MISS CRAVENS, DES MOINES' GIRL, DIES IN KANSAS CITY AUTO CRASH

Miss Nettie Zeld Cravens, prominent young woman of Des Moines, was killed by a motor car early Saturday morning, June 3, in Kansas City, Mo., where she had been living since January.

According to information received by Mrs. Ardella Taylor, 1017 Eleventh street, mother of Miss Cravens, the tragedy occurred as the young woman and two companions were walking on a sidewalk near Twelfth street and Woodland avenue in Kansas City.

Two motor cars said to have been going at a high rate of speed collided and one of them, a taxi, struck Miss Cravens, killing her instantly. The companions were not injured.

A native of Black Rock, Ark., Miss Cravens, 27 years old, received her elementary education in Parsons, Kansas, having graduated from the Douglass high school there. She attended the Kansas State Teachers college at Pittsburg, Kansas, graduating in 1932.

Moving to Des Moines with her parents, she became active in the younger civic and church organizations, becoming a member of the De Luxe social club and the St. Paul A. M. E. church.

She was connected with the Des Moines board of education, employed as a teacher in the adult education department at the West Junior high school.

According to Mrs. Taylor, her daughter had planned in a letter to her several weeks ago to come home for the twenty-fifth birthday celebration of her ill sister, Miss Josie Mae Cravens, who was given leave from the hospital to have a birthday celebration, but instead she attended her sister's funeral. The girl has been ill at the hospital for 18 months.

The body of Miss Cravens arrived in the city Saturday night from the West, Appleton and Jones funeral directors in Kansas City. A wake was held Tuesday night at the funeral chapel.

Funeral services were set for Wednesday afternoon from the St. Paul A. M. E. church with the Rev. H. C. Boyd officiating.

Pallbearers were members of the De Luxe club. Burial was in Glendale cemetery.

Aside from the mother and sister, Miss Cravens is survived by a grandmother, Mrs. Edna Decker of the city; Miss Johnnie Louise Taylor, half sister.

DINING CAR MEN

WIN $208,000

Los Angeles, June 8 (CNA)—Combined victories of the Dining Car Employees Union in which Los Angeles Local 465 participated during the five years since it became a functioning organization have added more than $208,000 to the income of its members, a check up here showed this week.

The organization's first victory was to establish contractual relations with the railroads. This automatically reduced the basic work month to 240 hours, under the amended Railway Labor Act, and gave the workers, covered by the agreement, an increase of $32,000 per year over the then existing rates of pay. The victory of January 1938 raised the pay by $50,000 a year.

NEGROES LOSE FIGHT TO USE NEW ORLEANS HALL

New Orleans, June 8 (By Leon Lewis for ANP)—Sustaining the exceptions entered by Assistant City Attorney Henry B. Curtis, claiming no right of action on the part of the Rev. R. W. Coleman through his attorney, Augustus W. Merritt, suing for the use of the city auditorium by Negroes, Judge Hugh C. Cage Wednesday dismissed the suit and ruled the city auditorium commission possessed "the right to full authority to decide to whom and for what purpose the auditorium should be leased."

In a weak argument, the attorney for Rev. Coleman attempted to show that the city of New Orleans had violated a constitutional amendment in that usage of the auditorium was not given to the Negro group. However, he did not specify in his contention that the refusal was given because of Rev. Coleman's race.

Rev. Coleman was being supported in this fight by the local branch N. A. A. C. P. of which Dr. A. W. Brazier is president.

WELCOMING GRADUATES

Thousands of students are graduating from schools all over the country, among whom are many Negroes. For example, here in Des Moines thirty-six Negro students are graduating from the high schools. This represents an increase over that of last year. Undoubtedly many of these students and their parents made great sacrifices in order to reach this milestone, and will be expecting big things.

It is fine that these people have stood the test and prepared themselves. They are in a much more favorable position in the world for having done so. But the great problems will come in the practical application of what they have learned in school.

Some of these students will pursue other courses; others will secure jobs or business opportunities. Unfortunately many will be disappointed when they are not able to secure work, and with more than ten millions of people unemployed at this time the job of finding openings becomes more difficult each year.

During recent school years, many students have been given aid by the National Youth Administration, and while it has enabled many to continue their studies, the effect has been to teach some to believe that the government ought to find them a job when they finish school. With the diminishing WPA rolls, this class of employment becomes less and less, and since private employment seems to make little headway towards increasing its numbers, the prospects of these students to obtain work are not especially bright.

