Stage Set For Tenth Olympiad In California

By Everett Wadsworth

The curtain lifts Saturday on the tenth Olympiad at Los Angeles, as forty nations with two thousand world champion athletes will pass in grand review with 350,000 spectators attending the 14 days of peerless competition. In 775 B. C., history states, a five day Pan-Hellenic festival was held at the foot of Mt. Olympus, legendary home of the Greek gods. The first Olympiad included oratory, music, art and literature, with athletic contests only as minor issues. The affair finally developed into a dual track meet between the Romans and the Greeks.

St. Louis Host to 1904 Meet

The first modern Olympiad was staged in 1896, at Athens, Greece, in honor of the ancient fete. The following Olympic games were held: Paris, 1902; St. Louis, 1904; special feature at the World's Exposition Fair; Athens, 1906; London, 1908; Stockholm, 1912; (war prevented 1916 meet); Antwerp, 1920; Paris, 1924, and Amsterdam, 1928.

Everett Clay, 1055 Seventeenth St., took first in the men's section with a carved candelabra. He will receive $10 merchandise certificates from a department store.

The contest closed Saturday afternoon after more than a month's competition. Sponsored by The Tribune, it was arranged by community centers of the Public Welfare bureau in conjunction with the city playground commission.

the new Olympic high jump record of 6 feet 6 1/2 inches with Van Osdel and George Spitz, is slated to make a strong bid for first place honors.

Ralph Metcalfe, Marquette speed lad, is doped to win the 100 meters event and without a doubt, first or second in the 200 meters. Eddie Tolan, former Michigan flash, is favored to place among the winners in the 100 meters and 200 meters, giving the U. S. a heavy lead in the sprints.

Gordon Has Stiff Opposition

Eddie Gordon, A. A. U. broad jump champion from Iowa, will place among the topnotchers but will have to stretch to defeat such leapers as Sylvio Cator of Haiti and Chuhel Nambu of Japan. Louise Stokes of Boston and Tydie Pickett of Chicago, members of the women's relay team, will have a tough time outlasting the girls from Poland headed by Stella Walsh, formerly of Cleveland.

Speaker Garner Dodges Veterans

Washington. (CNS)—When Congress closed its doors last week and tramped down the broad steps of the Capitol its members had to pass thru rows of hungry and destitute veterans who have been here eight weeks seeking relief for themselves and their families.

Members of Roy Robertson's insurgent California regiment, famous for their "death march" around the Capitol plaza were joined shortly before adjournment by the crippled veteran leader W. W. Waters and placed a petition in the hands of Speaker of the House John Nance Garner on behalf of their fellow veterans, both white and colored, requesting that Congress not adjourn but recess. Garner promised to take up the matter but shortly after arrangements had been made, he left the Capitol building by an unobserved door and boarded a train for Uvalde, Texas, from a station in the remote section of the city.

Desire to Help Condemned Boys in Spite of Attacks by Communists on Association Prompts Sending Check to Walter H. Pollak

New York.—The N. A. A. C. P. has sent its check for $1,000 to Walter H. Pollak, leading New York lawyer, who is in charge of the appeal of the condemned Scottsboro boys to the United States supreme court.

The N. A. A. C. P. board of directors in its July meeting authorized the contribution out of the legal defense fund because the Association is deeply concerned with the fate of the boys, above every other consideration in the case. The board chose to send the check in spite of the slanderous attacks which have been made on the Association and its officers by various speakers, writers and publications of the Communist party.

An Eminent Lawyer

The fate of the boys is regarded as resting in the skilled hands of Mr. Pollak, who has been retained as chief counsel by the International Labor Defense, which is conducting the case. Mr. Pollak is an eminent lawyer and was at one time an associate of Justice Benjamin N. Cardozo of the United States Supreme court. The N. A. A. C. P. feels that in Mr. Pollak the boys have one of the best lawyers in America.

