The Rt. Rev. H. Blanton Parks, D.D., LL.D., of Oakland, Calif., presiding bishop, opened the fifteenth annual session of the Northwestern conference of the A. M. E. church at the St. Paul A. M. E. church Wednesday.

The Rev. C. H. Stewart of Minneapolis delivered the morning sermon followed by the holy communion conducted by the Revs. W. H. Ogleton, T. B. Stovall and W. E. Guy. Rev. Guy of St. Paul, Minn., was elected press representative for the religious journals.

Roach and Atty. S. Joe Brown for the church and Miss Elsie Davis for younger people were the speakers.

The Womens Missionary Society meetings were held Thursday morning and afternoon, Dr. L. L. Berry and Dr. Clayborn delivered the sermons in the evening and Bethel A. M. E. church and choir presented the musical program.

Saturday's session concludes the conference business. At the Sunday morning's services, Bishop Parks will conduct the ordination of deacons and elders and consecration of deaconesses. The four district includes Ontario, Detroit, Chicago, Indiana, Illinois and the northwest division. M. H. Davis, visiting bishop of the Southern Conference, is assisting Bishop Parks at this session.

500 Arrested in Ethiopian Parade

POLICE TERROR RAMPANT AS MAYOR ORDERS 'HEADS TO BE BUSTED'

Chicago, Ill.—(CNA)—Chicago is seething with indignation and protest against the unbridled violence displayed by the police against the participants in last Saturday's demonstration for the defense of Ethiopia. Scores of churches, trade unions and fraternal organizations have sent telegrams and resolutions of protest to Mayor Kelly and Chief of Police Allman.

Harry Haywood, general secretary of the League of Struggle for Negro Rights, was arrested at Saturday's demonstration when he attempted to address the meeting from a roof. Few weeks prior to the demonstration the Joint Conference for the Defense of Ethiopia had attempted to hold a "Hands Off Ethiopia" parade. The city administration refused to grant a permit and Police Chief Allman ordered "heads to be busted" if the march was held.

Church Seeks to Oust Rev. Brewer

Pastor Resigned Sept. 1, Members Say in Filed Suit

Public Mission to Begin Sept. 29th

FATHER WADE, NEGRO CATHOLIC PRIEST.

TO SPEAK HERE

The September Novena in honor of the Little Flower and the mission for the colored people will begin at the Little Flower Shrine in St. Peter's church, East Eighteenth and Des Moines streets, Saturday, September 21st, closing Sunday, September 29th. The devotions will be at 3:30 in the afternoon and 7:45 in the evening. The masses in the morning will be at 8 o'clock and 8:15. The devotion in the evening at 7:45 will be especially for the colored people.

The novena and mission will be given by Father F. Wade, S. V. D., colored priest, from Holy Rosary Institute, Lafayette, La., who comes highly recommended by his superior. Father Wade is a convert to the Catholic church himself. During the mission he will explain the doctrines of the Catholic church people in the south and the work the Catholic church is doing for Negroes.

The main intention in the novena will be for the amicable settlement of the Italian-Ethiopian crisis. Prayers will be offered that God may stop the impending war and thereby save the fair country from destruction and the poor people of Ethiopia from the terrible suffering and sorrow caused by war, Rev. Father Murphy stated.

Religious rebellion broke in full fury Wednesday when the members of the Christ Sanctified Holy church, 1521 E. University avenue, filed a suit for a mandamus stopping the Rev. Arthur Brewer from occupying the pulpit. The hearing for a temporary injunction pending the settlement of case was set by District Judge Frank S. Shankland. I. H. Tomlinson is the attorney for the plaintiff.

The Rev. Brewer has been acting as pastor of the church by common consent, but without contract. August 9th at the general assembly at Sedalia, Mo., he submitted his resignation to the national church board and it was accepted, the petition said.

Rev. Brewer's resignation was to take effect September 1st and a "written acceptance and notice was delivered to the said Arthur Brewer on the 26th day of August, 1935. We declare the pastorage, pulpit or leadership vacant at Des Moines, on September 1, 1935," the document further reads.

Elder W. J. Lewis, general chairman; Elder C. O. Brown, state overseer; Mary Brown, general secretary; M. J. Cranshaw, general treasurer; Alice T. Turner, assistant general secretary, and Elder D. H. Cranshaw, general overseer, were the officers who signed the acceptance.

Another pastor was appointed, but the deposed minister refused to let him in the pulpit, and against the expressed wishes of the organization, used force to restrain the new man, the members say.

TVA Project Offers Little Benefit, Reports J.P. Davis

N. A. A. C. P. INVESTIGATOR DECLARES WORKERS SUFFER IN JOBS, WAGES AND HOUSING

Whole Plan Offers Negro Citizens No Future

New York, Sept. 13.—The Tennessee Valley Authority, popularly known as the TVA, and regarded as the most significant and far-reaching project of the New Deal, has meant little to Negro Americans thus far according to a report filed with the N. A. A. C. P. by John P. Davis this week. Mr. Davis, sent into the TVA area by the N. A. A. C. P., reports that not only are the Negroes now at work on the TVA subjected to discrimination and segregation as to type of jobs, wages, housing and citizenship training courses, but that the future of TVA, as an experiment into better living holds little of promise for Negro citizens.

All the machinery of employment is set up so that Negroes do not have even an opportunity to apply for skilled work, Mr. Davis found. The requests for skilled labor come from construction bosses and are handed to white personnel directors. These officials weed out the requests and turn over to their colored assistant personnel directors only the requisitions for ordinary labor. Negroes have no method of stating grievances and those few who might be inclined to do so keep silent for fear of losing their jobs. Mr. Davis cites the cases of two colored men who drove TWA trucks from April, 1934, until January, 1935. For all that period they were paid the common labor rate of 45 cents an hour, although white truck drivers were getting 75 cents an hour. They did not dare to complain, because they felt they would be discharged.

Mr. Davis found that Negro workers were given the most dangerous and most disagreeable work, such as working in water and mud. A large percentage of the workers in the fertilizer plants are Negroes at the rate of 37 1/2 cents an hour. The N. A. A. C. P. report states that there is considerable difference in the type of training given Negro and white families in the area with a view to improving their social status and economic usefulness. Some types of classes are not set up for Negroes at all, and others offer only a fraction of the training given whites.

MOB THREAT RESULTS IN REMOVAL

Farm Hand Says He Killed White Woman; Saved NOW IN TRENTON

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J.—Remain Johnson, 50, of Bridgeton, N. J., survived in his cell here Wednesday night when a mob of five hundred fiery white men gathered around the small jail and cried for the spilling of his blood.

