JESSE OWENS FILES BANKRUPTCY PETITION

Cleveland, Ohio—James Cleveland (Jesse) Owens, who won three events for United States in the 1936 Olympics filed a voluntary bankruptcy petition Friday listing assets of $2,050 and liabilities of $8,891.

Attorney Ben P. Rabb states that he was drawing up a foreclosure on the home that Owens paid $6,500 for in 1936, when internal revenue agents computed his income at $20,000.

Since the Olympics Owens has turned professional and sprinted from job to job. He was spokesman for the Republican party on behalf of Alf Landon, exhibition runner against horses and humans, leader of dance orchestra, leader of a touring basketball team, stage performer, a city playground director, WPA official in Cleveland's Parks Department, proprietor of his own dry cleaning shop and now he is the salesman for a New York distilling corporation.

MISSOURIANS WANT SUPREME COURT OPINION ENFORCED

Kansas City, Mo., May 8.—Missouri's Negro citizens are up in arms over the proposal of the state legislature in the form of the Taylor bill to dodge following the opinion of the U. S. supreme court in the Gaines case. The supreme court ordered the University of Missouri to admit Gaines to its law school or provide immediately a law school for Negroes equal to that at the University of Missouri. The Taylor bill directs that Lincoln University be created the equal of the University of Missouri, but only $200,000 is appropriated to bring about this equalization.

At a mass meeting here April 30 in Centennial M. E. Church, Roy Wilkins, assistant secretary from the New York office, declared that if Governor Lloyd C. Stark signed the Taylor bill making a law, the N. A. A. C. P. intended to carry the matter immediately back into the courts. Colored citizens of Missouri argue that Negro students on the graduate and professional level should be admitted to the University of Missouri graduate schools and that anything less than this bill will amount to inequality of preparation for their young people.

Cite Federal Law in Letter to Attorney General

New York, May 8.—Citing a federal law which provides a maximum fine of $5,000 and a maximum prison sentence of ten years for those persons who conspire to injure persons in the exercise of civil rights, the NAACP has called upon Attorney General Frank Murphy to proceed against the Klansmen in Miami, Florida, who unsuccessfully sought to frighten Negro voters away from the polls on May 2.

The N.A.A.C.P. letter recited the newspaper reports of the Klan parade held in Miami the night before election day where Klansmen distributed placards warning Negroes away from the polls, and displayed nooses to intimidate possible voters. The letter also referred to reports that a Negro was hung in effigy.

PRIMARY FOR WHITES ONLY VOTED FOR MIAMI

Tallahassee, Fla.—The Florida senate Wednesday passed a house-approved bill setting up a municipal primary for white persons only in Miami.

Under the measure which now goes to the governing, a primary would be held only if more than six candidates qualified for the three commission offices to be filled. The six thus nominated by white voters would face further voting a week later in a general election in which Negroes could participate.

MOTHER

Never a sigh for the cares that she bore for me,
Never a thought of the joys that flew by;
Her one regret that she couldn't do more for me,
Thoughtless and selfish, her Master was I.

Oh, the long nights that she came at my call to me!
Oh, the soft touch of her hands on my brow!
Oh, the long years that she gave up her all to me!
Oh, how I yearn for her gentleness now!

Slave to her baby! Yes, that was the way of her,
Counting her greatest of services small;
Words cannot tell what this old heart would say of her,
Mother—the sweetest and fairest of all.

By Edgar A. Guest

May 9, 1914, President Wilson's proclamation declared the second Sunday in May to be observed as Mother's Day. The idea originated with Miss Anna Jarvis of Philadelphia, in 1907 and Philadelphia was the first to observe it on May 10, 1908.

AN ARTIST IN DES MOINES

Monday night at the Jewish Community Center the citizens of Des Moines will have the rare opportunity of hearing Miss Josephine Harreld, pianist, in a recital. Miss Harreld has gained a wide reputation even though a short time has elapsed since completing her studies in America and abroad.

It is not often that Des Moines gets an artist of her calibre among the Negro group. Because of this further fact the public should turn out in large numbers. It will encourage others to want to come here.

The unusual publicity given Miss Marian Anderson recently has had its influence on all Negro artists. People who never knew have come to realize that such unusual characters may be found within the race. Let there be no mistake about the desire of Des Moines to hear and see great artists. This can best be shown by giving Miss Harreld a good audience.

