Emperor Selassie Rests in Holy Land

JERUSALEM, May 15.—Haile Selassie, who, in order to avoid further bloodshed retired a week ago into the Holy Land, is now the subject of serious concern among members of his immediately family and his faithful followers.

The Ethiopian monarch suffered a heart attack while on the British cruiser the Enterprise which bore him and his royal escort to Haifa, but recovered long enough to set foot in Jerusalem unassisted.

Immediately following his arrival, however, the self-exiled Emperor suffered a relapse. He was visited by the personal physician of Sir Arthur Grenfell Wauchope, British High Commissioner for Palestine.

The emperor was too ill to talk with Dr. Asaj Worqneh C. Martin, his minister to Great Britain who telephoned him from London. He spent hours lying listlessly on a couch with his pet white dog Lulu beside him.

As a result of the royal refugee's condition, his departure for England which was fixed for Wednesday on a Royal Dutch Air Line plane has been postponed for at least ten days. His physician found him suffering from shock and nervous fatigue as a result of going practically without sleep for the last two months.

NEGRO DEMOCRATS TO HOLD CONVENTION

The executive board of the Iowa Negro Democratic League has issued a call for the state convention of the organization to be held in Des Moines Saturday, May 23. State Chairman Henry U. Mease, reports that delegations are expected from the following cities: Cedar Rapids, Waterloo, Fort Dodge, Ottumwa, Burlington, Sioux City, Centerville, Council Bluffs, Perry, Sacine, Valley Junction, Mason City, Pershing and Albia.

The Roosevelt Negro Democratic Clubs, 1 and 2, of Des Moines elected 30 delegates at their meeting Tuesday evening, and will also serve as host to visiting delegates of which more than fifty are expected. Morning and afternoon sessions of the state meet will be devoted to business, committee reports and election of officers. A public meeting will be held in the evening at a local auditorium at which prominent Democrats from out of state will speak.

Bishop Heard and Other Dignitaries to Face Trial

NEW YORK, May 15.—(Special)—After a stormy opening in which two high church dignitaries—Bishop William Allen Fountain of Atlanta, Ga., and Ira T. Bryant, secretary of the Sunday School Union, almost came to blows, ministers and delegates have finally settled down to business as the 30th quadrennial General Conference of the African Methodist Episcopal church entered its second week here in Rockland Palace, 155th street and Eighth avenue.

Thus, this flag-bedecked palace came near being converted into a fistic arena, as it was reported that Bishop Fountain swung at Secretary Bryant but missed him.

Cause of Wrangle

The near fight, it is said was the result of an uncomplimentary remark made by Mr. Bryant concerning the bishop. The trouble was precipitated by the announcement by Rev. S. B. Butler of Texas Conference that a "certain" general officer of the church had allowed himself to become a lay delegate thus having double representation at the conference. Rev. Butler asked the conference to decide whether or not a general officer can become a lay delegate, thus having double representation.

The wheels of legislative machinery are beginning to turn over so rapidly that it is expected that by the end of the week, three bishops to fill the vacancies of the late Bishops Henry Blanton Parks, Josuah H. Jones and William Sampson Brooks, will have been elected.

Expired Sunday

Suspended four years ago at the general conference because of the mis-handling of funds, Bishop William T. Vernon of Kansas City, Mo., one-time registrar of the United States Treasury, was reinstated this week when he took his seat on the platform with other prelates Sunday morning.

Bishop Vernon's suspension expired Saturday making him eligible to serve as an active bishop beginning Sunday.

Anti-Lynch Caucus Petition Now Ready

PRESSURE NEEDED FOR VOTERS

WASHINGTON, May 15.—Some time this week the Democratic congressmen in the House are expected to declare in caucus the party policy on a federal anti-lynching bill. This became more than a possibility today when the petition calling for a caucus on this legislation was presented to Caucus Leader Edward T. Taylor. Mr. Taylor, who is in bed with a cold, sent word that he would receive the petition and his office would act officially for him.

The presentation was made last week by Congressmen Thomas F. Ford of California and Joseph A. Gavagan of New York. Thirty-nine signatures, fourteen more than are necessary, are attached to the petition.

Some members have advised the N. A. A. C. P. to drop all action this session and wait until next year. Some have advised against the caucus in favor of the slower method of seeking 218 signatures to discharge the bills from the judiciary committee. It might take two years to get this number of signatures and the N. A. A. C. P. turned thumbs down on that method. Some members have held aloof from the fight on the ground that they were following the advice of Congressman Arthur W. Mitchell. Mr. Mitchell has not signed the petition for a caucus.

Atty. Brown on City Legal Staff

SPECIAL LAWYER FOR CORIFICATION OF CITY ORDINANCES

Atty. S. Joe Brown, who has been practicing law here for the past 35 years, was named last week by the newly elected city council on the staff of the city solicitor and was assigned special duty of collecting, revising, bringing up-to-date, and codifying the ordinances of Des Moines. The salary will be $1,200 a year, working half-time, according to Vernon Seeburger, city solicitor.

His appointment was recommended by Mayor Joseph E. Allen, a schoolmate at the University of Iowa over 40 years ago. Atty. Brown was one of the leading factors in swinging Negro votes to his side in the recent city campaign. He also led the Allen's successful fight in 1934.

A staunch Republican, Brown was endorsed by Negro Democratic League, Consolidated Negro Voters League, Ministerial Alliance, Lincoln American Legion Post, prominent citizens of both races of Des Moines and Polk County Bar Association.

Atty. Brown is one of the leading figures in Des Moines' religious, civic and community life. Trustee, class leader and teacher in St. Paul A. M. E. church, former national Masonic officer, local NAACP founder, a Phi Beta Kappa student while at University of Iowa, are some of the countless honors have been bestowed upon the veteran attorney.

