Senator Costigan Will Ask Support of Nation

New York, Dec. 8.—A call to all Americans to join in a fight to the finish against lynching was issued here this week by the N. A. A. C. P. Senator Edward P. Costigan of Colorado telegraphed Walter White, N. A. C. P. secretary, from his home in Denver, saying: "You may announce to me in senate on opening day of congress." Senator Costigan stated in a newspaper interview: "If mob violence is to run riot in America in place of orderly justice the end of free government on this continent will have come. The sober sense of this country does not, and will not, sanction such blind and menacing lawlessness."

United Support Needed
The national legal committee of the association, assisted by experts on constitutional law, is now drafting the bill which will contain all the good features of the Dyer bill and other bills to give it teeth. Senators Hamilton Kean of New Jersey, Henrik Shipstead of Minnesota and Burton Wheeler of Montana have announced they will support and vote for a federal anti-lynching bill.

Began in August
A federal law is made necessary by the evidence on all sides that local communities and states are unwilling to stop lynching, the association said. The Eastern Shore of Maryland lynchings were by Governor Ritchie to arrest lynchings and Governor James Rolph, Jr., of California stayed at his desk to prevent troops being sent to San Jose to stop a lynching. These two examples and dozens of others are cited by the N. A. C. P. in support of federal anti-lynching legislation. Mr. White said the N. A. C. P. had begun work on this federal bill in August, following the lynchings in Tuscaloosa, Ala., and had issued instructions in its fall letter to its 378 branches October 1 to interview their congressmen and senators seeking pledges of support for such a bill in congress in January.

Sports By Allen Ashby

All State Selections

Do you like hash? We have it here: football, basketball on the same platter. Important news of the week was the placing of Lawrence Redrick of East on the first all-state high school team. Redrick proved himself a high class man in all departments of end play and rates the honor. Six feet tall and having a big frame, to put meat on, Laurence should be a good man if he goes to college. Along with Redrick on the first team was Capt. Theatrick Gibbs of Dubuque, who was described as one of the best open field runners in the state. Gibbs was said not to have any outstanding weakness on offense or defense. A host of other boys were found, sprinkled on other teams: Naife of Cedar Rapids, Black of Ottumwa, and Parks of Council Bluffs. This with the fact that Gibbs and Ashby of Davenport captured two of the best eleven in the state made it a golden era of football for our high school boys. Never before have there been so many outstanding Negro boys all over the state. The only tough part was that there were no noted linemen; everybody were backs and ends.

Ward Best End—Solem

Ward of Michigan didn't make anybody's all-star team but Ossie Solem of Iowa, says that Ward was the best end his team faced all year. Potoskey got the publicity, but Ward played the game. We agree with Solem and if anybody doubts our Ward, let him ask Minnesota; Cornell, Indiana and Northwestern, not to mention Ohio, State and Chicago. If Ward were a senior he'd have been given reams of publicity. Watch him next year.

Ankeny Closes Season

Our season at Ankeny is over. We lost our last game when the Hawkeye A. C. came out under the name of East D. M. A. C. and trimmed us 6 to 0 then returned home with the report that they had defeated a reformed team. We didn't care about playing that game because of Jackson and that fact alone cut our efficiency and handicapped our offense. Shafforth of Iowa State, filled in and played a lot of ball, but he didn't know our plays or system; with all due respect to Shafforth he is no Jackson. We are glad that the season is over and we have learned several valuable lessons. That we hope, was the last year we won't have a colored team.

Trotters Beat Packers

The Globe Trotters opened the basketball season by dusting the Iowa Packers Co. in their usual manner Monday at the Y. M. C. A. by the score of 29 to 28.

Suffers Broken Nose in Fight

Ben Rich, city detective, who was suspended Nov. 24, by Chief H. A. Alber for "conduct unbecoming an officer for using excessive authority" received a 90 day suspension without pay by the civil service commission after a hearing Wednesday night. Rich may appeal to the district court, according to Charles Guth, chairman. George Zook, 20, taxi driver, assaulted him on the night of Nov. 20 as he and John Rhodes, city detective, ordered the cab moved from double parking, according to Detective Rich. Zook accused the detective of attacking him without "identifying himself as a policeman."

