Los Angeles Boy Eds Stay Here

WALTER JOHNSON TO RETURN TO CALIFORNIA
By the Staff Writer
After a year's residence here, Walter Johnson, assistant at the Wilson Funeral Home to V. L. Jones, mortician and manager, will leave Sunday to return to his home in Los Angeles, California. His present plans are indefinite, but he will probably resume his schooling.

Johnson starred in football, baseball and track while a student at Jordan high and also at the Compton junior college, where he attended for a year. He has appeared in several movie shorts in Hollywood and has had several offers to work in recent pictures. He also spent some time in the CCC camps in Arizona.
During his stay in Des Moines, Johnson became a leader of the young people and was prominent in civic, church and athletic affairs. Besides being president of the A. C. E. League of the St. Paul A. M. E. church and holding several offices in other young people's organizations, he is a popular musician and all-around athlete. He was one of the pitchers on the Raiders' softball team, co-holders of the Crocker Y. M. C. A. League championship.

During the past week Johnson has been the recipient of several parties and courtesies in his honor. On his way home he will visit relatives in Omaha.

No Forgotten Races F. R. Tells Students

Washington, D. C., Oct. 30—President Roosevelt and Secretary of the Interior Harold L. Ickes took part in ceremonies Monday at Howard university dedicating the new $626,000 chemistry building erected by the Public Works Administration.

Dr. Mordecai W. Johnson, president of the university, and Jesse E. Moorland, chairman of the executive committee of the school's board of trustees, also spoke.
The president and his party were met by the university's ROTC corps—270 strong—which served as a guard of honor and as ushers. The university's famous glee club opened and concluded the broadcast.

President Roosevelt pledged his administration to a policy that "among American citizens there should be no forgotten men and no forgotten races." In the course of his remarks the president said:

"Our purpose was not only to provide work in all sections of all parts of the population, but to enable them all to share in the benefits to be obtained from these works so long as brick and mortar shall endure. As far as it was humanly possible, the government has followed the policy that among American citizens there should be no forgotten races. It is a wise and truly American policy. We shall continue faithfully to observe it."

Mr. Roosevelt lauded the high scholastic standards of Howard university. He said:

"Its founding as an institution for the American Negro was a significant occasion. It typified America's faith in the ability of man to respond to opportunity regardless of race, or creed or color."

39 Monthly Toll Staff Neglect, Say Charges

New York City, Oct. 30—New York City authorities were jolted into action to remedy conditions at the Harlem hospital as Harlem seethed with anger as a result of revelations that thirty-nine babies had died at the hospital last month as a direct result of what was characterized as "neglect, brutal unconcern, and lack of medical attention which amounts to malpractice."

The changes made so far at the hospital include the assignment of one nurse for each sick infant while before there was only one nurse for a whole ward of sick babies. Three nurses were also assigned to the children's ward, one ward nurse and one for each of two isolated rooms.

These changes, hailed as a partial victory for community protests, came after Commissioner of Hospitals Dr. S. S. Goldwater made a hurried and unexplained trip to the hospital, whose authorities he had previously whitewashed in an official statement denying the findings of the report of the mayor's commission on Harlem that intolerable conditions existed at the hospital. The commission's report, buried by Mayor LaGuardia for almost a year, was published by the Daily Worker several months ago.

Colored Voters Can Swing National Final

By Everett Wadsworth Staff Writer

As each candidate goes down the home stretch, and while politicians, committeemen and speakers feverishly urge voters to forget his opponent's good work and listen to his shortcomings as roscated promises are hurled with reckless abandon, more than a million and a half Iowans are prepared to cast their ballots at the general election Tuesday in what is expected to be the largest vote ever counted in the history of the state. Officials report 12,000 Negroes registered throughout the state with about 4,000 colored voters from Des Moines.

The average prognosticator says relief, labor, WPA, the farmer and other agencies swayed by present benefits of the New Deal may send President Roosevelt back to the white house. Other observers believe, however, that business men, farm owners and direct taxpayers will elect Gov. Landon as the nation's chief executive.

Vital Issues

To colored America, however, other vital issues are paramount and important. Anti-lynching measures, opposition to discrimination in civil service and relief and better economic opportunities are causing the prospective candidate to take deep cognizance of the Negro's chance to swing the election.

However as orators rave—"Not since the civil war....." etc., the colored voter is in a strategic position. It might be said he is "on the spot."

Kent's Article
Frank R. Kent, in a recent article, "Negro Vote Decisive," says, "There are registered in New York 287,000 Negroes; in Ohio, 200,000; in Michigan, 134,000, and in Indiana, 78,000—they constitute the balance of power in all these states."

