TUSKEGEE REPORTS 15 LYNCHINGS FOR 1934 FINDER OF SLAIN BABY SLATED AS IMPORTANT STATE WITNESS

Tuskegee, Alabama.—According to the records compiled in the Department of Records and Research of the Tuskegee Institute fifteen persons were lynched in 1934; thirteen less than the number twenty-eight for 1933; seven more than the number eight for 1933; two more than the number thirteen for 1931, and six less than the number twenty-one for 1930. Eight of the persons lynched were in the hands of the law; three were taken from jails and five from officers of the law outside of jails.

There were fifty-one instances in which officers of the law prevented lynchings. Seven of these were in northern and western states and forty-four in southern states. In forty-six of the instances the prisoners were removed or the guards augmented or other precautions taken. In the five other instances armed force was used to repel the would-be lynchers. A total of seventy-four persons, fourteen white men; fifty-seven negro men and three negro women, were thus saved from death at the hands of mobs.

Of the fifteen persons lynched, all were negroes, the report continued. The offenses charged were: Attempted rape, 4; rape, 2; murder, 2; wounding man in altercation, 1; associating with white woman, 1; striking man, 1; writing insulting letter, 1; talking disrespectfully, 1; insulting women, 1; implicating others in a charge of stealing turpentine and bootlegging it, 1. Negro Flyers Abandon Panama Trip After Mishap, Return to United States

FORSYTHE AND ANDERSON UNDAUNTED DESPITE CRASH IN TRINIDAD
New York.—(ANP)—The Goodwill flyers, Dr. Albert Forsythe and C. Alfred Anderson, arrived here Thursday morning at nine o'clock. They returned to the United States on the steamer Western World, which docked at pier 15 at the foot of Montague street, Brooklyn.

Their plane, the "Booker T. Washington," which crashed in Trinidad, will be shipped to the United States. Some of the more delicate parts of the aircraft brought with them. Although they face a colossal deficit because of accidents and the loss of their plane, the flyers are undaunted and they feel the progress in goodwill made in southern countries has fully repaid for the rigors of the trip.

Church Celebration Leaving England, Begins on Saturday Says Paul Robeson

Predicts Future of Negro is Aligned With the Eastern World

London.—(Special to ANP)—"I am unquestionably leaving England," declared Paul Robeson, the famous actor and singer, in an address Friday night before the League of Colored People in London. "I refuse to live under the sword of Damocles all my life," continued Mr. Robeson, who through the versatility of his talents has achieved distinction scholastically, athletically and artistically in both the American and European continents. Insisting that the opportunity for naturalness and self expression were all important, Robeson said further:

"I want to be where I can be an African and not have to be Mr. Paul Robeson every hour of the day. I am not sure where I will go. For myself, I belong to Africa, if I am not there in body, I am there in spirit." Robeson said he had not found being an African or of dark skin had hampered his progress in life. Rather he thought it had assisted him. "But my individual success in life does not matter in the least," he added. "My own father, my own brother cannot go where I go. They cannot come in behind me. I do not want that sort of thing."

Exclusive Vassar Willing To Enroll Negro Women

Exclusive Women's School To Let Down Color Barriers

New York, Jan. 4.—The last of the northern famous American women's colleges, Vassar, at Poughkeepsie, N. Y., has announced that it will let down the color bar and admit Negro students, according to official word from a delegation from Hampton Institute, in Hampton, Va., last week. Members of the New York Hampton club, numbering almost 100 in attendance, were present at the reception at the Y. W. C. A., 137th St. and 7th Ave., on Monday night to hear the news.

Attend Classes
During their stay there they attended classes, discussion groups, teas and dinners. They also played games, saw their first ice skating and became acquainted with many students.

Miss Estelle Thomas, assistant dean, spoke at a class on labor problems and the social order and again at a tea Saturday afternoon, at which for the first time at Vassar, according to reports, several representative Negro citizens of Poughkeepsie were guests.

At this function several students asked the college officials present if it would not be a good thing to have a Negro student at Vassar and Dr. Henry Nowle McCracken, president, publicly said that he thought it would be a very fine thing, and that Vassar is now "ready."

