Gov. Miller Commutes Wilhe Peterson Death Sentence To Life Imprisonment

Dwight N. Lewis Is Re-elected Mayor by Majority of Over 6,000 Shouts Defiance to

Long Legal Battle Won by NAACP

SAVED FROM CHAIR; FIGHT TO CONTINUE
Birmingham, Ala., Mar. 30.—Willie Peterson, sentenced to death in the electric chair for the murder of two white society girls in August, 1931, had his sentence commuted to life imprisonment Tuesday, March 26, by Governor B. M. Miller. This ended another stage in the two-and-a-half year fight for Peterson's freedom, which has been packed with melodrama including attempted murder of the defendant in jail and a near race riot. Since his arrest he has been defended by the Birmingham branch of the N. A. A. C. P., headed by Dr. C. A. McPherson, Dr. E. W. Adams, and John D. Altman, attorney.

Shot Down in Jail
Peterson was picked up off the streets of Birmingham when Miss Nell Williams, the only surviving girl of the trio that went for a drive in the late afternoon of August 4, 1931, to a park on the outskirts of the city, saw him as she was driving down a street. His first trial resulted in a hung jury. While confined in the jail, the brother of Miss Williams and several others visited him for a conference and there, before the eyes of the sheriff, Williams shot Peterson down. The second trial resulted in a conviction after the charge of rape had been added to the original charge of murder. The brother of Miss Williams was then tried and acquitted of attempted murder.

Dean Houston Assists
The legal battle was carried forward by the N. A. A. C. P., to the United States supreme court, which declined to review the case. By the summer of 1933 the strategy of dividing Alabama white sentiment was beginning to take effect. Hundreds of influential people came forward and declared they did not believe Peterson guilty. The basis for this activity was the memorandum prepared by Dean Charles H. Houston and his associates following their conferences in Birmingham with white and colored people.

Sylvester Writes To Chas. Howard

Sylvester Harris, of Columbus, Mississippi, who made "runding fame" by phoning President Roosevelt concerning a mortgage on his cotton farm, honored Iowa's capital city by writing to Charles P. Howard, local attorney.

The daily paper proclaiming in a glorious triumphant heading that the said gentleman stated "Here I I Says a Nigger," threatened to put the City of Certainties on the map (or the pan) with a "neat" account of the same. Sylvester didn't deny it, he simply said "pray for me." "The Lord have bless me." The audience will be the judge.

March 6, 1934.

Mr. Sylvester Harris,
Columbus, Mississippi.
My dear Mr. Harris: I am enclosing a clipping, and asking if you were quoted correctly in this article, and specifically if you made this remark, "that you were a nigger." It is quite alright if you did, but I just wonder if you were correctly quoted. I am delighted that your problem was solved, and think that the President is to be congratulated for the aid given you.

Sincerely yours,
Chas. P. Howard.

Crawford, Mississippi.
My dear friend: I am writing today to let you know that this is me, Sylvester Harris that telephoned the president about that home he is all right now the Lord have bless me now no pray for me now.
Your friend,
Sylvester Harris.
P. O. 1, Crawford, Miss.

Park streets. He attended Harvard Medical School in 1924. Dr. Jefferson is a member of the Iowa State Medical Society, Polk County Medical Society and National Medical Association.

He organized and directed the Welfare baby clinic at the Negro Community Center which is closing its tenth year. Three years ago, Dr. Jefferson established the baby health clinic at the East Side Community Center. "I appreciate the patronage of the people of Des Moines who have made my work successful. I am especially proud of the co-operation of the mothers who have made the clinics a success," he said.

SIX PERISH WHEN FLAMES GUT BUILDING

Lynchburg, Va.—Of the 14 persons who perished in a fire which swept the Federal transient bureau here early Saturday morning, six were Negroes. Five of the identified dead are James Miller, William Lewis, Willie Williams, Willie Brooks and Frank Stuart.

More than 80 suffered from severe burns and were rushed to nearby hospitals. Fourteen Negroes were carried to the Virginia Baptist hospital for treatment. The blazing inferno was caused by grease boiling over on a hot stove.

Princess to Be Awarded Prize

FASHION PARADE TO BE FEATURED AT EASTER BALL
The beauty of Des Moines' smartest dressers will be on exhibition in the grand fashion parade at the annual Easter Ball, Monday, April 2 at the Billiken Ballroom. Exquisite gowns of the latest creations, bonnets with a Parisian air, and accessories of Fifth Avenue parentage, will parade on the fashion runway for the dance guests as Red Perkins and his Dixie Ramblers play "Beautiful Lady" and other melodic hits.

The most beautifully-dressed girl will be crowned princess and awarded a diamond ring. Dance hours will be from 9:00 until 1:00 o'clock. Mrs. Azalia Mitchell, assisted by a committee, will sponsor this brilliant affair.

Rowland Is Guilty 5 Slain In Bitter Says Murder Jury K. C. Election

After four hours of deliberation a jury in Judge Shankland's court returned a verdict of guilty of manslaughter Saturday afternoon against Thomas Rowland, 29, who was accused of throwing the brick which killed Ira E. Fisher, 34, in a fight Feb. 15 at the Roadside Settlement House. The jury went out at 11:30 A. M., returned at 3:30 P. M. The date of sentence has been set for Saturday morning, March 31.

The state was represented by Carl A. Burkman, county attorney, and C. Edwin Moore, assistant county attorney. Charles F. Howard was attorney for the defense. Despite the conflicting testimonies of five "eye witnesses" who claimed that Rowland threw the fatal brick, the jury returned the verdict which carries a penalty of eight years imprisonment and a fine of one thousand dollars. The trial, which lasted a week, attracted large crowds of colored and white spectators, but no disorders were reported.

