Ruby Bates in Protest Group

Washington, D. C., May 25 (CNS)—Mothers of four of the Negro youths under sentence of death in the Scottsboro, Ala., attack case called at the White House on May 14 to file a plea with President Roosevelt to intercede with Alabama authorities in behalf of their sons. Col. Marvin H. A. O. HAUGE FLAYS MONEY CHANGERS IN SPEECH

Hon. A. O. Hauge, candidate for congress, speaking at Earlham, Monday, May 21st, decried the fact that the "Money Changers" are looking on, doing nothing "while Rome burns." The channels of trade have run dry for want of a circulating medium and apparently no one has either the nerve nor the inclination to prime the system so it may flow once again, he said.

Negro Republican Voters League Endorses Turner for Governor

The Negro Republican Voters' League of Iowa favors Dan W. Turner of Corning, for the Republican nomination for governor.

In doing this it must not be inferred that we think any one of the other candidates is not capable, but it is because we KNOW that Turner is; we have had enough of experimentation or seeking for the unknown, the last eighteen months, to last us for forty more years.

A great patriot has said, "There is no better source by which my feet are guided than by the experience of the past." We ask you to look into the records and compare the achievements of each of the candidates and reach your own conclusions.

We are for Turner on account of his record, we are Republicans and intend to support the standard bearer of the party, we do not mean by this that we are satisfied or think that the Negroes of Iowa have had what is due them as citizens of this great commonwealth; we are out to improve our status, therefore, from the records we recommend to the Negro voters of Iowa the support of Turner for governor of Iowa.

Pearl Gray Is Given Parole

CONVICTED CAPITAL SOCIETY MATRON GRANTED PROBATION

Washington (A.N.P.)—After spending three harrowing nights in jail following her conviction on a charge of embezzlement, Mrs. Pearl Gray, socially prominent matron of this city, was given a suspended sentence and placed on probation for one year by Justice Payton Gordon, of the district supreme court, Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. Gray, formerly employed as a "selector" in the dead letter department of the post office here, was charged with appropriating funds which she took from undeliverable missives. Her case had attracted national attention, and among her character witnesses who appeared in her defense were Congressman Oscar De Priest and the Honorable James A. Cobb, district municipal judge.

HUNDREDS LOSE JOBS AS BLAZE SWEEPS PACKING HOUSES

Chicago—The disastrous fire which swept sections of the Union Stockyards and the area to the east and north Saturday, doing property damage estimated at between $8,000,000 and $10,000,000, threw hundreds of Negroes out of jobs.

Three packing companies which gave employment to our group as butchers and laborers, suffered severe fire losses, and while plans are under way to rebuild it, it will take several months before the unemployed men will be able to resume their old duties.

To Get Jobs Back

Perhaps harder hit than any of the three companies was the Brennan Packing Company, whose damage was estimated at $2,860,000. The Independent Packing company was next with a $2,500,000, while the Omaha Packing company, which hired the largest number of Negroes, suffered a $200,000 loss.

Officials of the three companies say no line will be drawn when the plants are rebuilt. The Negroes will be given their same jobs back.

Speaker Assails Iowa Government

KNUTSON ADDRESSES NEGROES IN POLITICAL MEETING

Clarence A. Knutson, republican candidate for governor of Iowa in the primary June 4th, is basing his campaign upon the platform of Tax Free Homes and Farms and believes that the two per cent sales tax should be repealed, since the two per cent sales tax taxes the man with a small income more heavily than any one else and it takes most of that small income for the necessities of life. Mr. Knutson declared in a recent address delivered at a republican rally sponsored by the Capitol City Progressive club at the Negro Community Center on Wednesday that the present administration in Iowa has not given to the Negro population its proper recognition in government.

Mr. Knutson referred to the support given good government by Negroes of Iowa and declared that their efforts were deserving of wider recognition in governmental affairs. "The republican party, from the time of Abraham Lincoln has been the party of the American Negro," he said. "Many of the benefits which the race has received from American government has come through the republican party. The republican party in the nation and here in Iowa, in recognition of the support so given it by the Negro people, has endeavored throughout the years to give to the Negro proper recognition in government. I believe that the Negro should be given a fuller measure of recognition in governmental affairs so that his ambitions to succeed in human effort shall never receive a setback."