THE DIFFERENCE BETWEEN ILLINOIS AND FLORIDA

Several days ago a Negro taxi driver was lynched in Florida because he accidentally ran over a twelve year old white boy. The victim was shot by the two brothers of the dead boy and they informed the constable in whose custody the lynched man was being taken away for safe keeping "we will see you after the funeral."

To date nothing has been done to bring the two slayers to justice, and yet Florida is supposed to be a civilized state and their United States Senators have told Congress that it could deal properly with lynchings.

Several weeks ago in Urbana, Illinois, a Negro woman shot to death, a white college student because he, along with four of his friends—all of whom had been drinking—insisted on hurling beer bottles through her window because she would not let them enter her house. This she was forced to do in order to protect her life and property.

University officials raised a howl about vice in the city charging city officials with failure to clean up immoral places near the campus. This Negro woman was indicted for murder and tried by a jury, and while the facts are not available, it is fair to assume that all of them were white. This jury returned a verdict of not guilty. The woman is free and to date no commotion seems to have transpired as a result of the outcome of the trial.

What a difference in the two situations? In the Florida case the mob ruled. Due process of law as guaranteed by the con-

Health Hints

(By Dr. C. R. Bradford)

YOUR HEART

Under the pressure of work one neglects and abuses his heart. There are many causes of heart trouble other than the natural deterioration from old age. Rheumatic fever even though it may be very mild may cause serious heart damage also sudden indulgence and unusual exercise, placing a too severe strain on the heart. Among the hearts worst enemies are certain acute infectious diseases such as scarlet fever, pneumonia, tonsillitis and diphtheria. Chronic infection such as tonsils, teeth and sinuses, are often times the cause. One should not return to active life too soon after a serious illness.

Heart disease is frequently preventable when certain rules are followed. One should go to his Doctor yearly for a health examination and then follow his advice, keep your weight near the average for a person of your age, height and sex, follow a well balanced diet, do not over eat, look after infected teeth or tonsils, consult your Doctor about use of tobacco and stimulants, exercise regular, but stop before you are over tired. If you have children consult a Doctor when ever one complains of even mild leg ache or pains in the joints. The treatment and care of the heart are better understood than ever before. Are you availing yourself of this better understanding?

Of Interest

By Clara Fant

We pay tribute this week to the kindest and most loving person on earth; the one who loves us most; our mothers.

To see her boy and girl, well, safe and happy; to try to give them the best that life can offer, are the highest ambitions of every mother; there are so many who do not appreciate the many sacrifices and hardships the mother endures to make this world a grand place for them until it is too late.

Mrs. Anna M. Jarvis of Philadelphia thought a day should be set aside to do honor to the mothers, living and dead. In May, 1907, at one of the large churches in Philadelphia she arranged for a special service honoring the mothers. Whether the mother was living or dead was designated by wearing flowers, for the living red and white for the dead. Every year this day was observed on the second Sunday in May. In 1911 its observance became international, Canada, Mexico and Japan and many countries across the sea payed tribute. On May 9, 1914 this was made legal when President Woodrow issued a proclamation authorized by Congress.

We who wear the red flower should be proud of the fact that our mothers are still with us, and we can still do more to show our appreciation although we will never be able to repay for those many little things.

We dedicate this verse to the mothers, living and dead.

Thank God, who reigns above,
 If he has granted you to know
 The chiefest boon he gives below
 A mother's tender love.
 —Golden Hours.

As an aid to those boys who find it difficult to pay all of their fees at camp time, the Camp Saving Club will enable them to raise the amount through the accumulative process of depositing small amounts regularly which will be held in account for them.

Those not receiving blanks through the mail should obtain them at the "Y" not later than Wednesday, May 25th as the deadline for entries has been set at Saturday, May 27th. A meeting of the track committee was held Thursday evening of this week and the full plans for the meet will be announced next week.

Camphor Trees Flourish

On Malaria-Ridden Land
 In medicine camphor is used externally as a counter-irritant in sprains, rheumatic affections, bronchitis and other inflammatory conditions. Internally it is used for its calming influence in hysteria, general nervousness and neuralgia. And it is also used as a heart stimulant, especially during low fevers and in pneumonia, having a stimulating effect on circulation.