CHARGE FILED IN STABBING Fred Gardner Faces Second Degree Murder Charge

Charges of second degree murder were filed Tuesday against Fred Gardner, Negro, 619 S. E. Astor st, held by police in connection with the fatal stabbing Saturday of Thomas Bendy, 722 S. E. Astor st, Gardner, when arrested, told police he caught Bendy stealing coal from his home.

Arraigned before Municipal Judge Powers, Gardner pleaded not guilty and waived preliminary hearing. Judge Powers ordered Gardner held to await grand jury action without bond.

DISMISSAL OF MORDECAI JOHNSON URGED IN HOUSE

Washington.—(ANP)—Dismissal of Dr. Mordecai Johnson, president of Howard university, and the 30 students who sought to be served in the House restaurant in a demonstration against the racial discrimination rule, was urged this week, in the House by Representative Blanton of Texas.

Blanton charged the students as Communists, who had exemplified the teachings of Dr. Johnson, who had preached Communism on several occasions.

Large Crowds Attend Meetings

The two weeks' evangelistic campaign beginning at St. Paul A. M. E. church Mar. 19, is a striking success. With the arrival of Dr. and Mrs. Nathaniel Jeltz, international evangelist from W. Virginia where they closed their last campaign two weeks ago, large and increasing crowds have attended the services.

Sunday afternoon, five hundred persons attended the sermon on "Love, Marriage and Divorce." Capacity crowds heard the morning and night services. Nearly fifty have been converted and joined the churches of the city. The evangelist hopes to make this at least one hundred by Easter Sunday night—when he will preach his closing sermon of the series.

Woman Finance Candidate Defeated By Everett Wadsworth Staff Writer

Two age old city hall traditions were upset Monday in the municipal final election when nearly forty thousand voters swarmed the polls to elect Mayor Dwight N. Lewis, Safety Commissioner Roscoe P. Bane, for the third consecutive term, Pete Welsh, park commissioner, and to defeat John MacVicar, Jr., in favor of George M. King for streets and to put Roy C. Welch in office, the first man to hold the post of finance commissioner since the Rev. E. A. Elliott lost to the late Mrs. C. H. Morris in 1922.

Mrs. Emma K. Blaise followed with Francette H. Miller taking over in the office in 1932 only to lose out in the primary election two weeks ago to Mrs. Margaret Medbury Blackburn, daughter of the late Charles S. Medbury.

Streets Commissioners Battle

Mayor Lewis, the first city chief, executive to succeed himself in office since the late Carl M. Garver, who completed his second successive term in 1926 and J. P. Hanna, who served three successive terms starting in 1912, carried 56 of the city's 64 precincts to defeat Parker L. Crouch by a majority of 6,000. Mayor Lewis campaigning strictly on his financial record, defeated Crouch for the second time.

Mr. Bane, asking third term, barely nosed out Oscar Powell for safety post by 498 votes. MacVicar, streets commissioner, only incumbent to be defeated, lost to George M. King, his 1932 opponent, by 1,686 votes. This battle of "jobs" was the most bitter of the election.

Welsh Victory Overwhelming

Pete Welsh, parks head, incumbent, was re-elected by a topheavy vote of 31,240 to 7,658 for Mrs. Bert McKee, prominent club woman. Welsh carried every precinct in the primaries for the first time in the history of local elections. He lost one precinct to Mrs. McKee in the finals.

Candidates Interviewed
Following the primaries, the ten surviving candidates were interviewed Friday, March 16, at the Bystander office, by the Committee of Six, and representatives of the Ministerial Alliance and the Young Men's Service Club, seeking their views on the extent to which Negro voters would participate in the government. Each one agreed to make personal efforts to see that Negroes be properly represented in the city's affairs and would get favorable consideration toward office appointments.

20th NATIONAL NEGRO HEALTH WEEK

We are now upon the threshold of the 20th anniversary of National Negro Health Week, April 1st to 8th. This national organization is under the auspices of the Annual Tuskegee Conference, the National Negro Business League, the National Medical Association and the National Negro Insurance Association and also in cooperation with the U. S. Public Health Service, State, County and City Health Departments.

Its object is to stimulate the study of health problems, inter-dependent and interracial. Since the mortality rate of the Negro is about one and one-third greater than that of the white race, no effort should be spared in training the hand that rocks the cradle. To lower effectively the Negro death rate in this country, the solution of which must begin at least with the cradle. There are more than a half million Negroes seriously sick all the time; more than a million dollars are spent annually for care of the sick. This is by far too much money to be spent needlessly. How is this to be remedied? By an intelligent study of both health and social problems. The Negro Community Service Clinics of this city are trying in a small way to help solve this problem.

FRONTIER MARSHAL

Secures Necessary 145 Names

WASHINGTON.—(ANP)—In spite of tricks and subversive tactics employed by southern Democrats, to defeat his efforts to bring the issue of discrimination against Negroes in the public restaurant of the House of Representatives to the floor of the House, Congressman Oscar DePriest was successful Friday afternoon in obtaining the 145th signature to a petition to force his resolution out of committee and into debate. The resolution will be debated Monday, April 9. The final signature was that of Congressman George N. Seger, Republican, of New Jersey.

