Robinson Refuses Lucrative Offer

CORINTHIAN PASTOR PREFERS WORK IN DES MOINES

The first greeting to come to Rev. G. W. Robinson, pastor Corinthian Baptist church and moderator of the Iowa Baptist association, on Easter morning was an offer from the National Baptist convention to become assistant general director. The general organizer also asked Rev. Robinson to devote a part of his time until the National convention in Florida in May. The Rev. Robinson declined the position, which means a refusal of a salary of $150 per month and all expenses paid. Had he accepted, he would have been transferred to Tennessee, South Carolina and then to New England. The dean of Des Moines ministers preferred working here with his church and people over the state. He has been here over 20 years.

Illinois Republicans Indicate Strong Comeback For 1936

CHICAGO, (Special) — Congressman Arthur C. Mitchell of Illinois is in for a battle unparalleled in politics this fall. The Negro Democrat will have a formidable an opponent as ever a man faced.

Not in history has there been a bitter fight in the Republican party primaries that was waged between former Congressman Oscar DePriest and former Alderman Louis B. Anderson for the nomination to Congress from the first Congressional district. DePriest who was backed by State Senator William E. King was victorious 2 to 1 majority while Anderson had the support of Alderman William L. Dawson. But there was more than the Congressmanship involved.

Whoever emerged victorious in this campaign would for four years be the undisputed political boss of patronage and other incidental prerogatives which would come as the result of Republican success.

DePriest, who went the way of all G.O.P. in the 1932 landslide is making a desperate effort at a comeback.

With thousands of extra police on guard and a threat to call out the state militia, Chicago voters, numbering more than a million, began their trek to the polls at six o'clock Tuesday morning. Hardly had the voting places opened before announcements began to come in over the radio that opposing factions were encountering trouble.

Alabama Youths' Trials Delayed

SCOTTSBORO CASE IS POSTPONED TO JULY

NEW YORK, April 17.—According to work received here by defense attorneys, the Scottsboro trials, which were to have been resumed on April 17, have been postponed to the July term of the Morgan County, Alabama court, which begins on July 6.

The additional time before the trial of Clarence Norris is being used by the Scottsboro Defense Committee for the collection of badly needed funds. Contributions should be sent to the committee at 112 East 19th street, New York City.

The Brotherhood of Sleeping Car Porters and the Fellowship of Reconciliation have joined the original five national organizations forming the Scottsboro Defense Committee. These additions make eight national organizations now united in the fight for the boys.

37 Solons Sign Caucus Petition

THIRTY-SEVEN CONGRESSMEN SIGN PETITION

WASHINGTON, April 17.—Despite all sorts of technical objections, whispered cloakroom talk, and open opposition, thirty-seven Democratic members of the House have signed a petition calling upon the leader of the Democratic caucus to call a meeting of the caucus to consider anti-lynching legislation now buried in the House judiciary committee.

According to House rules, whenever twenty-five signatures are secured to such a petition, the caucus leader must call a caucus within seven days after the petition is presented.

Among those who not only have signed, but who done good work for the petition are Rep. Mary T. Norton of New Jersey; Rep. Caroline O'Day of New York and Rep. Joseph Gavanag of New York. Investigation showed that Mr. Gavanag was not going to California on a Townsend plan investigation in order to dodge the fight in the caucus. He has promised to return to the East at the earliest possible moment.

Pleads from Jail Steps to Save Life of Negro

AGED JUDGE LEAVES SICK BED TO QUELL GEORGIA LYNCH MOB

Danielsville, Georgia.—"Stop violating the law by breaking jail," shouted gray-haired judge Berry T. Mosley of veteran northern superior district court to a mob of 100 who stormed the jail Saturday to lynch a Negro accused of attacking a white girl and wounding two officers. Unparalleled in the annals of history, a Georgia jurist left his sick bed to quell a lynch bent crowd of 150 in order that a Negro's life may be spared.

As the Dixie judge was making his dramatic plea from the jail steps, six trucks of national guardsmen raced to his rescue. The crowd had dug a large hole in the two story brick structure. Recognizing many of his hearers, Judge Mosley asked them to let the law take its course and promised a special term for the case.