According to County Detective Albert F. Murray and State Police Detective Lewis A. Broneman, Johnson, who had been arrested Wednesday on suspicion in connection with the brutal murder of Mrs. Minnie Horowitz, (white) upon questioning immediately admitted that he was the slayer.

The woman was found dead by her husband Frank Horowitz, Tuesday evening upon his return from Atlantic City, in the bedroom of their home with her head nearly severed from her body. On a table in the kitchen was an open book which led to believe that she was reading it when Johnson came in. Cooking utensils, chairs and glasses were scattered on the floor. It showed that the tragedy started at this point and ended in the bedroom, where the fatal blow was made.

On the floor lay the woman's pocketbook rifled. A stream of blood led to the room, and in the kitchen was a bloody police said was used in the slaying.

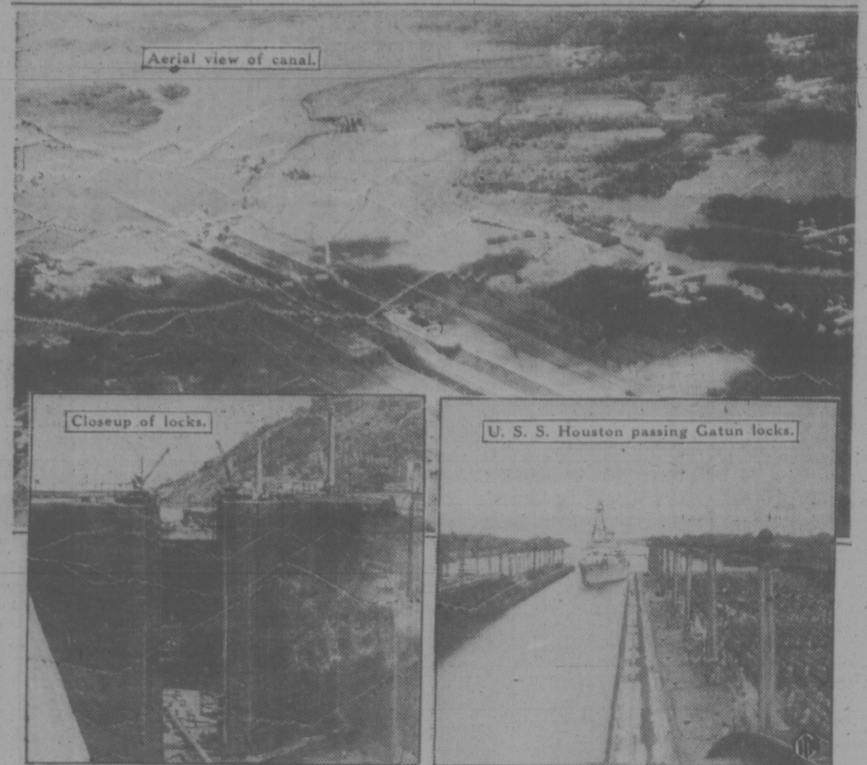

Mrs. Horowitz and her husband operated a farm in Bridgeton and employed quite a number of Negro hands. All of the help was called in question and on checking the list, Johnson, was absent. This threw the suspicion on him and police started hunting. He was picked up Wednesday by State Police in a hideout about three miles from the farm and brought back to the scene. In his possession was found $3.10.

Max Horowitz, brother-in-law of the dead woman, told police that on Monday Johnson had no money, and that he believed that the man killed Mrs. Horowitz in a robbery act.

When the news spread that Johnson had confessed to the mob gathered, but police stayed on guard at the jail until Thursday morning, when under Sheriff John H. Cline his removal to Trenton was ordered for safe keeping.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J.—Remain Johnson, 50, of Bridgeton, N. J., survived in his cell here Wednesday night when a mob of five hundred fiery white men gathered around the small jail and cried for the spilling of his blood.

United States Possessions Offer Critical Problems

A counterpart to England's troubles with her Suez canal and her colonial possessions is the United States' own difficulties with her canal, the Panama canal, and her territorial dependencies. The Canal Zone, administered by a military government under the war department, is beset by unrest and faction. The problem is vital to the mother country for the Canal Zone is a vital link in Uncle Sam's national defense. Other troubles have confronted the United States for some time. The problem of Philippine independence has, for years, been a perplexing one. Independence has been granted, but observers declare the question still is unanswered. Puerto Rico has a steadily increasing population, promulgating serious social and economic problems. The Hawaiian islands, America's bulwark against aggression from the East, present a problem of defense.

Insect Poison Proves Fatal To Three

CHARLESTON, S. C.—At the press three persons have died from drinking poison, which they mistook for alcohol. The poison liquid being a carbol tetra-chloride mixture used for cockroach poisoning, had been placed on the city dump with other waste matter. This poison was found by Robert Legare of 7 Addison St., and shared with his friends.

The dead are Ella Beltzger 52 years old, 1 A street; Evelyn J. Clinton, 55 years old of 4 A. St. and John Vance of 14 Duncan St.

The two women died soon after the drinking of the liquid Saturday. John Vance died Monday. Others did not drink their amount were Carrie Murry and Babelle Green both of the same address, 26 C St., and Mary Mack, 136 America St.

The contents were found in a 5 gallon can and was divided among them. It was delivered to the waste heap with other trash that was refused from the steamroller. On account of it being a tin can which the operator said can not burn. The truck of the National Bread Co. placed it on the dump to be destroyed by the dump hands.

Radio Talk Given by Sergeant Barab

UNIFORMITY A CRYING NEED
When I drive across the bridge from Pennsylvania into New Jersey, do I have to stop and change all my dollars and cents into some other kind of money? Do I have to start speaking a different language—worse yet, do I have to start driving on the left side of the road instead of the right? All these things I should have to do if I drove across the border from Italy into Austria, for example—but not among the states of the Union. Here we are so accustomed to one language, one currency one system of weights and measures that anything else would seem absurd and ridiculous.

Then why don't we recognize that it is just as absurd, just as big a nuisance, when we cross an invisible state line on the same identical highway, to have the legal speed limit changed from 50 miles per hour to 40, or 50, or no limit at all? I drive across the country in one car, using one kind of gasoline, on highway built to one federal specification but I have to consult a list to find out not only the speed limits of the several states, but whether I am supposed to do anything in the way of hand signals, and if so, what.

Do any of you question that there is serious lack of uniformity in our traffic regulations, despite recent progress? The answer is in your own practice. I dare say there is not a police department that does not show some leniency to drivers from other states. You don't do this as a matter of hospitality or courtesy. Your restaurants don't charge the visitor any for "ham and eggs" and your local post office makes him put just as many stamps on his letters. The reason you go easy on him for disobeying your traffic rules is simply because you know that no human being could possibly be expected to remember the special regulations in every town including your own.