Jim Crow Rule
At the same time Lindsay Warren, Carolina congressman, who lacked the Jim Crow rule was referring to the group of Howard university students who staged a demonstration at the Capitol as a "mob of hoodlums and crooks." Mr. Seger took his pen in hand. Shortly after Mr. Warren had made his speech, replying to that of Mr. DePriest in Wednesday, Congressman Buchanan of Texas, acting as the agent of southern Democrats, moved an amendment to the appropriations bill, striking out the appropriation for the House restaurant. This was done to prevent the introduction of a similar amendment by Mr. DePriest and to forestall debate. The southerners know that the amendment will be stricken when the bill reaches the Senate.

5 Scottsboro Boys In Solitary Cells

Birmingham, Ala.—Five of seven Scottsboro prisoners in the Jefferson county jail were placed in solitary confinement Saturday as punishment for a long series of disorders which Warden F. L. Erwin said they had created. Those placed in solitary confinement were Roy and Andy Wright, Willie Robertson, Eugene Williams and Odie Powell; Heywood Patterson and Clarence Norris under death sentences are being held at Kilby prison, Montgomery.

The entire proceedings, published in the Congressional Record Wednesday, March 21, are reprinted as follows:
Mr. DePRIEST. Mr. Chairman and members of the Committee, I came to Washington as a Representative to Congress on the 10th of April 1929. Up until the 23rd day of last January I never heard this question raised which has now been raised by the Chairman of the Committee on Accounts this year. On that day when my secretary went into the grillroom downstairs he was told by Mr. Johnson that by the orders of the Chairman of the Committee on Accounts he could not be served in that restaurant.

TWENTY ACTORS BEING CAST FOR "STEVEDORE"

SENDS FOR MOTHER

Frankie Half Pint Jackson Plenty Good

NEW YORK—Frankie (Half Pint) Jackson, song writer, pianist and orchestra director from Chicago, with a long record of stage, screen and air history behind him, blew into New York this week to fill a five weeks' engagement at the larger capacity "Grand" houses. He began his first week at the Harlem Opera house in Harlem Saturday afternoon, opening at the head of the Santo Domingo orchestra and his characteristic dance steps and songs, Jackson was brought in and billed the feature attraction to build up lost patronage, or to hold what that house has left by way of patronage since the opening of the Apollo, a rival house a few steps away. Jackson has not been here since 1928, when he appeared on a Broadway bill.

ALONG AMUSEMENT ALLEY

THEATRICAL SPEAKING
Louise Jolton Cook, according to a Western sheet reaching our office, greatly resents the story carried in several papers two weeks ago to the effect that she and her new hubby, Herbert Mills, were not getting along so well. "It's not true," she said.
"Big Smack" and "Little Smack" are nicknames applied to boys in the band to Fletcher Henderson and his brother, Horace Henderson, who plays one of the twin pianos.
Lucky Millinder, dynamic leader of the Mills Blue Rhythm Band, collects rocks and has 233 specimens from different states and countries.
"Savage Serenade," Duke Ellington's latest, His rendition of the number won him a piece with his hand in the Paramount screen version of Earl Carroll's "Murder in the Vanities."
Last year, after "Stormy Weather" was sung by Ethel Waters at the Cotton club in New York, it rained almost incessantly for weeks. Ted Kooser and Harold Arlen wonder what sort of weather will follow their hit sequel, "Hi Wind," which was sung for the first time last week by Adelaide Hall in the opening of the new Cotton club revue.
Fletcher comes forth with a new tune, he calls "Harlem Madness." A recording was made on the number for Victor.
All Harlem is talking about those classy new gaberdine outfits which Jimmy Lunceford and his band sported at the opening of the new Cotton club revue.
For the first time in their radio, stage and screen career, the Mills guitar when they appear in "Operator 13" with Marion Davies, their next picture, Joe, the one who plays the guitar, will use an ancient six-string banjo in this picture because "Operator 13" is a story of the Civil War period and four string tenor guitars were unknown at that time.
"Smoky Joe," Cab Calloway's Pet Show, has just weighed since his master and mistress went to London leaving him in a "boating kennel." His keeper is obliged to coax him to eat.
And speaking of Cab, one London reviewer, describing the gyrations of Cab Calloway on the Palladium stage, called him a "vegetable cat on hot bricks."
Get a load of Jimmy Lunceford's latest phonograph disc—"Here Goes the Fool."
Lucky Millinder and the Mills Blue Rhythm Band will "dance" from Kansas City to New York, that is to say, will commence a tour of one nighters after concluding at the Mainstreet Theatre, which will land them in Harlem two weeks later.
Fletcher Henderson begins a dance tour in Detroit on March 31, which will be followed by a theatre route.

Play Deals With Lynching Theme

NEW YORK—Twenty colored actors will be cast in "Stevedore," a play by the Theatre Union, which was announced today by Michael Blankfort, director. The play, which portrays sympathetically the difficult life of colored longshoremen on the wharves of the Mississippi River at New Orleans, will open on April 15. Casting is now in process.
There is some talk of opening the play in Harlem. This would be in line with the policy of the Theatre Union, a new producing unit, which aims to "create a theatre for the masses," and enable people of low incomes to attend good contented plays.
The Theatre's first production, "Peace on Earth," will complete on Saturday night, a sixteen weeks' run at the Civic Repertory theatre, 14th street and Sixth avenue.
"Stevedore" is the work of Paul Peters, a native of Kentucky, and George Sklar, youthful co-author of "Merry-Go-Round" and "Peace on Earth." Mr. Peters worked on the Stevedore wharves at New Orleans for a year in 1928. At one time he was connected with Langston Hughes and Whitaker Chambers in a one-act play group known as the Siffcase Theatre. It was for this group that Langston Hughes wrote his now internationally famous dramatic poem, "Scottsboro, Limited." Advising the Theatre Union Board on its productions are two other colored celebrities, Rose McCendon and Countee Cullen.