Camphor trees can grow in any tropical or subtropical country, but flourish best in the malaria-ridden, snake-infested slopes of Formosa, where it rains 240 days a year, and where to this day Japan has to send troops to clear out the headhunters who kill the camphor workers, relates an authority in the Philadelphia Record. In the 1850s two American merchants made a deal with the officials of Formosa to take the entire output, which is more than 75 per cent of the world's supply.

They dredged the port, put up a lighthouse. The trade became so profitable that Townsend Harris, first U. S. ambassador to Japan, urged this government to buy Formosa. But the Civil War was in the offing, and the chance passed, and the English stepped in. In 1895 China ceded Formosa to Japan, which made the camphor industry a government monopoly. Japan sells camphor to the world through one firm, in London.

Synthetic camphor has been made since 1906, but whenever it threatened inroads into the natural supply, Japan cut prices. American production of the synthetic jumped enormously right after the World War, when the influenza epidemic created an enormous demand.

EAST WINS FT. MADISON RELAYS

The local high school boys got ready for the district meets by competing in one more relay meet. East went to Ft. Madison and North and Roosevelt to Orient. Frank Kaiser got cinders tossed in his face when Jewell Thompson of Oskaloosa won the hundred. Frank finished third, but later anchored East to the half mile and mile relay crowns, running along with Bagby, and Davis brought home the bacon in the low hurdles. Harold Miller grabbed first in the

Davis Captures Table Tennis Crown
 Emanuel Davis, the pre-tournament favorite, added another "Y" senior table tennis title to his collection, when he downed Chet Williamson in the final round for the senior championship 20-22, 21-18, 21-5, 21-8 Tuesday evening.

Emerging unscathed through a strong field of 46 devotees of the indoor court game, Davis breezed through his preliminary round matches without the loss of a game and found no serious opposition until he encountered Williamson, who is a crown-wearer himself having won the city singles tennis championship with monotonous regularity the past seven or eight years.

While Davis and Williamson came through to the final round with ease, other top notch players were knocking each other in preliminary battles that rivaled the championship tilt in intensity of play. Some of the seeded players who bit the dust early in the tourney are: Theydon Brown, Paul Williams, Ernie Dixon, Keny Palmer and Leonard Lomas.

broad jump with a good leap. Miller seems to be improving each week. Miller also got a place in the shot put and Wells in the high jump.

If North could have had the services of Del Morrison, who hurt his foot and Jim Morrow whom they say might have won the Orient Relays. Jackson got a second in the hundred yard dash and Charles Howard, Jr., ran second in the half mile. Wally Hill got a place in the high jump. The high jump went at a mark that Morrow could have beaten.

While we are on the local high school situation, we might mention Langston Hardaway, last year boy champion, who plays on North's tennis team, Lanston has everything in his favor to become a good player. Perhaps his biggest asset is the fact that his father is R. Hardaway, the barber, who is without a doubt the leading tennis enthusiast in the city.

Outdoor Sports Under Way

The warm weather brings a lot of the boys out for their favorite summer sport. There are any number of soft ball teams drilling and the revival of the Y hard ball league is expected to revive interest in hard ball. The golfers are slipping out and getting in a few licks. Neiman Johnson says, "he is going to be the number one sensation of the season." This is quoted strictly from Johnson. The tennis players have been sparring around like wary boxers before they actually come to grips. The tournament date was for years the last week in July and that seems to be pretty much of an established date. That date will probably be the one this year.

Speaking of baseball, one of the games leading students is a local Negro. Tevis Jaco probably knows more actual baseball and baseball dope than anyone else in the city. His predictions are surprisingly accurate and your correspondent has tried to cross him up several times, but so far the fellow always comes with the right dope. How do we know? Well, sometimes we check the dope before we ask him about it.

Sap of Sapodilla Tree Chewing Gum Ingredient

If a blight should destroy the sapodilla tree millions of Americans would mourn—for it is the sap of the sapodilla tree that supplies chiclet. And chiclet is the basic ingredient of chewing gum, relates a writer in the Philadelphia Record.

The chiclet is drained from the trees in Central America jungles in the rainy season by machete-bearing natives, called chicleros. They climb the trees, cover them with cross-hatchings of cuts, connect these with central canals that drain the sap into canvas bags.

The liquid is then boiled, poured into molds, hardened into bricks, and thus shipped. On arrival in factories in the United States, the bricks are dried out for 30 hours, then melted, filtered, poured into mixers, stirred with pulverized sugar, corn syrup and flavoring, then cooled and rolled.