MISS SAMUELSON CONFERS WITH EDUCATION CHIEF

Recognition as a national authority on education came to Agnes Samuelson, state superintendent of public instruction, when she was requested by George F. Zook, U. S. commissioner of education, to attend the conference in Washington this week on the federal emergency education program. The call was issued by Mr. Zook at the suggestion of Harry L. Hopkins, federal emergency relief administrator. Miss Samuelson represented the Iowa Emergency Relief Commission, of which E. H. Mulock is chairman.

The conference drafted an emergency educational program for the next school year. This program is a relief project for unemployed teachers, thereby affording additional education facilities. During the past year six projects were authorized; the opening of rural schools, vocational education, vocational rehabilitation, adult education and nursery schools, and workers' educational classes. Approximately 20,000 persons were enrolled in these emergency educational classes, giving teaching opportunity to 600 unemployed teachers in Iowa.

Small Bloc of Senators Pulling Wires To Keep Measure from Reaching Floor

New York, May 25—A clandestine, but vigorous and well-organized plot is at work to kill the Costigan-Wagner anti-lynching bill in the senate, it was charged here today by Walter White, secretary of the N. A. A. C. P. The measure is being blocked by a small group of senators containing some members from northern and western states as well as the usual southern senators, the N. A. A. C. P. statement charged.

"A poll of the Senate taken three weeks ago reveals that there are enough votes favoring the measure to insure passage," declared Mr. White. "Since then resolutions favoring the bill, passed by such powerful and large organizations as the Y. W. C. A., the C. M. E. Church and others have won over to the measure several other senators. Most recent advices from Washington reveal that 54 votes can now definitely be counted for the bill; 30 senators are opposed and 12 are as yet undecided. In the House a combination of northern, western and border states' congressmen, together with a few from the south, insure an overwhelming majority for the bill."

"But a small bloc of senators, some from the south and a few from the north, are desperately trying to prevent the bill's being voted on. Some of these senators come from states where the Negro vote is large. These senators fear that if they vote for the bill they may antagonize some white voters and they know that if they vote against the bill they will surely antagonize all of their Negro constituents and many white ones."

Baseball Season Opens
Two games have been played in the church baseball league, which opened at the First and University diamond on May 15th. No games were played during the past week, due to the grounds being occupied by a carnival. These contests will be played at the expiration of the schedule at the end of the season.

In the season's opener the Burns M. E. team crossed bats with the I. D. K. club and came out on the long end of a 6 to 4 count. Mel Overton went the route on the mound for the winners. The hard hitting and nice fielding of Rev. S. M. Riley of Burns was a feature of the game. Due to a misunderstanding over the use of a player, Union Baptist ran out on their game with Corinthian Baptist, and the latter engaged in a pickup game in order to not disappoint the crowd. Eddie Saunders hurled for the pickup nine, which incidentally, dumped Corinthian by a 5-4 score. Lee Kemp and Smith served them up for Corinthian. Play will be resumed next week with the following games: Tuesday, Union Baptist vs. I. D. K. club, Friday, St. Paul A. M. E. vs. Burns M. E.

Public Accommodation Fight of NAACP Told

Stirring Chapters from the 25-Year History of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

During its 25 years of existence, the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People has constantly fought for equal accommodation in public places and against discrimination based on color or race. During this quarter century many notable battles have been won for Negro advancement and the Association has been successful in stemming the rising tide of jim crowism in many parts of the country.

