Little Known Delhi Is Richest Street in World

What is the richest street in the world? Without taking into account the environs of the London Stock Exchange and Wall Street, New York, where unseemly fortunes change hands, the little-known Chandni Chowk in Delhi has substantial claims. It has often been referred to as the richest street in Asia, and, unlike our own commercial thoroughfares, the greater part of its wealth is there for all to see. But many are the treasures which are hidden away in secret recesses of the shops of curio dealers and jewelers in that picturesque street.

One of the dealers, the walls of whose establishment are covered with letters of appointment from highness and excellencies of all descriptions, has manufactured countless wonderful golden and jeweled embroideries for crowned heads and ruling princes. He was responsible for the historic peacock gown, costing no less than £1,000, which the late Lady Curzon wore at the Durbar hall, attended by 4,000 guests in the Delhi Fort in 1908. Here also are all the richest of the embroidery merchants, whose cloths and cloaks, scintillating with costly ornaments, are not only in demand for reigning princes, but for wate elephants. Here, too, are the carvers of ivory, and the traveler can see them exhibiting their skill in evolving delicate figures and animals from solid blocks of ivory, sawn from elephants' tusks.—Montreal Herald.

Reservoir Keeps Tab on Height, Phones Figures

One of the queerest telephone numbers is on Biddulph, a tiny exchange near Hanley, Staffordshire, says the Montreal Herald. Anyone phoning this number suddenly hears a weird and powerful voice repeating at short intervals: "Six-four . . . six-four . . . six-four . . ." or some other figures. It is the voice of a reservoir. Over a thousand feet above sea-level, on the top of Mow Cop, is the reservoir of Congleton Urban district council.

Every day a reading has to be obtained of the height of the water in the reservoir. To save the strenuous climb up the hill, the council officials installed a device which automatically speaks the height of the water to anyone telephoning. The secret of the apparatus is a gramophone record. The moment the phone bell rings a telephone receiver alights on the record. This receiver is connected to a float on the surface of the water. As the height of the water varies, so does the place where the receiver alights. The record then "talks" the exact figure into the telephone receiver. It repeats it eight times, and then rings off. The phone number of the reservoir—23—is listed in the directory. The "voice" is perfectly distinct on a trunk call from London.

STUDENT OPPOSES DENIAL OF CONSTITUTIONAL RIGHTS

Baltimore, Md.—(CNA Special)—"To admit a Negro—or not to admit a Negro."

This is the issue the court of appeals, Maryland's highest tribunal, was asked to decide last Tuesday, in the case of Donald G. Murray versus the University of Maryland, a state of the Baltimore city court, which held that the University of Maryland had no right to bar Negro students from its professional school. Murray, 22, and a graduate of Amherst college, was denied the right to attend the law department of the university.

The university authorities appealed the case on the ground that in the interest of "public policy" as in other southern states, the university has a right to discriminate against Negroes.

"CRUCIFIXION OF CHRIST" PROPHECY TO BE SHOWN ON SCREEN

Yes, I know Christ was crucified. I know that the Bible outlines His life very clearly. But, do you mean to tell me that there is also prophecy to that effect? There is one great line that foretells the exact year. Just recall history and compare that with prophecy and you will find that it is solved just like a mathematical problem.

The Bible Lyceum course, at 1150 Thirtieth street, conducted by Evangelist R. T. Hudson, will illustrate this subject on the screen Sunday. In connection with these series there are home nursing class and parents' society that are being conducted free of charge. Admission is free to all meetings.

BLACKBURN IS RE-LEASED BY CORONER

Chicago—Death of Enoch Houser was further enshrouded in mystery Friday when a coroner's jury in the county morgue said the aged Tuskegee Institute alumnus had come to his death at the hands of "persons unknown," and exonerated Jack Blackburn, Joe Louis' trainer, and three others. Six hours of inquest, the hearing being recessed twice by Deputy Coroner Benjamin A. Grant as attorneys for the various interested parties wrangled bitterly over each statement of the testimony.

