ELIMINATIONS TUESDAY FOR CONTESTANTS AT BILLIKEN

By Everett Wadsworth, Staff Writer

Eliminations for contestants will be held at the Billiken Nite club, center at Twelfth, Tuesday, September 28th.

As in other years, expert judges and critics have been selected from nationally known motion picture and radio offices and studios.

Choruses, sacred and classical vocalists are most welcome and are urged to compete.

Last week we gave you what Clarence Muse, motion picture star, of Hollywood, California, thought of his idea of giving opportunity for young Negro stars to get recognition in the screen, stage and radio field.

One of the outstanding personalities in filmdom, Muse, with his wife, daughter, Mae, and son, Dion, are luxuriously situated in the beautiful country of southern California, housed in one of the palatial Beverly Hills mansions.

Atlanta, Ga., Sept. 23.—(ANP)—Cotton farmers of Warren county, Georgia, brought out their rifles and shotguns last week and stood guard over their pickers to prevent them going to an adjoining county at higher wages.

Farmers from neighboring Glascock county went to Warren and offered the colored pickers "75 cents a hundred pounds and a drink of liquor in the morning and evening" if they would move to Glascock fields, according to Sheriff G. P. Hogan of Warrenton.

Warren county farmers are paying 40 cents a hundred pounds, "which we think is good pay," Hogan declared. Men average 200 pounds daily, which on the basis of a six day week means $4.80. In Glascock county, where there is an acute labor shortage, the same worker would receive $9 weekly for a similar amount of work.

Woman Loses Purse, Falsely Accuses Negro

Recovers It in Front of Her Car

SEND FOR POLICE, WHO MAKES 'SEARCH FOR SNEAK THIEF'

"A NEGRO DID IT!!!"—a frightened cry of a white person who, in the excitement of an apparent crime, had to blame someone and it happened that a colored man was a victim, Mrs. Herbert Hemminger, 2125 23rd street, reported to police that a "Negro sneak thief" had stolen her coin purse containing $18 while she was seated in the waiting-room of the Broadlawn General hospital Sunday night.

A "special search was made by detectives for the "Negro described as about 22, with a bandage around his head."

Monday the woman reported to the police that she had not been "robbed at all," but had found the purse, with the $18 in it, outside the hospital, where she had dropped it from her bag, as she alighted from an automobile.

In her first story, she claimed the Negro sat near her, picked her pocket, then walked out.

The dailies played up a front page story of a "Negro sneak-thief who robbed a WPA worker's wife of $18." When the mistake was discovered, a small article appeared on an obscure inside page of the paper.

AMBITIONS IN LIBERIA GET APPARENT SETBACK

Monrovia, Liberia, Sept. 23.—(ANP) Polish ambitions to grab Liberia on representations before the League of Nations that the republic was irreponsibly governed and in a state of barbarism received a setback from one of their own countrymen when Mr. Brudzinski, economic adviser to the Liberian government, paid a glowing tribute to President Barclay and his administration.

The Polish economist was retiring from the service when he lauded Barclay, stating that when the latter took office six years ago, there was a high foreign debt, financial bankruptcy, economic collapse, mutiny in the arm forces, rebellion in the hinterland, unpaid public servants, with distrust and despotism everywhere.

N.B.A. Wants Joe To Vacate His Title

TELLS LOUIS TO SIGN FOR SCHEMELING FIGHT IN 30 DAYS

White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., Sept. 23.—(ANP)—In a strongly worded ultimatum passed Wednesday by the regulations committee of the International Heavyweight Championship association, Heavyweight Champion Joe Louis was ordered to signify within thirty days his willingness to fight Max Schemeling for the crown or else have his title declared vacated.

The committee also frowned upon the way Promoter Mike Jacobs of New York way Promoter Mike Jacobs of New York has tied up Louis and James J. Braddock for five years and threatened invalidation of the contracts as well as shunning all other written agreements between promoter and fighter covering anything more than a single bout.

However, should the N. B. A. make good its threat and declare the Brown Bomber is no longer champion, it would have virtually no effect on either the boxer or Mike Jacobs. Practically every important fight is held in New York, Illinois, California, Pennsylvania, Michigan or Ohio, but none of these states is under N. B. A. jurisdiction.

Shortly thereafter Dr. Trabue wrote Adams again, sought another cook for a friend and Adams sent his newly hired chef. Last week Dr. Trabue wrote that he wanted Director Adams himself, to be affiliated with him in the department of education at Penn State college. Adams went

Throng at Funeral Of Harrison Gould

ST. PAUL CHURCH LEADER IS LAID TO REST AT GLENDALE

By Everett Wadsworth, Staff Writer

"He loved his lodge, but he loved his church and Sunday school the best. They were the biggest things in his life," the Rev. R. H. Hackley, pastor, said in eulogy at the funeral services of Harrison Gould, held at the St. Paul A. M. E. church Saturday. Mr. Gould died in Keokuk on Tuesday, September 14th, after suffering a paralytic stroke Sunday, September 12th, while attending the Northwestern A. M. E. conference there. Burial in charge of V. L. Jones of the Wilson Funeral Home, was at Glendale. The Masonic and O. E. S. lodges conducted the last rites.

Reviewing Mr. Gould's work as a Sunday school superintendent, church steward, Y. M. C. A. official and community leader throughout his forty years in Des Moines, the Rev. Hackley delivered his sermon from Micah 2:10. "Arise ye and depart, for this is not your rest." Tributes were paid by the Revs. C. K. Brown, M. C. McCormick of Ottumwa, W. H. Wheeler of Hannibal, Missouri, D. L. Buford and William A. Brewer. Mrs. Journeuse Kelso sang "I've Done My Work."

Condolences and telegrams were read from church and civic leaders throughout the city, state and country. A delegation from Charles Hewitt & Sons, wholesale grocers, attended the funeral and occupied a large section of the church. Mr. Gould had worked there for over fifteen years. In the vast throng that came to pay their last respects were many young people and children who had been associated with Mr. Gould in athletic and civic affairs, of which he was vitally interested. His widow, Mrs. Mattie R. Gould, and a brother, Clayton, survive.

N. C. PRISONER STRUCK IN COURT

Marion, N. C., Sept. 23.—(C)—Mann Smith, 15, charged with assault upon a young girl, was struck on the head with an iron pipe by a white man as he sat in the prisoner's dock Tuesday while a jury was being chosen for trial.

Sheriff Grady Nichols arrested Frank Anderson, a plumber, who it was claimed, sneaked up behind Smith, unnoticed, and struck him. A mistrial was declared by Judge Felix Alley. The judge stated the youth would get a fair trial if it took all the troops in North Carolina.