Ziegfeld Death Recalls Negro Stage Stars

New York.—Harlem, as well as Broadway, mourns the passing of Florenz Ziegfeld, premier producer and originator of the Follies, because of the unlimited opportunities he gave to colored actors.

Jules Bledsoe, singing "Ole Man River," Will Vodrey, arranger of all Ziegfeld music scores, Paul Robeson, baritone star of "Showboat," numerous all-colored choruses and countless others owe their success to this man.

There will be a night game Tuesday, August 9.

Two Iowa boys will be on the pitching staff: Chet Brewer, former Des Moines boy of Crookston, Minn., Stars, this year star hurler of Washington, popular with the local fans as moundsman here two years ago, and Joe Lillard, former all-state athlete from Mason City, lately of the University of Oregon; football and baseball star.

Houston, Texas.—Negro voters on Monday sought the arrest of Harris County Democratic primary election judges for refusing them the right to vote Saturday. Several hundred Negroes attempted to vote but in most instances they were refused the right by election judges and clerks who were backed up by police stationed at the polls to prevent disorder.

U. S. Commissioner Winston McMahon was given the names of the judges and clerks who had refused the Negroes admittance to the polls. The lawyer who presented the names was told to take the matter up with the district attorney's office.

It is surprising to know how many people believe we are going to have the saloons back after election day.

With all the conventions over, candidates selected and the issues pretty well made up the campaign will soon be going with full force. Democrats make lots of noise and often confuse the voters but we are inclined to think that people will think seriously and vote so on election day.

STRONG ISSUES

Some people have criticized the Republican and Democratic parties for giving much attention to the liquor question and too little to unemployment relief. These statements are generally made by those who don't seem to get the drift of public thinking.

It is generally conceded that this Congress has gone a long way in its effort to relieve the depression. Legislation which was passed has not been in existence long enough to tell what results will follow, consequently it is folly to propose more legislation at this time.

But the liquor question does have many angles: taxation, law enforcement and employment. Most people believe a solution of the problem will help these causes; and until a change has been made in our liquor status, the subject will be uppermost in the minds of many people.

THE FAIR RULE

In some of the events, Negro athletes will represent America on its Olympic teams. They were selected from a field with all-Americans to pick from on the basis that the best man wins. Any other basis of selection would not only have been unfair but it is pretty certain that the best man might not have been picked.

If we used this same rule in business, political and economic activities there would be no race problem. There would be no reason for Negroes to complain of injustice or lack of opportunities. But we are working in that direction. The very fact that Negroes have this opportunity shows it; other signs point that way every day.

NULLIFICATION

There is considerable evidence that efforts are being made to keep Negroes out of the Democratic primaries in Tennessee and North Carolina, and this, in spite of court decisions to the contrary. Nullification of the fifteenth amendment and court decisions go hand in hand with nullification of the eighteenth amendment and the Volstead act. But these bone dry states don't seem to understand it.

HEALTH TALKS

By Dr. H. H. London

THE EYES

The eyes must be looked after at regular intervals and if this is not done more than likely there will occur some form of eye disease that will result in loss of sight or in some disfigurement of the eye or eyes and when the eyes are disfigured there is also some form of disfigurement of the face and in fact the good looks are spoiled. Now you know there are many eye diseases which are local, that is, which occur within or on the eye or in the conjunctiva. The conjunctiva is the lining of the eyelid and when the lid is pulled down or the upper lid turned under it is seen as that bright red part, the only part seen when this is done and that part is bright red. So that is what is known as the conjunctiva and when any one gets something in the eye the lid is turned down or either turned up to remove the article and what is seen when the lid is pulled down is what is called the conjunctiva. Now this part becomes inflamed sometimes and this inflammation is called conjunctivitis.

This is a somewhat serious disease because it is hard to cure if it is not treated persistently and one who is so afflicted will have trouble of many kinds and will think perhaps that the sight is being interfered with due to some trouble within the eye itself. In conjunctivitis there is what is called lachrymation which is the formation of tears without anything to cry about. Now ordinarily tears are formed but they pass into the nose through a very small tube and they are formed consistently in just the right amount so that no excess passes out onto the face.

