GOVERNOR COMMENTS

TWO GUARDS—TRIALS
HALTED UNTIL APRIL
Birmingham, Ala., Jan. 31—While several investigations into what transpired near Lacon in a sedan transferring three of the Scottsboro defendants and two armed sheriffs to this city are being quietly conducted, Samuel Leibowitz, chief of the defense counsel, announced his intention of appealing the 75 year sentence given Heywood Patterson, first of the nine to face trial in Morgan county court in Decatur.

U.S. Robinson at St. Paul Church

DETROIT EVANGELIST TO CONDUCT MEETINGS

Dr. U. S. Robinson, evangelist, of Detroit, Michigan, will conduct a revival campaign at St. Paul A. M. E. church, Twelfth and Crocker streets, beginning Sunday, February 2nd, through the 16th. A gospel chorus will sing, the Rev. J. A. Alexander, pastor, announced.

Some of Dr. Robinson's subjects will be "Man Without a Coat," "What Price Glory," "Penalty of a Short Changing God," "Valley of Dry Bones," "The Devil As a Preacher," and "The Eagle Stirred Her Nest."

Famous Quartet To Carry On Despite Their Brother's Death

Bellevue, O., Jan. 31—The earthly remains of John Charles Mills, Jr., whose singing skyrocketed him from obscurity and poverty in this town to world-wide renown and acclaim, were laid to rest in the Bellefontaine cemetery Sunday afternoon. John, the eldest of the four Mills Brothers, famous radio and stage entertainers, died here Friday afternoon at the home of his mother, Mrs. Ethel Mills Jackson.

He had come back to his town of his youth December 15. He had been stricken last summer in Europe, his illness causing a cancellation by the brothers of a profrigate contract. It was the serious illness of two years ago that laid the foundation of the lung trouble that caused his death. Although under a physician's care since that illness in Chicago, John had never fully recovered.

John is survived by his father and mother, a widow and one year old daughter, three brothers and two sisters.

The brothers, with their father, flew from Philadelphia, where they are performing, to Columbus, in a special plane Sunday. They left immediately after the rites by automobile for Columbus, where they boarded the plane for the return trip to Philadelphia, where they broadcast Sunday night.

Fight Planned on Anti-Lynching

COUNTRY-WIDE SENTIMENT RISES AGAINST BORAH

New York, Jan. 31—Country-wide sentiment among colored people against the presidential candidacy of Senator William E. Borah of Idaho is rising, according to reports received here by the N. A. A. C. P.

Ohio Republicans, especially in the Cleveland area, have been threatened with a split by influential colored Republicans if Senator Borah enters the Ohio primaries.

The announcement in the New York Times this week that Congressman Hamilton Fish would go to Chicago next month to try to enlist support for Senator Borah among delegates to the National Negro Congress has aroused resentment among Illinois voters and has brought widespread condemnation from many sponsors of any prospective delegates to the Congress.

The Charleston, W. Va., branch of the N. A. A. C. P., at a meeting held January 19th, unanimously adopted a resolution condemning the candidacy of Senator Borah, and pledged its opposition to him in primaries of West Virginia.

Plantation Owners Stage Terror Drive Against Tenants

Memphis, Tenn., Jan. 31—A new wave of terror has been launched against the Southern Tenant Farmers' Union by planters and officers of the law in northeastern Arkansas. Scores of families are being evicted from their homes and thrown upon the highways. United meetings are being broken up by vigilantes, the members of the union beaten, flogged, shot, illegally arrested and jailed.

Miss Bennings to Teach in Florida A. M. School

Miss Lucille Bennings accepted a position as teacher at the Florida A. & M. college at Tallahassee, Florida, following her graduation from Drake this week, where she majored in physical education. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Bennings, 1145 Enos avenue.

Miss Bennings will teach physical education and will assist in home economics. She is the president of the P.M. chapter of the Delta Sigma Theta sorority, was former librarian at the Community Center and for two years playground director at Good park.

Since becoming famous, the Mills boys have toured the entire country and a major part of Europe. They have been presented in London and Paris in concert and music halls and with the outstanding American attractions in the esteem of the foreigners. In this country, where they are known as a radio team par excellence, they have also been starred on the stage and in pictures.

Tours Europe

John, eldest of the four brothers, also managed the team. When on the stage or in a radio booth he played the guitar and sang the bass notes. In the front office he talked money for the quartette and is known to have made few mistakes. He was a real business man and a splendid gentleman.

