DON'T BE FOOLISH

A lot of people are going to be sadly fooled when they wake up and find that beer and wine will not be available immediately following the election this fall.

It is easy enough to say the eighteenth amendment should be repealed; it is easy to say the Volstead Act should be modified. But the process is long drawn out and tedious—a process which is necessary to safeguard irrational action by people in moments of hysteria.

Undoubtedly the sentiment today is headed away from prohibition. Unpleasant experiences have made many people heretofore strong for prohibition desirous of a change from our present system. But it will come when some definite plan is worked out which will prevent the return of the saloon, regulate the traffic so as to protect the dry community in the best possible manner—it is impossible to keep liquor from dry communities altogether, bring revenue to the government and take less money for enforcement.

UNWORTHY PUBLIC OFFICIAL

A source of the greatest embarrassment for Negroes of Des Moines is the question of bathing facilities during the summer months. Because of the poor condition of the river and sand pit, about the only places available are Camp Dodge and Ashworth pools and the Jim Crow periods offered at the High School pools.

The Park Board is contemplating a pool at Birdland Drive. But they nor the playground association have taken any steps to put a pool in God's Park or any other community where a considerable number of Negroes reside.

Recently the Playground Association abandoned a free bathing privilege at Camp Dodge for youngsters after the N. A. A. C. P. protested that no provision had been made for Negro boys and girls. This action of the association is very shortsighted and demonstrates clearly that they are incompetent and unfit for their jobs. Any social activities which do not take into consideration the Negro children are but subterfuges and a breach of trust which they assume as directors of the work.

Nobody seems to know who causes all of this trouble. Every inquiry develops a "buck passing" from one to the other. As yet we are not certain who is doing the dirty work, the Playground Association or the Director. But whoever is responsible has no business on the job.

HEALTH TALKS

By Dr. H. H. London

SUNSTROKE

Ill effects from excessive heat may be noticed with or without any derangement in the functions of bodily organs but take place more easily when some system or organ is at fault. Sunstroke or heat exhaustion may indeed occur very suddenly on very hot days when the one so affected has been in the direct sunshine for too long a time. Persons who go to the tropics are very liable to become sick with one of these forms of heat diseases and on the other hand those who live in the tropics permanently never become so acclimatized that they are immune and fall victims if some care is not taken to avoid undue exposure to the sun's rays. Heat of an intensity exceeding that of the body by a certain degree is the factor in the production of this condition as it occurs in the engine rooms of steamships, for example, and in any place where there is surrounding intense heat in hot weather. The tennis court is a place where this condition might occur. A form called Heat Cramps occurs in workers in summer, there being severe pains in the legs and arms after exertion.

The first indication of a common form is headache which was the chief symptom in the son of the Shunnamite woman in II Kings, IV, mentioned by Dr. William Osler. Many cases indeed do occur in the harvest fields. If headache is kept in mind as a beginning in this condition during the summer months many cases of this severe illness will be prevented. Children unable to express themselves should be placed where the heat is least intense. Fainting in hot weather is very many times so caused and those who for any reason must be careful of a certain system, for example, the circulatory system—would be the first affected if the heat was of a certain intensity. Once affected in any way by heat the nervous system is less resistant to it whenever the temperature becomes extreme and those once affected will show nervousness or headache or excitement or some symptom when the temperature begins to rise. Permanent damage to organs sometimes occurs following an attack.

a part in the east. Prohibitionist speakers in Indianapolis pointed out that the southern states which bolted Smith in 1928, giving his witness as their reason, now stand convicted of religious bigotry as the real cause for their defection, inasmuch as they all voted through their delegates at the Democratic national convention for a wetter plank than the one on which Al Smith lost the south four years ago.

"Trace of this controversy came up in the Democratic national convention and may rise up to plague the Democrats in some of the northern cities where the pro-Smith vote is considerable."

Immediately following the 1928 election the Bystander said editorially that the South voted against Al Smith's religion and not his stand on the prohibition question. This year if they support Roosevelt—and there is no indication that they will not—they stand convicted of one of the biggest expressions of religious bigotry ever witnessed in this country.

Texas Mayor To Offer Anti-White
Primary Resolution
New York, July 1.—Leaders of the Democratic Party including Alfred E. Smith; Senator Robert Wagner and J. P. J. O'Connell, chairman of the party executive committee, wrote to the N. A. A. C. P. acknowledging receipt of the race relations plank submitted by the N. A. A. C. P. for inclusion in the Democratic National platform. Mr. Shouse wrote: "I shall be glad to bring it to the attention of the Committee on Resolutions."

