1935 Spingarn Medal Award to Dr. John Hope

Late Educator's Work Is Lauded by NAACP

New York, June 5—Dr. John Hope, late president of Atlanta university, has been awarded posthumously the twenty-second Spingarn medal for the year 1935 by the Spingarn medal award committee, of which Oswald Garrison Villard is chairman. The committee announced that only the fact that Dr. Hope was himself a member of the committee has prevented his receiving the medal during his lifetime. The language of the award characterized Dr. Hope as follows: "A distinguished leader of his race, one of the foremost college presidents in the United States, widely and favorably known throughout the educational world, John Hope was admired wherever he went because of his wisdom, his tact, his skill in negotiation, his solid contribution to any conference in which he sat, his remarkable modesty, and his untiring service to both races in the United States. "A graduate of Brown university, he dedicated his life to the teaching of colored youth. First a president of Morehouse college from 1906 to 1931, he had served at Atlanta university in the same capacity since 1928. Under his presidency occurred the epoch-making amalgamation of Morehouse and Laura Spelman colleges and Atlanta university, in which group Atlanta now stands as the foremost Negro graduate school. His achievements in this field were attended by honorary degrees from Brown and Bates colleges and Duxnell, McMaster and Howard universities. For one year he rendered distinguished service among the colored troops in France as a representative of the Y. M. C. A. At one time president, he was a director of the commission on interracial co-operation, which has made such remarkable contribution to improving the relations of the two races. He was president of the Association for the Study of Negro Life and History and of the Georgia State Council for Work Among Negro Boys, a distinguished figure in the Baptist World Alliance and in the work of the Y. M. C. A. and the N. A. A. C. P.

Seat Fight Looms In GOP Convention

TRADITIONAL CONTEST OF LILY-WHITES BEGUN— RACE IN ACTION
Cleveland, O., June 5—(Special)— Battle over seats at the Republican national convention, which opens here next week, attracted the attention of the entire nation as Chairman Henry P. Fletcher and his colleagues settled down to business immediately upon their arrival here Tuesday morning from Washington. From present indications this will be the largest Republican convention since Theodore Roosevelt was nominated in Chicago, and the most bitter since the same Roosevelt bolted the regular and organized the Bull Moose party. With the local arrangements committee, Chairman Fletcher and his aide spent the first day receiving and passing in contests which as usual came piling in from Louisiana, Mississippi, South Carolina and the District of Columbia. Perry W. Howard, Republican committeeman from Mississippi, faces a stiff fight with the lily whites from his state, as does R. R. Church, political leader from Tennessee.

Cadet Davis to Get Army Post

THE PRESIDENT SENDS HIS NOMINATION TO SENATE
Washington, D. C., June 5—President Roosevelt sent to the senate last Saturday the nomination of Benjamin Oliver Davis, Jr., son of Colonel Benjamin O. Davis, United States army, to be a second lieutenant in infantry in the regular army. His name was included in the list of nominations of members of the June graduating class from the United States military academy to be second lieutenants in the various branches of the regular army. Without referring the nominations to a committee, the senate confirmed them immediately en bloc to rank from June 12th, the date of their graduation from West Point. According to the nominations, Cadet Davis stands thirty-fifth in his class. He will be the fourth colored man to graduate from the United States military academy since it was organized in 1802.

19 Negro Seniors Graduate from 2 High Schools

MAXINE PAYNE, CHARLES BOSTON IN NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY
By Everett Wadsworth, Staff Writer
"Life begins at graduation," Thursday night at the commencement exercises will bring this thought to one thousand thirty-two senior graduating from the four Des Moines high schools. Nineteen Negro graduates are numbered in this year's class as follows: North High with 306 had 10; East High with 323 had 9; Roosevelt with 294 had none and Lincoln with 110 had none. Two colored students from East were selected to the National Honor Society. Maxine Payne, who is graduating at 15, received an average of 1 (excellent) throughout her high school career. Charles Boston, nationally prominent artist, was also chosen for his scholastic ability. Athletics, dramatics, music, club work, school service and other extra-curricular activities were incentives for most of the Negro students to win various honors for their school and to inspire them to higher future ambitions.