Suppose our manufacturers followed the safe practice, as many of our cities and states. Suppose a man who had been driving a Chevrolet went into a Plymouth sales room, or vice versa, and the salesman said to him, "We have a very fine car here, better than

Harlem Shoe Shop Employee Faces Damage Suit

BIRMINGHAM, Ala.—Bob Robinson (white) employee of the Harlem Shoe Shop, a white concern operated on the avenue for our people participated in a fracas some few Sundays ago which ended in Robinson beating up Joe Roy Williams, a bootblack next door.

According to witnesses and employees where Williams works, he was accosted by Mr. Robinson who works in the place next door and asked him how to clean a spot from a white shoe. After Williams explained this the spot couldn't be gotten out the way Robinson claimed it should be done. It is alleged that Robinson kicked him out of the Harlem Shoe Shop and hit him over the head with his pistol.

Williams suffered lacerations and bruises of the head and has filed a suit against Robinson for dam-

The True Church

By ELDER J. B. CURTIS

I wrote last week of the shepherd the keeper of the true flock of God, a Shepherd symbolize a pastor, not a preacher particularly but a man that has been lifted up by the Holy Spirit to the deep interest in giving the lambs the best food spiritually. Ezek. 34.3 says, of the false Shepherds, thus say the Lord, Yea, eat the fat, and wear clothes you with wool; yea kill them that are fed, but you feed not the flock. How these words spoken by Ezekiel many years ago has developed at this present day right before your eyes. Look around your city and your general surroundings, see the arrogant attitude displayed by every false shepherd that disobey God's commandments. Look as they pass you on the street in their expensive cars, their silk fine clothes, and a big black cigar stick in their mouth.

Some reader may say that this writer is prejudiced against these preachers because he was unfortunate in landing himself a job like this. No, no brother, or who may use such criticism, I do not envy anything that the man of God gets because he gets it through God's will, because he said if you keep his commandments, he will cause you to ride, not walk on the high places of earth and feed you with the heritage of Jacob, thy Father of the mouth of the Lord has spoken it. So much for that.

I said that these false shepherds have come to you and among you, and are preaching to you every thing that will act as a magnet to draw the dollars. Do you see them among the slums, preaching and teaching, visiting the fatherless and the widows in their affliction? Also calling attention to the children which are infesting this city to a degree of menace to good morals. That should be their religious and physical make up, see Peter 5:1. Admonishes the shepherds to feed the flock, not by constraint, but with a ready mind. Are we doing that? No! If there is no money involved the flock will be in the midst of a fatal spiritual famine.

STORM VICTIMS ARE CREMATED

MIAMI, Fla., Sept. 7.—The initial ceremony of cremation for World War veterans, killed in the disastrous hurricane which swept the keys of South Florida a week ago, was held today after a one-day delay as the result of President Franklin D. Roosevelt's order for the bodies not to be burned. Florida state health department officials, however, had no alternative with bodies found already having reached 327.

Above—The first funeral pyre at Snake Creek, where one of the victims' camps stood. Forty-six bodies were set afire after gasoline was poured on the coffins and a military funeral ceremony performed, as the nation's chief executive requested. Below—the crematorium where the bodies of the victims, which were becoming dangerous to health because of the heat, were cremated. The cremation of all bodies found in the stricken area was ordered last night by Governor Dave I. Lewis of Florida.

Interesting Books Old and New

GENERAL

"LIFE BEGINS AT FORTY"—Walter Pitkin, McGraw-Hill.

"Success, so far as it is not mere luck depends on two things for you; your free energy and the skill with which you apply it to the task at hand." So says Mr. Pitkin in his marvellous little book, "Life Begins at Forty." It is surprising to learn the number of people who have the idea that there is no more of life after the thirty-ninth birthday. This belief is exemplified in the mad rush of men and women (in their late thirties) to have a final "fling" before they are assigned to the home for the helplessly aged.

It is for those people that Mr. Pitkin has written his book. Perhaps it is also for younger people who dread to grow old. In a very

ETHIOPIA COMPARED WITH TWO BIBLICAL POLITICAL CRISIS

What chance has Ethiopia with Italy in the present political crisis? Do powerful nations always conquer the weaker nations? From all indications, one would ever that the omens of the gods are in favor of the Italians, the poor, weak, unarmed, so to speak, compared with Il Duce's force, are doomed for slavery.

When we take a retrospective view looking down through the telescope of time, two biblical situations appear before us. When Herekiah, king of Judah, kingdom was to be invaded by Sennacherib, king of Assyria, the prophet Isaiah assured the king that his kingdom would be saved. The prophet said, "Thus saith the Lord concerning the king of Assyria, He shall not come into this city, nor shoot an arrow there, nor come before it with shield, nor cast a bank against it."

Lo and behold! as Sennacherib's army waited near the city before his men could make an attack, the angel of the Lord in the fullness of the night went out and smote the Assyrians' camp a "hundred four-score and five thousand" leaving many dead. So Sennacherib left anon and dwelt in Nineveh. The Duce may return to Rome.

There is another instance in the old testament where a fearful leader of God was able to defeat an opposing army that greatly outnumbered his forces. Gideon took three hundred "real men" and put to flight probably 100,000 Midianites. Gideon had probably thirty thousand men when he collected his army, but God had him to carry them through a test, only three hundred could pass it. So with trumpets, pitchers, and lamps, Gideon was able to confuse the opposing group, winning the victory without the loss of a man.

Who but knows that God will through similar methods preserve the freedom of Haile Selassie's kingdom? Premier Benito Mussolini of Italy has plenty of modern war equipment, but the geography of ancient Ethiopia is against the would-be Caesar. We shall watch with interest the outcome of the little brown man who said, "It is better to be a lion one day than to be a lamb a thousand years. Let me my last drop of blood."

Emperor Haile Selassie, speaking to a representative of a foreign country who protested his recent concessions to an American business group, said, "Peace be unto you." These are strong words. History may repeat itself in this case. Watch Haile Selassie, the conquering Lion of Judah, Elect of God, Light of the World, King of Kings, descendant of King Solomon and Queen Sheba—the man of the hour!