The N. A. A. C. P. announced that although a race relations plank had been sent to Republican leaders including President Hoover, Senator Simeon D. Fess and James R. Mayor C. M. Chambers of San Antonio, Texas, has publicly announced that he would go before the Democratic National Convention, in Chicago with a resolution demanding that Negroes be given the right to vote in all state primaries of the party.

Physical care is basic and absolutely necessary. We would not substitute something else for it. Wise and proper feeding and sane and sensible clothing are essential to physical health and well being and custom and common sense provide for them fairly well. Good schooling, plenty of books and good proper play are all essential and there is room for much improvement in all these lines; but all of these combined do not take the place of or substitute for a rational emotional training, which is the very greatest need of youth, and of us all today; a fact which is more and more evident as the whole problem of personality adjustment is better understood.

On every hand, many astounding things are being said concerning the obvious short-comings of parents and teachers and workers with youth, and there is as yet such a complete lack of understanding among even the most intelligent folk in regard to the emotional development of young boys, coupled frequently with the idea that we already know it all and are doing a good and satisfactory job, that it will take a tremendous campaign of education to open our eyes to the perfectly marvelous unguessed possibilities of youth when once we know better how to train wisely and effectively this hidden self, the emotion. The significant factor after all, is that it is essentially a home job. It must be done before school and work and social contact begins, so that it is essentially up to parents.

The Home and That Boy of Yours

By F. H. CHELEY

TRAINING GOOD ANIMALS NOT ENOUGH

MOST parents seriously attempt to be good animals. That is to say, from the standpoint of the physical care of our children we do pretty well in most particulars. Not many children starve; most are at least occasionally bathed and many still "canter along." Mothers do provide reasonably suitable clothes and seek with a positive irritation for the black ringed neck and the finger nails "in mourning."

Hard to Grasp Facts of the Stellar System

At first the brain reels a little in the attempt to grasp the facts of the stellar system, even explained with the lucidity and exactness of which Sir James Jeans is a master. From the vast extensions of the sky he carries us into the inmost recesses of the atom, where the electron whirls around its perpetual circuit several thousand million times every second. These numbers, says the London Spectator, are but dazzle painting, and it is simpler to say that the electron travels as far in a second as our latest seaplane travels in an hour. Sir James Jeans has a happy fertility in such comparisons, and forcibly strikes the imagination when he tells us that if the carbon atom were magnified to the size of Waterloo station, its electrons would be represented by six wasps flying round in the vast vacuity. All the rest is emptiness; and so in the celestial spaces it is immense odds against any given spot being occupied. "We live in a gossamer universe, pattern, plan and design are there in abundance but solid substance is rare."

One of Life's Tragedies

They sat gazing into each other's eyes. At last he slipped from the sofa and, kneeling at her feet, gave utterance to the sweeping thoughts that were swelling up his mind. "Darling," he said, "sometimes I think how lucky I was to be born in the same century as you, to have met you. It seems as if Fate had intended us for each other since the beginning of time, and that at last the great design has been completed in my love. It has been Fate, my dearest, Fate." "Aye," she replied, "a little wistfully, 'it was fate all right. Your fate. If I hadna tripped over your fate jumpin' on the bus..." And they pondered over the tragedy of might have been.—London Tit-Bits

LONDON, England, July 1.—Rumors and beliefs were materialized when on Saturday, Mrs. Eslanda Goode Robeson, the wife of Paul Robeson, internationally famous singer and actor, announced that she was suing for a divorce from her husband. The announcement that she was suing for a divorce with the couple. There has been an understood and mutual separation between the two for the past two years. They were married 11 years ago.

To Get Divorce Soon
"I began proceedings in New York courts about a month ago and hope to have my divorce soon," she said. "It is all perfectly friendly and we will keep on being friends, but we've seen so much of each other and both are just a bit tired and want our freedom."
Mrs. Robeson referred to the recent far-fetched Nancy Cunard rumors, which have long since been proven foundationless.

Mrs. Robeson is retaining custody of their son, Paul, Jr. The boy has been in the care of his grandmother, Mrs. Goode, for the past three years. The singer has been known to say that he has scarcely seen his son in the past two years. It is also alleged that some of the difficulty in the family has been due to the interference of the mother-in-law in the affairs of the Paul Robesons.