Take the Negro situation in Des Moines as it is. Very few of the high school students followed vocational courses and upon graduation will have no opportunity to secure apprenticeships, whereby they may become efficient in their trades. The unions generally exclude them and in the end these young folks have drifted into domestic services and menial jobs. While it is no disgrace to perform these mediocre jobs there is absolutely no future to them, and these young folks will find themselves growing to old age doing the same thing they did the year they came out of high school. Naturally we are making some progress, but as far as substantial employment is concerned it becomes less and less for Negroes in this community from year to year—a situation which tends to retard their progress all along the line. Keeping these things in mind young folks will do well to align themselves with institutions in which they may be getting less money now, but which in the later on will pan out better than the mediocre

Health Hints

By Dr. C. R. Bradford.

SAFETY FIRST

As we approach the holidays and vacation seasons "Safety First" should be the watch word of every vacationist. Where ever we go now days we see the signs "Safety First" on railroad crossings, highways, street cars, bridges and factories. Safety first should teach three things first, that lives should not be risked foolishly. Second, safety is of more importance than economy or quickness and third, precautions should be taken first, that is, before serious or fatal accidents have occurred. It is nice to know the principles of first aid, but it is far more important and far wiser to form habits of avoiding dangers and not taking chances.

Safety begins in the home. Keep medicines, sharp knives, scissors and all instruments with cut edges and sharp points out of the reach of small children. Do not leave anything on the stairs that may cause people to slip, trip, or fall. Keep the yard clean from rusty nails, broken glass and rusty wires. Do not leave combustible rubbish in cellars or attics. Be sure to put out your fire when you are through picnicing. Great numbers of lives and millions of dollars of property are lost each year as a result of fires, many of which are due to carelessness. Do not overload or stand up in your boat when fishing or canoeing. Drive cautiously when approaching intersections or railroad crossings.

Carelessness is more deadly than the mightiest of siege guns, and more destructive than all the wars of the world. More accidents and fatalities could be avoided.

A free Learn-To-Swim school for boys of junior high age will be sponsored at the Goode Park pool beginning June 12.

The swim program, designed for the service of boys who cannot swim 60 feet, and will be held on eight mornings continuing through to June 12.

Three classes will be held on each morning of the school: 9:30 to 10:15 a. m., 10:15 to 11:00 a. m., and 11:00 to 11:45 a. m.

Competent instructors and lifeguards to be on hand at each session are Gurney Day, swimming director of the Central Y. M. C. A., Frank Robinson and Elbert Webb, lifeguards at the pool, Leo Siamas, Calvin Dacus and Walter McQuerry, all of whom have passed senior life saving examinations.

All boys from the 6B grade through the 9A grade are eligible to enroll. St. Paul A. M. E. Scores Two Triumphs. The baseball and softball teams of St. Paul's A. M. E. Church hung up four victories the last week on the diamonds.

The Saints' baseball team went into the lead in the church baseball league by downing Kyles A. M. E. Zion 7 to 2 in the only game played last week. Eddie Saunders went the route for the leaders.

Abetting Saunders by their lusty hitting was French Brown, veteran thirdsacker, and Melvin Madison, young first baseman and former North High diamond star. Jesse "Canneball" Frazier and Hale Snyder, the losing battery, worked hardest for the Kyles aggregation.

Tuesday evening St. Paul captured their straight engagement by routing the Burns M. E. hardballers 16 to 2. Cecil White and Eddie Saunders held the Burns team, while their mates were hammering the offerings of Murphy for eleven safeties, together with the wobbly defense of the losers, produced the sixteen markers.

The St. Paul softball players, went out last Monday and polished off the Eleven Street All Stars 10 to 7 on the Goode Park field. The work of Eddie Reeves, Eddie Clark and Lennie Howard stood out. The Methodist softballers took a contest from Estes Funeral Home—Van Ginkels by the forfeit route Monday when the latter crew arrived at the game nine minutes late. In the two games played on the Amos Hat diamonds last Wednesday evening, the East Des Moines Community Center defeated their cousins from across the river by 17 to 6 to the Negro Community Center in one contest, and Fowlers' Funeral Home romped off with an 11 to 7 verdict over Corinthian Baptist in the second clash.

Jesse Hill and Bub Burrell baffled the opposing hitters. The veteran Fowler's crew captured their first victory of the season behind the hitting of Clarence Weston, who poled out two homers and held the Corinthian hitters in check. Friday's game at West High stadium was taken by Van Ginkel's Sporting

Thrills Aplenty for Women At New York Fair 1939

NEW YORK (Special) The thrill capital for women next year will be the New York World's Fair. Designers, merchants, manufacturers, artists, governments—all "the authorities"—have seen to that. And yet, uniquely enough, there will be no "woman's building" at the $150,000,000 exposition. Fair officials at the outset decided against such "segregation." Grover A. Whalen, president of the Fair Corporation, said that "a woman's building at a modern-day exposition would not be in tune with the progress of woman-kind."