NAACP Face Dixie Schools In Race Exclusion Battles

STIFF LEGAL FIGHT AHEAD

IN U. OF MISSOURI CASE
ST. LOUIS, May 15.—The University of Missouri is evidently expecting a hard battle over the suit of Lloyd Gaines to enter its school of law because six eminent attorneys have been retained to argue against N. A. A. C. P. lawyers who will be fighting for Gaines.

The university lawyers include Messrs. Cave and Hulen of Columbia, Missouri; Judge Fred L. Williams and George C. Wilson of St. Louis; Frank M. McDavid, Springfield; and William S. Hogsett, Kansas City.

This array of legal talent indicates how important the case looms in the minds of Missourians. This line-up is similar to the cause with the N. A. A. C. P. brought against the University of North Carolina in 1933 when the state used its attorney general, the first assistant attorney general, and three professors from the law school of the University of North Carolina.

Against the six Missouri lawyers will be Sidney R. Redmond of the St.

Louis N. A. A. C. P., and Charles H. Houston of the national office of the N. A. A. C. P. in New York. The hearing is set for May 25.

"LILY-WHITE" CONSTITUTION
MEMPHIS, May 15.—Facing the mandamus suits filed April 29 by the N. A. A. C. P. on behalf of William B. Redmond, II, of Nashville to compel the University of Tennessee officials to accept Redmond's application for the School of Pharmacy, the University officials have cited the state constitution in justification for their policy of excluding Negroes from the university.

The Tennessee Constitution of 1870 provides for the creation of a "common school fund," and then states that "No school established or aided under this section shall allow white and Negro children to be received as scholars together in the same school." President Hoskins in a statement to the press declared that the law is binding on the University, and the officials must obey it.

Negro Boy Wins First in Nat'l Declamation Meet

ABILITY SURMOUNTS JIM CROW

IN SOUTH
OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., May 15.—Surmounting Jim Crow barriers and ignoring other indignities meant to impress upon him his inferiority to the southern whites in whose midst he was, Caleb Peterson, Peekskill, N. Y., high school student won first prize in the national declamation contest finals held here Thursday.

Peterson came here for the contest sponsored by the National Forensics League, from a section of the country much more liberal than this. In fact so liberal was the section from which he came that it was not even thought necessary to mention that he was not white as were the contestants from other sections of the nation.

Smiles
On his arrival here officials told him, with guilty smiles on their faces, that Oklahoma is a southern white state and that in compliance with laws separating the Races he would not be able to compete with the white contestants on the platform of the white

Dr. Jefferson's Counsel Plans No Appeal; Satisfied

By Everett Wadsworth, Staff Writer
After a deadlock of eight hours a sealed verdict, was rendered Thursday at 9 P. M. which was read by Judge Shankland Friday morning. The jury awarded Alice Piper, white nurse, $1 for damages suffered in her breach of promise suit against J. Alvin Jefferson, Negro physician, and the costs of the action.

S. Joe Brown, defense counsel, declined to comment but indicated that there would be no appeal. Atty. Melvin R. Carl, attorney for plaintiff, said that Miss Piper was a victim of circumstances. "Had that been a white doctor, a different jury, free from prejudice, she would have gotten from $500 to $3,000 judgment."

"They ignored justice completely in their desire to 'teach you a lesson,'" he told his client. "They gave you the minimum under the law; it is a moral victory." Miss Piper made no statement.

Dr. Jefferson released the following jury for their consideration. However, to the press after hearing the decision, "I am very thankful to the jury for their consideration. However, I don't see how people can frame up a case so much untruthful evidence."

A jury in District Judge F. S. Shankland's court Thursday afternoon deliberated on whether or not Alice Piper, 33, white nurse, would get any of the $10,000 damages for breach of promise to wed made by Dr. J. Alvin Jefferson, Negro physician and surgeon. Six men and six women, all white, received the court instruction at 11 a. m. Thursday following the final argument of Melvin R. Carl, Negro attorney for Miss Piper. Defense Attorney S. Joe Brown concluded his argument late Wednesday.

The veteran physician, nationally known by his almost quarter of century of practice in Des Moines and vicinity, remained cool and self-possessed during the trial. Twice he displayed emotion; when Atty. Carl was making his charge to the jury on Wednesday; when he chewed on a toothpick nervously and appeared ill at ease and the second, when his counsel referred to the "dead body of Anna Jefferson at St. Paul church in April of 1935" the doctor removed his glasses and wiped tears from his eyes. In his argument to the jury Atty. Carl called them "crocodile tears."

Dr. Jefferson was dressed in a well-pressed gray suit. He was wearing a white boutonniere, rimless spectacles with yellow gold bows and a wrist watch. He often rubbed his handkerchief over his face.

No Race Feeling

At the opening of the trial, each day persons milled about the door awaiting a rush for choice seats. During lunch intermission, many spectators remained in their seats munching sandwiches, popcorn, fruits and other edibles that they could hardly carry in their pockets. An unusually fine spirit between the races were noted and at no time did your correspondent hear any racial animosity expressed or unfavorable nor slurring remarks.

Many got a good hearty laugh while others just expressed opinions. "Des Moines church folk, society and townspeople of both races who packed the courthouse beyond capacity and gawked, gazed, grinned and even guffawed at the trial which began Monday. The testimony "rolled the spectators" in the aisles until Judge Shankland gently asked for order. Love letters purportedly written to the white nurse were read to the jury at the first day's session. The red-haired nurse was dressed in a gray purple suit, red "cart wheel" hat and red accessories. The reading of the letters, which were signed "Al" were objected to by Atty. Brown because the ink on the envelope and letter differed and secondly, Miss Piper knew that Dr. Jefferson was already married and it was impossible for him to have proposed marriage to her.

