

Former Iowa Co-ed Wins Foreign Scholarship

Dean Pickens to Speak at St. Paul Church Monday

William Pickens, Field Secretary of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, who is appearing on the Des Moines Public Forums, was born in South Carolina. From high school in Little Rock, Ark. as the valedictorian of his class he entered Talladega College in Alabama and finished the Bachelor of Arts after which he entered Yale University receiving the degree of A. B., the Phi Beta Kappa key and rank in the Philosophical oration group, the highest-ranking group in his class. In his career as a teacher he received the following honors: a diploma from the British Esperanto Association; Master of Arts from Fisk University, Litt D from Selma University and L. I. D. from Wiley.

DR. WILLIAM PICKENS

He has made many trips to Europe attending conferences and delivering lectures in England, Scotland, Germany, Poland, Russia, Switzerland and Austria. He is the author of "The Heir of Slaves," "The New Negro," "The Vengeance of the Gods," "Bursting Bonds" and "American Aesop." He is well known as an orator and contributor to the press and leading periodicals and contributing editor of the Associated Negro Press.

SUMMARY OF POINTS MADE

A summary of points made by Dean Pickens during his forums here may be listed as:

1. Judging the Future by the past. In the records outside of the history books, we can find the history of the American Negro, and we find that he has been a normal part of American life and development for more than three hundred years.

2. The Post-Civil war period. The "Negro Problem" is the aftermath of the slave system. Lynching, disfranchisement and segregation are largely the problems of freedom and the effort to maintain democracy and Christian principles.

3. The Second Emancipation Movement. A "race problem" is not the problem of one race and cannot be solved for by one race. The problems are common and the solution must be cooperative.

4. The Future of the American Negro. In the America of the Future the fine arts and the entertaining arts will demand much upon the native genius of the American Negro. His contributions in music, the theatre, and literature, though arresting in the present, should be far more remarkable in the oncoming generations.

Monday evening March 13, 8:15 p. m. at St. Paul A. M. E. church, Dean Pickens will speak before the Des Moines branch of the N. A. A. C. P. The public is cordially invited to attend.

The Inter-Racial Commission and the Polk County Council of religious education will sponsor the program.

AS I SAW HIM

By Clara A. Fant

Imagine my feelings when the boss assigned me to interview William Pickens director of branches, National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, who is in the city conducting forums for the Federal Forums Projects of the United States Department of the Interior. On my way to the office all kinds of thoughts ran through my head. My imagination led me to believe that Mr. Pickens was of a short, stocky build, probably with a gruff voice and a very dignified manner. What would I do? What would I say? How should I act? To my great surprise and pleasure when I opened the door I was greeted by a tall, brown-skinned gentleman of a very cordial and genial nature which made me feel very much at home. He was dressed very plain in a navy blue suit. He wore no jewelry except for a pearl stud pin. The slightly graying temple and glasses only added to make him distinguished and scholarly in his appearance. After the necessary introductions we were seated and then the questions and answers began.

Children Through College

Mr. Pickens is married to the former Miss Minnie McAlpine and is the father of three children, William, Jr., Harriet and Ruby, all of whom have graduated from college and are now married. When asked if there was some incident in his life that urged him to better the condition of the Negro, Pickens said, "My whole life and the life of very intelligent Negro man is concerned with the betterment of his race. Just as Frederick Douglass began to inquire, 'Why Am I A Slave? Why must I live this way?'"

Pickens stated that he was inspired by the many stories he had heard in his travels to write "Vengeance of the Gods," a book of short stories, and if he had time he would write more. Leaning back in his desk chair with a broad smile on his face this distinguished gentleman said, "If someone would pay me one hundred dollars a month I would retire and spend my time writing."

In his discussion of foreign countries, Pickens said that he liked Hitler, Germany better and left more friends there than any other country. He also stated that the foreigners have no race prejudices, only in Germany their hatred of the Jewish race.

"That depends on the boy or girl," stated the teacher, when asked his thoughts on a boy or girl spending two years in a white college and two in a Negro college. Sometimes a colored student finds he could do much better if he attends a colored school. They get a social outlet. Others get along just as well in a school with very few colored. A Negro school offers association with his own."

