EVICITION CASE TAKES RACE ANGLE Gov. McAllister Quells Mob Party With Bullets

Girl Called Crazy For Marrying Negro

Chicago, Ill.—"Not only judged sane but termed brilliant" was the verdict of one alienist in the examination of Mrs. Jane Emery Newton, 26, Wednesday and was set free on $400 bond. The white wife is now planning to obtain freedom for her Negro husband, Herbert Newton, communist leader. The Newton case, not unlike many others in the city, originated when the couple were evicted from their home, but gained national prominence when it was discovered that his wife, Mrs. Jane Emery Newton (white) is the daughter of a former national commander of the American Legion, and a former student at the University of Michigan.

Mrs. Newton, since her identity was discovered last Friday, has been branded unofficially as being insane. Numerous mental experts have examined her. Their findings were made known Wednesday when the hearing of her sanity came up for disposition. The couple was arrested for disorderly conduct when they resisted eviction. When the racial angle was discovered, the case took on a new significance.

Parents of a son, Mrs. Newton has been married twice to white men. She believes in the equality of races. Dr. Sidney Kuh reported the woman "distinctly above the average in intelligence." Dr. James Whitney Hall questioned her on her social beliefs. "Since childhood I believed that there was unreasonable suffering in the world and a readjustment of the social system is needed," Mrs. Newton replied. Judge Green, in ordering the examination of the girl, stated he is of the opinion she is suffering from some kind of mental ailment. He declared open war on communism, but declined to state his position on intermarriage. He said that he had nothing to do with the girl's idea of marrying a member of another race. Under the law, he said, she had a right to do whatever she desired in that connection.

The judge said: "Whether I like intermarriage or not is not under discussion. And I shall not make any comment on that point. What I am interested in is that the law be upheld. It seems to me," he added, "that an act tending toward a breach of the peace occurred when Mrs. Newton moved back into the place and on that action she should be tried."

The year old Newton child, Michael, who is being cared for by friends while the couple battle for the right to live in peace, not unlike thousands of other children born to mixed couples, is referred to as the "half-caste child," the reference carrying with it a note of derision and disgrace.

Mrs. Sophia M. Nichols Sells First Christmas, Inc., Share

MRS. SOPHIA N. NICHOLS is shown writing the first Christmas, Inc., share sold to Atty. S. Joe Brown.

By Everett Wadsworth Staff Writer

Des Moines is doing its part to make this year a happier and merrier Christmas in reality by the distribution of toys, candy, nuts, fruits and foodstuffs to the thousands of needy families in the city. Through the efforts of Community Christmas, Inc., Burt Springer, president, and volunteer workers from many civic organizations, local citizens are buying shares at the rate of $1.00 each to help the unfortunate people to enjoy the holiday season.

Mrs. Sophia M. Nichols, founder of the S. M. N. Social Workers club, and charter member of the Community Christmas, Inc., sold the first 1934 share last week to Attorney S. Joe Brown. Several hundred Negroes have contributed to the financial support of this drive. The headquarters are in the building at Sixth and Walnut street, formerly occupied by the Iowa-Des Moines National Bank and Trust company. Phone number is 3-0184.

In the interview Tuesday afternoon at the offices, which resembled a miniature toyland of various-colored toys of all kinds, making it a "Santa Claus fairland," the writer was introduced to several of the busy and energetic workers, who were hurriedly engaged in washing, gluing, sewing and patching and what not. Mrs. Carl Singmaster, secretary, and Mrs. Catherine Reynolds, chairman toy department, expressed their pleasure in working with Mrs. Nichols. "I am proud to be a charter member of such a worthy organization," she said. "My desires are to make others happy."

Assisting Mrs. Nichols are Mrs. Charles F. Howard, Mrs. Bertha Terry, Mrs. Mattie Dameron and Miss Elizabeth Warricka. Mrs. Mabel Mason, Mrs. Florence White, Mrs. Frances Hall and Mrs. Mattie Gould are assisting as file clerks. The following organizations dressed and repaired dolls: Mrs. S. J. Brown and W. C. T. U., 35; Mrs. Lillian Edmunds and Campfire Girls, 25; Mrs. Helen Bashars and S. M. N. club, 12; Mrs. Mason and American Legion Auxiliary, 10.

L. Fowlers Issue 1935 Calendars

The L. Fowler & Son Funeral Home of 1701 Walker street is presenting to its patrons and friends attractive lithographed calendars for 1935. Printed on enamel paper in harmonious colors, a beautiful colored mother is shown with her smiling baby.

These calendars make a pleasing addition to other wall designs in the home. Everyone is welcome to receive one of them, Mr. Fowler said, by calling 6-2713 and one will be delivered free of charge.

NAACP Meeting To Be January 1st

The Des Moines branch of the N. A. A. C. P. will hold a public mass meeting Tuesday, January 1st, at St. Paul A. M. E. church. The general subject will be the Cortright-Wagner anti-lynching bill. Mrs. Sidney J. Dillon, educational committee chairman, will preside. The Rev. A. S. Gilmartin of the Unitarian church will be the principal speaker.

The Rev. A. Ross Brent will be a speaker on the program and the Junior Branch will be represented. A. P. Trotter, president of the Des Moines Branch, N. A. A. C. P., appeared before the Ministerial Alliance meeting this week. As a result, a resolution in support of the anti-lynching campaign will be presented to all the Negro churches of the city for adoption.

Students Awarded At Union Baptist

The Union Baptist church at East Sixteenth and University streets awarded seven certificates for second year's work in Bible study work last Sunday at the evening's services. These diplomas for the state "Thru the Bible" course are issued each year by the Fundamental Association of the U. S. A., Des Moines branch. Guy E. Fish of Penn Avenue Baptist church, secretary, made the presentations.

The class, which will begin its third year's work in January after the holidays, was conducted by the Rev. J. W. Tutt, pastor. The following persons received awards for first and second year's work: Mrs. Blanche Jackson, Mrs. Flossie Miller, Miss Rose Vaughn, Mrs. Bernice Angles and Mrs. Jessie Davis. Mrs. Verona McElroy and Rev. Wm. Mahogany were presented with certificates for second year's course.

Montrose Johnson to Open Funeral Home

Under the terms of the lease, the new firm will take immediate possession and will commence business at once. However, the management plans a formal opening within a few days, the date of which will be announced in the Bystander next week.

Mr. Johnson is well known in Des Moines, having lived here for a number of years prior to 1921.

FULLER IN DEFENSE OF RACE

Roger Williams-Howe Prexy Observes Conference

MENTIONS HUEY

By REV. T. O. FULLER

A Crime Conference called by the Attorney General of the United States has just been held in the City of Washington. It was attended by high officials of the Government by representatives of law enforcement agencies, and by outstanding citizens from all sections of the country. I am not certain whether any members of the Negro Race were present, but I do know that Negroes are as much concerned about the subjects discussed as any persons present, and may be counted upon to cooperate with the authorities in carrying out any honest to goodness program or effort that may be put forth.

