AL THOMAS CHOSEN BY TRIBUNE WRITER

Alfred Thomas, for three years mainstay of East High football team, was named quarterback on the 1936 Tribune's all-city eleven Thursday by Frank Brody, sports writer.

East High, city champions, landed four first team positions and two second team posts. Thomas, who graduated in June, was recently named "King of Football" and awarded a silver plaque by the Top Hatters club for the most outstanding Negro grid player in Des Moines. He is also a track star.

Harold Sharpe, halfback of East, the best open field runner in the city, and Chet Simms, spearhead fullback of North, gained second team berths. The razzle dazzle plays of Thomas to Sharpe gained most of the points in Lee township's victories. Simms was a hard driving plunger, but his lack of shiftness in the clear was his only handicap.

Ed Maupin and Harry Saunders, both of East; Tommy Avant and Gordon Miller of North, all reserves, promise to develop into stars and will be heard from in future grid wars.

Schools to Pay Founder Tribute

UNIVERSITY WILL HONOR MEMORY OF DR. JOHN HOPE ON DECEMBER 2ND

Atlanta, Georgia, Nov. 26—Friends of Dr. John Hope will pay tribute to his memory, and will recall his life of service to the cause of education and social betterment at a memorial service to be held under the auspices of Atlanta university on Wednesday afternoon, December 2, in Sisters Chapel, Spelman college campus.

Chief speakers at the memorial service will be two long-time friends and associates of Dr. Hope, Dr. W. W. Alexander, executive director of the commission on interracial co-operation, and recently appointed administrator of the resettlement administration; and Dr. Mordecai W. Johnson, president of Howard university, Washington, D. C.

Dr. Hope, who died February 20th, in his sixty-eighth year, was for thirty-three years a member of the faculty or president of Morehouse college, and from 1929 until his death in 1936 served as president of Atlanta university. Under his direction plans for the affiliation of Atlanta university, Spelman college and Morehouse college into a university system began.

Building Plans Being Protested

FIGHTS SITE OF NEW ELEMENTARY SCHOOL

St. Louis, Nov. 26—(ANP)—St. Louis Negro taxpayers will go into court if necessary to fight the erection of a new $245,340 elementary school building on the campus of Yashon high school because this site would not only crowd both Yashon and the new school, but would also aggravate a grave social problem in the community, leaders declared this week.

Last week a petition for a different site was addressed to the board. It expressed the opinion that the proposed school, which would have seven teen rooms, would be inadequate and pointed out that no white school in St. Louis has had a seventeen room grade school erected on its campus, adding that even now the Vishon campus is the smallest of the modern high schools.

REFUSE TO INDICT WHITE FLOGGERS—FEAR ANOTHER "SCOTTSBORO CASE"

Birmingham, Nov. 26—(ANP)—Declaring they feared it would "become another Scottsboro case with court costs draining thousands of dollars from the county treasury," the Jefferson county grand jury refused last week to indict any of the men charged with beating Joseph S. Gelders, white, southern representative of the National Committee for the Defense of Political Prisoners.

The grand jury said it believed "the beating victim was an agitator and agitators are not a good thing for the Birmingham district." The jurymen also expressed the opinion that some witnesses were afraid to talk for fear of reprisals.

MAY SEEK AMENDMENT TO OHIO CIVIL RIGHTS ACT

Cleveland, Nov. 26—Ohio's colored citizens who have been living under a civil rights act passed in 1894 were shaken out of their sense of security this week by a decision of the Ohio supreme court, which, in effect, permits retail stores to refuse to sell goods to colored people.

The court, on November 19, refused to review a decision of the Cuyahoga county court of appeals, which had a women's dress shop in the Terminal Tower building here had not violated the state's civil rights law when it refused to sell merchandise to Mrs. Ellen Sissle. It was the contention of the attorneys for the store that retail shops are not bound by the Ohio law. The courts upheld this contention.

Mrs. Sissle was represented by Attorneys Chester K. Gillespie and Norman L. McGhee. A brief amicus curiae in the supreme court, supporting the appeal of Mrs. Sissle, was filed by the national office of the N. A. A. C. P. Another brief amicus curiae was filed by the American Civil Liberties Union, the National Negro Congress and other organizations. It was the contention of the appellants that the language of the act, although general, included retail stores.