Seven witnesses testified to circumstances of the gunplay in East Fifty-seventh street on October 20th, in which Houser met his death and four said that ten shots had been fired, but police officers were unable to find the four guns or the bullets. They admitted they are definitely stumped on the matter. Most of the testimony and arguing related to Lucy Cannon, 9, 857 East Fifty-seventh street, who was also struck by one of the stray bullets.

Painted Desert an Area of Plateaus and Mesas

The painted desert is an area of plateaus and low mesas in north central Arizona. It extends from the top of the Marble canyon of the Colorado river southward along the east side of the valley of the Little Colorado for about 100 miles, varying in width from 15 to 20 miles. At the south, it ends near the Santa Fe railway, which crosses it between Holbrook and Winslow. The desert lies at an altitude of about 5,000 feet and has an exceedingly arid climate. In consequence, vegetation is so scant that areas of rocks are bare or very nearly so. These rocks, mostly Triassic shales and sandstones, exhibit a great variety of colors, including red, pink, purple, chocolate, lavender, pale green and gray, whence the name "painted."

Situated on the margin of this desert, about 10 miles north of Winslow, are the seven villages of the Hopi Indians, the best known of which are Walpi and Oraibi. The pueblos are picturesquely built on cliffs which project from a high plateau of sandstone.

Gave New Zealand Name

Just about the time when Vikings may have been exploring Labrador, Nova Scotia and the coast of Maine, there lived in Ra'lates, an island of what is now the Friendly Group, a Polynesian navigator called Kupe. He was known for his intrepidity in a community where the virtue was common. Kupe paid a visit to Haratonga, 500 miles from his home, and there decided to see what lay to the south. There are no details of that voyage of discovery. All that is known is that on a November morning Kupe's wife saw the clouds over the land to the north of Auckland, and from that came the Maori name for New Zealand—Aotearoa (the long, white cloud).

Air Cells Make Soap Float

Any soap can be made to float by manufacturing it by a process that presses air ducts into the bar. These ducts also speed up curing, permitting the soap to dry out from the outside. So small are the ducts that they retain air, preventing water from entering. This results in floating. The old method was to beat air into the soap before it was shaped into bars. This made the soap porous, since it was filled with minute air cells.—Popular Mechanics Magazine.

Kept French Revolution Alive

The French revolution so affected France that for years its memory was kept alive in many tangible ways. Women's dresses were trimmed with miniature chains, pinning braces and iron. They shingled their hair as the executioners had cut the hair of their women victims so it would not impede the blade. And even the children had little guillotines with which they beheaded the toy figures of aristocrats.—Collier's Weekly.

Grant's Tomb

The corner stone of Grant's tomb on Riverside drive in New York, was laid by President Harrison on April 27, 1892, the seventieth anniversary of Grant's birth. It was dedicated on the seventy-fifth anniversary. The cost was about $600,000, which was subscribed by 60,000 persons—none of it being paid by either the government or the city.

Hide Furnace, Save Space

It is a simple matter to segregate the coal furnace in such a way that, while it still functions as capably as ever, it is hidden from sight, and the remaining part of the basement is ready to be cleaned and painted for recreation purposes. A room can be built around it. In this way it will keep its dust to itself.

LITTLE JULIUS SNEEZER

DO YOU KNOW WHY --- A Guy Dought to Know What He's Talking About First?

First Wooden Indians

An authority on wooden Indians says: "Wooden Indians are not indigenous to American soil. As early as the reign of James I the wooden Indian was a familiar sight in England. Of the early wooden Indians in America, an odd, cupid-like Pocahontas that once stood guard on Hancock street, Boston, dates from 1730. The pioneer authenticated appearance of a cigar store show figure was in 1770, when Christopher Demuth opened a tobacco shop in Lancaster, Pa. This figure was not an Indian but a delicate minute-type gentleman extending a snuff-box invitingly."