Death of John Mills will not stop his famous team. Last week they appeared on the stage at the Apollo theatre in New York and went over in the same great style with the father, John, Sr., taking the deceased's place. The only difference is a fifth member has been added—a young fellow who plays the guitar to supply the rhythm for the act.

The family was at the bedside of John when he passed away.

Managed the Team

Atty. S. Joe Brown represented the proponents of the first will and Atty. A. E. Lingenfelter (white) the proponents of the other two; and after a jury had been impaneled and two days spent in taking the testimony of witnesses from Des Moines, Chicago and Memphis, Judge Ladd called the attorneys to the bench and suggested that he had serious doubts as to whether either of the three wills should be upheld, and if they would agree to it he would set them all aside and appoint a disinterested Negro attorney to administer the estate.

The proposition having been agreed to by the attorneys, Atty. Rush was appointed and the jury discharged.

African Troops Quell Uprising

RAS GASASA, REBEL CHIEF, IS CAPTURED

Addis Ababa, Jan. 31—Ras Gasasa, the Ethiopian rebel who instigated a rebellion in the Gofjain province, was captured early this week by a troop of 10,000 men dispatched to the area to quell the uprising. Emperor Haile Selassie had instructed these men to bring Gasasa back dead or alive.

Gasasa was ambushed in a road leading to the Italian forward line of communication. Seeing himself surrounded, and with no possible means of safe exit, the rebel leader surrendered without offering any resistance. He was making his way rapidly to the Italian advanced post, where a reward awaited him, when he was caught by government men.

Peg Leg Man Goes To Sing Sing Chair

LUCK CHARM PEDDLER IN COLD SWEAT

Ossining, N. Y., Jan. 24—The crippled, lifeless body of John (Peg Leg) Smith, one-legged Spanish War veteran and seller in Harlem of luck charms, who was electrocuted with Albert Fish, white slayer of the child, Grace Budd, Thursday night, lay unclaimed by anyone in the prison morgue until Saturday, when he was given a public burial.

Smith, 41, was known in Harlem as "Old Doc Voodoo." He made his living there by compounding love philters, cancer cures and such. He gave a love potion to his sweetheart, Jane Cumber, the past summer.

A week later he found her spooning on a bench in McCombs Dam park east of Lenox avenue. She was with another man, James Wilson, who had two legs and a steady job. Smith drew a gun and killed them both. He plead self-defense, but the jury did not believe him.

3 Wills, 2 Lawyers, Witnesses from 3 Different States

ATTY. RUSH TO ADMINISTER GEORGIA HALL ESTATE

A rather unique lawsuit, which involved three wills and attorneys from three states suddenly ended in the Polk County district court Tuesday, with the acceptance of the attorneys on both sides of the proposition of Judge Loy Ladd to deny the probate of either of the three wills and to appoint Atty. Gertrude E. Rush to administer the estate of Mrs. Georgia Hall, widow of the late Joe Hall, as though no will had ever been made.

The evidence disclosed the fact that on August 6, 1934, Mrs. Hall made a will in which she named the Rev. J. L. Lucas, pastor of the Shiloh Baptist church, in which she belonged, as executor and her two sisters, Mrs. Mabel Smith of Chicago, Mrs. Frankie Daugherty of Memphis, and her two brothers, Jake Davis and Lee Davis, of Memphis, Tenn., as equal beneficiaries; that later, in December, 1934, she made another will in which she named her sister, Mrs. Daugherty, as sole beneficiary, and that still later, in January, 1935, after having moved from Des Moines to Memphis, she made a third will, in which she again made Mrs. Daugherty as sole beneficiary.

Atty. S. Joe Brown represented the proponents of the first will and Atty. A. E. Lingenfelter (white) the proponents of the other two; and after a jury had been impaneled and two days spent in taking the testimony of witnesses from Des Moines, Chicago and Memphis, Judge Ladd called the attorneys to the bench and suggested that he had serious doubts as to whether either of the three wills should be upheld, and if they would agree to it he would set them all aside and appoint a disinterested Negro attorney to administer the estate.

The proposition having been agreed to by the attorneys, Atty. Rush was appointed and the jury discharged.

