BLACK MOTHERS OF THE SOUTH

By W. A. QUILLIAN East Point, Ga. Black mothers who would dare to tell of the burdens you bear; You sometimes have your own house to keep. And leave while your children sleep. At the white man's house you wash and cook. How neat and clean you make it look; But your own you'll undone For withholding a job yours on a pin. Black Mothers of the South, You do your own washing by night, Iron your clothes by a dim lamp-light. Leave your meals as best you can, Sometimes for a loafing man. The children are often in the street, But you have to work that they may eat; Sometimes they make nothing in life. Because father has a working wife, Black Mothers of the South.

Baptist Vet Enroute To The Bahamas

ATLANTA, Ga.—The Rev. L. G. Jordan, D. D., of Nashville, Tenn., historian and associate secretary of the Foreign Mission Board of the National Baptist Convention, is in the city for a few days while enroute to Nassau, Bahamas. The noted divine, who is almost 80 years old, will address the Atlanta Baptist Ministers' Union at the Greater Wheat Street Baptist church today, prior to boarding an afternoon train for Macon, Ga., where he will speak tonight. Sunday morning he was guest speaker at the Providence Baptist church, the Rev. C. D. Hubert, pastor, while at eight o'clock Sunday evening he spoke at the Mt. Zion Baptist church, the Rev. J. T. Dorsey, minister. Dr. Jordan is on a special mission to the Baptist of the Bahamas, sailing for the islands from Miami, Fla., on May 21. The first Baptist church in the islands was organized by the Rev. Prince Williams about 1788 or 1790, the Baptist historian states, adding that they report about 16,000 members of that persuasion in the islands. Plans are on foot to organize these associations in the Bahamas, with a Bahamas Convention as the ultimate goal. Despite his advanced years, Dr. Jordan is quite active, and intends to do considerable work yet for the cause, although he is working carefully and slowly. He will make a number of short visits in Georgia and Florida cities before sailing for Miami.

ATLANTA, Ga.—Persecution of religious minorities in Europe has failed to stop the growth of the Baptist church on the continent, but instead has quickened its development until today there are a million and a quarter baptists in Europe. Dr. James Henry Rushbrooke, executive secretary of the Baptist World Alliance declared at the Spelman College vespers service yesterday afternoon. The service was attended by a large group of students and friends of the college. Dr. Rushbrooke, who arrived in this country last week to attend the Southern Baptist Convention at Memphis and the Northern Baptist Convention at Colorado Springs in June, was introduced by Dr. E. H. Carter, pastor of the Friendship Baptist church. Preceding the address, Dr. Louie ty on the development of the church in Europe and elsewhere, told of the long struggle for religious freedom in the continent, and recounted how the first seven converts to the faith were baptized in Germany in April, 1834. In the century that has passed, the membership of the church has grown to around one million and a quarter persons. This growth has been brought about by the resolution of the early leaders that every church member should be a missionary. As an example of this zeal, he said that when the Rumanian government banned ministers from preaching outside their own towns, the word was carried far and wide by laymen. The governmental restriction, he said, instead of curbing the growth of the church only served to rouse the church members to greater zeal in spreading the gospel. In Russia, he declared, there were many thousands of Baptists before the Revolution. Today, churches are forced to assemble secretly, almost all ministers are in exile or in prison, and children everywhere are being exposed to an active teaching of atheism in the schools. He asked those who heard him to pray for those whose religious liberty had been denied that they might be brave in the face of this continued persecution and retain their Christian faith in the face of the government's effort to crush it.

Painted Desert an Area of Plateaus and Mesas

The painted desert is an area of plateaus and low mesas in north-central Arizona. It extends from the top of the Marble canyon of the Colorado river southward along the east side of the valley of the Little Colorado for about 100 miles, varying in width from 15 to 20 miles. At the south, it ends near the Santa Fe railway, which crosses it between Holbrook and Winslow. The desert lies at an altitude of about 5,000 feet and has an exceedingly arid climate. In consequence, vegetation is so scant that areas of rocks are bare or very sparsely so. These rocks, mostly Triassic shales and sandstones, exhibit a great variety of colors, including red, pink, purple, chocolate, lavender, pale green and gray, whence the name "painted."