HELPS INDICT THREE IN VIRGINIA KILLING

Leesburg, Va., Sept. 23.—(ANP)—With Lathan Johnson, first Negro to serve on a jury in this county since reconstruction days, a member, a special grand jury Wednesday indicted three colored men for first degree murder in connection with the holding slaying last month of Henry Saffel, white, aged London merchant. The trio indicted were John Windy Lester Eddes and Charles Osborne. Saffel was killed as he tended his store alone.

GROUPS AND INDIVIDUALS CONGRATULATED PRESIDENT FOR HIS SELECTION

Washington, Sept. 23.—(ANP)—In view of the "proof" of Supreme Court Justice Hugo Black's voluntarily accepted life membership in the infamous Ku Klux Klan as revealed in a series of daily newspaper articles and the renewed fight against him, political observers here are laughing up their sleeves at the reported embarrassment of Negro leaders who rushed to congratulate President Roosevelt for his appointment of the Alabama senator.

It is believed most of them have regretted their hasty action in stamping with approval a man whom, the evidence shows, is a life member of an organization formed to fight against colored Americans. However, it is pointed out that stories of his Klan relationship received great prominence before his confirmation and leaders therefore could not have been unaware of them.

Among individuals and organizations favoring Black as a member of the supreme court were the N. A. A. C. P., which, through Walter White, its secretary, sent a message of congratulation to the new justice, Roy Wilkins, assistant secretary and editor of the Crisis magazine, also came out in favor of him.

One of the first to board the Black handwagon was Rep. Arthur W. Mitchell of Chicago, a native of Alabama. Recently Dr. Ormond Walker, president of Wilberforce university, sent an open letter to President Roosevelt lauding him for the appointment and stating, "The civil war is over." Dr. Kelly Miller, dean emeritus of Howard university, also syndicated an article telling why he supported the Klansman.

From Tuskegee, President Frederick Douglass Patterson wired the new appointee his congratulations and wished him every success. The Youth Council of the National Negro Congress from its headquarters in Norfolk, Va., also sent a telegram urging his confirmation.

Recall Hugo Black Saved Klan Killer

ON GROUND HE THOUGHT CAUSE OF MURDER WAS A NEGRO

Birmingham, Sept. 23.—(ANP)—As the controversy raged bitterly over Supreme Court Justice Hugo Black's affiliation with the Ku Klux Klan, it was recalled here that in 1924 he defended a man who killed a Catholic priest, and won an acquittal after injecting the Negro issue into the case.

"The Klan itself is alleged to have raised the fee to pay Black for defending the Rev. Edwin R. Stephenson, himself recognized as a member of the hooded order, when the latter

'DeLaud' Broke

REX INGRAM NO LONGER IN "GREEN PASTURES"

New York, Sept. 23.—(PFS)—Perhaps it may be chalked up to his habit of holding "fish fry" banquets of carelessly tossing around ten-cent "seegers," but whatever the reason, "DeLaud" is broke. Rex Ingram, famed actor of stage and screen, who so capably filled the shoes of the venerable Richard B. Harrison in the beloved characterization of "DeLaud" in Marc Connelly's immortal play, "Green Pastures," filed a petition of bankruptcy in federal court last Thursday.

Mr. Ingram listed his debts as $9,411.82 and his assets—real or personal—at the round figure of nothing. He did, however, make allowances for the clothes on his back, placing a valuation of $20 on them.

hot and killed Father James E. Coyle, who was sitting on his porch. It went to trial before Circuit Judge William E. Fort. It developed in later years that Judge Fort became an official of the Klan and a law partner of Black. He brought out before the jury that Stephenson had killed because he thought Gussman was a Negro. Gussman, a Spaniard from Puerto Rico, was not allowed to testify and Black won an acquittal for his client.

ST. LOUIS GETS NEXT BAPTIST MEET

Los Angeles, Sept. 23.—(C)—The National Baptist Convention, Inc., which closed its sessions here Monday, will meet in St. Louis next year. Dr. L. K. Williams and his entire official family were re-elected.

The Baptists are planning to give Dr. L. K. Williams a trip abroad, and the National Training School for Girls, Washington, D. C., which has been closed, opens on October 6th.

North Meets South

BOY, 15, HAS ESKIMO FATHER ZULU MOTHER

Boston, Sept. 23.—(ANP)—Believe it or not, but Science Service has uncovered one of the most incredible parental assortments ever found—a 15 year old boy named Kuploo whose father is an Eskimo and his mother a Zulu from far-off Africa. It seemed the Hudson company's agents at Churchill, on Hudson Bay, found a big deposit of blue clay that resembled a "South African diamond field." They asked the South African diamond people to send up a good prospector. A skilled Zulu was sent, and he brought his wife with him. There, turned out to be no diamonds, but before the Zulu couple could get back home the man fell sick and died. The woman, not caring to go back to her people a widow, remained in the north and married an Eskimo.

BISHOP JOHN A. GREGG PROMISES SETTLEMENT SOON

St. Paul, Minn.—According to newspaper dispatch received here, the return of the Rev. W. E. Guy to pastor St. James A. M. E. church in St. Paul has stirred up a hot controversy and dissatisfaction enough to cause a probable padlocking of the church by the members.

A petition, signed by several members, definitely stating that a pastor other than Rev. Guy be sent to fill this charge was said to have been ignored by Bishop J. A. Gregg, the presiding bishop of the Northwestern conference, which recently convened in Keokuk, Iowa, and Rev. Guy was reappointed to St. James.

Voted Out

According to the release, the church trustees voted (in Rev. Guy's presence) to reappoint his removal. However, the Rev. T. B. Stovall, presiding elder, reported, the news story said, that ten out of eleven members voted for Rev. Guy's return. Last summer Bishop Gregg was in Minneapolis and was interviewed concerning the conditions which existed there.

From a normal attendance of 350 and 400 to a drop of 80 to 100 in the last two years, and an accumulated indebtedness of $1,100 worth of bills were blamed to Rev. Guy.

Sent Wire

It is reported that the trustees of the church wired Bishop Gregg that Rev. Guy can't stay here. Gregg is alleged to have wired back that Rev. Guy will have to stay here until October 6th, when the Chicago conference meets. He promises the membership a new pastor after the Chicago conference meets.

The Rev. Guy was pastor at the St. Paul A. M. E. church in Des Moines from 1930 to 1932. In an exchange of ministers he was sent to St. James church in Minneapolis and was succeeded in Des Moines by the Rev. John A. Alexander, who was pastor there.

Elephant Lives Longest

Reptiles Outlive Birds When you see an elephant trudging along in the circus, think for a second. That old fellow may have been playing in the jungle during the retreat from Moscow in 1812. This, says a writer in London Tit-Bits Magazine, leads us to the question: Which is the longest-lived animal in the world? There is decided disagreement among scientists. However, the animals of greatest longevity include the elephant, whale, tortoise, alligator, eagle, swan, and parrot.