Rich admitted slapping Zook at the jail, however, Zook said that he hit the officer two or three times "before he knew that he was fighting a policeman." Capt. J. A. Brophy, night chief of detectives testified that when the detective and the taxi driver, were relating the incidents, Zook told Rich to "shutup" breaking the officer's nose with his fist.

Brophy and other officials commended Rich for his meritorious work in the recent breaking up of an auto theft ring.

Hawkeye Elks Elect Officers

The Hawkeye Elks Lodge held their annual election of officers Wednesday evening as follows: Alfred Shepherd was re-elected exalted ruler; Lucius Ashby, secretary; A. J. Claybrook, treasurer; James Tober, esteemed leading knight; Essie Holt, esteemed leading lady; John Owens, esquire; Ernest Peak, inner guard; William Forester, Tyler. The installation will be held at the first meeting in January.

Dixie Official Put Out of NRA Office

SOUTHERN COMPANY SEEKS EXEMPTION FROM CODE WAGES
Washington, D. C., Dec. 1.—The Selma Manufacturing Company, with headquarters in Selma, Ala., and branches in several southern cities, has applied to the NRA for exemption from the wage scale contained in the code for the textile bag industry. This company is the one which caused the Rev. E. D. Hughes to be driven from Selma when he refused to endorse a lower scale of wages for Negroes under the NRA. The same company has been working its colored employees 12 hours a day for a wage of about 9 cents an hour.

It failed to get its low wage into the general code for the industry and now seeks to be exempted from the code scale so it can continue to pay colored people starvation wages. F. J. Ames, president of the company, visited Washington recently and became so abusive of the NRA officials in trying to get a special wage scale for "his Negroes" that he was forcibly put out of the office of a high government official.

Protests against the exemption of the Selma Manufacturing Company should be sent to A. D. Whiteside, Deputy Administrator, National Recovery Administration, Washington. The N. A. A. C. P., which took up the case of Rev. Hughes, already has telegraphed Mr. Whiteside protesting the exemption.

Verdict for Norris

Judge Callahan "Forgets" to Instruct the Jury Regarding the Defendant's Probable Innocence
Greenville, S. C., Dec. 1.—Mrs. Ada Thompson, widow of Bennie Thompson, who was taken from the jail at Ninety-Six, S. C., October 8, by four white men and lynched by being beaten to death, has engaged lawyers in this city to file suit against the county for $2,000 damages. This amount is allowed under the South Carolina anti-lynching law and may be recovered from the county where a lynching occurs. The county authorities are expected to try and dodge the word "lynching." They are said to believe Thompson was "murdered." The state also argued over these two words in the lynching of Norris Dendy July 4, at Clinton, S. C. Both men were taken from jail and killed. The county solicitor here will present the Thompson case to the grand jury next month.

Widow Sues for Lynched Husband

Four white textile workers are being held for Thompson's death. One made a statement confessing the crime and stating the chief of police left the jail door open for them.

Health Talks

Dr. H. H. London
LARYNGITIS
Laryngitis comes under two general types, acute and chronic; the acute being the more painful. This particular type of laryngitis may be a direct result of one of several trivial causes; common cold, over-taxation of the voice, inhalation of irritating gases, etc. Laryngitis of this type is easily distinguished by a hoarseness or loss of voice, accompanied by fever, which calls for resting the larynx, and, in severe cases, complete rest for one so affected. After repeated acute attacks of laryngitis, we find there is a chronic condition existing, which, because it is less painful, is often neglected until it is well developed. This type is accompanied generally by a tickling sensation in the throat which produces a frequent desire to cough. One should be very careful and avoid over-heated rooms, loud speaking, and, in severe cases, an over-indulgence in tobacco and alcohol, especially while the hoarseness exists. Cold applications are very helpful in this case. In all cases of beginning laryngitis, with hoarseness, one should be fearful of the probable existence of some tuberculosis in this region and take such steps that will insure its cure and prevent the spread to adjacent susceptible organs.

Murder Charge Filed In St. Joseph Lynching

Alleged Lynch Leader Named
St. Joseph, Mo.—A warrant charging first degree murder was issued Wednesday night for John Zook, a former St. Joseph policeman held in connection with the lynching and burning Nov. 28 of Lloyd Warner, 19-year old boy, charged with "attacking a white woman." Zook, according to the charges is the man who poured gasoline on Warner's body after it had been strung up to a tree. He denied the charges, officers said, however, that he had been identified by witnesses as a mob leader.