Wilson and Kraschel Will Tangle in Governor Race

By Everett Wadsworth, Staff Writer
When the smoke of the Iowa primaries battle cleared away Monday between 270,000 Republicans and 140,000 Democrats, political observers found U. S. Senator L. J. Dickinson, avowed foe and outspoken critic of the New Deal, with approximately 40 per cent of the votes cast out of six candidates, as the Republican threat and a formidable leader for a comeback in the November campaign. The "presidential possibility from the corn belt" at Cleveland next week will be opposed by Governor C. L. Herring, the Democratic hope for the U. S. senatorial position. Representative Hubert Utterback was defeated by 53 per cent of the votes. Sweeping Polk county, George A. Wilson of Des Moines will carry the Republican banner this fall for governor of Iowa. The gubernatorial aspirations of the Democrats in November depend upon Lieut. Gov. Nelson G. Kraschel of Harlan. Wilson's victory over John M. Grimes of Osceola was by 20,000 majority. Over 27,000 votes defeated Richard F. Mitchell, Democrat, of Ford County.

Negro Voters Ask For GOP Support

BROWNE NAMED HEAD OF IOWA REPUBLICANS
Resolutions were adopted urging Republican state and county central committee to give Negroes more representation in the conduct of the party and in the distribution of patronage, by the Negro Republican Voters League of Iowa at a meeting Saturday at the Polk county court house. J. G. Browne of Des Moines was re-elected president for the third term. The league, organized by Harry E. Wilson in 1930, voted Saturday to co-operate with the state central committee to help elect Republican candidates. A committee composed of Atty. J. B. Morris and N. L. Black was appointed to incorporate the organization. Other officers named were Mrs. Mary Cabbell of Sioux City, co-chairman; J. O. Winston of Ottumwa, vice chairman; H. E. Wilson of Des Moines, secretary. Members of the executive committee elected were: Mrs. C. D. Bland of Kokuk, Mrs. Rice Lint of Ottumwa, D. T. Mixon of Council Bluffs, O. Lewis of Perry, the Rev. B. Black Legion Acts Spur Anti-Lynch Measure Action

FIFTY-ONE ATTEND CAUCUS
Washington, D. C., June 5—The killings and terrorism attributed to the Black Legion in Michigan and other states has served to stimulate interest in federal anti-lynching legislation, since it has been revealed that the federal government at present has no law under which it can aid the states in routing out lynching organizations such as the Black Legion. There is irony in the fact that

Students Riot at Arkansas State

DR. WATSON'S RESIGNATION DEMANDED—CALLED COED "SKUNK" AND "LIAR"
Pine Bluff, Ark., June 5—"Don't lie to me, damn it, you dirty little skunk." This remark made by Pres. J. B. Watson of A. M. and N. college here, to Miss Verna Mae Winn, a member of the senior class and honor student, resulted in a campus riot which was marked by the brandishing of guns, throwing of bricks and the expulsion of seven members of the class, one of them its president, Kermit Hockenhull. The affair, the most serious of its nature ever to occur here, interrupted an otherwise quiet and orderly school year just six days prior to commencement exercises scheduled for Wednesday. The expelled students were dismissed after an attempt to have the all white board of control oust President Watson for refusing to make a public retraction of his remarks. Feeling among the undergraduates ran high against the other members of the senior class when they deserted their leaders who bore the brunt of responsibility for the outbreak.

SPORTS

Boxing

John Henry Lewis may lose his light heavyweight crown, but it won't be because he is rusty from inaction. That guy fought two bouts in 48 hours winning one by a decision and the other by a first round kayo. He is the busiest change since the days of the Great Gaboon, if you know who he was.

The Gaboon was a first cousin to Kid Mump and used to fight three times a day, once before each meal. Jim Braddock opened his jaws again. The heavyweight boss goes on record as saying that a good right will stop Louis. Nice going jeans; a good right will stop anyone if it lands. Seriously though, Louis does carry his left hand, a bit too low, in our humble estimation, but he seems to offset that by lightning hand speed and rare ability to make opponents miss by moving just enough, one of the hardest things to do in boxing. Try it sometimes and see if you can control the wild urge to duck out of the county when some one tosses a punch at your chin. As a parting shot Braddock adds, "Louis never fought an Irishman." Whata! matter champ, were they barred from the Golden Gloves meets? We might add that Braddock never fought Joe Louis, either.

Charles Broddus was knocked out at Riverview park last week by Kid Chocolate. Don't know who Kid Chocolate really is, but he must be a heavy variety of Chocolate. You know, the kind that drops, Chocolate dropped on Broddus.

