisfaction for himself, he does so at the price of the boy's lost self and development and in later years will ponder perplexedly over why it is that he enjoys no confidences and experiences no fellowship with his "strange" son.

The boy knows with certainty that his father is not always right and growing boys are very, very sensitive to justice and inequity. When and where and how is the lad going to learn to make wise decisions when he is never allowed to practice. When and where and how is this boy going to learn to stand upon his own and meet the world as it is. All his days, unless he happens to be a "revolutionist" in spirit, he will be afraid to step out and take the lead and assume responsibility and leadership. Constantly and forever he will be a weak, timid "follower" — the son of an essentially ignorant bombastic father who, nine chances to ten, is but covering up his own conscious inferiority by his noisy attitude. Just what good is a fine body and generous schooling to that boy, when the very heart of things has been ignored?

IRA M. GLISENHOF

Des Moines, Iowa, February 7, 1932.

The time has passed so rapidly that we hardly realize our pastor, Rev. W. E. Guy has been with us two years, and in a joint meeting of the Stewards and Trustees, a resolution was unanimously passed to set aside Sunday, February 7th, as a day to extend our very keen appreciation to him who has led us through this very trying period.

The two major boards of the church have decided also to formally observe this second anniversary on Sunday, April 24th, the occasion thus having a double significance, April 24th being the Anniversary of his coming into the world, and we the Stewards Department in conjunction with the Trustees and members hope to wish him many happy returns of the day.

It is not necessary to dwell on the things that have been accomplished under the leadership of Rev. Guy, because the records speak for themselves; but we do insist on the hearty cooperation of all members of St. Paul's to help out over a program that will place our feet on the solid rock of spiritual and financial success.

Respectfully submitted,

Secretary, Official Board.

FIGHT PLAN TO SEND NEGROES SOUTH—GOVT WOULD SUPPLY TRAINS

New York, Feb. 11.—A warning of opposition by the Negroes of the nation to a plan to return Negroes from northern cities to southern farms has been sent to President Hoover and to leaders in the Senate and House of Representatives by the N. A. A. C. P.

The project, outlined in a special Washington dispatch to the New York Herald-Tribune by Mark Sullivan, is called a plan for the "deportation of Negroes" into peonage, in the N. A. A. C. P. letter. The plan is called economically unsound because even the Negroes and whites now on southern farms cannot earn a decent living; discriminatory and heedless of the lynching, mob violence and jim crowism from which southern Negroes have escaped north.

The plan suggested as an alternative to the LaFollette relief bill, which the N. A. A. C. P. is supporting, would provide federal funds for trains to take "indigent" Negroes from New York, Detroit and Chicago back to the South from which they were lured through the ill balanced prosperity of a few years ago.

This brilliant aggregation has been playing throughout this section of the country for the past several years, but this marks the first time that a worthy foe could be found for them in Des Moines. During this time every team of any consequence has been met by the Globe Trotters and has succeeded inevitably defeat. They have played seventy-seven games this season winning all but three; their percentage column reads like a Notre Dame football record. The team includes three young athletes who made basketball history at Wendell Phillips high school in Chicago.

S. L. BIRT CLUB OBSERVES 14TH ANNIVERSARY

Commemorating their 14th anniversary, the S. L. Birt club held a banquet and program in the dining hall of St. Paul's A. M. E. church, Friday evening, February 12. Hundreds of the members of the club were their guests. Mr. Roberts Sims was an outside guest. After dinner speeches were given by club guests and the response by Mrs. Essie Davis, Mrs. A. Perry was mistress of ceremonies and presided over the following program: Rev. W. E. Guy, pastor, was main speaker; Mrs. Ethel Williams gave a history of the club; Mrs. Izora Mackay talked on the late Rev. S. L. Birt as a Master Builder; duet by Misses Velma Oliver and Dornelia Mackay; reading, Miss Wenonah Patton; vocal solo, Mrs. Sophia Nichols.

The Merry Widows' Industrial Club will meet Sunday, February 21, at the home of Mrs. Nelle Parker, 1329 Center. The following short program will be rendered: Trio, Miss Zella Cassell and Leland and Olando Johnson. Reading by Mrs. Jean Thomas; Solo by Mrs. M. Douglass and an address by Mrs. Lillian Edmunds.

At the regular meeting of the Book Lovers on Friday, February 19, Mrs. Virginia Martin gave an interesting review of "The Good Earth" by Pearl S. Buck. The story is written of China, but is equally true of life wherever it is lived. On February 26, Mrs. Bessie Hughes will review "Dancing Gods, Indian Ceremonies of New Mexico and Arizona" by Erna Fergusson.

The Bachelor Benedicts, newly organized young married men's club, gave a buffet supper recently to which their wives were invited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Luther Clark, 1322 Day street. Club members and their wives present were Mr. and Mrs. P. J. McClanahan, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Carr, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Burke, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Shepherd, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Proctor, Mr. Lloyd Shelton and Mr. and Mrs. Luther Clark.

Word has been received in the city of the death of Mrs. Isadore Blagburn Seller, February 13, at Washington, D. C., who was the daughter of J. P. Blagburn, former Des Moines resident, who is now in the Recorder of Deeds office at Washington.

Regular social night of Lincoln Auxiliary was held Tuesday evening, February 16, at the Community Service, 907 15th street. Mrs. F. White, Americanization chairman, had charge of the program.

Papers on "Washington" and "Douglas" were read by Mesdames Ida M. Smith and Helena Elliston, respectively. Mrs. S. Joe Brown gave some very pertinent commentaries on the life of Lincoln. Lincoln Post members were guests at the luncheon which followed. On Sunday afternoon February 21, a patriotic program will be held at Corinthian Baptist church. Mesdames Essie Davis, Sophia Nichols, Bess Hughes, Helen Hudson and Ida Smith will attend the president-secretary conference at Hotel Savery, Monday, February 22. A business meeting will be held March 1.

BURNS M. E. CHURCH NEWS
The Church Council held their monthly meeting at Corinthian Church Sunday evening, at three o'clock. The council will be dinner guests on March 4, of the Clubs of St. Paul's A. M. E. church. Mrs. S. Joe Brown will be toastess. The auxiliaries report $500.00 in their goal, which closes March 13. Rev. A. Ross Brent spoke at the three o'clock meeting, and his choir rendered the music. Burns quartette sang at Prairie City Sunday morning. Rev. J. L. Overton and congregation worshipped with Rev. James Brett Kenna, pastor of the First M. E. Church, 10th and Pleasant streets, last Sunday. Burns quartette sang at this service. The Steward Board served dinner Thursday evening, February 18, at 5:30.

Mrs. Tug W. Wilson, 871 14th St., is convalescing slowly at her residence, from an attack of flu.

DR. J. A. JEFFERSON RESUMES PRACTICE

Dr. J. A. Jefferson, prominent Des Moines physician, who has been seriously ill at his residence with influenza, is able to be at his office again after an absence of several weeks.

Miss Mildred Burks, and Mr. Lorenzo Dukes were married in Oskaloosa, this week. The bride is a popular young society girl and North High student; the groom is connected with the Yellow Cab Co. They will make their home in Des Moines.

Y. M. C. A. NOTES
Corinthian Troupes St. Paul in Hard Fought Game, 15-9
By Q. R. M.
The Corinthian Baptist Cagers upset the St. Paul team for the second successive time this season in the feature game of last Friday evening's basketball fare at West High School. Especial mention need me made of the fact that this game was far clearer and therefore much more interesting for the spectators. Elbert Webb was high point man for the victors, dropping in three baskets, with Smith coming through with five points; Webb's play at guard was outstanding. For the vanquished, Brown, Woods, and Allen did the best work offensively, with Ashby and Wilson featuring on defense.