Local Clubwoman to Attend Meetings

Mrs. S. Joe Brown, nationally prominent club and social worker, who has been invited to attend the Woman's Congress to be held in Chicago at the Palmer house February 13th and 14th for the discussion of national and international problems pertaining to welfare of the country, announces plans to attend this gathering.

Mrs. Brown will also attend the National Negro Congress, also being held in Chicago on February 14th to 17th, which is being sponsored by some of the outstanding race leaders.

"This congress" is to discuss problems pertaining to the future betterment of our racial group. Any Iowa representatives who can attend may notify me at once," she stated.

Dr. Scales in New Location, Feb. 1st

By Everett Wadsworth Staff Writer

Six well lighted 12x16 rooms on the first floor comprise the new office space of Dr. E. Thomas Scales, M. D., physician and surgeon, who will be located at 204 West Third street, between Walnut and Court, after February 1. His former office was at 517 Mulberry street, where he was in business for the past seven years.

Diathermy, ultra-violet, infra-red light and other modern equipment are being installed. Rooms for operating, recovery, minor surgery, clinical inspection and a private laboratory for his present works in medical research are the many improvements made by Dr. Scales. Upon completion, it will be one of the largest medical establishments in Iowa.

"No steps to climb, no elevators to ride, the office is moved down to meet the sick," is the motto of the new business organization. "Don't neglect health because of lack of money, discuss your financial problems with us, as satisfactory arrangement can be made to benefit all," Dr. Scales said.

Graduating from the college of medicine at the University of Iowa in 1927, Dr. Scales studied his internship at the Provident hospital in Chicago in 1927 and 1928. He is a member of several national and local medical associations and societies, belongs to many civic and community groups and is a popular speaker on medical authority. He is married, has two children and lives at 700 Grand View avenue.

Ex-Soldiers' Applications Filed With Lincoln Post

Over 400 Des Moines Negro veterans will be several hundred dollars richer June 15th when the bonus certificates will be turned into cash.

Five hundred and sixty-one American Legion posts in Iowa have been swamped the past week with veterans filing bonus applications. Frank T. Hines, national administrator, urges veterans to send their applications to the nearest regional office or to the central office in Washington, D. C. This service is given free at the Lincoln post headquarters, Twelfth and Crocker streets.

Colored former soldiers of the World War were all smiles when they told the reporter what they were going to do with the "unexpected riches" given to them this week by an act of congress over President Roosevelt's veto. G. B. Tucker, post commander, showed his gold tooth and said he was going to pay old debts, as did Rondle Allen, 805th infantry. Eddie Barber, of the 804th infantry, said: "I'm going to buy a home right away."

George Brewer, who served in the 317th supply regiment, plans to buy a new truck; Melvin E. Stewart, 830th infantry, and John Branch, 366th infantry, may go into business. Frank Lonian, 415th reserve labor, expects to settle some old accounts with his.

The following points are to be observed in making applications: If a loan has been obtained, but has not been redeemed by the Veterans Administration, the application will be executed and forwarded to Washington, D. C. After filing his application the veteran needs to take no further action. Bonds cannot be cashed before June 15, 1936, and are not negotiable. They may be redeemed for cash at any postoffice or U. S. treasury substation. The veteran may hold his bonds as an investment until 1945 at 3 per cent interest.

Chicago Hotels Bar Ethiopian Diplomat

Chicago—It remained for Chicago's hotels to offer the first insult to Ethiopia here. The Stevens and the Congress hotels, cloaking their intent behind the usual subterfuges, turned down Lij Tasfaye Zaphiro, first secretary to the Imperial Ethiopian legation, London, England, Sunday morning when he applied to them for accommodation, escorted by a committee from the Chicago Society for the Ait of Ethiopia.

Additional evidence in support of the charge that the hotels were drawing the color line is contained in statements from certain employees of the hostilities, who explained that big business, church and civic leaders of the city have brought pressure to bear on the hotel managements, demanding that members of the Negro race be denied accommodations.

Stopped At Waldorf
In New York, Lij Zaphiro stopped at the Waldorf Astoria hotel, one of the most famous hostilities in the country. In addition he held a conference of the leading members of the race in Harlem at the hotel and encountered no difficulties. He also had a suite at the General Clinton hotel, another swank and exclusive place, where he was accorded the utmost in courtesy and convenience.