Of course in crying there is an excess which shows also that an excess is also formed in conjunctivitis and this is done to soothe the inflamed surface of the conjunctiva. This helps but something more must be done to cure it and that's just why you shouldn't let this disease become chronic because it will be so hard to cure and the condition so troublesome to you that you will wish many times you had taken it before it became so.

Now you just watch your eyes and if you notice anything in the corners or any tears running down when you have nothing to cry about you should just go see about your eyes and you should see about them soon because this means that you have conjunctivitis and if you wait until it is chronic you will have more trouble than you think in getting your eyes back to normal and if you do this many other forms of eye disease will be prevented.

Washington, (CNS)—Members of the Bonus Expeditionary Force are showing little inclination to take advantage of the free transportation offered by the government and those who do are being intimidated in various ways by the more radical elements.

Transportation has been furnished to 1,358 veterans and about 250 of them were colored. There were on the 14th of July, 1,487 applications and of which number about 300 were colored. Of 45 men who left Washington in their own cars four were colored. The men were provided subsistence at the rate of 75 cents a day.

The appropriation bill provides for the veterans but does not provide for their families. Wives and children accompanying their husbands are being provided for by the Red Cross.

Raleigh, N. C., (CNS)—Inability to pronounce words in the State Constitution and alleged inability to define them to the satisfaction of Democratic election judges, were some of the reasons given for striking the names of 210 Negro Democrats off the list of registered voters in the Democratic primary held here recently.

Intoking practices reminiscent of the days of the "Grandfather clause," white Democrats of the state, serving as qualification judges asked vague questions concerning pronunciation of words in the State Constitution and the meaning of technical legal terms. Meanings and pronunciations given by Curtis were alleged by the judges to be incorrect and he was disqualified; well-known business and professional men were also declared by the judges to have insufficient understanding of the State Constitution to enable them to qualify.

"Dr." Paul Admits Faking in Order to Get "Social Standing"

St. Louis.—Young "Dr." Bernard Paul, claiming to be 26 but looking about 21, breezed in St. Louis two weeks ago and proceeded to give the society circles a high-toned fling that it will not soon forget. He was introduced, hailed and entertained as "Dr." Paul, born in Bordeaux, France, a graduate of Columbia University of New York City and of the Harvard Medical School of Boston, Mass. His suave looks and princely manner made him a piece de resistance in the social circles. But Wednesday afternoon he was arrested as a confidence man, a fraud and a suspect. He confessed that he was not a doctor and that he had never attended a medical school or college, but that he was an elevator operator by profession.

The Home and That Boy of Yours

By F. H. CHELEY

PARENTS AND THE NEW DAY

IF TRUE parenthood is a skilled profession then, and more and more modern parents are recognizing it as such; if our homes and home life are taking on a new and larger significance because we understand more exactly the home's job, what are we going to do about it?

We have certainly and rather suddenly come into a brand new appreciation and understanding of the boy and his needs. The press, the pulpit, public address, progressive educators and parents everywhere are calling for a new regime in the American home, which will take into account the new understanding of the nature of the boy—calling for an army of parents who will abandon old-time educational and disciplinary methods as obsolete and outgrown, and to join the ever increasing army of those who desire a more definite knowledge of applied and proven psychology, pedagogy and physical and mental hygiene, as it applies to youth.

However, there is just one basic fact at just this point that must not be overlooked, and that is, the parents themselves—we must start with the parent to get a more satisfactory home, before we can hope for progress with the boy. There really is no boy problem. In a certain sense—it is primarily a parent problem, finally reflecting itself in the boy. It is the parents who essentially create the emotional environment, while the boy makes or breaks himself in responding to it.

