JOINS DEMOCRATS BECAUSE OF PARTY'S ATTITUDE ON NEGRO JUDGE

Philadelphia, Oct. 7.—(ANP)—In a letter addressed Thursday to the president judge of Philadelphia courts, a leader in Pennsylvania democratic ranks, Raymond Pace Alexander, noted lawyer and for many years a leader of the republican party, announced he had changed his party allegiance and in the future would support the principles and leadership of the democrats.

This defection, the attorney announced, is caused by failure of the republicans to give adequate recognition to its many Negro supporters, particularly in the matter of judgeships. "The political party that has prospered in Philadelphia for a half century with the constant support of the large mass of Negro people within its borders, now numbering 250,000—with more than 120,000 registered voters—has failed us outrageously," he said.

Asks Bar Ass'n to Drop Its Color Line

PRESERVE AND ENFORCE CONSTITUTIONAL LAWFULNESS PLEAD IN SPEECHES

Kansas City, Mo., Oct. 7.—Because of the ringing denunciations of bigotry and intolerance and the fervent speeches calling for the preservation and enforcement of the United States constitution which were made at the convention of the American Bar association in Kansas City, Mo., this week, the bar association was asked by the N. A. A. C. P. of New York to take action for a federal anti-lynching law, against disfranchisement in the southern states, and for the constitutional guarantees of due process of law and equal protection of the law.

The bar association was also urged to abandon its policy of excluding from membership qualified Negro attorneys solely on the basis of color. The telegram cited the fact that the first president of the N. A. A. C. P. was the late Moorfield Storey, who at one time was a president of the American Bar association. Special emphasis was placed in the telegram upon the necessity of defending the rights of minorities if the constitution is to have real meaning.

Walk Out When Negroes Are Hired

St. Louis, Oct. 7.—Twenty white union building trades workmen on a Finney avenue construction job went on a half hour strike last Thursday in protest against the employment of six colored non-union laborers working on the same job.

The strikers laid down their tools at noon on call of their unions, and returned to work half an hour later when told the dispute had been submitted to officers of the union for settlement.

Negroes Eliminated From Postal Service, Is Charge

CAMPAIGN TO OUST EMPLOYEES FROM SERVICE

Montgomery, Ala., Oct. 7.—A charge that postmasters in the south have deliberately set out to embarrass and drive out Negro employees from the postal service was charged here this week by the N. A. A. C. P. In a letter to W. W. Howes, first assistant postmaster general, in Washington. The letter also charged that southern postmasters are refusing Negro postal employees the appointments and promotions they are due according to merit and their ranking under the civil service and that the postoffice department in Washington "has no special solicitude to see that the Negro employees are given equal

PROTEST SENT HARRY L. HOPKINS BY N. A. A. C. P.

Fayetteville, N. C., Oct. 7.—A sharp protest against the forcing of Negro labor off the WPA rolls in southern states into jobs as cotton pickers at substandard wages was filed with Harry L. Hopkins, WPA administrator, by the N. A. A. C. P. of New York this week. No white women in Fayetteville were ordered into the cotton fields from WPA projects.

The N. A. A. C. P. protest was a review of the reports which have come to the association since September 9, 1936, climaxed by the complaint received this week, which charged that colored women are being taken off WPA projects and forced to accept cotton picking jobs. The Fayetteville complaint states that the women were told to take their children out of school and make them pick cotton also.

The colored women in Fayetteville were being paid only $24 a month and they were working originally on sewing projects. However, they were shifted from that project to manual labor such as cutting grass around schools for white children, scrubbing and cleaning white schools, cleaning the white churches and cleaning up the jail.

protection with other citizens."

The letter to Mr. Howes was occasioned by the dismissal of Ezra H. Nix, a carrier in the Montgomery, Ala., postoffice. Mr. Nix is supposed to have accumulated so many demerits that he was deemed to be an inefficient employe, but the N. A. A. C. P. pointed out that Mr. Nix had an efficiency rating of 97 per cent or better for the four years 1929-1932, and that in these four years he accumulated only thirty-three demerits—eleven in 1929 and twenty-two in 1930—with none in 1931 and 1932.

Louis Will Fight Four More Years

ROXBOROUGH SPIKES RUMOR THAT JOE WILL RETIRE NEXT YEAR

San Francisco, Oct. 7.—(CNA)—While rumors of a retirement from the ring in 1938 continued to circulate in three eastern cities, Joe Louis, heavyweight champion of the world, on a tour with the Brown Bomber's softball team, stated that he expects to see at least three or four years more of service in his ring. This followed an earlier statement of Julian Black and Joe Roxborough, who have been managing the Brown Bomber's destinies since he turned "pro" in 1934, that Joe had no intention of quitting the ring immediately.

"Since he licked Braddock, Joe's greatest ambition has been to retire an undefeated champion," Roxborough said, "and regardless of how people felt since he won the decision from Tommy Farr, Joe himself knows his fighting abilities. He is sure of fighting at least four years more. If he still holds the title, or has lost or regained it, during that time, he'll satisfy that ambition by quitting at that time forever." Joe is only 29 now. If he should retire from the ring in 1941, he would then be only 27 years old.