Back to Work

Attorney Charles P. Howard, who was stricken with typhoid fever and pneumonia in November, is back at his office at 515 Mulberry street. The "Observer" column will be resumed in the very near future, he said.

Department Head

Promises Business Administration of Sound Business Principles

George T. Lister, 52, 1163 Seventh street, announces his candidacy in the Primary, Mch. 17th for Supt. of street department. A resident of Des Moines since 1914 he was connected with the Port Dodge, Des Moines and So. Railway in construction work for some time. During that time he supervised the building of their line from Swanwood into the railway terminal here in the city.

After completing that work he engaged in the electrical construction work, to which he has given his attention, until called by the Government to aid in the planning of the New Works Program for Des Moines and Polk County. Under his supervision in the Federal Emergency Relief 9,000 families were provided for and millions of dollars were thrown into circulation in Polk County.

In announcing his platform candidacy, Mr. Lister offered the following platform: I will, if elected, promise to see that the city lives within its cash income during my term of office in so far as the operation of the Streets department is concerned and to cast my vote at the council table with the thought of business economy always in mind.

IOWA COAL INDUSTRY
MEETING RECORD DEMAND

Albia, Iowa—(Special)—"The record breaking demand for Iowa coal during the past week is being met by the owa operators to the best of their ability, in spite of the unprecedented cold weather," Hugh W. Lundy, secretary of the Iowa coal institute, said Wednesday. Lundy explained that while it was necessary to divide orders, every effort is being made to prevent suffering from want of fuel. Iowa mines are working at peak of production, he said. Operators hope to soon be caught up with their orders.

Loyalty To Industry
Lundy added that it is largely a question of development in operations during the summer months. "If more Iowans, during the normal season, were loyal to the Iowa coal industry, operators would feel justified in driving entries during the "soft" season, or summer months, and make costly developments. Thus, in times of emergencies, such as the present, increased developments would permit larger tonnages," Lundy stated.

OBITUARY

James A. Payne was born near Huntsville, Missouri, March 9, 1900. He died in the hospital at Iowa City, Monday, January 20, 1936. He lived in Des Moines 19 years and married to Bessie Williams 1919. CARD OF THANKS

We thank the friends for the kindness during the illness and at the death of our loved one, James A. Payne; beautiful floral offering, donation of cars; Rev. Tutt for his inspiring remarks and L. Fowler & Son for their efficient service. — Mrs. Bessie Payne, widow; Miss Maxine Payne, daughter; and James Payne, Jr., son.

Walda Goes Round & Round

By Dorothy Wheels

Being neither h'yar nor thar—Thanks to the "feminine fan" in Ottumwa for the very interesting comment, since you didn't send your address, I can't write to you, but I guess its all the same to you—Saw Floyd Madison at basketball the other—Orbed Aaron Moore and Willie evening being very nochalant as usual Lyghtner in sweat suits the other evening which reminded me of the long flannel underwear you see on lines occasionally on wash days—Looked in on Robert (Goonie) Williams chaperoning the Amos Hiatt Girls Reserves' party the other evening at the East Side Community Center—He served as chief "court jester" as well as chaperon by getting in everyone's way and doing his best to conduct the party in the proper manner and keep it swinging in jig time—Saw Dorothy "Mastachio" Mash, who can give you a laugh in the coldest weather, doing her "swingey little thingy"—Saw Eddie Boone, of that famous dancing team, composed of Les Jefferson, Louis Taylor, and Eddie himself, heading for the "Last Round-up" on Mitchell's soda fountain stools.

Leonard 'Slophia' Lomas reminds me of the song 'Speaking Confidentially'. He always has a confidential subject to talk over with someone.—Viewed Linford Willis, wearing his hat in his most original way—Besides being high point man in basketball, Ben Cooley seems to be high point man in the affections of Jessie Randall, (I wonder when Carol 'Skeeter' Hall fell by the wayside)—Anyway whenever Miss Randolph is present in the balcony at West Junior High, Mr. Cooley out does himself in making baskets, so the boys (members of his team) have undertaken on themselves to have Miss Randall present at every game—Kathryn Jewett and Art Wells will soon be 'middle-aging it' or justice-of-peaceing it—there seems to be a great deal of wonderment around town as to the meaning of the letters T. O. B. — Well I'll bite, so here's my guess "The Other Bunch" or "That's Our Business" which by the way is their business—Dorothy Tolson is to have lead in the Ambassadors show, so therefore with such an experienced show lady, foremost entertainer, etc., in it, it is bound to be exceptionally good, by the way is the theme or plot still to be "142nd and Lenox Ave. direct in the heart of Harlem, in the Cotton Club, a radio station, or a cabaret—If it has to be in Harlem this year, why not give us some variety and put it at the foot or beginning of Harlem or on the last street in Harlem—Charles Danford seems to be a great help to Bobby Hyde during exams, since Chuck knows all about The Articles of Confederation, and all other subjects that are so unnecessary vital in a history exam—Can you guess who the A. K. A. Ballyhoo Ball Valentine will be—At present Minzie Johnson is leading the race. Well until Harold "Crockett" Robinson gives me some more history problems trying to find out what his middle name is, I'll be N. B. Cing you, Yers