"Professionally"
One of the letters called her "baby" and the other said she was the writer's "inspiration." Both said he loved the white nurse "with all his heart." Miss Piper said she and the doctor first met professionally. She lives at Bandurant, Ia.

Dr. Jefferson was prevented from marrying Alice Piper by his racial inhibitions and his knowledge that such a marriage would ruin his practice, he testified Tuesday.

After Miss Piper testified she'd never be the same as the result of her romance with the Negro doctor, he took the stand to declare she had made the advances. She first visited

Church Groups Ponder Issues

The Rev. Alexander P. Shaw of New Orleans was named bishop Wednesday to succeed Bishop Mathew W. Clair of Louisville, Ky.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, May 15.—The question of a successor to Bishop Mathew W. Clair who was one of the only two Race bishops in the Methodist Episcopal church was paramount in the minds of Race delegates at the beginning of the second week of the general conference of the church which is being held here.

Altogether a total of four bishops is to be named by the body, three of whom are to be white and one a member of the race, to succeed Bishop Clair who has been retired. Bishop Jones is the other Race bishop of the denomination.

The sessions of the conference have been very regular and orderly since last Monday during the discussion and vote on the question of a merger with the Methodist Church South and the Methodist Protestant church.

The action of this body on the question left something of a bitter taste in the mouths of the Negro delegates who are to be jim crowed under the new set-up.

NEW YORK CITY, May 8.—(Special)—With 15,000 delegates and visitors from 96 conferences throughout the United States, Canada, Africa, the West Indies and South America in attendance, the quadrennial session of the general conference of the African Methodist Episcopal church opened here Wednesday morning in Rockland Palace, 156th street and Eighth avenue.

The opening ceremony was marked by a solemn ecclesiastical procession of church dignitaries and prominent laymen followed by the calling together of the delegates by the Right Reverend Joseph S. Flipper, senior prelate of the AME church body.

New Bishops Fight
For three weeks, serious problems and platforms of the church will be taken into consideration, the most important of which is the question of whether or not there should be more bishops added to the connection.

Words of welcome on behalf of New York citizenry on both races, were extended the visiting throng. The high point of the program was reached when the keys to the city were handed over to the Methodists by Mayor Fiorella H. LaGuardia. A welcome on behalf of the state of New York was made by Gov. Herbert H. Lehman.

Bryant On Way Out
Another question that will probably reach major importance will be the effort of a number of leaders to elect a new secretary of the Sunday School Union in place of Ira T. Bryant of Nashville, Tenn. Those who predict his re-election say Bryant will come in for his share of scolding, after which he will be re-elected.

An attempt will be made by a strong Ohio delegation of women to have the AME body revise the discipline of the church so that the women may be ordained elders and ministers. At present women may serve in the capacity of licensed evangelists, ordained deaconesses, missionaries, teachers and stewardesses.

Missionaries
Another issue which will occupy the attention of the Methodist body is the disposition of the missionary work of the denominations.

It has been hinted that delegates from the Virgin Islands and Jamaica will fight the proposal to put all the work in their fields on self-sustaining basis. Under the present arrangement, the workers in these fields obtain support from the general church.

14 Are Here
For the second time in the history of the church, the elected delegates equal in number the elected ministerial delegates from the 96 conferences. Thus the roster will disclose some 450 lay delegates, 450 ministerial delegates, and some 100 odd delegates ex-officio, including 14 bishops.

RT. REV. VERNON IS REINSTATED; WAS OUSTED 4 YEARS AGO
Cheers rang out as he shook the hand of the senior bishop, J. S. Flipper.

Laymen Win Recognition
Laymen, who are sitting on the episcopal committee for the first time were given further recognition in a decision handed down by the bishops Saturday morning when Senior Bishop J. S. Flipper pointed out that "laymen are equal with ministers in the matter of hearing reports on moral, official and religious character of the bishops and general officers," but the decision also said that if a bishop was brought to trial; he shall be tried by his peers who must be elders.

The air is filled with rumors of scandal. It has been learned from reliable sources that four bishops are to be subjected to severe examination about their conduct before the powerful Episcopal committee.

The bishops named are S. L. Greene of Little Rock, Ark., who presides over both the 12th and 8th districts; Bishop W. H. Heard, Philadelphia, Pa., who heads the first district; Bishop W. Decker Johnson of the 14th district and Bishop Noah Williams of the 7th district.

There were three outstanding features of last week's session, the first was the address of welcome extended the visiting throng by Mayor Fiorella H. LaGuardia; the masterly quadrennial sermon by the Rt. Rev. Reverdy C. Ransom and the delivering of the quadrennial address by Bishop William Allen Fountain.

"IMPORTANT STATE OFFICES SHOULD ATTRACT ATTENTION," SAYS STRICKLER
"One of the most important departments of our state government, and one to which people give very little thought is the law-making division."

It should interest the people to know that the office of state representative in the Iowa legislature is one of the most important offices in the state. It is through this office that good or bad laws originate. Other offices and departments merely carry out the laws that are made. Every citizen should be extremely interested in the class of men that are sent to the state legislature. It may mean a decent living wage, or it may mean the bread line.

As a candidate for this office I want to be in a position where I can render the most service to everybody. I do not believe in laws for the benefit of the rich people only. We know from past experience that high priced lobbyists have been able to put through laws for the benefit of specific groups, which were extremely to the disadvantage of everyone.

The home owner and the working people should soon wake up to the fact that in order to get laws which benefit them, that it is necessary for them to support men for these offices who are of the highest, not only mental type, but of moral fibre.