This is the second time in recent years that the Ohio supreme court has narrowed its interpretation of the civil rights of Negroes. In 1933 it ruled in the now famous Doris Weaver case that Ohio State university was not violating the constitutional rights of Miss Weaver by segregating her in one-half of a practice cottage in a home management course at the university. These two decisions by the state's high court are causing grave apprehension among the colored citizens of Ohio because they indicate that instead of a liberal and expanding view of civil rights and social welfare for Negroes, the court is restricting its vision.

This Will Hurt Beauty Parlors

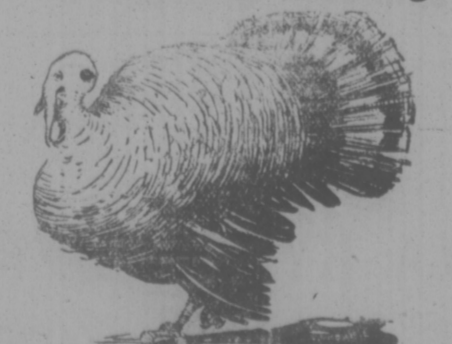

WANTS BLACK ACTORS TO STAY BLACK IN REVIVED BLACKBIRDS

London, Nov. 26—(ANP)—Lew Leslie, who last week started a new edition of his "Blackbirds of 1936," has issued orders that he wants his actors to stay the color they were when hired.

The showman declared that Negro artists he brought here from America changed several shades lighter after being in London for a few months. The girls in particular do everything possible in make-up to relieve their duskiness.

Sharing his sentiments along these lines is Tim Moore, the dark hued comedian who is one of the biggest features of Blackbirds. So the rule now is "Stay black as you are, or else."

Anti-Lynch Bill Passage Likely

14 MORE CONGRESSMEN TO AID LEGISLATION

New York, Nov. 26—A further check by the N. A. A. C. P. on the congressmen-elect who will sit in the seventy-fifth congress discloses that fourteen additional legislators have indicated in one way or another their willingness to support anti-lynching legislation. The N. A. A. C. P. had previously announced 224 friendly congressmen and this latest check brings the total to 238.

The N. A. A. C. P. points out that the entire total of 238 congressmen cannot be depended upon absolutely to support anti-lynching legislation, but all of them indicated they are not hostile to such legislation. A total of 170 of this 238 has stated in writing that it will support and vote for an anti-lynching bill. It is this latter group upon which the N. A. A. C. P. is depending as the core in the fight for favorable legislation in the next congress.

17 Colored Schools Get Government Aid

REPORT ON AMERICA'S LAND GRANT COLLEGES AND UNIVERSITIES

Washington—The office of education, U. S. department of the interior, today released a preliminary report of land grant colleges and universities throughout the United States for the last fiscal year. Dr. Walter J. Greenleaf, office of education specialist in higher education, compiled the report.

Sixty-nine land grant colleges and universities, including seventeen Negro institutions, receive grants from the federal government each year and make annual reports to the U. S. office of education. From these reports Dr. Greenleaf prepared the land grant college summary statement of enrollment, staff, degrees, receipts and expenditures issued today.

The largest number of Negroes enrolled in a land grant college is that reported by Texas Prairie View State college—372 men and 508 women. North Carolina A. & T. college enrolled 416 men and 149 women, while Princess Anne academy (Md.) reported only twenty-six men and seventeen women, the fewest number of students.

Seven major fields of study are offered in America's land grant colleges and universities—arts and sciences, teachers college (education), agriculture, architecture, commerce and business, dentistry and engineering. Of the seventeen Negro institutions, Virginia State college reports the largest staff—153 persons and Princess Anne academy the smallest one—14 persons.

Pittsburgh, Pa., Nov. 26—(C)—As a decision was awaited in her suit for non-support against Dr. James Erroll Brown, reputed wealthy physician, Mrs. Rasheedia Roudriquez Brown died in Natrona Heights Monday night, apparently "of a broken heart."

Mrs. Brown, who claimed status as the "common-law" wife of Dr. Brown, was a much traveled woman, having visited many countries of the world and had learned to speak several languages. She is said to have been worth $50,000 when she met the doctor, and in the time they were associated, the doctor is said to have amassed a fortune of $100,000.