Union Baptist in defeating the Trojans 15 to 7, took over first place in the senior division. Rowland of Union featured with seven markers. The Weasels and Scorpions waged a torrid battle only to end the game in a tie 11-11. The extra period necessary to decide the winner will be played this coming week. The Fellowship club-nosed out the Roadside Juniors 12-10 in a grand battle; Lightner was the big ace for the winners, making 10 of their points. Fulton and Bailey were also outstanding performers for the victors. Sharp, Lee and Walker did the best work for Roadside. The Panthers won their game from Bethel by forfeit.

The Willing Workers, Mrs. Bessie Payne, president, will give a lemon social Thursday evening, the 18th, at the home of Mrs. Josephine Morris, 1269 East 19th street. Sewing Circle with Mrs. Emma Mikata, president, will meet Friday afternoon at 2:00 at the home of Mrs. J. W. Tutt, 1446 Buchanan street.

THE THREE PURPOSE SOCIAL CLUB
The Three Purpose Social Club met Wednesday, February 10, at the home of Mrs. Luther Clark. After a business session cards formed the diversion of the afternoon. Prizes for high score going to Mrs. Chester Brewer, first, Mrs. Willia Mae Cooley, second, and Mrs. Margaret McGuire, third. Club adjourned to meet with Mrs. McGuire on Eleventh Street.

NEGRO WRITES—LINCOLN LIFE
William E. Lilly, prominent Negro lawyer of Chicago, is the author of a new biography of Abraham Lincoln, SET MY PEOPLE FREE, to be published by Farrar & Rinehart, Inc., on February 11th. Mr. Lilly is a graduate of Howard University and a practicing lawyer of Columbia. He was for a time a member of the County Board of St. Louis, and later Supervisor of the County of St. Clair, Illinois.

BOYS DEPARTMENT OF Y. M. C. A. PLANS MANY ACTIVITIES

The boys' department of the Crocker Y. M. C. A. has launched a membership drive and is trying to secure at least two hundred members by the middle of March. We are doing all in our power to help and encourage the boys to pay their membership.

The boys' department is putting on a series of three programs to help the boys pay their memberships. One was given Thursday, December 17, at Corinthian Baptist Church in which we helped between thirty and forty boys pay part or all of their membership. The next program will be given at Bethel A. M. E. Church, Thursday, February 25. Parents and friends are asked to help put these programs over by buying tickets. Everyone buying tickets and attending these programs will more than get their money's worth, tickets 20c.

After the middle of March members of clubs and boys having paid their membership fee of $1.00 will be given all preference on first consideration in all activities in building and elsewhere. The committee has a representative from the east, west and south sides and as nearly as possible every church. The boys' department has six clubs throughout every section of the city except the south side and we are still organizing clubs.

The names of the boys work committee and the program will be printed in the next week's issue of the By-stander. The boys ages in this department range from nine to and including 17 years. The membership fee is one dollar a year.

Greetings from the Moderator
Dear Brethren and Sisters:
This is my first message to you since our last annual meeting. We are about to pull through one of the most trying winters known to this generation. Everyone has suffered some sacrifice for humanity during the last few months. More people have been thrown out of work and more homes have been made destitute than ever before. All of that tells us that God is still on his throne. We are still his subjects, and not until we learn to obey our King's command may we expect not to suffer.

To a great extent we have neglected our duties to this church. His servants and His Son, Jesus Christ. Therefore the world must suffer. The various Boards of the State will meet at Maple Street Baptist church, Des Moines, Rev. A. Ross Brent, Pastor, Tuesday, March 15 and 16. This should be a far-reaching meeting. Our State Mission field is suffering, our National work is in a deplorable condition and our home for worn-out preachers is to be saved. If every church, Mission Circle, Sunday School and B. Y. P. U. doesn't send something for the work we are doomed. Oh! My co-workers let us do something beside talk. We are depending on you.

The following subjects will be discussed at the Board Meeting: "Woman's Part in World Redemption," Mrs. I. M. Coggs; "The Sunday School and the Modern Church," Mr. H. Dudley; "The Young People's Place in the Present Day Program," Lloyd Shelton. These will be discussed on the opening day.

Yours truly,
GEORGE W. ROBINSON.

HISTORY PROFESSOR SPEAKS ON "NEGRO LEADERS IN THE WASHINGTON ERA"

determination to establish churches of their own. Under Jones the St. Thomas' Protestant Episcopal Church was established in 1791, while Richard Allen founded the St. George Methodist Episcopal Church in an old blacksmith shop, from which were developed branches in Baltimore, New Jersey, and New York. Allen became the first Bishop of the African descent in the western world, and Absalom Jones, the first Priest. In the field of medicine, James Durham, who had been born a slave in Philadelphia, 1762, learned many things in medicine from his master. During the War of the American Revolution he was sold to a British officer and at the close of the Revolutionary War, he became the property of a physician at New Orleans.

Under each of his three masters he learned medicine and surgery and finally purchased his freedom at New Orleans, after which he began the practice of medicine. In addition to his knowledge of medicine, he was known to be acquainted professionally in both the French and the Spanish languages.

Phillis Wheatley, the poetess, in congratulating George Washington on becoming Commander-in-Chief of the army, "for the first time, used the phrase, "first in peace." Washington was so impressed with her poem that he congratulated Miss Wheatley on her poetic talents and invited her to call to see him at his headquarters at Cambridge, signing himself, "Your native American clock, and was appointed by Thomas Jefferson to serve on a commission which surveyed and laid out the lines of the District of Columbia. It was this Negro statesman who also proposed a plan for international peace, calling for a Secretary of Peace as a member of the President's cabinet.

In addition to establishing Negro churches of two denominations, Richard Allen and Absalom Jones also interested themselves in the economic and social welfare of their group, as indicated in the funds of the Free African Society in 1787, an organization designed to encourage Negroes to live worthy lives, to give aid to the sick, and to provide burial for the dead.

Prince Hall, West Indian Negro, who, unable to join an American lodge of Masons was initiated in one of the lodges in the British army. Following the war, in 1784, he received authority from the lodge of England to organize a lodge composed of Negroes in America. It is therefore quite fitting that we pay tribute to Prince Hall as the founder of Negro Masonry in this country, while the Masons of the country are honoring George Washington in the dedication of the Masonic Shrine at Alexandria, Va.

Mrs. Stella Scott went to Davenport Sunday to visit her brother, who was seriously injured recently.

MILLARD W. BUCK ANNOUNCES CANDIDACY

Citizens of Des Moines have inducted me to enter the 1932 city campaign for Superintendent of Public Safety. Knowing Des Moines as I do, I feel that I am fully qualified to perform the duties of the office in a diligent, conscientious, honest and straight-forward manner. I came with my parents to Des Moines from Illinois at the age of two years, fifty-five years ago, and Des Moines has been my headquarters or home almost my entire life. If elected to the public safety post I will do all in my power for a continuation of the development of our police, fire and garbage departments.

If elected I have in mind a plan to obtain a police radio without one dollar of expense to the taxpayers of Des Moines. I will put forth my utmost effort to serve all people alike, I wish to impress upon the minds of my friends in overalls that the office door swings open the same, as to my friends adorned in broadcloth without any discrimination. I solicit your support and if elected your earnest cooperation in administering the duties of the office all through my administration.

Evanson, Ill., Feb. 11.—As the result of an intensive political war, led by many of this exclusive suburb's most influential white citizen's the name of Edwin B. Jourdain, 31, a Harvard grad and former Chicago newspaperman, will be first on the aldermanic ballot here next April. Jourdain was unseated by the city council recently on charges of election fraud, but this act was followed by a stormy protest on the part of hundreds of the community's outstanding residents.