The Service was opened by appropriate remarks by the Rev. Dr. R. H. Hackley, pastor, followed by Atty. Joe Brown, superintendent of the normal department, who had served with Mr. Gould on the St. Paul Sunday school board for almost thirty-four years. He exhibited a souvenir bookmark presented to him in December, 1903, when he himself was superintendent and which contained the names of all the officers and teachers on the board at that time, of which Mr. Gould was one.

God in the making of the nation of Israel—this has been our general subject for a number of months. In this concluding lesson we meet up with a solemn warning that even though God's mighty works have been revealed on behalf of a people, it is possible for them to become proud and self-confident, forgetting him whose they are and whom they should serve, and perishing in their rebellion and sin.

Fruits of Malay Archipelago

Novel fruits, one of which smells bad but tastes delicious, another that has been compared to the golden apples of the garden of the Hesperides, another which is covered with deep reddish spines are among the fruits of the Malay archipelago. The durian is one of the earth's most curious combinations, for while it smells like a mixture of garlic and bad eggs, it has a rich and refreshing flavor. The mangosteen, described long ago by the Dutch botanist, Jacobus Bontius, as the most delicious of all fruits on earth, is unimpressive in appearance. It resembles a dark purple orange with a hard rind, but inside it, in a purple hollow, lie five or six white segments having the texture of a plum. They melt in the mouth like snow and travelers proclaim them unforgettable in flavor. The rambutan, covered with sharp spines, has a flavor like a peach.

How could this people who had come up out of slavery and been led "through that great and terrible wilderness" (v. 15), who had been fed by God's hand, who had received "water out of the rock of flint," who had become a great nation by his grace and blessing, now forget God? It would seem unbelievable, did we not know ourselves. We need this warning as badly as Israel. Shout a stirring "Beware" from coast to coast as this lesson is taught, for America is forgetting God. Space does not permit a review of the appalling facts here, but they are enough to make one's heart sick with sorrow and fear for the future of our nation.

Harrison Gould, Jr. was born at Jackson Mississippi on May 4th 1877 and departed this life September 14, 1937, at 5:15 P. M. in St. Josephs Hospital, Keokuk, Iowa at the age of 60 years, four months and ten days. He was the oldest of two sons born to Harrison and Sarah Gould. At the age of four years, his mother passed away. He moved with his father and brother to Memphis, Mo. where he lived until he became a young man. At the age of 21 years he was happily married to Miss Mayme Keane of Canton, Missouri with whom he came to Des Moines 38 years ago where he has since lived. His wife Mayme, passed away in Des Moines in January 1929. On June 22, 1929 he was married to Mrs. R. Mattie Hicks of St. Paul with whom he lived happily until his death. Mr. Gould was employed as a hotel waiter and later as custodian of the school until its closing about eighteen years ago when he went to the Charles Hewitt and Sons wholesale grocers where he was employed at the time of his death. For twenty years he was a teacher in St. Paul A. M. E. S. S. and was the only officer to serve continuously on the steward board. About fourteen years ago he was elected superintendent of the Sunday school, a position he held when he attended his last conference as a church delegate.

After touching remarks upon the loyalty of Mr. Gould by these veteran associates of his, brief tributes were made by either the teacher or one of the pupils from each class, all of them testifying to their love for their late general superintendent in a manner that impressed all present that his services would be greatly missed. Brief eulogies were also delivered by Miss Jessie E. Walker, grand secretary of the Order of Eastern Star, and I. L. Brown, past grand master of Masons, both of whom had been associated with Mr. Gould in their respective fraternities and had come to the city from Marshalltown, Iowa, to be present at his funeral, which was held Saturday.

How treacherous and altogether fitting are the words of Scripture. Nothing could describe our times more succinctly and accurately than v. 17. Men are glorying in their ability to do things. Science has made mighty strides forward. Industry has brought forth so many striking developments that a single company is able to present as a reflection of its own work a veritable "House of Magic." We honor those who by skillful hand and brilliant brain produce excellent and thrilling results. But our question is, "How many are there who say, 'God has done this thing. He gave the strength and the skill. His is the honor?'" Some there are who thus recognize him, but they are few indeed. Their name is legion who say in their heart, "My power and the might of mine hand hath gotten me this wealth" (v. 17). "God, forgive us, cleanse us, and give us grace to walk humbly before Thee!"

SPORTS

BY ALLEN ASHBY

Football

The sock, em and rock 'em season got under full steam last week. Charles Swink and his helpers at Valley Junction rolled over Adel 40 to 0. Bob Vandevere helped the Comets go to town against Red Oak on Sunday. Sunday the Comets play Cedar Rapids here on the Valley field.

In college football a lot of colored lads are turning up. Besides the Big Ten group of Reed and Bell of Minnesota, Hinton and Jefferson of Northwestern and Harris of Iowa, there is Doc Keiker of Western Reserve. We also have Bruu Holland of Cornell in the east and at North Dakota there is Fritz Pollard, who might be an all-American with a Big Ten team. On the Pacific coast Kenny Washington, a back, and Woodrow Surode, an end, are expected to clean up for U. C. L. A. At Washington U. there is Don Thompson, who may become a sophomore sensation.

Our Negro schools are all set for a big race in all conferences. We will be watching Lincoln U. at Jefferson City, Missouri, where Al Thomas, who made yards for East, is attending. In the Southwest conference, Langston of Oklahoma claims a championship team, but so do Wiley, Texas college and Prairie View. Our old school, Arkansas State, Tennessee State, Morehouse and Tuskegee will be tough. A friend of ours at Arkansas, Jim McCrary, is head man at Wilberforce and we wish him luck.

Our Negro schools are getting a lot of northern boys from the big high schools and as a result of this and a crop of modern coaches, they are playing a much smarter, faster game each year. There is a world of natural talent down there and with good coaching and a few well drilled high school boys to work on, can play a lot of ball.

Tennis

One last fling at the tennis season is our 1937 ratings. These ratings are our own personal opinion and no one has to agree with them. They are based on the showings of players in the following meets: District, playground, state and city closed. It stands to reason that the more meets a man played in the better his rating is. Paul Williams, who could probably beat most of the men players, is not ranked with them, because all his tournament play was confined by junior meets. Here they go: No. 1, Chet Williamson; No. 2, Bill Ashby; No. 3, Earl Whitcomb; No. 4, Allen Ashby; No. 5, Paul Woods; No. 6, Everett Newcomb; No. 7, Freddie Hawkings; No. 8, Art Propp; No. 9, Henry Carson; No. 10, Morton Graves; No. 11, R. Hardaway; No. 12, Art Bush; No. 13, Henry Hill; No. 14, Charles Danforth.