FLETCHER HENDERSON BAND DRAWS CROWD

The composer of "Christopher Columbus," 1936 masterpiece, brought his band to Des Moines and a packed house greeted him. Fletcher Henderson and his band, lately of the Grand Terrace in Chicago, swung his rhythm at the Armory on Wednesday night.

For years Fletcher Henderson's tunes have thrilled the crowds at Connie Inn on Broadway. Fourteen pieces of rhythm artists delighted the dance patrons of Iowa's capitol city. The El Producto club, headed by A. J. Nelson Thompson, sponsored his appearance here.

Decision Soon

New York, Nov. 26—(CNA)—Plans for a national Herndon day on Monday, November 30th, were announced last week by the national office of the International Labor Defense, 80 East Eleventh street, New York City.

Herndon's appeal from a twenty year chain gang conviction in Georgia is on the November calendar of the U. S. supreme court and any day now the high court may announce its decision.

The young labor organizer was arrested in Atlanta, Ga., on July 11, 1932, and speedily indicted eleven days later under an ancient slave statute on a charge of inciting to insurrection. Herndon had led a successful relief demonstration of unemployed Negro and white workers a few days before his arrest.

Herndon himself left New York City this week for a tour of the country, which will include stops at Chicago, Minneapolis, St. Paul, Duluth, Superior, Portland, Ore., San Francisco, Los Angeles and Denver. In all these cities and in scores of other towns, Herndon defense meetings are now being organized.

Police Hint Negro Foreman Murdered in California Fire

VICTIM CUT TO PIECES ON CONVEYOR BELT FOUR FEET FROM GROUND

Los Angeles, Cal., Nov. 26—(ANP)—Local police, the district attorney's office and operatives of the Nick Harris detective agency joined forces this week in an effort to untangle the strange net of circumstances surrounding the death of David Davis, colored foreman at the warehouse of the California Cotton Oil Co., who, it is rumored, was killed for his money and then the 600 foot building set on fire to cover up the crime.

Davis' death occurred earlier in the week before the disastrous fire on Sunday November 16. His body was found cut to pieces by the blades of a big machine after being drawn to the death trap by a massive conveyor belt. The men working under Foreman Davis declare it was virtually impossible for him to fall on the conveyor belt, as it was four feet from the ground.

Detectives have learned that Davis was known to carry a large sum of money and they are working on the theory that he was slugged and robbed and his body placed upon the belt to give his death the appearance of an accident.

The wallet has not been found, but detectives discovered an iron bar, bent and blood stained, which they believe may have been the death instrument. The detectives, armed with this evidence, were returning to the plant on Sunday to search for the missing wallet and other evidence, when the fire, which did a million dollar damage, was discovered.

THANKSGIVING

Most people live such routine lives that they are prone to magnify their misfortunes and forget the blessings that come to them each day. And this is just another reason why Thanksgiving day ought to be a period of counting our blessings; of coming to realize how much worse off we might have been.

In America we have much for which to be thankful in 1936. After all we are a rich, powerful nation and at peace with the world. Most of our citizens are happy and the country is going forward. Americans ought to be thankful that they live here for most people in other countries are not so well off.

THIS DECISION MUST NOT STAND

The Supreme Court of Ohio has decided that the refusal by a storekeeper to sell a Negro an article was not a violation of the civil rights statute of that state. Most civil rights laws in northern states make it a crime to deny Negroes the right to the free use of places of amusement, restaurants, hotels and other public places of accommodation assuming that no business institution would refuse to sell items of merchandise to a customer simply because his color is black.

Possibly the pleadings in the case were drawn in such a manner that the violation of the civil rights statute was the only one that could be considered, brushing aside included offenses. However, if this is good law in Ohio the Negro finds himself in a bad predicament.

Several years ago the Iowa Supreme Court held that a concern could refuse to give its products to whom it pleased. In the case at bar a Negro had been refused. A strong dissenting opinion was filed by the late Judge Evans. It might be inferred from the ruling that a concern in Iowa could not refuse to sell to a Negro because of color only. Undoubtedly the N.A.A.C.P. or some other interested group will lead a movement to pass a law correcting this unfair ruling. The decision has no right to stand for it violates the fundamentals of a free country.