"What that means can be grasped when the number of their electoral vote is considered—New York, 47; Pennsylvania, 36; Illinois, 29; Ohio, 26; Indiana, 14; Michigan, 19—a total of 171. It takes only 286 to elect....."

against; jim-crowding, and segregation of Negroes was passed by Democrats and in states where they are absolutely in control," say the Republicans in their efforts to regain the votes which shifted to the Democratic side in the 1932 landslide; they attack the proposed measures to reduce the powers of the supreme court (the colored race's main protection), and the temporary work policies of the present administration as being detrimental to the future of the race.

The New Deal supporters hope to retain their present supremacy by the citing of benefits of the WPA, NYA and CCC jobs and positions which benefited thousands of Negroes and sent millions of dollars into their pockets; the lack of interest of the G. O. P. for the Negro's welfare during twelve years' reign, and attacking of W. R. Hearst, well known enemy of the race and backer of the opposing party's candidate.

Methodist Prelate Will Begin Mission Work in Africa Soon

BISHOP, MRS. WRIGHT TO SAIL NOVEMBER 6

New York City, N. Y., Oct. 30—At midnight, Friday, November 6, Bishop and Mrs. R. R. Wright, Jr., will sail for Capetown, South Africa, on the S. S. Europa, where the bishop will begin his work under the auspices of the African Methodist Episcopal church for the next four years. Bishop Wright was elected bishop at the last general conference of his church, which met in New York City in May, 1936, after having served for twenty-seven years as editor of the Christian Recorder, four years of which time he also served as acting president of Wilberforce university, America's oldest Negro newspaper, and oldest Negro college. Wright holds the distinction of being the first Negro holding the degree of doctor of philosophy to be elected to the office of bishop.

Under his jurisdiction, Bishop Wright will have nearly 500 churches in a territory in which there are fifty million Negroes. His district extends over Cape Colony, Natal and Transvaal and Southern Rhodesia, also the protectorates of Swaziland and Bechuanaland, which comprise the Fifteenth Episcopal district of the A. M. E. church. In this district are sixty-five schools and one college, Wilberforce institute.

Bishop Wright will be the eleventh bishop sent to South Africa by the A. M. E. church since it began work there in 1895 under Bishop H. M. Turner.

Lesson for November 1

LAW, LOVE, AND TEMPERANCE
(International Temperance Sunday)

LESSON TEXT—Romans 13:1-14.
GOLDEN TEXT—It is good neither to eat flesh, nor to drink wine, nor any thing whereby thy brother stumbleth.
Rom. 14:21.

PRIMARY TOPIC—Why We Keep Rules.
JUNIOR TOPIC—Junior Citizens.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC
—What Shall We Do About Drinking?
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC
—Law, Love, and Temperance.

Revolution, political disorder, anarchy, these are words which characterize much of the world's news of our day. What should be our attitude toward government? Should a Christian participate in revolts against government? These are questions that stir the hearts of men.

The Bible has an answer, and it is found in our lesson for today. Let us study it with care and seek God's message for us and for our nation in these utterly confusing days.

We consider together a portion of Paul's epistle to the Romans in which, having laid his superb doctrinal foundation, he turns to a practical application. Let us ever remember that while right doctrine is necessary to right living, it is never sufficient to hold the doctrine and fail to permit it to control our daily walk.

Good citizenship of the true type is the result of staunch Christian character. Much of the weakness in our political and social life can be traced to the neglect of the things of God in the home, the school, and the church.

Paul presents the Christian as one who has the right attitude toward his neighbors, and toward his own daily walk. The Christian is

I. Politically-Intelligent and Loyal (vv. 1-7).
Lectures on political economy are well worth while. School children should learn to love and honor their country. But for real intelligent citizenship we must have a study of God's Word. For all governmental authority is dependent on a God-given power. No man has any right to rule over any other man except as God delegates that right to him.

No "divine right of kings" is justified by this passage, but clearly it does teach that government is ordained of God and functions by his providence. To resist such authority is to resist God.

Must we always obey the government? Yes; until it commands us to do that which is clearly contrary to the laws of God. We do not resist or question the authority of any properly appointed governmental agency, no matter how weak, or even wicked the agent may be, as long as he acts as "a minister of God . . . for good."

Any government is better than anarchy. But no government has the right to command any man to disobey God.

In our land we have a powerful agency for the correction of governmental weakness and error—the ballot box. Let every Christian use it discreetly and in the fear of God.

Before leaving the passage, note that the Christian does not dodge, "fix," or leave unpaid the taxes which support the government under whose benefits he lives and works. There is too much dishonesty at this point, and we need to correct it.

II. Socially-Honest and Loving (vv. 8-10).
"Love thy neighbor as thyself" and there will be no social dishonesty, strife, and ill-will. Remember the lesson of last week on love—I Corinthians 13.