In calling the conference to order, Atty. General Cummings said: "We must have a great National Scientific and Educational Center for work in this field. We need methods for better selection of personnel, laboratory facilities for work in detection and apprehension, opportunities for scientific research as to better ways of taking all of the various steps in Criminal Law Enforcement." The Hon. Henry L. Stinson, former Secretary of State said: "We have become sentimental all over crime to a hysterical degree which is largely responsible for the breakdown of our system of justice." The Hon. Patrick J. Hurley, former secretary of War said: "Regardless of the need for National Leadership and Coordination, they should not forget that the primary responsibility for good government and law enforcement rests with the citizen."

President Roosevelt struck the keynote when he said: "It is our positive duty to keep before the Country the facts in regard to crime as a whole, great crimes, lesser crimes and little crimes, to build up a body of public opinion which I regard to be competent to act in not in this day and age, and actively active or alive to the situation in which we find ourselves—I ask therefore, to do all in your power to interpret the present of crime to the people of this Country."

These excerpts from the great address of our President and from other eminent speakers who addressed the Crime Conference give evidence of an awakened conscience as to the terrible crime situation together with a determination to change the existing conditions that threaten the stability of Government. Mr. Hurley well said that law enforcement rests primarily with the citizen. In other words, the home and fireside must see the awfulness of crime to realize the destructive power of it and what it does to poison the ideals of home.

The President spoke of lynching. It may be thought that lynching is most disastrous to the Negro race against which it is most often directed. While lynching shatters the hope of the Negro as to the supremacy of the law, and that by "jury" when a verdict of crime is reached, the heaviest blow in my opinion falls upon the hundreds and thousands who make up the lynching party. The hardening effect upon women and children by the foundation for crime so deep in the ideals and characters of observers and well wishers that many generations may be made to reap the bitter harvest of cruelty and lawlessness.

OUR THEME FOR TODAY

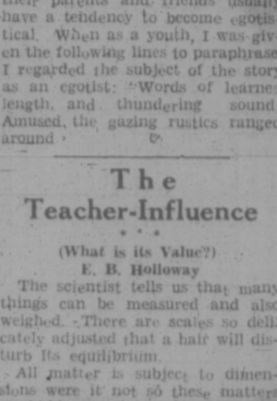

"EGOTISM"
The subject of today's article is the suggestion of one of our local medical practitioners, Dr. E. B. Ford. Dr. Ford is a very successful physician, and his desire that I would write upon egotism is founded upon his contact with persons possessed of this dread faculty.

The hymn of the egotist is: "Me first, last and all the time," and this hymn tells the story of countless millions of men and women of every race, in every clime, and in every walk of life the world over. It is the faculty of ultra self-preservation emanating from an imperious knowledge of others and their worth, superinduced by an extreme love of self. "Love thy neighbor as thyself" is a divine mandate and, if obeyed and practiced will obviate any desire to be egotistic. The egotist sees all as inferior to himself and subordinates the efforts and acts of others so that he might appear superior. To the pronoun "I" he adds the verb "know" and everything is "I know" and one else knows anything, and if he is charitable enough to give credit to another it is in a minor degree. He wants to be the head of everything, lead everything, direct everything, even when he knows nothing. Egotism is a mental disease—it is a sort of delirium tremens developed by an intelligent person associating with the inferior classes; amongst them he is the leader, the best; therefore, he is called upon to give them advice. When he speaks there is none to contradict him; he is the infallible guide of the community, therefore, he becomes self-opinionated, self-complacent, and self-sufficient. This person, when removed to an element of his intellectual equals, where his advice is not sought nor his opinion revered, finds himself embarrassed and he sees to the extreme in order to establish his infallibility by use of reckless assumptions of superiority and exaggerations.

Egotism inculcates prejudice of a virulent character; it strikes hard at the theory of equality of accomplishment for others than himself; it has a catalytic tendency which adds to his distastefulness and makes it burning. It is sinister because it seeks to destroy the worth of others and exalt itself, and it claims an inheritance from the source of wisdom from which others are supposedly barred. Egotism advertises itself wherever it lifts its head. Notice the egotist, he can always produce countless numbers of references and diplomas. His business is to collect evidence to prove his importance and superiority. When he is a stranger in a community he does not begin at once to assert his egotistic qualities, but he listens and weighs not carefully, the importance and ability of all; then when he has in his opinion succeeded in selecting the strong and the weak, he awaits his opportunity, like a spider after a fly, and snatches upon the weak. A member of the group to assure himself of drawing first blood from his antagonist. Like an Indian he displays this first scalp as a mark of heroism, and he is by this act welcomed into the assembly of the great, and near great. In here, he is encouraged in his vain peacock he struts up and down before this group, flaunting his knowledge and incidentally his weak points, while the "identical" chuckles. He is the strong man of the hour so long as he does not step on the corns of one of the "great and near great." If he does, they "bear him limb from limb." Egotism should be discouraged because it is distasteful and ugly. One needs not parade his worth and ability before the world, if he possesses these faculties; they will be seen and proper credit will be given him. What the world needs is results, and not theories; it pays well for accomplishments and scoffs at blarney and with sacrifices and difficulties.

Egotism does not pay. The egotist gets no credit from the world because he gives no credit to anyone. He lives for himself, despises himself, and usually suffers by himself. He is devoid of the sympathies of humanity, because he does not need them, and his best friends will avoid telling him of his dangers, because he is apt to despise them with the saying: "I'll take care of it myself, I know." The egotist is looked upon as the perfect fool by those who know better, and as a cunningly bery by those or by legal processes, the strength to support law enforcement is diminished if not destroyed.

CHRISTMAS EVE VIGIL

'Twas the night before Christmas and all through the house, nothing was stirring—except those two little kiddies. Disregarding mother's warning that they had better be in bed, they waited patiently in front of the fireplace when lo and behold, there was Santa Claus looking right at them.

WE ARE WISHING OUR FRIENDS THE MERRIEST CHRISTMAS EVER--

It is Christmas time again . . . The time of the year when most of us are inclined to forget the urge of business and to think more seriously of the beauties of life and the things which make human existence really worth while.

One of life's priceless possessions, as we see it, is the spirit of friendship which underlies our relations one with the other. Without friends, life would indeed be an empty shell. As in our personal lives, so is it also in our business lives. With an understanding such as is born of true friendship, business relations partake of a warmth and cordiality that lead to perfect understanding, harmony, mutual confidence and loyalty. Such has been our experience.

So to our friends everywhere we send this Holiday Greeting, with sincere appreciation of their friendship for us, their confidence in us, and their loyalty to us. May we wish for you a Merry, Merry Christmas and a most Happy and Prosperous New Year!

OKLAHOMA COURT DOOMS JESS HOLLINS TO DIE

NEW YORK—Jess Hollins was sentenced to die by the Oklahoma Criminal Court of Appeals this week. Hollins has been under death sentence for allegedly raping a white girl since 1932. The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People entered the case on August 15, 1932, three days before Hollins was to be executed, following his conviction in December, 1931.

The N. A. A. C. won a stay of execution and a new trial at which the question of Negro jury exclusion was raised by Judge E. P. Hill, the counsel retained by the "Oklahoma branch." Hollins was again sentenced to death by an all-white jury and now that the appeal by his behalf has failed, he is sentenced to die on January 4, 1935.

The Oklahoma branches have now done all that is possible in Jess Hollins' behalf, but the national office has turned the case over to its legal committee for appeal to the supreme court of the United States on the all-white jury issue. Application for the appeal will automatically stay execution.