Minister Without Portfolio

A minister without portfolio refers to a member of the cabinet of the European parliamentary type. The cabinet as a whole is formed by the prime minister at the request of the president of the king, and it includes the heads of the regular departments corresponding to the members of the cabinet of the United States. It may also include cabinet ministers who do not head any given department, but who may assist the premier in any cabinet matters. Such a minister has equal rank with other cabinet ministers, but is not an executive as the head of a department.

Penguins in Love

Penguins in love are pugnacious. When more than one female is attracted to the same male, a merry fight is likely. With beaks and flippers they go for each other, delivering cuts and stabs and raining savage blows about them with such speed that the eye can hardly follow. If the fair object of all this excitement has a preference she may enter the fray on his side, but more often she will sit by serenely.

Accumulation of Ages in Dead Sea's Flotsam

Travelers in the Holy land visiting the deepest hole in the earth's surface, that occupied by the Dead sea, into which the Jordan empties itself, are always struck with astonishment at the sight of countless numbers of palm tree trunks, heaped by the waters on its banks.

There are not so many trunks of palm groves in the vicinity, or on the banks of the Jordan, the Arion or other rivers flowing into this sea as would account for so prodigious an amount of debris. Any attempt at building a fire out of the mass of flotsam, results, after exercising much patience, in feeble, blue flames of no great intensity. The wood is heavily impregnated, with salt from the Dead sea—Salt sea, or Lake Asphaltites as it has been called—that is, it is pickled and will last for centuries.

The accumulations of countless ages are represented in those piles of roots and logs, covering the mind back to the time when the first things made the first incursion from Mesopotamia into Canaan, near Hazzon-Tamar, or "The Rows of Palms," the modern Engedi. (Genesis 14:7), captured Lot and his family, but were followed and defeated by Abraham.

Little Known Delhi Is Richest Street in World

What is the richest street in the world? Without taking into account the environs of the London Stock Exchange and Wall Street, New York, where unseen fortunes change hands, the little-known Chandi Chokri in Delhi has substantial claims. It has often been referred to as the richest street in Asia, and, unlike our own commercial thoroughfares, the greater part of its wealth is there for all to see. But many are the treasures which are hidden away in secret recesses of the shops of curio dealers and jewelers in that picturesque street.

Reservoir Keeps Tab on Height, Phones Figures

One of the queerest telephone numbers is on Biddulph, a tiny exchange near Hanley, Staffordshire, says the Montreal Herald. Anyone phoning this number suddenly hears a weird and powerful voice repeating at short intervals: "Six-four . . . Six-four . . . Six-four . . ." or some other figures. It is the voice of a reservoir. Over a thousand feet above sea-level, on the top of Mow Cop, is the reservoir of Congleton Urban district council.

Gave New Zealand Name

Just about the time when Vikings may have been exploring Labrador, Nova Scotia and the coast of Maine, there lived in Ra'lates, an island of what is now the Friendly Group, a Polynesian navigator called Kupe. He was known for his intrepidity in a community where the virtue was common. Kupe paid a visit to Raarotonga, 500 miles from his home, and there decided to see what lay to the south. There are no details of that voyage of discovery. All that is known is that on a November morning Kupe's wife saw the clouds over the land to the north of Auckland, and from that came the Maori name for New Zealand—Aotearoa (the long, white cloud).

Painted Desert an Area of Plateaus and Messas

The painted desert is an area of plateaus and low mesas in north central Arizona. It extends from the top of the Marble canyon of the Colorado river southeastward along the east side of the valley of the Little Colorado for about 100 miles, varying in width from 15 to 20 miles. At the south, it ends near the Santa Fe railway, which crosses it between Holbrook and Winslow. The desert lies at an altitude of about 5,000 feet and has an exceedingly arid climate. In consequence, vegetation is so scant that areas of rocks are bare or very nearly so. These rocks, mostly Triassic shales and sandstones, exhibit a great variety of colors, including red, pink, purple, chocolate, lavender, pale green and gray, whence the name "painted."