III. Personally-Clean and Spiritual (vv. 11-14).
"The time when our redemption is to be fully completed—that is, when the Lord himself returns—is at hand. We therefore will not live as those who walk in darkness, but as children of the light, clean in life and thought. We will "put on the Lord Jesus Christ."

In these days when almost every roadside store and hundreds of thousands of city buildings have been converted into drinking places far worse than the old-time saloon, when men and women are making drunkards' seats of themselves, it is indeed time for Christians to raise their voices in protest and to act to protect the boys and girls of America.

But above all—let us win them to Christ, for if they "put on Christ" the flesh to fulfill the lusts thereof."

Respect for Parents
Honor your parents in your hearts; bear them not only awe and respect, but kindness and affection; love their persons, and fear to do anything that may justly provoke them.—Rev. W. Craddock.

Good Neighbors
It is a small thing to a man whether or not his neighbor be merciful to him; it is life or death to him whether or not he be merciful to his neighbor.

Burkman Reduces Expenses in Polk County Public Improvements

Carl A. Burkman, along with having been an efficient and successful prosecutor in criminal cases, has at all times kept a watchful eye in curtailing public expenditures of Polk county funds.

A vivid example of his work has been in the legal proceedings on the establishment of the Walnut creek drainage and levee district. The law specifically provides that the board of supervisors of a county shall employ additional legal counsel for the county attorney in such proceedings, with an unlimited cost as to such attorney fees. Carl A. Burkman has, from the inception of such legal proceedings for this district, prepared all technical legal proceedings and has continuously advised the board of supervisors of Polk county in this project, without additional legal counsel or assistance.

The property owners within a benefited district of this kind are the ones who pay for such additional legal services, but in this instance no assessment shall be made to such property owners for the cost of such legal services.

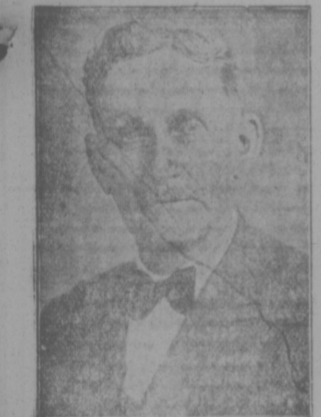

Because of such curtailment in expenses such as has been cited Mr. Burkman is entitled to the wholehearted support of each voter in the election on Tuesday, November 3rd. The record of the county attorney's office, under the administration of Mr. Burkman, bears utmost investigation which will disclose a competent, efficient office.

The Bystander heartily recommends that the voters of Polk county, Iowa, again re-elect Carl A. Burkman for the office of county attorney.

SHERIFF KEELING STANDS ON HIS RECORD FOR RE-ELECTION

Sheriff C. F. Keeling, announced this week that he, "will stand on his record in office for re-election Nov. 3, 1936."

In citing the efficiency and economy of his administration, Sheriff Keeling says that his carefully selected and experienced deputies, working under specialized assignments are ample insurance for continued safety of Polk county citizens and their property.

Countywide Safety
The sheriff pointed out that his deputies come from all parts of the county, giving a county-wide set-up and enabling him to give swift service in all emergencies.

The bureau of identification department of the Sheriff's office is rated second to none in the mid-west, for combativeness and curtailment of crime in Polk County. Lucius Ashby is a regular in this department.

Identification Bureau
Besides its extensive use in furnishing evidence in Polk county courts, the bureau has been used widely by neighboring counties for specialized criminal identification work.

Recently the Sheriff's office has been highly praised by J. Edgar Hoover of the U. S. Department of Justice, ranking Polk County fourth in the nation for freedom from major crime.

Machine Guns
During his term the sheriff has been instrumental through the board of supervisors in equipping his office with the latest type arsenal including machine guns, high-powered rifles, and modern tear gas equipment. All his men have been thoroughly trained in the use of this equipment.

Faced with a heavy increase in business the sheriff has curtailed expenditures to a minimum. The last report of the State Auditor's examination credited the Sheriff's office with perfect accuracy in his bookkeeping, as well as efficient distribution of his funds.

Highways
Sheriff Keeling proposes continued advancement of safety to motorists on the highways and is sponsoring a program for installation of a two-way radio hook-up for his officers with Des Moines police.

The departments in the Sheriff's office including criminal and civil deputies, jail turnkeys and bailiffs have been combined to give the public efficient and courteous service and they will so remain, Sheriff Keeling assures.

FRED RISSER IN RACE FOR COUNTY ATTORNEY

Fred Risser, Democratic candidate for county attorney, has been a resident of Polk county since 1910. He graduated from West High and Drake law school and was admitted to the Iowa bar in 1932. Risser became partner attorney under Gov. Herring for two years, but resigned to enter a law firm with Robert Jackson in the reputation building.