Juniors: No. 1, Paul Williams; No. 2, Joe Howard; No. 3, French Miller; No. 4, Ozzie Morrow; No. 5, Laurence Strothers; No. 6, Charles Howard; No. 7, Henry Holt; No. 8, Harold Morrow.

Women: No. 1, Octavia Roane; No. 2, Wilda Mullins; No. 3, Lucille Benning; No. 4, Adelaide Bowman; No. 5, Donna Graham; No. 6, Mable Mami; No. 7, Agnes Mathews.

LIGHT-HEAVY CHAMP

WILL VACATE TITLE
Pittsburgh, Sept. 23—(PFS)—The title he has held since 1935 will be vacated by John Henry Lewis, light-heavyweight champ, in order that he may enter the proposed heavyweight tournament to be sponsored by Mike Jacobs in New York this winter, it was announced on Friday.

In a telegram to Chairman John Pellan of the New York State Athletic Commission, Gus Greenlee, Lewis' manager, declared the champion is willing to forfeit the title "if he is assured that he will be guaranteed a title match by your commission should he win the tournament."

SCOTTSDALE BOY

SENT TO CHAIN GANG
New York, Sept. 23—(CNA)—Heywood Patterson, Scottsboro defendant, has been put on a chain gang at Atmore in the southern Alabama swampland, and, in spite of an operation less than a month ago for a carious infection of the left leg, is being forced to work on the gang.

This information was received this week by the Scottsboro defense committee, which immediately swung in to action to save Patterson's life.

DRAKE GRIDS FOR WASHINGTON BATTLE ON FRIDAY NIGHT

Drake's Bulldog brigade, victorious over Central in the White and Blue's inaugural test, 47 to 0, swings into the tough part of a heavy schedule this week-end when Coach Veq Green's charges tangle with Washington's Bears in a Missouri Valley conference game here Friday night. The Bulldogs won a thriller from Jimmy Conzelman's Bears, 20 to 18, last year, but Washington is out this week-end to avenge that stinging defeat.

Particularly outstanding in the Central game was the improved showing of the Drake line. The big Drake forwards smothered Central's offensive thrusts and opened up gaping holes in the Dutch line for the Bulldog backs to romp through.

Season tickets will be on sale at Hopkins Sporting Goods store, Des Moines, until September 24th. Football fans have an opportunity to save $3.65 now by purchasing season dues. Single admission for the Washington game will be $1.65, reserved seats, and $1.10, general admission.

CHICAGOANS HONOR MAJOR JOHN R. LYNCH

Chicago, Sept. 16—(ANP)—Representative Chicago citizens of both races gathered around the banquet table at Wabash Y. M. C. A. last Friday night to honor Major John R. Lynch on his 90th birthday. The dinner was sponsored by the Citizens Civic and Economic Welfare Council of Chicago and over the coffee cups speakers paid deserved tribute to their guest of honor.

Venerable Major Lynch has had a distinguished record of public service equalled by few Americans. He is a former (1871) speaker of the Mississippi house of representatives; three times (1872-83) representative in the United States congress; paymaster (1906-1911) of the United States army and auditor (1889-1893) of the U. S. treasury for the navy department during President Harrison's administration. He is also widely known as a lawyer, author and republican political leader.

Reign of King Charles V Recalled by Landmarks

King Charles V, the monarch known as Charles the Wise, constructed many of the most famous landmarks in Paris.

The Louvre museum, whose marble halls are known to visitors; the Chateau de Vincennes, just outside Paris; the Palais de Justice, or town hall, and the Place de la Bastille, where the famous prison once stood, are among the landmarks in Paris whose origin dates back to the days of Charles V. Even the French National library, the Bibliotheque Nationale, which is known to thousands of foreign students attending the Sorbonne and other Paris universities, had its start with a donation from Charles V of more than 1,000 historic manuscripts.

Charles V did not actually construct the palace which later became the Louvre, but he ordered the original structure to be enlarged and renovated. The famous Palace de Justice was built following the instruction of this French monarch—but six centuries ago it was known as St. Paul's palace.

The prison of the Bastille, which was destroyed by mobs during the French revolution, was built by Charles the Wise "to keep Parisians in order," according to a history of that epoch. The Chateau de Vincennes, the palace where the king was born, was enlarged and redecorated during his reign.

Other significant events in his rule, which were celebrated with fitting ceremonies in Paris, were the establishment of a French merchant marine, the placing of France's taxation system on a business basis, and the expulsion of the English from French soil.

Writer of "God Save the King" an Open Question

There is room for debate among British patriots and musicians as to who wrote "God Save the King," as several persons have claimed the honor of writing both melody and words. However, notes a writer in the Cleveland Plain Dealer, in Dr. John Julian's dictionary of hymnology, credit for writing the melody is given Dr. John Bull, who is said to have played it on the organ in the Merchant Taylor's hall in London in 1607, when James I dined there as a guest of the guild.

Henry Carey is often accepted as the author of both words and music, and the air is said to have been sung by him at a dinner in 1740 to celebrate the victory of Portobello. Carey's son repeated his claim in 1795, hoping to get a pension for his father's patriotic effort, but he did not get it.

What is certain is that George II was the first king to be mentioned by name in the song, and that it became suddenly and widely popular after having been sung in the Drury Lane theater in London in 1745, soon after the proclamation of the Pretender at Edinburgh. It was sung at Covent Garden and other theaters immediately after and soon everybody was singing: "God bless our noble king; God save great George our king."

Uncrowned Rulers

The fact that a king has not been crowned does not mean that his rule is unacknowledged. Whitaker's Almanac says that Henry the Eighth it has been a recognized principle that immediately upon the death of a monarch his heir becomes his already constituted successor. The solemn and elaborate ceremony of coronation is the formal public ratification of an event which is already of binding force. Listed among English kings and queens in Whitaker's Almanac are two rulers who never were crowned: Edward V and Jane (Lady Jane Grey). Edward V reigned only a few months and Lady Jane Grey only a few days.

Story of Govett's Leap Explodes an Old Legend

Another gem of Australian legendary lore was exploded with the true story of how Govett's Leap received its name, says a writer in the New York Herald Tribune.

William Romaine Govett was supposed to be a bushranger of the Sixties who roamed the hills and valleys, murdered police and trackers in the bush, plundered on the highways and robbed banks and taverns in the townships. His career supposedly ended when he was cornered near the falls by the police, and, preferring death to surrender, he jumped over the falls.

But that is not the true story. Govett joined the surveying staff in New South Wales under the surveyor general in 1827. He surveyed much of the wild terrain lying between the Grose and the junction of the Capertee and Colo rivers, and from Springwood to Mount York.

While he was attached to a working party in the Blue mountains he jumped across one of the ravines or chasms. When he related his experience to Sir Thomas Mitchell he was complimented on his pluck and told that the spot would be called Govett's Leap. After serving several years on the surveyor general's staff Govett returned to England, where he died in 1848.