Now, in this last year of construction, it is already obvious that woman is going to have her due at the New York fair. Those fortunate enough to attend are going to know thrills that will live with them all ways. The following presents only a pot-shot at all there will be to interest and delight women in the 12 1/2 acres of fair grounds. It is one observer's idea of what to see where.

Some of the Wonders

House of Jewels—a $5,000,000 display, by gem mining concerns and leading jewelers, showing stones fit for the rough, precious gems in finest settings, famous gems and perfect examples of goldsmith's and silver-smith's art.

Apparel and Accessories—in their own building along Petticoat Lane—a $750,000 exhibit of all dear to woman in her "costuming and in furs, hats, handbags and similar wearables or gadgets.

Cosmetics Building—showing just about everything ever done since the history of beauty aides and preparations began a few thousand years ago—with accent on the cosmetics and perfumes of today and a look at those of tomorrow. (They put thousands of dollars' worth in the cornerstone alone.)

Hall of Textiles—showing how they (worms to machines) make woven fabrics—hand looms, demonstrations of needle arts, discourses on home furnishing materials—silks and woolsens here, rayons in one wing, cottons in another, 68,099 square feet, to be exact, of allied exhibits.

Health and Science Home Furnishings Building—"Heart of the Community Interests Zone," with its focal display showing the meaning of "Home" in present and future phases and how to create one of your own—all in exhibits that thrill.

Medicine and Public Health and Science and Education Building—a "famous first" exhibit showing the wonders to be accomplished by due attention to the "body beautiful"—a must attraction that'll not leave one with a dull moment.

Gas Industries Building—everything from a laboratory to an all-gas house, a cooking school and a gas flame 50 feet high—spectacular but looking to comfort at home.

Food Buildings 1, 2 and 3—putting romance into the age-old task of fixing a meal, by and with the world's knowledge and products.

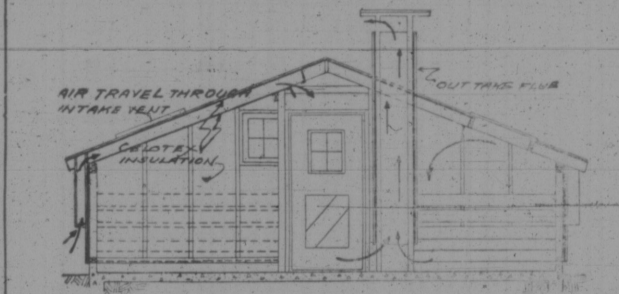

Horticultural Exhibit—acres of gardens, flowers and equipment (with a chance for a cup of tea).

Thrills in a Lifetime Theme Centre—thrill of a lifetime from a ride on the "Magic Carpet" through the 200-foot globe and the World of Tomorrow.

Contemporary Arts Building—World's Fair Theatre (music and drama)—Consumer Building—an "Hospitality Centre," first of its kind, for feminine get-togethers—spectacles on the island stage of New York State's Amphitheatre on Fountain Lake—products and kitchens of the world in two score foreign-built pavilions—the Hall of Nations, the Court of State Buildings, the $3,000,000 Federal Exhibit—buildings of industries and the City of New York—nightly spectacles of water-fire-color-and-sound—280 acres of amusements—and, withal, a setting of courts and garden with an ample supply of shaded benches.

Refreshment to go on and on may be had in any one of some 80 restaurants, affording a total of 43,200 seats, and serving the meals of almost every known nation. HOG PROFITS CONSTANTLY THREATENED BY DISEASE

If we could reduce the annual toll of swine diseases by 50 per cent, the profits of our farmers would be increased by tens of millions of dollars. This statement by the American Foundation for Animal Health clearly demonstrates that something should be done to check these appalling yearly losses.

Well up on the list of disease fatalities is swine influenza, caused by sudden changes of weather, continued cold and rainy spells, and poorly ventilated, or drafty quarters. The best safeguard therefore is to see that hogs are properly housed and kept in good vigorous condition.

The accompanying drawing demonstrates how the simple addition of one fiber insulation board to a hog house can provide weather protection for any season of the year. Such insulation conserves the body heat of the animals in winter, and assists in keeping the house at an even comfortable temperature. Ventilation, an essential factor in maintaining dry, healthful quarters, requires insulation. In the well insulated and ventilated hog house, harmful moisture will not collect on the walls and roof. This means a dryer house which, according to experts, is the best remedy for preventing disease.