A dominant, bossy, decisive father who rules with an iron hand and enjoys the sense of power which his technique brings him, may be quite entirely responsible for a timid, half afraid, even cowardly boy, who has never dared to have an idea of his own, much less express it and who, as a result, may be deceitful, dishonest, or so full of fears and inferiority that he feels totally inadequate. He is simply responding emotionally to the sort of emotional environment the father provides. We know of a bashful, potentially fine lad whose eyes invariably fill with tears when his father, a fine man, cracks the whip. The place to begin with that bashful boy is with his father. IDEAL VACATION

Aren't you just a bit tired of the city? Wouldn't ten days away from it, out among the cool, lofty hills be a great relief to you? Well, that's just what camp offers, a delightful change from the daily routine of city life.

The Y. W. C. A. camp is an ideal place for Iowa girls to spend their vacations. Offering all the activities that delight the hearts of girls, carefully supervised and located in a beauty spot, the Des Moines River Valley. The camp provides an all-around vacation for girls of all ages.

Since we are expecting so many new campers this year, here are a few suggestions of what you should bring to camp as a necessary and desirable outfit: 2 warm blankets, sheet, sweater or coat, raincoat, swimming suit and cap, skirts, towels and toilet articles. Now for things that are not necessary, but always desirable: Tennis equipment, flashlight, musical instruments, kodak and costumes.

Don't forget girls, everyone of you should buy and wear a Y. W. C. A. button. To wear one means: "I believe in the fullness of life for every girl." "I am willing to share in order to help bring it about."

Buy one of these buttons and help some girl to attend camp.

Those girls who wish to sell buttons can get them from Mrs. J. G. Browne, 1419 Maryland or call 3-6359.

Accumulation of Ages in Dead Sea's Flotsam

Travelers in the Holy land visiting the deepest hole in the earth's surface, that occupied by the Dead sea, into which the Jordan empties itself, are always struck with astonishment at the sight of countless numbers of palm tree trunks, heaped by the waters on its banks.

There are now no such numbers of palm groves in the vicinity, or on the banks of the Jordan, the Arnon or other rivers flowing into this sea, as would account for so prodigious an amount of debris. Any attempt at building a fire out of the mass of flotsam, results, after exercising much patience, in feeble, blue flames of no great intensity. The wood is heavily impregnated with salt from the Dead sea—Salt sea, or Lake Asphaltites as it has been called—that is, is pickled and will last for centuries.

The accumulations of countless ages are represented in those piles of roots and logs, carrying the mind back to the time when the first incursion made into Canaan, near Hazzon-Tamar, or "The Rows of Palms," the modern Engedi, (Genesis, 14:7), captured Lot and his family, but were followed and defeated by Abraham.

TENTH OLYMPIAD GREAT CHANCE FOR COLORED ATHLETES

Coincidentally, with the arrival of seven bronzed athletes from Greece, the nation which started the Olympic games in old Athens in 776 B. C., seven Negro stars of the cinder path and field were striving for glory and honor to represent the United States in the tenth Olympiad which will open in Los Angeles, Saturday, July 30th, with 14 days of the finest exhibition of athletic skill known to man.

Sixty-eight athletes, ranging in ages from 17 to 40, occupying 71 places in 23 separate events and representing every major athletic center, will vie for the supremacy of the world with the flags of fifty nations on the varied with almost superhuman efforts with the colored wearers of Uncle Sam's shield playing prominent parts. Not since the days of the Salem Crescent club of New York, and such men as DeHart Hubbard, Sol Butler, Ned Gourdin and others, have Negroes attracted so much attention.

Colored Favorites Make Team

In the greatest track battle in history for places on the U. S. Olympic team at Stanford stadium, Palo Alto, California, last Saturday, 4 world records were surpassed, fifth equalled and Olympic records were bettered in 10 of 18 events.

Ralph Metcalfe, of Marquette University, the greatest speed demon of all times, scored a sensational double victory in the sprints leading Tolan, Detroit, and Simpson, former star of Ohio, to the tape in 10.6 for the 100 meters, equalling the Olympic record and in 21.5 for the 200, surpassing the Olympic standard.

Eddie Gordon of Iowa University broad jumper, added to his countless laurels by placing second in the event and making the Olympic team the second time.