CHEAPER MONEY

Because of the class of jobs they hold generally, Negroes suffer more from high interest rates on loans than any other group. Pawn brokers and chattel mortgages still take a heavy share in interest that ought to go for living expenses. Many families have had them continuously year in and year out. Interest rates have been reduced everywhere during the depression. On the other hand several new concerns have been devised enabling small salaried people to save and at the same time establish connections whereby they may secure loans at reasonable rates.

Recently the Insurance Plan Saving and Loan Association has been established in Des Moines. It has all the elements of safety and at the same time encourages the little fellow to come in on the ground floor and get started at a place where he may establish himself for future emergencies. The company is well worth investigating for with careful planning and savings, these high priced loans of years standing can be lifted.

LOW PRICED HOUSING

Much has been said and something done about slum clearance and low priced housing. Both private individuals and the federal government have built some very fine projects in eastern and southern cities.

But the names in each instance are misnomers as far as the occupants are concerned for as yet no people who formerly lived in slums are able to pay the rent charged for them.

Take our situation here in Des Moines among Negroes and poor whites. They are paying from $1 to $2 per room for what might be termed mere shacks. They find it hard to meet these payments monthly. If any agency destroyed these old houses and built homes for them they would be in no better position to pay while experience has shown that the cost of the projects already erected run about seven dollars per room per month.

As a means of giving relief jobs, the projects work out very well but as a method of providing cheaper housing on a paying business to those who need them, it does not pan out.

What Others Say

IN RE: OZ SIMMONS

Editor of Bystander,
Dear Sir:

I have been reading everything I could get my hands on in regard to the friction in The University of Iowa football team. Knowing the fair treatment that was accorded Alexander, Slater, and Galloway, I wondered if Simmons' was at fault. So therefore I wrote an Iowa Alumni who earned his "I" in football, was principal and coach of several high schools in Iowa and who has sent several outstanding athletes to the University and who has closely followed the ups and downs of the S. U. I. football teams for years.

He says, "Simmons should have had an All-American rating last year. In my humble opinion he is one of the greatest to ever step on a gridiron.

Rumors are afloat. In my own mind, I doubt if Simmons is to blame. He has showed very good sense all the way through. Certainly the Iowa team (and I get this from former players) hasn't blocked, tackled, or exhibited much spirit. Simmons probably became discouraged and the whole mess probably got on his nerves. For two years I haven't felt that Iowa has not a big time (ten) coach. His biggest difficulty is to pick men for the work they are fitted for. When he has a "spark-plug" like Crayne or Laws, he can get fair results. Otherwise players are neither smart nor inspired and do not click."

I would be pleased if you would grant to Coach Solem or anyone else in your paper for a reply to this letter.

Sincerely,
W. E. REDEK,
S. U. I., 1936.

59 OTHER MEMBERS NOT COMMITTED—22 FROM NORTHERN STATES

New York, Nov. 19—A check upon the newly elected and re-elected members of the Seventy-fifth congress, which will meet in January, by the N. A. A. C. P. shows that 224 congressmen have indicated in some way that they will support federal anti-lynching legislation and will work against discrimination in the civil service in employment and relief.

One hundred forty-seven members of the new congress, including John W. Gwynne, F. C. Gilchrist and Vincent Harrington of Iowa, signed the following pledge sent to them before election by the N. A. A. C. P.:

"I pledge to do everything possible to bring to a vote and to vote for an effective anti-lynching bill in the 75th congress. I also promise to oppose all discrimination on account of race, creed or color, in relief jobs, civil service, or in any other way."

Others in the new house either signed the call for Democratic caucus last spring to consider the anti-lynching bill, or signed the petition to discharge the committee holding up the anti-lynching bill, or themselves introduced anti-lynching bills. Any one

THE COMMON HEAD COLD

The frequency of head colds during the changes in weather occurring at this time of the year tends to make the laity regard them lightly. It must not be forgotten that the majority of colds clear up in a few days but that some produce very difficult and some times fatal complications.

During a cold the tissue that lines the nose and throat is very congested and swollen, and usually covered with many bacteria; this swollen condition of the mucus lining closes the opening into the frontal sinuses and may give rise to a sinusitis. Extension of the inflammation to the posterior nasal tract and the droppings of the secretion into the bronchial tubes give rise to chest colds, bronchitis, and sometimes pneumonia.

