"Will Rogers May Insult Anyone He Choses, Anytime" Says New York Paper

LaGuardia Appoints Atty. Hubert Delaney N. Y. Tax Commissioner

Congressman to Force Cafe 'Negro Bar' Issue

Radio Powerless to Curb Funny Man's Wisecracks

Believed by many listeners to be attempting a left handed apology for his repeated use of the word "nigger" in a previous broadcast, Will Rogers, humorist-actor employed by the Gulf Refining company for weekly programs over the NBC chain, aroused further indignation among Negroes Sunday evening by referring to the Negro race as "darkies."

New York, Feb. 2.—Will Rogers is free to insult anyone or anything over the air, it became known here this week following the storm of protest over the comedian's use of the word "nigger" in his Sunday night so-called "humorous" broadcast over the WJZ network of the National Broadcasting Company. According to the radio editor of the New York World-Telegram, neither the NBC or the Gulf Refining company, which hires Rogers, has the right to interfere with the comedian's talks. He is said to have an agreement which permits him absolute freedom.

Thousands of protests have been sent to NBC and to the Gulf Refining company in Pittsburgh, Pa. The N. A. A. C. P. telegraphed the Gulf company, the N. B. C. and Cecil, Warwick and Cecil, the advertising firm at 230 Park avenue, New York City, which handles the radio advertising for Gulf Refining and an apology over the air was demanded. Roy Wilkins, N. A. A. C. P. assistant secretary, urged persons to write directly to R. J. Flood, Gulf Refining Company, Pittsburgh, Pa. The Mellon interests control the Gulf company.

Silver Anniversary Plans Completed

Mrs. S. Joe Brown, city chairman, has perfected a city-wide organization for the purpose of putting over the Des Moines end of the Silver Anniversary Drive of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, which culminates on February 12th, exactly twenty-five years from the date of the first meeting, which was held in the City of New York on the one hundredth anniversary of the birth of Abraham Lincoln, Feb. 12, 1809, and was attended by only three people, all of whom were members of the white race; and one of whom Miss Mary White Ovington is still one of the National Officers and is assisting Dean William Pickens in directing of this National Drive.

These young people have been designated an auxiliary committee to raise Des Moines quota of the national budget of one hundred twenty-thousand dollars:

Ada Graham, assisted by Jerome Southers; Jesserean Sharrap, assisted by Alpha Dixon; Myra Mergan, assisted by Virgil Mann; Eunice Rhodes, assisted by Francis Bates; Atrell Jett, assisted by Owen Robinson; Doris Jones, assisted by George Robinson; Vernagene White, assisted by Melvin Overton; and Evelyn Brooks assisted by L. T. Johnson.

Chester Brewer Is Playing Winter Baseball In Honolulu

Toured Hawaii, China and Japan Chester Brewer, former Des Moines boy, now star-pitcher for the Kansas City Monarchs baseball team, is playing winter baseball in Honolulu with the Royal Giants ball club of Los Angeles, Calif., according to a letter received Saturday by Everett Wadsworth, news editor of the Bystander.

Mr. Brewer, Dink Mothel, Newt Allen, Andy Cooper and Bullet Rogan are also members of the team which has already toured Japan, China, Hawaii, the Philippine Islands, playing to large crowds and winning most of their games.

Far East

The club has been touring the Orient since November 5, and will probably play the remainder of their games in Honolulu before sailing for the United States the latter part of March, Brewer says. "I have had an interesting visit in China and Japan," he writes. "Japan is rich in ancient culture with its legendary prints, ceremonial gowns and art mementoes, but China is the same today as it was three thousand years ago with its customs and philosophies remaining unchanged through the centuries."

Boyhood Days

Brewer will be remembered for his sterling work on the mound during his boyhood days on the sandlots of Des Moines where he won countless battles and championships in 1919-20 for the McHenry grade school team. Playing semi-pro ball with the Capital City Giants he was later discovered by the Gileson Union Giants; finally in 1925 he was given a tryout with the Kansas City Monarchs, becoming one of the greatest pitchers of all time. Several thousand fans packed the stands of the Western league ball park last summer to watch "their boy" hurl triumphs over the Des Moines Demons and House of David Nines.

Lynchers Uses Auto of Postmaster; He is Fired

New York, Feb. 2.—Robert Hancock, acting postmaster at Glendale, Tenn., whose automobile was one of the two used in the abduction and lynching of Cordie Cheek on December 15, is now among the unemployed following demands of the N. A. A. C. P. to Postmaster General James A. Farley for his discharge.

A letter received today from W. W. Howes, first assistant postmaster general, by Walter White, the Association's secretary, reads: "As the result of an investigation at (Glendale), the Department has decided to make a change in the postmaster and telegraphic instructions have been issued to a post office inspector to install Mr. Chesley Porter Cheek as acting postmaster at Glendale to displace Mr. Robert Hancock."

It seems rather poetic justice that the last name of the new Glendale postmaster is the same as that of the lynched Negro who had been discharged from the Maury County, Tenn., grand jury on a charge of attempted assault on a white child.

LaGuardia as mayor of New York City was acknowledged in the appointment.

General Edward Markham, chief of engineers, in charge of all flood control work, wrote the N. A. A. C. P. this week.

A pageant depicting the lives and characters of the great women in American history, was written and presented by Mrs. George Harnage at North high school Friday evening under the auspices of the North high P. T. A. Prominence was given to several great characters: Pocahontas was played by Miss Atrell Jett; Mrs. Booker T. Washington, by Mrs. S. Howard, and the Misses Ada Graham and Emma Williams, North high graduates, represented the Negro high school girl of today.

Chas. A. Lindbergh, covering a period of three hundred years. Vaudeville skits, Hungarian folk dances, acrobatic stunts, roller skates, was included on the program. The American Legion Junior Drum and Bugle Corps, world's champions, preceded the pageant with a concert.