The boy who deserved special notice was Archie Williams who ran the fastest 440 of the year in the Pacific Coast championships last Saturday. Incidentally, we may have a lot of dusky high jumpers in the next Olympic meet. Cruter, Albritton, Walker, Johnson and Threadgill. Then with our broadjumpers doing their stuff, some expert will say that Negroes are descendants from kangaroos and will scan scientific evidence to prove that Darwin and all the southern professors of sociology were dead wrong. When that happens, don't say we didn't warn you.

Rev. and Mrs. W. F. Ogelton and two children and Mrs. Moore visited at the H. R. Crayton home Friday evening, May 22. A Children's Day committee was selected. The Missionary society was held Thursday, May 28th, at the home of Mrs. Emma Black. Lawrence Jay on Monday visited here at the Aaron Howard home since Thursday. Richard Turner went to Fort Madison on Saturday with the track team. Presentation of the flag was given Saturday at the A. M. E. church by the daughters and granddaughters of the "Union Veterans of the Civil War." About seventeen of the ladies from the organization were there. The program was in charge of Mrs. H. R. Crayton. Rev. R. W. Steward, pastor of the A. M. E. church in Clinton, delivered the sermon at services Sunday. Lawrence Monday was a visitor at Sunday school Sunday and also A. C. E. League. Nate Black and Mrs. Emma Black were week-end visitors at Des Moines and Oskaloosa.

meleon Uses Tongue to Snare Insect Dinner
The chameleon has five toes which are arranged in opposed sets on both fore and hind feet. Such equipment enables him to walk straight up a wall or upside down on the under side of a large leaf. Unique among lizards, his extremely active tail that rolls downward in a flat spiral, and which he uses for clinging to twigs and vines. When angry or threatened, he becomes a fiery red or a brilliant orange in color, and puffs up like a toad.
The chameleon lives entirely on insects which he catches with his long and somewhat sticky tongue. This tongue is most astonishing to one who has never seen it, says a writer in the Los Angeles Times. At the free end, it is shaped like a club, and at the base it slips into a sheath that is located at the bottom of his throat. When insects are to be caught, he can shoot it out to a distance that is equal to more than half of his total length and return it like a rubber band to its original position. The dexterity with which he operates this wonderful instrument is almost too fast to follow with the naked eye. His eyes, too, are most extraordinary, because the two eyeballs move quite independently. One may be looking at an object behind him, while the other views one in front. Moreover, the eyeballs are almost completely united, leaving only a tiny, circular orifice through which the animal sees and which moves with the eyeball in its almost continual wanderings.

Lord Chancellor Defied King and Paid With Life
On December 21, 1118, in Chesham, London, was born Thomas Becket, son of a wealthy merchant. He was educated in London and Paris, and took up a commercial career. Then he turned to the church, and was ordained deacon, later becoming Archbishop of Canterbury.

Much Food in Sea
Scientists say that if ever the food supply of the world perishes out, it will be possible to live in perfect health on marine products of edible matter in the form of fish as well as vegetables, and sufficient minerals to enable our industries to continue indefinitely. Today, almost the only vegetable foods we get from the sea are in the form of seaweeds, which are extremely nutritious. A recent analysis of dried kelp shows it to have a total mineral content of 35 per cent, and the elements in it are chlorine, potassium, sodium, calcium, sulphur, magnesium, phosphorus, iodine, iron, manganese and copper. Spectrographic analysis has revealed that there are other minerals but in exceedingly minute quantities.—Tit-Bits Magazine.

Gloves Long in Use
Gloves are very ancient articles of dress. Clumsy but serviceable leather gloves, sewn with leather thread, have been found among the relics of cave dwellers. The ancient Greeks used them to protect the hands while doing heavy work, and the Romans wore them as ornaments and a mark of rank. Northern nations always protected their hands more or less, by gloves or otherwise, against winter cold, but gloves did not become with them an important article of dress until the development of the custom of carrying a pet falcon on the wrist. They began then to be made in most elaborately ornamented and embroidered forms. A guild of glove makers was organized in France as early as 1360.