"Dr. McCracken made known that during the past twenty years only two colored applicants have tried to enter Vassar," Miss Thomas related, "and that they were not admitted purely on scholastic grounds."

35 Years Ago

About thirty-five years ago a Negro girl was graduated, but it was not known she was a Negro until a day or two before commencement. Since then, it is not known that any other Negro students have attended. Vassar was founded in 1861; tuition and residence costs $1,200 a year and the enrollment is limited to 1,150.

More than two hundred young people are expected to attend the city-wide Baptist Young People's Union public mass meeting to be held Sunday afternoon at the Shiloh Baptist church, Southeast Fifteenth and Scott streets, at 3:00 o'clock. A program will be presented, Rev. J. L. Lucas, pastor, said.

This meeting is one of the several sponsored over different sections of the state in the interest of Baptist young people's work, Rev. Wheeler said. Meetings have been held in Waterloo and another is planned for January 20th at Ottumwa.

"We are endeavoring to create church loyalty among our Christian workers and to stimulate interest in a program suited to the needs of the young people," he stated to the press Monday.

Howard U President To Be Here January 28

To Honor Mordecai W. Johnson

The committee in charge of the testimonial banquet to be given Monday, January 28th, honoring Dr. Mordecai W. Johnson, president Howard university, upon occasion of his visit to Des Moines as the only Negro speaker on the 1934-1935 Adult Education forum, held a meeting at the residence of Mrs. S. J. Brown, the general chairman, last week and appointed the subcommittee who will have charge of the details of the affair, which is to be under the auspices of the trustees and other officers of the Iowa Federation of Colored Women's Clubs.

Flemington, N. J., (UNP) Jan. 4.—A key to the "vital importance" to the Bruno Richard Hauptmann prosecution of the testimony of William J. Allen, Lindbergh baby finder, was available here Monday on the eve of the trial of the century.

The key is contained in hints by Bruno's defense counsel that they are not entirely convinced that the body of the infant found by Allen near Hopedale in 1932 has been positively identified as being the son of Col. Charles A. Lindbergh.

Because defense counsel Edward J. Reilly and C. Lloyd Fisher are said to be determined to go into the investigation at length to see "if the colonel is correct," the counter testimony of Allen, who has been guarded for several months as a chief state witness, will reach major importance.

Found Baby in Woods

Allen found the baby seven miles from the Lindbergh mansion in Hopedale after a fortune had been expended in world-wide search for the baby. He saw it lying in the thicket first—before the police or anyone connected with the search. He will never forget what the baby looked like. Because of the many photos of Lindbergh's son published he can doubtless say whether or not the body he found was Baby Lindy.

Two months ago when interviewed in the attorney-general's office in Trenton, Hunterdon County Prosecutor Anthony M. Houck, Jr., told the United Negro press, exclusively, that "Allen will certainly be a witness in the Hauptmann trial—and an important one."

Although Allen's name has been carefully kept out of Hauptmann news dispatches and though many point out that establishing the "corpse delicti" will be placed mainly on Colonel Lindbergh himself, because it was he who saw the body in the undertaker's room at Trenton and stated it was that of his missing son, the state apparently ranks Allen's statement on this point almost equally important.

The widely familiar photo published after the trial was found and showing Allen kneeling in the thicket pointing to the exact spot where the body was found easily represents the chief evidence as to the geographical location of that important spot.

Recent treatment of Allen by state authorities proves his importance in the trial just opened. Allen was scheduled to arrive at the 100 year old Flemington court house Tuesday morning with scores of other state witnesses. He will be kept on hand throughout the trial, which is expected to last more than a month.

ON THE SPOT

The N. A. A. C. P. has concluded, and rightly so; that an anti-lynching bill cannot be passed at this session of Congress unless President Roosevelt puts it on his list of bills which "must" pass. If ever a president was "on the spot" on a question involving much of interest to Negroes, President Roosevelt is there.

The administration has gone on record in favor of stamping out such crimes as kidnapping, racketeering, etc.; in the president's address before the crime commission last month he put lynching in the same class as kidnapping; the president is in control of the Congress and Congress is overwhelmingly Democratic.

In other words the bill can and will pass if President Roosevelt wants it — wants it strong enough to offend some of his leading spokesmen in Congress.