Cops Quell Riot At Girl's School

Washington, Oct. 7.—(ANP)—A sharp clash occurred Tuesday between girl inmates and attendants at the National Training School for Girls, a reformatory, the trouble arising, according to reports, when a white sewing teacher returned to her post, thus displacing a colored substitute who had been acting in her stead for several days.

The quarrel necessitated the calling of police, who quickly quelled the disturbance. Dr. Carrie Weaver Smith is superintendent of the school, which has recently gained notice because of the interest of Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt in the school's training program. Some time ago the president's wife invited a group of the girls to the white house.

OTHERS DECLARE KLAN AFFILIATION MAYE JIM UNIT FOR OFFICE

Three out of five Des Moines people who heard Senator Hugo L. Black's radio speech Friday night, who were interviewed by the Bystander, were satisfied. Others said that his klan affiliation made him unfit for the office. The comments are as follows:

Mrs. Monroe Wadsworth, 1417 Stewart street: "I think he told what he was, and if some of the others would do the same, the government would be much better off."

Atty. S. Joe Brown, 215 Watrous Bldg.: "I thought Senator Black made a very clean-cut breast of the situation. He stated that he had been a member, and had withdrawn before entering the United States senate, also that he did not carry any membership in the organization at this time."

Mrs. G. T. Fant, 1656 Maple street: "If he ever was a klanman, he still is. I don't have any faith in him."

James L. Dameron, 1127 Eleventh street: "I think Justice Black's address showed him to be unfit for the fifth office to which he was appointed. His studied phrases showed no apology or regret for his connection with an organization of intolerance and bigotry."

Atty. W. Lawrence Oliver, 1047 Thirteenth street: "I think every person should be judged individually and not by the clan to which he may have belonged to—Justice Black included."

DES MOINES FOUR, DOROTHY BELL, GEORGE EDMUNDS, QUINMAN CALDWELL, BETTY JEAN McDONALD DORA MCKAY TAKE FIRST HONORS

By Everett Wadsworth, Staff Writer
For two hours a capacity crowd of eight hundred applauded, cheered, and praised the efforts of thirty contestants in the grand finals of the third annual Iowa Negro talent week at the Jewish Community Center Monday evening. Included in the vast audience were many participants of yesterday who came to watch their successors—1937 stage, screen and radio aspirants—seek honor, glory and cash before the footlights.

A large number of entrants re-entered this year, displayed the old troupier spirit of "try, try again." Spencer Elliston, advertising manager and originator of the show and Atty. James B. Morris, editor of the Iowa Bystander, who began these "opportunity classics" in 1935, were much elated over the results.

Following the mode of a streamlined "Plantation to Broadway" revue, each act clicked to perfection in the introductions of "Speck" (T. L.) Howard, a "Willie Bryant" type of master of ceremonies, who was at his best in his personality role. Diminutive Betty Jean McDonald captured first honors in the "Kindergarten" division, a new feature, with little Rowena Mae Fields, 5-year old doll, placing second. Don't be surprised if you read in 1950 or 1952 about the "bronze beauties," former Des Moines song and dance girls as sensations of Broadway. Only two prizes were awarded although each one of the tots did exceptionally well.

Hard Work
After two years of diligent effort and hard work the Des Moines Four quartet, with Leland Johnson, Carl Robinson, George Robinson, Jr., and Charles Brown, nattily attired in full-dress, achieved their coveted goal as "champions" in the classical division in which quartets, soloists and instrumentalists were grouped.

Apiano duet by the Misses Maxine Blagburn and Eleanor Powell, students of Iowa State College at Ames, Iowa, were second and the Kyles A. M. E. Zion Four, composed of four ladies attractively dressed in white satin blouses and black skirts, and who have been heard frequently over the radio, third.

Modern Songs
Swinging from the older masterpieces into modern rhythm, the show moved on into the compositions of the present and Tin Pan alley had its day. Competition in popular music was extremely sharp. Rocking the crowd back on its heels, Dorothy Bell, popular young song bird from the East Side, went to town with her torch rendition of "I'm In a Crying Mood." Competing in every talent show ever held, she and her partner, Bernice Barber Davis (impersonator of Ella Fitzgerald) decided to split their duet team, and do singles. However, the latter failed to place.

Sporting cute little French maid costumes of variegated hues the Four Queens of Harmony, "trucked on down" with numbers that were "solid senders." Their harmonizings were enlivened by animated dance steps and clever tunes. Evelyn Carr, Pauline Watts, Lorraine Jackman and Nadine Robinson, junior high girls, were good enough to rate second honors to Miss Bell's torch singing. "I'll Get Along Somehow," a sentimental number that could bring tears to even a hardened criminal, was the third award offering sung by the dreamy, mellow voice of Esther Holt, another one of last year's contenders.