"The treasured thought of one so dear,
Often brings a silent tear;
Thoughts return of the loving past,
While time rolls on, but memory lasts."

"A happy home we once enjoyed
How sweet the memory still;
But death has left a loneliness,
This world can never fill."

TOWNSEND MASS MEETING PLANNED SUNDAY

The Townsend Plan clubs of Des Moines will sponsor a mass meeting in the First Methodist Episcopal church at Tenth and Pleasant on Sunday at 3:00 o'clock. No admittance charge or collection will be taken. Everybody cordially invited to hear Dr. H. Truman Gordon of Chicago, Illinois, regional speaker for the Townsend plan.

As a platform chautauqua speaker, he was for fifteen years a social service worker and director of organized welfare work in Minneapolis, Minn., and in Chicago, Ill., an ordained clergyman and for more than twenty years a student of economics, the national monetary system and banking reform.

IOWA COAL INDUSTRY MEETING RECORD DEMAND

Albia, Iowa—(Special)—The record breaking demand for Iowa coal during the past week is being met by the Iowa operators to the best of their ability, in spite of the unprecedented cold weather," Hugh W. Lundy, secretary of the Iowa coal institute, said Wednesday. Lundy explained that while it was necessary to divide orders, every effort is being made to prevent suffering from want of fuel. Iowa mines are working at peak of production, he said. Operators hope to soon be caught up with their orders.

Loyalty To Industry

Lundy added that it is largely a question of development in operations during the summer months. "If more Iowans, during the normal season, were loyal to the Iowa coal industry, operators would feel justified in driving entries during the "soft" season, or summer months, and make costly developments. Thus, in times of emergencies, such as the present, increased developments would permit larger tonnages," Lundy stated.

OBITUARY

James A. Payne was born near Huntsville, Missouri, March 9, 1900. He died in the hospital at Iowa City, Monday, January 20, 1936. He lived in Des Moines 19 years and married to Bessie Williams 1919. FLETCHER HENDERSON COMES TO TERRACE—SISLIE IN LOOP

Chicago—Chicago will be hosts to two of the nation's outstanding bands and maybe three for the entire winter season, according to information gathered this week. One of the orchestras, Fletcher Henderson, will invade the Southside, playing the Grand Terrace when Earl Hines moved out on his annual mid-winter tour. Fletcher is booked to come here January 26. The Terrace will inaugurate the occasion with a new floor show featuring several stars secured in Harlem.

Then the loop district will have Noble Sissle, who has about cinched an engagement at a large loop spot. Sissle was to have moved into the same loop hotel several weeks ago, but failed to complete the details that would have secured the run. In addition to this pair another cafe to be located on Fifty-fifth street is dickering for Duke Ellington, whose manager, Irvin Mills, came here last week.

POOR EDITOR, HE DOES NOT KNOW

Several weeks ago Nathaniel Kinnard, Negro citizen of Burlington, filed an information under the civil rights law against the manager of the Palace theater for segregation. When the case came on for trial the people who were supposed to have been pushing it laid down by withdrawing the charges.

The editor of the Burlington Post, a weekly paper, at least attempts to justify the unfortunate disposition of the case and proceeds to state his views on the subject. It is headed "Convention and Racial Justice." The bold type reprints the editorial. The Bystander comment is in larger type.

"The problem of the Negro's place in society has been treated sociologically and solution laid down to the fine points of specific do's and don'ts has never been defined."

Like the sociologists he quotes, the editor is looking for a special place for the Negro when as a matter of fact his rights are the same as those of any other American citizen. Evidently he does not know the difference between a citizen's civil rights as were involved here and purely social contacts.