SORORITY BREAKS DOWN COLOR BAR IN BUSINESS COLLEGE HERE

The Alpha Delta Chapter of the Iota Phi Lambda, national business sorority has broken down the color barrier in this city which prevented Negro graduates from taking a business course in the American Institute of Business.

This is a notable achievement, as the American Institute of Business is one of the two accredited business

Taft Backs Lynch Bill

Washington, D. C. Mar. 8.—The fight for passage of a federal anti-lynching bill and the nation-wide protest to the D. A. R. for barring Marian Anderson from Constitution Hall in Washington, are related examples of the Negro's fight for full equality in America, Senator Robert A. Taft told Howard University alumni here Thursday evening, March 2.

The junior senator from Ohio, a Republican, was the principal speaker at the annual charter day dinner, which marked the seventy-second anniversary of the founding of Howard University. He praised the late James Weldon Johnson, former secretary of the N. A. A. C. P., as a scholar, teacher, poet and statesman. Senator Taft's speech was broadcast over a national hook-up.

Name Elks' Oratorical Subjects

Subjects for the Elks Oratorical Contest have been announced by Mrs. Gertrude North as follows: "The Constitution and Slavery," "The Constitution and Citizenship," "Harriet Beecher Stowe and the Constitution," "Frederick Douglass and the Constitution," "Lincoln and the Constitution," "John Marshall and the Constitution," "The Negro and the Constitution," "The New Deal and the Constitution," "George Washington and the Constitution," "Booker T. Washington and the Constitution," "The Constitution." The local contest will be held here on April 28, the winner of which will go to Omaha for the regional contest in July. The winner of the regional contest will receive a four year scholarship to any college or university, and also a trip to Arizona to compete in the national.

Upon leaving, he grasped my hand and with a broad smile, displaying a row of pearly white teeth and a dimple in his chin he expressed his pleasure in giving the interview which was more of a thrill and pleasure to me. I was extended an invitation to attend the forum and may I say, "all of you who did not attend Mr. Pickens' forums, certainly missed a rare treat."

The La Marguerita Hotel was honored with the presence of this splendid gentleman during his stay here.

Mackay Hurt in Auto Spill

CLIFF MACKAY FORMER YES MOINES RESIDENT IN MOTOR MISHAP

Atlanta, Ga.—Clifford W. Mackay, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Mackay, 1022 13th Street and former employee of the Iowa Bystander escaped death in a highway mishap en route from Tuskegee, Alabama to Atlanta last week.

Six other Atlantans who were motoring with Mackay also escaped death when the car, traveling between 45 and 50 miles an hour was making a right curve when the left rear wheel of the car blew out. Complete control of the auto was lost and after crashing into the embankment the force which hurled it several feet into the air caused the auto to turn over three or four times.

ROBESON BREAKS WITH FILM STUDIOS

London, March 7. (CNA)—Paul Robeson, internationally famous actor and singer, has broken with the commercial film industry.

Robeson this week indicated his intention to make independent and socially significant pictures. He said he would like to go to Soviet Russia to do a film with Einstein, then return to Hollywood to make, independently, a picture about Oliver Law, the Chicago Negro, who died leading a contingent of the International Brigade in Spain.

Robeson maintained that, within the framework of the commercial film industry, there is now very little chance for an individual to express himself, or to do anything which is sincere or worthwhile.

The automobile was owned and operated by Clifford W. Mackay, managing editor of the Atlanta Daily World. Mackay was the only occupant injured badly enough to be confined.

White Hits Jim Crow at Tolerance Conference

New York, Mar. 8.—American citizens must "cease being indifferent to injustices" suffered by minority groups in this country if we would "effectively answer the charges of hypocrisy which Nazi newspapers are now hurling at us," Walter White told a Carnegie Hall meeting here March 3.

Speaking at a meeting sponsored by the Council Against Intolerance which was held in answer to the German-American Bund meeting held recently at Madison Square Garden, Mr. White said:

"I raise my voice tonight against all that Nazism represents. I do so on behalf of one-tenth of America's population, which, also, has known what it means to be banished on the flimsiest excuse and often without evidence of guilt to concentration camps which we here call chain gangs."