RAILWAYS CARRY A BIG TAX LOAD

Total of $265,000,000 Paid Annually to States, Counties and Cities.

WASHINGTON.—The Bureau of Railway Economics, which is the statistical agency for all of the railroads, has just compiled figures showing how much in taxes the various states receive annually from the country's railroads. Taxes on railway property and on rail earnings yielded a total of about $265,000,000 to the states and cities in 1932, the last year for which complete and official figures are available. In addition, the railroads paid something more than twelve million to the federal government in income tax in the same year.

The figures are regarded as significant at this time because of the reported consideration being given in federal government circles to a program for purchase of the railroads by the government. It is plain that acquisition of the rail lines will mean that state and local governments will lose heavily in revenue if the rail property becomes non-taxable through federal purchase. Administrative authorities realize that such a prospect would arouse a storm of antagonism and it has been hoped that an attempt would be made by the Government to avoid local taxation, but all federal precedent is to the contrary and no taxing body could safely rely upon such a change of national policy.

Taxes Paid to States.
Railway taxes accruing to the several states, including of course the amounts paid to the counties and cities in 1932, were as follows:

Alabama	$ 2,043,637
Arizona	1,232,241
Arkansas	1,000,000
California	10,385,110
Colorado	1,400,000
Connecticut	1,024,402
Delaware	152,253
Florida	2,012,232
Georgia	2,014,202
Idaho	2,012,232
Illinois	20,144,443
Indiana	2,012,232
Iowa	2,012,232
Kansas	2,012,232
Kentucky	2,012,232
Louisiana	1,982,827
Maine	1,001,234
Maryland	1,812,232
Massachusetts	1,112,232
Michigan	2,012,232
Minnesota	2,012,232
Mississippi	2,012,232
Missouri	2,012,232
Montana	4,722,232
Nebraska	2,012,232
Nevada	1,122,232
New Hampshire	1,001,232
New Jersey	21,222,232
New Mexico	1,001,232
New York	27,222,232
North Carolina	4,322,232
North Dakota	2,012,232
Ohio	10,222,232
Oklahoma	2,012,232
Oregon	2,012,232
Pennsylvania	4,522,232
Rhode Island	201,232
South Carolina	2,012,232
South Dakota	2,012,232
Tennessee	2,012,232
Texas	2,012,232
Utah	2,012,232
Vermont	2,012,232
Virginia	2,012,232
Washington	2,012,232
West Virginia	2,012,232
Wisconsin	2,012,232
Wyoming	2,012,232
District of Columbia	152,232

There are no figures available to show what percentage the above bears to the total taxes received by each state or local government, but the size of the payments shown for each state makes the railway tax obviously important to the budgets of the various governments. The portion is so large in some cases that it equivates many authorities that the state and local governments need the railroads for revenue purposes quite as much as the people of those states need efficiently operated transportation services of the kind they have been receiving.

Where Will Taxes Come From?
A very strong statement was recently made by G. W. Dyer, Professor of the Department of Economics at Vanderbilt University, Nashville, Tennessee. "The taxpayers are becoming as much interested in the railroads' problem of paying approximately a million dollars a day taxes as are the railroad people, but they approach the subject from a different angle. Railroad people are asking the question: Where are we going to get the money to pay this million dollars a day? The taxpayers are asking: Where are we going to raise this money to keep our schools and public expenses in general if the railroads fall down? Serious as the railroad problem may seem, there is this bright side to it—this is the first time in the history of railroads that they have had an opportunity to form an alliance with the taxpayers of this country and work together for the common interest of both."

Railway managements have long stressed the fact that railway taxes are promptly paid. Interstate Commerce Commission reports make it appear that during the depression period
the rail corporations in many localities were the only important taxpayers who did not delay in remitting their taxes to the treasuries when they were due.

Several members of Congress lately received letters from officials in their respective states indicating alarm over the reduction in revenue of local governments if the federal government continues to expand its ownership of what has heretofore been private business. In one instance, a state official asked: "What would happen to the state or local treasuries if the federal government took over the railroads and he added that if the expansion of government ownership continues there will be nothing left for us to tax except forever lands now being blown away by hot winds." A declaration by the government that it proposes to encourage the continuation of private ownership in railroads is a means of re-establishing public confidence.

CYCLES OF LIFE

LUTHER'S CORNER

DESCRIPTIONS OF THE PERIOD OF SOUL CYCLE PERIOD
NO. 1 POLARITY, A & B

Those born between March 22 and May 12 of any year inherit from the cosmic a very lofty nature, with a deep-seated desire to achieve a high place or a high position in the esteem of the public and in the hearts of their closest acquaintances. No matter in what station socially, racially, or financially they may be, there is always the inner urge to try to live a noble life or at least a life that will be above the commonplace, and that will bring them the respect and perhaps the adoration of the multitude.
There is not just the desire for wealth, or the material luxuries of life, although there is a taste for these things slightly beyond the average, but the great desire, the great longing, that actuates these persons in their subjective thinking and planning is the attainment of public renown and public approval. Their word is generally their bond and their aspirations are not dreamy or mythical, but practical and adherent to a straight line of progress. They are generally careful in the selection of their words,

and the use of language in writing,
and have commanding personalities.
When they are allowed to develop properly, and well developed dramatic faculties, such persons are usually affable among their peers, with perhaps a slight tendency to be impatient with those who do not aspire to rise, or who may be classed in their sub-consciousness minds as the lowly serfs of a past kingdom, these persons can always be reached and appealed to through suggestions of sumptuousness and magnificence and whatever may be honorable. They will succeed best in business matters wherein they may be managers, directors, controllers, or overseers, mayors, governors or any high governmental officers, or holders of important positions in the courts of law. As second choice they would succeed as designers and creators of magnificent buildings or arrangers of beautiful festives, or the creators of beautiful costumes and articles of adornment. The physical weaknesses which they have inherited in this life are afflictions of the heart and brain, and tendencies toward weakness of the eyes and toward fevers. Those born from March 22 to April 17 will be more active in fighting their way to the top of the ladder of their ambitions than other people, especially those born from April 17 to May 12. However those born from April 17 to May 12 will be found associated with art, drama, and music, either as hobbies or as professions, if they have the opportunity to allow their natural tendencies to guide them. From the time a child is born the parent should have them psycho-analyzed so as to help rather than hinder their progress through life.

CHRISTMAS

Christmas time has been a season of giving through all these years, a season when people who had less fortunate neighbors shared the blessings of the year few people thought that these less fortunate neighbors needed the help of the fortunate; needed nourishing food, clothing and chance to live with reasonable comfort.

But old man depression has taught us that instead of being thy brothers' keeper at Christmas time, it is highly necessary that we be our brothers' keeper either voluntarily by donations or involuntarily by taxes at all times.

The task of being thy brothers' keeper has taught more to know about him because in the administration of this assistance in and out of season, it has been necessary to know thy neighbors as never before.

While the spirit of giving will be associated with our Christmas spirit at all times, it took a depression to make us keep that spirit alive throughout the year.

Our Christmas Issue

The Bystander cannot too earnestly call attention of its readers to the large group of friends who by purchasing advertising space in the Christmas Issue have contributed materially toward its success. These firms, churches, lodges and clubs have shown by their greeting that not only have they appreciated your support during the year but also that they say so in no mistaken terms in the Bystander.