Walter Gordon, 34, is charged with malicious destruction of property for allegedly assisting in tearing a door from the jail and Carl Fisher, 24, pleaded guilty to receiving the stolen state by a member of the mob from the sheriff's office. Three other persons, arrested Wednesday, were released after questioning, however, police pickup orders were issued for several more.

Medical Testimony Disregarded

He ordered the jury to refuse to consider any medical testimony as to the impossibility of attack. The jurist gave the jury the choice of three verdicts—death in the electric chair; life imprisonment or imprisonment for a period. He forgot to inform the jury how to find the defendant innocent.

Plans to Jury

Attorney General Thomas F. Knight, Jr., who is prosecuting the case, in his final plea to the jury, demanding the death penalty, admitted that he was playing upon the passions of the jury for the sake of the white womanhood of Alabama. Liebowitz demanded that Knight's appeal be included in the record and moved for a mistrial. Judge Callahan promptly overruled the motion.

White Ambulance Refuses To Carry Negro To Hospital

PENSACOLA, Fla., Dec. 4.—Claudy Kelly returned from a fishing trip yesterday morning after stepping from a car into the path of another car driven by a sailor from the Naval Air Station. The accident occurred at the corner of Coyle and Jackson streets about 6 p. m. Saturday evening. November 25. An ambulance from the Post Hospital rushed to the scene but would not take the victim to the hospital and the Goldstucker Bros. ambulance was then called to take the wounded man to the hospital for treatment. The conduct of the wounded man is not known at the present but it is believed that the injury was quite serious as the fall was on pavement resulting from the direct impact of the car. According to reports from several witnesses, the driver was making about 27 miles per hour but the driver did not see the man until he was directly in front of the car. Kelly came from behind the car making himself invisible to the approaching machine.

The accident may prove serious for Kelly, who is a white man, and the driver of the car, a Negro. Kelly is a member of the board of directors of the Post Hospital and he is a member of the board of directors of the Post Hospital. # Digesting The News

By CLIFFORD C. MITCHELL
Serving a Columbus, Ohio, Reader:
Lester Brown, 396 Leonard Avenue, Columbus, writes:
"I would like to get lined up with some company that is putting out a high-class novelty for the Christmas market and can be used for bridge clubs, prizes, etc."
To accommodate Mr. Brown, I contacted the Clifford-Crosby Company, who can supply him with just such novelties and for the purpose he desires. In fact this is an old established firm who for twelve years have been buying bankrupt stocks of new merchandise in every conceivable line including novelties, house wares, clothing stores, wholesale houses, auction sales, millinery stores and the like while he has never selected the colored trade. He would be glad indeed to co-operate and give our men and women an opportunity to utilize their spare-time in the handling of their products and every reader who is interested in handling a high-grade line of raincoats and jackets at the very low prices are requested to write direct to Mr. Moore, mentioning my suggestion, and he will forward them without expense to the reader an elaborate and complete selling outfit, and full instructions as to how each agent can earn for himself a free raincoat in addition to many cash bonuses which will also forward his free selling outfit to the reader.

Mr. Frank to state that Mr. Moore made me a present of one of his raincoats which I am proud to wear and which is proving both wearable and stylish, so much so that I am glad to recommend my company, 1317 Milwaukee, Chicago, for their products to the Amazon Manufacturing Co. It might interest my readers who are literary-minded to know that I have contacted here in Chicago, Mr. Owen Davis, who operates a book store at 448 North Clark street, Chicago, and handles new and second-hand books of every description. In fact it is his claim that he can print in book form or be supplied by him and in most instances at prices ranging from one-third to one-half less than the regular market price of same. It will buy my readers to write the Owen Davis Book Store for information on price on any book desired to purchase and for a copy of their new monthly catalog of second-hand books.