"Mr. Sheriff, I authorize you to deputize these men to see that the law is obeyed," he instructed. "The mob quieted when 100 of them were deputized. Lint Shaw, 45, is said to have attacked and wounded Police Chief E. A. Elder of Colbert and County Policeman Ralph Baird of Danielsville, on their way with the prisoner in custody.

Seriously wounded by the officer, Shaw prayed in the hospital and Officer Baird stated the prisoner said: "You know I ain't the guilty man." The guardsmen, who were on tornado duty at Gainesville, took Shaw sixteen miles away to a hospital at Athens, Ga.

Acting Inspector of Detectives Jack Brophy said that the men would be asked in a house or building and then robbed.

State Asked Death Penalty For 1933 Slaying of Recluse

(Special to Bystander)

Iowa City, Iowa—Thirty years' sentence was verdict given by a district court jury of eight women and four men Wednesday in the retrial of Louis Clay, Negro, 31, for the slaying of George Folsom, 77 year old recluse of Iowa City suburbs, who died during a robbery on Christmas eve of 1933.

Clay was found guilty in the second trial of assault with intent to commit murder. Attorney W. F. Murphy represented the defense, Johnson County Attorney E. A. Baldwin asked for the death penalty. Sentence will be passed April 30th.

Reversed The December term, 1935, of Iowa supreme court reversed the conviction of life sentence on grounds that the testimony of Mabel Davis, 24, white girl, and Clay's former wife, was "highly prejudicial."

Folsom, the murder victim, first was determined to have died from heart failure, but a year later the possibility of a murder was investigated. Mabel Davis, 24, white girl, and Clay's former wife, went to the Johnson county officials and told of the choking of Folsom during a robbery. On her testimony from the witness stand, she told the story of her courtship and marriage to the defendant at Waukegan, Illinois, in July, 1934, and divorce on October 24, 1934.

Not Proved Clay's attorneys contended in their argument to the supreme court that the lower court trial had not proved the exact cause of Folsom's death and that the lower court had erred in permitting Miss Davis to testify. Miss Davis' testimony was permitted in the lower court on the assertion that her marriage to Clay had been annulled. Clay's attorneys contended in the original trial that the annulment had not been proved.

Opinion The supreme court's opinion on December 17, 1935, held that the district court judge should have instructed the jury that Miss Davis was an accomplice in the slaying. The ruling added that testimony at the original trial seeking to show Miss Davis was in fear of her life from Clay at the time of the slaying should not have been admitted.

Implicated Some time in August, 1934, Mabel Davis made a statement to the chief of police of Waukegan, Illinois, in which she implicated Clay; stating that she was at the home of Clay's

EMPEROR TAKES COMMAND OF TROOPS IN NORTH—MORALE HIGH

Addis Ababa, April 17.—Emperor Haile Selassie moved 300,000 of his fierce warriors into defensive positions across northern Ethiopia while Dedjazmatch Aliu checked the advance of Gen. Rodolfo Graziani's southern forces at Neghelli.

Reports recurrent in the Italian papers that the emperor is fleeing in disguise or considering abdication were discounted in official quarters.

The emperor, who is in personal charge of his men in the north, where the Italians are making desperate attacks, communicated directly with his government at Addis Ababa, an official spokesman asserted, adding that the morale of the

James Smith of Indiana to Compete in Annual Classic

NEGRO LAD MAY BREAK NATIONAL RECORD AT 27th DRAKE RELAYS

By Everett Wadsworth Staff Writer

It is quite possible that a Negro will play a great part in breaking an American record in the 27th annual Drake relays here, Friday and Saturday, April 24-25. James Smith, crack distance runner of Indiana, is a member of the four mile and distance medley relay teams slated to smash these two marks in the midwestern athletic carnival. More than 8,500 athletes from all points of the U. S. will compete in the regional Olympic tryouts.

Smith has been clocked 4:21 in the mile and can run the three-fourths mile 3:05, for the medley quartet. The colored star was third in the national A. A. U. cross country 10,000 meters last November.