Situated on the margin of this desert, about 90 miles north of Winslow, are the seven villages of the Hopi Indians, the best known of which are Walpi and Oraibi. The pueblos are picturesquely built on cliffs which project from a high plateau of sandstone.

Cave New Zealand Name

Just about the time when Vikings may have been exploring Labrador, Nova Scotia and the coast of Maine, there lived in Ra'lates, an island of what is now the Friendly Group, a Polynesian navigator called Kupe. He was known for his intrepidity in a community where the virtue was common. Kupe paid a visit to Rarotonga, 500 miles from his home, and there decided to see what lay to the south. There are no details of that voyage of discovery. All that is known is that on a November morning Kupe's wife saw the clouds over the land to the north of Auckland, and from that came the Maori name for New Zealand—Aotearoa (the long, white cloud).

Air Cells Make Soap Float

Any soap can be made to float by manufacturing it by a process that presses air ducts into the bar. These ducts also speed up curing, permitting the soap to dry out from the outside. So small are the ducts that they retain air, preventing water from entering. This results in floating. The old method was to beat air into the soap before it was shaped into bars. This made the soap porous, since it was filled with minute air cells.—Popular Mechanics Magazine.

Kept French Revolution Alive

The French revolution so affected France that for years its memory was kept alive in many tangible ways. Women's dresses were trimmed with miniature chains, pinhook braces and leg irons. They shingled their hair as the executioners had cut the hair of their women victims so it would not impede the blade. And even the children had little guillotines with which they beheaded the toy figures of gis-tocrats.—Collier's Weekly.

Grant's Tomb

The corner stone of Grant's tomb on Riverside drive in New York, was laid by President Harrison on April 27, 1882, the seventieth anniversary of Grant's birth. It was dedicated on the seventy-fifth anniversary. The cost was about $900,000, which was subscribed by 80,000 persons—none of it being paid by either the government or the city.

It is a simple matter to aggregate the coal furnaces in such a way that, while it still functions as capably as ever, it is hidden from sight, and the remaining part of the basement is ready to be cleaned and painted for recreation purposes! HOW ABOUT IT

Our boys have come a long when states change their laws for one of our boxers. The state of Michigan legalized to round boxing bouts with the idea of having a Louis-Baer fight there this summer. But here is something the Missouri boxing commission amended its laws to permit mixed bouts. His was done also in behalf of Joe Louis. If he never wins a championship that boy has done more for Negro boxers than all the other boys put together and that's saying a lot.

THE STATE MEET

The boys won't be so numerous at the state high school meet this year. The most outstanding one will be Davis of Perry who is almost sure to break the javelin mark. The best of the sprinters will be Black of Ottumwa and Archie Lucas of North, who will run the 220 and try to anchor enough relay teams to win the meet for North. Bob Coffman of Ft. Dodge didn't compete in his district meet. This boy was an almost sure point winner in both dashes and the broad jump. And he will handicap his school by being out. Then we won't see our quarter mile between Coffman and Lucas that we had hoped all season to see.

BIG TEN AND KANSAS

Jesse Owens of Ohio got his usual four first places against Michigan in a dual meet, but his school lost the meet. Willis Ward didn't compete a cold keeping him out. Wilson Briggs got two third places to help Iowa beat Wisconsin last week.

These teachers down in Kansas got after each other again this time in a conference meet where they apparently got all the points. It was Pittsburg by a nose this time and the other schools may as well have stayed home.

BASEBALL

The newly organized Capital City Monarchs won their opening city league game last week beating the D. M. Steel 7 to 4.

The Flashing Eagles opened the kittenball season by dusting the Harlem Knights Sunday at West High. Both teams agreed that the Eagles won, but we got five different scores.

