Stage Shows at Paramount Oct. 14

A real treat for stage and screen fans is on tap in Des Moines when Agnes Ayres, James Hall and Marjorie Babe Kane arrive Saturday, Oct. 14, for a personal appearance at the Paramount for one week.

Supporting the three stars are three big time vaudeville acts and a "line" of ten beautiful chorus girls brought from the studios of Hollywood.

Mr. Hall's most famous role was in "Hell's Angels," the great Howard Hughes aviation thriller, in which he played opposite Jean Harlow.

COLORED ACTORS IN "TARZAN" FEATURING BUSTER CRABBE

Hundreds of colored cinema stars of Hollywood are featured in the "Tarzan" series made famous by Edgar Rice Burroughs.

"Tarzan the Fearless," the serial based on the famous ape-man of the jungle, which opens at the Strand theatre, lived up to all the advance claims made for it.

Buster Crabbe as Tarzan is ideal in the title role. The extraordinary young man, a veritable Greek god in appearance, accomplishes amazing feats with an athletic agility that stamps him an athlete of exceptional ability.

Madam Daily met Tuesday with the local executive committee of fifty representatives of the churches and women's clubs of the city and made a tentative assignment of characters.

Negroes Must Be Treated Right, Or No Federal Aid For the South, Says Chief

Roberts Insults Race Over Radio; Halted by NBC

Washington—(CPS)—Citizens of this city became enraged and indignant while listening to a broadcast of a testimonial banquet honoring the newly crowned victors of the American League, Monday night, when a speech being delivered by L. W. Roberts, Jr., white, assistant secretary of the treasury, became so insulting and obscene that it was necessary for the National Broadcasting Company to momentarily halt the procedure three times.

Present at the banquet were dignitaries from all walks of life—headed by Postmaster General James A. Farley. Other city officials there were District Attorney Leo A. Rover, J. Edgar Hoover, head of the investigation bureau of the Department of Justice, Police Chief Ernest W. Brown, Marshall Edgar C. Snyder, E. Mattingly, Senator Pat Harrison, of Mississippi, Representative Juba J. Cochran and others.

In reply, Walter White, secretary of the association, asks if the National Recovery Administration "is so helpless that it cannot at least sharply reprimand the persons who have done this thing... and if the N.R.A. is restrained from publicly repudiating such viciously unlawful activities in the name of the N.R.A."

Washington D. C.—General Hugh S. Johnson, NRA chief, and his staff of officials are determined that the Negro workers get a fair deal under the industrial codes. This was proved Sept. 28 when the general and one of his deputies told southern industrialists, bent upon establishing lower wage scales for Negroes, "You'll submit to codes which deal fairly with Negro labor or your states will get no federal money."

To help General Johnson ascertain whether the wage scale is right, Mrs. Mabel Byrd, Negro economist of the University of Chicago, has been placed in the NRA division of economics for the purpose of observing the possible exploitation of Negro workers in all codes.

DRIVING OUT MINISTER CALLED "LOCAL AFFAIR" BY NRA HEADS

New York, Oct. 1.—The driving out of town of a colored minister by Selma, Ala., whites because he refused to endorse a code lower than the NRA standards was called "an infraction of local laws" by Alvin Brown, assistant to General Hugh Johnson, in answer to a letter of complaint from the N.A.A.C.P. Mr. Brown's letter said "it is not clear what steps this administration might properly take or suggest."

In reply, Walter White, secretary of the association, asks if the National Recovery Administration "is so helpless that it cannot at least sharply reprimand the persons who have done this thing... and if the N.R.A. is restrained from publicly repudiating such viciously unlawful activities in the name of the N.R.A."

Colored Girl Is Star of Big Revue

Ethel Waters is SENSATION ON BROADWAY New York—(Special)—A tradition that has lasted from the birth of American theatricals until now is being very emphatically broken every night at the Music Box theatre where Sam Hazzis is presenting his new musical show, "As Thousands Cheer," in which Ethel Waters is declared by critics to be the real star.

Ethel is the only brown-skinned woman performer in the extravagant production whose music was written by Irving Berlin. The very famous Marilyn Miller and Clifton Webb, whose names are among the very brightest on Broadway, were intended as the stars but Ethel Waters, with her husky voice and wicked eyes, stole the show.

In previous Broadway musicals such actors as Paul Robeson, Jules Bledsoe, and Bert Williams have in times past had featured places in big-time successes, but never before has a colored woman ever been featured.

she will produce in one of the large auditoriums of the city in the near future, under the auspices of the local Negro churches and women's clubs.