Speaking frankly, a business firm which does not advertise has no outlook for the future, has little idea of what has made other business concerns succeed; an institution refusing to advertise in a Negro paper, has no right to ask for Negro trade.

More and more business finds it essential to adopt the principle "You scratch my back, I'll scratch yours." A race or nation which does otherwise makes little progress. And while selfish motives must not prompt our every activity, "self-preservation is the first law of nature."

Fight Fire with Fire

National guards in Tennessee shot down members of a mob bent on taking a Negro youth from the court house where he was on trial for an alleged attack on a white girl. Bent upon lynching their victim the mob charged the jail several times only to be repulsed by tear gas bombs and later bullets from the guardsmen's rifles.

Fortunate in this instance officials took precautions to have the guardsmen on hand; fortunately the guardsmen were determined to enforce the law—an oath all of them take but all don't live up to it.

If this Negro youth committed the crime he ought to suffer the consequence, but only after a fair and impartial trial as provided by law. On the other hand if after a fair trial, the evidence does not warrant it he ought to be acquitted. He could never receive fair treatment at the hands of a mob made up in men worse than the victim they seek to lynch.

Tennessee is to be congratulated on this bold stand for orderly government.

XMAS CANDY AND NUTS

In order that one can enjoy the many pleasures of the holiday season, it is always necessary that plenty of Christmas candy and nuts be on hand. However, there will be many getting that recurrence of "sweet tooth" while attempting to enjoy the delicacies that will be served. Not only will the various chocolate dainties start that lingering ache but the sundry colored hard candies will get their share of sufferers. These hard candies will cause the most grief because small pieces will lodge in the cavities and continue their pain. These toothaches should have been remedied long ago, therefore make yourself a Christmas present of a visit to the dentist and stop these painful reminders.

Cracking Nuts
 With all of the new style nutcrackers plus the age old hammer why harm the tooth structure by attempting to break the nut with your teeth? This punishment will eventually loosen the teeth and provide the beginning of pyorrhea. Also small pieces of the tooth structure might be broken off trying to crack the nut but remember that there generally existed a cavity first, perhaps unseen by you. This is my Christmas warning to you along with my wishes for your pleasant and plentiful holiday season.

Questions and Comments
 Dear Dr. Dean:
 Can you tell me where I can get the most money for the gold in my bridge?—Mr. G. J., Davenport, Iowa.
 Ans.: I regret that I do not know of the best place to sell old gold because the price varies depending upon to whom you sell it.
 Dear Dr. Dean:
 When I have false teeth made is it possible for them to be the same color as my natural teeth?—Mrs. E. B., Des Moines, Iowa.
 Ans.: Yes, the artificial teeth can be perfectly-matched and the best method is to have the dentist get the correct shade before extracting all of the teeth especially the anterior or front ones.

Read the Ads Carefully
 The failure of Atty General Cummings to place lynching on the program for consideration at the recent Crime Commission Session and his effort to sidetrack every move to have his office take cognizance of at least one lynching which clearly brings the participants under federal jurisdiction, indicate that he is not in favor of national anti-lynching legislation. A politician as well as a lawyer, he believes it is more important to preserve party solidarity than constitutional government when the majority of the sufferers are black people.

To the Editor:
 A few days ago Mrs. Roosevelt described conditions among some of the young people as appalling. This is not a new point of view. We who have had close contact with young people have been shocked many a time. Neither is this a terrifying state of affairs, because the younger generation has a way of shocking its elders. We were somewhat amused at reading of the finding of a tablet probably three thousand years old. The inscription, being interpreted, was found to be the lament of an ancient king about the wild, lawless ways of the young people. So it has been on down the centuries.

There is no doubt that some of the girls and boys are following the main highway to sorrow and even tragedy in their quest for the thrills. But is the indictment against them or against those who have made or allowed to be made these vicious conditions? We just simply can't evade the fact that young people are what environment and heredity has made them.

Perhaps the most difficult problems of people between the ages of 14 and 30 are those of sex and liquor. This was true in ancient times and will be true some centuries hence. Boys and girls do not change much biographically or psychologically. We should not wish to change them. But we must find a more scientific way of guiding them into ways of self-respect and self-discipline.

During an epidemic of disease we see people resorting to all kinds of things in an effort to avoid "catching the disease." They know that prevention is far more desirable than the risk of a cure. Then let us not wait until a social evil has taken hold. Let us try to make our children immune. The greatest optimist can not hope to see society completely regenerated. But a big ideal can do wonders in immunizing a boy or girl to temptation.

At a convention of liquor dealers held in September, it was estimated that sixteen million dollars would be spent on advertising liquors and wine. To whom will this advertisement be made to appeal? Not very likely to people who have already formed their habits.

Girls and boys see promiscuous sex life glorified on the screen, in songs, in plays and sometimes among their parents' associates. Until just lately the gangster and his "moll" were given the most glamorous spotlight, as if they were some rare, fine type of human beings that had just been discovered. Is it any wonder the young people are confused and seem to have no idea about the difference between right and wrong?

It will take years, maybe centuries, but if we wish to guide and, if need be, redeem our young people, we must check the evil at its source. Hard? Yes. But are not the boys and girls worth whatever effort and self-sacrifice it may cost to bring them into a higher plane of living?

Sports

Well, sir! There just ain't no news of our boys playing basketball around the state yet. Both East and North ran into a buzz saw last week and got plastered. Our boys couldn't do much about it.

A New Y Team
The boys are getting ready for their winter "Y" season. The present outlook is that the Big Five will play under another name and turn the Crocker name over to the youngsters, who are anxious to have a team. This veteran outfit has completed a really fine record in four seasons, playing around 120 games and losing 11. That is something for the new Crocker "Y" team to shoot at. The veterans will probably be known as the "Crocker Renns." We can't tell how the leagues will shape up until we see who is going to play and what teams are entered.

Joe Lewis New Sensation
Joe Lewis of Detroit, latest heavyweight sensation, who added damage to his growing list of knockouts, is a former Golden Grove and A. A. U. champion of that city. This forecasts a good future for the boy, as all of those boys who have turned professional have done mighty well financially and otherwise.

Why are there no fighters worthy of the name here? This is not a legalized boxing state and there is no place to train where our boys could meet the best boys, since they don't come out here. James Allen, member of the Big Five, who plays with the Opal Foods team in the Y. Commercial league, received a great example of unbiased officiating last Monday. Allen, who was the only Negro in the league, was deliberately fouled by a member of the Bookley Packing Co. team, who struck him in the face. This big time official promptly removed both the offender, and Allen from the game, although Allen had not previously played rough or made any attempt to retaliate. When questioned, the official refused to give any reason for his action, in fact he couldn't think of any. And our boys think they get robbed in our leagues.

Peace Near in War-Torn Gran Chaco Region?

View of La Paz, Capital of Bolivia.

Peace is believed near in the prolonged dispute between Bolivia and Paraguay over the Gran Chaco in the heart of South America. Observers saw an end to the six-year war as a result of the action of Acting President Jose Luis Tejada.

Sorzano of Bolivia in announcing that Bolivia was ready to accept the League of Nations' plan for peace. Sorzano assumed the presidency upon the resignation of President Daniel Salamanca, who was forced out by army officers.