Tolan Victorious Over Wyckoff

Eddie Tolan, former Michigan sprint marvel, furnished the main thrills of Friday afternoon, when he whipped across the finish line faster than any Olympic 100 meters have ever been run in :10.4, leading Frank Wyckoff, Southern California ace, by at least a yard. Charlie Paddock, retired record holder, in witnessed this feat, emphatically declared: "Considering all conditions, you've just looked at one of the fastest and greatest races ever run."

Beatty Falls Over Hurdle

Eugene Beatty, Michigan State Normal hurdler, failed to make the team, having the misfortune to fall over the last hurdle in the final 400 meter heat in which he would have been easily won. James Johnson of Illinois State Normal, dash man, placed sixth in 100 meter final.

Among the favorites eliminated were: Brooks of Chicago University, fourth in the broad jump, who placed fourth in the final; John Johnson of So. California, who finished fifth in this event, Geo. Williams of Hampton Institute, national collegiate champion in the javelin throw, and Willis Ward, a Michigan sure bet in the high jump, failed to qualify. Booker Brooks of Michigan, discus thrower; John Lewis, Detroit, 400-meter hurdler; ran third in 1-2 heat; Nathaniel George, W. C. A. C. 100-meter dash, fifth place in first heat, and Leroy Dues, Detroit City college, shot put.

The U. S. Olympic squad will be composed of 340 of the nation's "cream of the crop", as follows: Track and field (men), 68; Track and field (women), 18; swimming, 38; lacrosse, 25; gymnastics, 22; fencing (men), 18; fencing (women), 3; field hockey, 17; boxing, 16; wrestling, 14; weight lifting, 10; equestrian, 9; cycling, 8; revolver, 3; rifle, 3; yachts.

The Old Mohawk Church

The old Mohawk church, the oldest Protestant church in Ontario, is on the Six Nations reserve near Brantford, Ontario. The grave of Chief Joseph Brant is alongside its walls, and the church is proud of the silver communion service and Bible presented by Queen Anne. The service is inscribed: "The gift of Her Majesty Anne, by the Grace of God, of Great Britain, France and Ireland, and Her Plantations in North America. Queen to Her Indian Chapel of the Mohawks, 1712." The church is a popular place for tourists.

Salt and Sugar

A young woman entered an east end drug store and bought some supposed salted peanuts.

"There's no salt in these peanuts," she protested.

"Well, we don't salt them much—salt hardens your arteries."

"Oh, is that so? Try eating a little sugar sometime and see if it won't soften your heart!"

Here ended the conversation. Print—Indianapolis News.

Waterloo, Iowa, July 22—A white man has been arrested and held to the grand jury here by the Waterloo branch of the N. A. A. C. P., on charges of rape and manslaughter following the death of Mrs. Mollie Mitchell, colored, on June 19. Mrs. Mitchell was found half-nude and in a stupor in an abandoned house. Local police rushed her to a hospital and attempted to ascribe her death to alcoholism. Investigation by members of the N. A. A. C. P. indicated that Mrs. Mitchell had been drugged and criminally assaulted by four foreigners. All four were arrested, but three were released for lack of evidence. The third is awaiting action of the grand jury.

The legal work for the branch is being handled by M. F. Fields, the president.

Early "Dictionaries"

Before there was a dictionary, people literally "did without." Over 2,500 years ago the Assyrians had one of their languages pressed in cuneiform characters on clay tablets. One authority says: "The Arapahans, the Greeks, and the Romans, too, compiled dictionaries; they did not make use of a language, but contented themselves with listing rare or difficult words." Lexicons were a development of the Middle Ages. The first English dictionary which aimed at completeness was that of Nathan Bailey, published in 1721 and called the "Universal Etymological English Dictionary."

All through the ages, since human misfortunes were first chronicled, man has struggled to protect itself from its chief enemy and wartime enemy and manages—the common house fly which is credited nowadays with causing 75,000 deaths annually.