Hint Book Caused Trouble

"Another theory is that the book by Mrs. Robeson, called 'Paul Robeson, Negro,' brought out two years ago, was partly responsible for the misunderstanding between the couple. In this view disclosed, in a combination of idleness and expose, the most intimate things about her talented husband.

Interviewed by the press at the Casino theater, where he is the star in the revival of Zeigfeld's 'Showboat,' the singer made answers to all questions asked.

"If my wife wants a divorce I won't try to stop her—I'll give it to her," Paul Robeson said Saturday when told that his wife had sued for divorce in London.

Washington, D. C.—July 1.—A plot to jail Marcus Garvey, titular head of the Universal Negro Improvement association, who is now in exile in Kingston, Jamaica, on new mail fraud charges, if and when he sets foot on United States soil, was uncovered here Saturday. Garvey is now negotiating for his return to America.

According to reports, former members of Garvey's "back to Africa" movement, believing that Garvey is planning to return to the United States to reunite the factions of his organization, are now reported to be collecting damaging evidence and transmitting the material to government officials here in an effort to build up a new criminal case against their former leader.

Madison, Wis.—Governor Philip F. LaFollette will have swift messenger service this summer.

Ralph Metcalfe, Negro sprinter from Marquette university, who has broken intercollegiate records in the dashes and is regarded as the outstanding American candidate to win in the Olympics, Monday took a temporary job to replace Sam Pierce, 72-year-old Negro messenger to the governor. Metcalfe expects to use his $115 monthly earnings to help finance his trip to the Olympics.

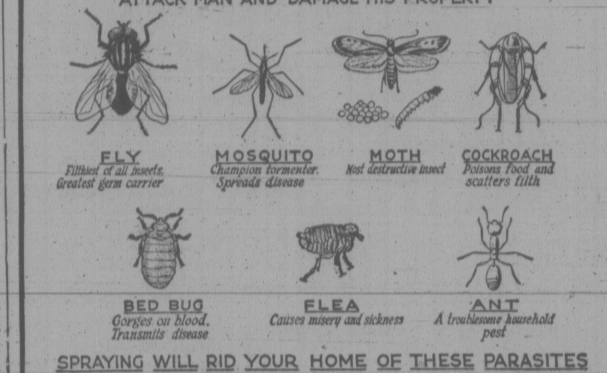

Washington, D. C., July 1.—Disregarding all pleas for calling off the annual convention of J. Finley Wilson, grand exalted ruler of the Improved Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks of the World, is determined to hold the 33rd annual meeting of the grand lodge Aug. 22 to 27.

Washington looms as the place of meeting. If satisfactory financial arrangements can be effected the official decision to hold the meeting here will be announced about July 1.

Los Angeles was selected as the 1932 meeting place at 1930 convention in Detroit. At the convention in Philadelphia last year the selection of Los Angeles was confirmed. Internal dissension and jealousy among Elks in Los Angeles, coupled with economic conditions, resulted in Golden West lodge, which was to have entertained the grand lodge in August, adopting a resolution asking the grand exalted ruler to postpone the 1932 convention.

$858,000,000 ANNUAL U. S. LOSS FROM INSECTS

"THE FEARFUL SEVEN" HOUSEHOLD PESTS WHICH ATTACK MAN AND DAMAGE HIS PROPERTY

SPRAYING WILL RID YOUR HOME OF THESE PARASITES

With poison of her own creation but inoculates the blood with malaria, yellow fever and other infectious ailments.

"The most is the most destructive of the seven," Doctor Hedenburg declared. "The damage it does to woollens and other fabrics is dreaded by every housewife. The cockroach is most repulsive—it scatters germs wherever it crawls, and spoils food with which it comes in contact.

"Dangerous infection may result from the bedbug's bite, as it is also a germ conveyor. The flea transfers germs from rodents and vermin to the human body. The ant—especially the red ant—is a robber and despoiler of foodstuffs.

"Safety from the menace of these insects can only be attained by immediate, thorough extermination at the first sign of their presence, it was declared. Doctor Hedenburg declared that a good spray is the most effective and efficient destroyer of insects, because the method exterminates wholesale and quickly."

HOUSE FLY IS MAN'S MOST DEADLY ENEMY

30 DISEASES ARE SPREAD BY FLIES

Germ of Tuberculosis, Diphtheria and Smallpox Are Transported by Insects.