SPORTS

BY ALLEN ASHBY

FOOTBALL

1937 seems to me the year of the big upsets. As the law of averages in the form of a big Nebraska team caught up with Minnesota's Golden Gophers, two Negro boys played their parts well for the Gophers. Dwight Reed made his share of tackles and blocks at left end, and Horace Bell kicked off for his team and booted the field goal that looked like Minnesota's winning margin.

At Northwestern, Bernard Jefferson abandoning his usual role of blocker, ran the opening half kick-off back 95 yards against Iowa State. Jefferson made another score and several long gains as Northwestern rolled over Iowa State 33 to 0. Clarence Hinton also got into this battle and helped N. U. out considerably. Fritz Pollard helped North Dakota pull one out of the fire and Bud Holland went on a scoring rampage as Cornell swamped Colgate. Captain Homer Harris and his gang at Iowa rested last week and got ready for Bradley Tech this week-end.

NEGRO COLLEGES

West Virginia State brought Louisville into camp 20 to 0 and Knoxville after crying all summer about her weak team went out and nailed Morristown to the cross 38 to 0. Our old friend Jeems McCrary brought Wilberforce through against West Kentucky 19 to 0. Hampton dragged South Carolina A. and M. around 7 to 6 and Morris Brown served notice on everyone to be ready by dusting Allen University 46 to 6. Tuskegee's Golden Tigers, expected to be contenders for the Southeastern title, met some more gold as Xavier's Golden Hurricanes skinned the Cats 13 to 7. Our own Arkansas State came through against Bishop 3 to 0. This State-Bishop game is a warm spot in our memory as the first Negro College game we ever saw. We can't forget those Bishop boys dressed in bright scarlet from head to foot and how big they were. Texas College fanned Prairie View 5 to 0 and Wiley sailed over Sam Huston 57 to 0. Lincoln U. lost to Virginia Union 6 to 0.

HIGH SCHOOLS

Ike Miller and Tom Avant played major roles in helping North down a fine Perry team 19 to 0. Avants was crossing the goal line for the opening touchdown. He fumbled the ball so it went ahead of him and squarely into Ike Miller's arms who thus received credit for scoring although he had missed a block and was on the ground. Miller also did some nice open field blocking and tackling during the entire game.

East went to Davenport and in spite of the fact that the Scarlet and Black football people think they have a powerful team in the making, Eddie Maupin caught a pass for the extra point of East's 7. Harry Saunder and Fred Williams also saw action in the battle which Davenport won 20 to 7.

Charlie Swink and his mates couldn't do too much against a fighting Indiana team and were held to a 6 to 6 tie.

Bob Vandever gathered the boys at LaCrosse, Wisconsin, in for a 7 to 0 win for the Comets. Bob also booted the extra marks. The boy packed the pigskin six consecutive times to bring home the bacon for his team. Bob is too valuable a man for any one to try to keep him from scoring by not blocking for him, says Archie Johnson, coach, of the Comets.

WASHBURN COLLEGE HERE FRIDAY TO BATTLE DRAKE AT STADIUM

Drake's Bulldogs will once more resume their conference battles this week-end, when they entertain the Ichabods from Washburn college at the Drake stadium Friday night. Although they lost a hard fought 21-0 game to Notre Dame last Saturday, the Bulldogs came through with flying colors and no serious injuries.

Drake will be gunning for its second conference victory, having already trounced the Washington Bears, 32-2.

October 23rd the Bulldogs meet Iowa State at Des Moines and the following week-end they have the traditional battle with Grinnell. The last home game of the season is with Coe on November 20th. General admission for all contests except that with Coe is $1.10 while that with the Kohawks is 75 cents.

Looking Over the Hawkeyes

By J. Braddie Morris

Greetings readers!

Well, here we are at the beginning of another school year and here I am to try to please you with a detailed account of everything that goes on in this town that I consider to be of interest to the readers of the Iowa By-stander.

Iowa's loss at the hands of the Washington Huskies is history now, but there is an untold story: that some of the players brought back that probably would have never reached most newspapers except through personal contact with some of the players who made the trip. After interviewing Capt. Homer Harris and Fred Smith, sophomore Negro end, who made the trip, I learned of the natural surroundings and beauty that greeted the Hawkeys on their arrival on the coast. It was a typical Seattle day, slightly overcast with the sun just barely visible through the afternoon haze. Mt. Rainier, usually visible from the Washington stadium, was somewhat obscured by the low hanging clouds.

In all it was an ideal day for the game. I hope that you all can visualize the environment and picture in your mind the beauty of it. I hope that I haven't bored you. I think it is really something different and something that you don't read in a newspaper every day.

There are more Negro students here this year than last, and, as usual, most of them are graduate students. Several are candidates for the degree of doctor of philosophy. Among those is L. E. Boyd of Salisbury, N. C., who is majoring in education. Delbert White, former discus champ at the Drake relays and decathlon champion at the Kansas relays, is a graduate in the school of physical education. He is a graduate of Kansas State Teachers college at Pittsburg and lives in Pleasant, Kan.