A prolonged battle has been waged to end restaurant and hotel discrimination. Shortly after the founding of the Association, the New York branch formed a vigilance committee for the active prosecution of all infractions of the Negro's legal rights. A vigorous attack was launched on color discrimination in public places such as restaurants, hotels, theatres, etc. In 1917 when Negroes were excluded from the U. S. Senate public restaurant the Association received a prompt disclaimer from the late Senator Overman, chairman of the committee in charge. In Ohio during this same year, the branches in Cleveland, Toledo and Lorain forced removal of signs proclaiming that colored people would not be admitted to certain restaurants. The following year through the combined efforts of the national office and its District of Columbia branch, exclusion of Negroes from the restaurant of the new District of Columbia court house was stopped. Later, when a separate restaurant for colored people was opened in the same court house, the branch had it abolished and all discrimination ceased. A similar protest against discrimination in the restaurant of the Library of Congress, however, was not immediately successful. On the other hand such cases were won by N.A.A.C.P. branches at Lansing, Mich., Denver, Colo., and Cleveland, O. Fights against posting objectionable signs were won at Pueblo, Col., Ottumwa, Ia., Cleveland, O., Portland, Ore., Denver, Colo., and Providence, R. I. In 1920 the Milwaukee branch won a restaurant case under the civil rights act. The Toledo branch won a suit against the Metropolitan stores because of refusal to serve Negroes in their cafeterias. The Ann Arbor branch forced abolition of segregation in the University of Michigan Hospital dining room.

Several suits have been won against hotels discriminating against colored people. Recently the association has taken an active part in the fight against discrimination in the House of Representatives and the Senate public restaurants. The Association has also waged a prolonged fight against jim crowism in theatres. In 1913 the branch forced several theatres to cease discrimination against Negroes. During the same year the New York branch brought several suits against theatres. Twenty years ago Negroes were barred from the main floor of all New York theatres. This was broken down largely by the N. A. A. C. P. The Philadelphia branch was likewise successful in 1917 in fighting segregation in theatres. In 1918 in San Francisco the local branch won an important decision in a suit against a theater. In 1925 the Chicago branch aided in a suit against a theater where a young Negro student had been segregated. He was awarded $2,000. In Grand Rapids, Mich., in 1926, a verdict of $200 was recovered from a theater under the Michigan civil rights act. For over twenty years the Association has been fighting the showing of the vicious "Birth of a Nation" Branches everywhere have appealed to authorities to stop such exhibitions and in a surprising number of cases have been successful. Few attempts are made now to exhibit the picture. At one time it was freely shown in all parts of the country.

Other fights have been waged against discrimination in bath houses, beaches, steamships, bus lines, railroads, churches, hospitals, and schools. In 1928, the Association won a decisive victory against lessees of beach front property owned by the city of Asbury Park, N. J., who were seeking to exclude Negro bathers. Similar cases have been won here and there, often against determined opposition. Also in 1928 the Charleston, W. Va. branch won the Negroes the right to use the public library in that city. In 1929 the Association gained widespread publicity for its fight against race prejudice and discrimination in an Episcopal church in Brooklyn, N. Y.

Where bus lines and air lines have practiced discrimination against Negroes, the Association has been quick to take action. Numerous complaints against the Greyhound Bus Lines for jim crowing Negroes in the northern states were made to the national office. The matter was taken up with the Pennsylvania Public Service Commission at Harrisburg, Pa. Several suits have been brought against the company and one man $500 by jury for a discrimination he suffered on a Greyhound bus. The Ludington Air Lines operating between New York and Washington were compelled to abandon their policy of Negro exclusion. Fighting Railroad Discrimination. The fight against segregation and

CHURCH IS PICKETED IN N. Y.

Episcopalians Irked by Removal of Old Pastor; Members Kept Away

TO CONTINUE PICKET

(N. Y. Age—SNS Service) NEW YORK.—Declaring that a grave injustice had been done in the replacing of the Rev. Lemuel C. Dade as pastor of St. Barnabas P. E. church, 725 Belmont avenue Brooklyn, by the Rev. John T. Ogburn, the congregation so effectively picketed the sidewalk before the church building that no member attended either of the morning services last Sunday.

The Rev. Mr. Dade recently returned from a 9 months sick leave in Galveston, Tex. During his absence he was replaced by the Rev. Mr. Ogburn, who already pastors another congregation. According to officials of the church Bishop J. J. Blair Larned, who is in charge of the Long Island diocese, had promised that Rev. Dade would be permitted to remain head of the church. His supporters say that the church building was erected through the efforts of the Rev. Mr. Dade and that the membership had increased during his pastorate from less than a hundred to more than 300.