Known By Experience
"We to have been denied, because of race, the right to work, even in our highly publicized World's Fair, which opens here next month. The door has often been shut in our faces when we sought a decent education in tax-supported schools, when we sought to live in a decent neighborhood, to cast a ballot to elect those who govern us."

"We have seen democracy trampled under foot and justice brought sharply to a halt at the color line."

BUSINESS CLUB ORGANIZED IN CONJUNCTION WITH SORORITY

A group of young business girls met with Mrs. Clara Johnson and Mrs. Susie Hart at the Negro Community Center on February 12 to organize a business girls' club in conjunction with the Iota Phi Lambda Sorority, a national business sorority. Temporary officers were elected as follows: Sylvia Ross, president; Annabelle Payne, secretary; and Marguerite Greene, treasurer. Other members are: Clara Fant, Elsie Davis and Marri Brooks. A second meeting was held Sunday, March 5 at the home of Mrs. Susie Hart, 1320 Ascension Street at which time the Greek name "Aea Nun" meaning, "The Women of Today" was selected. The club is organized for the purpose of helping the advancement of the Negro girl in business especially in our city.

The next meeting will be March 19 at the Y. W. C. A. with Marguerite Green leading the discussion on "War With Spain."

America's answer to the Nazi charge that we can ill afford to criticize Germany, while permitting lynchings here, can best be answered, he said if we "perfect and preserve democracy within our own borders."

Reports Theft to Police; Jailed for Intoxication

After listening to the story of the arrest and detention of James Taylor, new regulations governing the city jail and municipal courts building were ordered by the city council Monday.

James Taylor who lives at 216 1/2 Third Street said that when he came to the police station February 26 to report his pocket had been picked of fifty dollars, he was thrown in jail. He also said, policemen took $31.85 which he had in two billfolds on his person. This money has not yet been returned to him, Taylor said.

The arrest, Taylor said, caused his discharge as a statehouse janitor. Taylor said he was robbed in a restaurant in the 1100 block on Center Street.

At the police station, Taylor stated that he was locked up and when he asked for a receipt for his money, he was "snatched around and hit with a club." He identified Captain Nels Patel, Patrolmen C. W. Taylor, E. W. Ervin and J. E. Frankford as the policemen in the case. Councilmen told Taylor that an investigation of the entire situation will be made.

One of the resolutions unanimously passed by the council is to allow each prisoner to make one completed call before he is locked in jail. In cases of intoxicated persons, the jailor is directed to make a telephone call for the prisoner. The second resolution, passed unanimously directs Hasbrouck to enforce the city ordinance forbidding the loitering of professional bondsmen in and about the municipal courts building.

Joe Brown, chairman of its department of Race Relations, to memorialize the Des Moines Board of Education to place into the curriculum of our public school the study of Negro History in order that the youth of both races might thereby be better informed upon the part the Negro has played in the history of the nation, since these facts are omitted from the histories now in use.

SMARTING UNDER JUST CRITICISM

Two interesting developments arose over the action of the DAR in barring Miss Marian Anderson from singing in Constitution Hall.

First, Mrs. Roosevelt resigned from the organization because its treatment of Miss Anderson was such a gross display of prejudice that the first lady did not care to be a member of such a group.

Second, the DAR was stung so badly by criticism heaped upon it that the officers were called upon to issue a statement through state organizations in an effort to explain its blunder.

The statement said that the hall had been engaged previously for a concert on that date. If this explanation had been given at the beginning no complaint could have been made. But the very fact that the statement included a reference to the customary Jim Crow policy in the nation's capital is evidence that the previous engagement is just an after thought.

Mrs. Roosevelt did what it takes to get things done—put her thoughts into action. It is easy to talk about injustice to Negroes and sympathize with their plight but this gets little done. The fellow who thinks and acts gets results.

If we had more people in high places like Mrs. Roosevelt, the path of the Negro would not be so rough for he needs friends with courage to act as well as talk.

WHEN WILL THEY LEARN?

Our Republican state officials have lots to learn about dealing with Negro leaders. Unfortunately it seems hard to get them to understand what course to take.

During the campaign Negro political leaders are called upon to line up the voters and get them to the polls. In spite of all some say they do a pretty good job of it.