Popular imagination readily takes in a tale so full of spirit and adventure as that woven around Govett's Leap, and so the bushranger epic is struck by a visitor to the falls in the shape of the next sign, placed in the center-between heaven and earth, because he is influenced by both.

Columbus Gave Corn Name

It Will Always Remain

The pre-eminence of corn in the economic life of this country goes back to prehistoric times and the Indians. "Greece gave us art, Rome gave us government, the Indians gave us the great and enduring gift of corn." So reads a line from a writer of some years ago.

A recently published handbook on the starches, syrups, sugars and other industrial products made from the corn kernel contains a brief historical sketch about corn. The sixty-four-page pamphlet entitled "Corn in Industry" was printed by the Corn Industries Research Foundation. While in a way it is a technical brochure, it is so free from the shop talk of the industrial laboratory and so full of interesting facts concerning the making of the kernel into many products in common use that it might well be given a prominent place in school libraries, observes a writer in "The Chicago Daily News."

"Corn, like tobacco, squash, tomatoes, lima beans, the pumpkin, and the misnamed Irish potato, is a native American," writes the unidentified writer of the historical sketch. "Columbus noticed it on his first voyage to America and called it 'corn,' a word which, at the time, meant grain in general. The Spaniards, greatly impressed by the size and appearance of this cereal, failed to understand its value; but the Indians made no such mistake. They worshiped it, offered human sacrifices to it, and, in spite of their pagan blindness, were probably more logical than the conquistadors, for corn shaped the destiny of the new world and is still an important factor in the economic reasons for our prominence among nations."

In every part of the seven seas jellyfish are torn to pieces by an under-sea creature more vicious than the fiercest fish, says Pearson's London Weekly. It is a shell-fish of the lantern family, with sharp, razor-edged teeth, and a long, rasping tongue, and jellyfish are powerless against it. Unlike other mollusks which crawl along the sea bed, or anchor themselves to rocks the lantern floats on a tiny "raft" which is formed from a substance exuded by the mollusc's shell. It is supported by air bubbles which the mollusc blows, and the wildest weather. The mollusc itself is blind so the pirate craft also carries a passenger, a minute shrimp-like creature which guides the "ship" alongside the jelly fish victim, leaving the wicked teeth and tongue of the "pirate" to do the rest.

Flowers of Heaven

Japanese flower arrangement is an accomplishment every girl in Japan learns along with her regular education. The manner of arranging a bouquet is symbolic in that country. Flowers represent "heaven," "earth," and "man" to the Japanese. There are always these three divisions in every Japanese bouquet. "Heaven" is the tallest flower, "man" the next sign, and "earth" the shortest. Man is placed in the center-between heaven and earth, because he is influenced by both.

The Holy Alliance

The Holy Alliance was an alliance ostensibly for conserving religion, justice, and peace in Europe, but used for repressing popular tendencies toward constitutional government, entered into by Alexander I of Russia, Francis I of Austria, and Frederick William III of Prussia at Paris, on September 26, 1815, and subsequently joined by all the sovereigns of Europe except the pope and the king of Great Britain. It ended after the revolution of 1830 in France.

Italics in the Bible

In several early English translations of the Bible many words not intended to be emphasized are printed in italics. This is because the translators of the Scriptures were unable to find English words equivalent to some of the words in the Hebrew, Greek and Latin texts. Whenever they were compelled to insert extra words to make the translation intelligible, to English readers they put these additional words in italics to indicate the insertion. In later translations italics were used for emphasis.

Duck Hawk Kin of Falcon

The duck hawk is a close relative of the European falcon which was trained to sit blindfolded on the gantlet of king or noble until released to capture game fowl while hunters watched the thrilling chase. Like its European relative, the American peregrine falcon attains staggering speeds, sometimes as high as 70 miles an hour. This speed has earned for it the popular name of "bullet hawk."

East Indian Influence

Much of British Guiana's colorful character is traceable to the East Indian influence. There are more than 136,000 Hindus in the colony, mostly the descendants of indentured laborers brought from India in the Nineteenth century, when the freeing of slave labor made it imperative to find a new source of cheap man power to operate the plantations.

Chinese Study Soles of Feet to "Tell Fortune"

Take a good look at the soles of your feet. You may never have seen them before. They are covered with fine lines like the fingers and palm of the hand, and where the skin is attached to deeper tissue, there are long depressions like the "heart" and "head" lines of palmistry. If you cannot see these prophetic lines, feel them. You'll be tickled to death, observes a writer in London Answers Magazine. Palmistry has been practiced by all nations at all times, but only the Chinese have made a study of "solistry." They rely upon the patterns made by the long creases for their fortunes, much as the tellers of divinations in teacups rely upon the patterns made by the leaves.

The method is described at length in an immense encyclopedia of 5,020 volumes, which was prepared to the order of the Emperor K'ang-hi in the Eighteenth century.

"The feet should be oblong and broad," says the encyclopedia. "They should be white as jade, straight as the trunk of a tree, smooth as moss, and soft as cotton. These belong to rich persons and officials."

"If they are coarse as earth, hard as stone, crooked as a twig, and swollen, they belong to the poor common folk."

Indians in 1887 Elected Officers for Their Names

The strange facts of an election conducted on the Sisseton Indian reservation was revealed in a search of old records, writes a Pierre, S. D., United Press correspondent.

Interest in the election of 1887, it was found, centered on the legislative contest. The victor was Man-Who-Makes-Sneak-on-Public- Institutions. Apparently his election was inspired by the implication of his name that he could do the most good for his constituents. His opponents may have been equally well qualified, but their names were less appealing. They were Old-Man-Who-Cusses-Without-Principle and Young-Man-With-High-Up-Ambitions.

Old-Necessity was victorious in the race for justice of peace over Man-Afraid-of-Two-Deuces and Young-Man-Who-Got-Thirty-Days. Young-Man-Who-Always-Gets-Licked won a race for election ar-

Spelling Out Words

One of the earliest signaling systems employed in actually spelling out messages with the letters of the alphabet, was described by the Greek military historian Polybius (205-128 B. C.). The operation of this system may best be explained by assuming its use in transmitting the English alphabet, the letters of which—excluding one, for example, "Z"—would be arranged in five vertical columns and five horizontal rows, thus:

a t k p u
b g l q v
c h m r w
d i n s x
e j o t y

At each sending station, two groups of torches, separated so as to be distinguishable from each other, would be provided, and arranged so that they could be displayed or concealed as desired. The number of torches in one group would indicate the vertical column in which the letter to be transmitted was found; the number in the other group, the horizontal row. Thus the letter "a" would be transmitted by one torch in the first group and one in the second, or 1-1. The word "arm" would thus be transmitted as 1-1, 4-3, 3-3.