Situated on the margin of this desert, about 60 miles north of Winslow, are the seven villages of the Hopi Indians, the best known of which are Walpi and Oraibi. The pueblos are picturesquely built on cliffs which project from a high plateau of sandstone.

Penguins in Love

When more than one Romeo is attracted to the same Juliet, a merry fight is likely. With hooves and flip cuts and stabs and raining savage blows about them with such speed that the eye can hardly follow. It is the fair object of all this excitement but a preference she may enter on his side, but more often she will sit by serenely.

Air Cells Make Soap Float

Any soap can be made to float by manufacturing it by a process that presses air ducts into the bar. These ducts also speed up curing, permitting the soap to dry out from the outside. So small are the ducts that they retain air, preventing water from entering. This results in floating. The old method was to beat air into the soap before it was shaped into bars. This made the soap porous, since it was filled with minute air cells.—Popular Mechanics Magazine.

Kept French Revolution Alive

The French revolution so affected France that for years its memory was kept alive in many tangible ways. Women's dresses were trimmed with miniature chains, pinning braces and leg irons. They shingled their hair as if preventing water from entering their women victims so it would not impede the blade. And even the children had little guillotines with which they beheaded the toy figures of aristocrats.—Collier's Weekly.

Grant's Tomb

The corner stone of Grant's tomb on Riverside drive in New York, was laid by President Harrison on April 27, 1892, the seventieth anniversary of Grant's birth. It was dedicated on the seventy-fifth anniversary. The cost was about $600,000, which was subscribed by 60,000 persons—none of it being paid by either the government or the city.

Hide Furnace, Save Space

It is a simple matter to segregate the coal furnace in such a way that, while it still functions as normally as ever, it is hidden from sight, and the remaining part of the basement is ready to be cleaned and painted for recreation purposes. A room can be built around it. In this way it will keep its dust to itself.

First Wooden Indians

An authority on wooden Indians says: "Wooden Indians are not indigenous to American soil. As early as the reign of James I the wooden Indian was a familiar sight in England. Of the early wooden Indians in America, an odd, cupid-like Pecosian that stood guard on Hancock street, Boston, dates from 1730. The pioneer authenticated appearance of a cigar store show figure was in 1770, when Christopher Demuth opened a tobacco shop in Lancaster, Pa. This figure was not an Indian but a delicate minute-type gentleman extending a snuff-box invitingly."

Minister Without Portfolio

A minister without portfolio refers to a member of the cabinet of the European parliamentary type. The cabinet as a whole is formed by the prime minister at the request of the president or the king, and it includes the heads of the regular departments corresponding to the members of the cabinet of the United States. It may also include cabinet ministers who do not head any given department but who may assist the premier in any cabinet affairs. Such a minister has equal rank with other cabinet ministers but is not an executive as the head of a department.

Accumulation of Ages

Travelers in the Holy land visiting the deepest hole in the earth's surface, that occupied by the Dead Sea, into which the Jordan empties itself, are always struck with astonishment at the sight of countless numbers of palm tree trunks, heaped by the waters on its banks.

There are now no such numbers of palm groves in the vicinity, or on the banks of the Jordan, the Arseno or other rivers flowing into this sea as would account for so prodigious an amount of debris. Any attempt at building a fire out of the mass of trunks, results, after exercising much patience, in feeble blue flames of no great intensity. The wood is heavily impregnated with salt from the Dead Sea—Salt sea, or Lake Asphaltites as it has been called—that is, is pickled and will last for centuries.

The accumulations of countless ages are represented in those piles of roots and trunks, carrying the mind back to the time when the four kings made the first incursion from Mesopotamia into Canaan, near Hazazon-Tamar, or "The Rows of Palms," the modern Egedi. (Genesis 14:7), captured Lot and his family, but were followed and defeated by Abraham.