But after the election is over the elected officials turn in another direction for recommendations of Negroes to political jobs. As a matter of fact, a big white politician with a slight acquaintance with some Negro who never does anything to help a community and is often unfit to hold a job, has more luck landing his man than the Negro political leader who does the real work and knows who ought to be favored.

Invariably, a big white politician selects some Negro whose only claim to a job is his ability to fool somebody who refuses to line up with others and at the same time who is too often the poorest candidate for the

This arrangement has two distinct disadvantages. First, it

Health Hints

(By Dr. C. R. Bradford)

"SINUSITIS HEADACHE"

Headache usually accompanies acute inflammation of the frontal sinus and is frequently most severe. In mild cases the first head discomfort is felt when the head is lowered, as in stooping, the feeling is described, "as if something heavy and painful wants to fall out," a sensation of fullness or bursting is felt in the same region when coughing. The pain usually begins at a stated time, increases in severity to a maximum, then gradually lessens and disappears several hours later, at almost the same time each day.

During the headaches tenderness over the frontal sinus (between and just a fraction above both eyes) may be very great. Swelling of the upper eye lids may occur, almost closing the eyes.

Treatment of sinus infections is both medical and surgical. Local applications to relieve congestion and combat infection. One should seek the advice of a physician as dangerous complications can arise. Preventive treatment consists in keeping the feet dry and avoid catching colds. Early treatment when there is evidence of an infection beginning.

Helen's Tree Frog Noted

For Its Odd Coloration

The frog, Phyllomedusa helenae, called for the lack of a better name Helen's tree frog, is grotesque. It has the exaggerated slender body and legs of most tropical tree frogs. The head is short and wide, the feet, with partly webbed toes, are huge. Each toe terminates in a dilated disk, the adhesive qualities of which permit the frog to climb vertical surfaces and to remain asleep for whole days adhering to the glass sides of its aquarium tank.

The most striking feature of this frog is its coloration, states a writer in the New York Times. The head and body and the upper surfaces of the legs are usually a pea green, which may change at times to a green so dark as to appear black. The sides of the body and the under-surfaces of the legs are a Dresden china blue with fine cream-colored criss-cross markings on the body. Most striking are the eyes and feet. The former are a deep vermilion with a vertically elliptical pupil and the latter are an orange color. The contrast of orange-colored feet and green limbs gives the animal the appearance of wearing gloves.

Soaps Made From Tallow

Laundry soaps are made from tallow, with resin added to give the yellow color. The fatty material is melted and lye is added. Then saturated salt solution is added. The soap floats to the surface. Transparent soaps contain alcohol and glycerin. Floating soaps are usually a mixture of tallow and coconut oil, potash and soda.

NOTICE OF INCORPORATION TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN: Notice is hereby given that there has been organized under and by virtue of the provisions of Title XIX of the Code of Iowa, 1925, and all acts amendatory thereof and supplemental thereto, a body corporate under the name of SOFT WATER SUPPLY COMPANY OF IOWA.

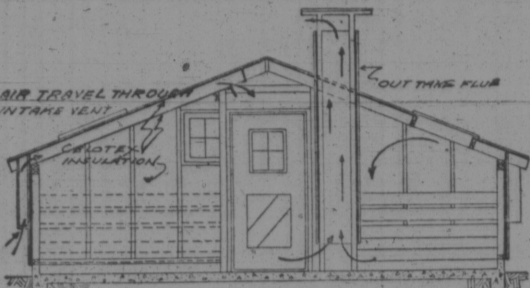

1. The name of the Corporation is SOFT WATER SUPPLY COMPANY OF IOWA, and its principal place of business is in the City of Des Moines, Polk County, Iowa.

prevents Negro voters from having confidence that Negro leaders can do them any good and secondly, the least qualified persons gets the job.

The Bystander believes this is the cause of our poor representation at the state house. It certainly tends to pull down cohesive political units in the state.

So Governor Wilson and the rest of your official family, at least take your Negro political friends in on what you plan to do for Negroes. It is the more intelligent method of handling the situation.