Mrs. P. A. McLamore is recuperating from the severe cold she had during the past week or so. Mrs. Aaron Howard and family drove to Fairfield last Wednesday night and visited with relatives. The A. M. E. church and Sunday school held a tag day Saturday all day, with about four-teen selling tags. Total collected was forty-five dollars and will go for the pastor's conference claims. Mrs. Gertie Hollen passed away Saturday morning. Services were held Sunday morning at the L. A. Jones Funeral Home. Rev. W. E. Ogelton and Rev. P. H. Jackson of Muscatine officiated. Sunday was the last service to be held by the pastor, Rev. W. F. Ogelton, for this conference year, as he left for annual conference some time this week. Mrs. Patterson of Iowa City was a visitor of services and at Mrs. H. R. Crayton's home. Mrs. H. R. Crayton left Tuesday morning for the annual conference in Des Moines. ZOOK SPUR NEWS

By Mrs. James Smith
We, the Mt. Hebron Baptist church of Zook Spur, are sorry to say we were awfully disappointed on Sunday, September 8th, as we were expecting our devoted pastor, Rev. J. W. Johnson, of Des Moines, to preach his farewell sermon to us on that day. He presented his resignation some time ago and it was accepted by the church, although the church regrets to see him and his family leave. Mrs. Carl Lee and daughters spent several days at the state-fair this year. The Mt. Hebron Baptist church Women's Home and Foreign Mission Circle elected officers two weeks ago. The president, Mrs. Hessie Southall, was re-elected. James Brooks, Jr., was visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Brooks, for a week from the COC camp of Cadet, Mo. He has been in camp over a year. James Robinson is on the sick list. Mr. and Mrs. Will Jefferson of Des Moines spent the weekend with relatives here. Mr. and Mrs. S. Southall and little Samuel Lee have been on the sick list, but are improving rapidly. Mr. and Mrs. Joe Wellington of Des Moines spent Sunday with their friends here, Mr. and Mrs. John Burton.

Around Council Bluffs With Manson James

Rev. Geo. W. Slater, Jr., and wife, Mrs. Missouri D. Slater, the Misses Olive Goodloe and Geraldine Herndon and Mrs. Alice Davis are attending the A. M. E. conference now being held in Des Moines, representing Bethel A. M. E. church of this city. Local Negroes will celebrate Constitution Day on September 17th, with a program featuring an address by the Hon. Proctor A. Perkins, under the auspices of the Council Bluffs branch of the N. A. A. C. P. We find that the return of liquor, among other things, has been a great stimulant to Jim Crow and has made him a most persistent, though disparaging personality. Local students are eager to find ways to finance themselves through the oncoming college season. Langston Parks, prominent Council Bluffs youth and star Parsons college athlete, has returned to Fairfield for the 35-36 scholastic season. Geo. Lewis, local restaurateur, has enlarged his business and added beer to the delightful menu of the "Little Savoy." Picture pathetic. Local youths crying for a barber (there being no Negro barber shop in Council Bluffs). The adult education class, under the competent tutelage of Rev. Geo. W. Slater, Jr., are learning shorthand very rapidly. The class consists of fifteen members. M. L. James, president; Miss Madina Shelton, secretary. At the September 8th services, marking the close of the A. M. E. conference year, held at Bethel church, every Negro minister of this city spoke to a capacity audience, landing the past four years' services rendered by Rev. and Mrs. Slater and voicing the desire that the bishop will return this very efficient and valuable pair of hard working Christians to this community.

RETURNS TO POMPTON LAKES WHEN REFUSED NEW SPOT

POMPTON LAKES, N. J., Sept. 6.—Joe Louis, Detroit famous Brown Bomber, started work here Monday as his backers discussed the first act of discrimination which occurred at Saratoga Springs, N. Y., last week when Joe was alleged to have been refused accommodations at Tom Luther's Sulphur Springs Hotel because of his color.

Luther while denying any form of discrimination had kept Louis away admitted that he had told "someone" representing Joe Louis that there was no available accommodations at the resort for the Louis party. "Merely a chain of circumstances caused me to turn down the Detroit prize fighter," Luther said.
With the site of his camp selected Joe started work in earnest Tuesday engaging in roadwork and a little shadow boxing. He came here from New York where the physicians examined him and pronounced him in perfect shape for the coming bout.

Doctor? Lawyer? Merchant?
You can't tell what a baby will do in life just by looking at it.

Few people who looked at the first feeble little telephone in 1876 could foresee that it would grow into a nationwide communication system that would be used millions of times every day. Those who did, formed an organization to "bring up" the baby telephone. That organization is the Bell System.

In this System, the American Telephone and Telegraph Company and 24 Associated Companies, such as the Northwestern Bell Telephone Company, are the operating units. Each of the Associated Companies serves a part of the United States.

The American Company, parent company of the System, coordinates their activities and operates the long distance lines that join the facilities of these companies to form a nationwide network. The Bell Telephone Laboratories develop high-grade standardized equipment and the Western Electric Company manufactures it.

For more than 50 years, these various parts of the Bell System have been working together to make telephone service better and better. Today service is more dependable and extensive than ever before.

Miracle Whip is different—delicious! The time-honored ingredients of mayonnaise and old-fashioned boiled dressing are combined in a new, skillful way. Given the long, thorough beating that French chefs recommend for ideal flavor and smoothness—in the Miracle Whip better than its exclusive size with Kraft.

BEHIND the SCENES in HOLLYWOOD

By HARRISON CARROLL

HOLLYWOOD—The story didn't come from Mae West and she probably wouldn't wait it printed. Recently Hollywood's "queen of curves" was having her hair done in a filmland beauty parlor. She noticed one of the operators had red rimmed eyes, telltale of recent weeping. Mae inquired and found out the girl's mother was dying in Chicago and the kid didn't have the fare to go home and see her for the last time. The star didn't say anything but when she was ready to go, she pulled out her check book and wrote out the required amount. "I'd give you the girl's name, but Mae said please don't."

One reason why M. G. M. rushed to finish "Mutiny on the Bounty" Dudley Digges who had been defying his appendix and the doctors to complete the role of the beleaguered surgeon, Bacchus. The medicine had been warning Digges that he should undergo an immediate operation. He refused until after his final scene. A doctor's scene, too, scared enough. Hollywood has forgotten the tragedy of Bob Williams. He suffered an appendix attack in the midst of a picture, too, and refused to hold up the company. It cost him his life.

Stay-up-laters, have been doing to find out the contents of the little box that Director Fritz Lang carries to all the night spots. Have a laugh for, of all things, its fresh mint. The German megaphone is crazy for juleps and wants them made just right. He introduced the drink to many bars in Europe.

You Asked Me and I'm Telling You! Mrs. Peter Denton, San Francisco; Charles Ray's, comeback try isn't exactly flourishing, but the interest of fans like you is responsible for his getting a number of jobs. Century Pictures have signed him for "Just My Luck." Incidentally, Charles' sister, Eleanor, also is in the movies now. She is a dancer in the chorus of Paramount's "Collegiate."

Poor Arline Judge has had the worst of luck. First scarlet fever and now a sprained ankle. Just as she was getting started in Paramount's "The Bouncer." She got the injury practicing dance steps for the film. If doctors can assure her recovery in time to do the runways, they'll rearrange the schedule to hold the role open for her.