REINSTATED

Little Alma Travers went back in at the bit of the floor show at the Club Alhambra, Los Angeles, this week. She was replaced two weeks ago by a younger entertainer, but the customers couldn't see anybody but Alma.

Noble Sissle Faces Huge Damage Suit

NEW YORK—Charles N. Green, white band agent and former manager for Noble Sissle, who started a $25,000 damage suit against Sissle for breach of contract, is still busy suing the band leader's present manager, Music Corporation of America, for another $25,000.
Both actions revolve about the exclusivity claim, alleging that MCA induced Sissle to break away from Green's management. The two suits total $75,000.
The corporation's defense is that the former exclusivity contract was terminated by a second agreement that Sissle could free lance; and that even now Sissle was playing a spot commission to both Green and the MCA.
Both defendants, through J. T. Usher, attorney, are moving to dismiss the complaint. Sissle played an engagement at Tuskegee Institute last week, making his first tour of the South.
The show closed with George McClellan's specialty clarinetist. McClellan's always good although naturally coarse and uncouth. On the whole though to my mind, the show presented the best stage unit I have seen for a year.

Star Comedian Slim Osborne is Dead in Texas

HOUSTON, Tex.—Slim Osborne, star comedian with L. C. Toland's "Chocolate Revue," died here a few days ago following a long illness. Slim came here in October, but was forced to move to a local hospital the day after the show's arrival. His wife, Mrs. Rosabel, and members of the show stuck by the comedian throughout the period of his illness. Osborne, born in Akron, Ill., had been in the show business for many years. He was a tall, thin man with a long nose and a wide grin. He was working when he fell ill.

But Prohibition Did Make A Difference

BY WILLIAM PICKENS (FOR ANP)
I never have felt disposed to prohibit anybody from doing anything that did not violate the undoubted rights of somebody else. But I have never understood why the people who wanted the liquor ban should have always tried to claim that our prohibition "experiment" was a 100 per cent failure. It was not before prohibition was a common sight to see drunks men and women on the streets and in the gutters—and on the cars and trains; and now that liquor has returned, those phenomena are reappearing. On the Pullman car where I sit now, write, I see just such two drunken white men. The porters had to help them up the steps. Incidentally I had not seen just that in all of the last ten years of prohibition—and I traveled constantly. In New York City, since repeal, I have counted on one street car four drunken Negroes at the same time—two men and two women, boisterous and offensive—a sight which I had not seen for a year, not during the whole stretch of the prohibition.
Also, the claim that prohibition "ruined" restaurants, saloons and betting parties, is just a plain old lie told by prohibitionists for political ends. There were plenty of tough guys, kidnapers and timbers in the "good old days" of the show—and they still are with us in 1934—unless economic justice is established. Of course, with the old-fashioned kidnapers business was not quite as good as it is now, because there were not so many millionaires and the pickpockets were less profitable.

British Writer Describes Cab

LONDON—S. R. Nelson, celebrated critic for "The Era," London theatrical weekly, describes Cab Calloway as "a conglomeration of alpha particles bombarding the central nucleus of the audience with an increasing stream of scat." The reviewer, who watched his high-browness of head-to-toe on the stage of the Palladium theatre, continues: "He is a tripping, rhythmic, he cannot make the slightest movement when the slightest playing which is not a contrapuntal line enhancing the whole musical structure."
The General Theatrical Corporation, operators of the Palladium and other British playhouses, have expressed their disapproval of the development of a backward party. It ought to be time that the Negro was given his reins to either pace or break his own neck. The idea that he will run away with American civilization, however, is being retorted by those who are attempting to hold him in check.
An average girl working in another profession.
Mr. Earl Carroll's 11 beauties are a little mixed. Their original duties completed, they have all been hoping to be "discovered" by Cecil B. De Mille and put into "Cleopatra." In he last two weeks most of them have managed to get onto the De Mille set and to be introduced to the director.

Behind the Scenes in Hollywood

What used to be the dullest social function of the year last year, its stiffness as the comedian paraded out gold statuettes and good-naturedly teased the fobblers of the movie great who sat out in front and laughed at their own wringing.
Not even the Academy itself escaped Will's biting steel.
"You know," he said, "this organization calling itself the Academy of Arts and Sciences reminds me of the fellow who says: 'I'm a gentleman.' Won't you find it out for yourself. Seems to me if our industry is an Art, it's going to look out somewhere. And if it's a Science, it's a miracle."
Movie producers came in for their share. "I just read in the papers," said the comedian, "that Sam Goldwyn has been leaving at Harvard. Now you're writing asking us to send the English version."
Another quip: "We used to see pictures of Louis B. Mayer coming out of the White House with a check-end bag in his hand. Now we see pictures of Jack Warner going in with a trunk."
Will paid a nice tribute to May Robson: "A few minutes ago," he said, "somebody says to me: 'I hope Max Robson gets the statue because she's growing old.' Well, I don't feel so sorry about May losing because I expect her to get it 10 years from now."
The perfect motion picture extra they say is Ruth Madden, a pretty brunette working in Marion Davies' new film, "Operator 13." Miss Madden is the daughter of strict middle-class parents, who were horrified when she entered the movies. After five or six years of extra work, Ruth doesn't drink or smoke and she seldom goes to parties. Contentment, she says, is the most important virtue for an extra. She is always on time and she always comes in with a clean, neat dress. The book and lyrics are by Ted Kooser and the music is by Harold Arlen. This pair have replaced their "Stormy Weather" with another hit, "Hi Wind." Dances are by Bob Fosse, Glenn Randall and Edith Welch. Orchestrations are by Russ Morgan, George Bissman and Tom Whalley.
Dan Healey, the old master, presented the show. He is the white master of ceremonies, who, in his day, has done so much to aid hundreds of colored performers.
The most elaborate and well-staged of the revues is the general consensus of opinion. Herman Stark is manager of the Cotton club and Mr. Kid is the head waiter.