HOG PROFITS CONSTANTLY THREATENED BY DISEASE

If we could reduce the annual toll of swine diseases by 50 per cent, the profits of our farmers would be increased by tens of millions of dollars. This statement by the "American Foundation for Animal Health" clearly demonstrates that something should be done to check these appalling yearly losses.

Well up on the list of disease fatalities is swine influenza, caused by sudden changes of weather, continued cold and rainy spells, and poorly ventilated, or drafty quarters. The best safeguard therefore is to see that hogs are properly housed and kept in good vigorous condition.

The accompanying drawing demonstrates how the simple addition of a hog house can provide weather protection for any season of the year. Such insulation conserves the body heat of the animals in winter, and assists in keeping the house at an even comfortable temperature. Ventilation, an essential factor in maintaining dry, healthful quarters, requires insulation. In the well insulated and ventilated hog house, harmful moisture will not collect on the walls and roof. This means a dryer house which, according to proved tests, is decidedly helpful in preventing disease.

SPORTS

By Allen Ashby

Greetings! Kinda' nice to be back in print again! Most of you are familiar with the indoor track doings of Johnny Borican in the middle distances and Jimmy Herbert in the sprints, so we won't bother you much with details. Also, most of you have managed to keep step with our boys in the Golden Gloves bouts. We sent Louie Taylor, Bill Heath and Don Turner as members of WHO's team and Morton Graves from Cedar Rapids. They all lost out, but made creditable showings when one considers the lack of proper training facilities and lack of competition we have here.

BASKETBALL

Our Crocker Y senior league race is getting closer than ninety-nine is to one hundred. Two teams, the Y Stars and the Roadside Settlement are tied for first place and a loss by either team will tie the race into a knot that a boy scout can't untie. Last week the Y Stars took time out to swamp the Cedar Rapids Champs 31-19. Al Powell, returned to the Star's lineup and really helped a lot, but "Jabby" Edmunds playing his first year with the boys put up a nice scrap, while Madison and Bailey and Sims stood up well under the fire. The boys have added Charley Anderson to their roster and with Madison, they have much more fight than they ever had since Bobby Hyde left them.

The Daniel's Comets defending champs, hung onto their slim chance of retaining their title by crushing the HIB in a rough defensive battle 21-13. The outstanding feature of this game was Frank Massey's swell job of guarding Jack Howard. The Aces also stayed in the money by setting down the Dead End Boys 41-23. Those unpredictable Dead Enders came back Monday and beat a fine Hamilton Y team 31-23 with Clarence Weston making more baskets than he ever made in his life! Scotty Rowland came in for his share in this brawl also.

In the intermediate league, the HIB boys have a fine chance to grab off the title as they need only to trim the Hawkeyes to clinch things. They sailed through Hardaway's Y Stars last Monday, 38-7.

We may as well compliment the boys, Harold Miller and Guy Jackson of East along with Bob White, Bootsie Holt and Jimmy Bowman of North High for their fine work during the season. Charlie Johnson was a first stringer at North during the first semester and Charles Howard, Jr. says he should have been. Nice going boys, keep it up!

Entrenous

When speaking of peculiarities of the weather Des Moines has them. One day we're equipped with skis and ice skates, and the next we're swimming and paddling around in hip boots, boats and canoes. That reminds me of the plight of Marguerite Green Sunday when on her way to club meeting. Many an acrobatic stunt did she perform on 14th Street hill.

One young lady who never gets much publicity but "has herself a ball" is Miss Sadie Jones. Ask Leonard Brown if he can calculate the amount of cash he spends taking her to shows, etc., several times a week. . . . Lorraine Garland's boy friend has a new car, so she informed a group at the YWCA Tuesday evening while waiting eagerly and impatiently for him to come after her. Is that "love light" shining in her eyes these days? . . . I wonder if the presence of those Cedar Rapids boys at the dance was the reason why so many of the local chicks came out of hiding? Those boys are really jitterbugs "if there ever was one," and have a smooth line of five so I've gathered from . . . Miss A. Payne who came out of hibernation to ensnare the biggest and tallest man on the team . . . the glow in M. Green's eyes and the trance in which she remained the entire evening.