Mr. Risser has been Democratic chairman, judicial committee and member of East Side Business Men's club, Plymouth Congregational church. He stands for impartial justice, safe and sane driving and believes that a county attorney should give his full time to the taxpayers and stop outside practice.

About two years ago Dr. Brookens wrote the president, asking for help, but received no reply, he said. In Chicago, he learned that Mrs. Roosevelt was visiting the World Fair, but was unsuccessful in his attempts to see her.

His secretary passed the buck to E. R. Armistage, field agent of the Federal division of rehabilitation in Illinois, who advised Dr. Brookens to see a Mr. Brower in the state capital building in Atlanta, Ga. When Mr. Brower failed to reply, Dr. Brookens wrote to Harold L. Ickes, secretary of interior, who, in turn, suggested he write to Robert C. Weaver, advisor on Negro affairs of the department of the interior. Mr. Weaver did reply, but said that no provisions were made for Negro children suffering from infantile paralysis, and there the government's interest in the matter ended, Dr. Brookens said.

At the time of the late Dr. Brookens' death, he was suffering from infantile paralysis, and there the government's interest in the matter ended, Dr. Brookens said.

The Communist nominee also addressed an enthusiastic meeting of more than 2,000 students at the University of California at Sather Gate, in front of the main entrance to the grounds of the university, which is located in Berkeley.

Wrote "When You and I Were Young Maggie" Song
The place made famous by the old love song "When You and I Were Young Maggie" is at Dickinson, Tenn., near a creaking old mill which ground meal for the Indians and pioneers, and the occasion, the return of an aged couple to the scene of their romance, relates a writer in the Cleveland Plain Dealer.

The site is marked by a tablet placed there by the Daughters of the American Revolution, which tells all about it, and about the author, George W. Johnson, who there met, wooed and married Maggie Harris, and who years afterward wrote the poem about her.

Early in the eighteenth century, Johnson, who, according to historians, was a rambler and hunter of gold, heard strange tales from the Indians about wealth in the mountains of east Tennessee. Johnson loaded his canoe and took off from his home near the mouth of the Hiwassee river. Following the river he reached Spring creek, which finally became so shallow he abandoned his canoe and walked. Hearing a creaking mill far up the creek Johnson strode in that direction. And then he saw Maggie. He gave up his search for gold and stayed around until he had won her, and then took her to his home down the river.

Years afterward when both were aged and gray they returned to the hills, and the scene of the old mill where Maggie lived when she was young. This inspired Johnson to write the poem. His poem was found later by musician, J. A. Butterfield, who set it to music.

Hotel or Inn Different in Some Other Countries
In England anything from a private house with a couple of rooms to let to a huge establishment with hundreds of rooms, run on the most up-to-date lines—can be described by its owner as a hotel, says Pearson's Weekly.

In Scotland an inn or hotel is defined, under the licensing act, as a place of accommodation having not fewer than four apartments set apart exclusively for the sleeping accommodation of travelers.

But in Vienna, Austria, no establishment may call itself a hotel unless it has at least 50 bedrooms. Outside Vienna the rooms must not be fewer than 30. Also, a fixed proportion of the rooms must be equipped with a certain standard of comfort.

The main requirements that are demanded by Portuguese law are quaintly described as "a properly-dressed staff, a spotlessly clean dining room with little tables, an entrance as large as possible, and electric light if obtainable."

When March Was First Month
Until 1797 Venice began the year on March 1. March was "the first month" to the early Christians. Throughout the Middle ages the year might begin on different dates in different places, and styles of reckoning took their names from towns. In many Benedictine monasteries the year was reckoned from Christmas as late as the beginning of the fourteenth century, and this custom persisted even longer in England. In that country the new style calendar was not adopted until 1753, although Scotland adopted it in 1560 and Holland first of all, in 1582. Dates in the "Ecclesiastical History" of the Venerable Bede were more confusing than they are before Doctor Poole, the England scholar, explained that that he used the Greek Indiction, beginning September 1. The Easter cycle calculations of Dionysius became the Roman Catholic, but other tables than his were earlier used in Rome.

least $250,000 toward the support and expansion of the infantile paralysis sanitarium, one of President Roosevelt's principal personal interests, he could not get his son admitted for treatment and was told by officials that Negroes were never admitted to that institution.

The minister said the lad was stricken with the dread disease five years ago, and knowing that the president was also a victim of the malady, expected some consideration for his son, but after repeated attempts to get treatment, has had to admit failure. He is now in New York seeking a means to provide an operation and treatment which will effect a cure for his son.