"Convention and tradition have served as the only guiding tenets of propriety in considering the Negro's relation to the white. There is an unwritten law which governs the social contact of the Chinese coolies in California; in Texas there is a distinction between gringos and Mexicans."

Whose convention? An express statute in Iowa on the subject was adopted in 1882—not when he thought it was, 1897—because people like he wanted Negroes to have no place under the sun. The Negro's place is where he chooses to go.

"The complaint of the local Negro who charged that the manager of the Palace theater had segregated his race should never have been executed past the county attorney's province to prevent it. It's successful prosecution would have set a dangerous precedent and make his principles enforceable against restaurants, common carriers, lodges, service clubs, hotels and swimming pools."

Unfortunately this editor does not know that the "dangerous precedent" has been set. During the last five years a dozen such cases have come up in the Municipal Court in Des Moines and in each case the defendant has been convicted, some by all white juries, some by the judge. We seldom have this trouble with theaters in Des Moines and when we do resort to the "dangerous precedent." The editor will take notice that Des Moines is in Iowa as well as Burlington. He does not know that service clubs would not come under the classification he seeks to make.

"The Post does not believe that this Negro complainant's conduct represents the opinion and desire of others of his race in Burlington. Like their brethren in the south they know their place in society and keep it."

Maybe The Post judges this whole group by what Kinnard did but The Bystander knows that this is NOT the opinion and desire of the majority of the Negroes even in Burlington.

"We think that the courts were concerned here with a distinction between standards of living and not with an abstraction of social equality; that the complainant would have been wholly within his rights had he been stopped altogether from viewing a performance holding himself out to public appeal; that the manager was within his right in ensuring social immunity to his other patrons."

What The Post thinks and what the law is or what is fair are entirely different things. The manager does not have the right stated in the above paragraphs and The Bystander refers him to section 13251 of the 1935 code of Iowa.

Health Talks

By Dr. C. R. Bradford

HYSTERIA

Hysteria, which is also classed as a psychoneurosis, may give rise to any symptom or signs or any combination thereof encountered in any known disease.

Hysteria is often found among women and especially those who are temperamental. The emotional disposition is excessively mobile, so that she frequently indulges in flights of joy and grief which are uncalculated in view of the circumstances. Heightened suggestibility, craving for sympathy, and a disposition to be hypersensitive to the environment is the chief cause for her complaints.

In a measure every one is suggestible, that is influenced emotionally by his surroundings. Love, hate and fear are three powerful emotions that control us individually or as groups. The dominating influence of suggestion is all through the story of human progress. Unconscious imitation, or an imitation against which the individual is powerless to fight is an important factor in hysteria.

The following symptoms are some of the many a hysterical patient may take and yet not conscious that he does not exist oftentimes completely baffling the attending physician: a headache, cough, back ache, blindness, loss of speech, spasms, crying, inability to walk or stand, paralyses and deafness.

Few diseases are more difficult to treat than hysteria. Drugs play a very small part, the patient's initial confidence in his or her physician, and a strong appeal to the patient's reason, accompanied by suggestion will usually get favorable results. The doctor should always be cheerful, optimistic and encouraging. His assurance of recovery is 90% of the cure.

plays a total ignorance of the law and a reckless disregard for the rights of the Negro. It is unfortunate that a man with such ideas is permitted to put together such ante-bellum doctrine for enlightened people to read. The trouble with this editor is his location. He ought to be running a paper in some community which believes in his ideas or where a group of Negroes live who will go into court and protect their rights. Certainly he has no place in Iowa for he does the state and the gentlemen of the press a great injustice.

A BAD EXAMPLE

Secretary Wallace said the decision of the Supreme Court which required a refund to packers processing taxes collected under AAA is the greatest steal of the century. Imagine a cabinet officer who took an oath to uphold and defend the constitution making a statement like this.

The Bystander thanks the high heavens for the Supreme Court for if the Secretary says this about such an august body acting within the law, what on earth would he do with a poor devil without friends or money? His statement is ill advised and a poor example to the set.

Quentin R. Mease

Owens, Number One Trunk Man:

The big news of the past seven days, was the recognition by the A. A. U. of the sterling performances turned in by Jesse Owens at the Big Ten championships at Ann Arbor, Mich., last May, when he smashed three world's marks and tied another, to be awarded three places on the all-American track and field team for 1935.