Man Mobbed for Slaying Coal Miner

Hazard, Ky., Feb. 2.—Sentiment is running high among Negroes in Perry county and throughout the state as the result of the lynching last Wednesday night of Rex Scott, 20-year-old prisoner, who was abducted by 300 armed men after they had walked into the Perry county jail, where Scott was being held on the charge of fatally beating a white coal miner.

Prominent citizens of both races, determined to wage a relentless battle against the reappearance of the lynch peril in this state, are demanding the removal from office of Jailer Troy P. Combs. A telegram of protest was sent the governor by the president of the Southern Anti-Lynching association. Governor Ruby Laffoon, it is said is waiting for officials of Perry county to file papers with him before taking action on the case, but it has been pointed out that the governor has the power to remove a jailer from whom a prisoner has been taken.

Judge Explains Action

Three alleged members of the mob, coal miners, were arrested in connection with the crime, and although the men were charged with murder in the warrants, they were released by County Judge A. M. Gross and allowed to return to their homes, in a nearby camp pending the action of the special grand jury, which started its quiz Monday of this week. The men are Petie Carroll, Lee Gibson and Andy Workman. A fourth man, Jas. Collins was also in custody, but he had been held on Judge Gross' orders.

Negroes Now Dominate Church, Recent J.C. Fight Center

ALL SOULS' VESTRY HAS 8 NEGROES

P. E. Church, Recently Center of Fight Against Prejudice, Now Negro Dominated

MANY GAINS ARE MADE

NEW YORK.—A victory for Negroes against intolerance and prejudice in a white Episcopal church was seen this week in the revelation that eight vestrymen, including two negroes, out of a total of eleven, are Negroes, at All Souls Episcopal Church, St. Nicholas avenue at 14th street.

A sensational uprising occurred at the church some time in 1932 when the all-white vestry attempted to exclude from the main services and create separate services for Negro members who had increased to the point of constituting the majority.

The situation had its inception when the rector, Rev. Rollin Dodd, white, invited a group of colored Episcopalians to his church when their place of worship in a basement at St. Martin's Mission was no longer available to them.

As the Negro membership increased at all Saints Church, the white membership decreased until the colored members were in the majority. The white vestry then made a move to jim crow the services.

The Negro members immediately objected, and the more they objected the more intense became the vestrymen's determination to keep them out, even to the extent of

Park May Be Diverted into Play Ground

ATLANTA, Ga.—Plans to make a playground out of the proposed Connally park, providing the CWA work is continued, until May were revealed by the City Parks department officials Saturday.

The area which covers slightly more than an acre, and plans are in the office to clear up the ground to form a first class playground for West side kiddies.

Several tons of dirt which was removed from Washington park, improvements are still being made were dumped into the Connally park project last week.

When improvements on Washington park have been completed, there will be another entrance to the park on Loan street, three additional courts, an enlarged swimming pool, a proposed football field and a baseball diamond.

Various carnival rides which had cluttered up the north end of the park will be removed this year, officials said.

A movement is under way to secure parks for the fourth ward and Parkburgh district, though no specific spot has yet been chosen, department heads said.

locking up the church.

The dramatic high spot came when Bishop William T. Manning, head of the New York diocese, broke into the church in the presence of the police and ordered the services to proceed with the colored members present.

The incident was hailed as a milestone in support of tolerance, justice and fair play in the Episcopal Church.

The new vestry is composed of the following:

Wardens: Herbert A. Bennett and Frank Hackett; Clinton Simmons, white, treasurer; Attorney A. C. Stuart, white, church clerk; Dr. C. B. Gann, white, rector; Ernest H. Stouffer, white, William Lippert and Albert McDermott, both white.

HOLD FIRST DISTRICT MEETS

Much Enthusiasm is Noted at Sectional Meets in Macon and Savannah

ALL PLEDGE SUPPORT

BY DEACON SMITH

Baptist ministers and laymen of the First District of the General Missionary Convention of Georgia, Chatham county, and the City of Savannah, held a mammoth get-together meeting Tuesday in the interest of the state convention and regional conference which is to be held at Jacksonville, Fla., in Chatham county leaders were stirred as never before, from the major pastorate, represented by First Bryan, First African and Second Baptist, down to the humblest pastor and smallest church in the county.

President Wilson had things well arranged and Dr. D. D. Crawford, executive secretary, and Dr. J. N. Nabrit, state president, both of whom made a special trip from Atlanta for the meeting, presented inspirational addresses at the close of the conference.

Plans were laid to reach every Baptist in the district and collect the convention dollar, during the course of this special meeting which was held at the First African Baptist church.

At 8:00 that night, at the Bolton street church, Rev. West, pastor, Dr. Crawford delivered an inspirational address on the convention's program and how to make it work. President Nabrit presided at the meeting while the Savannah pastors and laymen made a social function of the coming of their leaders. Pastor Clark acted as publicity man.

Never before have we had so great an opening of our annual round up as was staged in Savannah. Pastors Connor, Glenn, Davis, Perry, Wall, Adams, West and Clark, all determined to break a record, county chairman W. M. Morris, who did much to make this meeting a success, kept packing interested and enthusiastic Baptists from all parts of the section until the last minute of the program, many persons coming from quite a number of other hand.

The Savannah Baptists, according to one observer, have but one fault and that is that they never know when they have done enough for their guests.

A splendid cash contribution was given secretary Crawford as the result of this First District Meeting.

Much of the success of this meeting was due to the untiring efforts of the Rev. R. C. Cash, Madisonville, district president. The principal address was delivered by Executive Secretary D. D. Crawford, President Nabrit being unable to attend on account of a funeral.

Members of the eighth district pledged their support to the program as outlined by the leaders and voted to give the national program full support.