The theme of the pageant is woven about the trials and tribulations encountered by a Christian soldier fighting his way from earth to glory and is interspersed with the singing of Negro spirituals by a mammoth white robed chorus representing the Heavenly choir.

FIK DRIVE NETS $3,500 IN 2 DAYS

Negro Division Goes Over Top in Big Way in Drive TO CLOSE SEPT. 30

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Oct. 7.—The Negro division of the Fisk University $25,000 current budget campaign led by Howard H. Napier was reported in the first report to net $3,500 including $1,000 in gifts. On Monday evening 100 workers were present at a dinner meeting in the Memorial Building where the annual talks were made to workers by Chairman Napier, President Thomas E. Jones and L. Smith, agent for the Fisk University. Mr. Smith, having had long and varied experience in raising funds for Negro schools, pointed out numerous instances where Negro rural communities had raised as much cash money as had been expected of the Nashville Negro community in the campaign for Fisk University. Or that basis he made an earnest appeal to the workers present what Nashville Negroes should do for a college like Fisk which has meant so much to this community and the country as a whole.

Although it was expected by the officials of the campaign that the second night's report would show a comparatively smaller collection, however, seventy-one workers present reported $988.10. Much interest has been aroused by the fifteen colonels actively working day and night determined to close the campaign by September 30th.

A large silver loving cup is being competed for by the women's division led by Mrs. J. Frankie Pierce and the men's division led by H. S. Seale. A smaller trophy is being awarded to the largest of the team reporting the largest amount of money before the campaign officially closes September 30th.

Cotton Picker Shot In Field

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Oct. 7.—While picking cotton in the brushy field near the Buckeye Oil Company, Frank Moore, 28, 73 Tiltman street, was shot in the left shoulder and back by an unidentified gunman. The wounds were inflicted with a shotgun. Police officers of the city made an investigation, but they were not able to find the assailant. Moore stated that he could not say whether his attacker was colored or white. Nor could he offer any reason why anyone should shoot him. He was taken to the city hospital for treatment.

Primitive Baptists Hold Largest and Best Session AT BETHLEHEM

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Oct. 7.—The Cumberland Association of the Primitive Baptist Churches of which Rev. Zepa W. Hill, Moderator, held its 51 Annual Session at the Bethlehem Center, 15th Avenue, North and Cedar Street, Sept. 29-31.

This session proved to be the largest and best session that Cumberland Association has recorded. Messengers and visitors representing the Primitive Baptist Churches of Tennessee, Kentucky, Indiana, Alabama and other states, constituted an audience of more than 600 people who crowded the auditorium daily.

There was also present messengers and representatives from other Associations of the Primitive Baptist Family better known as Lynch Creek, Big Harpers, Ebenezer, Indiana Creek and Friendship. The opening sermon was delivered Saturday morning by Rev. H. Weekly, assistant Moderator of the Cumberland Association, and indeed his topic was timely and his exhortations wholesome and uplifting.

WELL-KNOWN WOMAN PASSES

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Oct. 7.—Tuesday evening, Sept. 26, at 2 p. m., Greater Bethel A. M. E. Church was the scene of a funeral for Mrs. Quince Webster, an ardent Christian worker and an ardent follower of Christ. The floral offerings were many and beautiful, a fitting tribute to a good and noble life. Mrs. Webster, loved by her family and her church, the pastor, Rev. E. M. Ross, stressed in his sermon the beauty of service, her life being truly one of service because she worked for one family for sixteen years. She will be missed in the community in the same way as she often called her very large circle of friends because of her sunny, quiet disposition and unassuming nature.

Dr. Fuller preached a beautiful sermon, "I Wonder Why" and the choir sang "We Alone" and other favorite hymns. Mrs. Webster's funeral service was held at the Greater Bethel A. M. E. Church. She was buried in the city cemetery. Mrs. Webster was the daughter-in-law and other relatives and friends.

Memphis Tutor Lauds Penal Institution

By NAT D. WILLIAMS

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Oct. 7.—(Special Reporter's Note)—From casual remarks of a chance conversation, the occasional reporter for the Memphis World stumbled upon a quiet and unassuming young man, a native of Memphis whose name proves to be of a most interesting nature. He is a public school teacher. It is his interest and activities in regard to prisons which invites to be unusual. It was because of his surprising statement in regard to local prisons that I present interview with and other salient. The World takes pleasure in presenting Prof. Harry T. Cash, teacher and coach at Grant school and student of criminology.