Coal Is the Remnant of Prehistoric Plant Life

Coal is what is left of prehistoric plants that have become buried in the earth under conditions of heat and pressure for millions of years, notes a writer in the Chicago Tribune. Geologists know this because there are scattered throughout coal the fossilized forms of leaves, ferns, and even tree trunks, to say nothing of assorted remains of that far-off day. Further, more, coal in all stages of evolution has been found. There is peat, which is nothing more than a brown, spongy, water-soaked mass of decayed vegetation. There is lignite, or brown coal, which is so soft that it can readily be crumbled by the fingers. There is bituminous or soft coal, which is black in color but still fairly easy to powder. And, as a last stage, there is anthracite, which is a hard, shiny material the composition of which is almost pure carbon. These changes are undergone by wood in its evolution into anthracite. Coal steadily loses oxygen and hydrogen. This means that water, carbon dioxide, and probably some hydrogen-rich natural gas have been steadily baked and squeezed out of the coal, until its composition approaches that of pure carbon.

Color-Blindness Affects People in Various Ways

People who are color-blind were not very pleased when colored traffic signals were introduced and since because they have been in general use their troubles have increased.

Inability to distinguish between colors is more common than most of us suppose. More men than women are victims of it.

There are people who are color-blind in only one eye. For instance, while their left eye may see red as red, their right sees it as black.

The story is told of a famous Quaker chemist who was color-blind and had only three normal color sensations. A pink flower looked blue to him and when he cut his chin one day he saw green blood flowing from the wound.

Instances of colored vision are not uncommon. Some people always see as though they were looking through green or red glass—Pearson's Weekly.

Heat Lizards

The idea regarding heat lizards, which are seen living in ovens and running around inside the oven when the oven door is open, is a myth which is due to a misunderstanding regarding the nature and habits of the salamander, plus an optical illusion. The salamander was formerly supposed to be impervious to fire and actually live in ovens. This idea was undoubtedly caused by the fact that these animals occasionally crawl into houses in the winter time in search of warmth and seek refuge in hearths. The misconception was no doubt further heightened by the brilliant orange or scarlet color of some species. As a matter of fact, neither the salamander nor any other animal is impervious to fire, and the so-called heat lizards are actually an optical illusion.—Washington Star.

Porcelain Tower of Nanking

The Porcelain Tower of Nanking was designed by the Emperor Yung-lo (1403-24) on a previously sacred site to commemorate the virtues of his mother. It was begun in 1411 and destroyed during the Taiping rebellion. The tower was octagonal in shape, about 250 feet high, its outer walls cased with the finest white porcelain bricks. Each of the nine stories in which the building was divided was marked by overhanging eaves of green glaze tiles.

Gypsum

Gypsum, a white, rocklike mineral, on heating gives plaster of Paris, which is easily converted back into gypsum by the addition of water. This process makes possible the manufacture of relatively thin sheets of gypsum of any size, which, because of their lightness and insulating properties, are quite useful for wallboards and roofing. Mixed with suitable binding materials, gypsum is a competitor of concrete for certain kinds of flooring.

A General Ship

A general ship is one which has been advertised by the owners to take goods from a particular port at a particular time, and which is not under any special contract to particular merchants. If the owners of a general ship have advertised her as bound for a particular port, they must give notice to every person who may ship goods on board, of any alteration in her destination, and they will be liable for the consequences of neglecting to do so.

Sims called Rev. Harten a liar. Angered at the accusation, Rev. Harten jumped to his feet and started toward Rev. Sims, but the intervention of several ministers prevented blows from being passed. Immediately the Rev. Abner Brown, pastor of Metropolitan, adjourned the conference.

From all indications a split in the New York Baptist association is threatened, as Rev. Harten asked his followers to meet with him on Tuesday at his Brooklyn church.

It is said that Rev. Sims and Rev. Harten have not been on good terms for some time, since it was rumored that Rev. Harten, who is first vice president of the National Baptist Convention, is fostering a movement to have President L. K. Williams

White Fan Writes About The Ring Superiority Of Jack Johnson White Scribe Attempts To Explain Negro Superiority In Track

Jack Johnson Called Greatest Of History

ATLANTA, Ga.—
WITH the fame of Joe Louis steadily becoming more and more a topic of conversation in this nation, it is, indeed, interesting to find a Caucasian who harks back to yesterday to parade the immortals of the ring and name three or more Negroes in so doing. This letter below written to the RING magazine in New York city represents the beliefs and convictions of a man who has looked the best over for many years and lines up the immortals as he sees them.