I am a candidate for the nomination on the Republican ticket in the June primaries for the office of state representative, and I want all you people to know that if I am elected representative, there will be at least one man in your state law-abiding body who will be free enough from political entanglements, and have courage enough to stand for that which is for the benefit of the people. If this is the type of man you wish, I would like to have you vote for Milton W. Strickler for state representative."

HAMMILL IS RUNNING FOR COUNTY RECORDER

Mrs. Jene Hammill of 915 Thirtieth street is a candidate for the office of recorder of Polk county on the Republican ticket. Her experience in the business and professional world qualifies her for this office. She has been active in Des Moines community life for the past seventeen years and is now serving on the board of the following organizations: Iowa Republican Women's club, department of Women's Affairs, Chamber of Commerce; Y. COUNTY ATTY. BURKMAN IS UNOPPOSED FOR 3rd TERM

For the first time in the history of Polk County politics a county attorney candidate does not have opposition at the Republican Primaries for a third term. This distinction goes to County Attorney Carl A. Burkman.

Usually when a candidate for office has served two terms there is always a clamor against his serving a third term, but this year there was no attempt of any lawyer in Polk County to file against Burkman.

With five assistants in the office, Mr. Burkman has to supervise their work as well as his own. Since 1933 Mr. Burkman has been the attorney for the board of supervisors, sheriff, auditor, recorder, treasurer and all the officers of the various subdivisions of the county.

All the business pertaining to the County is passed upon by Mr. Burkman, and his assistants, as well as all the prosecutions of criminal cases in the county. One of the assistants spends all his time at the Municipal Court investigating and prosecuting various cases before that court, another Assistant spends most of his time handling the Grand Jury and all appellate work, while another has the tax matters pertaining to the county, another handles all the liquor, contempt and desertion complaints. All of the Assistants, as well as Mr. Burkman, handle the trial work when the jury is in session.

The competency of the office is well known to the lawyers of the city, and also to the public. With the experienced help in the County Attorney's office, the taxpayers of Polk County feel that this office is kept intact.

Broad Economic Progress—The Way It Can Be Achieved

By HAROLD G. MOULTON
President, The Brookings Institution, Washington, D. C.

MUCH current discussion of economic problems is focused too intently on the depression to shed real light on our fundamental difficulties. Today's troubles obscure our view of what is likely to happen tomorrow. Actually our economic structure was being undermined by grave maladjustments long before the depression; in our "prosperity" years, millions of American families were poor.

Farmers and people in the small towns scarcely need to be told this. In 1929 and before, agriculture was not prosperous. Farmers had to pay high prices for the things they bought, but got little for what they sold. They were in a depression even then—caught between what looked like irresistible forces and an immovable body.

There are about 54 million farmers and people living in the small towns. In addition, professional men, domestic workers, small shopkeepers and others etc. It would not merely "soak the rich." Purchasing power can be increased only as we learn how to produce goods and services more efficiently and pass the benefits of that efficiency on to the masses. If we devise a way to make two articles where we formerly made one, and we pass on this gain to the people, purchasing power is actually created—the extra article can be sold.

Higher Wages and the Farmer

Organized labor for many years has tried to obtain the benefits of increased efficiency by pressure for higher wages. When improvements in production methods in a given plant made it possible to turn out two articles at what one had previously cost, organized labor sought to direct the savings into higher wages.

This gave certain groups of workers more purchasing power, but the effect on farmers has not been favorable. It has forced them to pay higher prices for manufactured goods or has prevented them from obtaining lower ones. The same was true in large degree of the city dwellers mentioned above who do not work for wages, numbering 20 million. An economic disparity was created between two great segments of our population, raising a serious barrier to economic progress.

But if we permit the fruits of man's inventive genius and technological advance to reach the people in the form of price reductions, no such barriers are raised. All classes benefit alike to the extent that they are consumers; the chief gain is in the low income groups where it is most needed.

To the farmer, it means better houses, tools, food, clothes, and in general a steady rise in his standards of living that he can get no other way. Price reductions, of course, must not come from wage cuts. If they are to increase purchasing power. But we must reduce prices as we learn to make things more cheaply. This is the way we can expand consumption solidly, year after year, which in turn will call forth larger production. It is the way forward envisaged in the theory of our "loss system." Increased efficiency makes price reductions possible; competition insures that they actually take place.

Price Stabilization Tendencies
Whereas the period of great technological advance between 1870 and 1890 brought notable price reductions, contributing much to raising living standards, there was little reduction of prices in the similar period of 1922-29. Productive efficiency in manufacturing in the latter era as measured by output per worker, increased about 25 per cent. But forces of price maintenance had become so strong that retail prices in the aggregate remained practically stationary.

Of course, there was competition in many lines, and prices declined accordingly. But this was not true of all producers. Artificial devices to maintain prices dummed up the stream of progress. Producers neglected to face the fact that in the long run they could prosper only as the masses could buy an expanding volume of their goods.

This fact must be faced. We must remove the obstacles to price reductions which now exist, wherever they are. It is the only way that people who live in small towns or on farms, or otherwise do not work for wages, can fully participate in our economic progress. And, unless these do participate, we can have no broad, continued progress.

The failure of industrial prices to decline is primarily responsible for the movement in recent years to attempt an improvement in the farm situation by artificial methods of restricting production, with a view to restoring "price parity" with industry. However helpful such policies may be temporarily, agriculture and industry combined obviously cannot expect to increase the total production of goods and services for the American people as a whole by restricting output and raising prices of output, giving to all the people the largest possible consumption, is the paramount necessity.

Purchasing Power Must Expand
Our productive efficiency is increasing year by year in normal times. Things are learning how to make things more cheaply. But if the people are to buy the added products thus made possible, their purchasing power must grow with production.