$2,500 Awarded Family of Lynch Victim in La

New Orleans, June 5.—(CNA)—Organizations combating lynch law hailed last week as a tremendous partial victory the award by a federal court jury of $2,500 damages to parents of a 16 year old youth lynched in 1933. In a decision unprecedented in the lynch-ridden south, the all-white jury decreed that Sheriff Lezin H. Himel of Assumption Parish must pay damages to Louis and Lilly Moore. Witnesses testified that two of Himel's deputies helped a mob take the youngster from the Abbeville, La., jail and hang him to a bridge trestle. Himel, they said, was negligent in protecting the boy.

THOMAS PETERSON PUSHED BALLOT MARCH 31, 1870

PERTH AMBOY, N. J.—The fact that Thomas Peterson of this city was the first colored man to cast a vote in the United States was unearthed by an investigator for the WPA—sponsored Federal Writers' Project last week. The investigator, compiling data for "The New Jersey State Guide Book," discovered a fading portrait of Peterson in a Perth Amboy home, and from its owner, a white woman, extracted the story of Old Tom, and of how he won a medal offered by former Magistrate Harold E. Pickersgill for casting America's first Negro ballot.

Peterson voted on March 31, 1870— one day after the Fifteenth Amendment to the Constitution had been ratified. The issue was a city charter referendum. The one-time slave sauntering across to lawn in front of a polling place at 7 o'clock that morning when one of a group of white men sitting on the porch called out: "Hey, Tom, don't you want to vote?"

"Sure do," Tom replied. "And I'm goin' to, too, soon's that amendment gets passed."

"Well," said the white man, "you'd better get started. A herald just got in town with news of the ratification." Joyously, Tom stepped into the booth and pushed the first ballot ever propelled through the slot by a colored man's hand.

Magistrate Pickersgill immediately made plans to strike off the promised medal for ex-slave, but a delegation from Princeton, N. J., objected, saying that one of their colored citizens deserved the medal because he had voted at 2 p. m. the same day for a township committeeman.

In his later years, Tom made capital of his fame, selling his photograph wherever crowds gathered—at fairs, picnics, and parades. The copy of the

CHEERING THROG GREETED WAR HERO UPON HIS ARRIVAL

Chicago—Chicago welcomed home its hero of the Ethiopian war Sunday afternoon when more than 20,000 men, women and children joined in a rip-roaring reception for Colonel John C. Robinson, the "Brown Condor" or Emeror Haile Selassie's royal air force.

Not in history has there been such a demonstration as was accorded the 31 year old Chicago aviator who left the United States thirteen months ago and literally covered himself with glory trying to preserve the independence of the last African empire.

Mermaids Are Mythical Beings; Basis for Idea

Mermaids are mythical beings of the sea supposed to have the form of a woman above the waist and that of a fish below. According to mythology, mermaids had great personal charms with which they lured men to destruction in the deep. There is a slight physical basis for the myth. Some marine animals resemble human beings when seen at a distance in certain attitudes. In some northern countries seals have a way of lifting their heads from the water with a human, intelligent look in their faces, and they hug their young to their bosoms much as a human mother does.

When Henry Hudson was on a voyage between Spitzbergen and Nova Zembla in 1608, he reported that one morning in June two of his sailors saw a mermaid who came close to the side of the vessel, and gazed at them intently. Her face and breasts were those of a woman, but below she was a fish as big as a halibut and colored like a speckled mackerel. If the two sailors were not telling a yarn it is probable that they saw a seal, an animal then little known to Europeans.

A few years later Capt. Richard Whitbourne reported seeing a mermaid in St. John's harbor on the coast of Newfoundland. Whitbourne, like Hudson's sailors, was no doubt the victim of careless observation. Walrusen seen dimly at a distance often appear like mermaids—Indianapolis News.

Some People Made Famous Through Help of Fiction

Few people have had the experience of becoming world-famous as the original of an immortal character in fiction.

Many authors have chosen real people as the original of characters which have become famous.

Quite a number of characters in fiction have achieved sufficient fame to have statues erected to them.

In Munich, Bavaria, Little Red Riding Hood and her wolf are immortalized in stone. Spain has a monument to the memory of Don Quixote and in Paris there is a statue to D'Artagnan, one of the Three Musketeers.

Thousands annually admire a fine bronze statue to Mark Twain's boyhood hero, Tom Sawyer, and Huckleberry Finn. It stands on a national highway near the author's old home.

Wrote "When You and I Were Young Maggie" Song The place made famous by the old love song "When You and I Were Young Maggie," is at Dickwint, Tenn. near a creaking old mill which ground meal for the Indians and pioneers, and the occasion, the return of an aged couple to the scene of their romance, relates a writer in the Cleveland Plain Dealer.