SPORTS

By Allen Ashby

College

Our boys in Iowa got a rest to get ready for Indiana. Bell and Dwight Reed were in on Minnesota's rout of Purdue, 33-0, and Bernard Jefferson and Clarence Hinton of Northwestern helped down Illinois. The fur will fly at Evanston when all four of these boys meet. Don't be too surprised if Northwestern takes the Gophers.

Fritz Pollard and his boys of South Dakota ran into a cocked-up Morning-side team and went under in an upset. Langston Parks and Bernard Black are helping Parsons turn in a fine record so far. Parks has kicked a few field goals and his long runs have helped Parsons no end. Black has done equally as well.

South

In the south things continue to happen. Texas college winners of the Southwest conference title and who later beat Bama State, the eastern champ, got dusted by Xavier last week.

Arkansas State trimmed Philander Smith college of Little Rock. They are still unbeaten. This year they have a good chance to come through, because their schedule permits them to prepare for tough stuff later on. Last year all of their hard games came first.

High School

Everybody and his brother, if he had a brother went out to see Al Thomas, Harold Sharpe and Ed Maupin of East against Chet Simms and Tommy Avant of North. Harry Saunders of East and Avant of North didn't get into the brawl, but Simms carried on nobly for the Pink and Green. He did his best to win the game single-handed, and if he had carried the ball instead of the pass that boomeranged from East's seven points, there is no telling what the result might have been. Thomas of East and Chet were the best boys on the field. They backed up their lines and met at least often enough to become acquainted. Both boys ran like runaway elephants, with the edge in speed and shiftiness going to Thomas. Their tackling and blocking was harder than unsoaked tea biscuits.

Sharpe did some nifty running, being harder to bring down than food prices. He made a lot of runs off a lateral from Thomas to him that was too tough. Maupin turned in the best game at end we have seen him his long arms reached over blockers as if they were a boarding house.

GRINNELL-DRAKE FEUD IS RENEWED THERE SATURDAY

Drake's football forces, triumphant over Washington's Bears in a thrilling 20 to 18 Missouri Valley encounter, move against Grinnell on Saturday in the renewal of the age-old feud between the two schools on the Pioneer gridiron.

The co-captain, Chuck Orebaugh, who ran eighty-five yards for a touch-down, and Ed Suter were the heroes of Drake's spectacular triumph over Washington, but the victory plaudits were spread over the entire Bulldog squad. Following the Grinnell encounter the Bulldogs return home to face Denver's powerful Pioneers in the Drake homecoming feature on November 7th.

BERRY HALDEN IS IRKED BY GILLETTE'S RECENT CHARGES

Berry F. Halden, Republican candidate for U. S. senator, defends himself in statement to his opponents as follows: At the outset of this campaign I had the perhaps unorthodox political idea that it would be possible to go through a campaign, conducting that campaign upon a high plane, free from all personalities. At the outset, also, my opponent, Guy M. Gillette, echoed my hopes when he asked for a clean and fair fight. I thought then he was sincere in this request.

In the closing days of the campaign he has been going about the state, taking time between shadow boxing with his mythical question box, which he thinks somebody should answer and his own confused oration on agriculture, crediting statements to me concerning my position on agriculture.

Mr. Gillette has been, throughout the campaign, rather free with promises of a new suit of clothes to the person who would prove the falsity of some of his statements. Notwithstanding the fact that I have repeatedly offered positive proof of his mistaken idea, I am still wearing a suit of clothes purchased with my own money.

RED PERKINS TO PLAY FOR HALLOWEEN DANCE

Ghosts, goblins, witches and broomsticks will ride Friday night—and they'll all be going to the same place. Red Perkins and his Dixie Ramblers of Omaha will play for the Halloween dance at the Billiken Nite Club. T. L. (Speck) Howard, manager, is giving a prize to the "cleverest," "most beautiful," and "raggedest" costumes that night.

Five years ago the resplendent Billiken ballroom was opened to the public in one of the flashiest affairs in Des Moines in late years; the dance was talked about for several months after that.

This year the holiday entertainment will bring Perkins' band, augmented by a snappy floor show.

KYNER PLEDGES $15,000 SAVING

C. E. Kyner, Democratic candidate for Polk county treasurer, pledges an annual saving of $15,000 in operation of the treasurer's office through installation of a "modern tax record system," such as is used in Linn county.

He also advocates the merit system for treasurer office employees regardless of race, creed or color.

FLOOR SHOW TO OPEN AT ELKS CLUB SATURDAY

"Midnight in Harlem," an all-colored floor show, will be presented at the Elks club Saturday night, featuring Dorothy Heath, local dancer; Lou Ada Brown, trucker of the Dixie club of Milwaukee; Slim Davis and Blue Pansy and other entertainers.