So many firms went bankrupt during the depressed times that an unusually large stock of excellent merchandise, strictly new, has been accumulated by the Clifford-Crosby Company, 1317 North Milwaukee Avenue, Chicago, and they are now able to offer my readers throughout the country an opportunity to engage in the sale of such new stocks at prices far below the actual cost of manufacture, and with as little as five dollars for an initial investment and thus my readers can commence the business of retailing bargain stocks right in your own home or place of business. The Clifford-Crosby Company is a thoroughly reliable firm with the

JURY IS OUT MORE THAN 10 HOURS

Defense Is Allowed 30 Days in Which to File Appeal; Clarence Norris Next

THIRD DEATH SENTENCE

DECATUR, Ala., Dec. 1.—(Special.)—After debating for 10 hours and 30 minutes, a jury in the Morgan County Circuit Court found Heywood Parks, Chattanooga, Negro, guilty of the assault of two young white women near Scottsboro, Alabama, on March 25, 1931, and sentenced him to the electric chair. The defense has 30 days in which to file an appeal.

It was at six o'clock Thursday night, after hearing evidence in the trial and arguments which the presiding judge, W. W. Callahan, stated before its commencement should be over by Wednesday, that the jury was locked in for the night after being unable to reach a decision within three hours.

Returned to the courthouse the jury considered the case until 5:12 Friday afternoon, marking the record for long time deliberations in the celebrated "Scottsboro" cases.

Lining up before Judge Callahan, the jurors handed their verdict to Morgan County Circuit Court Clerk J. H. Greene, who read:

"We find the defendant guilty as charged and fix the penalty at death."

There was no demonstration in the crowded courtroom as Judge Callahan announced that he would pass the sentence later. Young Patterson was returned to jail to await his sentence, the time for the pronouncement of which has not yet been made known by the judge.

This is the third time that Patterson has been convicted and given the death penalty. The first came at Scottsboro, Alabama, in a very short time after he and his eight companions had been taken from the train that March day and, finally escaping, were taken to a "sneaky" trial.

This action created international comment. As a result, the case was taken to the United States Supreme court and Patterson's second trial, which was held here, was the first of the new trials to be granted by the United States Supreme judicial body.

Judge James E. Horton, who presided over the trial, we held that he was warranted in that, following a review of the evidence, and he was granted a new trial. Judge Horton postponed the trial of the other six. With the failure of the defense to get a change of venue, the burden of conducting the trial fell on Judge Callahan, the other judge of this circuit.

At the present time, there are five more youths to be tried in this case. One of the youngsters was adjudged a minor at the original trial and, as yet, his case has not been considered. A second had also been adjudged a minor. The trials of these two juveniles have not been set as yet in the Jackson county (Scottsboro) juvenile court.

Oddly enough, just as the jury that heard the evidence in the Patterson case was preparing to file out, a jury was being selected to try Clarence Norris, another of the "Scottsboro" boys.

Considerable trouble was experienced in finding a panel of 50 men to be used in the Norris trial, more than 125 men being examined before that number could be secured. Most of them expressed fixed opinions as to capital punishment.

Attorney Samuel S. Lelbowitz, leader of the defense battery, worried with the task of attempting to select jurors, a process that started shortly after the retirement of the Patterson jury Thursday afternoon, entered a motion for a change of venue. From that point on the grounds that 24 jurors had been selected, the majority of the populace have fixed opinions which makes a fair trial impossible here.

Some persons are attaching much significance to the fact that Judge Callahan in delivering the first charge to the jury Thursday afternoon, talked to charge the jury regarding the capital verdict. After his attention had been called by Defense Attorney Lelbowitz to this neglected duty, it was necessary to give an additional bit of explanation to the jury. Judge Callahan emphasized the "beyond a reasonable doubt" phrase in making his charge for conviction.

Patterson was locked up on a drunk charge. Fred Reynolds, of 181 Miller's alley, after receiving treatment in the emergency clinic of Grady hospital for stab wounds of the head and side, said to have been inflicted by Monroe Brown, of 305 Union street, was carried to police headquarters, where in a few hours he died of a drunk and disorderly charge. Brown, charged after the stabbing which occurred at 288 Grand street. The arrest was made by Radio Patrolman J. G. Bowman and J. B. Bishop. Others who were treated at the hospital included George Rose, 25, 344 Linden st., stab wound in the

'Hashish' Smokers Lure Students to Dens and Women Ply Trade Openly on Cedar Avenue as Students Trade Lunch Money For Thrills

POLICE WINK AT VIOLATIONS OF THE LAW

CLEVELAND, Ohio.—Wide-open vice rampant and unbridled in all its flagrant disregard for law, challenges the very existence of Central High School, East 55th and Cedar avenue—crowding in almost to the very doors of Cleveland's oldest high school in menacing manner, demanding that the boys and girls who go there for education pass these dens and see the signs that tend to lure and draw the unsophisticated into the dangerous net with its beckoning glamour of the unknown.