Jack Johnson, according to his viewpoint and, incidentally, the viewpoint of many, many more, was the greatest ring machine the world ever saw. He compares him to all the accepted top-notchers and leaves him in the top hole. Joe Gans and Sam Langford also come in for recognition. Read his letter:

I have just received my Ring, which, as usual, I enjoyed very much. I note with interest Mr. Laffer's selection of great all-time fighters. I would like to pass my opinion on the rating of all-time greatest fighters. In my opinion, Terry McGovern was the greatest fighter of all time up to one hundred and thirty pounds. I think this opinion will be shared by a majority of the boxing fans. I would like to see Terry at his best turned loose among our present day middle weights. He would have them jumping out of the ring.

From one hundred and thirty pounds to one hundred and forty pounds I would class Joe Gans and Kid Lavigne as the greatest with little to spare between them. Personally, I would class Lavigne as the greatest. Joe Walcott also deserves mention in this class.

From one hundred and forty two pounds to one hundred and sixty pounds I would class Tom Ryan as the greatest of all time. He had everything—speed, cleverness and a punch to be feared. Tommy could be rated as about the smartest of great fighters.

Sam Langford would be given the palm for fighters from one hundred and sixty pounds to one hundred and seventy five pounds. Just imagine Sam at his best thrown in with any of the present day light-heavies, or even heavyweights! He was forced to perform under wraps most of the time so that his true worth was never known.

I do not believe anyone will question my selection as the greatest man between one hundred and seventy five pounds and two hundred pounds. This place goes to Robert Fitzsimmons. It would be hard to pass this class without mention being made of J. J. Corbett, a great fighter and a credit to the profession.

Now we come to the class that names the selector on the spot, namely, the legitimate heavies. There are five men whom I always

MBC Gridmen Feted For Big Grid Campaign

ATLANTA, Ga.—
The Morris Brown College Alumni Association will honor the "All-Southern Champs" this evening with a banquet in the college Dining Hall. Much interest has been manifested and everyone is bubbling over with enthusiasm to see these victorious men entertained.

One should consider it an honor to see such stars as "Doc" Smith and "Honey" Smith receive their All-American certificates. Other stars such as Earl Houseworth, "Sad" Sam Jones, and Harmon will receive honorable mention, which we hope will inspire them to greater achievement. There will be remarks from President W. A. Fountain, Coach "Billy" Nickles, and others.

The orchestra is in readiness to furnish "sweet music" for the occasion; and it has been the talk of the "Dormitory Debs" for weeks. In fact, they have been preparing their attire for several days; and their promise to present a pleasing picture.

Prof. J. O. Slade is to be commended for his untiring efforts to make the affair an enjoyable one. It will be recalled that Prof. Slade was, once upon a time, the "Babe Ruth" of Morris Brown. It will be a pleasure to have him act as host.

"A thing of beauty is a joy forever. Those who will be so fortunate as to be among the guests may rest assured that the entertainment and delight of this affair will never be effaced from the memory.

World Wins, 14-2 Then Loses, 37-8

ATLANTA, Ga.—
After routing the Transient Bureau soundly by a 14-2 margin and make two innings of powerful outs in order to rush up activities for the Morris Brown encounter, the Atlanta World softball nine took one of the roughest beatings ever administered in the sport from the Purple Wolverines by the unheard of margin of 37-8.

In the opening game of the day, Pitcher Al McKeever outpunched the Transients into submission, limiting them to a couple of runs but seven hits—six singles and a home run by Starks. Meanwhile, his mates were amazing fourteen runs on as many hits, led by Luctus Jones, with two home runs, a double and a single, and Felix Robinson with two clean hits. Osborne had a triple to his credit, while Pitcher McKeever duplicated Robinson's feat with two safe blows. One of Jones' homers came in the fourth inning with three on and the other next inning with two on for a total of seven runs batted in.

McAllister, Powell, Perry, Preston, and Leslie Bell all did well for the "World" in the 37-8 rout by Morris Brown, getting two hits out of four tries each, but a deluge of base knocks by the Wolverines and fourteen of their own errors cost the newspapermen a ball game that with Art Randall, pitching ace, and Ric Roberts, star fielder, absent, they never had a serious chance of winning.