I believe that there are more Negro students here from St. Louis, Mo., than any other place in the country. I'll try to have a complete list of them in next week's edition, plus the names of other prominent ones on the campus. I'll see you all then.

Your campus correspondent,
J. M. B., Jr.

P. S.—Don't forget the Iowa home-

Bldg.: "Intensely interesting with loads of natural rhythm and talent. I enjoyed every minute of it."
Miss Sarah M. Steele, graduate of Simpson College Conservatory of Music and director of music at the East Community Center: "As a whole I thought the show was a success. Quite proud of the Negro talent of Des Moines."

Orville Foster, musical director of the Iowa Broadcasting System (KSO and KRNT): "Fine—should be held twice each year and if possible have radio pick-up from the show."

William C. Petite, Orpheum Theatre: "Very good. Lots of talent."

Kermit Berkamp, Tromar ballroom: "Very fine. Gives chance for Negroes to display their talent."

coming on November 6th, when Iowa's fighting Hawkeyes tangle with Minnesota's Golden Gophers. It promises to be a real battle. The Hawks will be out for vengeance for their recent losses at the hands of the Gophers, and will be determined, still stinging from the defeat at the hands of Nebraska last week.

LOVE YOUR NEIGHBOR

In business, do you love your neighbor? Do you seek to manage your affairs so that you will reap double value—the value from a just and valid service rendered, and an accruing good-will, which comes only if your motives are right? The second value is based on the first—costs less, but is worth far more. On the accumulation of the second value depends your chance to grow and expand.

Negro business needs more good-will. It needs to grow and expand. We urge Negro businessmen to render service at a profit, but also to love their neighbor. (In other words, COOPERATE!)

Chromium Is a Silvery, Hard Crystalline Metal

Chromium yellow, chrome steel, chrome leather, chrome green, and chrome alum are the names of a number of outwardly highly dissimilar materials, and the layman may wonder why a single adjective, chrome, is used to describe all of them. The word means that they all contain the element chromium, a substance whose unusual and varied properties give it an unusual position in the chemical industry, says Dr. Thomas M. Beck, in the Chicago Tribune.

Chromium is a silvery, hard, crystalline metal. It is about as heavy as iron and melts at about the same temperature. It is obtained chiefly from the ore chromite, which is found in a few scattered deposits, chiefly in Rhodesia and New Caledonia. The ore is a compound of chromium with oxygen and iron. It is worked up by roasting with soda at high temperatures in a current of air. The resulting mass is then washed with hot water, which dissolves the chromium content as one of its compounds, sodium chromate, which may then be converted into the other desired compounds of the metal.

The name chromium is derived from a Greek word meaning color. The compounds of many metals, such as aluminum, lead, or zinc, are colorless (unless, of course, they are combined with some color-producing element). Compounds of most other metals exhibit a single characteristic color, such as the blue of copper compounds or the green of nickel. But the many compounds of chromium present an array of color that can be matched only by Joseph's coat.

Lots Drawn in 1789 for United States Senators

When the nation's first senate was organized on May 14, 1789, only ten states were represented, the others not having accepted the Constitution, notes a writer in the Cleveland Plain Dealer. The twenty senators were divided into three classes, one of six members and the other two of seven members. One member of each class then drew lots, the class drawing number one to serve two years; number two to serve four years; and number three, six years. The lots were so arranged that no two senators from a state fell into the same class.

So the country had three sets of senators, one retiring in 1791, the next in 1793, and the third in 1795. The system so established has never been changed. As the other states sent senators they were admitted and assigned by lot in the same way. As their terms expired, successors were elected for the full six-year term. Senators from new states, by the enabling acts admitting the states, were also assigned so as to keep the three classes even.

Cacti Native of Americas

With one exception, all of the cacti of the world are native to the Americas. From here they have been transported to the far corners of the earth, and are very much at home in Africa, the island of Mauritius, and even in Ceylon, according to a writer in the Los Angeles Times. In Australia and other sections of the globe they grow in profusion, until many a traveler has been tricked into thinking of them as indigenous to those countries. Yet it is in the southwestern portion of the United States, Lower California and old Mexico and some sections of South America that they are found growing in their native state most abundantly.

Some species of cacti, like the tuna, are edible, while others are deadly poisons; a few contain juices which are intoxicant and some bring on insanity. The Opuntias Nopales bear fruit which is commonly called prickly pear. The products of certain species of Echinococcus, are called alcohols by the Mexicans and strawberry cacti by Americans, due to the fine flavor of the juicy pulp.

Food Plants Used by Indians

A lichen growing on the bark of pine and fir trees in the Columbia river area which was sprinkled with water, allowed to ferment, then rolled in large balls and baked in an oven, was one of the favorite foods used by the Indians. The palatable roots of the arrowhead which were boiled or roasted by nearly all the Indian tribes. The annual wild rice, which grows in great fields along the Potomac and was one of the most important of all Indian cereals. It is not a true rice, but is almost indistinguishable from that grain. The corn of the jagu-in-the-pulpit was known as Iroquois bread root. The sumac, whose acid fruit was used to make cooling drinks resembling lemonade. The fruits of numerous wild roses were eaten both fresh and dried.