The rolled gum is fed into "breaking" machines which cut 22 sticks of gum with one click of the punch press, turning out 3,300 sticks a minute. Wrapping machines turn out 120 finished packs of five sticks each, per minute.

Belize, in British Honduras, is the headquarters of the chiclet contractors, who hire native crews to extract the sap.

Thrills Aplenty for Women At New York Fair, 1939

NEW YORK (Special).—The thrill capital for women next year will be the New York World's Fair. Designers, merchants, manufacturers, artists, governments—all "the authorities"—have seen to that. And yet, uniquely enough, there will be no "woman's building" at the $150,000,000 exposition. Fair officials at the outset decided against such "segregation." Grovel A. Whalen, president of the Fair Corporation, said that "a woman's building at a modern-day exposition would not be in tune with the progress of woman-kind."

Now, in this last year of construction, it is already obvious that woman is going to have her due at the New York fair. Those fortunate enough to attend are going to know thrills that will live with them always. The following presents only a part-shot at all there will be to interest and delight women in the 1216½ acres of fair grounds. It is one observer's idea of what to see where.

Some of the Wonders

House of Jewels—a $5,000,000 display, by gem mining concerns and leading jewelers, showing stones in the rough, precious gems in finest settings, famous gems and perfect examples of goldsmith's and silversmith's art.

Apparel and Accessories—in their own building along Petticoat Lane—a $750,000 exhibit of all that is to woman in her costume and in fur-hats, handbags and similar wearables or gadgets.

Cosmetics Building—showing just about everything ever done since the history of beauty aids and preparations began a few thousand years ago—with accent on the cosmetics and perfumes of today and a look at those of tomorrow. (They put thousands of dollars' worth in the cornerstone alone.)

Hall of Textiles—showing how they (worms to machines) make woven fabrics—hand looms, demonstrations of needle arts, discourses on home furnishing materials—silks and woolsens here, rayons in one wing, cottons in another, 68,094 square feet, to be exact, of allied exhibits.

Ham will be given to everyone who attends the dance.
The Harlem Hot Shots will play for the dance.

The H. L. Overton club of Burns M. E. church are giving a banquet tonight at the church in the honor of the pastor, Rev. J. C. Bain and his family.

Mrs. E. Broomfield, dramatic reader and Mrs. Mildred Page, blind contralto, will present a Sacred Recital at Mt. Hebron Baptist Church, West Des Moines, Wednesday evening, April 17 at 8:00 p. m.

The La Merced club will be entertained by Mrs. J. Q. Browne, 1419 Maryland Avenue.

Health and Science

Home Furnishings Building—"heart of the Community Interests Zone," with its focal display showing the meaning of "Home" in present and future phases and how to create one of your own—all in exhibits that thrill!

Medicine and Public Health and Science and Education Building—a "woman's first" exhibit showing the wonders to be accomplished by due attention to the "body beautiful"—a must attraction that'll not leave one with a dull moment.

Gas Industries Building—everything from a laboratory to an all-gas house, a cooking school and a gas flame 50 feet high—spectacular but looking to comfort at home.

Food Buildings 1, 2 and 3—putting romance into the age-old task of fixing a meal, by and with the world's knowledge and products.

Horticultural Exhibit—acres of gardens, flowers and equipment (with a chance for a cup of tea).

Thrills in a Lifetime

Theme Centre—thrill of a lifetime from a ride on the "Magic Carpet" through the 200-foot globe and the World of Tomorrow.

Contemporary Arts Building—World's Fair Theatre (music and drama)—Consumer Building—an "Hospitality Centre," first of its kind, for feminine get-togethers—spectacles on the island stage of New York State's Amphitheatre on Fountain Lake—products and kitchens of the world in two score foreign-built pavilions—the Hall of Nations, the Court of State Buildings, the $3,000,000 Federal Exhibit—buildings of industries and the City of New York—nightly spectacles of water-fire-color-and-sound—280 acres of amusements—and, withal, a setting of courts and garden with an ample supply of shaded benches.

Refreshment to go on and on may be had in any one of some 80 restaurants, affording a total of 43,200 seats, and serving the meals of almost every known nation. And—perhaps most thoughtful provision of all—the youngsters can be parked in the Children's World where they'll be happy and well-cared for.

