Japan is Hostile to Italy's Cause

Mussolini's War Plans Are Weakened by Dark Races

RACIAL CONFLICT SEEN AS RESULT OF MARCH ON ETHIOPIAN EMPIRE

Addis Ababa, Ethiopia, July 26—(Special)—Harassed by the enforced return here of Italian soldiers stricken by heat and African diseases in Somalia and Eritrea on the average of forty a day, Premier Benito Mussolini now finds his plans for subjugation of Ethiopia further menaced by a distinctly hostile attitude by Japan.

These reports reaching here were almost coincident with the visit of two Japanese merchant-journalists to the palace, where they paid respects to Emperor Haile Selassie, who celebrated his 44th birthday July 23. At the same time Count Luigi Vinet, the Italian minister to Ethiopia, was busy insulting the emperor by refusing to join other foreign representatives in attending the birthday reception.

Press dispatches from Rome state that the Italians are agitated at the new attitude of the Japanese, which amounts almost to an open declaration of hostility in that it was in direct contradiction of the official Japanese communique issued a week ago. At that time the Japanese government, through Yotaro Sugimura, ambassador to Rome, declared that the far easterners intended to remain neutral in the Italo-Ethiopian dispute and that Japan had no political interest in Ethiopia.

But Foreign Minister Koki Hirota at Tokyo has directed a new light on the situation. Sugimura was only carrying out orders which his government gave him last winter. The Japanese government, through new developments in Africa and in world affairs, have done a round-about-face in their viewpoint and now see the Italo-Ethiopian controversy as a threat to the darker races.

Deny Prisoner's Statements At Charlotte Trial

Charlotte, N. C., July 26—Two former prison guards already absolved, Henry C. Little, former prison camp official, and R. C. Rape, a former guard, were freed Monday of charges resulting from the permanent maiming of two short-term prisoners, Robert Barnes and Woodrow Wilson Shropshire, last winter.

The two white men were charged with assault and battery with deadly weapons with intent to kill and with neglect of duty after the stories of inhumane treatment came to light when the feet of both prisoners were amputated as the result of punishment inflicted at the camp of which Little is boss.

The depredation was deemed necessary by physicians in order to save their lives. Strong sentiment against the type of punishment used at the camps in this state resulted and the officials and guards of the Mecklenburg camp were dismissed and arrested. The camp physician was discharged.

Attorney Hill Scores in LeMars Robbery Case

NEGRO LAWYER WINS ACQUITTAL FOR WHITE BANK ROBBER

By Everett Wadsworth Staff Writer

LeMars, Iowa—(Special)—History was made when Henri L. Hill, noted Negro criminal lawyer of Sioux City, Iowa, won a dismissal of the charge of bank robbery against his client, John Price, white, in Judge Thomas' court here Wednesday. Price, with three others, was charged with the bold daylight $7,000 holdup of the LeMars Savings bank on the morning of May 11th. He now faces a charge of aggravated robbery, which carries a penalty of twenty years.

Old settlers of the Hawkeye state who flocked the countryside to attend the trial say that Hill is the first Negro ever to plead a case in Plymouth county. They also state that the Sioux City attorney is the first to represent a white man in Iowa for bank robbery, for which the penalty is life imprisonment.

HENRI HILL Passing the state bar in Des Moines in 1932, he came to Sioux City three years ago and made an enviable reputation as a criminal lawyer. In his last case of murder in the first degree, the jury stood eleven to one for acquittal.

Attorney Hill, born in Nashville, Tenn., graduated from Howard university, lived in New York City, then went to Detroit, where he was associated with the law firm of Lewis and Rowlette. Studying for the ministry while in Turner college, he received his B. D. degree in 1925. Before receiving his L. L. B. from Howard in 1929 he was quiz master of the Tau Beta Sigma, law fraternity.

Mrs. Helen Beshears Observes Negroes' Status In Canada, Gets Setback in 'Good Old U.S.A.'

With my home town in a midwestern state as the locale, it is possible to acquire a clearer perspective of the Negro in Canada, which means, to simply because they were elegant and pretentious in appearance or services, you just went any place you desired or your inclinations invited you.