Paulus Silentiarius, the Roman, accomplished the first really progressive step in outsmarting the fly in the Sixth century, A. D., according to O. F. Hebenburg, director of the Rex Research Foundation, Chicago, which is starting a modern nation-wide warfare on household insect pests. This worthy Roman ordered a fine net built around his bed to keep the flies away so he could sleep in peace.

His method proved so good that it was used until recent years, as was the later and more widespread idea of "swatting."

"More real progress in fly extermination has been made in the last five years than in the previous five centuries through the development of scientific chemical sprays which destroy flies in homes and elsewhere wholesale without injuring humans or animals," Doctor Hebenburg said.

"This crowning achievement was accomplished at Mellon Institute in the form of liquids which, sprayed into the air, form a mist cloud that may be breathed by people with perfect safety but which quickly and efficiently eliminates all insect pests in a room. It leaves no stain on clothing or walls."

Doctor Hebenburg declares that homes should be sprayed with a good insecticide twice daily, once, perhaps in the afternoon, to protect baby's nap, and once just before bedtime, thus destroying all germ carrying or otherwise destructive insects that may have entered through opened doors or meshes in the screens.

CHEMICAL SPRAY SPEEDS MAN'S WAR ON HOUSEHOLD FLY

THE ELEVENTH ANNUAL CONVOCATION

of the CHURCH OF GOD IN CHRIST IN IOWA will convene with the FIRST CHURCH OF GOD IN CHRIST at University at McKinley Ave. JULY 31, 1932

"These are the feasts of the Lord, even Holy Convocations which ye shall proclaim in three seasons, Lev. 23:4."

Brethren, these are days when the churches can be of the greatest help to the nation seeing that wise men in their judgments are turned as it were, backwards. As was predicted by Isaiah Is. 59:14. "And none seem able to know just how to lead the nation out of its distresses." We, therefore, can turn to our God in prayer and He will be as merciful to us as Israel of old. See 2nd Chron. 7:14.

Therefore we are holding a ten days' meeting, that we may pray together as well as reason and speak together of the things we so badly need. Let all Christians join with us in prayer during this convocation. We are told by the Lord to try Him.

Each day of the meeting will be of interest. Prayer from 9 to 10 o'clock; Bible lesson 11:30; Preaching 3:30 and 8:30 each day. Saving business days.

Elder Erving W. Wilson and Elder Max Goodman will be the chaplains through the convocations opening all services; Elder G. W. McGlothlen, Chairman of Finance Board, taking charge of all finances of every source of the meeting; Elder Thos. Mayberry, Chairman and Manager of State Stand.

MONDAY, AUGUST 1st—General Day of Convocation. Placing of delegates confirming chairmen. Monday Night—Introductory sermon by State Overseer, Dr. E. R. Driver. Tuesday regular service as above stated.

TUESDAY NIGHT—Civic Night. His Honor the Mayor, Dwight N. Lewis, will deliver an address, making us welcome to the city. The Hon. Chas. P. Howard, City Prosecutor, will follow his Hon. the Mayor in an address. An address by Rev. W. E. Guy on the part of the Interdenominational Ministers Alliance. Tuesday night, the 9th, B. W. How Volcanic Islands Act as Safety Valves

Niuafoou is one of the Tonga, or Friendly Islands, situated halfway between Samoa and Fiji in one of the most restless geological areas in the world. Stretching across the South Pacific from Samoa to North Island, New Zealand, there is a huge fissure in the earth's crust. Volcanic islands, such as Niuafoou, strewn along this gigantic crack, act as vents for the molten mass within the earth. The jack-in-the-box island of Falcon has popped up from the ocean's bottom at least twice, only to be washed and blown away each time by sea and wind. Only recently it has made its reappearance again in larger size, acting as one of these famous safety valves for the earth's mighty internal furnace.