The corporation began its existence on the date of the issuance of the Certificate of Incorporation by the Secretary of State of the State of Iowa (September 17, 1935), and shall continue for a period of twenty (20) years from said date, with the right of renewal as provided by law, unless sooner dissolved by a two-thirds vote of the outstanding stock at any annual meeting of the stockholders, or at a special meeting called for that purpose. The affairs of the corporation shall be conducted by a board of not less than three and more than five directors, who shall be elected at the annual meeting of stockholders and shall hold office until the next annual meeting of stockholders, or until their successors are duly elected and qualified. The Board of Directors shall, by a majority vote, elect a President, Vice President, Secretary and Treasurer, and such other officers, agents, or assistants, as they deem necessary. More than one office may be held by the same person and the officers and directors of said corporation need not be stockholders of the corporation. Until the first annual meeting of the stockholders, which will be held on the third Tuesday in January, 1936, or until their successors are elected and qualified, W. B. Chase, Sr., Ted Tilton, and T. H. Hays, shall be the President, Vice President, and Secretary-Treasurer, respectively. The private property of the incorporators, stockholders, and officers of this corporation is exempt from liability for all corporate debts.

SEE THE PUBLIC ABOUT YOUR ORGANIZATION

Now that the political campaigns are beginning to take on more life, many political clubs and organizations are springing up or reviving their old activities.

Keeping in mind that it has always been the policy of the Bystander to open its columns to all groups, this announcement reiterates its welcome of all these groups to use the columns of the paper at all times.

WHAT DID MR. WALLACE DO?

In a speech Tuesday night in defense of the killing of millions of pigs in order to create a scarcity of pork and plowing under of crops in 1933-4, Secretary Wallace says that industry plowed millions of men out of their jobs which was far more damnable.

Mr. Wallace is connected with a large institution in Des Moines which was forced to lay off men during the depression period. They did so because the orders for printing fell off and it was not good business to keep men on the payroll when they had no work. It was unfortunate but his firm was not to blame.

But Secretary Wallace is willing to tell the public that the steel industry should have kept their men on the payroll in spite of the fact that orders fell off. To the people who don't know his argument might have some force; but to a reasonable mind it is just bunk.

ROTTEN TO THE CORE

The Bystander has been one institution which has tried to be loyal to the Polk County Emergency Relief Administration. It has argued that they had a hard job to do and that inequities were bound to creep in; that they proposed to be fair to the Negro group and that in spite of the fact that they blundered miserably in that no Negroes have been employed as office help at the East First Street office. Numberless complaints have been made to the Bystander that this organization was not right on the Negro question but because of the desire to cooperate—and no Negro has been in a position to track them down satisfactorily (those employed on the job could not) no serious noise has been made about them.

Last week the Emergency Relief Committee announced the appointment of a community "case work" council whose purpose is to act as a liaison agency between relief clients and the Polk County emergency relief administration and also between the taxpayer and the relief administration.

Thirty representatives were named including all civic and religious groups; Catholic and Jewish charities and the Knights of Columbus. But in this group no Negro was included.

On March 22, the Bystander made a check of the number of Negroes on relief and the Emergency Relief figures showed 755 families or approximately 2642 people—fifty per cent of the population as indicated by the census of 1930. This is far out of proportion to their population and yet this organization does not have the forethought or sense of fairness to feel that a Negro should be on this committee.

The Observer

By Atty. Chas. F. Howard
HOUGHTON'S COMMITTEE OF THIRTY
The Polk County Emergency Relief Committee November 8 announced the organization of a Community Case Work Council. The purpose of this council will be to serve as a liaison agency between the relief clients and the Polk County administration, and also between the taxpayer and the relief administration. Thirty persons were named to this council. A perusal of the names of the individuals making up this council discloses that not a single Negro was named to this committee. An examination of the record discloses further that there are 740 Negro families in Polk County on relief. The method used to arrive at the number of individuals is that of multiplying 740 by four and one-half, the average number of persons in a family.