On Cedar Avenue, between East 55th and East 77th Streets, along the frequented thoroughfare, approximately one hundred houses of questionable reputation, gambling joints, "hashish" dens, speakeasies, and houses of prostitution flourish, unimpeded by "the unshackled" police department under the administration that has just been swept from City Hall.

Women Trade Openly.—Prostitutes of both races, with faces hidden with paint, have become so bold and brazen in plying their trade that they advertise themselves on the sidewalk about twenty-four hours a day. From as early as eight in the morning until the wee hours of another day they may be seen perched in windows at vantage points along this stretch of public street, boldly calling to passers-by in sly but plain sign-language.

So bold and defiant has this solicitation become, that even police officers on the beat and living squads have apparently bowed to the power of the vice-lords, passing the women without either warning them, or subjecting them to arrest under the numerous city ordinances that prohibit this trafficking.

Students Caught in Net.—Reports are widely current that several former students of Central High have succumbed to the lure of this temptation and have crossed the paths of these houses—taming their backs on decency and good living. Even from East Technical School, two blocks away from Central High, students of both races drift into the infested area, and like those of Central, swap their lunch money for a small thrill.

Stories of "hashish" smoking students are frequently circulated. This dangerous drug, which is a product of the plant known as "Cannabis Indica", or Indian Hemp, is reported to be sold for five cents a spike to the uninitiated, and then the price is raised to twenty-five and sometimes thirty-five cents. It is not uncommon, frequenters of these resorts report, for a high school girl or boy to take three or four "smokes" of "hashish" before the feeling of ecstasy prevails.

When girls become addicts to this drug and their funds give out, they most often resort to the easiest way to earn money and go down the long red-way to despair and ruin.

TWO HOLD-UP MEN SHOOT CHURCHMAN

BANDITS ESCAPE

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Dec. 2.—Two unidentified robbers snuffed out the life of an aged churchman, Densy Hammond, 75, 44 Bammel St., veteran deacon and treasurer of First Baptist Church, New Orleans, Sunday night at 4th and Mill during an attempted hold-up. Shot in the abdomen, Mr. Hammond died at General Hospital at 12:45.

Rev. George Reed, another member of the church, who was with Mr. Hammond at the time, was not injured. The two men left the First Baptist Church around 10:30 Sunday night and had gotten as far as Mill and Fourth where they were waiting for a Chelsea-Lauderdale Street car when the bandits, both colored, walked up and gave the usual command, "Stick 'em up." The minister was ordered to walk down Mill St. As Rev. Reed started across the street, the robbers then commanded Mr. Hammond to come with them, pointing toward the dark side of the intersection, near a white church.

Several other people coming from church in the same direction, among them Mrs. William Morgan, when Mr. Hammond saw the woman, he called to her to get an officer. It was then that one of the robbers fired, striking the man in the stomach. They had no knowledge of several years he spent in the grocery business at the corner of Bammel and Kney St. Mr. Hammond quit the grocery business about a year and a half ago to resume work at the Kentucky Coal Co. He was the only colored employee of that company to operate the various steel machines in the Kentucky Coal yards.

When asked why she had not told the baby's kidnaper, Mrs. Hammond said she was afraid to tell the police. She said she had a baby who was kidnapped by a man who was a member of the church. NEW ORLEANS, La., Dec. 4.—Mrs. Emma Lampton, 22, a resident of Magnolia, Miss., was arrested in Fernwood, Miss. last week by sheriffs of that town and brought to the city here along with a two-month-old baby which she confessed to having taken.

According to an investigation made by Broadhead reports, Mrs. Lampton in company with a friend of hers visited Mrs. Daisy Harris, 36, 2225—Delouche street, an acquaintance of the former. There the Lampton woman saw a tot, Patricia Ewing, two months, the mother of which is in Chicago, the mother of which is in Chicago, the mother of which is in Chicago.