The movie styles are so popular that a Cincinnati society woman (she's very prominent) has come all the way to Los Angeles in an endeavor to persuade Adrian to design her a gown. He can't because of his M. G. M. contract, but she swears she won't give up until he does.

What youthful actress is getting an expensive car and a handsome pre-marriage settlement before she trips to the altar with a certain prominent business man.

HOLLYWOOD TICKET-TAPE—Ocellia Parker says the answer is no, she and Eric Linden are not engaged. Swell idea of Erwin Gelpy's to let Fred Astaire play the part of a fellow who hates to dance but can't make a living any other way. They're going to put me in a mural in a new Hollywood cocktail bar. Have! Foggy Hopkins Joyce, who wants to enjoy "a quiet time" on her coming trip to the coast, has engaged the most expensive suite at the Hollywood Roosevelt Hotel. The newest thing in Marlene Dietrich and Jack Gilbert discover they have in common is a love of Hollywood Bowl concerts. You are apt to find them there together most any time. For these who craned their necks and wondered, that was Ted Stewart with Mae West at the Cafe L'Amaz, the other evening. And wasn't that Hazel Forbes with Cary Grant at the Century club?

DID YOU KNOW?—That Fred Keating used to be a barber for the 101 Ranch Wild West show?

Success Began at 40 for Many Hollywood Stars

Alton Skipworth

Wallace Beery

W. C. Fields

Will Rogers

George Arliss

Life begins at 40, one is told, but little mention is made of the fact that success began at 40 for more than a score of celebrities who are ranking stars in Hollywood today. Not long ago only the attractive youngsters had a chance to become first-rank stars. Their elders were relegated to minor character parts or "bit" roles. Among those who attained their greatest fame and fortune after reaching 40 are W. C. Fields, May Robson, Will Rogers, Alton Skipworth, Wallace Beery, and George Arliss.

Vaughn Gives Stiring Talk At New Royal

ATLANTA, Ga.—By CLIFF MACKAY

Marked by a stirring address delivered by S. L. Vaughn, its builder, the New Royal theatre made its formal debut to the movie-going public last night.

Mr. Vaughn's address was preceded by introductory remarks by Mr. Harold T. Spears, general manager of the extensive Bailey chain of theatres; and musical numbers by Graham W. Jackson on his piano accompaniment.

"The Bailey Amusement company has more than a pecuniary interest in our group," Vaughn told the more than 1200 Atlantans who had thronged the spacious theatre to witness the opening exercises.

"True the company is out to make money. All are. But the organization responsible for the erection of this theatre has clearly demonstrated to my utmost satisfaction that they have a genuine desire to render a needed service to the community as a whole as well as individuals of that community," the speaker declared.

Citing his personal experience with the Bailey theatre chain, Mr. Vaughn related how since his creation of Bailey's New Ashby theatre last year, Mr. G. Tom Bailey, president of the company, had gone out of his way to give him additional construction work to do, some of which could never have been secured by a Negro contractor otherwise.

He revealed that a 14-year-old Negro youth, the son of Mr. S. C. Banks, had designed the free show-montage that ornaments the New Royal interior; that the Bailey theatre company had gone to an additional $1000 expense to secure an Auburn avenue entrance to the theatre; and how practically all of the construction of the theatre were Negroes.

Enlightening many patrons of Bailey theatres was the hitherto undisclosed fact that out of all of the personnel engaged in operation of the theatres, only three were members of the opposite racial group. This small number included both Mr. Bailey and Mr. Spears, both of whom are executives.

More than thirty in Atlanta alone are on the Bailey theatre payroll, Vaughn said.

In brief, preliminary remarks, Mr. Spears thanked Royal patrons for their attendance, declaring that it was their loyal patronage that had made the erection of the beautiful new theatre possible.

He stated that only the best of Hollywood talking picture product would be shown on the Royal's new all-steel fourth dimension screen.

Guines Robinson, was introduced as the manager of the New Royal theatre. Robinson, it was disclosed, grew up in the ranks of the Bailey chain, starting out, several years ago as a mere usher at the historic Bailey's 51 theatre.

Attorney Booth Nears End Of 50 Years Practice

MEMPHIS, Tenn.—Benjamin Franklin Booth, grand old man of the bar, is ending his fiftieth year as a successful Memphis attorney.

Although success, crowns the law career of this brilliant legal adviser, and prominent court figure, poverty was his when a mere lad.

Seated in a big office chair and surrounded by his $10,000 library, Lawyer B. F. Booth last Tuesday afternoon, digressed briefly with a WORLD representative the important things that have occurred in his life since birth, October 17, 1858.

He was the son of George and Lucy Booth, born in Paines county, Miss., near the Mobile and Ohio railroad between Guntown and Baldwin.

When the war broke out, he was taken with his mother and father by their owner to Alabama. They were dodging the Yankees.

The Booths and their master remained in Alabama two years. Following the termination of the war, they returned to Guntown. Benjamin Franklin Booth was two years old then.

After the war, the Booths moved to Tippah county where they engaged in farm work until Mr. George Booth died. He passed in September in the year 1869.

Following his father's death, young Benjamin Booth entered a school at Ripley, Miss., five miles from his home. He had no money for books but his industrious mother sold two bales of hay, using the money to buy books for her son. It was necessary for him to walk to and from school after reaching home around 8 o'clock at night.

Even though he had very few books, his clothes ragged, and little food, this ambitious youngster always excelled in his studies. He often read his lessons by peering over the shoulders of other students reading from their books.

Mr. Booth said older children used to strip branches from trees and whip his nakedness. His mother was not able to purchase proper clothing for him and often he went to school attired in ragged britches.

Many times he went to school with nothing but a hunk of corn oreo in his lunch. And many times he did not have that.

Examined on Steps

In 1877, he went to Rogers, Tenn., and was hired out at $10 per month as a farm hand. His landlord made it possible for him to take the school examination. Mr. Booth said he took the examination, sitting on his landlord's front porch.

He received his teaching certificate, taught two months and then returned to Mississippi where he returned to school the next year, studying for four years at State Normal College in Holly Springs, Miss. Mr. Booth worked his way through college.

Following his study at State Normal, he went to Bolivar, Tenn., he passed the school examination and taught for one year.

Married Lucinda Guy

Later he married Miss Lucinda Guy. He went to Corinth, Miss., and worked in the office of Col. W. N. Inge, where he studied from the colonel's law books. He spent one year at Corinth and returned to Rogers.