Four northwestern university professors, two nationally-known grid stars, a dozen students and scores of other white citizens led the drive on the City Hall here, Friday, in an effort to register the name of Jourdain to appear No. 1 on the ballot. The leaders included Professors J. A. James, A. R. Hatton, Kenneth Colegrove and James Yard and Ernest "Fog" Rentner, star halfback and Jack Riley, tackle and co-captain of the Purple Wolverines. Prof. Hatton, one of America's foremost authorities on municipal government led the protest against Jourdain's ousting.

Evanson is an aristocratic North Shore neighbor of Chicago and is ranked as one of the world's wealthiest suburbs. Jourdain was elected to the Evanson City Council in April, 1931, for a two-year term.

Los Angeles, Cal., Feb. 11.—That stark misery trails in the wake of the ruthless discrimination practiced against Negro workers who seek employment on the Hoover Dam project at Las Vegas, Nev., was the assertion of Buster Buford, war veteran, who has lived there for the past six months. Buford's charges substantiate in every detail those made by the Associated Negro Press some time ago. He drew a harrowing picture of more than 200 Negroes denied work of any kind at the mushroom town that has sprung up around the Nevada city. Housing facilities are pitifully inadequate, Buford revealed, and Negroes are living in a section of the city known as Old Town. Their dwellings are old, piano boxes, ragged tents, or any other kind of rude shelter of the weather.

Chief of these private concerns is the Six Companies, a San Francisco corporation. This company refuses to employ Negroes in any capacity and all efforts to obtain jobs or even a respectful hearing are balked by its superintendent, Mr. Crow. The only Negro on the job is employed by the smaller New Mexico company.

The government link in this outrageous affair is supplied by Mr. Blood, chief of the federal employment office at Las Vegas. All labor hired for the construction work is supplied by this servant of the people. But Blood's office will not hire Negro workers despite the fact that the labor turnover is about 300 per day.

NEWS FLASHES HERE AND THERE

If the exservice men secure the remainder of their compensation, it would be a fine thing to appoint a committee to see that the bonus money is spent for necessities and not extravagances.

The suspension of four very prominent Drake University athletes for drinking, coming so soon after the monster dry crusade staged at Shrine Temple, is a distinct feather in the cap of the wets, who are tired of resentative college students are not drinking.

The policy of giving married men preference in securing jobs is a good one; however I can't help wondering if the increasing numbers of single men who have joined the ranks of "kept men" and "gigolos" isn't in part due to the fact that most employers seem to embrace the fallacy that single men do not need food, clothing and shelter.

Trust a woman to stick her nose into everything. The funniest recent-lysis that of a woman in a local hotel whose nose was caught in one of those in-a-door beds, which accidentally folded up silently and without warning during the night, squeezing her nose painfully. Of course she's suing the hotel.

I'll say crazy or nerfs was that robber who asking a promising victim with a fat pocketbook to snatch, picked on a poor, underpaid waitress and a hospital nurse. The combined wages of all their kind would not be sufficient for one to risk going to the penitentiary for.

H. S. M., in his column "Over the Coffee" (Wednesday), says that the South is beginning to forgive and incidentally respect Abraham Lincoln. Yes, said I might add that the North has already forgiven the confederate General Robert E. Lee, as his picture has been hung in the Congressional Hall of Fame at Washington, in spite of the fact that he was a traitor to the United States Government.

WHITE FRATERNITY VOTES TO UPHOLD COLOR BARRIER

Madison, Wis., Feb. 18.—Because 13 or more negative votes will defeat any amendment to the constitution of Delta Sigma Rho, national honorary Greek fraternity, Negroes will be barred from membership in the future, just as they have for the past 25 years.

Last May the University of Wisconsin chapter tried to initiate G. James Fleming, but found that it was not permitted by the national body. This started a fight on the campus which was taken to the national convention in June when the amendment was introduced.

Only half of the negative votes came from Chapters in the South, declared Prof. Henry L. Ewbank, president of the national organization, when he made the announcement.

The Daily Cardinal, university newspaper, has declared editorially that the next move is for the Wisconsin Chapter to withdraw from the national; and reports have it that Yale University and the University of Illinois are willing to withdraw also and form a new honorary society which will not raise bars of race, creed or color.

Noted Poet To Be Presented At YWCA

Langston Hughes, young Negro poet, novelist and lecturer, will present an evening of poetry and its relation to the background and life of the Negro in a lecture-reading of his own poems at the Y. W. C. A. on Friday, March 4.

Mr. Hughes was born in Joplin, Missouri, on February 1, 1902. He

LANGSTON HUGHES has lived in various parts of the United States and Mexico, and has worked as a seaman, visiting Holland,

France, Italy, Spain, and the West Coast of Africa. Since his graduation from Lincoln University he has devoted his time to writing. He has recently returned from a trip through Cuba and Haiti. His great ambition is to visit all the Negro countries of the world studying the lives and customs of darker people everywhere.

Mr. Hughes is the author of two books of poems, The Weary Blues, Fine Clothes to the Jew, and a recent novel, Not Without Laughter, selected by the American Library Association as one of the forty outstanding books of the year. This young poet's work has been translated into French, German, Russian and Spanish. Of his poetry Julia Peterkin says, "Stark, fierce, tragic bits of life fall into simple words." The Boston Transcript; "Full of racial rhythm and melody."

He has appeared in lecture-readings of his poems before various groups at Oberlin, Fisk, Princeton, Tuskegee, and other student centers, before literary clubs in New York, Cleveland, Buffalo, and many large cities, and under the auspices of the Urban League, Y. N. A. A. C. P. Hold Lincoln-Douglas Celebration

Des Moines Branch of the N. A. A. C. P. sponsored a Lincoln-Douglas celebration, Friday night, the one hundred twenty-third anniversary of the birth of Abraham Lincoln, at the Corinthian Baptist Church.

In addition to eulogizing the leaders of the fight against Negro slavery, the celebration recognized the scholastic ability of Des Moines high school graduates.

Miss Catherine Williams, who was graduated from North High School in the midyear, was awarded $25 in gold by A. A. Alexander, who semi-annually gives a similar award to the Negro high school graduate with highest grades. Miss Williams had an average of 2.5 for her high school work. The perfect average would be 1.

J. B. Morris, attorney, spoke on the life of Frederick Douglass, who was born in slavery but who rose to a high place in the government.

George H. Woodson, who stood guard over the body of Mr. Douglass in 1895, was introduced to the meeting. A moving picture, "The Heart of Lincoln," was shown.

N. C. MINISTER EMPLOYS 500 WORKMEN

Ashville, N. C., Feb. 18.—Imagine the genuine joy and happiness that came into the families of five hundred workmen last week when one of Asheville's leading ministers put them at work on building a new church.

The Rev. J. A. Kigh felt that in these times of the most distressing depression every effort should be made to alleviate the suffering of the families of the poor. During one of his addresses to his congregation he declared: "Man's duty to God and to his country is to lend every possible aid to his less fortunate brother.

Former D.M. Girl Dies In California

Word has been received by the press that Miss Geraldine Glass, of Los Angeles, California, formerly of this city, until 1930, died Wednesday morning after three days' illness of double pneumonia. She was well known to the Des Moines young people and was a popular member of Corinthian Baptist Church and its various activities; she was a former North High student. Details concerning her death will be in next week's issue.