Since patients rarely consult physicians about a common cold, it should be remembered that all colds should be given immediate treatment and not permitted to run for a long time.

of these actions indicate plainly that the congressman favors federal action against lynching.

Further check shows that fifty-nine new congressmen have not committed themselves for or against fair legislation for the Negro. Twenty-two of this number are from northern states and it is fair to estimate that most of them can be won to support the anti-lynching bill. Even without them there is a majority in the house.

I. J. C.—Have much confidence in you and want your opinion on my particular problem. Should I remain in the place that I am or is it time for me to make the change I have contemplated?

Ans.: Wait until spring before you give up your job and go in business for yourself. This is a bad season for you to begin and since you have been made MANAGER of the store you are working now, you can save quite a sum of money before spring.

M. E. W.—Should I go ahead and marry the man that I am going with feeling the way that I do about his children?

Ans.: If you feel that you can't accept this man's children and try to be a mother to them... then don't GET MARRIED. He is anxious to get someone to help rear them as well as make his life enjoyable and you are too young to assume this responsibility.

S. G.—I would like to know if I'll get to carry out my plans about my talent for music and when?

LEWIS GOT $20,000 IN PITTSBURGH SAME MOMENT HE STEPPED INTO LONDON RING

London, Nov. 26—(ANP)—The same moment John Henry Lewis stepped into the ring a few weeks ago to successfully defend his light heavyweight championship at Wembley stadium from Len Harvey, 29 year old Britisher he became approximately $20,000 richer in Pittsburgh.

By prearrangement with the British boxing board of control, that amount was placed on deposit in a Pittsburgh bank. On the night of the bout a representative of a London bank was at the ringside. As soon as Lewis set foot in the ring, this representative signaled his institution, which flashed a message immediately to the American bank releasing the purse, as the contract had been fulfilled.

All that was required to insure his money was John Henry's appearance in the roped arena at the scheduled time. This was the first time in the history of British boxing that a fighter's purse had been paid before he struck a blow.

Big Ten Ozzie Simmons and Homer Harris ended their season in a fitting manner. Ozzie showed the eastern fans why so much space was given to him in the last three years. He turned in a game that must have been equal to his Minnesota performance of last year. His running and defensive play were like his old manner and his touchdown run put the needed spark in Iowa, as they won their first major game from Temple university at Philadelphia. Don Simmons staged a few drives of his own when he got in at fullback and Homer Harris gave another great exhibition at end. Harris made the United Press second all-conference club.

We knew that the Simmons boys were to be here this fall. Got the South Arkansas State really took charge of Dillard university last week, winning 26 to 0. Taking after the bowl craze, they staged a bowl game last year between Texas college and Bama State. When the smoke clears away it looks as if Texas will represent the southwest again, with Morris Brown representing the east.

High Schools The high school season is over and all that remains is the all-state team. Al Thomas was chosen quarter in the all-city team and is likely to get high honors on one of the all-state clubs. Chet Simms and Harold Sharp made the second all-city team. Harold Nash of Clarinda is our nomination for a first team berth on the all-state selection.

Professional Bob Vandevere scored one marker and vanded for the game at LaCrosse, Wisconsin, on Thanksgiving Day and the big game here next Sunday with the Calumets of Chicago. Ozzie and Don Simmons will also be making their debut in this game, playing with the Comets, who frolicked to a win over the Des Moines All-Stars last Sunday.

The younger fellows in the city got the Sunday football urge and

Just too many of our good constituents swung Wednesday night at the dance—what I mean solid swung—Aisie Brown is again among us—looking just too chic—the little lady plans to further her education at Drake beginning mid-season—Imagine being married to a guy who snores so loud he wakes himself up—Such is the life of Jo Griffin—no Williams, one of our former—My sympathy, pal... You should see Evelyn Brooks in her new snow suit—just too ducky—Seems as if Tommy A is sharpening shaving utensils—No I'm not going to tell you what for... Now just how in the world does Quinman Caldwell keep them straight—Launa Quincy, Bertha Forrester, Cora Mae Tymony and George Edmunds—Seems as if that last meeting of the four fair damsels with the gentleman present was terrific...