Table Manners

Manners vary considerably in different parts of the world—especially table manners. What we would consider terribly rude in this country is regarded as excellent form in India, says London Tit-Bits Magazine. If you dine with an Indian in his country you are expected to lick the platter clean—to leave anything on your plate is an insult to his food. Be sure to call for a second helping of everything in a loud voice, and a third, if possible. Always praise the items and give the impression that the food is delicious. You are expected to desist when you cannot eat more, not when you have had sufficient. Putting your stomach as proof is one sign. Indians are great eaters, and "strong" and "fat" are synonymous, especially among the "bannias" (shopkeeper) class. Among them it is common practice to tie a length of cotton round their waists and eat until their stomachs swell and the cotton snaps. Then they cease immediately.

Yankee Star Outfielder Lauds Colored Hurler

JOE DI MAGGIO CALLS
"PAIGE" "GREATEST PITCHER"
New York, Sept. 23—(CNA)—"Satchel Paige is one of the greatest pitchers I ever batted against." It was Joe DiMaggio, Yankee outfielder, who is rocketing to fame as one of the greatest ball players of all time, talking about the ace Negro twirler, admittedly one of the greatest pitchers baseball has ever known, yet, nevertheless, banned from his rightful place in the big leagues by an unwritten Jim Crow rule.

This forthright statement by the great Italian star, who threw out the first ball at the International Workers Order Youth Tournament, last Saturday, is sure to add to the growing demand that America's national pastime become just that by ending its un-American discrimination. DiMaggio has had occasion to bat against Paige on the Pacific coast in after season games.

"Let the winners of the world series play us just one game at the Yankee stadium before a packed house and if we don't beat them, they don't have to pay us," Paige said. He added he was willing to join any big league next year, at his own expense until his worth was proven.

Fastidious Okapi Uses Tongue as Scrub Brush
The okapi is of the genus Giraffidae and is "considered by many to be an actually living fossil," according to an authority in the Washington Post.

His body is like that of an antelope, and his legs have beautiful stripes of pure black and white similar to those of a zebra. The large red ears, the color of the undersides of the mandible leaves, are delicately fringed in black. The back is shaded into rich tints of dark red, light red and silvery red on the sides and under the belly. More careful of his appearance than the most fastidious woman, the okapi never tires of washing himself carefully, licking his skin at every point that his long, 18-inch tongue can reach. And that means his entire body. His head can reach his tail as he bends his long neck as if it were joined at the base by a hinge.

The okapi's first act in the morning, and the last before going to sleep, is to bathe in the river. He does not roll in the water, but gallops through it, taking good care to choose a place where the bottom is sandy so that the water splashing over him cannot become muddy. If the okapi is jealous of his skin, there is "method in his madness." For, the darkness of the black bleeds almost perfectly with the near-black appearance of the vegetation at five or six feet from the ground; the black and white stripes of the upper part of the legs mimic with the light and shadow projected through the lower part of the foliage, and the white of the stockings resembles the silvery color of the dried leaves on the ground. Hence, at five or six yards' distance—the maximum visibility in the forest—the okapi is invisible.

And just to add to the list of peculiarities the okapi's eyes are independent of each other, enabling him to look in two directions at once.

Monogram Signature in Use Since Earliest Days

Monograms in the form of a single sign, representing a name, have been used since civilization began. They were man's first attempt at a signature, crude efforts to imprint individuality upon objects, or to proclaim ownership. More elaborate ones composed of the several initials of a name have been found upon medals and seals of Sicily and Macedonia. Popes, emperors, kings and queens of the Middle Ages used them in lieu of signatures, notes a writer in the New York Times.

In Japan initial monograms, or those involving the full name, made up in the form of seals, are in general use for signing prints, letters, contracts, bills, receipts, etc.

The work of the early artists, engravers and craftsmen of Germany, Flanders and many European cities, was signed solely with the initials of their makers, which were frequently interwoven with figures of symbolic character.

The most common form of monogram is the square, which represents the foundation, principles of life, or the circle, the line of perfection, which, like the infinite, is without beginning or end, and encloses all. Some of the simplest ones are a primitive sort of short-hand. A rebus forming a pun upon a man's name was once extremely popular in England. Pictorial signatures also were once common there, as for instance the letter N between crude sketches of an ox and a bridge, which stands for Oxenbridge.

Exhibits "Lot's Wife Salt"
An ancient block of transparent rock salt from Palestine, of the same type as that into which Lot's wife was transformed according to the Bible story, is on exhibition in the department of geology at Field Museum of Natural History. That the block is old enough to have been contemporary with Lot's wife was pointed out by the chief curator. This specimen of salt comes from the shore of the Dead sea, near the Jehan Udum, a name which means "mountain of salt." A cave in this mountain contains many stalactites of rock salt.

Indian Names of States
States in the United States with names of Indian origin are Alabama, Arizona, Arkansas, Connecticut, Idaho, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Kentucky, Massachusetts, Michigan, Minnesota, Mississippi, Missouri, Nebraska, New Mexico, North Dakota, South Dakota, Ohio, Oklahoma, Texas, Utah, and Wisconsin. Various theories have been advanced as to the origin of the name Oregon, one of which is that it is of Indian origin, coming from the Shoshone Indian word, Over-unc, meaning "place of plenty."—Indianapolis News.

Many Wild Geese in Canada
Canada has many kinds of wild geese, and throughout the greater part of the dominion they are highly migratory. One of the earliest signs of spring is the winging northward of these conspicuous birds to their nesting grounds in the Far North, and a sure sign of the onset of winter is their southward flight. Their unerring instinct in traveling through the skyways has intrigued man from the earliest times. One of the least widely known of the wild geese of Canada is Ross' goose.

Animal Intelligence
The dog, according to scientists, is the most intelligent domestic animal. Animal psychology, however, is an inexact science. Its tests of intelligence are not construed alike by investigators. Some believe, Darwin among them, that the higher animals can reason; others, for instance Des Cartes, hold that all brain action, less than human, is instinctive. The dog's capacity for action would seem to entitle him to the highest ranks in animal intelligence.

Worshiped, Feared Jaguar
Mayans in Yucatan may have been alone in worshipping the jaguar, but they were not the only ones who feared it. A fierce, relentless killer, this American version of the leopard is hated by Central and South American natives. It will attack any animal and when cornered will even turn on its old nemesis, the dog. Many a dog has made the mistake of chasing a jaguar into brush, and only the jaguar has come out.

Use Back of Closed Fist in Winning Dog's Favor

Several of the terriers and large dogs appear hostile upon approach, but it's their keen expression that makes a person wonder about their true disposition.