WHITE CHALLENGES TELEPHONE OFFICIAL WHO TELLS "DARKEY" STORY AT MEET

New York, Feb. 19.—A "darkey" story told by Malcolm C. Rorty, vice-president of the American Telephone and Telegraph Co., at a Christian student conference in Duck Hill Falls, Pa., last week end, brought a response quite different than that gentleman expected from his audience.

Walter White, secretary of N. A. A. C. P., who was attending the conference as a leader of group discussion, advanced up the aisle and pointedly remarked that he had not expected to find discourtesy and racial slurs from a speaker at such a conference. Mr. White made it clear to the platform speaker and to all those present that certain words were re-sented and could not be used with impunity in the presence of colored Americans.

Porters Protest Sly Wage Cut

PULLMAN COMPANY IN "SLY METHOD" CLIP'S PORTERS' WAGES

Chicago, Ill., Feb. 18.—Reports coming to Chicago headquarters of the Brotherhood of Sleeping Car Porters reveal that the rank and file of the Pullman porters were astounded when they read newspaper accounts of a $5 cut in their monthly wage. They were no less astounded when they learned that there had been secret conferences at which these matters had been discussed without their knowledge and consent.

Tips Almost Vanish "Because a very substantial part of the porter's income is derived from gratuities, or tips, and due to the depression the tip has decreased drastically, and with the $5 cut the porters will stand a cut of around 33 1/2 per cent, the brotherhood wishes to inform the public of the true conditions of the porters. Up to the present date the Pullman porters have received no official announcement from the company of the pay cut, but in the financial columns of some of the leading newspapers there was a small article announcing the cut.

To Celebrate Washington Day

Des Moines Negroes will celebrate the two hundredth anniversary of George Washington's birth, Sunday, February 21st, at 3:30 P. M. at the Corinthian Baptist Church, 9th and School Streets, under the joint auspices of the Crocker Street Branch, Y. M. C. A.; the Lincoln Post of the American Legion; the Lincoln Post Auxiliary and Troop 59 of the Boy Scouts of America.

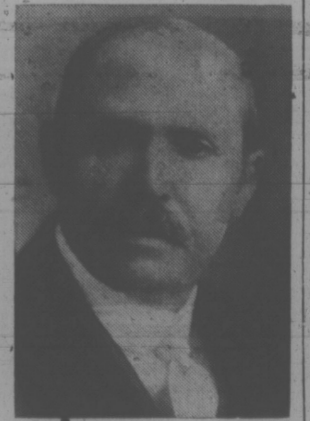

Hon. Harvey Ingham, editor in chief of the Register and Tribune, will deliver the principal address and H. E. Wilson, Robt. T. Dacus, Spencer Ellison and Mrs. Lillian Edmunds the four Negro members of the City-wide Washington Bicentennial Committee, will speak.

The Women's Glee Club of the Des Moines Chamber of Commerce, the Norden Singers, and two Negro quartets, the Burn's Juniors, and the Capital City and Mr. D. B. Brown, violinist will render musical numbers.

Atty. S. Joe Brown, Commander of Lincoln Post, will preside.

California Man Here For Meeting

Dr. E. R. Driver, pastor of Saints Home Church, of the Church of God in Christ, Los Angeles, California, is in the city to conduct his first quarterly district meeting. Dr. Driver is overseer for the State of Iowa, and will preach his introductory sermon, Monday evening, February 22, at the Church of God in Christ No. 2, 850 Tenth Street. The general public is invited to hear Dr. Driver, who is a brilliant speaker and an Oxford University man.

Grand Exalted Ruler Again Cancels Engagement

Successful Protest On Discriminatory Can Labels

CONCERN ORDERS STOCK REMOVED

New York, Feb. 18.—The organized buying power of Negro grocers struck a telling blow against economic discrimination last week when the National C. M. A. Stores, Inc., through its president, A. L. Holsey, secured an apology from Francis H. Leggett & Company, 27th street and North River, wholesale grocers, for selling canned tomatoes bearing the legend, "Packed by White Labor Only."

The tomatoes were discovered in the Peoples Model Grocery, a C. M. A. store, 2066 Seventh avenue, and immediately the matter was taken up with Kenneth Murphy, colored salesman for the store, who sold the goods. Mr. Murphy immediately got in touch with Arthur Ehrenfeld, buyer for Leggett, and asked what must be done. He was instructed that the offending goods would be picked up at once by a Leggett truck, and a new brand substituted for the same price.

While the tomatoes were being picked up by the Leggett truck, Mr. Ehrenfeld wrote a sharp letter to the canners in West Virginia, asking what they meant by sending out merchandise with such a label, saying their goods had caused them the greatest embarrassment with one of their best customers, and they wanted an explanation. Mr. Murphy promised that as soon as the reply was received from the West Virginia canners it would be made public. He apologized to the grocers for his company, and so did Mr. Ehrenfeld.

Professor Tells of Negroes in George Washington Era

Washington, D. C., Feb. 19.—In an address on "Negro Leaders in the Washington Era," last Wednesday at Howard University, Dr. Charles H. Wesley, head of the department of history at Howard University, recalled Negro contemporaries of George Washington who should be remembered in celebration of the 200th anniversary of the first President's birth.

Dr. Wesley's address in part follows:

In celebrating the 200th anniversary of the birth of Washington, it is but natural that much will be said of his associates in national affairs. It is of interest, therefore, to call attention to some of his Negro contemporaries who, as leaders of their group made a definite contribution to American progress during the Washington era.

There were Negro leaders in various fields of their group life, the first of which was that of organized religion. In Savannah, Ga., George Leile and Andrew Bryan began the organization of the first Negro Baptist Church in 1773.

Absalom Jones, who had been a slave, in Delaware, together with Richard Allen, attended St. George Methodist Episcopal Church in Philadelphia, where one morning in 1787 they were interrupted in prayer and asked to withdraw to the seats in the rear of the gallery that had been set aside for Negroes. Absalom Jones said to the usher: "If you will leave us alone, we will go out and bother you no more. Wait until prayer is over."

Overruling a motion to dissolve the injunction restraining W. J. Shepherd, J. G. Browne, Bennie Branch, Wm. Rhomes, Archie McGuire, Simon Wilson and Harry Crewse from interfering with Noble F. Gray, George H. Edmunds and W. J. Newcomb and all other officers and members similarly situated as officers of Hawkeye Lodge No. 160, I. B. P. O. E. W., for which the latter secured the temporary injunction, Judge Don Allen of the Municipal Court upheld the original writ injunction, Tuesday of this week. Further he restrained Shepherd and his associates from proceeding further in an action of replevin brought to recover the records until a proper determination of the legal officers of the lodge may be had.

The ruling Tuesday followed a lengthy hearing in Municipal Court on the motion to dissolve the injunction. The decision further restrained Shepherd and his associates from interfering with the property and records of Gray, Edmunds and Newcomb.

J. Finley Wilson, grand exalted ruler of the Elks, was scheduled to be in Des Moines, February 14. Extensive plans had been made to hold a mass meeting at St. Paul's church, a smoker at Brooks Cafe and a dance on Monday night. Wilson disappointed Messrs. Shepherd, Browne and the group which had invited him here. He failed to appear and has given no reason for breaking the engagement.

The fight is apparently at a standstill with both sides waiting time to bring developments.

Attorney James B. Morris and Clarence I. Spencer represented Gray, Edmunds and Newcomb, while Attorney Charles P. Howard represented Shepherd.

"SCOTTSBORO" BY CLARENCE DARROW, FEATURE OF MARCH "CRISIS"

New York, Feb. 19.—A statement on the Scottsboro cases, by the noted criminal lawyer, Clarence Darrow, is the featured article in the March number of the Crisis magazine, just published.