Marie Downing BEAUTY AND ROMANCE

SPONSORED BY LARIEUSE BEAUTY FOUNDATION

The Larieuse Beauty Foundation was established by the Godfrey Manufacturing Company to study methods of preserving women's natural beauty, and to make the results of this research available to the public.

I wonder how many of you realize that your hands tell a great deal more about you than any other one feature. You devote hours to your face, giving it proper cleansing and lubrication, smoothing on your foundation cream, and applying carefully selected cosmetics. You brush your hair until it shines, trying it to avoid any frizziness or discoloration, and spend hours in the beauty parlor having it washed and set according to the latest whim of fashion. Not that I begrudge the time and attention you give to these much time and thought do you give to your hands? Some people look at your hands almost before they notice your face.

Natural Looking Manicure Preferred

If you cannot afford professional manicures you can do a very fine job of it at home with a little time and patience. The first rule of good hand-grooming is cleanliness. Regardless of your occupation, see that your hands are always clean and unstained. Get a good hand brush and give it a good workout. Scrub especially hard around the nails and cuticle where dirt is likely to lodge. When filing your nails, consider the natural shape of your nails first and file accordingly. If your nails are short and wide, you might let them grow a bit longer than the natural line of your finger and shape them into a slight oval. This will make them seem longer and narrower without giving them an artificial air. Long, extremely pointed fingernails, besides looking like claws, are definitely out of style. Gently tapered, oval nails are more flattering to any hand. And, above all, don't try to imitate the nail polish advertisements too closely if your hands do not correspond to those of the pictured model. Extremely long, brightly tinted nails are all very well on the model's hand but then her fortune is in her hands and she probably uses them for little else than posing. But for busy housewives and hard-working girls such nails are impractical. It is virtually impossible to keep long tapering nails in condition, while washing dishes, dusting, typing, filing, etc. It is far better to have your nails short and well-groomed than long and cracked.

Color Combinations Important

And give a little thought to the color combinations when you select your polish. Startling polishes are not for the fat wide hand. They merely call attention to the stubbiness of the hand and nail. If your hands are not all that you would like them to be, limit your polishes to the paler shades. Above all, don't be ashamed of your hands just because they are not the long, unlined hands of the models. Your character shows in your hands and anyone who prefers to be judged a useful member of society than a china doll. Keep your hands clean, well-groomed and natural looking (and don't forget to apply hand lotion after each washing to insure softness) and your hands will have a beauty all their own.

What are your beauty problems? Write Marie Downing, Larieuse Beauty Foundation, Room 521—319 North Fourth St., St. Louis, Mo., and she will be glad to answer them. Be sure to enclose a self-addressed stamped envelope.

Reindeer Is Held Unique

Among the Deer Family
The reindeer is unique among deer in that the female, like the male, carries antlers, although they are smaller. It also differs from most deer in having young without spots, writes Ernest Schwarz in Nature magazine. The reindeer is the only deer that has become attached to man and has been domesticated. The range of the reindeer (the name being here used in its broadest sense) includes the Arctic portions of both the Old and the New Worlds. In America it is called the caribou. It is found in Scandinavia, Spitzbergen, northern Russia, Siberia, as well as in Alaska, most of Canada, Greenland and other Arctic islands. During the great ice age reindeer were forced much farther south. In France and Germany their meat provided a staple food for paleolithic man, and their antlers and bones the material for his tools and weapons. Some of the rock engravings left in the caves of western Europe by prehistoric man include beautiful representations of this animal.

Inhabitants of Bolivia

Bolivia, the Switzerland of South America, has been ruled by a few families of pure Spanish ancestry for the past 120 years, but its population includes a great number of Indians. There are the Quechunas and Aymaras, over whom the Incas ruled; the indolent Chiquitanos of the eastern section who live in primitive palm hovel in the lowlands; the Chiriguano, a warlike race living in the foothills of the Andes, and the lawless Tobas, robust, thick-bodied, untamed.

Strip Coal Mining Also Called Open Air Method

Strip or open cut coal mining is a comparatively recent development. Through this method coal is mined in the open air. Sunburn replaces the underground cave-in as one of the principal dangers in this branch of the industry.

This form of mining recovers coal too shallow or too thin for mining by shaft or drift methods, observes a writer in the Chicago Tribune. Under the strip or open cut method the overburden of earth is removed with huge power shovels—some of them the largest moving pieces of machinery in the world—and the coal is then taken from the top of the seam. Width of the excavations varies with the size of the machine and the overburden, but it is not unusual for the pits to measure 200 feet or more in width from the brim of the original ground to the top of the spoil banks.