These two meetings, which opened the district meetings for the spring season, gave Baptist leaders much hope for a successful year. By the first of March it is expected that all of the 12 districts will have held their meetings and a very busy program is being outlined in an effort to have these meetings out of the way before the regional meeting in Jacksonville.

During the coming week, no district meets are scheduled as both Dr. Crawford and President Nabrit will attend the meetings of the national boards. The Georgia delegation, which will leave Monday, will probably number among its ranks Rev. Evans, Macon; and Rev. W. F. Hughes, Dublin, who are members of the Congress Board, which is to meet later in the week at Dayton, Ohio.

Plans are still being completed by Rev. J. E. Galax, president of the fifth state district, for the meeting of that group which embraces the Atlanta area.

AUTO CRASH

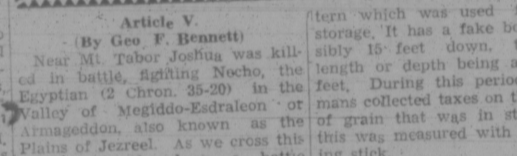

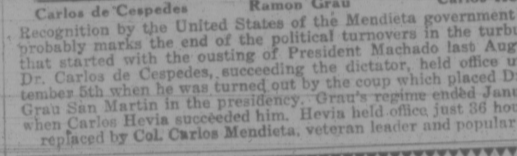

No case was made by Patrolman J. B. Southern after the car belonging to the U. S. Department of Justice and driven by H. U. Hilton, Washington, D. C., was wrecked with a machine driven by James Parge, 826 West View Drive, at the corner of Whitwell and Hunter at 7:30 Monday night.

Plans are still being completed by Rev. J. E. Galax, president of the fifth state district, for the meeting of that group which embraces the Atlanta area.

All President in Six Months

Recognition by the United States of the Mendieta government in Cuba probably marks the end of the political turnover in the turbulent island that started with the ousting of President Machado last August 12th. Dr. Carlos de Cespedes, succeeding the dictator, held office until September 5th when he was turned out by the coup which placed Dr. Ramon Grau San Martin in the presidency. Grau's regime ended January 15th, when Carlos Hevia succeeded him. Hevia held office just 36 hours, being replaced by Col. Carlos Mendieta, veteran leader and popular choice.

SIGHT SEEING IN THE HOLY LAND

George F. Bennett, White Illinoisan Now Living in Atlanta. Writes of a Trip Recently Through the Scenes of Most Biblical Stories in the Holy Land. This feature will appear in the Church Edition Every Week.

Article V. (By Geo. F. Bennett) Near Mt. Tabor Joshua was killed in battle, slaying Nocho, the Egyptian (2 Chron. 35-20) in the Valley of Megiddo-Kedraon or Armageddon, also known as the Plains of Jezreel. As we cross this valley which has been a battle ground since the beginning of time we observe that the valley starts at the Mediterranean lying across the Palestine from the northwest to the southeast. The Kishon river flows northwest, through the central part of the valley emptying into the Bay of Acre. The Carmel mountain range is on the south of the valley near the sea, and Nazareth is on the northern rim of the valley.

The soil is fertile and very productive but it seems if some ambitious person is successful in raising a crop some one is nearly ready to plier it. The result is much of the valley is used for the grazing of sheep and goats.

We arrive in Nazareth, coming in from the northeast along about 5 o'clock in the evening. A mass of small stone houses clinging to the side of a range of hills. We come down into a rather narrow valley and stop at Mary's well, which is a spring with a little Greek church built over it.

Water Is Sweet. We were thirsty and native boys for a piece of money run down the steps and bring a dipper of water. Just at this time in the evening native women were getting their second supply of water for the day. They are used, balanced on the head, and these women are experts. They are dressed in costumes of many colors the arms and ankles adorned with bracelets, large rings in the ears. They resemble in many respects apes that I had seen in the mountains of the Edwards country. This old spring or well has been the only source of water for Nazareth since its origin, so of course the Divine Mary and her Son came often to this well for water, which is cool and good but inclined to be sweet.

Polygamy is frequently practiced. Girls marry at eleven and a couple may live together for some years (common age quickly in this country). The man marries another young girl, and his former wife then becomes the maid to the young wife. When walking along the road the husband always leads the way, the wife following at a distance.

Virgin Mary's Home. We turn south to Mary's well and halfway up the hill we visit the home of the Virgin Mary, going beneath the ground possibly twenty-five or thirty feet. The floor and the walls are of natural stone. There are two small rooms and one extremely small room. It is possible at that time it was similar to a cave, although in proportion they are almost square. The small room is a few feet above the other two. A short distance to the south well and farther up the elevation is Joseph's workshop, which is also beneath the ground. I have never read of this instance, but adjoining Joseph's workshop is a dry cistern which was used for water.

Direct Milk Delivery. It was interesting to see them drive goats from door to door, milk them in a small pail, and hand-pump direct to the housewife her morning's milk. Should she by chance live on the second floor, the milk walks up the steps and whatever portion of milk she desires is given her. No money, then, enters the transaction. All thru this country and Egypt there is practically none other than goats' milk which is extremely rich and thick. The natives consider it a delicacy after becoming soured and curdled.

Camels are now leaving with their Bedouin keepers and are being sent back to the country. They need bring more cucumbers, melons and other vegetables to the market.

I noticed five or six Arabs in a doorway smoking their water pipes. I stepped over to them, gesturing for a smoke. One was offered and tossing him "backlash" (money) enjoyed a nice cool smoke until our guide came over and talking to them excitedly, in their language, reprimanded me from a salary standpoint.

We were cautioned from the beginning not to touch any wood or stone on account of leprosy and other diseases. These pipes are common throughout India, Turkey and Egypt. As I see the hot sun rise above Tabor I do not wonder at the shunamite boy while in the field with the reapers being overcome by the terrific heat (2 Kings 4:18).