Coach E. C. (Billy) Hayes of the Hoosier squad, will fire his brilliant speedsters at the 14-year-old 4-mile standard set by Illinois, 17:55.8. The Drake record, now five years old, is 17:45. These boys have been timed regularly at 17:28. The medley outfit has made 10:11 consistently, eclipsing the Drake mark of 10:15.3 and the national of 10:14.

Jimmy LuValle, former A.A.U. 440 meters titleholder, and University of California at Los Angeles mile relay team, twice Drake champions, will not return to claim their laurels the third consecutive year. Clyde Wilson Briggs and Eugene Skinner, of the University of Iowa's mile relay team and Homer Harris of the shuttle relay team are Hawkeye's Negro contribution to the classic.

With Jesse Owens of Ohio and Eulace Peacock of Temple, the big show at Penn relays this year, went the thrills of Negro sprinters who formerly dominated the short dashes at Drake. Much color and glamour of bronze athletes of the past years will be missing, but with the Berlin Olympics as an incentive, more sensational colored cinder path artists may be discovered.

Before one of the largest crowds ever to attend the annual Athletic Carnival, the Erl-Kings brought to a close an undefeated season by decisively whipping the Marshalltown Merchants in the feature event of the star-studded program presented on the West High floor Friday night.

The local champs were clicking in perfect rhythm as they ran up the one-sided score of 54 to 17 over the Marshalltown titleholders in a run-away game. After the first basket was scored by the invaders, the Kings settled down to business to pile up a 34 to 10 lead at halftime. With the high scoring Rabbit Wilson and Jamo Allen blazing the way, every member of the home quintet broke in the scoring column to all but nullify the efforts of the visitors.

By downing the state class A champs by a 47 to 24 count, the Comets atoned themselves somewhat for the dismal second half showing they made in the state meet. Anthony Lymony continued to display the great form that has made him one of the best prospects of the younger players in the city, by scoring 15 of the winning points and handling his pivot post in a seasoned manner.

After twenty minutes of heated controversy over whether the game was to be played by boys' or girls' rules, the West Side Tiger-Cats and the East Side Boosters finally got together and gave a feminine version of show basketball should be played.

The west side aggregation showed superior teamwork and coaching, plus the fact that they have played together long, and downed their rivals from across the river by the humiliating score of 11 to 2. Walker and L. Johnson did most of the scoring for the winners, while L. White dropped the leather spheroid through the net for the only points made by the Lee townshippers.

Teddy Harris had too much class and experience for Walt McQuerry and earned the decision over the latter in the main event on the boxing portion of the program. Ozzie Lewis and Ralph Bruce tangled in a fast bout in which the former was declared the winner by a shade. Charley Broddus and Sam Taylor were waved off the mats by the referee stalling, and otherwise putting on a poor exhibition. Leroy Twogood sprang a surprise by flopping Alonzo Monday in a one fall wrestling exhibition in the fast time of 2 minutes, 38 seconds.

Between halves of the feature game, awards were presented to the title winning teams of the three leagues. St. Paul A.M.E., senior league champs, were awarded a golden trophy, which was accepted by Harrison Gould, superintendent of the St. Paul Sunday School. The members of the team are to receive gold basketballs. Six players on the "Y" Comets, intermediate league champions, received certificates entitling them to Jim-crow transportation laws, the association would not recommend the Greyhound Lines to its delegates. About a year ago, according to the N.A.A.C.P., one of the high Greyhound officials in Cleveland wrote a letter on the company's stationery stating that the official policy was to segregate colored passengers in the rear. The N.A.A.C.P. also stated the resentment of colored passengers over the practice in many places of denying colored bus passengers service in lunchrooms and dining rooms of regular stops of motor coaches.