On September 4, 1885, Benjamin Booth was licensed to practice law. Shortly before this point in life, he was shot in the right side, and was put to bed for several months. He was accidentally shot while on a hunting trip. Seven of the shots are still in his body.

Once A Principal

In January of 1886, Mr. Booth was elected principal of the high school at Bolivar, Tenn. He remained at this post three years and during court sessions engaged in the practice of law.

January 25, 1889, while principal of the Bolivar school, Mr. Booth received a telegram from Col. L. E. Eaton, Memphis Republican, asking him to come to Memphis and represent him in a political matter. It seems as

LITTLE ARMFUL

Ace Musical Stars Of Race Are Present

By CARL DITON (FOR ANP)

NEW YORK—The National Association of Negro Musicians closed its sixteenth annual conference with a symphonic program of creditable dimensions, leaving no doubt in the minds of the delegates of the week's huge success.

Large crowds patronized the events ranging from one to two thousand.

The opening Sunday mass meeting consisted of the usual expressions of welcome by prominent local representatives greatly supported by a spirited address from William Piekens, Field Secretary of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People and a chorus of one hundred voices or more conducted by Hall Johnson of the Hall Johnson choir fame.

On Monday morning the convention formally opened after which a splendidly organized luncheon was served.

In the evening the New York City Federation of the National body, Effie Ditton, Federation President, gave a brilliant concert in the St. Mark's M. E. church consisting of three choral groups, vocal solos and piano and violin concerto movements. The important educational features were the organ of St. Mark's, considered by many organizers the finest among Negro churches, the introduction of an instrument new to musical convention programs, the Viola, Negro spirituals sung in native African and an operatic scene from "Cavalleria Rusticana."

The professional conferences were opened on Tuesday morning at which Elizabeth Harris, member of the faculty of the Institute of Musical Art at the Juilliard School of Music, and Raymond Burrows, head of the Piano Department in Teachers' college, Columbia university, spoke, the subject of the latter being "The Importance of Academic Background in Music."

In the afternoon the young people from all over the country astonished the audience with their lavish musical gifts, particularly Thelma Ingram of Brooklyn, and Calvin Jackson of Philadelphia, at one time recipient of a scholarship from the National body, both pianists.

In the evening, representatives of the Branch Associations of the National organization gave a fine concert at which chamber music was introduced for the first time at the convention—a movement from Dvorak's String Quartet, Op. 96, played by the New York String Quartet. This concert displayed in strong belief the progress Negro musicians throughout the country are making.

Wednesday morning provided additional conferences in choral organization, and the afternoon's session was a concert similar to the previous afternoon in which compositions by Gilbert Allen, Percival Patton, Hugo Homer and Florence Price were performed and an excellent program of which were the Lenox String Trio in a movement of Cade's F Major Trio; Le Vada Easter St. Louis Mo. pianist and John Robyns Waco, Texas, pianist, pupil of Helen Meade.

In the evening the Mary Dawson choir of Pittsburgh, Laura Bowman Actress a 12-year old piano prodigy and array of talent appeared, most prominent of which were the Lenox String Trio in a movement of Cade's F Major Trio; Le Vada Easter St. Louis Mo. pianist and John Robyns Waco, Texas, pianist, pupil of Helen Meade.

Thursday was devoted to business and National election and the latest convention thus far launched came to a magnificent climax in the staging of the Association's first though Col. Eaton and Col. James Pleading, Democrat, both white, were warring over a Congressional seat.

Lawyer Booth came to Memphis, January 25, 1889, and took charge of the case. Between the months of January and May, he obtained 22,000 depositions in Memphis and the counties of Fayette and Hardeman. This very case brought about the end of ballot box stuffing at that time.

Following this successful undertaking, Lawyer Booth opened law offices in Memphis.

First Wife Died

Attorney Booth's first wife died. There were three children, all dead now. Later he married Miss Edith Martin. One child was born to them. She is Miss Bennie Booth, a local city school teacher.

During his extensive practice, Attorney Booth has been as far as the U. S. Supreme court. He has tried some of the most difficult cases which the state U. S. Supreme Court reports will show.

Radio News

By CHARLES ISAAC BOWEN (FOR ANP)

CHICAGO—Gifted with a superb voice and a finished and fluent style of singing which has aroused the admiration of many older artists, Clyde Barrie, the quiet and unassuming young Sepia baritone presented over the CBS network on Tuesday and Wednesday mornings, is being called one of the greatest singing discoveries in recent years. Little is known of the difficulties he has conquered in acquiring a musical education and developing his voice art to such a remarkable degree.

Born in Brooklyn, New York, he has studied in the past seven years with Mary Ludwig, New York vocal teacher. He had developed an extensive repertoire of songs, ranging from the older classics through the various forms of lieder to modern American and European songs. He is also an authority on spirituals.

Here is a brief resume of his activities—for this studious young artist embarked on a musical career against the advice of most of his friends and family and with few financial resources. While pursuing his vocal studies at odd hours Barrie worked as elevator boy and bell-hop in various New York hotels; he popped up in Buffalo as a red cap in the Union station; he turned messenger and file-clerk for a life insurance company; ran errands for a drug store for five dollars a week; and finally secured a more substantial position on New York City's Board of Education for the Relief Work. And then after symphony concert, Florence Price, Chicago, Illinois, composer—pianist, played her concerto in D Minor; Edward Matthews, baritone of the "Four Saints" opera and soon to be featured in George Gershwin's "Porgy" sung; Bernard Mason, Des Moines, Ia., violinist, performed the first movement of the Tchaikovsky D. Major Concerto.

All of the soloists were accompanied by the Bronx Symphony Orchestra, Harry W. Mower, conductor, which gave splendid interpretations of Dvorak's Symphony in the "New World" and Coleridge-Taylor's "Bamboula." The concert was held in the Juilliard Concert Hall.

The new officers are Camille McGee, Howard university, Washington, D. C., president; Kemper Harold, Atlanta, Georgia, vice president; J. Wesley Jones, Chicago, Ill., executive secretary; Clara K. Hill, Indianapolis, Ind., recording secretary; George Hutchinson, Chicago, Ill., treasurer; Effie Ditton, New York City; Lillian Jones Brown, Indianapolis, Ind.; Elizabeth Coleman, Gageston, Texas; Orrin Southern, Tennessee Institute, Ala.; Mary Dawson, Pittsburgh, Pa., are the directors.

The 1936 meeting is to be held in Detroit, Michigan.

years of grueling routine, Barrie's luck turned. For he won an award on a radio amateur hour, attracted the attention of several music lovers, white, and soon found himself on the threshold of a professional career.

Cleveland theatrical bookers are losing sleep over Art Tatum, blind pianist and rage of the town, who doesn't care to sign a contract with anybody at any price. Tatum is frequently heard over NBC airplanes with his ultra modern piano.