Indian Chief Powhatan

Scared by the English The Indian Chief Powhatan was the father of Pocahontas, and his original name was Wahinsanacock, notes a writer in the Indianapolis News. He was one of the most powerful sachems connected with the early history of the United States. His rule covered most of the territory now embraced within the states of Maryland and Virginia. He had residences in different parts of his country and changed his abode at different seasons of the year. At the time of his first acquaintance with the English in 1607 he was about sixty years of age.

He was tall and well-proportioned, capable of enduring great fatigue. He showed his friendliness to the English by sending them much needed articles of food. However, the conduct of the English was so ill-advised and often so unjust that they were continually in trouble with him. Two or three times he planned war against the English, but without result. At one time an accident occurred which had a great effect on him. Some of his men had obtained powder from the English and were experimenting with it when a powerful explosion took place, killing several. This so greatly increased Powhatan's reverence for the English, or fear of them, that he sought peace and sent the colony nearly half his crop of corn. On the death of Powhatan, at an advanced age, his brother, Opechancanough, succeeded to the throne, in accordance with the custom by which a brother took precedence over a son as heir of the kingdom.

Snuff-Taking Once Was "Dainty and Elegant"

In 1759, George Washington, a Virginia planter, shipped 55 hogsheds of tobacco to England. When the national capitol was built, tobacco had reached such an important place in American life that its leaves were used on some of the columns, along with corn, another New World product, relates a writer in the Washington Post. To Sir Walter Raleigh goes the credit for popularizing smoking in the Elizabethan court and so in Europe. School children learn the story of how his servant threw water on him when he began smoking—thinking he was as fire. The spread of the habit, however, was not always clear-sailing. King James termed it a filthy weed. Shah Abbas of Persia, fearing its effect upon the birth rate, prohibited the use of tobacco and burned a merchant alive in his stock of the plant. In Connecticut, in 1647, smoking in public was forbidden. During the fashionable reign of Louis XIII snuff-taking was pronounced "far daintier and more elegant" than "puffing out tobacco smoke."

As late as 1900 cigarettes—a South American invention—were considered too stinky for use by red-blooded Americans. One of the interesting things about tobacco is that it adapts itself peculiarly to the soil and climate in which it grows.

About Allergy

The Modern Home Medical Adviser defines allergy by saying that the person with allergy is an individual who inherits some peculiar constitutional make-up which causes him to become sensitive to certain things. Thereafter these particular things become violently poisonous to him, even when encountered in minute amounts. Allergy patients may become sensitive not only to material things but also to physical agents such as light, heat or cold. Sensitiveness may develop to such an extreme in certain people that they may be badly affected by a millionth of a milligram of substance which may be devoured as a food by a nonsensitive person. Hay fever, asthma, hives, eczema and other diseases are linked with allergic conditions.

Tomatoes Brought Fame to Town

A quaint community of more than 1,000 persons living on the north end of Majorca, one of the Balearic islands, off the east coast of Spain, gained its fame as a producer of a single variety of tomato, which was the community's sole means of support. The islanders planted millions of vines of this single variety each year, but they had to overcome almost unbelievable hardships to do so. Their island is mountainous, and to procure level patches of ground the Majorcans built by hand great stone walls, 10 by 15 feet high and several feet thick, thus forming a series of mountain-side terraces. Then they built concrete reservoirs for irrigation water, moistening the terraces by intricate irrigation systems.

Alligator Pears

There are numerous varieties of alligator pears, distinguishable by slight differences in foliage and the shape of their fruits. The seedlings, such as are started in the home or the greenhouse, have the same deep rich green laurel-like foliage, and are attractive in appearance. The leaves also have a pleasing aromatic odor resembling that of anise.

Silversmith Paul Revere

Artisan of High Renown Although examples of silver made by Paul Revere were among the first sought after by collectors, his activities in the American Revolution and his versatility in other fields have somewhat overshadowed his achievements as a silversmith. Much picturesque information was gathered about Paul following Longfellow's stirring recital of his midnight ride.

In addition to his craft as silversmith, he was one of our first engravers of copperplate prints and almost the first American industrialist in the production of copper and brass, says the American Collector. Born in Boston, 1735, during his eighty-three years of life, his natural facility was so marked that Revere, the silversmith, was sometimes subordinated to his other accomplishments. Yet had he done nothing else but cleve to the trade learned from his Huguenot father, he would still be one of the most important American workers in silver. In 1754, the same year that Chippendale published his book of furniture designs, the elder Revere died and Paul, a journeyman at nineteen, took over the management of this long-established shop. From then until about 1800, when he largely forsook silversmithing for his copper manufacturing enterprises, Paul Revere was an active and prolific silversmith.