DAN McENIRY ENTERTAINS "McENIRY-FOR-SHERIFF" CLUB

Over 800 people attended the dance held at the Billiken for the Negro McEniry For Sheriff club Tuesday. "Mr. McEniry is the most reliable, honest and deserving candidate for sheriff," his friends say. The music was furnished by the Congo Rhythm band.

Tokyo, Japan—The training of 500 Ethiopian students in the aviation schools of Japan has revived rumors of the marriage of Prince Arya Ababa of Ethiopia to Mademoiselle Masako Kurude of Japan.

This affair, which created an international sensation in the chancelleries of Europe, came to light during the spring of 1934, following a visit to Japan by the handsome and elegant Abyssinian prince, Arya Ababa. The stage was set for this historic union, when pressure from some quarters outside of the two countries concerned brought all nuptial negotiations to a sudden stop.

OUTSIDE TOILETS TO BE MADE SANITARY BY WPA

The community sanitation program that is now being conducted in Iowa is sponsored by the local, state and federal health authorities, in co-operation with the Works Progress Administration, for the purpose of eliminating insanitary open surface privies, that are now so prevalent in many counties of Iowa, and replacing these with approved type sanitary pit privies.

This program enables any property owner or tenant to have any outdoor privy reconstructed or a new one built for the cost of materials only, provided the location complies with local ordinance pertaining to distance from sewers, etc., and the state specification as to distance from source of water supply. All labor is free.

New York, Oct. 22—Eighty-four candidates for congress have signed a pledge sent them by the N. A. A. C. P. to support and work for a federal anti-lynching bill if elected, and to oppose discrimination in the civil service in relief jobs and other employment.

Twenty-four candidates for reelection answered the N. A. A. C. P. letter by citing the fact that they had supported anti-lynching legislation in the past congress and, therefore, would do so in the next congress. This makes a total of 243 candidates definitely on record to date.

Those who signed the N. A. A. C. P. pledge included: Clark, Jorgensen, Peck, Carter, Swanson and Harrington, all of Iowa.

Among those who promised in their own words to support the program:

Origin of Name "White House"

The name "White House" is supposed to have been given the Capitol after it was painted white to efface the blackened walls, the result of its partial destruction by the British in 1814. There is some controversy about this, however, one claim being that it was so named because Martha Custis was owner of "White House" when she and Washington first met. It was first popularly known as the President's House, but by the year 1828 the nickname "White House" had come to be widely used.

Legendary Power of Lough Neagh

According to an Irish tale Lough Neagh fishermen have petrified legs, and when they want to sharpen their razors, they merely turn up their trousers and use their shins as hones. No child visits Ireland without firmly planting a stick in Lough Neagh and vowing to return in future years, when like the legs of the fishermen, it will have turned to stone.

Buresh, Wolf and Gwynne, all of Iowa.

Carry Young in Pouch
Opossums are marsupials, their young being born so early and undeveloped they are carried in a pouch on the mother's abdomen until developed. Born half an inch long, like kangaroos and mice, their mothers drop them into their pockets, where they grow. Throughout the Jurassic and Cretaceous periods the mammals were probably all small, of the low orders of monotremes or marsupials, carnivorous and insectivorous. No herb eaters lived before the Eocene, perhaps. Of very ancient lineage, living through many depressions and perilous ages, the opossum has learned that "feigning death" is a good weapon of defense.

Obsidian Natural Glass

The Indians of early days often made their arrow heads of a natural glass known as obsidian, a variety of lava which is partially transparent and is very hard, brittle and sharp-edged. Obsidian is of a variety of colors ranging from black to gray, but the color of one specimen is usually uniform. In the United States the natural glass is found in Yellowstone park principally, although it is also found in other regions. It is rather widely distributed throughout the world, wherever volcanic action has occurred.

Fresh Water in Panama Canal

Fresh water from Gatun lake and the streams which feed the Madden dam and other reservoirs serve the Panama canal locks. The high above reaches of the canal are high above sea level while the water in the Atlantic and Pacific oceans is at the low level and the locks must be fed from the highest level. It has cost millions to build and operate the dams and reservoirs. It is not necessary to have fresh water, although fresh water is lighter and exerts less pressure on the lock gates. Fresh water is used because of its availability in relation to gravity.

Balloon "Birds" Aid Flyers

Huge balloons in the form of grotesque birds are used by the British army corps in training flyers. These air "ghosts" demonstrate how wind currents act, and when one of their bladders into the tailwind from a plane propeller, the ghost's motions show vividly the action of air and its direction. Free balloons might serve the same purpose, but the ghost's motion while instructing—Popper Mechanic's Magazine.