The Rev. Mr. Dade, who is a brother to Rodney Dade, well-known Harlem business man, has a doctor's certificate that his health is sufficiently restored for him to resume his parish duties. But this certificate was discredited by Bishop Larned and the minister was told that he would have to submit to an examination by doctors selected by his church superiors. Meanwhile, his successor has been instructed to confine his capacity as pastor of St. Barnabas.

More than 250 parishioners were in the picket lines last Sunday and they say they will continue their carried banners which read: "Injustice must not stand, crush it. We want Rev. Dade. We don't want Ogburn. $100 per cent is the man who can make his own job and not take another's."

Who built St. Barnabas? Rev. Dade or Ogburn? What have you to say you can't afford to let this injustice stand, for God's sake crush it. Most of the members also signed a petition requesting the return of Rev. Dade.

Following December a report of 80,000 words was turned over to the Association. The report, the most thorough and painstaking ever made on a hospital, failed to substantiate the charges of color discrimination, favoritism and segregation although pointing out that the institution was "dangerously handicapped by overcrowding and lack of equipment and facilities." It held that the hospital was on a par with other municipal institutions of the kind in New York City. Also a general survey of opportunities for Negro initiative and nurse training in the U.S. the investigation called upon American universities and hospital authorities to widen opportu-

Fat Pockets Cause Walton to Be Jailed

ATLANTA, GA.—Their attention attracted by his bulging pockets, Radio Patrolmen E. T. Payne and L. A. Packer, early Thursday arrested Julius Walton, address unknown, in connection with the burglary of the Big Samuels company, at 298 Martetta street.

Brought to police headquarters a more careful search of Walton, uncovered $62 closely concealed in his shoes and an additional $11 in bills folded up in the watch pocket of his trousers.

The officers returned to the office of the Big Samuels company, wholesale beer dealers, and discovered that the safe had been bolted to the center of the floor and a hole cut in the bottom. The office was also ransacked, the officers said.

Walton will face a preliminary hearing before Judge A. W. Calloway in police court this morning, according to Detectives Meek and McKibben assigned to the investigation of the case.

Winning Civil Rights Law

No survey of the Association's 25-year struggle for unhampered public accommodation would be complete without recounting its persistent fight for effective civil rights laws in the various states outside the South. It was largely instrumental in strengthening the New York civil rights law in 1914, and pressed many suits under it. In 1918 it succeeded in further strengthening the law through the passage of an amendment providing for a drastic civil rights law passed by the legislature of that state. In April, 1934, the Massachusetts law was strengthened by raising the minimum damages from $25 to $100.

The unceasing vigil of the Association in this regard has prevented the enactment of existing civil rights laws and halted the enactment on numerous proposed jim crow laws and ordinances. "THE EMPEROR JONES" FOR "WHITE FOLKS" ONLY JACKSON, Miss. — (ANP)—"White Folks Only" was invited to a midnight showing of "The Emperor Jones", featuring Paul Robeson, the great Negro actor, at the Alamy theatre here Sunday.

EXTENSIVE PROBE IS STARTED

Brevity of Strike No Index to Feelings of Students; Many are Dissatisfied

TROUBLE DEEP-ROOTED

By P. A. DAVIS WILBERFORCE, Ohio.—An extensive investigation of conditions at Wilberforce, Ohio, revealed that there really was a student strike last Thursday, however, not marked by such violence as first reported, but by a deep rooted unrest which threatens at any moment to bring to light facts of an amazing character.

Ridley Threatened During the strike feeling ran to such a pitch that students threatened to "hotly" visit Rev. Eudell C. Ridley and Dr. William J. Madison from the chapel of Galloway Hall after demands had been made for all members of the faculty to leave the meeting.

Investigation revealed that the strike itself was not so important as it had a duration of only one hour Thursday morning, from 10:30 to 11:30. However, the strike in the minds of the students, began earlier and threatens to extend far into the future.