Murderous Assault
Dyche Smith, besides pitching a super game, led the Wolverine hitting with two home runs, a triple, and single, crossing the plate six times himself. House Lady Harmon got six runs and hit a homer, triple, and single. Jim Reid tallied five times and accounted for a double and two triples.

In a recent contest, staged by the school to aid the Booker T. Washington, little Miss Black is reputed to have sold 1,500 votes, turning in a sum of $75.

Willie Wolfe Grabs Honors In Boxing Tournament

MEMPHIS, Tenn.—
Twelve champions were crowned Saturday night at the Hotel Men's Improvement club—a fitting closing ceremony for the Memphis World's second annual amateur boxing tournament.

Winners
Willie Wolfe—Lightweight.
John Bruce—Bantamweight.
Walter Swift—Flyweight.
Charlie Payne—Antweight.
Jessie Ester—Skeeterweight.
James West—Paperweight.
Samuel Carter—Nateweight.
Willie Wolfe, middleweight champion from Manassas High school, was voted by judges the most outstanding fighter in the tournament. Wolfe was given a large boxing trophy. A similar trophy was given Grant Grammer, School Boxing Team which scored the most points during the unrelenting of the contests. Both trophies were given by the Palace and Daisy Theatres.

Individual winners were awarded miniature gold-bronze boxing gloves. Prof. Lucky Sharpe, principal of Douglas School, presented all awards from the ring.

Robert Collins, trainer, referred to Willie Wolfe, 135, Manassas, defeated Bibb, Franklin.
Lute Deuler, 125, Douglas, won by default over Lesse, Lynwood.
Walter Swift, 111, Manassas, won by default over Leroy Smith.
Henry Hudson, 144, Douglas, defeated Thomas Nesbitt.

The old pugilistic split waxed high Thursday night and played thrilling to the anxious fathers, mothers, and little smiling sweethearts, who rounded the ring to witness favorites do their numbers in the contests.

Especially interesting was the match between the two little "pocket" entrants, Sam Carter and David Robinson. The two tiny youngsters threw leather in masterful fashion and were thundered with applause. Carter was defeated by the victor.

A half-minute light terminated the night of little activity with the defeat of Walter Swift, Manassas, who outsmarted the game Aubrey Payne.

Harry Cash, co-promoter and sparkplug that put the tournament over in fine style for the Memphis World, was busy throughout the night aiding the referee and trainer, Robert Collins, in getting the aspirants ready for the fights.

Black Crackers Play Barons Thu. Night

ATLANTA, Ga.—
Norman Cross, handsome young right handed pitcher ace of the Atlanta Black Cracker club in the Negro Southern League, will step onto the hill this Thursday night, May 16, at 7:30 o'clock to oppose the Birmingham Black Barons in the first night game of the season at Ponce de Leon Park.

The Black Crackers, after piling up an impressive exhibition record with Cross turning in three victories against a single loss, opposed their current Southern League season here last Tuesday afternoon at Ponce de Leon Park, more than 4,000 loyal fans—the record attendance for a local colored ball game—thrilled to that story book finish put on by the home nine when four runs were scored on three hits and four walks, losing the game in a 3-6 lead by Memphis and winning, 7-6.

Several thousand fans impressed with the general appearance of this year's colored club will rally between the turnstiles and get a comfortable seat in the heart of the grandstand where they can get a full view of the every move of their heroes.

Rumors are rife to the effect that the Black Crackers will enter this game with a new manager at the helm. Unfortunately, we are not in a position to make a commitment along this line, but we can say that the team will be full of dash and determination when home fans get another look at them.

Led by "Low Baby" Bonnet, the classy lead-off ace, Big Greco, the bulky catcher who bats in the clean-up notch; Norman Cross, the deft right-handed pitcher; and James (Ripper) Kemp, the sensational kid infielder, the colorful 1935 Crackers are ready to romp under the arc lights.

Sammy Thompson, Black Cracker, should be in good stride in his next stand as his hand and ankle are just about mended. He feels that he can and will vindicate his position before the eyes of the Atlanta public—which is why the way—one of the most fierce fan clubs in the universe.