Shirley "Dimples" is La Temple's newest vehicle for all her singing, dancing, crying, laughing and acting abilities. It is a gay and happy family picture from which Shirley sings such favorites as "Picture Me Without You," "He Was a Dandy," and "Hey, What Did the Blue Jay Say?" And does that glorious kidlet dance? "Dimples" is showing at the Des Moines.

From the adorable, innocent little girl charm of Shirley Temple, through the dramatic intensity of the war with a definite love story, carried by Robert Kent and Astrid Allwyn. REPUBLICAN PRINCIPLES STAND OUT

This has been a hard fought campaign. The intensity of the fight has been so great that it has not been easy to get the issues over to the average voter.

Many voters have based their decision on the fact that the government is feeding them without regard to how it is being done or the consequence that are bound to follow both to the government and the individual himself.

As for the Bystander, it has supported the straight Republican ticket because it believes that the fundamental principles upon which the party was founded and those for which it now stands outweigh those of the Democratic party.

The Bystander does not believe that a few million dollars spent for improvements on Negro schools and relief are substitutes for the enjoyment of freedom of speech, the press and of his civil rights.

Ours is a system of party government and not of individuals consequently it is not what a few members of a party think that counts but the fundamental principles for which a party stands.

Negroes have friends in both parties, but the ones who are in a position to do most are those associated with a party whose principles are right on the Negro question.

The true fact that many Negroes are working today who were idle in 1932; also many were working in 1928 who were idle in 1932. Depressions we have had in the past; they will come again but the Bystander believes that the program of the Republican party will produce recovery far quicker than that of the Democrats.

MAKING PROGRESS

The editor of The Bystander has been making personal contacts with some of its agents and subscribers over the state. The general satisfaction expressed with the makeup of the paper, its news value and the prompt delivery was especially encouraging.

Of course The Bystander is anxious to have the good will of the public and has tried at every turn to court it. Everybody has not been pleased on all occasions. This was to be expected.

invites constructive criticism and if that criticism is well founded a substantial effort will be made to comply. The staff is determined to do its party and subscribers and friends are urged to follow suit.

What Others Say

LEST WE FORGET

This article is a review of what prominent Negroes and Negro organizations, many of whom are in immediate contact with the New Deal, know about it, and their conclusions as to the results.

1. The cotton acreage reduction, has deprived thousands of Negroes of the means of subsistence, and forced them on the dole.

2. The money paid for land taken out of production, in the south did not reach the Negro, it was seized and kept by the white planters, who were thereby enriched at the expense of the share-croppers.

3. The N. R. A. has a differential wage scale for the Southern Negro and wherever the wage was the same white workers were substituted this reduced the Negro to the lowest scale and made him a ward of the government thus lowering the very poor standard that formerly existed.

If you vote for the New Deal in Iowa you endorse such treatment of your Black brother in the South. Remember this when you get in the booths where you and your God know what you do.

J. G. BROWNE, Chairman.

TO THE IOWA BYSTANDER

Dear Editor:

As a reader and subscriber of the Bystander, I am certainly glad this campaign is almost over because of the unprecedented scandalous things which have been printed by the Bystander. Really, I can't see how any civic minded race conscious citizen can sit in an interracial meeting one night and come out and print such rotten stuff the next day. Just for the sake of the Almighty Dollar. I feel sure such is the cause. It will take a long time to live down the racial antipathy that has been stirred up by some of our would be politicians.

What we as young Negroes want is a program and not propaganda. The continued waving of the Red flag is not going to help the situation any, so let us look forward and not backward. The New Dealers do have something else to offer beside the relief program. What about the 50 Millions of Dollars spent for 18 low rent housing projects strictly for Negroes? What about the 25 Millions of Dollars spent for the 215 colored elementary and high school buildings? What about the Millions of Dollars that have been spent for Hospitals, Health Centers, Dormitories, Libraries, Swimming Pools, and Teacher's Homes? These things will be here for Negroes long after Mr. Roosevelt has passed from public life. I wonder if some people are so narrow that they can't see these things? What about the business training and experience that 600 Negro Boys are getting as business managers of the C. C. C. Stores? What about the 5 Millions of Dollars per year spent in helping Negro Youth to continue its Education? These are some of the things that we young Negroes are looking at instead of the waving of that old Red Flag of Dixie.

The older Negro may have a home and everything that goes with it, but if his stomach is empty he can't enjoy it, no matter where he may live. If the Republican Party is so liberal in aiding the Negro to secure food and clothing, why were so many on the relief rolls and living in transient camps at the end of 12 years of Republican administration? I sometimes wonder if Economic slavery isn't worse than Physical slavery after all. I wonder if the distributors of these dirty campaign placards are interested in how the majority of 25 thousand Negroes in Iowa are going to eat and keep warm when the snow is 6 inches deep, and the temperature hanging around 20 degrees below zero, or are they just interested in the few dollars they can chisel out of the Republican campaign managers? Although the campaign will be over before this can be answered, I truly hope the Negroes of Iowa will have the pleasure of reading the answers to some of these questions.