Seems if the cradles are being given a brew now that W. Miller gives all his surplus time to G. E.—Now, now William, y'know Bobby C. is a nice guy too—The season's influx of plays are now us—from now on until next year we will be besieged with minstrels, dramas, and what have you... Some organizations really put over some good plays—for instance the annual Monarch show... What in the world has happened to our old heel rockin' pal Leonard Lomas—he completely dropped from these parts all of a sudden—Wonder what happened of Buddy Glass at the last Y banquet—Wasn't told to me I only heard that Buddy ate fourteen pieces of chicken and took four or five pieces home—is it exaggerated—or is it true Buddy?—The Gamma Kaps are going to break down next month and entertain us for all the two bits we have spent with them—nothing like getting something for nothing—when girls have pep meetings, they simply overflow with pep—at the meeting Sunday—old man Mose held sway... and the Organ Grinder swung came in for its part—Just wondering—how it feels to be swished like Buck Mays

UP FROM THE DEPTHS

Legend of the Stork
The legend of the stork is supposed to have originated in Germany where the stork is regarded with reverence. On many houses in that country wheels are provided as nesting places for these birds. In all probability the legend of the stork's connection with babies grew out of the sheer helplessness of the parents to explain satisfactorily to their other children where the baby came from, and it seemed quite natural to tell them that the tall white bird on the house, the guardian of the house, brought him.

Man Shoots 6,000 Rats
Reitz, South Africa, has the worst plague of rats in its history. Farmers and townspeople are united in battling the rodents which are doing heavy damage and even destroying grain stored in metal tanks. Battering terriers are at a premium and rat traps and poisons are being used. One farmer has shot over 6,000 rats with an air gun in the last six months.

Baboon Most Dangerous
Among all the ape family, the baboon is the most dangerous. In Africa they are known by the nickname of "lion tamer" for any one of them can whip the biggest lion in the jungle. Lions are deadly afraid of them and a lion will beat himself against a cage wall trying to get away if a baboon is brought even within snelling distance.

Curt Morton, Charlie Woods, Ed Morton and Speck Howard, all veteran performers of the show, supported by a cast of fifty, will be featured in the Monarch club's Greater Minstrels on Thursday, December 10th, at the Jewish Community Center, Eighth and Forest.

Miss Pet's BETTER HOME LIVING (Calvin Service)
The Art of Entertaining
The successful hostess is the woman who has a keen appreciation of the meaning of hospitality. Such a hostess realizes that she is responsible for the happiness of her guests during the whole of the time they are under her roof. Entertaining at dinner therefore, is more than the perfect service of excellent food in a well appointed dining room. The sage, Brilliant Savoir-mais, said "It is not what we eat so much as with whom we eat."

And so it is that a wise hostess selects with care the guests for a meal. Having chosen the people who are sure to be congenial, the hostess next plans her menu to suit her conditions. She must always consider the "eternal fitness" of things and plan a menu that can be prepared and served correctly. The menu should not be too elaborate because no guests enjoys being waited on by her hostess.

With a menu planned which can be prepared and served with her special equipment, a good hostess next organizes the work so that there will be no last minute rush. A gracious hostess greets her guests with a calm composure and welcomes them to share a position of her home life. No greater honor can be paid a guest.

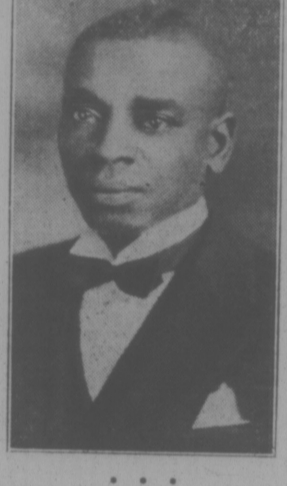

The hostess must realize that her place is with her guests at all times. The tea wagon, service table and tray all help to accomplish their purpose. The hostess who stays in the kitchen to serve the salad and dessert makes possible uncomfortable lapses in the conversation. Sounds of the egg beater, scraping of dishes, and running water all give the impression of extra work. The guests feels that company preparations are being made for her benefit. She feels that the family life is upset because of her presence.

The hostess is always "the head of the table." It is her duty to guide the conversation into safe channels and to be watchful of the comfort of her guests. The host should of course help the hostess in perfecting this spirit of hospitality. When children are old enough to eat at the table with company, they should be taught to be courteous to guests.