Ransom Regime Resented

The girls, disaffected with the strict rules enacted by the dean of women which they term as being a bit "old fashioned" joined the boys, who are equally dissatisfied with the recent threatened curtailment of their social privileges, in a long protest of the decision of Superintendent Howard D. Gregg, dean of the College of Education. Many also believe that there are too many Ransoms in office at the university. It is known that there are several relatives of Bishop R. C. Ransom now on the payroll of the Sunbeam, Montague, Md.

Last Wednesday men students were called to chapel where the new rules were presented on social privileges, which in the minds of the more liberal students were very distasteful.

High that a meeting was called by the boys immediately following adjournment, in which two committees were appointed: one to investigate the Gregg demotion, the other to investigate social conditions and the effect the new rules were to have.

Gregg Not On Campus

The next morning, Thursday, a program in Galloway Hall, feeling developed to such an extent that when the sorority sought to dismiss one of the students ordered every student to remain seated, but ordered all members of the faculty to leave. An obsequious student, except Dr. Madison, who on this occasion was acting in the capacity of president in the absence of President R. B. Wright and Froeländel C. Ridley, who did not choose to go although they were threatened to be thrown out. Gregg, who was in Columbus the day before and totally ignorant of what had happened was brought and brought to the chapel where he expressed his appreciation to the students for their interest in his case.

Petition Circulated

Disparaged from the chapel, the strikers sought to hold their meeting in a near by field, but were denied this privilege. A suggestion from some one that the meeting be

CHURCH NIPS RACKETEER CONTENTION

Deacon's Ownership of Bar and Cabaret Disproved at Special Meeting

GIVEN CLEAN SLATE

DETROIT.—By Robert Crump, for the Associated Negro Press. The serene and religious dignity of staid old Second Baptist church was slightly disturbed a few days ago and some very ugly rumors were afloat because of the supposed business connections of one of the high officials of the church with a so-called racketeer. Many of the members opined that a cabaret and cocktail bar altho a legitimate business was not the sort of business that a church of fier should engage in and they demanded a show down so much so that a special meeting was held at the church here Wednesday night.

W. C. Osby, president of the trustee board of Second Baptist of which the Rev. R. L. Brady is pastor, is said to be part owner of the Norwood hotel which gets its name from Walter Norwood, who it is said has been for some time engaged in a well-known racket. Mr. Osby as manager of this famous hotel which advertises the best cabaret and the best appointed cocktail bar in the city can be seen daily going about his official duties in the hotel while on Sundays he is just as conspicuous carrying on his religious duties.

Mr. Osby having previously been called before the deacon board is said to have been very obstinate and refused to answer questions on the grounds that a hotel is legitimate business, and estimated that it was his own private affairs. The deacons merely sought to clear the matter up with him, but when it could gain no headway with Mr. Osby that gentleman was excused from the meeting so that the deacons might carry on their business in private as is the usual custom. Mr. Osby is said to have refused to go whereupon the deacon board removed itself into another room leaving Mr. Osby alone. Through some twist of fate the deacons attempted to put the case out after which it is said they asked for his resignation.

Wednesday night's meeting, however, which was largely attended by members of the congregation, brought out the facts and those who came with the luten, doomed to disappointment on the matter was settled in a sane and quiet manner. It was shown that Mr. Osby is merely a hired man in the hotel where he first worked as part time engineer. The hotel management learning of his business manager of the hotel. Mr. Osby has no money invested in the property and besides the advertised is a cocktail spot and distinct thing from the separate and distinct thing from the hotel proper, it being run and managed by an outside interest.

With these and other facts made known the church officials and the congregation agreed that a man has a right to work wherever he can find employment and that his position as such would bring no reproach upon the church. Mr. Osby's financial interests in insurance and other business projects here and was at one time at the head of the Dunbar hospital.

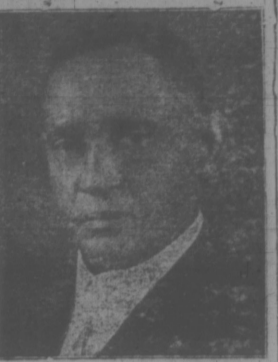

held in the yard of the Gregg home was approved. Gregg spoke for about two minutes stating that he was demoted because he refused to "play rotten politics."