So, if Arthur is going to Washington under the false notion that he meant to help his race by electing him, then Arthur is not going to be as useful to us as was Oscar. Bennett says that southern-ers are wondering what Mitchell is going to do about it. If he people are insulted and thrown out of congressional restaurants, and boasts that even DePriest's loud squawk was ignored by the dominating south.

We want to warn Mr. Mitchell that he should begin to think more of his handouts and less of his advantages in being a cog in the machine which is determined to keep his race down, and which has allowed him to enter only as the lesser of two evils that threatened that machine. Mitchell says bitterly that he will stand for opportunity and so forth, for his race. But such generalities do not mean anything; any first-class southern gentleman could safely utter the same principles. Even Bilbo of Mississippi would agree to take him to the Negro, if you let him and the south determine just what precisely is "fair for Negroes." We would much prefer to hear the Congressmen-elect say that he was opposed to specific wrongs; opposed to shutting colored people out of any other restaurant or out of any other citizens' club; and that he was opposed to having the south to count every Negro as a basis for southern representation in Congress and then excluding Negroes from the south to draw power from the presence of the Negro and then use that power to disfranchise the Negro and to destroy his rights. We will be pleased to have the new Congressman to come down to specific proposals. We can fight better for definite objectives. Generalities do not inspire us much. Whether he is for, and willing to fight and lose for, the equal privileges of his race in every particular. That is what Oscar DePriest showed that he was willing to do: to stay up with his race and its rights, or to go down with them or for them.

Oh, well, now, you know that we cannot get all that we should have within a day or a hundred years. We need no argument about that. Nobody of any race expects any sort of perfection to actually be attained in this present civilization. But no Negro is fit to be a representative of his race who does not set the undiminished equality of his race as the standard of all his official language and conduct. We wish Mr. Mitchell the utmost success. As Bennett reports the southern-ers as saying so say we: "What Representative-elect Mitchell may think about the situation, is up to him. At least he can go to his office and we add; also AS A NEGRO fighting for rights and life."

THE ATTORNEY GENERAL'S CRIME CONFERENCE

Sometime ago we wrote an editorial asking "Is Lynching a Crime?" because we observed that the congress was hot on the trail of every type of major criminal but had left out the lyncher. In fact had deliberately sidetracked a bill against lynching that had been endorsed by leaders and thinkers of all sections of the country. But the other day the day the President of the United States incidentally listed lynching as one of the major crimes which he delivered the opening address before the conference on "Crime" that was called in Washington by his attorney general. He spoke of "wide-spread banditry," "appalling kidnappings," "widespread drug peddling," and "horrible lynchings." After listing lynchings among the big four of American crime, will the President be consistent and recommend congressional action against lynching, as well as against banditry, kidnapping and the "colored" "dope"?

We are also interested in that list of major crimes from another angle: Is the man who has committed such a crime fit to be a representative of his race? Is he a fit representative of his race who does not set the undiminished equality of his race as the standard of all his official language and conduct? We wish Mr. Mitchell the utmost success. As Bennett reports the southern-ers as saying so say we: "What Representative-elect Mitchell may think about the situation, is up to him. At least he can go to his office and we add; also AS A NEGRO fighting for rights and life."

Now as to banditry, the Negro also cuts a small figure here both ways. He is a piker as a robber, and he has got little to give as a victim. Hungry and penniless Negroes may steal a little food. Stealing is largely an economic phenomenon anyway except when it is a pure psychological phenomenon, as in the case of the kleptomaniac. By all the rules of reason, the poorest people should commit more crimes against "property" than the Nation people in America do not live up to this rule; there are some really Negro hold-ups, certainly, a few dollars are taken by Negro bandits, and as much from Negro victims as from anybody else; but when the post office and bank are "stuck up" and sacked, the Negro is not on the winning side at all; and when an express truck is held up and half a million dollars carted away, the Negro is not within a hundred miles of the place, practically speaking. If the war on bandits therefore had only to do with Negroes, it would be a tight job for the police and for a few petty sleuths.

Now as to lynching: in this crime the Negro registers zero, as a performer but averages up to 85 or 90 percent as a victim. It is that the reason why the attorney general of the United States has announced his lack of interest in lynchings? Lynching is a direct attack on human life, while all the other crimes mentioned—banditry, kidnapping, dope peddling—are only indirect attacks against life by way of the pocket book. By the way, the Negro figures as a dope seller, mostly a peddler, does not get the big profits. The real money goes to the higher-ups, and the Negro averages only a little. The war on the dope peddler will therefore be a double-edged blessing to Negro addicts and will not do much harm to those thrown out of a job in the low trade. But it is well known that the great dope fields, both the selling field and the buying field, if you please, are not members of the Negro race. The government has always been against the dope selling and buying bus-

Outcasts of Our Democratic Negro Congressman

By WILLIAM PICKENS
"Southern Democracy" is going to be confronted with a delicate problem... the arrival of the Washington scene of Arthur W. Mitchell, Negro Democrat, who defeated Oscar DePriest. These are words of Ira Bennett, who writes "News Behind the News" in Washington, which column is used by southern newspapers. He goes on to explain that "higher-ups in Democratic national headquarters" had known all along that they could capture Republican congressional seats in Chicago and in other northern districts "if they chose to nominate a member of the colored race as their candidate." a departure which these higher-ups were unwilling to take "because of the southern Democrats."

that a white man named Baker was nominated to run against DePriest, and that Baker's sudden death left the thing in such shape that they feared that the only way to defeat DePriest was to put in a Negro at the last minute, lest Negro voters in Chicago could not be bought over the support a second white man. In other words: that DePriest is responsible of the cheating of Mitchell by the Democrats. But for DePriest and his stinging fights for his race, the Democrats would have sent a white man, if anybody at all, to the congress from the first Illinois district. At least DePriest had so awakened the Negroes, even those who could be influenced; that the whites had come to feel that the only way to defeat him, especially in an emergency, was to nominate another Negro against him.

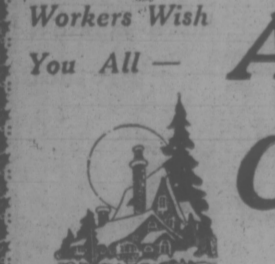

Mitchell's entrance into the congress is therefore not only "a delicate problem" for southerners there; it is also a delicate and precarious problem for Mitchell and for his race. Being a part of the dominant machine there, will he be able to buck the machine? We doubt it. We doubt it: the Democratic machine, as any such machine can squelch all and any of its insiders. The only persons free to fight a powerful machine are the persons who do not belong to it. If there could be the full Negro quota in Congress, at least 40 of them, then they might be an effective power power on the inside of the Democratic party, if they were all or mostly Democrats. But one Negro in the party opposed to Negroes is just about reduced to zero; while one Negro in Congress, but outside of that party, becomes at least a power for exposure and protest, which is about the most that ONE can do anyway, among four or five hundred.

Mitchell, "Good Negro" Besides, we want to tell Arthur Mitchell to his face that we do not at all relish the way in which he is hurrying to assure the "white folks" that when he gets down to Washington, he is "good Negro" and not a bad Negro like Oscar DePriest. He might as well understand that the New Deal is not sending him to Congress because they wanted him, but because they did not want Oscar DePriest. It was a Texan in Congress (quoted by Bennett) who said humorously that the southern Democrats were out to get and to destroy "Deben-ture, DePriest and de Tariff."