The Black Barons, piloted by Vincent Andrews, an elongated first baseman who bats fourth in their lineup (unless there has been an unannounced change), are coming here stronger even than during last year and did everything but pull rabbits out of empty hats before the eyes of local fans. It should be a great clash—this Atlanta Black Cracker-Birmingham Black Baron tie-up.

Others on the job were Henry Herman, inner and recorder, Prof. R. J. Roddy, Julius Mebane, J. T. Duhan, H. D. Coke and Robert Raulf.

Results of first round battles, Thursday night
Charlie Payne, Grant, 65 won by default over Alphonse Johnson.
Clarence Wifeman, Grant, 30, defeated Henry Hawkins.
Henry Taylor, Grant, 90, won by default over Reval Lee.
Charlie Miller, Korreicht Intermediate, 118, defeated Elvynson John Bruce, Grant, 118 defeated Theodore Danzley.

Raymond Turner, Elmer's Luncheonette, 128, defeated Gene McPherson.
Ditchie Fletcher, LaRose, 120, defeated James Davis.
Lester Lynwood, Elmer's Luncheonette, 128, won by default over James Audin.

Walter Swift, Manassas, 111, defeated Aubrey Payne.

Sports Fan Sends An Interesting Article

HERE is a very interesting newspaper reprint mailed to this department by Mr. James A. Boyer, Morehouse and A. U. graduate. It was written by a white sport columnist for the Raleigh (N. C.) News and Observer. Mr. Boyer is a Raleigh resident and Daily World reader and was of the opinion that the following would be of interest to those of us who keep abreast the times in things racial and interesting.

THIS AND THAT
By Anthony J. McKeelin
If you ever so much as glance at headlines of stories on track meets, you know that the American Negro has taken charge of competition in the sprints and broad jump and is a very handy and capable person in various and sundry events on the track route.

And now comes Dr. Joseph Augustus Reilly of Kansas City Athletic Club with the observation that this is due to the automobile. Dr. Reilly, former Georgetown University sprinter, reaches his conclusion in a roundabout way: The white boy now travels in an automobile, the Negro boy, being poorer, has to walk—and he quite often runs for joy of it instead of walking. Consequently Dr. Reilly says, the Negro will develop the elasticity of muscle and the wonderful leg drive necessary to a top-notch sprinter.

Dr. Reilly's observations reached this desk Wednesday night in an Associated Press story. Had he been in person, I'd have started debating with him (I like to debate).

(Not by operator: "Arguing" is the word, Mr. Columnist.)
A weakness in Dr. Reilly's reasoning is that the star Negro performers probably have had auto at their call—certainly with borrowing distance for quite a time. So, the auto is out.

The big weakness in his reasoning, however, is that he overlooks the fact that these star Negro performers—and there are so many of them that it becomes a rule rather than an exception—are setting times and distances which once were phenomenal. It isn't so much that the white boy has slowed up, it's simply that the Negro boy has passed him figuratively, literally, and actually—in track competition.

When national track meets are held today, positive headlines and point-winners are Ohio State's Jess Owens, Temple's Eulace Peacock, Michigan's One-Man-Track-Team.

Found: My Mr. Meredith also thinks the automobile is a poor thing for anyone to bring up in discussion of track. He sees things differently from Dr. Reilly. From now on, you're getting excerpts from a story written by Art West and published in The Philadelphia Record (and the opening indicates Dr. Reilly isn't the first to point to the auto as a bugaboo).

Ted Meredith thinks those evolutionary greybeards who predict that the automobile will bring about the decline and fall of the human leg are as full of honey as they are of years.

"The underpinning of the race is getting sturdier, and swifter every year," says Meredith. "The softer we live the faster we run," remarked Ted, pointing to the fact that records continue to fall nearly every time there is a track meet.

"Moreover, the faster we run the more we learn." The other day he was talking with another old-time track star, who was convinced he could have run a lot faster as a youth, if he hadn't worked so hard. He felt he could have generated more speed if he'd done his running in the automobile age.

"I get to thinking about those things, and wondering if I couldn't have clipped off a few more fiftieths if I hadn't been continually fagged out when a kid from working on a farm."