Post Easter Jabbering—The hundred fifty or so kids that hit Center street every Sunday were really very splendid in their Easter regalia Sunday, and I hope to tell you—Orbed law, Jr. of 12th St. in the latest Fred Astaire attire, several of the boys were robed simply too swellegant in black suits . . . while several of the girls ratted in everything from gray to brown and off colors too . . . Noted "Book" Johnson in a classy brown . . . The S. A. B.'s affair didn't go over in such a big way, but I guess the less said the better . . . Seems as if one gentleman played bakery business Sunday . . . But it wasn't told to me, I only listened . . . Those famous track stars of ours out to Drake traveled to Lawrence, Kansas, this week to enter the Kansas Relays . . . They're actually getting to be the tops . . . Skating is rapidly becoming the vogue around this town, with a skating class at the central YW and a skating class at the East Side Community, things will be O. K. . . . mother on Christmas eve of 1933. Clay is alleged to have suggested a ride to the football stadium, where they crossed the field to Folsom's house.

Desiring to get warm, he knocked at Folsom's door. Clay is said to have pointed a gun at Folsom, tied him up and then proceeded to take money and jewels from the house. "I am colored and you are white," Mabel claimed Clay told her. We'd better kill this old man." She claims that after the murder took place a stick of wood was put in the door to make it appear that Folsom had frozen to death.

Jewelry Taken

Among the jewelry taken, two rings were submitted as exhibits by the Folsom family. These rings were worn by Mabel Davis around Iowa City and Waukegan, Ill., where Clay is said to have pawned and borrowed money on them.

Clay's mother and twin sister, Lucille, testified of his taking the sister to station to the train for Chicago, and his return home. Mabel Davis wrote constantly and took care of Clay with money she received from white men, they told the court.

nation is still high and that the people have implicit faith in Haile Selassie's leadership.

Owing to a complete lack of defense against aerial and poison gas attacks, continued the spokesman, the Ethiopian armies were forced to retreat in the north.

But, he contended, the Italians have committed a strategic error by extending hastily their lines with the rains daily becoming heavier. Difficulties in keeping open communications south of Markale and in the Lake Tsana region will supply the Ethiopians opportunities to exhaust the invaders by harassing their lines.

Addis Ababa, Ethiopia, April 17.—(Special)—"Before I would consent to a peace proposal which would grant Italy any territorial concession or any political power in Ethiopia, the battlefield would be my deathbed and I would die fighting for the same freedom Emperor Menelik so ably preserved."

This was the defiant challenge hurled by Emperor Haile Selassie at Europe, at Italy and at other powers who seek through the Rhineland situation to bring the war between Italy and Ethiopia to a close, granting Italy what she seeks in this country as a price for her co-operation in Europe.

OUR TROUBLES ALIKE

There is a great similarity among editorials appearing in Negro newspapers touching race issues; they differ in the degree that consideration is given Negroes in their respective communities. We hear much about big things Negroes are doing in New York and Chicago—and they are big greatly because of the enormity of their population and yet their papers complain about the same things as we do here in Des Moines.

Recently we have gone through a rather strenuous city campaign in which Negroes played a pronounced part. Undoubtedly the closeness of some of the races demonstrates that either way the Negro vote went, the candidates for whom most of them voted were elected. Undoubtedly there must have been some understanding between candidates and their backers as to what would happen after the election.

But as yet no new appointments have been made. The Bystander is hopeful that something tangible can be worked out, but it dislikes to see all the places filled and then the Negro kept out because of that reason. It is not a good argument to intelligent people and surely Negro politicians are not going to be satisfied with it.

THE CORRECT WAY

Each time an anti-lynching bill has been passed by the U. S. Senate, Southern members have argued that the suppression of lynching was a matter for the states and if left to exercise their sovereignty the states would handle the situation properly. This argument has had a lot of weight not only with spineless senators from the North who were anxious for an excuse to keep from voting on the bill, but also with some conscientious senators who object to handing over to the federal authorities additional power not already delegated.

Past experience has demonstrated that not only have the states failed but they have refused to act to stop lynching. However within the past few days two outstanding examples have occurred where the officers of the law averted lynchings.

In Georgia last week upon hearing that a lynching was about to occur a judge left his sickbed, faced the mob and without a blow being struck dispersed a mob bent on lynching a man who it developed committed no crime except in defense of his person. What this judge did others can do and if they will America is going to have a better record of law enforcement.