Celebrities Throng Cotton Club's Show

NEW YORK—Some of the celebrities who have danced to Jimmie Lunceford's rhythms at the Cotton Club in Harlem since the premiere of the new floor show a week ago include Marilyn Miller, Miriam Hopkins, Paul Whitman, Margaret Livingston, Gregory Ratoff, Irving Berlin, Samuel Goldwyn, Leo Shubert, Borrah Minevitch, George White, Ted Husing, Jimmy Durante, Lillian Roth, Gene Buck, Ben Polack, Victor Moore, Peggy Hopkins, Duke, Cabina Wright, Abe Lyng, Waring, Edna Duchin, B. A. Rolfe, Ozzie Nelson, Harriet Hilliard, Vincent Lopez, Evan Burroughs Fontaine, Frances Aris and Leo Rotsman.

The perfect motion picture extra they say is Ruth Madden, a pretty brunette working in Marion Davies' new film, "Operator 13." Miss Madden is the daughter of strict middle-class parents, who were horrified when she entered the movies. After five or six years of extra work, Ruth doesn't drink or smoke and she seldom goes to parties. Contentment, she says, is the most important virtue for an extra. She is always on time and she always comes in with a clean, neat dress. The book and lyrics are by Ted Kooser and the music is by Harold Arlen. This pair have replaced their "Stormy Weather" with another hit, "Hi Wind." Dances are by Bob Fosse, Glenn Randall and Edith Welch. Orchestrations are by Russ Morgan, George Bissman and Tom Whalley.
Dan Healey, the old master, presented the show. He is the white master of ceremonies, who, in his day, has done so much to aid hundreds of colored performers.
The most elaborate and well-staged of the revues is the general consensus of opinion. Herman Stark is manager of the Cotton club and Mr. Kid is the head waiter.

relay team championship with a point total of 184. The meet saw one world's indoor record broken and two others tied. Ward tied the lighted world's mark of .062 for the 60-yard dash. Kenneth Sandbach's victory in the high hurdles was all that kept Ward from scoring a triple victory. In addition to winning the dash, Ward jumped 6 feet, 5 1/2 inches to beat his own Butler relays' record and with his second in the high hurdles, contributed 13 points of his team's winning total.

PAY HONOR TO HEAD OF TUSKEGEE

TUSKEGEE INSTITUTE, Ala.—(ANP)—The faculty members of Tuskegee Institute honored President R. R. Moton with a formal reception in Logan hall, Friday evening, March 16, in recognition and appreciation of his fifteen years of very worthy service to the school, the race and to the nation as a whole, and by this gesture, by this unreserved vote of confidence, the faculty demonstrated that a prophet and a great leader is not without honor in his own generation.

The occasion was unlike any other in the annals of Tuskegee Institute. It was an event, unique, enjoyable, profound, Logan hall the vast auditorium that has housed many thrilling performances—of music, sports and the drama—was not Logan hall on Friday night. It was a palm garden, with an orchestra, a sparkling fountain, soft lights, rustic seats, tables arranged to look like giant "8's", and Tuskegee greens everywhere. The dark, rectangular balcony was a dark sky of green foliage, with twinkling, colorful electric bulbs for stars.

There was a program. Dr. Errol D. Patterson, director of the agricultural department, was master of ceremonies. The West Trio entertained with two mandolins and piano. Mrs. Maud Kelly, gave an idea of the host of other tasks Dr. Moton performs aside from his capacity as president of Tuskegee Institute. Hazel Harrison, head of the piano department, was heard at the concert grand "Dr. G. Lake Inex, secretary of the institute, enumerated some benefits that have accrued to the school since Dr. Moton became its head. The Tuskegee quartette rendered a number.

Mrs. M. L. Sims and Susie A. Elliott made the presentation to President Moton of a very hand some humidor, and to Mrs. Jennie B. Moton a huge bouquet of lovely flowers. Cameras clicked, applause and the president thanked the ladies and the assemblage very graciously. Forester, B. Washington, assistant national director of the CWA, director of the Atlanta School of Social Work, was a special guest of honor at the reception.

Impressive Ceremonies Mark 30th Birthday of Bethune-Cookman

By JOHN HENRY ADAMS (For ANP)
DAYTONA BEACH, Fla.—(Special)—The thirteenth anniversary of Bethune-Cookman college was celebrated here March 9, 10 and 11 with persons of national reputation as participants and with the founder and president, Mrs. Mary McLeod Bethune, receiving felicitations by letter and telegram from men and women of great prominence from all parts of the nation.

The annual meeting of the Board of Trustees took place on the morning of the 9th at 9 o'clock. The students' dress parade at 2:30 p. m. was witnessed from a vantage point by President Bethune and her distinguished guests among whom were mayors of three Florida cities: Hon. E. H. Armstrong of Daytona Beach, Hon. A. C. Hatch of DeLand, and Hon. Hubert A. Price of Ormond—the winter retreat of John D. Rockefeller.

Colonel J. H. Ward, chief in charge of the Veterans' Hospital at Tuskegee, Mr. Robert Gover, cashier, Tuskegee Savings Bank; Dr. M. S. Dwyer, president of Clark University; Mr. G. P. Weisber, chairman Daytona Beach Chamber of Commerce; Dr. E. A. Graham, Mr. George W. Marks, Volusia County Superintendent of Public Instruction; Mr. Rupert Longstreet, State Education Association; Dr. Frederick Carl Eselen, corresponding secretary of the Board of Education of the Methodist Episcopal church, were other visitors.