Meredith said that while boys and young men of this jazz era live easier, they train more sensibly. "This great advantage is that he does the right kind of labor, and the right amount of it. In the old days running, like nearly everything else, was on a hit-or-miss basis. Competitively few boys had benefit of high school coaching—an advantage accorded practically all of them now."

It is hardly necessary to add that an hour of the right kind of training is better than a month of haphazard work, even if it is hard work. The hard work may be entirely useless from a track standpoint, whereas the definite and expert training the modern boy receives develops him spiritually in the one direction he seeks to travel. These is little lost motion.

"As a result we have a small army of boys coming up every year, and since some of them have natural ability to start with, it is not surprising that records continue to fall. Years ago when a record was broken, it was due to more or less accidental arrival of a great natural athlete who succeeded despite the lack of sensible training or sound coaching."

Warriors And Aggies Show Ace Trackmen In Cinder Meet

MEMPHIS, Tenn.—
Booker T. Washington High School retained its W. Tennessee track title Friday, outpunching Woodstock, Allen White and Madison in the invitational meet held at Red Sox Park.

Washington whipped the front with a total of 45 points, 10 more than the number registered by the aggressive Woodstock cinder team.

In the grammar school (junior) class, staged simultaneously with the prep events, Booker T. Washington romped to the front, amassing a total of 19 points to nose out the game Melrose. LaRose, the other contesting team, totaled 107.

"Bird" Fisher, star Woodstock athlete, proved the ace of the day, taking with ease the 880 and the mile. The lanky youngster was never seriously pushed. Franklin, neither Woodstock entrant,

Laura Black Smiles From Behind Freckles As She Becomes Queen

MEMPHIS, Tenn.—
Exhibiting winsome smile that wrinkled her many but cute freckles, diminutive Miss Eddie Laura Black, 15, was escorted to an elevated mound at Red Sox Park Friday afternoon and officially crowned Miss Booker T. Washington.

Miss Black, 725, Mississippi boulevard, will be recognized as Queen of Booker T. Washington High School until May of next year, at which time, another queen will be crowned.

Prof. J. W. Bell of the southside high school placed the glittering crowns on the pretty head of Miss

Black and then complimented her for having been able to capture the coveted honor.

A 10th grade student, Miss Black was escorted to the field by the school's drum and bugle corps.

In a recent contest, staged by the school to aid the Booker T. Washington, little Miss Black is reputed to have sold 1,500 votes, turning in a sum of $75.

REP. FISH INCONSISTENT

Rep. Hamilton Fish of New York City, who served with Negroes during the World War and represents a large number of Negro constituents, has introduced a bill in Congress authorizing the erection of a statue of Robert E. Lee, Confederate General, in Arlington cemetery.

Mr. Fish is one of the most outspoken critics of Communism and other radicals who have for their program the overthrow of our government. Knowing fully well that this was the program of General Lee and his followers, it is rather strange that Rep. Fish should seek to honor him. In fact his position seems rather inconsistent.

While the Bystander is not interested in stirring up sectional strife, it does not believe that because General Lee was a capable soldier, he ought to be honored as long as his cause was wrong no more than some of our gunmen should be honored because they were good marksmen.

Then too if this goes through, the federal government will be asked to pension ex-confederate soldiers and maybe accept "Dixie" as the national anthem.

Representative Fish's constituents ought to handle him for this miserable blunder.

RETAINS PRINCIPAL STEEPER

The daily press announced recently, although it has long been common gossip, that H. T. Steeper, principal of North High School, would not head that institution another year; that authorities had made the decision following complaint of a few disgruntled people who said Mr. Steeper was too dictatorial.

The decision is strange to most people who know Mr. Steeper and the statement issued this week by the school authorities makes the action a deeper mystery. Surely a man of Mr. Steeper's ability who has successfully conducted North High School during the past several years will not be displaced on the complaint of this nature. It is not fair to the masses of students or parents who are anxious for his retention.

A movement is on foot to retain Mr. Steeper in his position. The Bystander is for it and will lend its efforts in that direction recognizing that, nobody who has done anything has been perfect and that the head of anything is bound to offend some at times.