Christmas; the air is vibrant with it. Christmas; the time at which heavenly messengers, long centuries ago, proclaimed their glad promise of a world dominated by the Prince of Peace.

This then is the challenge of Christmas to us as a Christian nation: to change international suspicion to international sympathy; to conquer inter-racial hatreds by the force of industrial helpfulness; to overpower industrial contentment by industrial co-operation; to supplant competitive greed with Christ-like generosity; to remove social degeneration by means of spiritual regeneration.

On earth peace, good-will toward men, The angels' song will echo and resound, 'Till the world is hushed in thought and word and deed we have come to heed our Master's words, "Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself."

QUIET RETURNS TO SHELBY, TENNESSEE

600 Guardsmen Move Into Town Torn by Death, Fire
Shelbyville, Tenn.—The riot torn town of Shelbyville, population of 5,000 persons, settled back Thursday into peace again after Wednesday's storm, which left three dead, a score wounded and the $10,000 Bedford county court house a mass of charred ruins.

E. K. Harris, 22, Negro, whose alleged attack on a white school girl precipitated three attempts by a mob to seize him during the circuit court trial here, resulted in his removal to the jail at Nashville while 600 national guardsmen occupied Shelbyville to prevent a recurrence of the disorders which reached the climax with the burning of the court house and a two-story Negro hotel.

Gov. Hill McAllister ordered out the troops to restore order at any cost. The prisoner was spirited away clad in a soldier's uniform and disguised with a tear gas mask. Angered by the ruse, the furious mob threatened the life of Sheriff Tom Gant and hurled insults and epithets at the guardsmen. The sheriff and his family were forced to leave town for an unknown destination.

The guardsmen used tear gas, bayonets, 45 automatic pistols and buckshot loaded riot guns to quell the range. Machine guns were mounted at the four court house entrances. Judge T. L. Coleman stated that "crazy drunkenness" was the cause of the trouble. An investigation of the trouble will be started soon, following a conference with the county attorney, the judge said.

Chicago, Ill.—"Not only judged sane but termed brilliant" was the verdict of one alienist in the examination of Mrs. Jane Emery Newton, 26, Wednesday and was set free on $400 bond. The white wife is now planning to obtain freedom for her Negro husband, Herbert Newton, communistic leader. The Newton case, not unlike many others in the city, originated when the couple were evicted from their home, but gained national prominence when it was discovered that his wife, Mrs. Jane Emery Newton (white) is the daughter of a former national commander of the American Legion, and a former student at the University of Michigan.

Mrs. Newton, since her identity was discovered last Friday, has been branded unofficially as being insane. Numerous mental experts have examined her. Their findings were made known Wednesday when the hearing of her sanity came up for disposition. The couple was arrested for disorderly conduct when they resisted eviction. When the racial angle was discovered, the case took on a new significance.

Sports

By Allen Ashby

LOOKING BACK OVER

A YEAR OF SPORTS

The 1934 sports year furnished us with many thrills and high spots in spite of being at times disappointing. Here are a few of the major thrills we gathered last year: The night we watched East High win a basketball game from Lincoln and all of East's points were scores by Negroes. Haywood Brewer, Lawrence Redrick and Paul Walker. Ralph Metcalfe being the first man to win the 100 yard dash three times in the Drake relays. The sensational quarter mile of Jimmy LuValle of the U. C. L. A. Four Negro boys from Kansas vocational school, who staged a general cleanup in the relays. Willis Ward battling injuries and illness all spring to fall short of this 1933 record. North High's great half mile relay team, featuring George Robinson, L. T. Johnson and Archie Lucas. The way George mopped up in the dash events all season. Lawrence Redrick's fine all around work for East. Nap Morrow's good half mile for North's two-mile relay team.

The sudden rise and fall of Ozzie Simmons. The thrill we got when we first saw him in action. How he lugged the pigskin when he got a chance to get started. The barring of Ward from the Georgia Tech game in spite of the fact that he was one of the country's outstanding ends on a losing team. The fine grid play of Archie Lucas of North along with L. T. Johnson and Simms. Also Redrick's line defensive play for East. We also received our own thrills and chills. The collapse of our Crocker Y. team against the Iowa Packing Co. Our famous attempted "water catch" in the Sunday school baseball league. The death of our tennis club in spite of the number of young players who wanted to learn. Chet Williamson's terrific battle against Duck Bell in the Missouri Valley meet at Kansas City. Our fun at Kansas City, the Hills, Patterson, beautiful ladies.

Bill Ashby's big time tennis all season and his collapse in the final of our city meet against Williamson. The downfall of Williamson and your writer in the finals of our doubles after we seemed headed for an easy victory over Paul Woods and Earl Newcomb. The keen disappointment at not getting to see Rev. S. M. Riley play tennis under pressure. The golf triumphs of Jack Howard. Our I. D. K. football team being the first Negro team in years to finish a season unbeaten, untied, with our uncrossed goal line. Our greatest personal thrills. This team and our first victory in the district tennis meet.

TWO VIOLENT DEATHS ARE REPORTED

Bullet Intended For Another Is Fatal To Woman; Man Dies

BLOOD NEEDED

ATLANTA, Ga.—Grim tragedy stalked into two Atlanta homes while death threatened to make two other homes sad as the result of Christmas Eve shootings and traffic accidents.

Mrs. Minnie Peterson, 155, Mildred street, K. W. died in the Grady hospital clinic shortly before six o'clock Monday night, just a few minutes after she had been rushed to the hospital following a shooting scrape in the William Sullivan grocery store at West Hunter and Chestnut.

Reports as to how Mrs. Peterson met her doom vary, one version stating that a youth was after Mrs. Peterson's son and had chased him into the store when his mother, who was in the place, came between the would-be assailant and her boy and placed with him not to shoot. The other version sets forth the theory that the youth ran into the store and darted behind his mother.

The shot fired, however, struck Mrs. Peterson who is said to be more than 50 years old over the right eye, inflicting the fatal wound. She died at the hospital a few moments after her arrival and the remains were taken to the morgue awaiting the completion of arrangements.

A third version of the incident is that two men took part in the attack upon the store as a reprisal for what they termed "the owner" accusing them of taking part in the holdup of the Sullivan store Friday night. It is said that a car containing the two men parked in the middle of the street the door open ready for a quick getaway and that one of the men went part of the way into the store.

Officers Moss and Roberts, who investigated the tragedy, placed James Smith of 171 Raymond street, under arrest, booking him on general charges of suspicion.

The second victim was the Christmas Eve tragedy here was a young man, 26, of 36 A Georgia avenue, according to hospital records. Mr. Few was admitted to the ward shortly after seven o'clock Monday night as the aftermath of an automobile accident.

At the time of his admission Mr. Few was in a very critical condition, both eyes being fractured, his nose being broken and his skull fractured in addition to lacerations on his left forearm left leg. He also had second degree burns on the posterior sides of both legs.

The end for the Georgia avenue resident came at 8:10 p. m. and his remains are being held in the morgue pending further arrangements.