Expanding purchasing power cannot be created simply by printing more money. That would just raise prices. And we cannot accomplish much by "sharing wealth or income." Such a program would entail taking income from skilled workers, many farmers, small shopkeepers, government clerks,

ED R. BROWN SEEKS RE-ELECTION TO STATE LEGISLATURE

Mr. Brown, graduate of the Capital City Commercial College and the law school of Drake university practiced law in Adair county, where he was twice elected county attorney, and has been in the law practice in Des Moines for twenty-two years.

While a member of the legislature in 1931 he wrote and procured the passage of the laws eliminating the fee system for the county attorney and sheriff of Polk county, and since 1933 these laws have saved the taxpayers of Polk county from thirty to forty thousand dollars a year.

He favors good wages for labor and believes that the present old age pension law should be strengthened. Mr. Brown is the only candidate on either the Republican or Democratic tickets with previous legislative experience.

"With these facts in mind and with the success of the party in view for the November election, every man and every woman who is interested in Republican success should go to the primaries on June 1st and pull the lever for Sam K. Miller for county auditor, for in so doing they are taking a decided step in the direction of accomplishing those results," they further state.

Walda Goes
Round & Round

Well, nothing at all to say this time, except maybe, the sex is different, this issue it is My Girl Thursday, Walda.

We've been having lovely weather lately so I'll try to be good to everyone. Were you aware of the fact that Joe Louis, the Brown Bomber, likes Jimmy Lunceford's orchestra better than any other. Incidentally the "Harlem Express" will appear at the Pla-Lan ballroom Sunday night with four hours of "Torrid Rhythm".

Orchids to Gust Manoles for supplying his ball team with new uniforms—they're simply too swell. I hope everyone has a nice time on the picnic at Union Park Sunday. Too bad L. L. wasn't invited.

What! Braddie M. didn't take J. B. to the party at the Y Tuesday night! Now what's wrong. Whenever you get as popular as "Buck" Mays, so popular that a group of girls will fight you—you have reached the heights of popularity—Incidentally Buck and "Gene the Jeep" were seen at the East Side D. S. the other evening wearing red ribbons on braids—George Robinson's name has been appearing in the column every week Walda writes it—We're giving his name a rest. Wonder if Walda likes G. W. that much—she happens to be stealing some of Tillie the Toiler's Romantic Romeo thunder on Paul Woods—Stop! Look! and Listen! Don't miss the Interracial State Amateur Boxing contest at the Jewish Community Center on the 19 to 21 next month—The Loafers Club has been exterminated since Eddie Reeves has left town, L. T. Johnson has secured work and Leo Simms is training for boxing, Leo has shocked all the ladies at the Center by running around in his bones and trunks. Welcome to Des Moines—By the way, he is better looking and resides with Paul Walker at 629 2nd Street, girls—Things that we know—Chops Robinson is anxiously awaiting Ernestine Ross's visit in town Sunday—He has competition where S. H. is concerned—That something will have to be done about ARNOLD WILEY's hands when D. W. is around and has on blouses and skirts with talon fasteners. . . .

Walt Johnson of Jordan High who until recently has been tops with Bessie Colbert, is rushing Vera White in a prodigious fashion. . . . That Les (Red) Hall, Louis Taylor (who were short of funds) were seen tapping at a private party Sunday at the airport and later seen at Mairdrite stand enjoying a delectable repast with Gay Harris, Jo Williams, and Eddie Boone. . . . That Bob Hyde was up on 17th street at 12 a. m. tapping recently. . . . That T. A. has been creeping around parks listening to other peoples radios. . . . That Helen Shultz rates in a great big way with boys from Mississippi. . . . That Zeke Eaves is all right when it comes to track work. . . . That we have some Hyde but no skins. . . . Some Bobs but no wires. . . . Some Browns but no blues. . . . Some Hells and even Wells. . . . Some Hills but no valleys. . . . Some Skippers and even Trotters. . . . That Walda received the following missle the other day and that F. O. M. should collect a dime on it—Quote, "Say Walda: Talk about people going thru fire and water for their lady friends. . . why my friend Fred M. was the second one of the three cars that got thru the flooded highway during the cloudburst between Pella and Oskaloosa on his way to Oak C. C. . . . that M. G. and J. M. seem to be battling it out for that popular "shoe shiner" in Hardway's Barber shop (But where is E. M. S.)—A. Palmer seems to be losing her grip on D. W.—I wonder if E. P. (the dancer from Hollywood) has anything to do with it? . . . the "George Raft" of North High has been seen lately with B. Forrester. At the G. K. D.'s party last Friday night the song "Tormented" seemed to make several young ladies a little unsure of themselves—how about it G. E., C. M. T., J. M., A. C., etc.—The boys C. S., Q. C., and J. D., G. S., etc., weren't so sure of themselves either. . . . what young lady who dances with a group of four girls has been receiving an average of 3 letters a day from admirers located in Ames, Iowa; Keokuk, Iowa; and C. C. Camp? If you can guess these Walda you're alright, Yours for better gossip.

Jefferson-Piper Case

his office in 1926, he testified, to inquire about the cause of death of another Negro doctor, C. W. Adams.

On her second visit, late in July, 1926, she asked that he perform an illegal operation upon her, and he examined her, to find she was an expectant mother, Dr. Jefferson testified. She asked his price and he told her he had no price for such work—would not do it, he said. The testimony that the nurse had agreed to raise a child for the dead doctor, was taken over objection by Miss Piper's attorney.

"She had a way of coming around about once a month after that," Dr. Jefferson said, adding that she later wrote to him. He answered and they struck up a correspondence that resulted in her complaining that "I was too prosaic; she wanted me to loosen up and write more freely."