In the article Mr. Darrow tells how and why he and Arthur Garfield Hays withdrew from the defense of the 8 Negro boys condemned to death in Alabama, and of the efforts made to induce him and Mr. Hays to forsake the N. A. A. C. P. which had retained them as attorneys.

"UNITY" ENDS AT LUNCH ROOM

N. A. A. C. P. PROTESTS

JIM CROW. Kansas City, Mo., February 19.—"Unity" ended at the threshold of the Unity Inn in Kansas City, Mo., when a group of students from the University of Kansas sought lunch there during an academic tour, on January 24. Two Negro women among the twenty students were told they could not lunch in the Unity Inn in company with their fellow-students because it was against the rule to serve Negroes at the Inn.

John L. Love, president of the Kansas City Branch of the N. A. A. C. P., has written to Charles Filmore, of the Unity School of Christianity, which owns the Inn, asking whether Unity Christianity ends when eating begins. The N. A. A. C. P. protest, writes Mr. Love, is made "not only on behalf of the self-respect of the parties concerned in the discrimination, but also on behalf of the teachings of the Unity School of Christianity." Mr. Love quotes from the doctrines of the school in order to remind the school of its own professions.

NEGROES CONTEMPORARIES OF WASHINGTON

Dr. Carter G. Woodson of the Society for the Study of Negro Life and History, of Washington, D. C., has written a number of articles for the Negro press in which he has attempted to call the attention of the national and local committees charged with arranging appropriate celebrations for the George Washington bi-centennial, that Negroes were engaged in important functions during Washington's time.

Recently in an address on "Negro leaders in the Washington Era", Dr. Charles H. Wesley, head of the department of history at Howard University, recalled Negro contemporaries of George Washington extracts from which are printed in another column of this issue.

To the public generally, but to the Negro particularly, who is often challenged about these facts, the address is well worth reading. Among the many he speaks of are Andrew Bryan and George Lisle, organizers among the Baptist; Absalom Jones and Richard Allen, organizers of A. M. E. church; James Durham, physician; Phyllis Wheatley, the poetess; Benjamin Bannicker, astronomer; Prince Hall, masonic fraternal organizer.

This, to be sure, is valuable history and if the local programs have not included some of this information, Negro representatives should see that it is done.

FEDERAL RECOGNITION IN IOWA

Recently President Hoover has named two fine young men for federal posts in Iowa; Robert Colflesh, United States Attorney, and Gerald Jewett, collector of Internal Revenue. Both had the backing of Senators Dickinson and Brookhart; both are well qualified.

The Bystander desires to call attention of Senators Dickinson and Brookhart and the appointees just mentioned that Iowa Negroes have no representation in the federal set up in Iowa, except that of janitors and cloak room men. These, of course, we appreciate but they certainly do not compensate for the support given the Republican organization; in the state by Negro voters; especially they do not give adequate recognition of the whole-hearted support given Senator Dickinson in his primary campaign in 1930.

With the support of the late Senator Cummins, Attorney George H. Woodson was appointed deputy collector of customs by the late President Harding and held the post until his retirement on pension under the administration of Mrs. I. H. Tomlinson last year. However, there are other Negroes qualified to hold some of the federal jobs at the disposal of these

By Dr. H. H. London

COUGHS

Coughs occur frequently in all persons at times regardless of age or sex or nationality. Various diseases are accompanied by it and the severity and kind and frequency of the cough has much to do with the determination of the condition which exists.

Generally speaking, a cough in one of mature age is of less significance than a cough in an infant or in a child. There are many exceptions to all statements concerning physical conditions but it seems that a beginning cough in an infant is in need of immediate treatment and curtailment more so than in one of older age. The seriousness of Pneumonia in infancy is basis for this statement.

Pneumonia is serious at any age but somewhat more so in infancy. Older children who cough when infected with the germ of Whooping Cough are not of a necessity affected with a serious condition unless this disease is neglected and allowed to go unchecked when lung tissue is damaged to an extent to affect the heart or to cause the beginning of a Pneumonia.

Grownups take cold and cough for two or three days or a week without any particular damage having been done. Such is usually the result of an inflammation of the bronchial tubes. The inflammation of these tubes is occasioned by various kinds of infecting agents or germs and it is not always easy in the beginning to say which one is causing the condition. At times it is any of the common cold organisms and at other times the germ of Influenza and not infrequently the germ of Tuberculosis is responsible. Knowing this there is wisdom then in catching a cough in the beginning and in bringing to bear all measures for its relief and eradication.

WE ARE A MUCH HATED NATION

Japan hates us because of our famous "exclusion act." China hates us because we've intruded upon them. England hates us because of the Boston Tea Party. The Philippines hate us because we won't give them their independence. Haiti hates us because we won't give them their absolute freedom. Russia hates us because we don't recognize their government. Germany hates us because of the World War. Hawaii hates us because of America's conduct toward darker races. Mexico hates us because of border warfare and ruthlessness of our big gentlemen. One of the best methods Senator Dickinson and his followers can use to back up the promises made in his campaign to give Negroes fair consideration, is to give some recognition to the Negro constituents.

SUPREME COURT APPOINTEE

Chief Justice Benjamin N. Cardozo, a Jew, of the New York Supreme Court, has been named by President Hoover to fill the vacancy on the United States Supreme Court, caused by the resignation of Justice Holmes. It seems that his appointment has the endorsement of the leaders of the nation.

Candidates for this office are scrutinized closely by all interests but to date there appears little opposition. But what opposition that has developed is led by William H. Anderson, general secretary of the American Protestant Alliance and a former secretary of the New York Anti-Saloon league.

With all the best minds favoring the appointment, it is unfortunate that this organization, if it really represents anything, should allow itself to be drawn into a fight which anybody knows is ultimately based on Justice Cardozo's race.

THE DES MOINES WATER WORKS

The growth and prosperity of any community is judged more, perhaps, through the service afforded by its public utilities, than in any other one way. Des Moines stands the test well. Every loyal citizen should be proud of the splendid way in which the Des Moines Water Works, municipally owned since 1919, has performed its important function of furnishing unexcelled service to the community at all times.

The fact is the home today which does not list the service of the Water Works among its most useful adjuncts, cannot be counted as modern. It would be hard, indeed, for the person who has made daily use of this utility, to conceive of a situation under which he might well get along without it. And yet — of the many who daily turn the faucets and watch the resulting steady flow of pure water, there are few who stop to realize that the consequence is but the visible evidence of a finely rendered public service.

Des Moines is fortunate in its public water supply. Since 1871 it has been obtained from one of the largest and most unique ground supplies in the United States — the water-bearing sand stratum of the flat Racoon River Valley. The water is collected by means of an infiltration gallery system. Thus the water which enters the gallery is free from all turbidity, or suspended matter, with a greater percentage of the bacteria content removed by the natural process of filtration. This system — peculiar to but six cities throughout the country — is unique, because nature here has provided the process for which most cities are required to expend large sums of money in order to duplicate the results.

The Des Moines Water Works, as it stands today, a "going concern," is the outgrowth of a service which was inaugurated more than sixty years ago as a private enterprise. Its history has been one of continuous expansion, and today its service to some 32,000 metered customers, over approximately 350 miles of pipe, equals a total pumpage of more than 5,000,000,000 gallons of water per year.

The wheels of progress have ground out an entirely new age within the history of the Water Works, yet, alert to each changing trend, constantly endeavoring to improve the service, its management has ever kept pace with the times. In consequence, the affairs of the Des Moines Water Works have been handled with the same integrity of purpose as to be found in any other successful industry.