Wonderful Views. What wonderful views looking forth at Mt. Hermon as the sun's rays strike the snow covered peaks and the Carmel range to the northwest and Mt. Gilboa to the southeast. The atmosphere so pure that it stimulates and invigorates the entire system. We walk over to an elevation possibly 1000 feet and look down on the old Kishon river. Some heavy stones mark the spot where Elijah had his altar. This is also the place where Jezebel cast down the altar against Jehovah (1 Kings 18:30).

We finally break camp and say farewell to Nazareth, going on our way to Safaria by the way of Nain and Jerez. In this locality, Gideon seems to have favored. To our left just now is in Gilboa. As I look around me I observe myriads of large blackbirds soaring in the sky. I am told they are called "Mie-11-1" but I immediately identify them as what we call buzzards. In Cuba and South America they are known as vultures; in Israel as "ravens-birds of the East", in Deut. 32:11-12 is a splendid description of the old birds teaching the young to fly. See Matt. 23:28 also Luke 17:37. "Wherever the carcass is there will the eagles be gathered together."

"Well of the Pit." Coming down from the north we come over a winding road leading over a range of hills into the valley of Dothan. On our left is the "Well of the Pit" where the clothing of Joseph (coat of many colors) was thrown. Not far distant is another well. The meaning of Dothan is "Two wells." This is unquestionably the location where Joseph was sold by his brothers to the Egyptian caravan and one of the most beautiful of all Bible stories. (Gen. 37:17).

As we came into Samaria I was surprised at the location of this ancient city which at one time was practically surrounded by mountains and, as most of these old cities, the location being selected where the lower part is filled, the covering in the center placed securely and the upper part filled. The measuring stick touching the false bottom, registered a false impression. Evidently the stone taxes were to be considered. (I hope this article doesn't reach Nazareth).

We now go over to our hotel, for so it is, a large dining room, surrounding the same, opening immediately to the dining room. As the front of the two story building faced the street, we selected a room in the rear, as camels with their jingling bells and shepherds with their flocks were passing back and forth constantly, with the possibility of securing a good night's rest.

We congratulated ourselves, prematurely, however, for just as we were retiring a camel caravan was passing for the night just beneath our window. Flies and bugs were surely doing night duty, as these bells were jingling all night long. It is strange how quickly one becomes acclimated to these unusual surroundings. We see so much of the ordinary way of life in those days good. No variety, however, but these poor people exerted themselves to give us the best they had. One can observe beneath their forced smiles and pleasant, hopeless, drudgery and a boy I have never overcome the habit of rising early in the morning and at this time I was well repaid.

The shepherds were leaving with their flocks. These shepherds were not the gay handsome fellows that picture show, but plants and statues, wearing long flowing costumes with a camel hair girdle around the waist. They have dark, fierce looking eyes, are bearded, dirty and unsanitary to an extreme; even looking upon a Christian would be unthinkable.

Sanatza Is Rebuilt. This ended the kingdom of Israel and the Ten Tribes. Hezekiah after 20 years rebuilt the city but Hyrcanus, not only destroyed the city but caused to be dug great ditches across the location at various points. However Herod the Great came along and with his keen observation of location, built the city, making it the most magnificent of all, calling it Sebaste in honor of Augustus Caesar.

Our meals and lodging were fair, but so much mutton I really feel embarrassed when I see a herd of sheep. Some very nice oranges and figs grow here in the valley and personally I am on a fruit diet. A number of the party are nauseated but all game, save the mutton, are slaughtered each morning for food, dressed and placed in the market often in the hot sun and directly on the dusty street where the donkeys and camels are cooped, going back and forth, furnishing a festival for the myriads of flies, there being no ice or refrigeration. Little things like this have a tendency to overcome oftentimes a reasonably good appetite.

We are going down the valley to old Naplos or Schechem, which is still occupied by the remainder of possibly one hundred and fifty Samaritans who by their intermarriage have degenerated and deteriorated until they will eventually be a race of people disappear. Here a man is allowed more than one wife. A scroll is shown to have been written by Aaron, brother of Moses. They still retain the old mountain top of Gerizim. I will not impose upon you the details of this preparation. This valley has gradually broadened out into the Plains of Abraham.

Jacob's Well Viewed. Schechem was a city of considerable prominence during the time of Jacob. The occupants were slain and the city plundered by Jacob's sons for an assault on their sister Dinah committed by Schechem, the son of Hamor (See Gen. 34). Abimelech, who was a slave son of Gideon, killed all the men of Gideon except Jotham, who was a leader in the destruction of Schechem. However, Jeroboam rebuilds once more, this time being destroyed by the Kings of Damascus.

As we continue on down the valley, possibly a mile, we come to Jacob's Well (Gen. 35:28; John 4). This place to me is one of the really historical and holy places of all Palestine. The location of this well is on the left side of the road as it curves around Mt. Gerizim. There are a number of olive and fig trees between the road and the well. In fact the well is located at the very base of Mt. Gerizim, and was originally over 100 feet deep, but the thousands of pilgrims that come to this sacred spot drop stones down to hear them strike when the well is dry.

This refuse has gradually accumulated until at the present time the depth is approximately 75 feet. The diameter is nine feet. If you will pardon the illustration, the mouth of the well is similar to a regulation milk bottle and apparently gets smaller at the bottom.

Pluck Leaves at Well. It is very probable that originally it was intended for a reservoir. Masonry was used for the walls for 40 or 50 feet, the remaining distance through natural stone. The ruins of a stone building erected by Queen Helena, mother of Constantine the Great, are scattered around the spot, and twenty steps to the southeast is a partially completed Greek church that was started before the World War but never completed.

While here I plucked some olive leaves from a tree that shades Jacob's well, also some from the Garden of Gethsemane which are mother prizes very much. They were becoming dry and permission was obtained before this was done, with a pocket full of change one may have favors granted often in this country and possibly in others as well. The grandfather of Jacob had long accepted this country for his inheritance and for his posterity.