ENTITLED TO THE COMPLIMENT

The National Broadcasting Company gave a half hour of its facilities to the A. K. A. Sorority last Sunday morning at which time the history and accomplishments of that organization were told in a short drama followed by songs and instrumental music rendered by some of the members. The finale was in session in New York at the time.

Anyone who listened must have been impressed to know that in a number of our leading universities in the north members of this sorority have maintained the highest average of any sorority, white or Negro, on the campus; that they have given scholarships annually to worthy girls; that a loan fund has been established; that their uplifting accomplishments tending to raise the standard of Negro womanhood have been attained.

It was encouraging to hear all these fine things; great of the N. E. C. to give this marvelous opportunity to let the better side of the Negro be heralded all over the land. Ready at all times to raise the devil with the unfavorable, The Bystander is equally as quick to applaud the same fellow for favorable deeds.

POOR EXAMPLE

At the Emancipation meeting of the Des Moines branch, N. A. A. C. P. it was regrettable that the crowd was small in spite of the fact that the meeting was well advertised and held at a convenient time and hour for most people. And yet this is one of the most important meetings of the year; it was a meeting at which the local branch was making an effort to create sentiment for anti-lynching legislation in Congress.

But more regrettable was the fact that too many of our "leading people" were conspicuously absent. Of course some legitimate excuses are in order but the great majority of those Negro men and women who are supposed to lead the way for the average fellow are shirking a plain duty of good citizenship and to aid their less fortunate brother in these times of distress.

Dental Health Education Hints

By Dr. Millard K. Dean

WHY EXAMINE TEETH?
This new year of 1935 can and should prove to each of us the value of our general health and well being. We are aware of the pains infected teeth and gums can cause us and unfortunately are content to wait for the toothache before visiting our dentist. However, the diseased tooth can be causing many systemic disorders long before we are subjected to pain.

The radio, the newspaper and all the other methods of advising people are taken advantage of to warn them that the periodic examinations of their teeth is necessary. I will add that physical examinations are just as important as both your physicians and dentist can better prevent ailments by visiting them when they are beginning. Not only will this visit help your health but it will ease your mind and dispel the fear that some process of the doctor's office.

A good example of the value of constant attention is given your children in the public schools. Why the nurse is continually examining their teeth and bodies and checking upon their general conditions. If the health authorities of the cities and counties spend your tax money in the care of the child isn't it more than evident that as young people and adults we should be at least as thoughtful of ourselves as they have proven to be of the children. Therefore, include in your New Year Resolutions the regular examinations of the teeth and body verifying the proverb that "an ounce of prevention is better than a pound of cure."

QUESTIONS AND COMMENTS
Dear Dr. Dean:
I have enjoyed your last year's columns very much and now would like for you to answer a little problem that has been bothering me. I have noticed that you answered so I hope you will do the same about mine. I want to know what I can do about a crown that has a hole in it but it isn't loose on the tooth.

Mrs. J. L. H. Des Moines, Ia.

ANS. The crown must be removed from the tooth and if there is any decay present then have this removed and fitted and sometimes the gold crown can be patched otherwise you will have to have a new crown.

MRS. BULLOCK IN SOCIAL SERVICE WORK
Mrs. Joan Bullock has recently been added to the staff of the Polk County relief agency as a case worker. She will also assume some of the duties left vacant by the death of Miss Anna Wilson.

Mrs. Bullock, graduate of Iowa University, was formerly a school teacher. She is a member of the Delta Sigma Theta sorority and belongs to the Corinthian Baptist church.

Depression has forced most people to work a little harder for their living but good citizens must not forget that they owe a plain duty to society which must be fulfilled.

Here in Des Moines are many social organizations requiring leadership more now than ever before: N. A. A. C. P., churches, Y. W. C. A., Y. M. C. A., Interracial Commission, Negro Community Center, East Side Community Center, American Legion, Boy Scouts, Girl Reserve and other character building and civic groups. Their success depends to a large degree upon the intelligent Negro; he ought not set himself up as a leader and fail to lead. And this is particularly true in view of the fact that white citizens are contributing time and money that they may succeed. Then too it is a poor example for the young folks who look to these same people for guidance in shaping their career.