WRIGHT IS CANDIDATE FOR BAILIFF

B. H. Wright, Deputy Clerk of the District Court, is a candidate for Municipal Court Bailiff. He has been in the Clerk's office for nine years, four of which have been spent in charge of the criminal division.

He is married, an overseas veteran, and has been a resident of Des Moines for many years. Mr. Wright gave as his references any judge of the District Court or any Des Moines attorney and promises to give the city a fair and efficient administration. He is asking support on that basis only.

At a joint meeting of the Trustee and Stewards Board of St. Paul's A. M. E. church held January 31, 1932, a summary of two years work under the administration of Rev. W. E. Guy was made. Out of appreciation of the progress made in these two years, it was the action of the two boards that a committee of three be named to write and publicly express to the public their deep feeling of gratitude. F. H. Cheley

F. H. Cheley has probably had more experience with, and a keener appreciation of boys than any other man in America. For 25 years he has been a professional worker with the National Boy Scouts of America, the National Council of the Y. M. C. A., and the Highlander Boy Foundation. During all of that time he has worked with, written of, and been closely associated with boys varying in ages from eight to eighteen years. He has written many popular books on the subject including "The Boys' Book of Campfires," "Campfire Yarns," "Marked Trails for Boys," "The Job of Being a Dad," "Bettering Boyhood," and others.

Mr. Cheley has written a new newspaper series, entitled, "The Home and That Boy of Yours." It is unusual, it is interesting, and the series will appear in these columns.

The Home and That Boy of Yours

BY F. H. CHELEY

MISTAKES FATHERS MAKE

"THE trouble with my Dad," one fine boy told me, "is that he is always saying what he thinks, without thinking what he says. He's one of these hot-headed chaps, good, fine as gold when he isn't blustering, who is always so cock sure, that he ought to be awarded a gold medal for jumping at conclusions. According to him, he just couldn't be wrong and what I think or say on any subject is as he says 'Just pure bunk.' He laughs at me and ridicules my ideas and says all the time, 'Well, where did you get that kid idea, so I've just learned to keep my mouth shut and let him do the talking, when he's around and I do mine when he isn't present."

"He thinks I'm glum and grouchy and unappreciative, and a lot of other things—and perhaps I am, but whose fault is it? There are seven or so many things I'd like to discuss with him. I do respect his judgment. He is a good provider and all that, but he knows too much for me."

Think of the tragedy of it! Here is a sensitive boy who cannot bear to be ridiculed (not many of us can), who day by day is withdrawing within himself; afraid to express his thoughts; belittled into believing they are not any too sound, anyhow; initiative inhibited, natural exuberant enthusiasm squelched; personality dwarfed and frustrated, all because a thoughtless father will not

Glass, treasurer of the Trustee Board were named as this committee.

On Sunday, Feb. 7, on the date of Rev. Guy's second anniversary, this committee conformed to the action of this meeting and two documents were read before the congregation of St. Paul's. A motion made by Mrs. Sue Brown received an unanimous vote adopting the report of the committee as the expression of the entire congregation. The following were the reports as read.

The pastor in response to these resolutions surprised his officers and congregation by announcing that he had voluntarily taken of his own free will and accord a second cut on his salary, in order that he might share with his congregation the economic loss that they were sustaining in these troublous times.

Des Moines, Iowa, February 7, 1932.

In February two years ago the membership as well as the friends of St. Paul's became much concerned and greatly excited over the danger of a crisis that was threatening St. Paul's was carrying a heavy load, and it seemed almost too heavy to carry. The Bishop saw that we had to have a man equal to the task, knowing too, that every leading minister of the A. M. E. Church had certain heights to which he aspires. In spite of this fact, he called a man to take the responsibility of pulling us out of the rut. This man put up a challenge between his aspirations and the thing he felt he could accomplish, accepted the charge and came to us at a most needed time. This man was Rev. William E. Guy.

One of the pleasant things connected with any one's relationship to an organization is the contact it gives the leader of that organization with its officers. It offers a chance to learn each other's ability, promptness to act, and their devotion, not only to their office, but to the cause itself. Because of this fact it is with pleasure that the Trustees wish to publicly express their deep appreciation to Rev. Guy and to every officer, member and friend of St. Paul's who have had a part in helping to put over the program these past two years. We feel that under Rev. Guy's leadership we have done well, considering the time under which we have had to work; a reduction in the bonded debt, the mortgage extended, and for four months the expense of buying fuel for the church and parsonage has not cost the Trustees one cent, which is the result of the organization of the St. Paul's Coal Club. More than that St. Paul's has been put on a credit basis, again, by the elimination of all accounts which amounted up to thousands of dollars. And now we have the confidence that greater things can be accomplished. I am sure that the officers, members and the auxiliary of St. Paul's feel grateful for the cooperation they have had and will show their satisfaction with his administration in every endeavor in the future, because of our past efforts through his leadership and personal efforts is an inspiration for a much brighter future.

NOTICE

Under authority invested in me as District Deputy, Grand Exalted Ruler of Iowa, Improved, Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks of the World, notice is hereby given that all persons desiring membership in an Elk Lodge in this jurisdiction may secure applications for same by applying to the undersigned whose address is 1025 Thirtieth Street, Des Moines, Iowa.

W. J. SHEPHERD,
District Deputy of Iowa.

Des Moines, Iowa, February 7, 1932.

The time has passed so rapidly that we hardly realize our pastor, Rev. W. E. Guy has been with us two years, and in a joint meeting of the Stewards and Trustees, a resolution was unanimously passed to set aside Sunday, February 7th, as a day to extend our very deep appreciation to him who has led us through this very trying period.

The two major boards of the church have decided also to formally observe this second anniversary on Sunday, April 24th, the occasion thus having a double significance, April 24th being the Anniversary of his coming into this world, and we the Stewards Department in conjunction with the Trustees and members hope to wish him many happy returns of the day.

It is not necessary to dwell on the things that have been accomplished under the leadership of Rev. Guy, because the records speak for themselves; but we do insist on the hearty cooperation of all members of St. Paul's to help put over a program that will place our feet on the solid rock of spiritual and financial success.

Respectfully submitted,
R. S. SIMS,
Secretary, Official Board.

FIGHT PLAN TO SEND NEGROES SOUTH—GOVT WOULD SUPPLY TRAINS

New York, Feb. 11.—A warning of opposition by the Negroes of the nation to a plan to return Negroes from northern cities to southern farms has been sent to President Hoover and to leaders in the Senate and House of Representatives by the N. A. A. C. P.

The project, outlined in a special Washington dispatch to the New York Herald-Tribune by Mark Sullivan, is called a plan for the "deportation of Negroes" into peonage, in the N. A. A. C. P. letter. The plan is called economically unsound because even the Negroes and whites now on southern farms cannot earn a decent living; discriminatory and heedless of the lynching, mob violence and jim crowism from which southern Negroes have escaped north.

The plan suggested as an alternative to the LaFollette relief bill, which the N. A. A. C. P. is supporting, would provide federal funds for trains to take "indigent" Negroes from New York, Detroit and Chicago back to the South from which they were lured through the ill-balanced prosperity of a few years ago.

Corinthian Trounces St. Paul in Hard Fought Game, 15-9

By Q. R. M.

The Corinthian Baptist Cagers upset the St. Paul team for the second successive time this season in the feature game of last Friday evening's basketball fare at West High School. Especial mention need me made of the fact that this game was far cleaner and therefore much more interesting for the spectators. Elbert Webb was high point man for the victors, dropping in three baskets, with Smith coming through with five points; Bob Webb's play at guard was outstanding. For the vanquished, Brown, Woods, and Allen did the best work offensively, with Ashby and Wilson featuring on defense.