Evidently the presence of out of town visitors had no effect on C. Nickens and Kenny Hill, and Mary McCracken and Dan Law; they had eyes for no one but each other. . . . Nadine Robinson can include Friday night as one of her most embarrassing moments for she and her Cedar Rapids man had quite a fall (the life of a jitterbug).

Twins Told To Me: Elsie Davis and Royston Patton have "things in common" . . . Tommy Avant didn't like his name in the society column last week . . . Zeke Eaves is working . . . Ava Cassell had rendezvous with C. Bailey but the "ever appearing" R. Kelso spoiled things as usual. . . . Esther Holt has lots of charm. . . . Ola McCahey quite unconcernedly reported losing $7.00 in Younkers. . . . Billiken Nite Club lost its beer glasses via theft. . . . several persons don't like their names in this column. . . . The news, views and previews of Swindom! All you Cats and Kittens that are trying to drop the shuck on the "Chirp Box" at Sonney's Grill are really keeping that joint jumping on Sunday nite and after the basketball games. They surround that "CHIRP BOX" like flies on bread and jelly. . . . One must be growing old when one fails to "follow" the fads of the day, but I swear these Jitterbugs give me the "ditherjitters". . . . If you're not a jitterbug, BEWARE of your shins and the endangerment of your limbs. Headman, Herman Wadsworth was on hand Tuesday nite at the Billiken Ballroom watching his "protoges" of the Copper Colored Review make whoopee. . . . staid old maids and men and women whose "life begins at Forty" were "cutting capers" at the L. T. club party Monday at the Billiken—Yeah Man! You gotta be a Rug-cutter—so swing out IN THE GROOVE. . . . "Hip-Swinging News Hoond" (Sylvia Ross to you) of this institution did a Terpsichorean dance at the Hollywood Revue Thursday nite at the Jewish Center. Boy—did the Cats Meow at that hot number! Bobby Parker, beats that hide (drums) and smiling Ted more than picks that guitar.

HAVE YOU HEARD: "Three Sharps And A Flat" recording for Decca with "Skinny-Do" and what makes your mouth water is "Whip It To A Jelly" and "Me And My Gin" by Jimmie Gordon. Oh, yes you must get the record of Billie Holiday singing "That's All I Ask Of You" and "Dream Life"—she's a solid sander.

All you Cats, Kittens, Rug-cutters-Jitterbugs and all kinds of Bugs we're going to swing out again with Nat Towles, Thursday, March 23. . . . Get your joints fit for jumping cause the joint is forced to jump.

D. L. G.—Do you think this year will be lucky for me?

Ans: SURE DO. That trip you plan to Philadelphia will turn out better than you had dared hope. Try to leave the kids with your sister 'till you get settled.

W. H. H.—I've known her since we were kids in Grammar School. Our friendship rolled along like heaven up to a month ago. My feeling toward her I am sure will never die away. I really love her with all my heart. Should I let matters take their course, or should I try to find out what its all about? Is it real love?

Ans: No lad . . . its just PUPPY LOVE. I remember when I was your age, I had fallen in and out of love a half-a-dozen times. This girl thinks you are mighty sweet, she's not serious though. Time will heal your wounded heart.

D. H. K.—Will my boss give me the raise I asked him for? I do most of the work now and he don't do hardly anything except get rich.

Ans: You have your boss wrong. Your boss could replace you without too much trouble and pay a man several dollars a week less than he does you. Can you show your boss on paper where he is making more money because of you? You cannot do it my friend, and until you can . . . DON'T EXPECT A RAISE.

J. A. W.—My husband and I have been married two years, and married life has been happy and so sweet together. We never go out no place unless we are together. But here lately he goes out and leaves me at home. The third time he went out he stayed all night. What is the matter?

Ans: Matter? HE IS BEING TEMPTED BY ANOTHER WOMAN. If you let him get away with it now . . . you will have to put up with his "trifling" from now on. Put your foot down lady, and PUT IT DOWN HARD.

U. S. EXPERT URGES WARM DAIRY BARNS

That insulated dairy barns are essential for sustained milk production is indicated by findings of M. A. R. Kelley of the United States Department of Agriculture, reported in the technical bulletin, Relation of Stable Environment to Milk Production, No. 591. Mr. Kelley says: "The decline in milk yield was faster in the stables where inside temperatures fluctuated with weather than in those where temperatures were held nearly constant."