GODD EXAMPLE

Last week Des Moines had as guest a regional conference of the Delta Sigma Theta sorority. Among the leaders in this sorority were women who had gone to college and are succeeding in their chosen fields. Some of the outstanding delegates were Iowa girls many of whom had finished Iowa schools.

Their success ought to be an encouragement to the boys and girls in school who wonder what the prospects are once their training is completed; it ought to be an incentive to those who hesitate to finish their education thinking they will be no better off than those who don't.

Des Moines ought to have more such conventions that it may meet successful Negroes from other communities also, for most people can't travel and the masses won't read about them.

PEACE PLANS TO HAVE O. K. OF LEAGUE

ADDIS ABABA, April 10—In a statement issued here this week, Emperor Haile Selassie said he would accept peace only in accordance with the framework of the covenant of the League of Nations and in the spirit of the League.

"Ethiopia is not defeated," the emperor declared. "My armies are prepared to fight until not a single Italian aggressor is left on our territory. We certainly are not suing and will not sue for peace. We have enough men, provisions and ammunition to fight our enemies as long as they can stand up against us."

LONDON, April 10—Open skepticism greeted reports reaching here this week of another "shattering victory" for the Italian invaders over Ethiopian troops on the northern front.

PEACOCK WOULD GIVE NEW AWARD TO JESSE OWENS

Philadelphia, Pa., April 10—Eulace Peacock, Temple university's great sprinter, defeated his outstanding rival, Jesse Owens, last Saturday in Cleveland, but refuses to accept the gold medal.

In a letter to meet officials Peacock said that "Owens was entitled to the first place medal, and I am asking you to send it to him and not reward me in any way. Jesse, one of the finest sportsmen I have ever met, is entitled to the medal more than I. It also is the wish of Mr. Ben Ogden, my coach, that Owens be given the gold medal."

The reason for this is based on the fact that in the originally scheduled final of the 50-yard dash Owens failed to get off his mark because his starting blocks slipped.

G-MEN IN WENDEL CASE PROVOKE N.A.A.C.P. QUERY

NEW YORK, April 10—The activity of U. S. Department of Justice agents, or "G-Men," in investigating the alleged kidnaping of Paul Wendel, the man who was alleged to have confessed to the Lindbergh kidnaping, has led the N.A.A.C.P. to inquire of the Department of Justice why no such investigation was made of the Claude Neal kidnaping and lynching in 1934 in Florida. The telegram was addressed to Attorney General Homer S. Cummings.

The agents of the Department of Justice are investigating the Wendel case upon the report that Wendel was kidnaped and tortured in order to make him confess to the Lindbergh kidnaping. No reason or reward was

VARICOSE VEINS

Varicose veins of the legs are seen principally in middle adult life and are more often in women than men. The veins appear as elongated twisted cords seen just under the skin. The causes of varicose veins, 1. weakness of the walls of the veins, 2. slowing of the blood flow through the veins, because of prolonged standing, certain heart and lung diseases, tumors or even very tight garters.

Symptoms: Varicosities usually develop very slowly, both legs being affected in 70 per cent. of the cases; there may be pain in the leg and the sole of the foot, heaviness of the limb, and swelling of the leg, particularly after walking or standing, and sometimes severe muscular cramps.

As a complication to varicosities there may occur a varicose ulcer on the lower inner surface of the leg caused by sticking the leg against a chair or some hard object, the ulcers will sometimes remain for years. Rupture of one or more of these disturbed veins will sometimes occur causing the patient to lose a considerable amount of blood.

The treatment may be medical or surgical. Much progress has been with the injection treatment in the varicose veins.

M. W.—Tell me how long will I live here and what will become of me?

Ans.—You will continue to live with your sister just as long as you care to. She will see to it that you are taken care of if you continue to respect her as if she were your mother.

Ans.—This course would prove very educational, but if you want to make nursing your profession you should go in a hospital and take training. Actual experience is what a nurse needs, and you can't get this through the mail.