Some people are timid in making friends with a dog and, due to that mistake, really cause the dog to become a bit wary. In rare cases children are bitten by dogs. This is due to the child's easy manner in approaching and fondling them. Of course, in an instance where a child actually beats or taunts a dog, the animal will resent it and snap at the young offender.

It is always well to bear in mind that, to make friends with a dog, the best way is to let the animal see you. Walk up slowly to the dog and offer the back of your closed fist, advises a writer in the Philadelphia Inquirer. In a second the dog will scent you and make you his new friend. The reason for the closed fist is practical. Should the dog be high strung and snap at you, the bite will not tear at the fleshy portion of your offered hand.

Massive dogs, such as Irish wolfhounds, Great Danes, Mastiffs, Newfoundland and St. Bernards may loom as giants to be avoided, but they're the easiest to make friends with. All of these appear to have a menacing expression upon their approach, but this is only a mask hiding their gentle dispositions.

You can make friends with these big fellows in easy fashion. The essentials necessary are a few soft-spoken words and gentle patting around the head. The larger the dog, the quicker they will relax and receive your fondling.

POWELL PARALYZED—TWO ARE IN HOSPITAL FOR OPERATIONS

Montgomery, Ala., Sept. 16—(CNA)—A new menace, chronic illness, brought on by almost seven years of hurried and continuous confinement in Alabama jails now threatens the lives of four of the five imprisoned Scottsboro boys, it was revealed this week.

Mrs. Ada Wright, who has just returned from a trip to Kilby prison in Montgomery, Ala., said this week that two of the boys were now confined in the prison hospital. Mrs. Wright's hurried trip south was due to a request from her son, Andy, who was recently operated on for acute hemorrhoids.

Charlie Weems, sentenced to seventy-five years, has tuberculosis, while Hoywood Patterson, also sentenced to seventy-five years, is suffering from a dangerous infection in his leg. Mrs. Wright stated, Patterson underwent an emergency operation about ten days ago.

BEAUTY CULTURIST OF ST. LOUIS REVEALS TRUE IDENTITY

St. Louis, Sept. 15—In a surprise announcement here today, the identity of Marie Downing, writer and cosmologist, was made known when an award for distinguished service was presented to her jointly by the Urban League of New York and the National Beauty Culturists League, which is holding its annual convention this week at Renaissance Casino in New York.

In private life, Miss Downing is Mrs. Charles Evans of St. Louis. For the past eighteen months she has been writing a nationally circulated column, known as "Beauty and Romance," while at the same time operating a beauty shop of her own in St. Louis. Her column dealing with beauty care and other hints for everyday living has gained wide popularity throughout the United States.

SUPREME LIBERTY REPORTS INCREASE

ARE YOU ONLY A THREE-QUARTER WIFE?

MEN, because they are men, can never understand a three-quarter wife—a wife who is all love and kindness three weeks in a month and a hell cat the rest of the time.

No matter how your back aches—how your nerves scream—don't take it out on your husband.

For three generations one woman has told another how to go "smiling through" with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It helps Nature tone up the system, thus lessening the discomforts from the functional disorders which women must endure in the three-grades of life: 1. Turning from girlhood to womanhood. 2. Preparing for motherhood. 3. Approaching "middle age."

Don't be a three-quarter wife, take LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND and go "smiling through."

ARE YOU ONLY A THREE-QUARTER WIFE?

MEN, because they are men, can never understand a three-quarter wife—a wife who is all love and kindness three weeks in a month and a hell cat the rest of the time.

No matter how your back aches—how your nerves scream—don't take it out on your husband.

For three generations one woman has told another how to go "smiling through" with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It helps Nature tone up the system, thus lessening the discomforts from the functional disorders which women must endure in the three-grades of life: 1. Turning from girlhood to womanhood. 2. Preparing for motherhood. 3. Approaching "middle age."

FLUSH KIDNEYS OF POISONS AND STOP GETTING UP NIGHTS

Live a Healthier, Happier, Longer Life

Thousands of men and women wonder why backache bothers them—why they have to visit the bathroom often at night—why—now—is scanty and sometimes smart and burns.

Any one of these symptoms means that your kidneys and bladder need attention now before these minor symptoms develop into serious trouble.

To flush out waste poisons and acid from kidneys, soothe your irritated bladder and put healthy activity into them, get a 35-cent package of GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Capsules and take as directed.

This harmless, tried and true medicine always works—you'll feel better in a few days, as the supremely effective diuretic and kidney stimulant drives excess uric acid from the body which is often the aggravating joint agony, sciatica and neuritis.

But be sure and get GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules—the original and genuine—right from Haarlem in Holland. All good things are limited.

Millions prefer it to any other dressing!

Miracle Whip Salad Dressing

- Finer ingredients!
- A new type of recipe!
- Mixed a special, more painstaking way!
- Marvelous flavor!

VALLEY BANK TO MAKE FINAL CHECK PAYMENTS

According to C. T. Cofe, Jr., president, final checks were being prepared Monday to complete payment of the 100 cents on the dollar to depositors in the old Valley Savings bank and also those of the old Valley National bank.

Payments on the 45 per cent of the deposits were completed within eight months with the bank assuming liabilities. The original agreement was to complete payment in three years. 4,800 depositors were benefited. The late R. A. Crawford, former president, directed in his will that the money should be taken from his will, if necessary, to pay the depositors.

Bank officials said liquidation of assets has enabled full payment without drawing on the estate.

What goes up invariably comes down—Anyway here are a few first "downs" that didn't come from a football game—Virgil D. is column native these days—Anyway the Dixon lad hopes his southern jive will cut the Casey Loma kid out, but as Johnny would say, "Hmmm, I don't know" . . . I'm told a certain East S. lassie has been barred from dancing with another's b. f.—well, the course of true love never did run smoothly—Seems as if Scaley B. tackled one man and thought the whole football team was on him recently . . . Wonder why more Des Moines maids don't venture to Iowa U. for education—especially since H. Harris is unattached this year—L. Baker being an instructor in one of the southern colleges . . . Looks like all the boys who were vying for Helen Roper's smiles are out of luck with East Side (Tony C.) winning East Side . . . What started out to be a humdrum, mellow romance has fallen by the wayside—and after only one day, too. . . Still one never can tell about E. . . To all the kids who remember Victor Lewis of Cedar Rapids—he can no longer be called an eligible bachelor since my boy completed that life-long couple recently with a chick of Walker, Iowa—and he was such a rare number . . . Almost as regular as the months come around—that picture man of Hampton (C. Bayles) comes to town—nothing like old friends to cheer up a dark spot . . . Sometimes I wonder about Fred M. NEW YORK NEGROES MAKE PROGRESS

New York City operates one of the subways which augments the network of underground, surface and elevated private system of transportation for the metropolis. Heretofore Negroes have not been used as subway operators because the management nor the employees wanted them.