There are now over 40 million farm buildings, exclusive of farm homes, in the United States. While structurally sound, every farmer realizes that most of these buildings are woefully deficient in regard to temperature control and regulation. The dairy barn illustrated was just such a heat-leaking and drafty structure until cane fibre insulation board was applied to the side walls and ceilings. This modern structural insulation is highly efficient in heat-stop value. In the winter it conserves the body heat of the cows and thus offsets the sharp fluctuations of weather so common in the dairy sections of the United States.

These wide boards, with joints which meet on the framing members, also eliminate cracks and thus reduce drafts. . . . an important factor according to Mr. Kelley, who says: "There was a direct relationship between excessive drafts and pneumonia. Risk of sickness appears to increase with the degree of exposure to drafts."

With modern insulating materials it is both simple and economical for the farmer to "tighten-up" and insulate his dairy barn, and take advantage of the savings which Mr. Kelley points the way to.

Marie Downing BEAUTY AND ROMANCE

SPONSORED BY LARIEUSE BEAUTY FOUNDATION

GET READY FOR FALL. Now that the Labor Day week and has marked the close of summer, it is time we took stock of ourselves and set about repairing the ravages of summer sun and wind and getting ourselves in fit condition to set off our first fall clothes.

Get in front of a good mirror in a bright undattering light. (We can't bask indefinitely in the soft glow of shaded lamps—we might as well face the worst once and for all and see what can be done about it.) Start with your hair. Is it dried out, stiff and unruly? A series of oil shampoos and in addition the application of a good pomade will do much to correct that dried condition. The chances are that in the heat of summer you have neglected your daily brushings. Take it up again in earnest if you hope to recapture the lost sheen. And if the sun has faded it, there are excellent preparations on the market which will help restore the luster.

That Summer Complexion. Now for the complexion. Don't despair if it looks several shades darker after all that exposure to the sun's rays. A few good bleaching treatments will restore it to its original color. But since bleaches are often drying, don't forget to give your skin plenty of good cream. It is probably rough and scaly anyway after a hard summer so don't neglect it. Try cleansing your face with cream at night instead of using soap and water, for the period of readjustment at least, and after it is thoroughly cleaned rub in a little more and allow it to remain overnight.

How do your hands and nails look at this point? A bit rigged around the cuticle, cracking nails, and an all-over roughness? Soaking the nails in warm olive oil for a few minutes each day will restore the natural oils, soften the cuticle, and correct the brittle condition that causes them to crack. Get a good hand lotion and use it religiously every time you wash your hands. In the heat of the summer most of us were inclined to skip over this beauty rite.

Have You Stumped? If you have stumped a little in your exercises due to the heat (and who hasn't let up a bit?) you had best take up your daily dozen with renewed vigor. The fall dresses should look sleek and slim, no ungraceful bumps and bulges. A new dress looks no better than the color that wears it. The weather is cooler now and a little will-power may be all that's needed to achieve slim, well-proportioned lines. Start your reconditioning at once. People make allowances for summer fallings but there's no excuse for going into the winter looking anything but your best.

What are your beauty problems? Write Marie Downing, Larieuse Beauty Foundation, Room 607—311 Locust St., St. Louis, Mo., and she will be glad to answer them. Be sure to enclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Foot Has Two Arches

Because of its design the foot has long been recognized as a specialized organ for man's upright carriage of his body. In construction the normal foot is a finely designed and highly efficient structure perfectly planned for its function of weight bearing, shock absorption and locomotion. If only a single block of bone were positioned beneath each leg to serve as a foot, walking would be very much of a peg-legged performance. But nature, as in many other ways, has adapted the organ to meet man's needs. It is of extreme importance, therefore, that measures be taken to protect and preserve this most necessary and efficient structure from mechanical defects and disabling inflections.