The Negro population of the eastern province of Canada is comparatively small and is not concentrated in groups or neighborhoods. Our opportunity to meet the most representative citizens of Montreal came at the reception and dance given in honor of the visiting delegates to the Social Workers Conference, Victoria Hall, gorgeous in its furnishings and decorations, located on W. Sherbrooke in the exclusive residential suburb, was the scene of this social event. The secretary of the Montreal council of social agencies, a member of the faculty of McGill University with the social and other white citizens important in the public life of Montreal enjoyed themselves conversing and dancing with the other guests present. The one Negro church in Montreal, also serves as a community center for our group. The membership is small because of the fact that most of the Negro population, approximately 8,000, is absorbed by the white churches of the city.

Public Accommodations Unlike the United States, it is not necessary to pause wondering if it is possible to be served in this restaurant accommodated at that hotel, whether you would encounter courteous treatment in all the stores or beauty salons, simply because they were elegant and pretentious in appearance or services, you just went any place you desired or your inclinations invited you.

Mrs. Helen Beshears, Country Juvenile Probation Officer

Red Caps Railroads offer service for ourselves and red caps make up the chief occupation, while for women the major employment is in the numerous dress-making shops or domestic service. One gentleman holds a very respectable position with the "Montreal Star." There are several pioneer Negro families but most of the Negro population represents more recent migrations from England, British Guiana or some other British province. The usual divergence in complexions and features is found in Canada as in the States, varying from the Caucasian to the definite Negro type. The Negro business of Montreal includes a very well equipped

CROCKER "Y" NEWS

Registrations for the Crocker "Y" Camp period have been heavy during the first week of enrollment, more than forty boys have definitely signed up, and with two weeks remaining before the opening of camp, names are expected to be added to the camp roster at an increased tempo. Provisions have again been made for over a hundred campers and leaders. Despite increased operating costs due to the rise in price of food and other commodities, the fee has been kept at the same low figure that has prevailed in years past. The fee has been raised on an average of two dollars per boy in all other periods attending camp this summer.

The fee of $5.50 is made possible this year due to the action of the Central Y. M. C. A. board, who are subsidizing this period to the extent of paying the remaining $4.50 of the amount required to send each boy to camp. The only requirement is that all fees must be paid in full before leaving Des Moines. Further information concerning camp may be procured by calling the "Y", 3-5611, or writing the Crocker Street Y. M. C. A., Twelfth and Crocker streets.

A "Y" Camp pep meeting will be held Tuesday evening at Maple Street Church for east side boys. Camp songs, pep talks, information and demonstrations will be a feature of the

Argue About Negroes And Ofays In Track

KANSAS CITY, Mo.—(ANP)—Proof that many white persons have too much respect for themselves and their race to take any stock in the suggestion that a difference in the heel structure of the Negro makes him a superior athlete on the track, contained in the reproduction in the Kansas City Star of part of an editorial by Frank Young of the Kansas City Call, and printed made thereon by C. E. McBride, sports editor of the Star. Mr. McBride writes: "The Negro athlete has no different kind of heel than his white rival. His body construction is the same. His breathing apparatus is no different. His feet are shaped along the lines of most athletes, his muscles grow in no different way. In short, there is no structural difference between Negro and white sprinters that causes the Negro boy to have an edge on his white rival in track events.

The carriage was stolen from in front of Joe's home early Friday morning just before the crippled man ventured forth on his daily route.

Mell Moye Displays Form To Win Laurels

ATLANTA, Ga.—Miss Mell Moye, outstanding lady golfer of the Lincoln Country Club, showed the rest of the fair damsel members of the club her heels and captured the Club championship Sunday before one of the largest galleries to follow a match of this kind in the club's history. Miss Moye exhibited a fine brand of golf, using both her wood and iron clubs in a mastery fashion. There is no doubt about it the popular young lady issued a challenge to the golf world that she would have to be reckoned with in future tournaments. She used 112 strokes three below her nearest rival, to win the medal play over an 18-hole route.

Beginning the first nine holes playing with Mrs. Frances Robinson, wife of the widely known Atlanta printer, Dan Robinson, Miss Moye struck an opponent who gave promise of giving her a real battle, but turned the tide in her favor after fighting through 6 hard holes.