I am not telling you this because I am a resident of Shelby County, but because I hope to gain your particular benefit from the statement, not because it is my candid opinion after four years of observation and visitation through more than twenty of the most noted prisons in the United States that the Shelby County Penal Institution (more generally known as the workhouse) is the best conducted and most sanitary prison I have ever visited, and all accommodations are the same for both white and black.

"With this statement, Mr. Cash started me into a storm of questions. For ever since I can remember the Shelby County workhouse has been the worst thing in the imagination of the local Negro. So I pressed him with questions. Among the things I wanted to know was why and why had he visited all those prisons he mentioned. I was readily enlightened. In his own words, Mr. Cash proceeded to make the following explanation.

"I have been interested in prisons ever since the day, four years ago, when I reported chairman of this committee to investigate delinquency (both juvenile and adult) among local Negroes. The work was done after I accepted the position of chief of the office of Assistant Chief Clerk of the Railway Mail Service, at present held by Emory A. Bryant, Jr. of this city.

"It is feared that the Postoffice Department may decide to abolish the office entirely, thus depriving members of the position of official rank in the supervisory branch of the Postoffice Department. Ever if the Department is not abolished, there is much irredemption because of the fact that Mr. Bryant, the 'smarted person' of the company law, and will be forced to leave the service because his wife is also employed in the government service. Mrs. Bryant is teacher at the Miner Teachers' college here. When questioned by the local ANP representative, W. L. Donaldson, deputy secretary, in the absence of Second Assistant-Howes, said that at present nothing is being contemplated for that office. However, it is generally known throughout the government service that the economy laws are aimed at abolishing practically all field positions, and this job would be classified as such.

"Meanwhile Mr. Bryant is still undecided as to who shall feel the axe or take the dismissal, himself or his wife. But one or the two will have to leave the government ranks. It is understood that a probable extension will be granted Mr. Bryant until after 30 days, during which time he can decide what his course will be.

At the same time local influential postal workers are grooming a Washington man to fill the post. In the event that Mr. Bryant's retirement will not mean the end of the job, and they are preparing to swing their influence behind this man, and also that of the National Alliance of Postal Employees. The name of the man chosen is being withheld from publication, at the present time, but he is understood to be a member of the Alliance, and one who is well qualified to fill the place.

PROVIDENT STAFF JEFFERSON COAGE IS NAMED BY U. OF C.

IS NAMED BY U. OF C. 'INTERPRETED' BY SCRIBE

WASHINGTON D. C. (By Treasurer W. Anderson for the ANP)—What kind of a man is Jefferson Coage, the Recorder of Deeds of the District of Columbia? The question once of no consequence is becoming one of major proportions here in the Nation's Capital, where both Democrats and Republicans are working hard to get Coage re-elected in office while members of both parties are raising cash every hand for his support. Job-seekers white and colored alike, and while discussion and strife run amuck in the office, on right and left.

For several months politicians have watched the job, which pays the nice sum of $5,600 per annum, and wondered what it would fall under the axe. There are several dates including Truly Hatchett of Baltimore and Thomas Coage of this city; each National Committee, in his downtown office and dead on no patronage, but just stays put.

Incidentally, while reports are flying thick and fast, there is one which keeps seeping through and which avers that the Republicans Recorder of Deeds is "playing ball" with Coage. Once it is said, Coage "had no use for Coage," but out of the opening of the economy period appointed Mr. Costello's sister-in-law to the post of First Recorder, while firing several of his employees who had from seven to fifteen years of service in the office to make room for what have been termed "favorite appointees." No matter what the rumors say, Coage's sister-in-law is still holding her $3,700 per year job, and Republican Coage is still holding his $5,600 political plum.

Of course, all this may seem vague to the uninitiated, but there are some politics in the situation, and Hon. Jefferson S. Coage is proving himself a much shrewder man than he has been given credit for. There is hardly another office in the Government system which has had the strife and internal and external trouble which this one has had, and surely there must be some point to it all. Of course, it is well known prognosticators, and a theory, and between you and me, and fourteen million other Negroes it is Brother Coage's Negro attitude in office to keep their Negro attitude and that at the proper time Democratic National Committee man John F. Costello, who will issue his favored plum to a white district man. It is understood that Coage has said that he favored a D. C. white man for the job, although he has not taken any steps to remove Coage. Nevertheless, Negroes interested are lining up their offensive and strengthening their fortifications to insure a stiff fight for the retention of his office by a Negro. The 1933 year is a struggle just ahead.