Union Baptist in defeating the Trojans 15 to 7, took over first place in the senior division. Rowland of Union featured with seven markers. The Wensels and Scorpions waged a torrid battle only to end the game in a tie 11-11. The extra period necessary to decide the winner will be played this coming week. The Fellowship club nosed out the Roadside Juniors 12-10 in a grand battle; Bill Lightner was the big ace for the winners, making 10 of their points. Fulton and Bailey were also outstanding performers for the victors. Sharp, Lee and Walker did the best work for Roadside. The Panthers won their game from Bethel by forfeit.

BOYS DEPARTMENT OF Y. M. C. A. PLANS MANY ACTIVITIES

The boys' department of the Crocker Y. M. C. A. has launched a membership drive and is trying to secure at least two hundred members by the middle of March. We are doing all in our power to help and encourage the boys to pay their membership.

The boys' department is putting on a series of three programs to help the boys pay their memberships. One was given Thursday, December 17, at Corinthian Baptist Church in which we helped between thirty and forty boys pay part or all of their membership. The next program will be given at Bethel A. M. E. Church, Thursday, February 25. Parents and friends are asked to help put these programs over by buying tickets. Everyone buying tickets and attending these programs will more than get their money's worth, tickets 20c.

After the middle of March members of clubs and boys having paid their membership fee of $1.00 will be given all preference on first consideration in all activities in building and elsewhere. The committee has a representative from the east, west and south sides and as nearly as possible every church. The boys' department has six clubs throughout every section of the city except the south side and we are still organizing clubs.

The names of the boys work committee and the program will be printed in the next week's issue of the By-stander. The boys ages in this department range from nine to and including 17 years. The membership fee is one dollar a year.

Greetings from the Moderator

Dear Brethren and Sisters:

This is my first message to you since our last annual meeting. We are about to pull through one of the most trying winters known to this generation. Everyone has suffered some sacrifice for humanity during the last few months. More people have been thrown out of work and more homes have been made destitute than ever before. All of that tells us that God is still on his throne. We are still his subjects, and not until we learn to obey our King's command may we expect not to suffer.

To a great extent we have neglected our duties to this church, His servants and His Son, Jesus Christ. Therefore the world must suffer.

The various Boards of the State will meet at Maple Street Baptist church, Des Moines, Rev. A. Ross Brent, Pastor, Tuesday, Wednesday, March 15 and 16. This should be a far-reaching meeting. Our State Mission field is suffering, our National work is in a deplorable condition and our home for worn-out preachers is to be saved. If every church, Mission Circle, Sunday School and B. Y. P. U. doesn't send something for the work we are doomed.

Oh! My co-workers let us do something beside talk. We are depending on you.

The following subjects will be discussed at the Board Meeting: "Woman's Part in World Redemption," Mrs. I. M. Coggs; "The Sunday School and the Modern Church," Mr. H. Dudley; "The Young People's Place in the Present Day Program," Lloyd Shelton. These will be discussed on the opening day.

Yours truly,

GEORGE W. ROBINSON.

determination to establish churches of their own. Under Jones the St. Thomas' Protestant Episcopal Church was established in 1791, while Richard Allen founded the St. George Methodist Episcopal Church in an old blacksmith shop, from which were developed branches in Baltimore, New Jersey, and New York.

Allen became the first Bishop of the African descent in the western world, and Absalom Jones, the first Priest. In the field of medicine, James Durham, who had been born a slave in Philadelphia, 1762, learned many things in medicine from his master. During the War of the American Revolution he was sold to a British officer and at the close of the Revolutionary War, he became the property of a physician at New Orleans.

Under each of his three master he learned medicine and surgery and finally purchased his freedom at New Orleans, after which he began the practice of medicine. In addition to his knowledge of medicine, he was known to be acquainted professionally in both the French and the Spanish languages.

Phillis Wheatley, the poetess, in congratulating George Washington on becoming Commander-in-Chief of the army, for the first time, used the phrase, "first in peace." Washington was so impressed with her poem that he congratulated Miss Wheatley on her poetic talents and invited her to call to see him at his headquarters at Cambridge, signing himself, "Your native American clock, and was appointed by Thomas Jefferson to serve on a commission which surveyed and laid out the lines of the District of Columbia. It was this Negro statesman who also proposed a plan for international peace, calling for a Secretary of Peace as a member of the President's cabinet.

In addition to establishing Negro churches of two denominations, Richard Allen and Absalom Jones also interested themselves in the economic and social welfare of their group, as indicated in the funds of the Free African Society in 1787, an organization designed to encourage Negroes to live worthy lives, to give aid to the sick, and to provide burial for the dead.

Prince Hall, West Indian Negro, who, unable to join an American lodge of Masons was initiated in one of the lodges in the British army. Following the war, in 1784, he received authority from the lodge of England to organize a lodge composed of Negroes in America. It is therefore quite fitting that we pay tribute to Prince Hall as the founder of Negro Masonry in this country, while the Masons of the country are honoring George Washington in the dedication of the Masonic Shrine at Alexandria, Va.

MILLARD W. BUCK ANNOUNCES CANDIDACY

Citizens of Des Moines have inducted me to enter the 1932 city campaign for Superintendent of Public Safety. Knowing Des Moines as I do, I feel that I am fully qualified to perform the duties of the office in a diligent, conscientious, honest and straight forward manner.

I came with my parents to Des

Moines from Illinois at the age of two years, fifty-five years ago, and Des Moines has been my headquarters or home almost my entire life. If elected to the public safety post I will do all in my power for a continuation of the development of our police, fire and garbage departments.

If elected I have in mind a plan to obtain a police radio without one dollar of expense to the taxpayers of Des Moines. I will put forth my utmost effort to serve all people alike, I wish to impress upon the minds of my friends in overalls that the office door swings open the same, as to my friends adorned in broadcloth without any discrimination, I solicit your support and if elected your earnest cooperation in administering the duties of the office all through my administration.

Evanston, Ill., Feb. 11.—As the result of an intensive political war, led by many of this exclusive suburb's most influential white citizen's the name of Edwin B. Jourdain, 31, a Harvard grad and former Chicago newspaperman, will be first on the aldermanic ballot here next April. Jourdain was unseated by the city council recently on charges of election fraud, but this act was followed by a stormy protest on the part of hundreds of the community's outstanding residents.