"THE WILL OF THE PEOPLE"

Two Negroes were lynched in Texas Tuesday night. They were accused of murdering a white girl. The crime is alleged to have been committed on October 17. The youthful victims were being taken to the juvenile court for trial by deputy sheriffs who were overpowered by the mob consisting of about 700 including several women.

Of course nobody will be prosecuted. The county attorney announced that this act of barbarism was the "will of the people." Take notice Moussillini. Come over and civilize this country.

Yes, we agree with the county attorney that it was the will of the people, but are we to let the will of some people to undermine our civilization? It is the will of Italy that its directing head prosecute an unjust war against Ethiopia but does that make it right? It is the will of the south that Negroes are disfranchised and otherwise discriminated against—and the north too in many instances—but does that make it right? No, not by a long shot.

This is the best argument in the world that our constitution and the Supreme Court are essential to the very existence of minorities for the will of the majority becomes very unjust at times.

OFFICERS GIVE UP VICTIMS TO MURDERERS—NO CHARGES MADE

White Bluffs, Tenn.—Citizens throughout the state who believe in Gov. Hill McAllister and others scattered about the country who were impressed with his action in calling out the militia more than a year ago to thwart a lynching, are watching keenly for his action in the mob murder which shocked this community Monday.

Disrespect for law and order there balked justice this week when the lifeless body of Baxter Bell, 45, was thrown into a muddy thicket, after the victim had been wrested from the hands of officers by a savage mob, who with full display of firearms had their will. Bell had been arrested and was being taken to the Ashville city jail on a charge of assault after allegedly "slapping" a white woman.

With the prisoners City Marshal Louis Donnelly and Deputy Sheriff Clyde Petty started on the journey to the Ashland city jail, when they were halted on a busy downtown street by a small band, who, with full display of firearms, took the victim and drove off with him.

REV. RILEY ATTENDS YOUTH CONFERENCE

The Rev. S. M. Riley, Jr., of Burns M. E. church returned Saturday from the annual Iowa Youth conference, held at Cedar Rapids, Iowa, October 31, November 1 and 2, where he was the group leader of two group periods on "Youth Action With Other Racial and Cultural Groups." He reports the meeting was a decided success, with over 500 registered delegates.

The youths protested smoking, drinking, dancing and card playing. The Rev. Mr. Riley further reports he was accorded the finest type of treatment, courtesy and hospitality. The only question question he asked was, "Where were the young Negroes who were cordially invited to be a part?"

OWNER FORCED TO REDUCE PRICE TO FIVE CENTS

New York—(CNA)—The "locked out" editorial staff of the Amsterdam News won a partial victory last week when Mrs. Sadie Warren Davis, publisher and owner, was forced to reduce the price of the newspaper from ten cents to five cents.

In an effort to regain a forty-five per cent loss in circulation, Mrs. Davis announced last week the beginning with the November 1st issue of the paper the price will be "five cents everywhere."

The circulation drop was due to the fight conducted by the New York Newspaper Guild to obtain union recognition.

New York—(CNA)—The "locked out" editorial staff of the Amsterdam News won a partial victory last week when Mrs. Sadie Warren Davis, publisher and owner, was forced to reduce the price of the newspaper from ten cents to five cents.

In an effort to regain a forty-five per cent loss in circulation, Mrs. Davis announced last week the beginning with the November 1st issue of the paper the price will be "five cents everywhere."

The circulation drop was due to the fight conducted by the New York Newspaper Guild to obtain union recognition.

R. D. D.—Please advise me what to do about this man. What is his idea of doing like he is?

Ans.—This man is trying every way possible to get out of taking care of his child. If you'll write to the firm which he is connected with I believe you'll be successful in getting support for this child and will get this matter cleared up.

B. W. M.—Last week I had the most embarrassing thing happen and I would like to know if I can clear it up?

Ans.—I was embarrassing to your girl friend as well as you when you met in front of a night club last week. She goes there often, so make it a point to see her there some other night and apologize to her. Act right about this matter and she'll start giving you dates again.