From 1774 to 1780 he played his part in the Revolution by acting as courier for Massachusetts, printing paper money for the Continental congress, repairing spiked cannon abandoned by the British and serving as lieutenant colonel of an artillery regiment. Then he returned to his original occupation, expanding it to include operation of what he termed a "hardware shop." In it he sold everything from gold jewelry to spectacles and shoe buckles and, of course, table silver and candlesticks. Much of this stock in trade was undoubtedly the product of his own skill and that of his workmen.

Elephants' Legs Strong; Are Set Perpendicularly

As to the elephant's agility, it is pertinent to read the interesting statement of Zoologist Ernest Prothero, F. Z. S., concerning the elephant's legs:

"In order to support the enormous weight which rests upon them the legs are very stout and are set perpendicularly, without that bend in the hinder leg which is found in most animals. This pillarlike structure is in quite use when the animal climbs or descends steep acclivities, which it can perform with marvelous ease. Considering its bulk, the elephant is remarkably active; it can lie down and regain its feet as easily as a dog; it can stand upon its hind feet alone, or erect itself upon its forefeet; and it can even stand upon its head. It cannot trot or gallop, but nevertheless can move along at eight miles an hour if needed. A ditch seven feet wide would prove a complete bar, as the animal's maximum stride is only six and a half feet, and it cannot jump an inch."

The statement about the elephant's pace is probably an understatement, for hunters would have no need to fear an animal whose speed was limited to eight miles an hour. Zoologist G. M. Ververs, superintendent of the London zoo, says: "Both species of elephants are fast movers over a short distance, and a speed of fifteen miles an hour is not uncommonly kept up for a quarter of a mile or so, but whereas the African can keep up a speed of ten miles an hour for several hours on end, the Indian, being shorter in the leg and more cumbersome, cannot maintain a speed of more than six or seven miles an hour."

Rivers Flowing North

The United States Geological Survey Bureau says that the Red river of the North, which forms the boundary between Minnesota and North Dakota, flows north for part of its course; the Monongahela flows north from West Virginia to Pennsylvania, where it joins with the Allegheny to form the Ohio river; the Niagara river, connecting Lake Erie and Lake Ontario, the Tennessee river, where it crosses the west end of the state of Tennessee; the Snake river, where it forms the boundary between Oregon and Idaho; John Day, Deschutes and Willamette rivers, tributaries of the Columbia river in Oregon; the Missouri river in the vicinity of Helena, Mont., and a part of the course of the Salmon river in Idaho, all flow north. Others having courses between north and northwest include the San Joaquin and Eel rivers in California, Kootenai river in Idaho, Mouse river in North Dakota, Kentucky and Licking rivers in Kentucky and the New-Lanawha river in Virginia and West Virginia.

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL Lesson

By REV. HAROLD L. LUNDQUIST, Dean of the Moody Bible Institute of Chicago, © Western Newspaper Union.

Lesson for October 10 THE CHRISTIAN IN GOD'S KEEPING

LESSON TEXT—Jude 1-4, 12-25. GOLDEN TEXT—Keep yourselves in the love of God, looking for the mercy of our Lord Jesus Christ unto eternal life.—Jude 2.

PRIMARY TOPIC—Why David Sang. JUNIOR TOPIC—In God's Keeping. INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Keeping Oneself Christian. YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Safe in God's Keeping.

To be born is only to begin life. The years which stretch out before their growth, their struggles, their joys, call for courageous living.

So it is with the Christian. He is a "born one," as we saw in our lesson of last Sunday. But when he is born again he is just ready to begin the Christian life.

The Epistle of Jude sheds much light on the dangers which beset the Christian's pathway and exhort him to holy living and sacrificial service. It opens with a description of the Christian and closes with an ascription of praise to God. It reveals the Christian as one who is

I. Called in Christ (vv. 1, 2). The entire Trinity is seen to be active in our redemption (See Revised Version). Jude writes "to them that are"

1. "Called"—The Holy Spirit calls men into salvation. 2. "Beloved in God the Father"—for God is love. 3. "Kept for Jesus Christ"—until he appears.

II. Living for Christ (vv. 3, 4, 17-23). As Jude began to write of the "salvation" which he had in "common" with his readers, the Holy Spirit moved him to deal with a very urgent and vital problem—the hostility of wicked men toward the gospel of Christ, and their efforts to destroy "the faith." The Christian life includes

1. Contending for the faith (vv. 3, 4). "The Faith" is the body of revealed truth, the gospel, the good news of redemption in Jesus Christ. "The world hates the gospel, and attacks upon it are to be expected, but the most insidious assault is that of those within the church (v. 4) who profess to believe in Christ. Against them and their destructive work Christians must "contend earnestly," at the same time praying that they may be delivered from their sin and its terrible judgment (vv. 15-16).

2. Observing the times in which they live (vv. 17-19). Some folk seem to think that being a Christian means "entering into a place of security and rest and promptly going sound asleep. Far from it. The Christian, knowing God's Word, is keenly alert to the dangers of this ungodly world.