Bethel was originally called Luz (Gen. 28:18). We have an elevation from which there is a wonderful view, and here on this eminence is where Abraham and Lot decided on their respective territories, also where Jacob in his prosperous days built an altar to the Lord (Gen. 35:7). Here also Jeroboam violated the holiness of this sanctuary by erecting idols. (1 Kings 12:28-33).

In the next series we approach Jerusalem.

terity having been born in Ur of the Chaldees, son of Terah, a worshiper of idols. We assume Abraham to have been an Arab, his trace of ancestry showing in his grandson Essau (who was black) the brother of Jacob. With Abraham into this country, now called Palestine, came Lot, who was his nephew, his father being Haran who was dead, Haran being Abraham's brother. Also came Sarai (later Sarah) who was the wife of Abraham, she being also his half sister (Gen. 20:12).

Isaac, Father of Jacob. She was childless until her ninety-fourth year when she gave birth to Isaac, the father of Jacob. This seemed so incredible that Abraham (who was at this time near 100 years) was pleased, so much he laughed, therefore the Hebrew word Isaac meaning "to laugh." Isaac and Abraham were successful with their flocks but began having differences over the territory. They met at Bethel (south of here a few miles and ten or twelve miles north of Jerusalem) deciding to divide the territory.

Abraham being lenient, peace-loving and charitable toward his nephew, gave Lot choice and with a selfish nature. Lot chose the Jordan Valley which was suitable for grazing as well as for tillage, fruits, etc. Abraham with no preference accepted the hills and the narrow valleys where we are now located. Please remember these people were pagans and were just emerging from the cave man era. This country right here can be justly called the "Cradle of Civilization."

There is no doubt in my mind when the Master came to this well, on that late summer day, being tired and thirsty, he no doubt sat down on one of these large stones alongside the well. Having no way of getting water, He waited and rested.

Jesus at Samaria. He quite naturally faced the roadside at Mt. Gerizim, thinking and pondering about Jacob and all his ancestors and the surrounding countryside being familiar with every detail that transpired, and in the meantime this woman of Samaria came to get some water for the reapers in the field and saying to the Master by raising her hand toward Gerizim, "Our fathers worship in this mountain." The Master at this time declared Himself as the Messiah. It is quite likely this woman came from the east of the well, as the tract of land is level and fertile and more adaptable for tillage. The Master spoke at this time of the "harvest being white." The time was probably late August or September.

The tomb of Joseph (Joshua 24:32) lies just north about two furlongs over in the valley. Near here is also the tomb of Jeroboam, and also me to say at this time the Rehoboam and Jeroboam were of no relation. Rehoboam was the son of Solomon and successor to the throne (after Solomon) his favorite wife being Maacah, the granddaughter of Absalom.

As we are on our way to Bethel I marvel that this country could support in food the thousands of people that dwell here. Surely at that time these mountains that now appear so brown and barren were thoroughly cultivated. Quite likely they did as they do in Japan or Madeira today, taking heavy stones and placing them on the mountain sides at intervals, thereby catching the wash, as well as fertilizing the soil.

Bethel was originally called Luz (Gen. 28:18). We have an elevation from which there is a wonderful view, and here on this eminence is where Abraham and Lot decided on their respective territories, also where Jacob in his prosperous days built an altar to the Lord (Gen. 35:7). Here also Jeroboam violated the holiness of this sanctuary by erecting idols. (1 Kings 12:28-33).

THE IOWA BYSTANDER

Sports By Allen Ashby

Last Wednesday in the intermediate league Morehead Wilson's Famous Five kicked the dope sheet by dusting the Panthers in a hectic battle. We have always been for the Panthers, but apparently their little success of recent years has given them the idea that no west side team is supposed to make them play hard and they beefed themselves out of the game. The Fellowship tanned the Ramblers in another wild fray.

The Fiva went into action against the Poncele Water team, who has beaten some good fives including the Valley DeMolays and the Bronco-Seltzers. Well, the five wasn't greatly extended as we juggled our stuff around and brought home the bacon 29 to 26. Allen was our big scorer with 11 and Brown got 8. Bunny Wilson had tough luck, not being able to keep the ball in the basket. The best feature of the game for us was that for the first time since 1931, we have a flock of good reserves and can rest our boys without weakening the club. The Trojans put up a great scrap against the south side leaders and were in the ball game until the pressure got so great they cracked.

Their defense blew up and the Italians came through with several short shots to break up the ball game. Not much doing in our high schools this week. Haywood Brewer continues to stand out on a weak team and if East ever gets winning will make a good record. We are looking forward to North's first game of the second semester for we expect to see George Robinson play regular. The well known dope bucket received several lusty kicks in the slats last week. The Spiders started the fireworks by lathering the I. D. Ks 18 to 17 in a battle that required two extra periods. Then the Trojans jumped into a big lead over the powerful Corinthian team and the latter couldn't catch them. Virgil Mann was hot and when the Baptist boys got him stopped the ball game was on ice for the Trojans. St. Paul got to play only half of a game against the Harlem A. C. They were doing tight well, having a big lead, 16 to 4, when time was called. It would be a big help if in some manner the players in this league would acquaint themselves with the rules of basketball and having acquainted themselves would also play by them. It's impossible to see all the fouls in a game when both sides want to play rough and that heckling from the side line referees doesn't help any. Our players should know how to conduct themselves when they are in a game or on the sidelines. The two best teams in the Junior league aren't tangled yet.