The common house fly is the most dangerous enemy to mankind, causing more than 75,000 deaths annually, according to Dr. O. F. Hoffenberg, director of the Rex Research Foundation, Chicago, which is engaged in a nationwide warfare on "public enemy" insects.

"These deaths result directly from germs carried by the fly from its unsanitary breeding places to man and his food," said Doctor Hedenburg. "Deaths caused by flies are many times more than those caused by wars and wild beasts of all times.

"About 30 diseases are known to be spread by germs carried by flies. The most common are typhoid, infantile diarrhoea, cholera, and dysentery. Census reports show that infantile diarrhoea, better known as 'summer complaint,' germs of which are transported by the fly, causes more deaths among children than measles, scarlet fever, whooping cough and diphtheria put together."

Other common ailments traceable to flies are tuberculosis, anthrax, eye disease, diphtheria and smallpox.

Health authorities declare that the fly can be eliminated most effectively by destroying breeding places—refuse and garbage piles, by screening windows and destroying the flies that get into the house with a good fly spray.

Researcher the Foundation's laboratories has definitely proven that fly-papers, powders and swatters are inefficient as exterminators. The favored method—spraying—should be applied with a hard sprayer directed towards the walls and ceilings of the rooms. The mist drawn into their breathing pores paralyzes the flies, quickly causing their death.

THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, that we urge that the Democratic Party, in its National Convention, to insert in its platform a plank for a reciprocal tariff, thereby enabling our debtor nations to buy and sell in our markets. ## Might Be Excused for Using Strong Language

A few nights ago a spectacular fire left a warehouse a smoking ruin. Five alarms were sounded. Eleven reporters—two working and nine out to enjoy the fire—rushed to the scene. A columnist, who had no business there but loves to run after the enigma, got his feet wet and caught cold.

The conflagration was the destructive sequel to a minor blaze that had scorched the establishment a few hours earlier. The first fire was discovered by the owner of the building who sent in the alarm, watched the fire-fighters apparently extinguish the flames, and then went home.

Before retiring he telephoned a contractor to call around the next morning to see about repairing a few windows, painting the doors, and otherwise touching up the place here and there.

At seven o'clock the next morning the contractor called upon the owner at his home and together they went downtown. Arrived where the building should have been, the contractor looked at the smoking pile of debris and then at the owner. "Just what was it you wanted me to do?" he asked, puzzled.

Because of the owner's fine Sunday-school record, we don't like to tell what he replied.—Pittsburgh Post Gazette.

How Volcanic Islands Act as Safety Valves

Niuafoou is one of the Tonga, or Friendly Islands, situated halfway between Samoa and Fiji in one of the most restless geological areas in the world. Stretching across the South Pacific from Samoa to North Island, New Zealand, there is a huge fissure in the earth's crust. Volcanic islands, such as Niuafoou, strewn along this gigantic crack, act as vents for the molten mass within the earth. The Jack-in-the-box island of Falcon has popped up from the ocean's bottom at least twice, only to be washed and blown away each time by sea and wind. Only recently it has made its reappearance again in larger size, acting as one of these famous safety valves for the earth's mighty internal furnace.

To passengers of steamers passing close, the island looks like any other tropic isle, green with vegetation and coconut palms. Clean white houses and thatched native churches set in grassy lawns dot the hillsides. When wind and sea are quiet, landings are made in small open boats which are guided skillfully into a nook partly sheltered by fingers of lava flow. Such landings are dangerous and exciting, because the boats bob up and down with the incoming rollers and scrape against the steep, jagged cliffs.—National Geographic Society Bulletin.

Obeying Instructions

Farmer Smith had a supply of winter cabbage to plant.

Arriving at the farmyard, he called over one of his laborers. "George," he said, "I want you to plant these cabbages, but remember to plant them well apart."

"Ay, sir," replied George, and went about his task.

The following day the farmer again went in search of George.

"Well," he said, when he found him, "did you plant those cabbages as I told you?"

"Yes, sir," was George's reply. "I planted some in your garden and some in mine. Is that far enough apart?"—London Answers.