S. J.—Will I be able to get my furniture back again or will it be useless to keep on trying?
Ans. If you can locate the receipts for your furniture and prove that it was you that paid for your furniture instead of your husband then you will be able to regain possession of it again. Your husband can't give your furniture for a gift of his unless you give him the power to do so.

X. X. X.—Did my husband's friend try to have me hurt?
Ans. Of course not—when your husband walked down the street with an old friend of his they were not trying to plan anything personal or anything that would harm you in any way. He is not interested in this girl but since she is an old friend of his he treated her nice.

L. P. S.—Will we be able to hold our home?
Ans. Your income will be increased during this summer and you won't have to worry about not being able to pay the HOME OWNERS LOAN. If you would rent out part of your rooms you could realize enough each month to take care of this loan.

N. B.—What should I do about the property that I have in this State?
Ans. The vacant lots that you own in Houston are no good to you as they are and since you are not planning to build on them it would be a good idea for you to get rid of them. You will be able to get a better price for them than you paid yourself so hold out for a reasonable sum. Have a real estate agency make a bid on your property before you list it for sale.

L. W.—How can I get my boy friend not to come to my home without hurting his feelings and is what I have about him true?
Ans. Why don't you suggest to your boy friend to go to a doctor and have his LUNGS EXAMINED and then you will be able to find out for yourself just what his condition really is. I don't think that you should worry about his being taken by local police for following the ladies around for several months. Jackson, Miss., July 19—The case of Ed Brown, Yank Ellington and Henry Shields, three Kemper county farm hands who were tortured and beaten into confessing the murder of a white tenant farmer, is ready to be filed in the United States supreme court, attorneys acting for the N. A. A. C. P. announced today. Shields, Ellington and Brown were convicted last summer and their conviction appealed to the Mississippi supreme court last fall. AL JOLSON CERTAIN TO GET LEAD IN FILM "PASTURES"

Hollywood, Calif., July 19—"Green Pastures" will positively be started shortly at Warner Brothers First National, following the great preparations now going on to film the famous stage play that made dramatic history. This will be much to the regret of the many lovers of the beautiful play sanctified by the late Richard B. Harrison, who created the role of "De Lawd."

Clarence Muse is one who is saddened by the danger of it developing into a burlesque. This is because it is generally understood that Al Jolson, who has craved to play the role of "De Lawd" ever since it first opened, is generally expected to be cast in this beautiful part.

OFFERS OF AID POUR IN

Addis Ababa, Ethiopia, July 19—"We nourish no illusion of the task confronting us," stated Emperor Haile Selassie, "Conquering Lion of the Tribe of Judah," in reaffirming the position of Ethiopia in its impending conflict with Italy, "but we are confident of the Divine aid and of the sympathy of the civilized world in resisting the territorial aspirations of a power which, while seeking to disguise these as a mission of civilization, rejects every means of pacific settlement elaborated by modern civilization."

Recent attempts at settlement of the question by European powers headed by Great Britain and France by giving Italy certain territorial privileges in Ethiopia in return for which Mussolini would halt his intentions and preparations for war, were met with unequivocal assertion by the emperor that "Under no circumstances will we accept a railway or other zone in or through Ethiopia, administered or policed by Italy, because history teaches that the creation of such zones inevitably is followed by annexation."

WANT DECISION ON MISUSE OF WAR VETERAN'S MONEY; LOST $3,000 TO AIDS

J. B. Martin, W. S. Martin, Lewis Barnwell Are Bondsmen For Rev. Boyd, Relative And Guardian Of Swindled War Veteran

LAWYER INVOLVED IS DEAD

Memphis, Tenn.—(SNS Service)—Silas Boyd, World War veteran, victim of an alleged swindle racket which caused him a loss of more than $4,000 in money paid him by the U. S. Government, may have a chance to air his case before the State Supreme Court, attorneys indicated today.

The Memphis World printed an account of the Boyd affair August of last year, stating that defense attorneys were ready to take the case to Court of Appeals. Since that time, almost one year ago, the matter has been permitted to become ripe for the impending Supreme Court hearing.

After entering the army, Silas Boyd was declared insane. He was returned to American soil and placed in a Government hospital for treatment. Finally he was sent to the local Veteran's Hospital to receive medical attention.