Wife Died 1935

Miss Piper's lawyer contended the latter reference was to their marriage, which Miss Piper said he first proposed at his home on Labor day in 1927. Dr. Jefferson was married at the time. His wife died April 6, 1935, and he contended he had not thought of marrying Miss Piper previous to that time, and that he had told her it was impossible.

She first proposed the marriage, Dr. Jefferson testified, in his office, in September, and again in October, 1935, saying "Doctor will you marry me?" He said he explained to her that such a marriage would damage his standing, even among those of his own race, and that he had many white professional and business friends who would thus be alienated.

"Must Be Wealthy"

He denied he ever talked about marriage with Miss Piper until she asked him to marry her, and then, he said, he told her he wouldn't marry a white woman "unless she was wealthy."

After the death of Dr. Jefferson's first wife in March, 1935, the obstacle of her marriage to the doctor was removed and they renewed their relations in May, 1935, and talked of marriage, Miss Piper testified.

There was a cooling in what she said was his love for her after the doctor returned from a medical convention in the south last August, Miss Piper said, although the breaking of the engagement did not come until December.

This brought more laughter from the courtroom and a sharp rebuke from the bench, more than half-filled with Negro listeners. Dr. Jefferson explained that a wealthy bride would be necessary to such a union, because his practice would be ruined by the marriage and her money would be necessary to support them.

"Uncle Tom"

Miss Piper replied that he was "too much like S. J. Brown, (Dr. Jefferson's attorney) with his Uncle Tom ideas." This remark also brought down the house. On cross examination it was mentioned again, Dr. Jefferson explaining that Mr. Brown is a leader among Des Moines Negroes opposed to inter-racial marriage.

Dr. Jefferson, 60—said he last opposed their marriage because of the disparity in their ages. Miss Piper said she is 33.

Seven Other Men

Questioned by Miss Piper's lawyer about how he thought Miss Piper felt regarding her social standing in view of her association with him, Dr. Jefferson blurted out, before counsel could stop him:

"I've got a list of seven men now she's had affairs with." He went on to list them as doctors, one minister, business men, etc." While some colored professional and business men shivered at the threatened exposure, uncomfortable glances and dismay crept over the faces of many, while others waited expectantly for the impending explosives which didn't happen.

Hot Temper

Miss Piper, on the stand briefly during the afternoon session, testified she had suffered a heart ailment for four years and had been warned by her father, a Bondurant, Ia., doctor, and by other doctors to refrain from excitement or emotional strain.

Labor Day

Miss Piper said she first became acquainted with Dr. Jefferson in February, 1926, when he told her he had a "fine reference library" at his office and invited her to come up and use it any evening she liked.

Dr. Jefferson proposed marriage to her on Labor day of 1927 at the Jefferson home and talked about marriage most of the time after that, Miss Piper related.

She said she refused the Labor day proposal because Dr. Jefferson was married.

Miss Piper quoted Dr. Jefferson as saying they would live in his home and to have patience, "It would be just a little time."

Love Cooled

After the death of Dr. Jefferson's first wife in March, 1935, the obstacle of her marriage to the doctor was removed and they renewed their relations in May, 1935, and talked of marriage, Miss Piper testified.

There was a cooling in what she said was his love for her after the doctor returned from a medical convention in the south last August, Miss Piper said, although the breaking of the engagement did not come until December.

and as he had been complaining of his health, I went to his office Dec. 3, because I was worried," Miss Piper testified.

"While I was in his consultation room getting weighed, I noticed a picture of a woman on his desk and asked him about it."

"He told me it was a friend from the south, and I objected to the picture."

Forced Out

"I brought up our proposed marriage and it was then that he told me he wasn't going to marry me, that he was only joking."

"He told me 'now get out of here' and grabbed hold of me, forcing me from the office," Miss Piper related.

Objection Sustained

"Asked if she didn't go to the doctor in regard to the performing of an illegal operation, Miss Piper was not required to answer as the court sustained the objection of her attorney."

Miss Piper said her first visit was to inquire about a friend who was a patient of Dr. Jefferson's. She said the friend was a Dr. Adams, also a Negro physician, who is now dead.

Master Lover

In the final argument to the jury, Attorney Carl, short, heavy set and serious, called the Negro doctor a "master lover" and declared that Dr. Jefferson made marriage overtures, after his wife had been given up to die, wooed, and when she fell for him, he played with her heart by calling it a harmless flirtation. With masterful oratory, he declared that Miss Piper loved Dr. Jefferson with the same right as any woman is entitled to.

"Look at him, a man of many moods of love, trying to look as innocent as a lamb," he exclaimed glaring at the doctor.

Atty. Brown, veteran lawyer and austere, declared to the jury Wednesday that "Alice had really been thru Wonderland." Scathing and sarcastic in his denunciation, he shouted "good-looking, young, unsophisticated white girl from the country," who chased after an old, married sophisticated Negro doctor for nine years certainly wasn't seeking love, "Alice Piper's motive was to get some more money!" He used that phrase no less than a dozen times.

S. JOE BROWN'S APPOINTMENT

S. Joe Brown has been assigned to the city legal department to codify the city ordinances, a reward for electing Joe Allen Mayor of Des Moines. Undoubtedly he had not made the campaign he did, Mr. Allen would not have been elected.

Nobody can justly say that Mr. Brown does not deserve a full berth in the department for besides his invaluable work in behalf of Mayor Allen he has campaigned unselfishly during all the years that others might get jobs, he is admirably qualified for the work, he will do justice to the race as well as himself in the performance of his tasks.

The Bystander commends the selection of Mr. Brown.

SENATOR WILSON SHOULD BE NOMINATED

Friends of Senator George Wilson are making every effort to let the voters know his record; they feel that with this in mind Republican voters will give him whole hearted support.