Art has been urged by socialites and professional musicians for the last five years, but can't be dragged away from the local Harlem honky-tonks. Personalities like Vincent Lopez, Paul Whitman, Ted Lewis, George Olson, who raved about his modernistic jazz rhapsodies once persuaded him to go to New York.

After a fling at the Onyx Club, he got homesick and turned down every Broadway offer including records.

His only answer is "I don't like big crowds and punching a time clock."

Cab Calloway and orchestra will open the New Paradise Showboat at Troy, New York, on September 20th, staying the one night only. He will be following in by Ted Black and his band who will remain for four months starting September 21st. The show will air nightly over WGY, in Schenectady, New York.

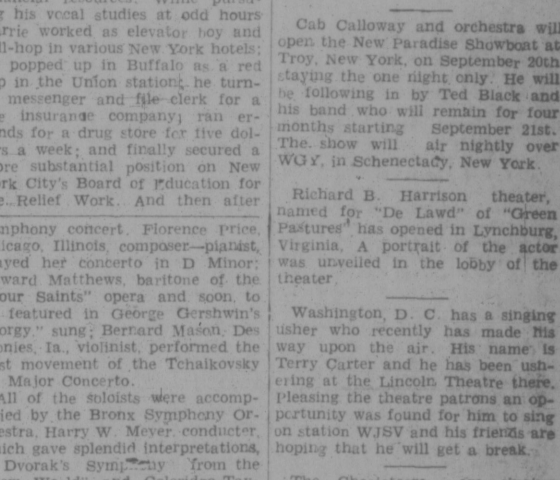

Richard B. Harrison theater, named for "De Lawd" of "Green Pastures" has opened in Lynchburg, Virginia. A portrait of the actor was unveiled in the lobby of the theater.

Washington, D. C. has a singing sister, who recently has made his way upon the air. His name is Terry Carter and he has been singing at the Lincoln Theatre there. Pleasing the theatre patrons an opportunity was found for him to sing on station WJSP and his friends are hoping that he will set a break.

The Charlottees are singing right lustily and effectively over NBC these days.

Out in California, Clarence Muse is still carrying on a half hour program called "The Evelyn Preter Hour." Originally it was designed as something of a memorial to Evelyn Preter, the talented and ubiquitous Mr. Muse an opportunity for maintaining close contact with the public and selling ideas which the genial Clarence is as full as a Pomernian in of ideas. The talent donates its services, a Filipino band plays and in all its an enjoyable half hour. Recently I think it has become a commercial.

Rulers of Italy at War Games

The war maneuvers in Northern Italy brought King Emmanuel and Premier Mussolini together for one of their rare duo public appearances. While Victor Emmanuel is still the king, the world recognizes Mussolini as the real ruler of Italy.

ALONG AMUSEMENT ALLEY

Mills Musings. Irving Mills noted impresario, returned to New York Friday, August 30th, loaded down with glad tidings for his various and sundry photoes. Cab Calloway and his Cotton Club Orchestra have definitely been signed for an extended tour on the West Coast with Fanchon and Marco, starting October 18th. Duke Ellington makes his annual appearance at the three leading Colored theatres in the East, namely the Apollo, New York, Fox's, Philadelphia and the Howard theatre, Washington, beginning October 4th. Honors go to Cora La Redd, of the Cotton Club revue, for creating the New Dance Craze, "Truckin'." While laying off on a Sunday in Detroit, Cab Calloway hit the revivalist trail with a "Go Down Moses" and a "H De Ho" under the alter of the Detroit Baptist Tabernacle.

Negotiations are being made how to put this swell swing band on a commercial for Radio, Lucky

Milliners recording of "Harlem Heat" with the Mills Blue Rhythm Band has been voted one of the hottest records this season. Lucky can be seen at the Stanley Theatre, Ufaa, and the Haven theatre, Olean, this week after which engagement he goes out on an extended tour of one nights. "I'll plant you now and dig you later, Gate is Harlequin for "Take it Easy, I'll see you later." Ted Black and his orchestra, purveyors of sweet music, go into the Paradise Showboat Troy, New York, the 21st of September for a four months engagement. They will be featured nightly over station WGY, incidentally the Management of the Showboat has engaged Cab Calloway to reopen their Famous Night Club on September 20th. Luise Rainer, the new screen sensation, names Duke Ellington as her favorite orchestra. While playing in Chicago, Cab Calloway called on Rubinoff's fiddle and chirped, "Boy if I had a fiddle like that I'll put it in a cor and say 'play'."

U. S. A. POOR EXAMPLE

Sometime ago, the N. A. A. C. P. secured the services of John P. Davis, a young economist, to make a survey of conditions as they touched the Negro in the Tennessee Valley Authority. Mr. Davis headed a committee which undertook to look after the interest of the Negro during the formation of the NRA and other New Deal projects and as such made a fine record.

In his report he states that the government had discriminated against Negroes in its housing accommodations, giving them the menial work at poor wages and kept them from the better type jobs; that these men did not dare protest for fear of losing their jobs. All these injustices are in line with the treatment Negroes receive in the territory adjacent to this project.

The Bystander is not surprised. And yet if projects run by the federal government allow conditions like this to exist it is easy to see how non-government projects will be worse. It further illustrates how little influence for good Uncle Sam can be when those in direct charge decide otherwise. Mr. Davis' report is valuable and tends to prove that the federal government is not carrying out its policy of fairness to all as announced from Washington.

HUEY LONG

Whatever mistakes the late Senator Long may have made it must be admitted that from nothing he made himself a national figure much to be admired and feared not only by the people in his home state but in Washington as well.

The Bystander agreed with much that he did but not his means of accomplishing it. The day of governing people by force is gone and no man who attempts it can long endure. On the other hand the Bystander is equally opposed to the method his enemies used to rid the state of his domination. It is not the modern civilized way even though in some of our states the practice goes on. Maybe his death will serve to focus attention upon those who would take the law in their own hands rather than let orderly procedure prevail.

OLD AGE PENSION

Now that no old age pension funds are available from the U. S. treasury until next year, the Iowa department must go on paying a few people a pension while others must wait.

It was not a smart thing to do to pay a few and not others because in the attempt to determine the most needy, naturally many have slipped in that should not be included while others entirely within the rules have been left out. In the meantime these people must continue to pay the tax if they expect to qualify.

The best thing to do would be to pay a smaller pension now to all who qualify and when the fund warrants it raise the pension. There is too much discretion allowed those in charge.