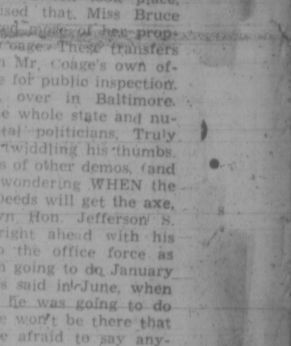

Peculiarly, the present holder Coage is in office, by virtue of having been placed in the office force of the Recorder of Deeds, by his predecessor, Arthur G. Froe of West Virginia, who granted the office of Second Deputy to Coage in order to make a place for Coage, who after Froe's death in 1930 succeeded to the throne.

Mr. Coage has had a violently rough administration, and he is not as well liked, or even admired by those who work in his office, either while he was in office, or in instances where they have been outspoken in their criticisms of him, of his violent temper and cross disposition. Serious strife between Coage and Froe has been recalled by incidentally recalled when Froe told Coage where to get off, when Coage in his subordinate position tried to put things in the office.

It is further said that Coage has allowed his personal dislikes and grudges to enter into his administrative adjudication of the affairs of his office and last June he was on the carpet for firing recklessly, after excluding efficiency rating but nothing came of it.

NRA RINGS TRUE

Efforts on the part of certain Justices submitting codes to the NRA for approval to discriminate against Negroes as to minimum hours and pay have met with flat rebuffs from General Hugh Johnson and President Roosevelt. Speaking to a group of southern lumbermen at the capitol in Washington, Gen. Johnson said:

"I'm keeping my eye on you lumbermen. I intend to make some investigations of my own and if this new wage scale isn't right, up it goes again."
At the same time that the general was dealing with the nonconformers in the capitol H. H. Wait, deputy administrator, openly and forcefully was telling industrialists from five southern states assembled in Atlanta that no exceptions would be made in the wages of Negroes.

"Federal money will go into the states only on this condition: that all labor—white, black or brown—is going to get 40 cents an hour and a 30-hour week. That's final. There will be no exceptions."
Thus it appears clearly that the administration will tolerate the NRA on the color question, no unfair tactics in dealing with it is gratifying to have this advantage.

But the big job will come in the local communities where these industries are located. Will they abide by their codes? Will the enforcing agencies see that the law is enforced? If this is done the Negro will share directly the benefits of the NRA. Otherwise not.

BACK TO THE FARM

In an article on "The Economic Plight of the Negro" Prof. Kelly Miller of Howard University says:

"After the Blue Eagle has folded its wings, the Negro's industrial and economic lot will be substantially as now. I do not believe that any hope lies in the manifesto of the late America Conference that we may hope for proffer man. Capitalism, mindful of its own best welfare, will accord the Negro as much opportunity as the white laborer will permit it to do. There is still some remaining germs of hope in appeal to the sense of justice and fair play of the American people. Religion, though much the worse for wear, has not yet, like the spearpoint on the bed post, lost all of its flavor of beneficence. I can see but one ray of hope amidst the encircling gloom, and that is the old Booker Washington gospel of having the race root itself in the soil."

"If there be little hope in the domestic service from which we are being driven or in trade and manufacturing pursuits where the arrogance of white labor more and more tends to reduce the Negro to a minimum, the only remaining large scale occupation where race prejudice is least effective is on the farm. Hard and uninviting as the rural prospect is, it furnishes the best outlook. The race slogan should be, if not "Back to the Land," at least "Stay on the Land."

We are fully in accord with Prof. Miller's theory that the Negro, north and south, would do well to join the "Back to the Land" movement. And while it is no cure-all for our ills, it at least affords an independent living for thousands who know how to farm better than anything else.

ARTHRITIS

When one begins to notice trouble within a joint cavity

without an acute condition affecting the joints like the typical joint disease Acute Rheumatic Fever you may be quite sure that the condition producing pain, soreness and stiffness within the joint has been acting for a long time. Any infection which has left any focus of infection within the body is liable to act continuously to produce a joint condition, and this is so of any of the infectious diseases and not infrequently these follow carious, abscessed and poor teeth. The peculiarity about joint conditions left without treatment is that they tend to become fixed and immovable so that the joint, which is intended to be movable, becomes stationary, so that instead of being two bones with an intervening joint cavity they become in reality one bone with a one-bone function. This of course is not to be desired because many movements are lost which are useful and convenient.

When this beginning change within the joint is first noticed, treatment should be begun immediately to stop the change and to eradicate the process which is causing the elimination of the joint cavity. Most joints which have become absolutely fixed and immovable are considered hopelessly incurable by the person affected but this is not true. Surgical operations in a great majority restore these joints to normal function.