A petition was circulated by the students to get Gregg reinstated. Another group made telephone calls to various newspapers, photographers and other sources trying to work up sympathy, stretching the facts by stating that windows and furniture had been broken. Due to the continued pleading of Gregg the strikers finally returned to class at 11:30, thereby missing only one class.

Gregg—Jenkins At Odds No evidence of broken furniture was found. The glass in a front door of Galloway Hall was found broken, but the cause of this there was no evidence of violence.

Gregg was elected to the position of superintendent in July 1933, succeeding E. Champ Wardick, who acted in that capacity following the death of R. C. Bundy. During this time the school has improved greatly; it was only recently that national recognition in scholarship has been gained, which was due partly to his efforts. It is known that Gregg and Carl Jenkins, who has been selected to temporary act in this capacity, have been at odds for some time.

Expect Many Delegates to S. S. Congress

WASHINGTON, (ANP)—Rev. W. H. Jernagin, president of the National Baptist Sunday School Congress, said "This Congress, which will be held in the Capital City next month from the 25th to the 28th, will be one of the largest in attendance, we have ever had."

Rev. A. M. Townsend of Nashville, Tenn., and Rev. Marshall H. Talley of Indianapolis, Ind., were in Washington recently making plans for the affair.

The program under way and the great preparations of the local committee have taken a new trend as the days grow shorter the number of expected delegates increases making it necessary for the local committees to change their plans finding more locations for the visitors to stay. The direct program committee has planned a most elaborate singing concert, consisting of 500 voices and any prominent singers will appear.

The Mt. Carmel Baptist church located at 3rd and I streets, north west, will be the headquarters during the convention. The city auditorium will be used as the final meeting program when the 600 voices will sing. Dr. Jernagin left for Los Angeles on business for the Congress Sunday.

Gammon Prexy Talks at D.C. Hits Negro's Environment

WASHINGTON—(ANP)—The one thing that is doing more to impede Negro progress than any other is the factor of environment, it was pointed out in a committee report made to Dr. Willis J. King, president of Gammon Theological seminary, Atlanta, at the National Conference on Fundamental Problems in the Education of Negroes, at a session held here last Friday evening.

"A careful and impartial study of the environmental factors influencing Negro life, particularly those outside the school, show that the bias toward the disintegration of the character and personality of the Negro," Dr. King stated. "As far as possible, these disintegrating factors and racial discriminations must be eliminated if the Negro is to achieve real character."

"On the positive side, such agencies as the home, the church, and the schools, both tax-supported and private, must extend themselves to the limit," the educator continued. "To the end that the development of character be recognized as the chief aim and objective of any education worthy of the name."

Turning then to a brief survey of the present moral status of the Negro Dr. King said:

"For the most part, the Negro responds to the traditional sanctions of morality in much the same way as does his white neighbor. That is to say, he has accepted as his ethical ideals such traditional virtues as honesty, truthfulness, chastity, etc. But is guilty of the same sort of laxity in the observance of those sanctions as are 'Other Americans'."

Dr. King stressed the ethics of the Negro race on four counts: unreliability in keeping appointments; lack of a proper conception of the value of time; lack of a sense of obligation in the repayment of loans, or payment of pledges; and lack of a sense of responsibility for the support of his own educational institutions.

SPELMAN IS GIVEN NEW PORTRAIT

College Now Has Painting of Miss Lucy Spelman; Trace Rockefeller Friendship

STAGE UNVEILING RITES

ATLANTA, GA.—A portrait of Miss Lucy M. Spelman, whose family gave its name to Spelman college and who was herself a close friend of the institution, was unveiled yesterday morning at the chapel service. The exercises were held in Sisters chapel which was given as a memorial to Miss Spelman and her sister, Mrs. John D. Rockefeller by John D. Rockefeller, Jr. The portrait was given through Willard S. Richardson, a life-long friend of the Spelman-Rockefeller family and for 17 years secretary of the Laura Spelman Rockefeller Memorial Fund.