3. Keeping their own souls (vv. 20, 21). The best defense is a vigorous offense. The way to contend against error is to build up one's own faith by the study of God's Word, by communion with his children, "but above all by prayer "in the Holy Ghost." And above all there will be an abiding in the love of God and a looking for the fulfillment of the mercy of Christ at his coming again.

4. Saving the souls of others (vv. 22, 23). Soul-winning is for Christian the normal expression of his Christian's life. It is his crowning joy. It most effectively counteracts error and worldliness. It builds up the church. Why not do it? Note that there are two types of sinners to be rescued. Some are "in doubt" (R. V.), needing tender and careful instruction. Others are in grave danger, and must be rescued by drastic reproof and decisive action. Soul-winning is urgent business.

III. Kept by Christ (vv. 24, 25). The dogmaty at the close of Jude, has been a haven of comfort and assurance for God's children throughout the centuries. Either have come the string in faith to rejoice and praise God. Here has been found the strengthening of faith by the fearful and trembling soul who had not yet learned that he may fully trust God. These verses present two truths.

1. Assurance. Our Saviour is able to keep us from falling, yes, even from "stumbling" (R. V.), and to present us "faultless" "without blemish" (R. V.), with exceeding joy, before the glorious presence of God.

2. Worship. Such a God and Saviour is indeed worthy of the outgoing of every Christian heart in adoration and worship.

Work and Wait Haste is not always speed. We must learn to work and wait. This is like God, who perfects his works through beautiful gradations.

Greatness of Trifles "Commit thy trifles unto God, for to Him nothing is trivial; and it is but the littleness of man that seeth no greatness in a trifle."

Sabbath Days Sabbath days are quiet islands on the tossing sea of life.

Flush Kidneys of Acids and Poisons Gain in Health and Stop Getting Up Nights When kidneys are clogged they become weak—the bladder is irritated—often passage is scanty and smarts and burns—sleep is restless and nightly visits to the bathroom are frequent. The right safe harmless and inexpensive way to stop this trouble and restore healthy action to kidneys and bladder is to get from any druggist a 35-cent box of Gold Medal Haarfren-Gil Capsules and take as directed—you won't be disappointed. But be sure and get GOLD MEDAL Haarfren-Gil Capsules—the original and genuine—right from Haarfren in Holland—a brand kidney, stimulant and diuretic. Remember also that other symptoms of kidney and bladder trouble are backache, leg cramps, puffy eyes, moist palms and nervousness.

SHE LOST 20 POUNDS OF FAT Full feel of pep and poise the slender form you crave—you can't if you listen to gossipers. To take off excess fat go light on fatty meats, butter, cream and sugary sweets—eat more fruit and vegetables and take a half teaspoonful of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water every morning to eliminate excess waste. Mrs. Elma Verille of Havre de Grace, Md., writes: "I took off 20 lbs.—my clothes fit me now." No drastic cathartics—no constipation—but blissful daily bowel action when you take your little daily dose of Kruschen.

THE TALENT WEEK SHOW

The third annual talent week show sponsored by the Iowa Bystander Monday night was a decided success. The acts were splendid, the crowd large and enthusiastic and the public appeared well pleased with results.

It was a tribute to the Bystander staff which worked unrelentingly during the past few weeks to build up the show and an indication that amateur performers are coming to realize more and more that opportunities are available. As an indication of these opportunities two acts were booked immediately after the show was over for a performance on the following night.

The Bystander wishes to thank all who in anyway contributed to the success of the show and is highly gratified with the support given by the public.

LABOR UNIONS SHOULD DEAL FAIR

The NAACP has wired the AFL now in session in Denver urging that it reprimand all labor unions which exclude Negroes from membership, a policy which is contrary to public pronouncements of the high officials of the union. It asked further that all organizations refusing to take such course be excluded from the AFL.

As far as Negroes are concerned, this is the outstanding difference between the AFL and the CIO. Lewis, the head of the UMW and the CIO has been able to get this policy down to the local unions to the extent that less discrimination prevails in the UMW than in most unions. This insistence upon the organization of all men in an industry as advocated by the CIO is more in line with the thing Negro labor wants. The AFL has talked it but in practice has not gone very far.

Since the administration has done so much to give the unions control over who shall and who shall not work, the chances of the Negro for employment depend upon the attitude of the unions.

The Bystander has always felt that much could have been done by the administration to rectify the unfair practices by organized labor against the Negro, but apparently some force has prevented it. But this is no reason to cease fighting for a change in the iniquitous policy of these unions. The fight must go on.

JUSTICE BLACK PLEADS GUILTY

In his speech over the radio Monday night, Justice Black confessed all the things the newspapers said about his activities in the Klux Klan but sought to avoid them by stating that he believed in the principles of the bill of rights and said that every citizen, black or white, Catholic or Jew, was entitled to protection under it.

Speaking, sometime ago while a member of the United States senate, he said:

"As a general rule, a man follows in the future a course that he has followed in the past. Show me the kind of steps a man made in the sands five years ago, and I will show you the kind of steps he is likely to make in the sand five years hence."