To passengers of steamers passing close, the island looks like any other tropic isle, green with vegetation and coconut palms. Clean white houses and thatched native churches set in grassy lawns dot the hillside. When wind and sea are quiet, landings are made in small open boats which are guided skillfully into a nook partly sheltered by fingers of lava flow. Such landings are dangerous and exciting, because the boats bob up and down with the incoming rollers and scrape against the steep, jagged cliffs.—National Geographic Society Bulletin.

Obedient Instructions

Farmer Smith had a supply of winter cabbage to plant. Arriving at the farmyard, he called over one of his laborers. "George," he said, "I want you to plant these cabbages, but remember to plant them well apart." "Ay, sir," replied George, and went about his task. The following day the farmer again went in search of George. "Well," he said, when he found him, "did you plant those cabbages as I told you?" "Yes, sir," was George's reply. "I planted some in your garden and some in mine. Is that far enough apart?"—London Answers.

Jewish Emblem

Just as the oak from which came the mast that made Britain mistress of the seas, became the national tree of England, so did the beautiful lofty palm, which gave oil, timber and dates to its people, become the national tree of what we like to call the Holy Land. Judah Maccabaeus had it engraved on his coins as a symbol of Jewish victories. Vespasian, the Roman emperor under whom the Jews were finally defeated, engraved it on his coinage as a token that he had vanquished Judaea. The palm tree was well understood to represent the Jewish people in ancient days, as indeed it is in a recent issue of the Montreal Star.

New York, July 15—Although Secretary Ray Lyman Wilbur, of the Interior department, personally assured a joint committee from the N. A. A. C. P. and the National Bar Association that Negroes would be employed on the huge Hoover dam at Las Vegas, Nev., in June, the government and the contractors are still pussyfooting and no Negroes have been hired.

The daily payroll at the dam has averaged $10,000 through the winter and has run as high as $18,000. The government contract with the construction companies that U. S. citizens be employed, but so far only white citizens have drawn any of the huge payroll. About sixty foreigners are working at the dam.

Secretary Wilbur and the Six Companies, Inc., builders of the dam, are resting on the technicality that Negroes will be employed "when additional men are hired", in other words, when the present force at the dam is increased. However, a colored resident of Las Vegas reports to the N. Bar Association do not see why Negroes are taken on each day, replacing New York, July 15—Charles H. Houston, Dean of the Law School at Howard University, has accepted the A. A. C. P. that the turnover in the present force runs as high as 80 a day. The N. A. A. C. P. and the National grocers cannot be hired at once inasmuch as from sixty to eighty new those who are dropped or who quit.

NEGRO DEMOCRATIC FACTIONS MAKE BID FOR CONTROL OF CAMPAIGN SET-UP

Chicago, Ill. (CNS)—The question as to what group will handle the Negro end of the campaign for the Democratic Party remained undecided this week, as Jim Farley, new chairman of the Democratic National Committee busied himself with the general set-up of campaign leaders following the Roosevelt-Garner nomination a few days ago. That there will be a Negro division similar to the one headed by Julian Rainey of Boston, Massachusetts in 1928 seemed a certainty, however.

tional Office of the N. A. A. C. P. and the District of Columbia Branch in Washington have locked horns over an indebtedness of some $3,000 incurred in meeting the expenses of the 1932 Annual Conference held in Washington in May. The two bodies are engaged in a spirited controversy as to who shall foot the bills or out of what fund the necessary money shall be taken to meet a deficit of several hundred dollars.

It is stated that the District of Columbia branch guaranteed to the National Office $1,500, minus such sums as the other branches would contribute to the conference fund. Despite the fact, however, that the Washington Branch has raised and sent to New York more than $2,300 and other branches have sent in for conference expenses more than $400 the National Office claims that the branch in Washington is obligated to pay a deficit of several hundred dollars. The expenses of the Annual Conference amounted to some $3,000 and the Washington Branch has suggested and made a positive request that any balance due on the guarantee be met by taking the money from the membership fund raised in the District of Columbia this year.

This request is denied and strongly opposed by the National Office on the ground that it is contrary to the rules and regulations of the Association.