M. E. E.—Will I marry the boy that asked me to wait on him? How long will I have to wait?

Ans.—If you expect to marry him you'll have to wait forever. This fellow that you left in Indiana gave up your friendship long ago, and you should have realized when he stopped writing to you that he was through. You'll find some one later on that will be much easier to love than he is.

A. L. H.—Will I find me a husband that I can love?

Ans.—You'll never find a man that you can love as much as you do your husband, for he is truly the man for you. You won't be without him long, for it is my impression that you'll make a trip to Mississippi shortly to see him.

O. P. S.—Which of the two things I have been thinking about will I have the most success in?

Ans.—If you choose the boy friend, I'm afraid you'll be sadly disappointed and will regret it. You'll have a lot more success if you'll accept the position which you have been offered. That will be a good start for you in the business world.

Chief threats to Dixon's crown are Adam Newcomb, who for years has been called the uncrowned champion by his friends and who is so good that he rates ten above par.

Norman Blagburn whose bulldog tenacity and iron nerve make him a great competitor when stakes are high. Harold Wilkinson, the most improved young player of the year, who two years ago wasn't playing billiards and was the sensation of last year's meet. Warnell Rhodes and Sam Jordan, both steady players. Jordan has never failed to win a prize in any meet, and "Buck" promises four real prizes for this one. Jack Burns, who has played his best billiards before each meet, has promised to do his shooting off the ice box and on the table, and if he does he will be dangerous.

Mr. Scott for years has enjoyed the reputation of having one of the best and most up-to-date billiard parlors in the Midwest. An efficient, modern business man, Scott is ever alive to opportunities to create interest among the billiard and pool players of the city and build the game to a higher level. Genial and laughing, "Buck" has always maintained flawless order during his tournaments and during his entire twenty-five years as a billiard parlor operator has catered exclusively to the better class of patronage. The entry list, aside from the players mentioned, are as follows: S. Proctor, L. Bailey, C. Benkey, A. Oliver, R. Hayes, E. Newcomb, A. Rhodes, L. Brown and A. Green.

Ozzie Lewis and Lester Jefferson of North High met Eddie Maupin and Harold Sharp of East High in the annual battle between the two schools. East won the scuffle, 12 to 0, but our boys were all in there after each other. Chet Simms had a bad knee and couldn't finish the season against his boys. Al Thomas, powerful back of East, closed his year's work in creditable style.

OLD PEOPLE find way to keep breath wholesome

Halitosis (bad breath) quickly yields to Listerine, safe antiseptic and deodorant

Either because of stomach disturbances, food fermentation, or the wearing of false teeth, old people frequently have halitosis (bad breath). No wonder unless consider them a nuisance. But now Science has found that the regular use of Listerine will often overcome offensive mouth odors due to the fermentation of tiny bits of food on mouth, teeth, or dental plate surfaces.

This safe antiseptic and quick deodorant works quickly. It cleanses mouth, teeth, and gum surfaces. Halts fermentation and putrefaction, a major cause of odors, and then counteracts the odors themselves. Try using Listerine every two or three days. See how much more wholesome it leaves your mouth. How it sweetens your breath. Lambert Pharmaceutical Co., St. Louis, Mo.

NEEDED DOCTOR'S ADVICE

Mrs. Robert Hickey, Roseville, Calif., writes: "My doctor prescribed Kruschen Salts for me—he said they wouldn't hurt me in the least. I've lost 17 lbs. in 6 weeks. Kruschen is worth its weight in gold."

Mrs. Hickey paid no attention to gossipers who said there was no safe way to reduce. She wisely followed her doctor's advice. Why don't YOU?

Get a jar of Kruschen to-day (lasts 4 weeks and costs but 2 cents). Simply take half teaspoonful in cup of hot water every morning. All druggists.