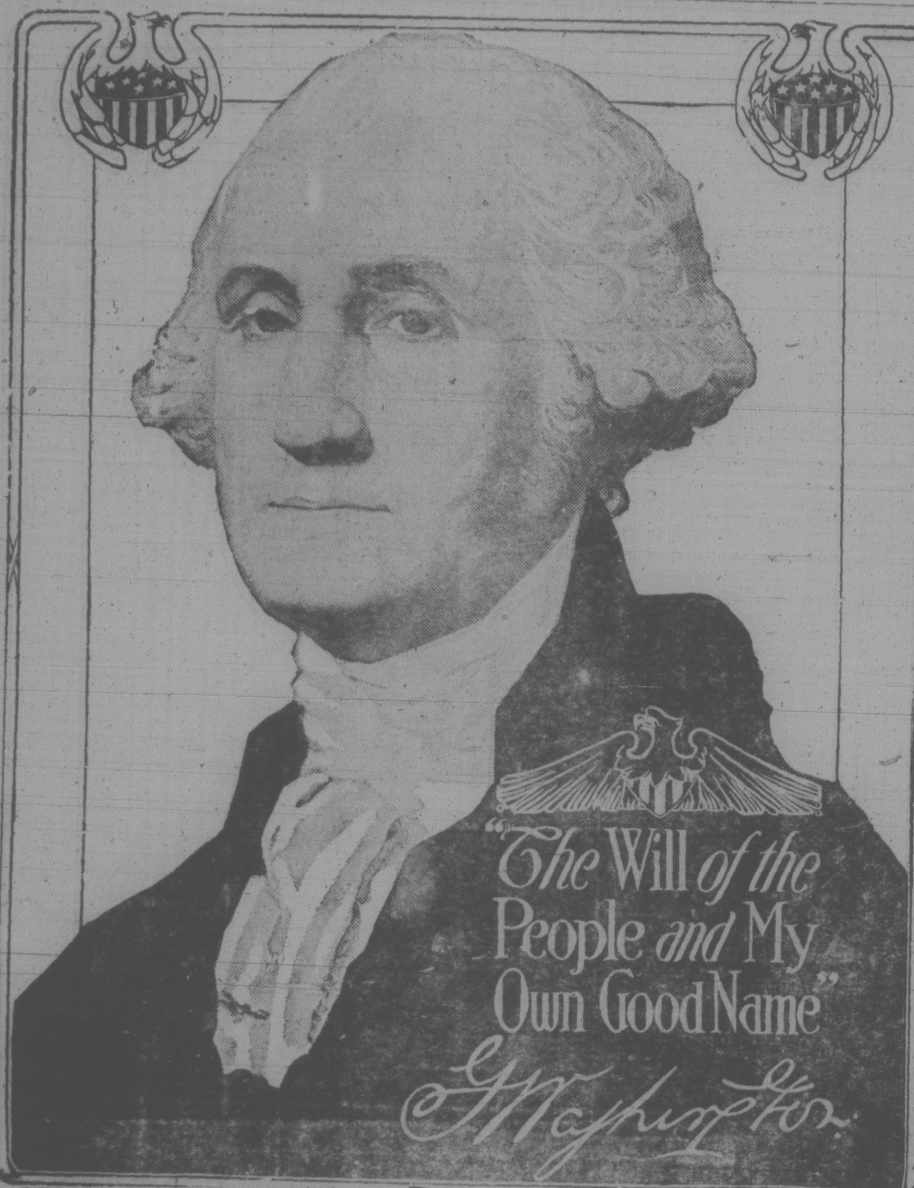

Four northwestern university professors, two nationally-known grid stars, a dozen students and scores of other white citizens led the drive on the City Hall here, Friday, in an effort to register the name of Jourdain to appear No. 1 on the ballot. The leaders included Professors J. A. James, A. R. Hatton, Kenneth Colegrove and James Yard and Ernest "Fug" Rentner, star halfback and Jack Riley, tackle and co-captain of the Purple Wolverines. Prof. Hatton, one of America's foremost authorities on municipal government led the protest against Jourdain's ousting.

Evanston is an aristocratic North Shore neighbor of Chicago and is ranked as one of the world's wealthiest suburbs.

Jourdain was elected to the Evanston City Council in April, 1931, for a two-year term.

Los Angeles, Cal., Feb. 11.—That stark misery trails in the wake of the ruthless discrimination practiced against Negro workers who seek employment on the Hoover Dam project at Las Vegas, Nev., was the assertion of Buster Buford, war veteran, who has lived there for the past six months.

Buford's charges substantiate in every detail those made by the Associated Negro Press some time ago. He drew a harrowing picture of more than 200 Negroes denied work of any kind at the mushroom town that has

How can she be so stupid?

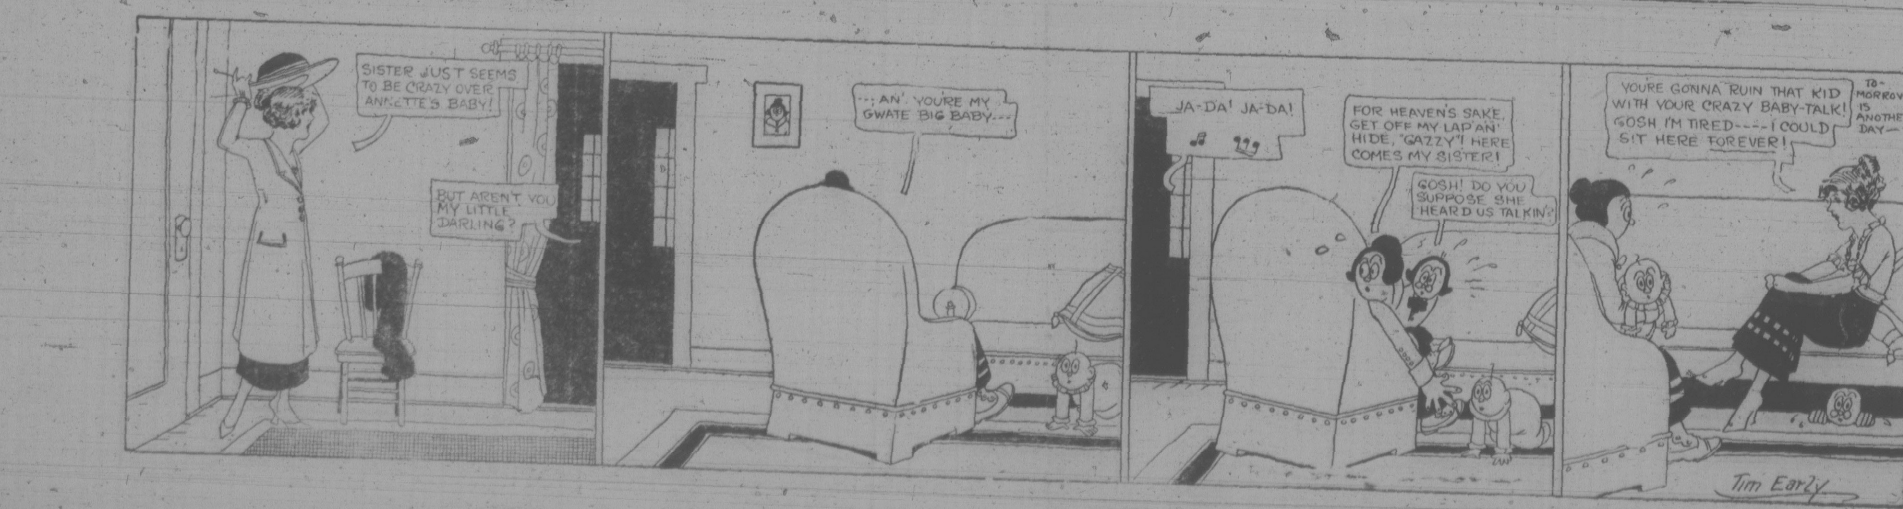

It is dumb stupidity for any woman to have bad breath. It offends others—ruins you socially. The worst of it is you, yourself, never know when you have it. But you can be sure that you won't have it by gargling with Listerine. It instantly ends halitosis—improves mouth hygiene, and checks infection. Lambert Pharmaceutical Company, St. Louis, Mo., U. S. sprung up around the Nevada city. Housing facilities are pitifully inadequate, Buford revealed, and Negroes are living in a section of the city known as Old Town. Their dwellings are old piano boxes, ragged tents, or any other kind of rude shelter of the weather.

Chief of these private concerns is the Six Companies, a San Francisco corporation. This company refuses to employ Negroes in any capacity and all efforts to obtain jobs or even a respectful hearing are balked by its superintendent, Mr. Crow. The only Negro on the job is employed by the smaller New Mexico company.

The government link in this outrageous affair is supplied by Mr. Blood, chief of the federal employment office at Las Vegas. All labor hired for the construction work is supplied by this servant of the people. But Blood's office will not hire Negro workers despite the fact that the labor turnover is about 300 per day.