Grady hospital authorities are sending out S O S call for blood donors. Blood is badly needed to save the lives of two patients. First of these patients, Larson of 1377 Jonesboro, road, died about 4:20 Monday after.

In 1451 Jonesboro, road, Popoarts state that Gleason was with a shot gun fired by Henderson of 1451 Jonesboro, road. The man was wounded in the right breast and left arm and his hope is being held for his recovery unless he receives some blood within a few hours as he has lost a large amount of blood. Henderson escaped after the shooting.

Blood is also being sought for Le Roy Bennett 165 Gilmer street, who was badly wounded about one o'clock Monday afternoon when a bullet fired at him by John Stokes of 356 Fraser street, struck his right side passing on through his body. The shooting, according to officers Haley and Deaton, took place at 305 Butler St. N. E.

Persons have blood to offer in this effort to save the lives of these two men are asked to hurry to Grady as soon as possible this morning.

With Christmas just approaching, firecracker continued to take their toll, old and well, young being hurt. Charlie Brown, 27 at Bedford place, was treated at Grady for a laceration about an inch long in his right leg which

In addition to the above the distinguished speaker spoke at citizens' banquets in Norfolk and Richmond, and at a special meeting called for him to address the 12th Street Branch Y.M.C.A. in Washington, D. C.

In commenting on the recent change in relief set up in the state of Georgia where the relief work is centered in 31 districts instead of 150 county units, as was formerly carried on, the oration was expressed by Mr. Thomas that the Negroes in small towns and rural districts will receive more consideration under the new setup than they received under the former.

"In many localities," Mr. Thomas as told his interviewer, "white persons were not in charge purely for political reasons, who were totally unacquainted from the point of view of training and background, to do any type of social planning or organizing."

"In addition to the above, they were so completely controlled by local attitudes that frequently Negroes were unable to get anything approximating decent consideration. These local administrators, even though some of them might, if left alone, be more or less reasonable in the distribution of relief and other considerations, were so close to and personally identified with the local community set-up that they were handling the fact that they were handling gov-

Jacob Metters Is Killed in Fall From Truck

PORT WORTH, Texas—Monday, Dec. 17—Jacob Metters, 21, was killed Monday night when he accidentally fell from a truck carrying a load of cattle from the stockyards here to Dallas.

He fell as he was climbing from the truck to the ground to inspect the cattle, according to the driver, A. L. Gambrell, white.

The funeral was held in Taylor, Texas, with Jacob's uncle, R. M. Metters, funeral director at Terrell, in charge.

The body remained here until the arrival of his relatives at the funeral home.

He is survived by his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Metters, two sisters and five brothers, all of Taylor, Texas.

emental funds the treatment was quite the same as if the funds were coming from local sources.

"Many of them felt that the fact that they knew the Negro in the general way meant that they could decide upon his needs and prescribe treatment without making any investigation at all. Many times they would penalize Negroes who refused to work for employers of labor in the community (and sometimes) the administrators themselves) at a very high assistance level, by refusing to give them any type of relief. In other instances, plantation owners and mill operators have gone into the office of relief administrators and have asked and have been given the opportunity of going over the records of the Negroes receiving relief and having certain Negroes taken off relief because in their judgment these particular Negroes were not entitled to relief. In such instances Negroes were taken off without any time being given to verify the stricture of these would-be employees through case work investigation."

"This new set up," Mr. Thomas believes, "should be deemed sufficiently impractical and forever removed from the local scene to make a more scientific approach to the welfare needs of all the folk in these welfare areas. It ought also be possible to had up the work in these districts as was possible under the old setup."

swered satisfactorily.

The State Interracial Commission, meeting at the same time, announced that it would seek legislative appropriations to maintain the state tuberculosis hospital for Negroes, which may otherwise be closed, and to establish and purchase delinquent colored girls. This school was authorized in 1929, but no appropriation has ever been made.

Mrs. J. L. Brock of Bryan, was elected chairman of the Commission for the coming year and President W. R. Banks of the State College for Negroes, was re-elected secretary. De M. W. Dogan, president of Wiley College, was elected vice president.

THANKS!

The Bystander cannot be too grateful to its many friends, white and black, who have given loyal support throughout the year. Weekly newspaper business in large cities is difficult at best; with conditions facing us as they have everyone, the situation has been doubly difficult. All these things coupled with the service the paper has rendered have made it possible to continue. We appreciate your support in 1934 and will hope for it and expect it in 1935.

HOLD THEM TO IT

Papers announce many changes are contemplated at the State House after January 1. It may be well to again call attention of the pledge made by the Democrats through their Negro workers during the campaign that the Negro would be given additional consideration in the matter of jobs if they won. They won; now let's have a fulfillment of the promises. No time should be lost in demanding this consideration. The public is watching and wants to know what is going to happen.

SPEAK UP

While soliciting advertising from a large Des Moines firm, the manager stated that only one paper he used—and this was a religious paper—produced concrete proof that advertising in it was getting him business. He readily stated that he was receiving some Negro trade and credited the Bystander for it but simply emphasized how diligent these other people had been to give their paper full credit and thus increase the paper's advertising revenue.

The Bystander on many occasions has urged its subscribers to patronize those who advertise in its columns, to tell the advertiser that they buy from him because he is willing to invite them through the columns of their publication.

Carrying the matter to a logical conclusion, look at the stores, oil stations and garages—some hire Negro help; some don't. Why trade with people who don't feel they ought to return some of your money by means of employment? In other words, if the group has no jobs, they can have no money.

Often white people are puzzled as to what their policy should be toward Negroes. Embarrassed to inquire, what they think right is just the opposite of what the Negro wants. It pays to speak up at the right time. You do others good as well as yourself.

Don't Blame Your Trouble on Others

By J. G. Browne
 "Hope springs eternal in the human breast." All of us look hopefully toward the advent of 1935; because for five long years in a night of depression we have wrestled with the angel of hope, imploring her blessing. In adversity all of us look for a Jonah, upon whom to wreak our vengeance, the poor accuse the rich, labor accuses capital, ignorance accuses intelligence. The farmer accuses the manufacturer, the mountaineer accuses the plainsman, the country folk accuse the city folk, little business ac-

Dental Health Education Hints

By Dr. Millard K. Dean
HAVE YOU HEARD?

That the expression to "show one's teeth" when angry was handed down from the appearance of mad or vicious dogs. The phrase fits the looks of the English bulldog best since this animal has two long protruding canine teeth which project over the upper lip and can easily tear anything apart.

That only between fifty and a hundred years ago some people were firmly convinced that toothache was caused by tiny worms. These worms were supposed to eat away the enamel and dentine of the tooth making the large cavity resulting in the pain.

Shirley Temple's Movie Teeth
 That in the recent picture, "Little Miss Marker," starring Shirley Temple, there was great concern on the part of the baby star's mother and directors over the loss of a few deciduous teeth. It seems as though Shirley discovered the teeth would move and she continued to wiggle them but the picture must not appear toothless on the screen. Therefore a dentist was left on the set at all times ready to replace the lost tooth or teeth with a porcelain restoration in order that she could show all of her teeth before the camera.