TONSILLITIS

Tonsillitis is an infection of the follicles of the tonsils where-in they become filled with bacteria or the products of bacterial activity sometimes resulting in the retention of pus within the crypts or follicles. This latter condition is called suppurative follicular tonsillitis because there is pus within the crypts of the tonsils. This condition is distinct from any other tonsillar infection and demonstrates itself by certain symptoms that are very typical of this condition. It is temporarily serious although not permanently serious or of itself fatal.

Its seriousness lies in the complications that might ensue if proper care is not taken to avert these complications. Whenever a suppurative follicular tonsillitis begins immediate treatment directed toward the prevention of the spread of this infection to other parts of the body is begun so that joint infection, infection of the spine and infection of the heart valves will not occur.

Sometimes instead of localizing within the crypts of the tonsil this infection becomes localized around the tonsil itself producing the condition called Quinsy or peritonsillar abscess. This condition does become serious in a majority of the cases and most of them must be lanced to permit escape of the pus and make swallowing and breathing possible and also to relieve the system of the products of bacterial activity and the poisons produced by the germs which produced the infection. Throats which become sore ought to have immediate treatment to prevent serious throat conditions and the complications which sometimes ensue and the prophylaxis should always be practical more so in winter than in summer for in this way the number of serious throat conditions will be lessened.

Change of Venue Urged for Trial of Harris

New York, Dec. 28.—Governor Hill McALIBRY of Tennessee was commended by the N. A. A. C. P. Friday for his prevention by state troops of the lynching of E. K. Harris at Shelbyville, Wednesday, Dec. 19. A change of venue was also suggested for the future trial of Harris to insure fair trial on the charge of criminal assault. The telegram, signed by Walter White, the association's secretary, read in part:

"May I on behalf of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People express our commendation of the determined opposition by state troops yesterday to the mob which sought to lynch E. K. Harris at Shelbyville. The wanton destruction of property in the drunken attack of the lynchers stresses again how essential Federal legislation—against lynching—is to supplement state authority and public opinion. We respectfully urge that change of venue be secured for future trial of Harris and that every precaution be taken not only to prevent lynching but to insure impartial trial."

WHAT WILL HAPPEN THIS YEAR

Here are a few predictions for 1935: The Crocker Big Five may find itself again if we can get enough games to keep going; The popularity of the traveling Negro basketball teams who have infested the city for the last few years will fade as Michaels, the team organized for that purpose, will trim more of them during the season; our young Crocker team will get some pastings, but will develop into a good club; the outstanding Negro track star in the city will be L. T. Johnson if he trains; the base ball situation will be as bad as ever with us youngsters to replace the fading old veterans; soft ball interest will grow among our boys and at least one high class team will develop; Chet Williamson will find at least three boys after him for his tennis singles crown; one of the outstanding double teams of the past few years will be divided and one of the members will share in the championship for 1935; Jack Howard will press Charles Howard closer than ever and may take over one of the latter's golf titles; the outstanding Negro foot ball players will be Chet Simms of North and Thomas of East; there will be a 1935 Bulldog semi-pro team which will do pretty well.

Protests Giving "D. D." Title to Illiterate Backwoods Preachers

Chicago—(ANP)—If back-woods and black-alley preachers with no more than fourth grade education don't stop parading around as "doctors" and "D. State Laws Protect

"The medical profession has its state laws to protect the public against fakes and quacks," the young divine said. "I do not advocate state licensing of ministers, but the various denominations ought to stop ordaining and licensing preachers who aren't capable intellectually or culturally to uphold the dignity of the profession."

Must Make Advancement

"The honorary D. D. degree today is bestowed by universities only after a man has demonstrated mature and meritorious achievement. It requires three or four years' study beyond the B. A." in order to obtain a Ph. D.

"The ministry, if it is to keep pace with the changing times, must constantly make mental advancement just as progressive medical men and teachers do. Then, too, the laymen ought to demand an intellectual and progressive leadership and stop supporting an ignorant and clowning ministry."