The Rev. J. B. Boyd, Memphis CME minister, and Silas Boyd's brother, was qualified by the Government as guardian for the insane man.

Beginning in the year of 1921, the U. S. Government paid to Silas Boyd through the Rev. J. B. Boyd white lawyer was employed to gallop a salary of $80 a month. A young the reports from the Boyd brothers for the Government and if necessary, handle the distribution of the money for the Boyd brothers.

In 1925, the young white lawyer died.

Shortly before his death, the salary of Silas Boyd had been hiked from $80 to $100 a month.

A new lawyer was brought into the Boyd affair, following the death of the young white lawyer. A few months later, the new lawyer discovered that Silas Boyd's money had been mishandled during the years of 1921-25. The shortage amounts to more than $3,000.

During the course of time Silas Boyd married. Another visit to the Veteran's Hospital at Tuskegee found the World War veteran improving. Doctors said he was 61 per cent insane and consequently, the U. S. Government cut his pay check to $61 a month.

Bondsmen for the Rev. J. B. Boyd are Lewis Barnwell and Doc

TWO WOMEN KILLED BY AUTO

Struck By Car While On Sidewalk, Two Witnesses Say

DIE SUDDENLY

ATLANTA, Ga.—Detectives McGarrity and Stone, Sunday, were looking into the case of two local women, Ida McLendon, of 23 Davis street, S. W., and Earley Brown, of 216 Elm street, who were killed Saturday at midnight by a hit-and-run driver as they walked on Chapel street on the right-hand sidewalk. The accident occurred directly in front of 157 Chapel street.

Two witnesses, Lilly Dupree, of 471 Nelson street, and Garrett Johnson, of 469 Fair street, S. W., told Radio Patrolmen E. T. Payne and C. W. Cartwright that the unknown driver was going south on Chapel street at the time the car in which he was travelling struck the pedestrians. Neither witness was able to describe the car in which the man rode and his identity could not be obtained, but one of the witnesses was able enough to furnish officers the license number of the car. With this information, detectives on the case are expecting to bring the thought man to justice in short order.

Shortly after the crash and injury of the two women an Ivey Brothers ambulance rushed on the scene, and hurried them to Grady hospital. Upon arrival one of the women was dead, while the other died at the clinic.

Susie Tucker, of 52 Davis street, identified the two women, saying that one was her mother, Mrs. Ida McLendon, the address being the same as her own, and her cousin, Earley Brown, of 216 Elm street.

Questioned closely as to the manner in which the hit-and-run driver had killed the two women, the witnesses told police that he had driven into the path of the two women who were walking on the sidewalk on Chapel.

CIGARETTE SMOKING SLOWS BLOOD FLOW

A little cigarette makes a big disturbance in the body—temporarily. The smoking of a single cigarette brings reduction in the rate of the blood flow, elevates the blood pressure, increases the heart rate and causes the blood sugar level to rise.

Dr. R. Starr Lamson of Boston has just completed a study of twenty habitual smokers and reports his findings in the Journal of the American Medical Association for June 1.

Four common brands of cigarettes and one brand of "dentocinized" cigarettes were used by Dr. Lamson in his experiments, which were conducted at Massachusetts general hospital, Boston. His subjects were fifteen normal, mostly medical students, and five patients of the peripheral circulatory system.

Eighteen tests were made with cigarettes, five with a pipe and one with a cigar. At the end of the study, the physician reached the following conclusions:

Smoking and inhaling cigarettes causes a sudden marked change in state of blood flow. This lasts for about an hour. Cigarettes when not inhaled produce the same effect but the reaction lasts only fifteen minutes. A "dentocinized" cigarette produces less effect than an ordinary cigarette. Clear and pipe smoking also reduces the rate of blood flow. Patients with diseases affecting the blood vessels had better give up smoking, "as it adds unnecessary insult to the already existing injury by further increasing the peripheral circulatory insufficiency." the girl apparently being guilty of the alleged crime.

The first lynching of the week saw two men Bert Moore and Dooley Morton, strung from a tree in a church yard by a Mississippi mob. It was the first double lynching to be reported in a number of years. A third man barely escaped mob vengeance in Mississippi at the same time by escaping across the river to Arkansas.