The Educational Day program began at 2:30 p. m. with President Bethune presiding. Guests were extended from Mayor Armstrong of Daytona Beach, Mayor Hatch of DeLand and Mayor Price of Ormond. Mr. Longstreet and Dr. Dwyer, Mr. Morse of Edwards Waters college at Jacksonville.

The principal speaker was Dr. Eselen of Chicago, whose theme was "The Private School in the Scheme of American Education." "It is dangerous," said Dr. Eselen, "to abandon the private school, the stereotype mold of the public school as projected today and as taking from hold on tomorrow."

The Bethune-Cookman chorus recently thrilled the audience with the singing of spirituals and other popular musical selections.

Historic Pageant

On the evening of March 9, a pageant depicting the life of President Bethune and the rise of Bethune-Cookman College as written by Mrs. M. L. Sims and Susie A. Elliott, director of the department of dramatics, drew a capacity house, one-third of which were students of the college. Mrs. Bethune was given an ovation when she appeared in the finale of the play.

The president to the ovation after the stage curtain was lowered. President Bethune made profound impression in her appeal for thirty thousand dollars to meet the national offer of sixty-two thousand five hundred dollars from the General Education Board to erect a science hall.

The Pilgrimage

The alumni program and reunion took place Saturday morning at 10 o'clock. Graduates of the school from far and near were present to show their devotion to the college and its famous founder and president.

Of special interest was the pilgrimage to the place where this school started 30 years ago. A motorcade bearing distinguished visitors and local citizens left the present site at 2:30 p. m. Saturday and in a few minutes stopped by a frame house on Oak street. Here all who could force their way into the small rooms still occupied by the family as of old.

As Mrs. Bethune, weighed down with emotions, held up her quivering hand in emphasizing the personal suffering and sacrifice she experienced in this house with its tiny room, her desk and smaller boxes as seats for five girls to start with, and as he related her need of food and clothing and shoes, the faces of the men and women about her were bathed with tears.

Colonel Ward was so touched by what he heard and saw that he opened his short address with these words: "This is the most nerve wracking scene I have ever witnessed."

What is more disturbing to the colored residents are inclined to believe that the white woman and Graves had a religious sentiment the church that the police came upon them, and that charges were made against Graves to protect the woman who is married.

DECLINES TO RUN FOR ALUMNI TRUSTEE

Dr. Charles Garvin, Alumni Trustee of Howard University, formally notified the Howard University National Alumni headquarters at Washington, D. C. that he had decided not to run another term as Alumni trustee and further stated that he will decline if nominated. His official notice was sent to Geo. A. Parker, President of the Howard General Alumni Association. Dr. Garvin's term expires April 12th when his successor will be elected.

Dr. Garvin's action follows severe criticism of the three Howard Alumni Trustees that appeared in a recent issue of the Howard University Alumni Journal, official publication of the 22,000 Howard alumni. The article criticizing the Alumni trustees was written by Michael Casco Jones, Managing Editor of the Howard Journal who said in part:

"It is my knowledge that the Alumni Trustees, both past and present, with but one notable exception (and he is now deceased) have not considered or treated the alumni as their constituents. They have not represented their fellow alumni by word, deed, act, spirit or intention, as the alumni wished to be represented. Their attitude has been to represent in University Administration to the alumni, instead of representing the alumni to the University Administration. They have not fought and contended for the major things they knew the alumni desired. Indeed, their entire conduct has constituted the most heinous and the most disgraceful I have ever known a constituency to suffer at the hands of their representatives. This should and must be changed before the alumni can have effective and proper voice in the rightful administration of Howard affairs."

The Ballots have gone out and will be returned by April 3rd to the Ballot Box at Howard University. Alumni not receiving Ballots should immediately send for them to the Howard Alumni Association, Howard University.

Enthusiasm of the country will find this Center an unusually inspiring place to hold their meetings. The project provided he could raise the balance of the money for the construction of such a house.

In speaking of the proposed project, President Hubert said, "It is quite noticeable and gratifying that people in all sections of the country are beginning to appreciate the leadership exerted during the past few years by the Georgia State Industrial college, especially as it applied to the improvement of rural life in the South. Consequently we are called upon to supply information and plans for the development of programs to improve community life. The Federal Government has now begun to see that there can be no long-range policy that will remedy the condition of the unemployed unless conditions on the farms are made more livable."

We have long felt that here at the college the teachers and students would contribute to the rural people a more direct contact with the people on the outside of the college, especially the rural people of Chatham and adjoining counties.

We believe that a contact point made through a Community House on the college campus where the underprivileged groups who have not had an opportunity to go to college might get daily contact with the people at the college and provide a kind of laboratory that would work out solutions for many of our so-called economic, social and spiritual problems.

After thinking the matter through the native friends of rural work in the South and they were rather enthusiastic about this type of service. We hope to see the Community House completed and ready for occupancy early in the fall.

The House will contain a large social union room or reception room, a room fitted up for a physical room, a room fitted up for a physician's office where people will be able to receive medical attention for information about better sanitation and health improvement, a kitchen and small dining room. There will also be offices for the Department of Adult Education. Through this Center, it is proposed that all of the religious, social and other organizations of the college will work. #### Critics of Howard Univ. Challenged by New Haven Attorney

NEW YORK—(ANP)—Mr. George W. Crawford, well known attorney of New Haven, Connecticut, and vice chairman of the Board of Trustees of Howard University delivered the Charter Day Address before the members of the New York Alumni Association, at the One Hundred and Thirty-fifth Street Y.M.C.A. building, Charter Day is observed by Howard Alumni throughout the country each year.