Comprehensive Nature of Program Under New Deal

PATROLISTS DETAILS

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Dec. 31.—In a full discussion sponsored by the Pittsburgh YMCA last Sunday, a P. Murchison, Associate Adviser to the Secretary of the Interior on the Economic Status of Negroes described the Place of Negro Schools in the New Deal Program.

Mr. Murchison's discussion in full, is as follows: In speaking here in the "Town Hall" of Pittsburgh today, I am conscious of enjoying a special honor and of hearing a special responsibility. I consider it an honor indeed to be permitted to come before a forum which has been alert and generous enough to focus and promote such a program as you are enjoying in your Sunday afternoon discussions here. Moreover, in this period of major economic transition, it indeed is a special responsibility for one who has enjoyed being a follower all of his life to attempt to show the need of a change in Negro leadership.

Then, too, it should be added that in the beginning that I do not hope for this talk to result in the immediate formulation of any definite plan for a comprehensive and detailed program for the accomplishment of an appropriate leadership of the race. I shall feel entirely satisfied if you will be stimulated to think as has been suggested. I now shall offer an analysis of the legislation which broadly is labeled the New Deal and the administration of this legislation reveals that our economic order is acquiring a new complexion. In this acquisition, the interests of all economic groups, apparently, are involved. It is

Bethune - Cookman To Give Course In Recreation

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla.—A course in Recreational Leadership has just been announced by the president of Bethune-Cookman College, Mrs. Mary McLeod Bethune, and the date of the opening of the course will be about the second week in February, 1936.

Prominent national and state leaders in Community Recreation will be on hand to instruct in the various courses, pertaining to a Community Recreation program, including the various organizations and leadership in the following fields: Social Recreation, Athletics, Dramatic Music, Handicraft and Hobbies, etc.

The purpose of this course is to fit the workers in the community and to give the state for the task of taking care of the idle hands of many who are out of work this winter, and meet a real need in the community.

It is announced that complete information about the course, etc., can be had by writing Mrs. Mary McLeod Bethune, Bethune-Cookman College, Daytona Beach, Fla.

allow schools to maintain complete records and when it may well be doubted whether in the final analysis such sections in the interest of the schools themselves or of the society which maintains them. Freedom from distractions which prevent cautious and purposeful thought is indeed essential, but there is most of all a need for a quiet which is utterly deadening, itself a sign of intellectual lethargy and sterility.

It is obvious that an intelligent leadership is contingent upon a degree of collective intelligence on the part of the race. It may be said that this collective intelligence should be provided by our schools; but if our schools will not provide this intelligence, I do not know from where it is to come. If our schools could not provide this intelligence, it would be a social leadership which was meant to be there.

Where else could Negroes look in a time like this for some vivid formulation of the future of the economic and political life of the race, for some notion of what new opportunities are opening? It is my belief that the answer to my question are not found in themselves; that, if scholarship has no relationship to problems of practice, it has little relationship to anything at all.

The question now is, precisely how are our schools to provide the needed economic and political leadership. I submit that we cannot obtain the results desired by their present tactics of giving graduate students of economics a number of courses in practical science and vice versa. There is a positive need of a new and joint approach by departments of economics and of government to the problem at hand. From time to time, the entire curriculum of these departments of our graduate schools must be organized around common objectives and their research organized to disseminate the results of their observations. Collectively they should observe and test the results of political and economic experiments which are made in practice. After the observation, they should announce their approval or disapproval of plans and ventures by Negro leaders and organizations.

The economic and political problems confronting the Negro today are so extensive and baffling that cooperative program of research is absolutely necessary if the investigations are to be of other than historical interest. In some instances this cooperation may be worked out on a functional basis; in others it may be on a territorial basis. Certainly, it would not be in place here for me to attempt more than the barest outline of how the proper leadership may be developed by our schools, even were it possible for me to outline an exhaustive and comprehensive program.

Much Progress Made Under Washington Administration

LIFT STANDARDS

Work a student enrollment of 1935 which is twice as large as that of last year and five times as large as it was eight years ago when Forrester B. Washington took charge. The Atlanta School of Social Work is in the midst of what is probably the greatest year of its history.

At the meeting of the board of trustees of the school last Friday, upon the recommendation of Director Washington, it was voted to put the school on a graduate basis and hereafter to accept no student who did not possess a bachelor's degree. At the same time, it was voted to raise the tuition of the school from $10 to $75 a year.