The site is marked by a tablet placed there by the daughters of the American Revolution, which tells of the mill, and about the author, George W. Johnson, who there met wood and married Maggie Harris, and who years afterward wrote the poem about her.

Early in the Eighteenth century, Johnson, who, according to historians, was a rambler and hunter of odd heard strange tales from the Indians about wealth in the mountains of east Tennessee, Johnson landed his canoe and took off from his home near the mouth of the Hiwassee river. Following the river he reached Spring creek, which finally became so shallow he abandoned his canoe and walked. Hearing a creaking mill far up the creek Johnson strode in that direction.

And then he saw Maggie. He gave up his search for gold and stayed around until he had won her, and then took her to his home down the river.

Years afterward when both were aged and gray they returned to the hills, and the scene of the old mill where Maggie lived when she was young. This inspired Johnson to write the poem. His poem was found later by a musician, J. A. Butterfield, who set it to music.

Hotel or Inn Different In Some Other Countries

In England anything from a private house with a couple of rooms to let to a huge establishment with hundreds of rooms, run on the most up-to-date lines—can be described by its owner as a hotel, says Pearson's Weekly.

In Scotland an inn or hotel is defined, under the licensing act, as a place of accommodation having not fewer than four apartments set apart exclusively for the sleeping accommodation of travelers.

But in Vienna, Austria, no establishment may call itself a hotel unless it has at least 50 bedrooms. Outside Vienna the rooms must not be fewer than 30. Also, a fixed proportion of the rooms must be equipped with a certain standard of comfort.

The main requirements that are demanded by Portuguese law are quaintly described as a property dressed with staff, a spotlessly clean dining room with little tables, an entrance as large as possible, and electric light if obtainable.

When March Was First Month Until 1797 Venice began the year on March 1. March was the first up and down the early Christians. Throughout the Middle Ages the year might begin on different dates in different places, and styles of reckoning their names from towns. In many Benedictine monasteries the year was reckoned from Christmas as late as the beginning of the fourteenth century, and this custom persisted even longer in England. In that country the new style calendar was not adopted until 1751, although Scotland adopted it in 1599 and Holland first of all, in 1532. Dates in the "Ecclesiastical History" of the Venerable Bede were more confusing than they are before Doctor Poole, the England scholar, explained that that he used the Greek Indiction, beginning September 1. The Easter cycle calculations of Dionysius became the Roman Catholic, but other tables than his were earlier used in Rome.

Waldie Goes Round & Round

This column is being written this week by a group of young men called the "Imps."

What two popular young men in the "Y Stars" club were run off the East Side? Ask C. B. about it.

S. Hughes says he is going to chill J. Howard for A. P. Meanwhile his two best friends are rushing Gloria T., the girl friend, right off her feet. She seems to have a hopeful eye on that popular young man who lives on 12th, between Day and School.

To listen to Marshall (Mohead, Whatshead, Lotahad), W. tell about. His trip to Omaha is better than going to a movie.

L. (Rap John) L. and B. (snake hips) B. put on an exhibition of the Chicago style of trucking to the music of Duke Ellington's "Tiger Rag," recently.

H. (Chops) R. seems to be rushing the new minister's daughter off her feet. He carried her to North High's class day assembly and to the Drake picnic. "Fast worker, eh!!"

Those four croopers K (rafty) B. M. (lete) M. B. (tap dancing) P., and Q. (P.H.Q.C.) C. had a doggie couple party at K. B.'s house. The couples were K. B. and N. R., Q. C. and L. J., A. T. and L. Q., B. P. and W. T. M. M. and M. C.

Harold Robinson, Leo Simms, Fred Morrow, and Walter Johnson, not to say anything of Braddie Morris, look much too rough, tough, and ready in their white suits.

Miss G. E. entertained two prominent young gentlemen at luncheon Wednesday, June 3, 1936. The young men were Jack Smith from Ames and our own sharp cat Q. C.

The picnic to be given on Sunday afternoon promises to be a swell affair.

We wonder whose heart C. M. (the Countess) T. has broken by leaving him out in the cold again.

The H. Q. B.'s hayride to Grandview park turned out to be a very pleasant trip for a few, but for Richard P. and Ruth F. it wasn't so pleasant.