"First, to acquire a respectable minimum to the world's accumulated knowledge."

"Second, to acquire an adequate technique with which to deal with his personal problems."

"Third, to achieve a certain philosophy of life."

"After providing at least simple equipment, the college should next concern itself to set the feet of the student on the real way of life. It should lead him into the high road, which should be no blind alley."

The subject of Mr. Crawford's address was "Some of the Immediate Objectives for the Negro College—any and every college."

To begin with, I wish to forestall any assumption that because I happen to hold certain official positions, this speech will deal with any of the highly controversial subjects being agitated in Howard circles. The occasion is hardly appropriate for any such course, any college, however, that I do not register either surprise or impatience that there should be such controversial subjects. These are days when every college agency contributing to the social process is being critically re-evaluated; when the validity of many of the implications of our civilization itself is being examined. This is exactly as it should be.

Howard's case is not unique. There is not an important educational institution in this country which has not in recent years been in the throes of re-organization both of its program and administration, in order more adequately to meet its responsibilities in the face of sudden and radical change.

"I quite frankly say to this gathering of Howard men and women, that so far as an personally concerned, welcome constructive criticism of the decisions and policies of the Howard trustees and from any responsible source, I am certain that this is also the attitude of the Trust of the Board. The utmost wisdom that can be accumulated from any quarter is just what we need to bring to bear on the administration of this important enterprise. To stop there, however, is only to state half of the case. It should be realized that mere captious fault-finding is no contribution. Such shortcomings as exist in the conduct of Howard do not result from any lack of knowledge of what the ailments are that must be dealt with. They result from doubt as to the wisest way in which to deal with these ailments. The problem is not so much the need of an accurate diagnosis of Howard's ills as it is the judicious selection of the remedies. And please remember this that the man who is chargeable neither with the responsibility of the doctor nor the patient's bill, is always free to counsel drastic measures."

"It is none too much to expect from Howard constituency a statesmanlike attitude often expressed in the form of reasonable patience. Progress is not necessarily precipitate. It behooves the far-seeing Negro to have a sense of history always. If he has, he will be less apt to over-stress importance of immediate. We often think the bow waves are just around the corner, only to find when we arrive at the corner that they are not there at all."

With reference to the elimination of all educational blind alleys Mr. Crawford said:

"The cruelly exacting demands which our uprooted social order will make upon the college bred Negro in the next generation, place a grave responsibility upon the schools which must train him. The educational program they provide for him can no longer be an automation, a mechanical, self-end and signifying nothing in respect to his future world and the life he must lead in it. Every feature of course of study in a Negro college is a grave crime against the boy or girl who is exposed to it. Any course is such a crime unless it leads something to the student has got to be or to do. Wherefore, there should be ruthlessly eliminated from the curriculum of every Negro college in this and all rubbish and red-gown and snatter. In spite of all the questions in these days, concerning the profit functioning of the effective college or university, there is, absolutely agreement that it still must afford the student the opportunity to do at least three old-fashioned things:

ROGERS TO CONDUCT TRAVEL TOUR

Rogers, editor and newspaper correspondent, will sail June 30 from New York City aboard the Italian liner, Roma, returning to New York on the Majestic, September 4, according to an announcement made by Mr. Rogers.

The trip will combine recreation with education. Eleven countries will be visited, namely: Madeira, Spain, Monaco, France, Italy, Russia, Palestine, Egypt, Turkey, Syria and England. The powerful modern electric works of Southern Russia will be visited and other cities of old Russia will be included as a contrast.

The cost which includes all transportation, hotels, meals and sightseeing is moderate. Mr. Rogers has traveled extensively in Europe, Africa and America. He is familiar with the history, traditions, and customs of the countries included in the tour. Mr. Rogers can be reached at the Amsterdam News, New York City.

STATE TEACHERS TO MEET IN ATLANTA

The Georgia State Industrial college has recently received a message from friends making it possible to hold a Community House on the campus of the college. This house will be a center for the people of the college and Chatham County.

President Hubert states that friends who are interested in the development of rural life in the South have assured him that they would contribute $100 toward the project provided he could raise the balance of the money for the construction of such a house.

In speaking of the proposed project, President Hubert said, "It is quite noticeable and gratifying that people in all sections of the country are beginning to appreciate the leadership exerted during the past few years by the Georgia State Industrial college, especially as it applied to the improvement of rural life in the South. Consequently we are called upon to supply information and plans for the development of programs to improve community life. The youthful Dixon spoke briefly of the heretofore field of dentistry and spoke of the decrease in the attendance of dental students throughout the country. He urged women students to pay particular attention to the field.

Oral hygiene, which is becoming known everywhere, this day of dentistry, he said, is a young woman for a position with a dentist, similar to that of the nurse with a physician.

The Dixon and other members of the faculty were on their way to Chicago for the purpose of attending the Annual Convention of the International Research Council at Northwestern university.

REIDSVILLE, N. C.—(ANP)—Lawrence Graves, 26, is in the city jail here charged with an attempt to criminally assault Nannie Dix, 30-year old white woman.

Colored residents are inclined to believe that the white woman and Graves had a religious sentiment the church that the police came upon them, and that charges were made against Graves to protect the woman who is married.

"NEW ANALYTICAL BIBLE"

A number of the publications using my releases have requested information about the New Analytical Bible published by the John A. Dickson Publishing Company, 800 South Jefferson Street, Chicago, to which I referred last week and the week before.