Unofficial figures, as compiled by the International Labor Defense League, would place the total for the year at nine, the ILLD listing two share cropper organizers, who have been found dead, as victims of "Judge Lynch."

The 1935 record to date shows Mississippi leading the lynch list with four illegal hangings; Louisiana next with two; and Florida ranking third with one. While the records for the first half of the year revealed four lynchings it is

WE SEEK A FAIR DEAL

Plans are going forward under the supervision of acting director L. S. Hill, in charge of public works under the new relief setup. The Bystander calls Mr. Hill's attention to the shameful manner in which Negroes were treated under PWA and CWA and here points out specific complaints:

1. As far as pick and shovel jobs are concerned there was no discrimination.

2. Negro men and women got absolutely no consideration in their attempt to be placed in clerical jobs.

3. Of the employees in the ERA office, and there were hundreds, but one Negro—a janitor—was employed.

4. On but one project were Negroes given pay on jobs above that of common labor.

When the PWA and CWA were set up Secretary Ickes and President Roosevelt directed that there be no discrimination on the basis of race but evidently the heads here paid no attention to them. President Roosevelt has laid down the rule again for the new work and the Bystander feels that it expresses the views of Negroes and fair-minded white people when it insists that the rule be followed.

Of course, we appreciate the pick and shovel jobs. They are necessary. But some Negroes are qualified to do higher type work as well. Be fair in this matter, Mr. Hill and see that the Negro gets a fair deal this time under the New Deal.

AMERICAN FIRST

On several occasions, the Bystander has pointed out the unfair advantage Italy is planning to take of Ethiopia, that solemn international agreements were being scrapped by Italy; that there was no adequate justification for her actions.

Most people feel the same way and desire to do everything within the realm of the stand our state department takes to indicate that feeling. But Americans, black and white, Italian and Negro must not forget that this country professes to be neutral—that there should be no quarrel between American citizens over the Italo-Ethiopian affair.

Efforts are being made to enlist Negroes in the Abyssinian service—and Italians in the Italian too, for that matter. Thousands of people left America and joined their respective fatherland's armies during the World War and nobody was punished for it by this country. Undoubtedly the same thing may be true in this case.

The point the Bystander makes is, that we cannot get excited individually about the matter for after all we are Americans and will be bound by America's position in the affair now and hereafter.

NOW, OR MANY YEARS HENCE

For years the interracial aspect of the bathing beach proposition has been a big problem. No swimming pools are located in communities near the centers of Negro population nor have

SELECTION OF TEETH FOR PLATES

The best method for selecting the shade of the teeth to be used in a full set of plates is to have the dentist match up the color before the teeth are extracted. Yet many patients fail to take advantage of this plan perhaps because they change dentist before having the set of plates made.

The shades of the teeth vary partly with the color of the complexion of the person and also according to the care the mouth has received while the teeth were in. Not only is the shade of the teeth important in a set of dentures but the size and shape of the false teeth can make one appear more natural. For example the thin long faced person has a different size and shaped teeth than the short heavy set individual. Also as a general rule men have larger teeth than women consequently the proper selections greatly determine the best appearance. Your dentist takes these facts into consideration, therefore it is best for the patient not to insist on the exact shade, size and shape of false teeth but only to describe the natural teeth before they were removed.

The most common fault is every one wanting white teeth and small ones when their natural teeth were not of that type. Remember all teeth become darker as we grow older, therefore, if a too light colored tooth is used there is more the appearance of false teeth. Also the cheaper set of teeth are made of inferior quality, therefore, lack the natural lustre of a good set.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Dear Dr. Dean:

When a tooth has to be lanced before pulling it out how long before the tooth can be taken out.

Mr. J. C. H. Des Moines, Iowa.

Ans. After lancing an abscess it is best to wait until the swelling has disappeared from the tissue before extracting the tooth. This length of time varies but can be hastened by the use of ice packs over the area.

Dear Dr. Dean:

Is a tooth powder better than a tooth paste for cleaning the teeth?

Miss G. C. Des Moines, Iowa.