Lands worked over by the strip method are usually left with substantially parallel ridges. When new, these ridges give the appearance of a sawtooth roof. The final excavation results in a cut varying with the depth of the coal seam. This may be from 10 to 50 feet deep, from 75 to 200 feet wide, and from one-quarter to three miles long.

Route of Lincoln Highway

The Lincoln highway, which is 3,384 miles long, connecting New York and San Francisco, begins in the East at New York City, and passes through Jersey City, Newark, and Trenton, N. J.; Philadelphia, Lancaster, York, Chambersburg and Pittsburgh, Pa.; East Liverpool, Canton, Mansfield and Lima, Ohio; Fort Wayne, Elkhart, South Bend and Valparaiso, Ind.; Chicago Heights, Aurora, Geneva, LaSalle and Dixon, Ill.; Clinton, Cedar Rapids, Marshalltown, Jefferson and Council Bluffs, Iowa; Omaha, Columbus, Grand Island, Kearney and North Platte, Neb.; Cheyenne, Laramie, Medicine Bow, Rawlins, Rock Springs and Evanston, Wyo.; Salt Lake City, Garfield, Tooele and Ithaca, Utah; Ely, Eureka, Carson City and Reno, Nev.; and Truckee, Placerville, Sacramento, Stockton and Oakland, Calif.—The Lincoln highway is marked with red, white and blue markers bearing a blue letter "L" on a white field.

ODDITIES AT THE FAIR

NEW YORK—Here are a few of the strikingly unusual things visitors will find at the New York World's Fair 1939:

A parachute tower from which visitors may "bail out" at an elevation of 250 feet and be sure of a "happy landing."
Revolving "magic carpets" from which you may look down as from a height of two miles upon "The City of Tomorrow" inside the 200-foot Perisphere.

A "Tree of Life" carved from the trunk and branches of an elm planted in Connecticut in 1781 by Revolutionary War prisoners.
"Steve Bradlee" jumping six times a day from a reproduction of the Brooklyn Bridge.

The most valuable wheat field for its size in the world in full growth.
Five million dollars worth of diamonds, rubies, emeralds and other gems in one glittering display.

The steel-walled bathysphere in which descent has been made miles down in the black depths of the ocean.
"Rocket gun" by which passengers will be shot to the moon, or Mars someday—perhaps.
The model of a human eye so large visitors may enter it and look out upon the FAIR's busy scene just as if the eye were doing the looking.

Two hundred blooded dogs being milked daily on a revolving platform.
An orange grove transplanted intact all the way from Florida.

Automobiles with living drivers in hair-raising collisions and lying semi-conscious.
The largest opal in the world.
An oil well in operation with real drills in the "cast."
The largest model railroad ever constructed.
Puppets 14 feet tall dramatizing

the contents of the familiar bathroom medicine cabinet.

Displays of rare orchids, renewed every three days by plants flown to the Fair from Venezuela.
The tremendous discharge of 10,000,000 volts of man-made lightning.
A Brazilian exhibit building erected on stilts.
A floor made of cotton.

Ricksha runners from South Africa six and a half feet tall and clad mostly in feathers, horns and beads.
A waterfall cascading from the high roof of a building.
Mural paintings that change their colors while you're looking at them.

Fireworks set to music in related patterns of color and light.
A city entirely populated by midgets.
An automobile speedway half a mile long on top of an exhibit building.
Mighty snowstorms sweeping down out of a clear Spring sky.

A building turned inside out with its roofbeams on the outside.
Moving chairs traveling around in a building so visitors won't have to walk.
A flight to Venus so real you'll swear you've been there and met the folks.

The tallest mural paintings in the world.
A model of New York City so large that the Empire State Building is reproduced 23 feet tall.

A sphere 200 feet in diameter seeming to revolve on jets of water, like the little silver ball in the shooting-gallery.
A fountain that sings.
Paintings that have to be destroyed every night and done all over again next morning.
A "Fountain of the Atom," with electrons and protons dancing around a pulsating shaft of light.

cause in the above entitled court and defend before noon of the second day of the next term thereof, which will be held at the Polk County court house in Des Moines, Polk County, Iowa, beginning on the 3rd day of July 1939, judgment and decree will be rendered and entered as prayed for in plaintiff's petition.