Submitted by W. Lawrence Oliver, 1047 13th Street, Des Moines, Iowa.

(Editor's Note: If telling the truth about abuses suffered by Negroes stirs up racial antipathy, then those associated with the perpetrators of these abuses are going to continue to read it in The Bystander for this paper tells its readers about them in and out of campaign season. If you are in doubt whether physical slavery isn't better than economic slavery, then it is not hard to understand how you can be a Democrat.)

"Know the truth; and the truth shall set you free." On June 6, 1935, the Negro Youth program was introduced and now 26,000 Negro boys and girls are earning aid. $75,000 has been allotted to graduates to further their education. 20,000 Negro Men and Women are employed on W. P. A. Projects. 500 Negro women are in recreational training for counselors to teach on-coming generations the proper guidance along recreational lines. A total of 50,000 Negroes have profited from various phases of the economic program of this administration. It has truly been an emancipation of Negro youth in educational guidance.

Never before in the History of the world has there been such opportunities for Negroes in public offices. A way has been opened for the aged to learn to read and write and to be taken care of properly in the land they swayed blood to help save. At least we see the work of a humane form of government. There is greater security for home owners who labored from youth to old age to obtain them.

Thus I implore the youth of our race to be fearless and courageous and of that particular turn of mind that enables you to attain your goal. And, with the facts before you of what IS! and not what may be! Don't take a chance on a "pig in the sack" when you don't know anything about him but his squeal, but keep on going with F. D. R.

IMMUNIZATION AGAINST

The immunization campaign which began in November of last year to educate the public to the importance of having children immunized early against diphtheria is going to start on Saturday 31st of this month with a group of physicians participating. These physicians have agreed between them to do the following:

1. The cotton acreage reduction, has deprived thousands of Negroes of the means of subsistence, and forced them on the dole.

2. The money paid for land taken out of production, in the south did not reach the Negro, it was seized and kept by the white planters, who were thereby enriched at the expense of the share-croppers.

R. W. H. W.—Is it true what I hear about my daughter? Ans.: It seems that some young friend, or at least an acquaintance of your daughter's has started a false rumor about her. I would not put any faith in this rumor, or believe any part of it. The rumor originated through jealousy and is groundless. Call your daughter into your home and have a private parental chat with her. Restore her confidence in you as well as your faith in her.

M. E. R.—I would like to know who my real enemy is what was in my dream? Ans.: I am afraid that you are a victim of hallucinations. Your only enemy is your vivid imagination and your willingness to believe the impossible things it tells you. Certainly no person is your enemy, or is seeking to harm you in any way.

Lonesome—My husband tells me I am the only woman he ever loved, but he RUNS OUT all the time and won't give me not one nice dress. Can he help from running out? Ans.: Indeed your husband does love you very dearly, even though he does RUN OUT and has been a bit neglectful in providing for your suitable wearing apparel. Suggest to him in a nice way that you would like some new clothes and I am sure that he will agree with you. As to his RUNNING OUT, he is a person with a very restless nature and feels that he must be forever on the go. Although his "going" is harmless enough.

Mrs. M. M.—Since I have been separated from my husband two men claim to love me. Which must I choose? Ans.: By all means choose "W". P. S. Yes.

Mrs. H. J.—My daughter is sick and a doctor says he can cure her with an operation. I want to take her to a "quack doctor". Should I? Ans.: You should place your daughter in the doctor's care immediately. Don't delay.

Mrs. C. J.—Will we have the same Pastor next year? Ans.: Yes—your pastor has been doing wonderful work in your City and has established a very good reputation for himself and his work. I should think he would continue his good work in your City until such time that he feels that he has accomplished his mission there.

Mrs. V. B.—I have been going with a man for nine long years. Suddenly HE LEFT ME LIKE A DREAM. Is he coming back or will he marry the other woman? Ans.: You made your mistake years ago by not marrying the man when you had the chance. By marrying then you could have grown old together enjoying a happy peaceful life. A man's inherent weakness is his pursuit of youth. As the woman grows old the man is inclined to stray. As soon as you have associated with a man long enough to know that he will make a good husband, you should marry him. Unless there are some strings attached, the man will seldom stay settled. He won't marry the other woman, neither will he come back to you. He is committed to his pursuit of youth. Forever seeking, but never attaining.

man is inclined to stray. As soon as you have associated with a man long enough to know that he will make a good husband, you should marry him. Unless there are some strings attached, the man will seldom stay settled. He won't marry the other woman, neither will he come back to you. He is committed to his pursuit of youth. Forever seeking, but never attaining.