Victory Looms In Memphis Railway Workers' Fight

ST. JOHN HOLDS QUARTERLY CONFERENCE

By The Church Reporter
BIRMINGHAM, Ala.—The first quarterly conference of the members of the church of which Dr. T. D. Driver is the successful pastor was a great success. The presiding elder Dr. I. T. Walker found the church well organized and going on with its work and said it was the best ever. It has been his to hold. Some of the old members said it was the best held since the days of Dr. Goodlow in 1916. Our church is driving forward with rapid strides. The trustees report shows that the mortgage had extended the church from paying anything on interest or principal and allowing the members a chance to complete the work which was begun ten years ago. The presiding elder, pastor, and members are happy and grateful to God for the success.

22 EXPECT JOBS BACK

MEMPHIS, Tenn.—The colored trainmen employees association has carried on since last spring to regain jobs for the twenty-two veteran colored railroad men of the Illinois Central at the Yazoo and Mississippi valley lines who were discharged in violation of the contract between the companies and the laborers is nearer victory than it ever has been during the past eight months. Joseph Eastman, Co-ordinator of Railroads for the United States government, has a public statement that railroad employees who were in service in May of last year have "an absolute protection against loss of employment or demotion" by reason of restrictions placed upon the railroads by the government. "It simply means that our fight has not been in vain," stated Geo. E. Washington, member of the Colored Trainmen Employees Association, and chairman of its fact-finding committee. Mr. Washington has been one of the hardest workers in the association, and has faced severe criticism, and contempt, possibly more than any other member of the organization. He is one of the twenty-two trainmen who were laid off by the Illinois Central last spring.

Pressure In D. C.—It may be stated, with reasonable certainty, that Mr. Eastman's action with reference to his new recommendation made this week was influenced to a great extent by Negro railroad men in the Memphis terminal. A letter, calling President Roosevelt's attention to the situation in the local terminal, was sent to Washington, D. C. by the secretary of the Colored Trainmen's Association. In reply, it was stated that this letter would be turned over to Mr. Eastman who would give due consideration to the matter. In the meantime, Congressman Oscar DePriest, only race representative in Congress, was also notified of the discrimination that railroad authorities are practicing here. Mr. DePriest, in reply, said that he would take the matter up immediately with the Labor Department of the government and Mr. Eastman, the Co-ordinator. Mr. DePriest is believed to have been the moving force behind the new recommendation.

Another great mass meeting, similar to the one that was sponsored at Bloomfield Baptist church two weeks ago, will be given at New Bethel Baptist church, 1003 Texas street. Rev. C. L. Goldsby, pastor, has committed to the purpose of these meetings is to keep the fight constantly before the public. Every railroad man is requested to be present at this meeting which will be the first Sunday in February.

SERIOUS DEFECTS ARE FOUND IN N. Y. ARMORY

NEW YORK (ANP)—Because of defects in the building, which may lead to serious results, the completed section of the 36th Armory on West 143rd street and Fifth avenue has not been accepted by the commanding officer for use of the troops. Col. William A. Taylor, recently resigned as commanding officer and his successor, Col. Grimley, both have pointed out to the city the defects in the construction and are demanding that the new building be repaired before officially accepted.

Coming as it does on the heels of the thorough investigation, Mayor LaGuardia is ordering into the existing building in Harlem is regarded as one of the finer efforts of Tammany to give Harlem a worthwhile armory for the crack regiment.

As yet, the new additions to the Harlem Hospital have not been inspected although the pavilions are rapidly nearing completion. When completed and accepted by the city, this hospital will rank with the larger institutions of its kind in the city.

MANY MOURN PASSING OF DR. JOHNSON

Illness of Six Months Proves Fatal To Well Known Medical and Memphis Churchman
A MEHARRY GRADUATE
MEMPHIS, Tenn.—After an illness of six months, Dr. Joseph P. Johnson, 53, prominent physician and churchman, died at his residence, 1327 North Bellevue boulevard, last Monday afternoon at three o'clock. Cancer was responsible for his demise.

Funeral services, attended by thousands and characterized by a touching eulogy from his most intimate and professional associate, Dr. F. J. Stewart, were held at First Baptist church, Chelsea, last Wednesday morning, with J. C. Oates and Sons Funeral Directors in charge. The deceased had been a faithful member and worker at First Baptist church for many years, serving as a member of the choir and trustee board. Rev. W. Mack, pastor, delivered the funeral oration, which was followed by Rev. William Cole, instructor at Menasha High school where Dr. Johnson had been a patron during his entire stay in North Memphis. Interment took place at Mt. Carmel cemetery.

Dr. Johnson had been ill since last August. Two minor operations revealed the seriousness of his condition, and attending physicians held little hope of his recovery long before the end came. "But I prepared for the long time ago," Dr. Johnson remarked to his physician who asked him, "are you ready for the answer?" following an incision he had just completed.

Born in East Tennessee, near the line of Alabama, Dr. Johnson was a native son of the Old Pioneer State. Coming to Memphis during the early period of his life, he took his undergraduate work at the Howe Baptist college of this city. Later he pursued a medical course at Meharry college and finished at the following year. Dr. Johnson married Miss Ellen Moseley, at that time a school teacher at the Virginia Avenue school. Out of that union four children were born, Mildred, Grace, Fannie and Ella. Two daughters are students at LeMoine college and two attend Menasha.

Dr. Johnson and members of his family were among the first families of the New Chicago subdivision. He was married at their present residence and all four of his children were born there. Every Sunday morning the physician and his family were to be found at Sunday school and church services at First Baptist church. He was a member of the Bluff City Medical Society, but always first was his church. Dr. Stewart and the deceased had office together for many years, even until the death of the latter. It was Dr. Stewart who paved the way for his professional career shortly after his graduation. It was Dr. Johnson, however, who paved the way for Dr. Stewart's religious life. The latter was eminent in stating this point at the funeral service.