For what we wonder is L. T. Johnson making frequent trips up on 17th St. He certainly isn't going to see Jean M., now just who could it be?

Little Miss E. M. Sanders is the apple of three or four young men's eyes. Joe Danforth has just returned from a trip to Missouri. Did you have a good time, Joe?

P. E. No. 1. STOOD a new girl up on a show date Wednesday eve. She'll catch on his tricks soon. You know Oscar.

Well, folks, we guess we've told enough now but just remember this warning: "If the 'Goblins' don't get you the 'Imps' will; so be careful we have no mercy."
—The Imps.

Adolphus Robinson, Negro tap dancer from New York, is pictured with Major Bowes and his amateurs, unit No. 6, which is scheduled at the Paramount theatre, starting Friday of this week and playing through Monday night, with companion feature, "Florida Special."

GRACE MOORE HIT AT ORPHEUM
Grace Moore's newest romantic picture, "The King Steps Out," will be the feature attraction on the Orpheum screen, Des Moines, for one week starting Friday, June 6th. Opposite Miss Moore is Franchot Tone, who plays the king.

movies
At the Des Moines and Roosevelt theatres the fun is fast and furious, with Carole Lombard and Fred MacMurray in the rollicking farce, "The Princess Comes Across," and Edward Everett Horton and Glenda Farrell teamed in "Nobody's Fool."

Returning Hits
Downtown at the Strand theatre, Clark Gable, Myrna Loy and Jean Harlow are back in "Wife vs. Secretary" through Monday night, with "Timothy's Guest," starring Eleanor Whitney. On Tuesday the Strand will offer "Melody Lingers On," with Joe Hutchinson, and "The Preview Murder Case." At the Garden, Jean Harlow's "Riff Raff" is paired with the western outdoor drama, "The Trail Beyond," playing through Monday night, and on Tuesday, Jack Oakie's "Collegiate" is paired with "The Murder of Dr. Harrigan."

AN OPPORTUNITY

The Bystander is anxious to do everything possible to keep young people busy. Not only is it valuable in an economic way to keep busy at productive work but it also tends to keep the mind occupied and out of trouble.

Now that school is out hundreds will be idle with no prospect of employment and yet if given an opportunity many would do valuable work.

With this idea in mind The Bystander is offering young people in each community an opportunity to earn money during the summer. The older people should encourage them by urging that they undertake the work and by subscribing and paying for the paper.

THE PRIMARIES

Iowa went to the polls for the primaries Monday. The results were just about what the fellow who has watched the campaign knew pretty well. In the state slates each side nominated strong candidates and we may look forward to a hard fought battle for the finals once the conventions are out of the way.

The Republicans showed strength which surprised many people, the results indicating that with a solid front and a campaign directed in an aggressive manner they ought to recover their lost ground.

Fortunately for the Negro group most candidates on each side there is no reason why some subside are particularly friendly and stantial progress cannot be made in securing more and better representation.

GIVE OTHERS A CHANCE

The school board has raised the salary of the teachers in Des Moines. The Bystander is not opposed to paying good wages and were we not in the desperate situation which faces everybody today it would raise no objection in this instance.

Des Moines, like all other cities, has a lot of unemployment; besides thousands are working at jobs which do not produce sufficient income to pay board and lodging.

While there ought to be no disposition to employ teachers at an unfair salary—and they deserve every penny they get—the Bystander feels that it is not fair to increase any salaries as long as there is opportunity to place on payrolls some of the equally deserving people who have no work.

THE RIGHT WAY

Michigan is tracking down the Black Legion gang which mobbed a man because they disliked his private conduct and it looks as if they will be tried on the charges of kidnaping and murder.

styled law enforcement is not new. Our record of lynching show this. But it is usual to find state officials who wade in, round up the gang and haul them into court in a hurry. Michigan is showing other states how these things ought to be handled. The Bystander hopes that every one who participated will be prosecuted to the extent of the law.

MERCHANTS

What Others Say

BUXTON CEMETERY

Memorial day passed recently. Thoughts of our beloved dead linger tenderly in our memory. Let us pause to follow the writer.

On Sunday, May 17, the writer revisited the site of old Buxton. He was particularly struck by the desolate and run-down appearance of the old cemetery. He wondered why could not some conscientious and responsibility-assuming person lend themselves together to prevent the like fate of the old Muchakineok Cemetery, which is also being neglected. He was particularly struck by the desolate and run-down appearance of the old cemetery. He wondered why could not some conscientious and responsibility-assuming person lend themselves together to prevent the like fate of the old Muchakineok Cemetery, which is also being neglected.