If we are to take him at his bargain, then he will be making the "same tracks" while a member of the Supreme Court that he made while campaigning for the United States Senate in Alabama.

ments made in behalf of Justice Black is that advanced by those who see no difference in a man as a lawyer in Alabama and as a Justice of the Supreme Court. In the first instance about the only persons looking to him for justice were his clients. In the latter instance minority groups find him among the last nine men with final authority to decide what their rights are. His background is bound to have weight when legal arguments close by balanced are presented to him for decision.

Then there are those who argue that Justice Black's opponents are simply trying to embarrass the President. They forget that Senator Wagner of New York, one of President Roosevelt's close personal friends and a consistent supporter, said he would not have voted for Justice Black had he known this record at the time. Senator Herring of Iowa and other Democratic Senators said the same thing. While they are loyal to the administration "evidently" they feel that a man with such a record has no right to be a member of the Supreme Court.

Of course there is little that can be done now. Just what the future reaction of the public will be only time can tell. The Bystander does not believe we are smart to continue to agitate race and religious hatred and the best way to stop it is for men in high places to shape their course away from that direction. This President Roosevelt did not do. It has opened up old sores that we thought were healed.

What Others Say

THE PREACHER AND THE PRESS

When the preacher has the opportunity to go hand in hand with the press it gives him a broader distribution of his Christian program. He is able to reach the members that are not so active in the church work, and to enlighten others that may not know of his great work in the community.

The people in general should be continually informed as to what is going on in our churches. SOME WILL LOOK US UP AT SOME TIME OR OTHER. The press offers an opportunity for each church to know what the other church is doing.

The preacher and the press alike are molders of community sentiment and they should work in harmony with one another. They together can wield a powerful influence for good for their community. In my opinion there is not enough church news in our papers. Here is where we lag too much. Our children read very little about their church in our papers. They read everything else because they don't find the church news there. Every member of the church enjoys reading something about his church, and he will speak of it one to another. Let us give the press more of our news and encourage our members to read more. THE CHURCH HAS GOOD NEWS. May we as preachers learn to pick up where others have left off, and keep the good work going on. The voice of the preacher and the voice of the press should go hand in hand. LET'S GO.

associate justice, Levitt is not mentioning the Klan issue in petition, but contends that under the law the retirement last June of Associate Justice Willis Van Devanter, whom Black succeeded, created no vacancy.

The other objection came from Attorney Patrick H. Kelly of Boston, who goes farther in his petition than Levitt in contending that the retirement act is "clearly unconstitutional" and that if the court interprets the law correctly, Van Devanter will have to return, and Black will have to go. Kelly was set to make an appeal, but was halted by Chief Justice Hughes and granted privilege of filing a formal motion with the clerk of the supreme court.

Has Negro Messenger Another gesture came in the appointment of Black's messenger, He is Leon Smallwood, a Negro, and Catholic, whose seniority rank gained him the assignment from the messenger's office to serve in Black's office.

PREVENTION OF DIPHTHERIA

Two years ago a "Five Year Campaign" was started to prevent diphtheria in Polk County. Its purpose is to educate parents and physicians to the importance of immunizing children under school age against diphtheria preferably between the ages of 9 months and 12 months.

Better than fifty per cent of the deaths from diphtheria occur among children of pre-school age. In order to get a more lasting immunity, parents are urged to see that their children get two inoculations two weeks apart and at the end of six months a test to determine if they are really immune to the disease.

A number of physicians have agreed to help in this campaign by being in their offices from 11:00 to 12:00 o'clock on the Saturday prenoons of October 16, 23, 30 and November 6 to give these inoculations at an unusually small fee. For those who are unable to pay a fee they may take their children to the City Health Department or some of the well-known baby clinics. Diphtheria can be prevented but it cannot always be cured.

L. T.—Please tell me what I can do to make my husband stay at home. Would it be better for us to part?

Ans.—Certainly not, for you have four small children to consider and they surely need the guidance of both father and mother. Ask him to entertain his friends in your home instead of "always going out with them." He isn't going to continue this, way very much longer, as he realizes he is taking a selfish standpoint in life.

M. X. X.—I read your column and enjoy it fine. Tell me if it will be wise for me to marry this man and does he really want to marry, as he pretends?

Ans.—He really wants you for his wife, but it would be to your advantage to see a doctor and clear up your physical disability before entering marriage with this party. It will only take a short time for you to get over the condition, so seek medical care right now.

M. R. W.—Do I have the wrong opinion of the fellow that is in my life and tell me what would be best for me to do?

Ans.—You don't have the wrong opinion of him. In fact you are much too lenient with this man. He isn't showing you the consideration due you and you would be rather foolish to let him continue to hurt you as he has been doing these past six months.

R. J. H.—Do you think I should consider going with the same party I went with before my illness?

Ans.—No. Take the advice of a close friend of yours and you will be much better off.

L. B.—Will I make my grade this year and be on the honor roll?

Ans.—You bet—if you continue to study as hard as you have done in the past.