Postpone Hearings on Motions For New Trial For Scottsboro Boys

BIRMINGHAM, Ala.—Hearings on motions for new trial for Hoywood Patterson and Clarence Norris, sentenced to death in the Scottsboro trial at Decatur several weeks ago, was postponed until February 24 by Judge W. W. Callahan, Tuesday. Request for the postponement was made by defense counsel who claimed that they were unable to complete details for the hearing Friday January 26, the date originally set for the hearing. Patterson and Norris were the only two victims tried at the last trials in Morgan county. Both were sentenced to die February 2. The date for execution will have to be set again by the judge if he denies them a new trial. Seven of the boys are in the Jefferson county jail. The two under sentences of death are in the death house at Kilby prison at Montgomery.

The nine boys are charged with criminally assaulting two white women, Victoria Price and Ruby Bates, both of Huntsville, while on a freight train near Paint Rock, Alabama, on March 25, 1931. Miss Bates later repudiated her testimony and claimed that the whole story was a frame-up and that the Negroes did not commit the alleged crime. Upon her dropping her prosecution the state then paraded Victoria Price as the virtuous young angel so brutally treated by a band of Negroes.

Reports indicated that the premium collections for 1933 amounted to $1,117,377.45, and the industrial debt increased upwards of $5,000.

Stockholders, directors, policyholders, state insurance department in the eight states in which Atlanta Life operates have the utmost confidence in the company. President Herndon observed. During the past year Atlanta Life continued its well-defined policy of rendering a constructive, helpful service to our people through mortgage loans as stated by the president.

Mortgage loans to the extent of $192,611.95 were made on acceptable real estate. Negro property was rescued from threatened foreclosures and saved to the race. Another outstanding service rendered by Atlanta Life was in the form of policy loans made in 1933. This item of service amounted to $130,888.19 as returned by the president.

The Atlanta Life now owns high grade bonds to the value of $1,308,028.39. These bonds represent safe and conservative investments in state, county and municipal bonds—the best security obtainable. President Herndon also reported a paid-up capital of $250,000 and a surplus equally as large.

Secretary Martin's report showed that 750 people are employed by Atlanta Life. Of this number, 104 are college graduates; 183 high school graduates, 134 grammar school graduates and 140 below that of an 8th grade rating. The report showed that such institutions as Harvard, New York university, Amherst, Atlanta university, Morehouse college and many other leading institutions throughout the country are represented in the company's personnel.

Director and Officers Re-elected—The stockholders were so pleased with all 1933 reports that it was moved and unanimously adopted that the board of directors, consisting of N. B. Herndon, Mrs. A. F. Herndon, E. M. Martin, A. F. Herndon, No. 2 L. H. Hayward, Sr., W. Russell, J. T. Harrison, C. A. Faison and F. A. Toomer be re-elected. And immediately following the adjournment of the stockholders' meeting, the directors went into executive session and re-elected all officers.

PA. CHURCH POOH-POOHS STORIES

Little Unrest at Philly Baptist Church, Say Officials There
REV. AUSTIN INVOLVED
CHICAGO (ANP)—Confronted over the week-end with colorful stories from Philadelphia newspapers picturing alleged internal strife in Holy Trinity Baptist church, headed by officers of the law, the chief issue being the Rev. J. C. Austin of Pilgrim church, Chicago, officer of Pilgrim declared they believe the Philadelphia news stories were pepped up accounts to make good reading.

Stories have been current for three months that Dr. Austin would be called to the pastorate of Holy Trinity, succeeding to the post left vacant by the late Dr. W. P. Graham. Dr. Austin has visited Trinity church several times and has given "test" sermons. The officers of the church are reported to favor him, but a large section of the congregation has favored retention of the Rev. Charles Bernard, active pastor.

But so far as the officers of Pilgrim are informed, the Philadelphia news stories just as well save their steam. "If Dr. Austin is going to Philadelphia, we don't know anything about it," declared R. M. Turner, chairman of the board of trustees. "We know, because he told us, that he has been invited to take the charge. We also know that he appreciates the invitation, but he has given us no sign that he intends to leave Pilgrim. Here he is doing a great work and a beautiful spirit of harmony prevails between the pastor, the officers and the congregation."

J. B. Eppert, church treasurer, felt the same way. He said: "In spite of the depression, Pilgrim church is sailing along smoothly. We have our obligations well in hand and will shortly install a budget system, under which we hope to reduce the church's encumbrances within five years. Dr. Austin's well taken care of, per se, with a home and many other privileges, in spite of the fact that he takes no salary. The people say, 'I do not believe that Holy Trinity could do better by him, even if he were inclined to be moved by material considerations.'"

E. H. Carey, sales manager for the Supreme Liberty Life Insurance company, and member of the church board, discounted 100 per cent the reports. He described the church as "a well-organized and emphasized that Dr. Austin's leadership in developing the program was too essential for him to consider leaving."

"We have just completed arrangements for the establishment of a day nursery and old folks home. Both are to be endowed through a form of bond insurance taken out by individual members of the church with these projects as beneficiaries."

J. A. Finney, founder of Pilgrim and chairman of the deacon's board, insisted that Dr. Austin is not leaving Pilgrim. "He is going away," stated Mr. Finney, "but that will be in June, to visit three continents and study religions. Pilgrim is giving him this trip for services rendered."

HOLD MAN AS SLAYER OF FARMER

Mystery, Shrouding Murder of Henry Rice, Cleared With Arrest of Boyd Spencer
KILLED NITE OF DEC. 5
MEMPHIS, Tenn.—The mystery which shrouded the murder of Henry Rice, a farmer on the J. S. Osby Place on the Godwin Road, was cleared up last Wednesday, January 17, with the arrest of Boyd Spencer whom deputy sheriffs have sought ever since the night of the slaying, December 5, 1933. Spencer was arrested at Germantown. He admitted to officers that he committed the slaying, but said he did it in self-defense. He was placed in jail and charged with murder.