Questions and Comments
 Dear Dr. Dean:

I am a girl of eighteen years of age and only have five teeth in front leaving a vacant space. I don't remember ever having had the tooth so couldn't have had it pulled and now I would like to know what I can do that will look the best in the front of my mouth.—Miss E. C., Des Moines, Ia.
 Ans.: Before having any bridge made, you should have an x-ray taken of that area to see if the tooth is hidden in the bone of the jaw. If no tooth is present then a satisfactory restoration can be made whereby very little gold will appear. However, if the tooth is embedded in the pain then it should be removed before having the bridge made.

causes big business, the North accuses the South, the black accuse the white, and vice versa; they all accuse the politician, and the different political schools accuse each other.

The real truth of the whole matter is, that we are all contributors to our own delinquency, the proper place to look for the source of our trouble is in the mirror, look at ourselves; invoice our own assets and liabilities, set our own motives and desires in the right direction and we will find that the winter of our discontent will fade as the darkness of the night fades before the dawn of a new day.

The indispensable requisite necessary to dispell the gloom is that we individually and collectively rid ourselves of selfishness, envy, greed and dishonesty; sending missionaries to Africa, China and India, to teach the blessings of Christianity, while we in America under that divine influence, mob murder, torture and burn human beings does not inspire confidence, and respect nor bespeak sincerity.

Pointing the finger of scorn at multi-millionaires—investigating big corporations, yelling thief, robber, murderer, and then as soon as we get a little position on the welfare board or the HOLC ourselves begin looting, grafting and doing in our limited sphere, what we accuse others of doing on a larger scale will not create equilibrium, nor reform the social order, under my form of government, all groups and in every section, and all groups and in every section, and if we realize this truth and act upon such realization better times will follow, we have recently experienced a great achievement by two public officials of the great state of Tennessee; two men, the governor of that state and a sheriff who sworn to a duty have, unhesitatingly performed, in spite of the cost, they have earned the respect of all well-thinking people and are worth to be called men.

Turning from the stern, duty ethics of Kant, there is a more pleasing picture of the outlook and it comes from Augusta, Georgia.

Whites, Negroes Join in Yule Pageant

"Augusta, Ga. (AP)— Negro and white children joined in a Christmas pageant here which sponsors halted Saturday as depicting the good will between the races in the South.

"The feature called 'A Pageant of Peace,' included a song by a young Negro, 'In Christ There Is No East or West,' Christmas carols by a chorus of 200 Negro children bearing the flags of all nations." Yes there is hope for a better world in the year 1935.

We wish sincerely that your heart will be joyful this Christmas and for all the days that follow. May the year ahead be prosperous and happy, with success in all your ventures, and thank you for the good-will and friendliness that is shown by your continued patronage.

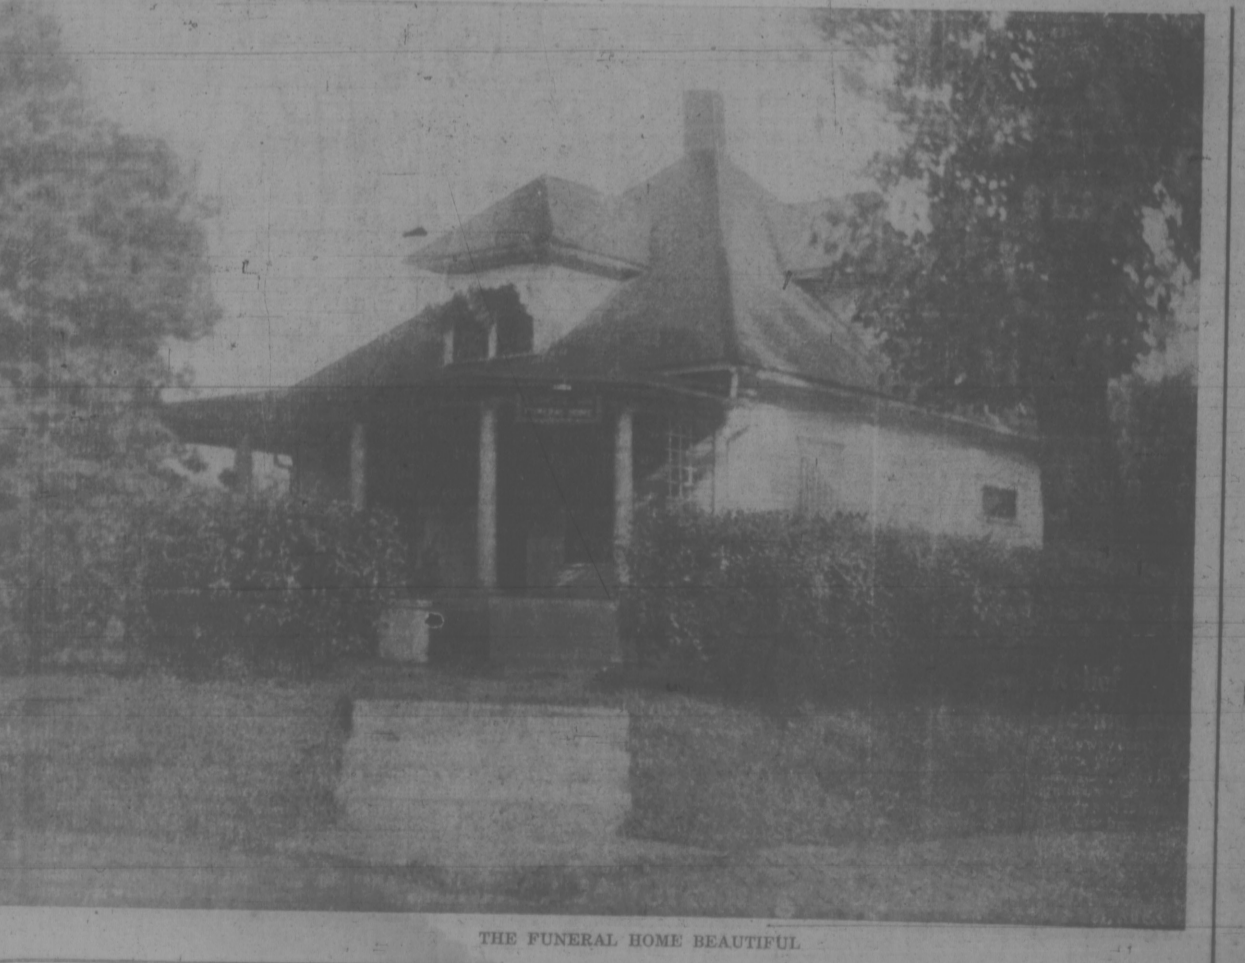

Our establishment is owned and operated by local people, who live in this community as friends and neighbors of those they serve. Through long and conscientious service we have earned confidence and friendship. As a result, our service is more than a matter of business; it is an earnest attempt to be of help in time of need.

We Are Proud
 Perhaps we shouldn't say so, but we admit that we are proud of our reputation in this community. We feel that the public recognizes the high quality of our services, and that the friendly praise we get from every one indicates that our records of unflinching efficiency has not gone unappreciated.

Our staff consists of long experienced help: Arthur Tillman, Albert Thomas, L. Fowler, a Mason, a Shriner, K. P., Odd Fellow, K. C. K., member of Union Baptist Church; L. Fowler, Jr., chief embalmer, Mason, Shriner, and a member of Corinthian Baptist Church; Mrs. Ella Fowler, lady attendant, member of Union Baptist Church.