As county attorney, district judge, and state senator, he has served the people of Polk County faithfully and efficiently. Nobody has been too small to get a hearing; no group has been left out of his efforts to represent his constituency.

After all a candidate's record speaks louder than words. Wilson is the type of candidate Republicans need to win in November.

FIRST TEST

When a candidate approaches Negro voters for their support, his attitude on the Negro question should be determined first. If that is unfavorable the matter should stop there.

Among the list of candidates running in the state, county, and national primaries are some whose record for fair consideration for their Negro constituents has been and is miserable. And in spite of this unfavorable record some insist on attempting to fool the voters by seeking their support, a natural thing for politicians to do. But Negroes must not be fooled by them. They should keep in mind that those only who deliver some to the patronage at their disposal should be given any support whatsoever. This is the Bystander's position and it urges its readers to plan the same course.

OUR ANNIVERSARY EDITION

The Bystander will publish its anniversary edition June 12. This has been done each year since 1930 with the following purpose in mind: first, to mark the milestones of continued service to the people of Iowa and, second, to give merchants, churches, societies, etc., an opportunity to greet their customers and friends and to show their appreciation for their trade and their interest.

Few business institutions among the Negro group have been in existence for such a period either in Iowa or elsewhere. The Bystander has lived because it has tried to serve the community and the public has appreciated that service.

We are proud of the fact that Negro men and women have received business training with this institution, which has been valuable in securing jobs in other places and that today a competent staff has regular employment.

We know that the Bystander carries to its readers the best and most accurate news about what the Negro is doing nationally as well as locally, we know that as a result of the publicity The Bystander has given its subscribers among the white group about Negroes a better understanding exists between the two races in Iowa today.

But there is much room for improvement and The Bystander is anxious to make it but only in so far as the Negroes of Iowa—and this is the field we make a special effort to serve—support our efforts to advance what we expect to push ahead. And we hope each reader will see that his organization is represented with a greeting in this edition and that his merchant join in also for only in so far as the merchant with whom our readers spend their money advertising with The Bystander will it make the progress desired.

AUSTIN CURTIS IS ASSISTANT TO GEORGE W. CARVER TUSKEGEE INSTITUTE, Ala

Austin W. Curtis, Jr., assistant to Dr. George W. Carver, director of agricultural research and consulting chemist, Tuskegee Institute, Ala—just completed an interesting study in water color produced from plants. These colors are of vegetable origin and make a unique and lasting appeal to the lovers of art.

The Magnolia, crimson seed, rich in oil, in several varieties have bitter principles, alkaloids and glucoidal properties that have a real significance in the treatment of certain diseases. The extraction and utilization of this oil alone should be of certain interest to Mississippi, (the Magnolia state) as many gallons of this remarkable oil go to waste every year.

Mr. Curtis has been able to develop various shades of color from various substances, and recently announced the following, beginning with the Magnolia seed: Apple peeling, horse chestnut, orange orange chips, sweet potato, pecan shells, peanut skins, black walnut hulls, onion skins, orange peels, banana skins and tomato skins.

Some of these yield large quantities of fine crystals which Mr. Curtis hopes will form the base for some new industries in the South. Mr. Curtis, who is a graduate of Cornell University, is now engaged in preparing Dr. Carver's exhibit which will be shown at the Texas Centennial which opens this summer. The exhibit will show the extent of Dr. Carver's scientific contributions to the world and will also include recent discoveries by Mr. Curtis.

HONORS KEMPER HARRELD

FOR 25 YEARS SERVICE ATLANTA, Georgia. — Morehouse College this week celebrated the twenty-fifth anniversary of Professor Kemper Harreld, its director of music, as a member of the college faculty, and in a series of chapel exercises paid tribute to his services as a teacher and as a friend. As a climax to the week's observance, the program of the annual spring concert of Morehouse College, Spelman College, and Atlanta University in Sisters Chapel on Friday evening was dedicated to him.

Mr. Harreld, who came to Atlanta in 1911, has been a pioneer in the development of the college orchestra and glee club. Under his direction the Morehouse orchestra and glee club was organized. During the past quarter century, it has toured the Eastern United States and become nationally famous through its concerts and radio appearances. Three times the Morehouse quartet has sung for President Roosevelt, once at the White House and twice at Warm Springs. Last year Mr. Harreld achieved another ambition in the organizing of a string quartet, composed of students and faculty members, which will devote itself exclusively to the playing of classical chamber music.

NEGRO STUDENT SUES UNIVERSITY OF TENNESSEE TO STUDY PHARMACY

MEMPHIS, May 8—William B. Redmond, II, of Nashville, a graduate of Tennessee A. & I. State College, class of 1933, today sought a mandamus against Dr. O. W. Hyman, executive and administrative officer of the University of Tennessee, and acting dean of the school of pharmacy of the university, and against the board of trustees of the university, to compel Dr. Hyman to receive and consider his application for admission to the school of pharmacy.

Redmond had applied last December for admission to the school of pharmacy but Dr. Hyman had rejected his application on the ground of color. He appealed to Dr. John D. Hoskins, president of the University of Tennessee, and to a board of trustees of the University of Tennessee. Mr.

Health Tips

By Dr. C. R. Bradford

CATHARTICS AND APPENDICITIS

The indiscriminate use of cathartics by the lay for pain in the abdomen should be greatly deplored and discouraged. A survey of acute appendicitis in one of our large eastern cities shows that 80% of the deaths in this condition were due directly to pre-hospital treatment. The inability to impress upon the public the dangers of delay and the abuse of laxatives is responsible for the spreading of peritonitis seen in these cases.