Health Talks

By Dr. C. R. Bradford

CARING FOR A SICK CHILD

A child who has any rise in temperature should be kept in a well ventilated room and allowed to sleep as much as possible. The sick room should not be a gathering place for the family or neighbors, and above all, other children should not be allowed to visit the room even though the disease may not be communicable.

A physician should be promptly notified of the illness, and the mother should observe the child carefully for evidence of pain, coughing, crying, difficult breathing and report to the physician. Orders given by the physician should be carried out promptly and carefully. The taking of water is of greatest importance in illness. Water should be offered at frequent intervals, possibly every hour if the child is awake. Quiet should be observed at all times since sleep is usually more essential than drugs.

A cold compress or ice cap may be kept on the head during fever, occasionally transferring it to one or the other arm pit. If the hands or feet are cold, use hot water bottles that are wrapped in a towel and pinned. The comfort and happiness of a child do much to shorten recovery from illness, but strict discipline must be maintained as to nursing care and the carrying out of the doctor's orders.

WE ARE HOOKED?

Whether from a selfish view or not England feels bound to offer some protection to small nations. And every other nation which signed the Kellogg-Briand pact is in about the same position whether they desire or not.

While this agreement which bears the name of an American statesman does not say the signers must go to war in case a nation broke the treaty, it does provide penalties which a nation bent on war may construe to be hostile acts and of course start war.

The only difference between England and the U. S. is the latter is actuated by self-preservation, we are not.

POWERS DENY AID TO AFRICA

ADDIS ABABA, Ethiopia, Sept. 6 (Special)—Unless some unforeseen aid comes to Ethiopia in its dilemma, this last independent African nation will have to bear its burden alone. That opinion was voiced this week by palace spokesmen who looked anxiously about them for some sign, for some avenue whereby war with Italy can be avoided at this late stage.

Like a house of cards, Emperor Haile Selassie's big ace, the granting of huge oil concessions to Anglo-American interests has come tumbling down, bringing with it last hopes of averting actual conflict with the beligerent Italian dictator.

Communications from the United States have reached here and the information that officials of the Standard Vacuum Oil company have announced their intentions of withdrawing from ownership of the vast concession of oil privileges in this country, is being weighed by the emperor.

ALABAMA PASSES LAW TO MEET SCOTTSBORO DECISION

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (CNA)—The Welch bill, designed "to meet the situation" arising from the second decision of the United States Supreme Court in the Scottsboro case, today passed the senate.

The bill provides in words for the immediate refile of the State's jury boxes to meet the ruling in the Supreme Court's reversal of the lynch verdicts against Haywood Patterson and Clarence Norris.

FLORAL DISPLAY, DONATION OF CARS

STOP GAMBLING WITH THE MONEY THAT YOU MAKE ON OLD JOBS

If you will take the little change that you make each week and apply it to your rent or grocery bill you won't be in as desperate circumstances as you have been for the past three years. You should set a different example for your three children.

A. E. W.—I want to know if the ambition that I have in mind will ever materialize? Is it the best step for me to take?

Ans.—It is revealed to me that you will make a success of the new business that you have in mind to go into. You will always find that success will come to you if you work alone and do not go into partnership. December is an ideal month for you to establish yourself in business.

M. B. P.—We are on the relief and it seems that we can't get nowhere. What must we do?

Ans.—Stop gambling with the money that you make on old jobs. If you will take the little change that you make each week and apply it to your rent or grocery bill you won't be in as desperate circumstances as you have been for the past three years. You should set a different example for your three children.

L. K. W.—Would it be wise for me to go back home?

Ans.—You know exactly what you will have to put up with if you return to your husband. He will continue to torment you just as he has done for all the years you have been married. I get the impression that he is very jealous and his continual nagging and fussing is due to his being jealous.

C. V. J.—I have applied to two different places for work and I want to know if I will have success in getting either one of them?

Ans.—It seems to me that you will be offered both jobs—the chauffeur's job and the job with a manufacturing company. The desire to drive a limousine will get the best of you and you will not accept the job in the manufacturing company.

M. L. G.—Do you think it is the wise thing for me to let my niece stay with me?

Ans.—Your niece will be a great help to you with your little candy kitchen, provided you lay down the law the minute she enters your home. If you will let her know what her privileges will be at the beginning it will save you future embarrassment. She will well pay for her board.

M. C. E.—What is it in my home that is so stifling that makes me so sick and when I eat it seems like my throat burns like lye?

Ans.—If you are unable to make a change of residence, I would suggest that you invest a few dollars with some exterminator company whose business it is to get to the bottom of just such cases as this. Although your mother is exceedingly old and in some ways a little childish, I do not believe that she is trying to poison you or harm you in any way.

Sports

Why not keep in constant touch with the sports world and athletic affairs by reading "SPORTS" each week by Allen Ashby, sports editor of the Bystander. Mr. Ashby, East High graduate, former Grinnell football and track star, and state wrestling champion in 1922, is well known authority on the subject of "brown, blonde and speed."

After holding the Iowa mat title three years, Ashby retired undefeated.

JOE LOUIS VS. MAX BAER

It won't be long now. Every day we listen in amused tolerance to white people who hope Max Baer whips Joe Louis on Sept. 24. Almost all of them base their prediction for a Baer win on the fact that Louis can't take it. Why? Well, Negroes just don't stand much punishment. It doesn't matter how determined to win a man is or what fine physical condition he is in or anything else, the fact that he is black makes him easily discouraged and a quitter. Typical logic of prejudiced minds.

Then these wise ones say Baer can't be hurt. Never has been and just can't be hurt by any one including our own Brown Bomber. If one can get far enough in Greek mythology he will find the story of the only human that ever lived who could be hurt. According to the story some yokel got careless with a hatpin or something and rammed it into our heroes' heel. The young man who couldn't be hurt was planted after a lovely funeral. So what?

So if Baer really can't be hurt, he is the second man in the mythological or real history of the world to be like that and we warn him not to leave his heel exposed to one of our boys' shots or maybe he will get hurt. Maybe he will be hurt even if he leaves his heels home. Who knows?

FOOTBALL

The air is still full of flying footballs, as our high schools and colleges prepare to heave at each other. At East the boys will have a hard time molding a winning club, but whatever happens, there will be our gang on hand we hope: Herman Wadsworth Al Thomas, a nice half and young Sharpe, who starred on the second team last year. At North, there are Ozle Lewis, who wants to play in the backfield, Lester Jefferson, Chet Simms, a regular last year and a host of other boys who hope to see their names in headlines this year. It's a long hard road to headlines and one fumble at the wrong time or a mistimed play can make last Saturday's star this week's bum, so try to remember that boys as you scuffle for positions.

Our IDK club is rarin' to go and we are planning to risk our aged bones in one more season which will be our sixteenth if we get through it still in our own skin.