The famous Ohio State track star was listed first in the 200 meter dash, 200 meter hurdles, and the running broad jump, events in which he eclipsed existing records. The Buckeye Bulletin also grabbed four places on the all-college team, also selected by the Amateur Athletic Union. In addition to the above named events, Owens was selected in the 100 meter sprint on the college aggregation. Eulace Peacock, Temple University star, who made his bid for track fame at Lincoln by topping Owens in the 100 meter dash as well as the broad jump, was selected for the century sprint on the all-college team.

These two athletes, along with Ralph Metcalfe, Ben and Cornelius Johnson, Jimmy LuValle, John Brooks, are expected to count heavily for Uncle Sam in the sprints and jumps and to form the nucleus of another winning team in the coming Olympics. Drake Relay fans have had the opportunity of seeing all of these athletes, with the exception of Peacock and the two Johnson boys, in the Midwest track classic.

In the Square Circle: Baseball, the usual topic of the hot stove league, has been displaced by arguments concerning the true ability of Joe Louis, and his chances of lifting the crown from the brow of James J. Braddock. The diamond sport has been relegated to second place on the sport pages, as the discussion waxed furiously over the meteoric climb of the Detroit Dynamiter, and daily comparisons are being made between him and former rulers of the heavyweight division.

Basketball Bits: Jack Howard has all but clinched a forward post on the North High quintet for the remainder of the season, and although the Polar Bear five was hard hit by graduation at mid-year is at present tied with East High for the series lead. The New York Renaissance, ranking Negro professional team of the world, and the New York Celtics, best of the white pro cagers, are barnstorming in the midwest and may include Des Moines on their schedule. Bill Lyghtner, recently returned to the city after starring on the New Haven High track team for the past two years, is playing a fine game at the center post for the Spiders in the Senior league, being especially accurate from the free throw line.

The World Champion Renaissance team administered a crushing 44 to 26 defeat to the Golden quintet of Tuskegee in a game on their southern tour, Thursday afternoon to a near capacity crowd. The veteran "Fats" Jenkins, Captain of the Rena, thrilled the enthusiastic crowd with his exhibition of plain and fancy ball handling, and with his mates, held the upper-hand with ease a every stage of the game. An inkling of the type of ball played is revealed by the total of 40 personal fouls being called. 26 on the Rena and 14 on the Collegians, with neither team scoring a free throw.

The latest in bowl gridiron contest, the annual Butter Bowl game was inaugurated by the Mechanical and Agriculture Departments of Thegegee recently, with the Aggies winning by a score of 12 to 6.

NOW THEREFORE public notice is hereby given that unless the said defendant appear at my office in Des Moines, on or before the 7th day of March A. D. 1936, at ten o'clock of said day, at which time said above described property is hereby advertised to be sold, and pay off of the amount of said execution, with interest and costs, I will sell said property, with interest thereon to satisfy said execution, with interest and costs, at public outcry, to the highest bidder, at the east front door of the Court House, in Des Moines, Iowa, for cash in hand to pay off said execution.

Ans.: You are just too temperamental for your own good. If you could see yourself as others see you, you wouldn't always be kicking up a storm over nothing.

I. T. P.—Will I get the break I am looking for—

Ans.: You and your boy friend have already separated several times, and it would be the same thing to contend with if you were to marry him so don't consider it as a break when he asks you to marry him—Can't you see that it would be impossible for you to make a success of MARRIAGE together.

W. E. L.—Is there another man between me and my wife—

Ans.: Ridiculous—You ought to stop worry about such foolish things and snap out of it and try to get a job—Your home that ISN'T PAID FOR should be your greatest worry now instead of something that is just imaginary.

A. M. H.—Can I make a success of my life—

Ans.: Certainly you can—Don't be fool enough to think you are physically unfit to do anything—Your health is in good enough shape to make a success in some career.

D. R.—Why do I dream peculiar dreams about certain people—

Ans.: You have always been rather SCARED of these people that you used to live next door to, but there is nothing for you to be afraid of—Put them out of your mind completely for that is what makes you dream about them so much.

H. B. W.—Do you think everything will work out all right for us—

Ans.: If you'll just stick by your boy friend everything will work out all right and you'll be able to get married during the summer—In a case like this I would suggest that you try to be patient.