I am sure that a responsible organization could secure the aid of the county, perhaps of the federal agencies, and I know of the various Buxton organizations throughout the country, for such a purpose. Of course, such an organization need not confine all its time to the above task, but such would certainly be one of its duties. It could also assume the role of a friendly get-together club meeting say once a month or once in three months. Because of its proximity to the old site, it could very easily serve as the head organization, making all arrangements for the Buxton reunions, sending out announcements, recommending ways of transportation, etc. This would certainly abrogate the uncertainty surrounding the occasion. The advantages need not be all pointed out here.

It is needless to say that Buxton organizations already exist in Milwaukee, Chicago and other cities. It was the writer's pleasure to visit a large picnic last September in Milwaukee sponsored jointly by the two clubs afore mentioned. Several thoughts naturally suggest themselves here, namely: such a local organization would greatly assist in securing cooperation, as well as in giving the other organizations a convenient head through which they can act more concertedly.

The writer does not care to assume the responsibility of getting such an organization into being. He is merely calling attention to what he thinks might be a useful place for such an organization to fill. He is willing, however, to cooperate and to do his share. The question, however, is: would such an organization fill a useful place?

Irrespective of the answer, with the advent of Memorial Day, the Buxton Cemetery should be looked after.

FOOD AND EXERCISE FOR CONSTIPATION (Do Not Form Cathartic Habit)

Formerly there was little or no instruction from our parents on the benefits of having regular daily movements. The absence of regular movements are more often due to simple constipation than to some disease to the intestines. Many, many people have formed the nightly cathartic habit and honestly believe that it is impossible to get rid of the waste products of the intestines without using one each night. Individuals who lead sedentary lives such as office workers, railroad men, chauffeurs, etc., usually are constipated and are heavy users of cathartics.

The correcting of constipation can often be accomplished by using more care in selecting a diet composed of coarse foods—vegetables and fruits—if the constipation is not due to nervous spasm of the gut in which case coarse food will irritate the bowel. Develop the habit of going regular to the stool at a definite hour each morning. Increase your daily exercise out doors giving the muscles of the abdomen more exercise. Many cases of constipation are due to improper exercise only. Outdoor walking for one half mile or more should be done daily by everyone. Constipation is much more difficult to correct in people past 55 years than in younger individuals.

From the various state officers and national representatives outstanding among which were the report from the National Association of Colored Girls recently held in Cleveland, Ohio, by Miss George Edmunds of Des Moines, who was a delegate to that meeting. Mrs. Edmunds and Mrs. Sophia Nichols delegates and Mrs. S. Joe Brown, parliamentarian of that body gave a graphic description of the National.

Mrs. Brown, who is also chairman of the board of trustees, gave a detained by the Federation at Iowa City, talked report on the Girls' Home main- reporting that $396 had been raised from all sources for the Home during the year. Musical numbers were contributed by Mrs. Hazel Means of Council Bluffs.

C. E. B.—Please tell me who wrote the valentine that my girl received on February 14th. Today, we were playing games and unfortunately I wrote with my left hand and she readily accused me of sending the valentine which was a very bad one.

Ans.—You might tell the little lady that the valentine was sent by a girl . . . for a close inspection of the handwriting will reveal that it was written by a woman. Ask your sweetie to name the girl who is so jealous of her . . . you will find the guilty culprit.

E. C. C.—I am a constant reader of your column in the paper and I should like to know if I will find a nice steady boy friend this summer?

Ans.—Within 60 days . . . you will meet a young man who will make a big hit with you. Prepare yourself to meet a tall, brown skinned boy who will show you many good times before the year is out.

J. B. G.—Please tell me if my husband will find work soon?

Ans.—Not at the rate he is looking for it. Jobs ain't handed out on a silver platter any more . . . so tell him to "shake a leg" and begin hunting a job in earnest. With a little effort he will be at work before this month is ended.

V. S.—The boy I love . . . I want to know if he loves me?

Ans.—HE DOESN'T. If he did he would have made up with you long ago and forgotten about the "spat" you und he had last year. His feelings are now wrapped up in a little beauty who lives out of town.

Ans.—NO SUCH LUCK . . . my reasoning ability reveals no win for you . . . so save your cash.