PREPARE NEW PROSECUTIONS OF SCOTTSBORO BOYS

Montgomery, Ala.—(CNA)—Preparations for new prosecutions of the nine Scottsboro boys were taken here last week by Gov. Bibb Graves and Thomas Knight, special prosecutor of the Scottsboro cases.

Victoria Price, who refuses to tell the truth and vindicate the Scottsboro boys, was carried to Scottsboro, Alabama, by state officials, where she swore out new warrants.

NOT LOST—ACTION MERELY POSTPONED—DECLARES SENATOR COSTIGAN

N. A. A. C. P. Launches Nationwide Drive To Force Early Vote

Washington, May 10.—"The anti-lynching bill is by no means beaten for the rest of the session," declared Senator Edward P. Costigan (D., Colo.) today upon emerging from a conference of proponents of the measure planning future strategy. He declared that the displacement of his motion to consider the bill "was a parliamentary victory rather than a rest of the bill itself." Senator Costigan is co-author with Senator Robert F. Wagner (D., New York) of the bill.

The N. A. A. C. P. is planning a series of nationwide meetings in cooperation with interested organizations in protest against the filibuster and in demand that the bill be passed.

Dental Health Education Hints

By Dr. Millard K. Dean

DENTAL CARE DURING PREGNANCY

The amount of dentistry performed on the pregnant woman has caused many to worry and some to suffer quite a few unnecessary pains because they had neglected to have the teeth either filled or extracted before beginning motherhood.

However, there is no longer any need to cease visiting the dentist but only a more careful procedure to follow. Teeth can be filled in most cases until the seventh or eighth month only never to have the appointments over one-half hour to forty-five minutes as a longer time might bring on a nervousness and fatigue. In preparing for the filling try to relax and rest comfortably when in the dental chair.

The extraction of teeth during pregnancy can be done as late as the seventh or eighth month and even later if the patient is suffering. Then, too, be sure to have had all of the abscessed and badly decayed teeth taken care of because teeth get worse if nothing is done for them. When the teeth and mouth are in good condition and a well balanced diet taken then there is very little chance for the teeth to become infected. The first harmful results to the teeth during pregnancy especially in undernourished women are first noted about the sixth month providing of course the decay started simply due to the condition. It isn't at all true that each child causes one to lose a tooth as this happens only when improper care and food are neglected before and during pregnancy.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Dear Dr. Dean:
I have found a lot of blood on my teeth and brush each morning and wonder if that is pyorrhea. One of my friends has had all of her teeth taken out for the same reason, but I have been reading and hearing that pyorrhea can be cured and I want to know what I should do.

Mrs. B. C.

Des Moines, Iowa
Answer: No patient can determine the pressure or absence of pyorrhea before until your dentist examines your teeth and gums you will not know whether or not you have pyorrhea. Also the curing and treatment of pyorrhea depends upon the degree to which the infection has spread whether or not the teeth can be saved or extracted.

Dear Dr. Dean:
Nine Scottsboro boys were taken here last week by Gov. Bibb Graves and Thomas Knight, special prosecutor of the Scottsboro cases.

Victoria Price, who refuses to tell the truth and vindicate the Scottsboro boys, was carried to Scottsboro, Alabama, by state officials, where she swore out new warrants.

Health Talks

Dr. H. E. London
BRONCHITIS

Bronchitis begins with a cough and sometimes with an expectoration, although it may begin with coughing only producing a dry, troublesome condition which shows some relief only when the dryness is overcome and the expectation is well started.

Bronchitis may occur as a single condition or as a complication of some other condition when the relief of one will usually bring relief to the other. Bronchitis demonstrates itself by terrible coughing spells which are painful as a rule although the cough may occur without pain. It accompanies many of the infectious diseases as measles, is constantly with whooping cough, may come with scarlet fever, diphtheria or any of the infectious diseases.

In some of the chronic diseases Bronchitis occurs quite regularly and must be cured as well as the disease which it occurs with. In aborting Bronchitis a hot lemonade along with some of the usual remedies and a mild purge will be efficacious in a great majority of the cases. The purpose is to stop the cough in the bronchitis by careful treatment and to restore the bodily resistance to normal.