But now comes the city with a publicly owned subway and Negroes are being used as operators along with the whites. Here is an instance where public ownership of a utility has opened the way for Negroes to get jobs worthwhile.

Here in Des Moines we have a publicly owned water works system and in it no Negro is employed regularly. There have been instances where some have worked out their water bills or were employed on extension jobs but none are on the regular payroll. Our street railway system and gas and electric company have no Negro employees in the system proper except that the street railway company has used some on track work in recent years.

In other words Negroes in Des Moines get little consideration in the matter of employment either in public or private utility companies. Evidently politics got the Negroes somewhere in New York City utilities. Maybe this must be our remedy in Des Moines.

Shortly, city politics will begin to take on life. Undoubtedly we are going to be hearing something about public ownership of utilities and the city manager plan. Both are vital to the Negro for he is a large user of public utility service.

We must get ready now to look for the best interest of the whole group in casting our lot on one side of the question or the other. In the meantime, it will be well to get some of the conditions complained of corrected before the election because there has been too much of this passing the buck on both sides.

EVEN A THIEF HAS FRIENDS

Political party a faculty of getting endorsements from individuals from the very people they seek to destroy. Justice Black is no exception to the rule for Negroes, Jews and Roman Catholics have endorsed him in spite of the fact that he has been proven a member of the hooded order and unwilling to tell the truth about it.

Last week an outstanding labor leader who said he was a Roman Catholic branded the fight on Justice Black as the work of tricky politicians and said that he supported the Justice because he was an able progressive and a friend of labor.

On the basis of that argument Al Capone, Jessie James and many other noted criminals should not be condemned because their friends, and many of their enemies for that matter, tell of some very fine traits of character in all of these men.

THE NEGRO RACE SUFFERS

Last week a white woman claimed that while she was waiting in the reception room of Broadlawn General hospital, a Negro man who sat next to her opened her pocketbook and took several dollars from it.

It was terrible for this poor woman to have lost the money; it was heinous that a Negro seated in the next chair should have taken it. Not an individual name but a Negro.

Later upon leaving the hospital she discovered that she had dropped the money on the sidewalk as she got out of her car; that instead of a Negro taking her money she had lost it by her own carelessness.

The charge that a Negro stole her money was a big news item, but the fact that she herself had lost but later found it was not. In the meantime the Negro race rather than an individual gets the stigma of stealing this money. And many people who read the original article never saw the correction.

What Others Say

Rev. Jordan W. Tuttle, Pastor Union Baptist Church

The Negro church of today is made up of a different type of members, in attitudes of worship, and service. Many think that they are serving the Lord by going to church, simply by attending the service when you go or should go for the sole purpose of worship. Service is done out in the field where the laborers are needed. Christ at no time was found merely out helping Himself, but always others. The value of the service we render unto our Lord and Master is in proportion to the service we render to humanity.

The rivalries that exist among churches for members, in order to boast of large memberships, and the idea of getting certain types of members to join us, because of certain anticipated advantages is missing the mark for the progress of Christianity. You can not build a church upon the idea of certain respect for certain individuals. Christ never used this method. The church was instituted for men as men are.

The mistake that many churches are making today, is the calling of preachers and not pastors. This is one of the mistakes that is easily made, because you call him upon the basis of what you see and hear, and often times that is merely SOUND. There are many preachers but only a few pastors. Now and then you will find a preaching pastor, but this one happens to have what is known as a DOUBLE portion. What would YOU suggest as an ideal church of today? Is the church coping with this day and generation? Remember, TIME MARCHES ON.

Health Talks

By Dr. C. E. Bradford

DIPHTHERIA

Usually caused by the diphtheria germ entering the nose or throat. It is frequently transmitted by the air from person to person by minute moist droplets while coughing or talking. It can be carried by individuals who show no evidence of the disease themselves but may infect others; they are known as "carriers". This disease is rarely seen in the new born but is most often seen in the early school ages 5 to 10 years.

The early symptoms are about the same as in ordinary sore throat, therefore all mothers whose children have not been immunized against diphtheria should consult a physician immediately. As the disease progresses however the symptoms become very severe and distressful frequently terminating in death.

The treatment is preventive rather than curative. All children should be immunized against diphtheria at the ages of 6-8 months. After which a test should be done to determine if they are immune. One immunization is usually enough to last the child through the years he is most susceptible.

E. M. W.—Please tell me in the column if I will ever have a boy friend to call my own?
Ans.—You could easily have several boy friends, but first you must count out of your "shell" and meet the boys half way. They aren't going to run after a girl who seems to be ashamed to show her face. Get out among your friends and meet the boys.

E. H.—I would like very much to know if I should depend on graduating in the summer of 1938?
Ans.—You had better or there will be plenty of "fireworks" at your home. There isn't any reason under the sun why you can't pass this last year's work and you are acting very silly by allowing yourself to get nervous. This is really your most interesting year of all.

M. L. D.—Please tell me if I am doing wrong by not giving this friend a date whom seems to care so much about me?
Ans.—No, indeed. There are too many nice churegoing boys for you to go with without fooling away your time with this boy, who desires to drink and advertise he doesn't like to attend church. Your people would object to his company, so ignore his advances.

H. A. J.—There are two girls in my life and I am wondering which one I should give up, as I can't tell?
Ans.—You are doing quite well with both of them, aren't you? They are young as well as yourself, so don't think of giving up either friend, as nothing serious is going to become of the affair anyway.

DRUNK MAN GOES TO CHURCH, WRECKS PULPIT; MEETING BREAKS UP

Burlington, N. C., Sept. 16.—(ANP)—Sunday afternoon services in a small church at Oak Grove were broken up by a drunken man who made his exit by shouting, "Jesus Christ's in front of me and the devil's behind," after he had dashed up the aisle waving a four inch knife, knocked down a pulpit, fought with a worshipper and overturned numerous chairs before being ousted by the excited congregation.

Clifford Green, according to witnesses, broke into the church unexpectedly from a rear entrance and before they knew what he was up to, started a fight beneath the pulpit. Called to the scene, officers found Green outside a short time later. At the county jail he was booked on a charge of drunkenness and breaking up a public gathering.

IT'S TERRIBLY HOT DOWNTOWN TODAY DEAR - BETTER PUT OFF THAT SHOPPING TRIP !!

It's no fun—getting out in the summer sun—and often it's not necessary—it's so easy to shop by telephone. There's no need for second trips, either. A telephone call will save you a blistering trip.

Enjoy the convenience, privacy and exclusive use of your telephone by having one-family line service. Call the telephone office for information.

Putnam, Conn., Sept. 16.—(ANP)—Memories of the famous Kip Rhineland case in New York several years ago were revived Tuesday as Earl Perkins, 30 year old white machinist, filed a divorce and annulment.