Personally, I feel that you are rendering a distinct social and religious service to the people of your community by giving them an opportunity to buy these Bibles, distributed free of charge, together with supply to your copy and cuts free of charge, together with attractive two color circulars of the New Analytical Bible, list of endorsements and other literature all bearing your imprimatur.

The publishers encourage the readers of publications to order their Bibles from their publisher instead of ordering directly from Chicago.

It would not devote so much space to this matter were it not for the fact that I believe that it is just the Bible our people need. The Index and Digest comprising two hundred pages, the Outstanding Facts following each book of the Bible, the complete Chronology, the Harmony of the Gospels, the References which follow each verse instead of being placed in a center column, the Contemporaneous History, the maps, the fifty-two study charts and other features put this Bible in a class by itself.

Anyone who is interested in getting a new Bible certainly ought to get in touch with the Dickson Publishing Company and request literature on the New Analytical Bible before placing an order.

Publications which are interested in rendering a real service to their readers will do well to write the publishers of this Bible in regard to copy and cuts available for writing a duplicate advertisement.

NEGROES IN THE UNIONS

Father Coughlin, in his radio address Sunday, said that General Johnson of the NRA had threatened to crack down on certain industries for violation of the codes under which they operate, when as a matter of fact the American Federation of Labor needed some cracking down on, too.

In spite of the alleged fair attitude of organized labor Negroes still get little consideration in the unions. Everybody who wants to be fair and knows the facts will admit that even the leaders of the NRA, in all the rules and regulations adopted regulating capital and labor have favored organized labor under the NRA; still practically no gain was made by Negroes toward better treatment by the unions.

Union officials often criticize Negro leaders for opposing them and yet in but a few instances Negroes have made little progress in unionized industries.

It is generally conceded that Negro labor has had better jobs and more advancement in the automobile industry than any other. Yet the automobile industry is one of the few large ones where the company unions prevail. Certainly this fact disproves the contention that labor unions have been as fair as the company unions.

According to the settlement of the threatened strike of auto workers, the American Federation of Labor is making gains in their effort to become spokesmen for auto workers. We shall watch with anxiety whether this same chance of advancement heretofore enjoyed in that industry will continue to prevail.

CORRECT LEADERSHIP

Those who have watched the career of Rep. Oscar DePriest must admit that two things stand out boldly which have brought the admiration and respect of even his enemies. First he has gone about his work unimpaired in view his position keeping in view his objective that he represents the people of the first Illinois District as such he has won and been given every courtesy to which his position entitles him. Second, he has not gone to sleep because he has been safe. He contends that so long as the lowliest Negro is unsafe, he himself is unsafe.

On another page of the Bystander will be found a speech made by Congressman DePriest. It bristles with the principle that he represents his race and not himself. It demonstrates what leaders should do who undertake to speak for the Negro.

MAKE AN OPPORTUNITY

The following extract from Clifford Mitchell's "Chicago and Chicagoans" columns demonstrates how a Negro can make a way if necessary.

"A young colored lad, he couldn't be over twelve or thirteen years old, wanted to buy out a news corner. In Chicago, these corners consist of a little shack, about the size of an old piano shipping-crate, and in it they sell the daily papers and the race weeklies. One young colored lad had an opportunity to secure a 'corner' but he lacked the money to purchase it so he went around the neighborhood and canvassed for investors. He offered to pay a penny a week divided to each person who would put in a dime towards securing his working capital. At last I am a stockholder. I have a dip in interest in the lad's business and I am also one of his best customers. It'll be interesting to watch this youngster climb."

TUBERCULOSIS

Tuberculosis may affect almost any portion of the body, but shows itself in different forms, depending upon the way it begets germ which enters the body, the resistance of the person affected, and the character of the infection. For instance: what is known as acute miliary tuberculosis runs a very short course, beginning in the lung and spreading within a very short time to all the vital organs and for this reason, is known as Galloping Consumption. Tuberculosis does not always begin in the lungs, but may begin in the intestinal area and may localize and cause damage there, or, passing through this area, may enter the blood stream and lodge within a point, or the spine, causing a chronic abscess which remains open and draining for a very long period. If this infection, traveling in this same way from the intestines into the blood, enters the spinal canal proper, it produces a form of meningitis which is very resistant to all forms of treatment. Pulmonary tuberculosis is the most common form and it is surprising for what length of time a person may be able to keep on his feet and do his work with a condition which would soon prove serious beyond control if proper treatment was not sought. Wonderful progress has been made in the control and treatment of this disease.

NEGROES IN THE UNIONS

Father Coughlin, in his radio address Sunday, said that General Johnson of the NRA had threatened to crack down on certain industries for violation of the codes under which they operate, when as a matter of fact the American Federation of Labor needed some cracking down on, too.

In spite of the alleged fair attitude of organized labor Negroes still get little consideration in the unions. Everybody who wants to be fair and knows the facts will admit that even the leaders of the NRA, in all the rules and regulations adopted regulating capital and labor have favored organized labor under the NRA; still practically no gain was made by Negroes toward better treatment by the unions.

Union officials often criticize Negro leaders for opposing them and yet in but a few instances Negroes have made little progress in unionized industries. It is generally conceded that Negro labor has had better jobs and more advancement in the automobile industry than any other. Yet the automobile industry is one of the few large ones where the company unions prevail. Certainly this fact disproves the contention that labor unions have been as fair as the company unions.

According to the settlement of the threatened strike of auto workers, the American Federation of Labor is making gains in their effort to become spokesmen for auto workers. We shall watch with anxiety whether this same chance of advancement heretofore enjoyed in that industry will continue to prevail.