Jewish Emblem

Just as the oak from which came the navy that made Britain mistress of the seas, became the national tree of England, so did the beautiful lofty palm, which gave oil, timber and dates to its people, become the national tree of what we like to call the Holy Land. Judah Maccabaeus had it engraved on his coins as a symbol of Jewish victorious. Vespasian, the Roman emperor under whom the Jews were finally defeated, engraved it on his coinage as a token that he had vanquished Judah. The palm tree was well understood to represent the Jewish people in ancient days, as indeed, it does in a sense today.—Montreal Star.

list of prohibition officers more men to combat the illicit sale of liquor. This naturally entails greater government expense. We believe that the government's experience to forestall the liquor traffic has proven to be a failure, both in money and in men. THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, that the Negro Democrats of Iowa and elsewhere ask that their party, in the convention, endorse the repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, not to ask the Democratic Party any special favors for our group any more than they would bestow upon any other of its citizens. These favors have been promised by the G. O. P., but in most instances they have availed our people little. All we ask from the hands of the Democratic Party is equality before the law, social justice, economic freedom, and that political suffrage be granted to Negroes all over our land.

The unemployed situation in the United States has reached a height that has never been known in the history of our country. Full dinner pails have become empty and prosperity, as was promised the laboring class by the Republican Party, is a thing of the past. Therefore all branches of business are thus affected by this great mass of consumers of American Products, who no longer have any means to earn a living; consumption being based upon ones ability to buy. The present administration, as yet, has furnished no relief for the ten million unemployed. BE IT RESOLVED, that we favor the insertion of a plank in the platform of the Democratic Party which will insure quick and prompt relief for the starving unemployed.

Moran Church Holds Series of Meeting

St. John Baptist church of Moran terminated one of the most successful revivals in the history of this church Sunday evening. During the afternoon seventeen candidates were baptized as a result of a ten day revival. The strong spiritual fervor of the meeting was extended for many miles influencing human souls in the towns of Dallas, Zookspur, and Perry. Souls were regenerated and reclaimed in these towns and sent back to tell their friends what great things the Lord had done for them. All classes were taken to Christ by the onslaught of the army of God by this militant host of St. Johnites. The number of accession was twenty-four which number simply doubled the membership of St. John's former membership. Rev. J. H. Ross, pastor, is worthy of the

SPRAYING MOST EFFECTIVE WAY TO DESTROY FLIES

The Wrong Way to exterminate flies

The Right Way to exterminate flies

Spraying - gets all the flies - prevents spread of disease germs carried by flies - leaves no stain, harmless to humans and animals

SCIENCE FROWNS ON SWATTING FLY

Urges Use of Insecticide to Kill Fly as Well as the Germs He Carries.

Leading health authorities declare that a single fly can carry 6,000,000 germs and because of this serious health menace they warn that the appearance of flies in the home is a danger signal to be quickly heeded by the careful housewife.

Dr. O. F. Hebenburg, director of the Rex Research Foundation, Chicago, which is engaged in a nation-wide warfare on flies and other "public enemy" insects, states that a study of the habits of flies shows that it is impossible for them to live without their bodies being continually laden with germs. "Flies hatch, grow and crawl only in the most unsanitary places," said Dr. Hebenburg. "They come direct from these places to the home."

"The only effective modern method of exterminating flies is to use a good home spray. It is very unsanitary to swat the fly because swatting merely releases the millions of germs in and on the hairy body and the insect's sticky footpads. These germs remain alive and scatter to contaminate human habitation and food. Swatting also soils walls and fabrics."

"A sprayed insecticide will instantly kill flies and the germs they carry. This spray when 'shot' to the ceiling and walls forms a mist cloud that clears the room not only of flies but other pests. It is stainless, entirely harmless when breathed by humans and animals, and has a pleasing odor. "Extermination by spray leaves no stains or other disorder to clean up. The dead flies are easily disposed of by sweeping or with a vacuum cleaner."

So that's where the Doctor comes from!

An actual incident told to us by one of our customers, showing how one telephone call may be worth more than telephone service costs in a lifetime.

Funny looking thing up there, isn't it? Daddy's somewhere up there when he's gone. I've heard him. The doctor's there, too. Mama says it got him when I fell and got hurt—so I couldn't cry or anything.

We've tried to give you the thoughts of this toddler. His mother helped us. Mothers have a way of knowing. And this mother tells how their telephone got the doctor in time when her baby fell while playing and became unconscious.

Your telephone protects life and property; saves time and expense of trips; keeps you in close touch with friends and relatives—all for a few cents a day.