Ans. The tooth powder or the tooth paste will not make any difference as far as cleaning the teeth goes.

any of our character building organizations been able to get a pool under any of the roofs occupied by Negroes. Consequently—and to be entirely practical—when Negro boys and girls get a swim it is usually in some very undesirable place.

On several occasions, the Park Board and the Playground Commission have been requested to make some provision for taking care of this situation but in every instance the cry has been "No funds available"—even though they usually find the money to do what they want—and the matter has stopped there.

Now that money is being dished out from Washington for every imaginable purpose—some worthy and some otherwise—these boards ought to get busy and construct a swimming pool in Good Park and one on the south side. They would serve the purpose nicely. And our influential Negroes should get busy and see that it is done. The project would help a lot of people.

Peculiar to say, many other communities are far ahead of Des Moines in getting federal money for projects. Just who is at fault we are not prepared to say but by all means like the congressman looking for patronage "We ought to have our share while it is being passed out."

TUBERCULOSIS

Tuberculosis is one of the diseases which is rapidly growing less frequent and less dangerous. Every year the death rate from the disease is decreasing. The reason is simply better understanding of its early symptoms and a better idea of how it should be treated by physicians and the public.

Almost everyone in infancy or early childhood has a few tubercular glands in the lungs. If the child is properly nourished, well cared for and allowed to live the proper kind of life, the disease fails to progress, the diseased glands become filled with lime salts (calcify) and the child grows to adult life with some hard gland substance and some old scars in his lungs. This form of tuberculosis should not be looked on with the same dread as active tuberculosis in the adult.

It is important that everyone should know the very earliest symptoms of tuberculosis, the earlier the diagnosis is made, the sooner intelligent treatment is started, the better the understanding of the patient and the more complete his cooperation and that of the family in caring for him—the greater will be his chances for recovery.

Usually the first symptom of tuberculosis is an unusual tired feeling (fatigue). The sick person is not able to perform his work with his usual energy, he is very tired at the end of the day, and this tired feeling hangs over to the next morning; he finally complains of being tired all the time. There is a gradual, sometimes rapid loss of weight even though he eats as usual.

Later, with the tired feeling and loss of weight there comes an increasing anxiety and instability. Little things annoy him, he finds fault and quarrels easily. The patient, without realizing it, begins having a little fever daily which usually comes in the afternoon and early evenings; then early every morning at three or four o'clock he begins to feel cold and has to have more clothes. This variation in feeling of heat and cold is most important and when one experiences the above symptoms it then becomes necessary to seek the advice of a reputable physician.

I. P. N.—Will there be any use of me trying to get the trace of land that is situated in Texas that I am interested in?

Ans.—It might interest you to know that you're not the only "heir" that is interested in this practically worthless piece of land in Orange, Texas. My impression is that the money you would have to spend to gain legal rights to this property would be more than the land is worth.

Z. A. G.—My boy friend has left the city. Why don't he write.

Ans.—Because he was glad to get ahead of you. He's patting himself on the back for clearing out when he did, for in his opinion anything might have happened if he stuck around. You know what I mean.

J. W. P.—Will I ever be successful in getting the job back I lost in 1933?

Ans.—I am afraid that you are doomed to disappointment. The unjust evidence that caused you to lose this job in 1933 prevents you from getting it back now. It is regrettable that you should be forced to give up a position when you have slaved away the best half of your life at it. At this time I cannot contact you gaining the old job back.

L. M. P.—I left my girl friend to keep house for my husband while I was in Baltimore. She had been living with us five years. Why did she move away?

Ans.—I believe a close relative of yours—your sister—to be the indirect cause of her actions. Everything will be explained and mended in time. Your friend has a temporary peeve on at present.

M. W. B.—Have I the wrong conception of my stepfather?

Ans.—Absolutely. He is just as human as you are and my suggestion is that you take it upon your own shoulders to make things as harmonious as possible for him. Don't be too quick to blame him—for he is trying to do his best. I think the present arrangement best.

G. T. M.—I am married. My husband don't treat me right. He stays out all night and he says he ain't doing nothing when he does. Please tell me what to do?

Ans.—You must do something to wake him up, for he certainly is giving you a dirty deal. Let him know that you will have to leave him unless he mends his ways—I don't advise you to do this until your four months old baby is old enough to be left with someone while you are at work.