These changes, while appearing revolutionary and radical on the surface, to those who have followed the fortunes of the institution are the results of the progressive improvements which the present Director has made in the school from year to year. In 1927, when he took charge of the school, the institution had less than 20 students, limited persons with high school standing or less, and charged a tuition fee of only $5 a year. Instruction was given in five rooms located on an upper floor of an office building on Auburn

In the course of these eight years the Director has increased the size of the student body yearly until it has reached its highest enrollment during the period. The school has increased its curriculum from one to two years, raised its scholastic requirements steadily and has become housed in a separate building. At the same time the Director, through his able staff, has raised the budget of the school and there has not been a month during the entire eight years in which the entire school and other bills of the school, have not been paid in advance.

Since 1929 the Atlanta School of Social Work has been the only Negro school of social work in the South. The school consists of 27 outstanding institutions of its kind in the country, headed by Director Washington, who is also the Director of the American Association of Schools of Social Work. The standards of every school in the American Association of Schools of Social Work were not considered high enough to be included in the center of training. The increase in the student body is not by any means due entirely to the stipendium growing out of the training in its program. It is the faculty of the school is still limited to non-graduate student body in order to guarantee to its students individual and adequate supervision in field work.

How Frenchman's ALL-PURPOSE SKIN BLEACH FORMULA ACTS

My skin was so hard, harsh and oily. It looked rough and ugly. No face powder, nor rouge did me any good. But when I had used FAN TAN Bleach Creme for 7 days, according to the easy directions, I found the color of my skin was gone and instead, I saw in my mirror a soft, smooth, even complexion that made up with rouge and powder just fine. Hurray for FAN TAN. It is the finest all-purpose bleach cream I know of!

"SOFTENED MY SKIN"

My skin was too dark, and I was almost ashamed to go out to parties or visit friends. I looked so bad. What a happy day it was when I found FAN TAN Bleach Creme. What a wonderful formula it is! I'm so proud of my new skin beauty, thanks to FAN TAN. Ask for FAN TAN Bleach Creme at your drug store, if you want to look your best.

"CLEARED MY SKIN"

My skin was too dark. It was muddy, drab and I am sure looked dirty all the time. It made me sick, ill at ease in company. Here and there a pimple further marred my looks. How glad I was to try FAN TAN Bleach Creme—the All-Purpose Bleach Creme. How easy it was to smooth on! I sure was amazed at the fine result! FAN TAN Bleach Creme lived me up after all else had failed. You can get FAN TAN at any good drug store.

"WHITENED MY SKIN"

Use that Famous Frenchman's quick acting all-purpose skin bleach for a real skin beauty.

LUTHER'S CORNER

Period No. 2

PERSONS BORN BETWEEN MAY 13th and JULY 31st of any year come into this life carrying from the Cosmic and from their previous incarnations the memory of many peculiar experiences and tendencies and characteristics that make strange combinations. In the first place they bring into this life a deep seated desire to travel and move about. The continuation in this life in any one time spends money to these persons, and however they may try outwardly to permanently associate themselves with some place or set of conditions the inner restlessness cause them to feel uncomfortable and to seek a change.

They are practical, saving, conservative in many ways, and yet their lives are of the present hour only and they let the future take care of itself because of their faith in the just reward that will come. They prefer to live free of the cares of this life, they seek pace and quiet whenever they are troubled they love to spend much time in meditation. They are often considered fickle to those who do not know them, but in truth it is only another form of the expression of the desire for change and for new experiences. They are honest, careful, ethically precise in many ways, and in character clean and wholesome, but are very apt to be misjudged because of their changeable natures. These persons must guard against being led into the company of those who seek only the pleasures of the flesh, because for if once they get started, they become heavy drinkers, and are beggary, careless, and given to disregard the niceties of life. They make excellent secretaries, designers, artists, salesladies, salesmen, actors or actresses, concert entertainers, newspaper reporters servants in fine homes.

In disease they are often troubled with Bladder, Rheumatism, coughs and colds which manifest themselves through disturbances in the stomach or in the feet or eyes. Polarity A and B of period No. 2 will appear next week.