Michigan 'Wolverines'

The usual explanation for the nickname "Wolverine," according to the Detroit News, is the fact that this territory in its early days abounded with the fur-bearing animal known as the wolverine or glutton. This animal, now extinct in Michigan, belonged to the weasel family. Another explanation, however, is that Conrad Ten Eyck, a tavernkeeper about the year 1800 made a specialty of wolf steaks. After his guest had eaten a beefsteak or lamb chop, he would be asked, "How did you like your wolf steak?" A young girl who had been told in this manner that she had eaten wolf steak replied, "Then I suppose I am a Wolverine." The name, first applied to those who had eaten at this inn, was later extended to all the inhabitants of Michigan.

NOVENA AT ST PETER'S CHURCH

The March Novena in honor of the Little Flower and the Passion and death of Our Divine Lord will begin at the Little Flower Shrine in St Peter's Church Saturday March 11th, and close Sunday March 19th. The hours of devotion will be at 6:30 in the morning the first six days, and 8:30 in the morning and 7:45 in the evening the last three days. The main intention of this Novena will be to further the cause of Canonization of Blessed Martin De Porres the colored Saint. The prayers of the world are offered up especially this year for His Canonization. Also a special intention of this Novena is for all the colored people. I would like very much to have the colored people attend the novena especially the last three evenings—that is, Fri. Sat. and Sunday evenings—Mar. 17th, 18th, and 19th. I have class for the colored adult people every Monday evening in the school hall at 7 o'clock, and classes for the colored children every Saturday morning at 10 o'clock. The object of these classes is to give the colored people a chance to find out about the teachings of the Catholic Church. The colored people are all invited to attend these classes and you may be sure that you are most welcome.

Farmers First Meat Packers
The first meat packers in the United States were farmers, according to a correspondent in the Wisconsin Agriculturist. More than 300 years ago these farmer packers began to salt down pork, beef, venison and bear meat. It wasn't long before the New Englanders began to take a share of the English trade in meats with the West Indies. Later, thousands of men and animals were driven in on foot to Boston, New York, Baltimore and other sea port towns, from the outlying farms and from adjoining colonies or states.

Entering Strange Caves
None but the bravest people care to enter strange caves. They may get hopelessly lost, drop into a pit, slide over a dangerous precipice, or drown in a rushing, hidden river. And caves usually occur in limestone, a porous rock, notes a writer in the Washington Post. Rain trickles into cracks, "eats" away part of the lime, and eventually carves out huge underground holes. Tiny raindrops made Kentucky's famed Mammoth cave this way. It sprawls 8,000 square miles under the earth's surface.

The Law of Lek
The Law of Lek is a strange code that governs the blood feuds of the mountaineers of Albania. Respecting it, says Collier's Weekly, one never shoots his enemy when the one has arranged for a period of so he can go to town, hold party or gather his harvest. See feuds, therefore, may be earned on or off" at will so they do not interfere with one's business or pleasure.

You can get ANSWERS to many QUESTIONS In Three minutes

If you talk at the average rate you can easily say 350 to 400 words in three minutes. On a long distance telephone call, you may call for one particular thing, but usually you will have time within three minutes to ask other questions.

Here are a few typical long distance rates from Des Moines—

TO	*RATE
Ames	.30
Cedar Rapids	.40
Chicago, Ill.	.70
Iowa City	.40
Marshalltown	.35
Newton	.30
Spencer	.45
Waterloo	.35

(Rates shown do not include tax)

*These are the lowest rates for three-minute calls when you ask to talk with anyone available at the telephone called. They apply every night after 7 and all day on Sundays. Rates for calls to a specified person are a little higher but surprisingly low, too. Look in the telephone directory or ask "Long Distance" for rates to other places.

EASY NOW TO CORRECT BAD BREATH
No need to offend others—Listerine, quick deodorant, sweetens breath

Now there is no excuse for offending others with halitosis (bad breath). The quick, easy treatment to counteract this condition is Listerine. Simply rinsing the mouth with it makes the breath cleaner, sweeter, more wholesome.
Most cases of bad breath, says one dental authority, are caused by fermentation of tiny food particles the tooth brush has failed to remove.
When Listerine is used to rinse the mouth, it halts fermentation and overcomes the odors it causes.
Smart men and women realize that it is easy to offend others and take the pleasant Listerine precaution against bad breath. Lambert Pharmaceutical Company, St. Louis, Mo.