Before the picture was unveiled by Clara A. Stanton, a senior in Spelman college, who had impersonated Miss Spelman in the Founders' Day pageant in 1931, President Florence M. Read told of the long-continued interest of Miss Spelman in the institution which dated from the occasion in 1884 when she and the Rockefeller family visited the campus, and the elder Mr. Rockefeller made his first major contribution to the school by paying off the mortgage on its land and buildings. President Read then read a number of letters from the college archives showing Miss Spelman's intimate knowledge of and great interest in the students and the work of the school.

As evidence of the continued interest of the Rockefeller family in Spelman college, a telegram was read from the elder Mr. Rockefeller sent in response to a telegram of greeting from the Spelman alumnae on the occasion of home-coming day. In this telegram from Ormond Beach, Fla. da, Mr. Rockefeller said: "I am deeply touched and very grateful for your beautiful message. I received it and send hearty congratulations and best wishes for graduates of Spelman with gratitude for all the years of happy and united service to cause of our common Master."

ARM OF LAW IS VERY LONG, KEED

Brings Suspect Long Way To Face Murder Charge

CLEVELAND, Ohio.—The wheels of justice grind slowly, but sometimes surely. Alvin Barnett will learn in the near future if he is really the murderer of a junkman late last summer as it is charged.

Barnett was apprehended in Arkansas recently for larceny, and a check of his fingerprints revealed that he was a suspect in the killing of Harry Friedman, a junk peddler, on last August 24th.

The killing of Friedman was not at first termed a murder, opinion at the time being that his death was due to a traffic accident. This theory, however, was later discarded, especially in view of the peculiarity of the location of the corpse, in the rear of 2482 E. 63rd street. A wooden club was then said to have been the instrument of death.

While it has not been proven that Barnett is responsible for the murder, evidence on hand this week was sufficient to cause a request for a grand jury indictment. This request was made on Wednesday of this week.

A DESERVED PROMOTION

The height of a man's ambition is to reach the top of the ladder of his chosen profession; it is encouraging when those in authority pick those entitled to reach those heights and give them the honor due. This rule is well exemplified in the selection of J. W. Studebaker of the Des Moines Public School system as U. S. Commissioner of Education.

As head of the Des Moines schools he has built up a splendid system; bringing to this community the best and the newest in modern methods; he brought the Adult Education Forum and Smouse Opportunity School; has run a clean and efficient system; as an educator he is recognized all over the country; and while Negroes and their friends have not realized their desire to secure Negro teachers under his administration, some progress has been made in that direction.

The Bystander is proud of his promotion and hopes that he may go further; yet it is selfish enough to wish him back after a year of service in Washington.

POOR CAMPAIGN METHODS

It has come to the attention of the Bystander that certain candidates are giving beer parties in order to line up Negro votes in some precincts.

The Bystander is not opposed to drinking beer or whiskey either, under some conditions, but it does believe that the most reprehensible practice a public official can carry on is to attempt to influence voters by buying beer and alcohol.

Such practice existed in years gone by; one which has left some ugly spots. It should not be renewed and decent voters should not countenance it at this enlightened age. Today Negroes demand and should receive jobs and other decent consideration that others get; nothing less, nothing more.

Health Talks

Dr. H. H. London HEART DISEASE

There are many cases of heart disease and heart abnormality which exist without the knowledge of the person affected. Many heart conditions exist from childhood and are carried over into adult life without any actual heart weakness occurring. A fair percentage of people have some infectious disease in childhood which has left something, no doubt, which may need supporting sometime later in life. Infectious diseases in childhood need a somewhat longer period of treatment and supervision in convalescence than is usually accorded them. For this reason, more than any other, perhaps, care should be exercised to prevent the occurrence of some heart disorder in later life. One should make sure that children convalescing from infectious diseases have made a complete recovery, before allowing them to take up a normal routine.

While many heart disorders are not serious at the time that first notice is taken of them, neglect can, and often does, cause partial or total disability later on. Persons with much foresight, however, do not allow the fact that they have some heart disease, to cause them a great deal of mental disquietude, but rather, take such steps as are necessary to prevent the furtherance of the disease.