A Dr. Keyes of St. Louis, found that the death rate among those patients who had taken laxatives is about eight times as great as among those who had not. Dry Mayo of the famous Mayo clinic suggested that every cathartic package be provided with a label that states: "This is not to be taken or given for the relief of abdominal stress or pain—call your doctor."

One should have wholesome caution for abdominal (belly) pains, particularly those in the right lower region. If they are sharp and acute, intensive enough so that the patient must draw up his right leg, do not hesitate a second, but call in a doctor immediately. Sometimes minutes in delay in such cases make the difference between life and death. You cannot fool around constantly pouring poison into the with a ruptured appendix, which is body.

Dr. Delk Seeks to Legislative Post

J. W. Delk, republican candidate for State Representative from Polk County, before the primaries June 1, 1936, was born and raised on an Iowa farm and is well informed regarding the problems now confronting the Iowa farmers and taxpayers.

He served his country with Co. I of the 51st regiment of Iowa Volunteers until the regiment was discharged. Volunteered for service in the world war but was rejected because of physical disability. Is a member of the United Spanish War Veterans and the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

He is a staunch friend of labor and is deeply interested in the problems confronting the laborers today. Has always been an advocate for equal rights and justice for the laboring men and their employers.

Having been in business for a number of years he is conversant with the fact that the interests of the business man must have adequate protection from unjust taxation and legislation.

He is a man of honesty and integrity, well educated and if elected will serve his constituency faithfully and fearlessly to the best of his knowledge and ability.

The public needs men who will represent all of the people and not special interests.

Hoskins approved Dean Hyman's action and cited the statutes of Tennessee prohibiting education of black and white in the same institution. The secretary of the board of trustees answered that Redmond's appeal would be laid before the board at its meeting next July.

for Negroes. Dean Hyman notified Redmond in rejecting his application that admission to the School of Pharmacy was limited to white students only.

HAROLD DAVIDSON OF CLARINDA MAKES BID FOR ATTORNEY GENERAL

Clarinda, Iowa—Harold Davidson, twice mayor and a practicing lawyer in Clarinda, Page county, for nineteen years, as a member with the firm of Stipe, Davidson & Davidson, and known as one of the most able lawyers in southwest Iowa, is a Republican candidate for attorney general.

He finished his law course at Drake university in 1916, is married and has two children.

During the World War Mr. Davidson was commissioned a second lieutenant. He has just retired as Page county chairman of the Republican Service League and is Seventh district legislative chairman of the American Legion, is past commander of the Clarinda American Legion post and past county commander of Page county. Since 1930 he has been Republican county chairman of Page county and has served one term as a member of the Iowa legislature.

Mr. Davidson is the only Republican candidate for a state office living south and west of Des Moines and has been active in the offices of the Republican organization for several years.

Undoubtedly Mr. Davidson will make a splendid candidate and if nominated will carry into the campaign a background of very effective work for the Republican party, a wide acquaintance and the unquestioned ability to make a capable public official.

FRANK HALLAGAN IS FAIR TO NEGRO GROUP

Frank Hallagan former judge of the municipal court and member of the civil service commission of Des Moines, is seeking the Republican nomination for congress from the Sixth congressional district.

His ability as an attorney is recognized, his service in the Spanish-American war and World War is well known to the public; as public spirited citizen he has given of his time and effort for the uplift of all citizens of the city, county and state.

Judge Hallagan's fair attitude on the civil service commission brought to the Negro group the feeling that there was a member who insisted that justice be done whether the applicant was black or white and he served with credit to himself and the public generally.

If nominated and elected to congress, Judge Hallagan can be depended upon to support all worthwhile legislation and will not hesitate to stand up for the rights of the Negro.

Col. E. R. Bennett Seeks Return to Board

Col. E. R. Bennett, supervisor from the First district, is candidate for the Republican nomination to succeed himself.

A lifelong resident of Des Moines, Col. Bennett served in the Spanish-American war and was colonel of the 168th Iowa infantry in the World War.

In 1920 he was elected county treasurer and served two terms. During all his activities in politics, Col. Bennett has made an efficient official and a staunch friend of the Negro. While county treasurer, Attorney James B. Morris was a deputy in the office and since his election to the board he has supported all measures in behalf of the Negro and helped secure the appointment of several. Col. Bennett believes in giving Negroes representation, his friends know it from experience and is entitled to the unstinted support among our group.

LONDON, May 8—The British cruiser Enterprise, which steamed Monday from Djibouti, French Somaliland, toward Haifa, reached Jerusalem with His Majesty Emperor Haile Selassie, accompanied by Empress Quizerro Menen, the 12-year-old Prince Makonnen, Crown Prince Asafa Wosan and a few faithful members of the official family.

The emperor's decision to leave his stricken country came last Saturday night, following a stormy session with his chiefs at the imperial palace at Addis Ababa.

Ministers Refuse to Fight

All of the members of his cabinet in union bolted against the emperor's orders to resist the invasion of the capital by the Italians. He had hoped to halt the fascist advance along the imperial highway from Dessye, but found his loyal troops without food or supplies, and suffering from the arduous campaign in northern Tigre province.

He studied the possibility of a last-ditch stand at the Tenaber mountain pass, and decided to return to Addis Ababa to seek reinforcements for his northern army.

En route to the capital he was fired on several times by hostile bands of his subjects. Arriving finally at Addis Ababa, he found the town thronged with wounded warriors and the families of his slain followers. Faced with an uprising of the Galla tribes in Wogo and Wollo, members of his government and military advisers came to the conclusion that the emperor could no longer serve his country by remaining at the head of his army. Thus Haile Selassie decided to end the struggle against his enemies at home and abroad.

legislation and will not hesitate to stand up for the rights of the Negro.