Rice was found murdered in his room by the white owner of the place, Osby. His lifeless body was lying on the floor. The broken parts of a shotgun were scattered about the floor. Nearby, within a hand's reach of the body, sat Rice's one-year old baby. Mr. Osby stated that it appeared to him the man had been dead approximately 24 hours when he made the discovery.

The white landlord said that Boyd Spencer was the last person he saw leave the place during the night of the murder. The murdered man lived in a four-room, frame house, but occupied only a short distance from his landlord's house.

Two deputy sheriffs were assigned to the case, and they began to make an intensive search for the suspect. Looking into his records, they found that he was carrying a pistol in 1931, but was convicted in 1932 of a grand jury indicted him. The record further showed that ten years ago he shot and killed his brother at Moscow, Tennessee.

Although Spencer is said to have made over $90 through the sale of cotton and cut, he possessed the small sum of 90 cents when officers found him. No motive could be discovered in connection with the case. A witness, state police officers, who were called by her house to wash. He informed her that he had been out hunting and got blood on the shirt. Erby denied the charge. He said that he was with his brother-in-law, Walker Davis, at the time the woman said he was at her home.

JAILED FOR SETTING FIRE TO DOG
BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (ANP)—A white man and John Walker were sentenced to six months in jail and fined $100 each, here Friday after they had been convicted of setting fire to a fox terrier puppy after soaking it with gasoline. Judge Henry J. Martin, who imposed the sentence, told the defendants that their "heinous act" was the "worst thing" in his experience on the bench, although he probably did not recall some of the "heinous acts", such as lynchings, which have occurred in Alabama.

DEPRIEST ATTENDS WHITE HOUSE RECEPTION
WASHINGTON (ANP)—Congressman Oscar DePriest, 1st Illinois, was a guest at the White House Thursday evening at the reception tendered senators and congressmen by President and Mrs. Roosevelt. Many cabinet officers and members of the diplomatic corps were also present. Mr. DePriest entered early and did not remain long. He was accompanied by Mrs. DePriest who had remained in Chicago.

Skating Gets Youth in Bad With Police!

ATLANTA, Ga.—All youngsters that 14 year old Louis Farrell, 233 Courtland St., will do during the next few days, and maybe more, will be within the confines of the Juvenile Detention Home on Central ave.

Officers W. M. Richards and M. M. Bond, were driving along on Courtland near Linden about 7:25 Sunday morning when they noted the lad skating if the streets. Starting to stop beside him to reprimand him for his violation of the anti-skating laws, the officers found on one five dollars as young Farrell had scooted away on his skates.

Giving pursuit, the youngster was caught and taken to his home where the older Farrell told them that the boy had stolen a pocketbook containing about five dollars in cash the night before and had not returned home. The youngster had new skates on at the time he was "picked up." The boy's father also told the policemen that he believed that the child had been running around with other boys and committing burglaries.

The lad was booked on suspicion of larceny.

POOR EXCUSE

The National Broadcasting Co. announces that it is powerless to stop Will Rogers from his insulting remarks about Negroes in his radio talks because his contract provides that he would be given a free hand to use his time as he chooses.

That is all bosh! The trouble is the N. B. C. does not consider Rogers' remarks as insults. Suppose Rogers decided to use slurring remarks about President Roosevelt; suppose he decided to say some big advertisers' products were inferior to the one he was sponsoring. Is it contended for a minute that the N. B. C. would make the same answer to protests of such? No, not one minute.

Sunday night Rogers attempted to smooth over his original dirty program by continually referring to the Negro as "darkies." He is just rotten to the core and there is no other answer for him.

GOOD WORK

The post office department at Washington has removed a postmaster at Glendale, Tenn., because an investigation showed that his automobile was used by the mob which lynched a Negro.

The authorities in Tennessee should be complimented for ordering the investigation which revealed these facts and the post office department for refusing to continue a man in service who either permitted his car to be used for such purpose or made no effort to bring to account those who may have used it without his consent.

WATCH YOUR CANDIDATE

Candidates for public office are dropping their hats into the ring daily—some new, some old. The Bystander recalls specifically some who while in office failed utterly to keep their word with the Negro. It will be interesting to see what they propose this time. Surely they cannot expect support from the same groups they have double crossed in the past.

The coming campaigns are proving to be very interesting because of the already large number of factions developing within organizations. These factions are making contacts even among our groups and with people who immediately raise suspicious combinations.

It is entirely too early to step out with hand and foot bound pledges without knowing who will be in the races or the policies to be pursued. Negroes made considerable progress in 1932 and can do even better with level heads, competent leadership and a willingness to be loyal to that leadership and the group as a whole. Let's go slowly but sure.

LA GRIPPE

La Grippe is a disease which runs typically a three day course allowing, of course, five to seven days for convalescence, provided no complication arises to lengthen the course of the illness. It cannot be said to be the same disease as influenza, although it is known to be caused by the same germ which produces the latter. It is, however, the same germ, as far as the appearance and the other characteristics which enable us to distinguish one germ from another, are concerned, but it does not produce the same disease after the three day period is passed. Influenza is a much more serious, long drawn out, and disabling malady than is La Grippe by far, and does not commence with a sudden onset of symptoms as does La Grippe. It is oftentimes a wonder to some, why the attending physician cannot give a definite diagnosis the first day of a disease which presents no other symptom than fever, but the fact is, there is no known means which has ever been discovered which enables them to isolate and determine the nature of the organism in so short a time. In almost every contagious or infectious disease accompanied with a skin eruption, this eruption will be evident by the third day.

The short period of illness so typical of La Grippe and the habit it has of going on to cure (with proper treatment, of course) should not lead anyone to minimize it as a disease with probable serious consequences, because it does, not infrequently, resist all known forms of treatment when the resistance is low, especially in the young and in the old. Consequently, the first indication of fever in these should lead to prompt treatment to forestall any serious consequences which will be brought about by having a disease gain a lead on the resistance of the person who has the infection.