On the evening of November 29th, the Lampton woman returned to the Harris home and while here talked with the care taker of the baby about many things. When Mrs. Lampton was informed by Mrs. Harris that the latter had seen the mother of which is in Chicago, the mother of which is in Chicago, the mother of which is in Chicago.

As Mrs. Lampton was about to leave the house, she turned when reaching the door and said to Mrs. Harris, "Isn't this a nice day, let me take the baby for a walk." Without any suspicion Mrs. Harris complied, warning the Lampton woman to remain away too long.

After several hours had elapsed and the baby failed to return, Mrs. Harris expressed grave concern and went in search of her charge. On learning that neither the baby nor Mrs. Lampton could be found from Andrew Jackson, 2217 Avenue, Mrs. Lampton woman and a baby were seen on Wednesday, and the baby was found in a car on the street.

CHURCH STILL SOLVENT

DALLAS, Texas, (AP)—The church is doing more, and has done more for the Negro, than anything else in the Negro's life, said Bishop R. A. Carter, speaking at the Dallas-Fort Worth C. M. E. conference.

Despite the many criticisms and assaults upon the Negro church, the church is still solvent, he said. He said that the church is still solvent, he said. He said that the church is still solvent, he said.

Cleveland Says "Nertz" To Late Robeson Film

CLEVELAND, Ohio.—The large colored woman shifted again, very loudly. A fraction had been directed toward her all evening, for in her and the actor she had openly expressed sincere disgust at the picture "Imperial Jones." Finally with a heavy sigh, she left herself out of the seat and made a dignified exit. That is how most of Colored Cleveland reacted to the seven version of "Imperial Jones."

Theatrical critics of other cities have written such scathing comment on the good and inferior features of the picture that theatre goers turned out in full strength to witness this extraordinary picture of the year, but were disappointed. "Why oh why," they said, "did I have to have so much use of nigger in it?" They meant just that, and as far as "Imperial Jones" is concerned, Cleveland it was the worst.

ANTI-LYNCHING MOVE.

Senator Costigan (Dem.) of Colorado has promised to introduce an anti-lynching bill in the next session of Congress. He will be remembered as the senator who led the fight in the last session of congress to maintain the appropriation recommended by Howard University.

No more psychological time could be selected to secure the passage of such a bill. Besides those who reason that the federal government can best cope with the evil, thousands have been made to think this way because of recent lynchings.

Former Representative Dyer of St. Louis, Mo., sponsored such a bill for several years while in congress. It passed the house but could never muster sufficient votes to get through the senate.

The south opposed the bill to a man and weak-kneed northerners as well. But public opinion today is too strong to balk a move destined to end mob violence.

DES MOINES MEASURING UP.

We complain and justly so of injustices and discrimination at the same time in order to encourage our leaders and our friends who help fight these demons, something commendable should be said when the situation seems satisfactory.

In Polk County, Negroes have had little just complaint as to their treatment by the relief agencies. Of course, a few isolated cases might be sighted but no system is perfect. That same system of fair treatment existed in the CCC and is now true in the PWA, and is true today under CWA.

These attitudes have existed because those at the head have wanted to be fair and because Negro and white friends have sought to insure a fair deal all along the line.

Des Moines may well be proud that it is not one of the towns which has discriminated against its Negro population as is the case with some other communities.

NO EXTENDED SCHOOL VACATION

The Independent School district of Des Moines has been authorized by Comptroller Murtagh to levy enough taxes to meet the full year's program thus obviating the necessity of an extended (7 weeks) vacation around Christmas time. To have been forced to take such a vacation would have been too much of a sacrifice for our schools when we are spending millions for other projects which while worthy are not as important as the schools.

Change of Address

The postoffice department sends a notice to this office each day of every Bystander incorrectly addressed or which cannot be delivered for any other reason. Formerly, these notices were sent without charge. Since the increase in postal rates, a charge of 2 cents postage due is made on each such notice. A large number of notices are received from the postoffice department each week. If readers of the Bystander will notify us promptly of a change in mail address, it will assist in keeping the mailing list correct and will also eliminate the charge of 2 cents on each notice received from the postoffice. Your co-operation in this matter will be appreciated.