'Cat Out of the Bag'

Many of the phrases we use in popular speech are similar in meaning and in origin. For instance, "letting the cat out of the bag" and "buying a pig in a poke" both came from the same source, though they have different meanings, says Pearson's London Weekly. To let the cat out of the bag is to disclose or give away some secret; to buy a pig in a poke is to clinch a presumed bargain without taking the necessary steps to make sure that the transaction is all it is claimed to be. Long, long ago, unscrupulous persons would take a cat up in a bag (or poke) to market and there try to sell it, saying that the bag contained a pig. Wise purchasers, however, would take the precaution of looking inside to verify the fact, an act that often "let the cat out of the bag." Those not so wise—well, they "bought a pig in a poke."

Allen Asbhy COLLEGE TRACK

In the collegiate games at Milwaukee last week Negro boys did all right. Archie Harris of Indiana won the discus and shot. Ed Smith of Wisconsin took second in the high hurdles and Ed Burke of Marquette tied first in the high jump. Herman Carr of Marquette placed in the quarter and ran in winning relay teams.

Two Negro schools were there and broke into the print column. Albinese of Prairie View gathered four points by finishing second in the four-forty. Florida A. and M. sent a sprinter who seemed capable of making things warm for Elbersee of Tuskegee. Holms won the hundred in good time and got second in the two-hundred. As California swamped the 24 games last week, Long John Woodruff set the same kind of a record by being the first man to win both the quarter and half mile.

He started the day-out right by tap dancing 20 blocks from Central Park West and 61st street to the Broadway theatre on West 44th street, where he is appearing in the Hot Mikado, making the journey in 30 minutes. He was accompanied by a police escort.

He raced to tie the quarter and half mile record and might have busted it if the boys could have made him run.

It sounds good to hear the Bill Watson will compete against the Pacific Coast boys in the annual meet between them and the Big Ten. Watson's best work has been right up with the coast boys work and in some cases have exceeded them. He may not win three first, but he will place high in his three specialties.

Boxing

The first big June fight is out of the way and the scribes are getting ready for the Louis-Galento set to. After viewing the picture of the Louis Nova-Baer fight it is our humble opinion that, so far as winning the title is concerned—Nova will never be any more ready than he is now. He is too easily hit with a left hand. As we sat there and watched Baer's awkward left hand into Nova's face time after time, we couldn't help, but shudder to think of what would happen if champion Joe were losing those jabs and hooks.

Now, as far as Louis and Galento are concerned, we repeat and our former warning. Don't let yourself get worked up over what Tony says about Joe. After all, the fight can't be advertised as a slaughter. Galento is at heart probably a rather nice guy to know. He probably doesn't even know what he is supposed to have said until he sees it in the paper. Try to keep in mind the fact that big gates are built up through just such silly statements as will appear between now and June 28.

Our sympathies go out to John Henry Lewis, light heavyweight champ in every state, but New York. If his eyes are really bad, then he is through as a fighter. Our guess is

EXPERT TELLS HOW TO STORE ONIONS PROPERLY

Whether in June or January, the demand for onions knows no let-up. Many dishes, both humble and aristocratic, owe their tastefulness to this basic "flavor" food.

The grower who would meet this year's round demand, however, harvests his onions only once a year and must somehow protect them successfully against changing temperatures if he is to get better prices when onions become less plentiful. Storage facilities become increasingly important as farmers recognize that it's good business to hold the finest stock for late winter deliveries.

Onions must be well ripened when stored. Plenty of ventilation, coupled with a temperature of from 80 to 90 degrees, should be maintained in the storage house during curing time. The onions should be stored in crates in such a manner as to permit the free circulation of air around them.

The necessary movement of outside air through an onion storage house requires properly spaced ventilators both at the floor and ceiling levels so that when the vent doors are open a current of air can continuously rise up and out. Experts have a homely method of determining when onions are sufficiently cured in storage. At this stage, they say, onions will "raattle like blocks of wood" when poured from one crate to another. After the onions have been cured

Marie Downing BEAUTY AND ROMANCE

SPONSORED BY LARIEUSE BEAUTY FOUNDATION

The Larieuse Beauty Foundation was established by the Godfrey Manufacturing Company to study methods of preserving women's natural beauty, and to make the results of this research available to the public.

Although Summer is not officially here until June 21, this first week of June presents the same problems of beauty care and good grooming which we will have right on through July and August. It requires extra care, time and forethought to look your best in Summer but it can and should be accomplished.

Perspiration vs. Daintiness

The most grievous sin against summer daintiness is excessive perspiration. Frequent baths, of course, are an absolute necessity during the Summer months (and all year round for that matter) but soap and water are not proof against offending these blood-boiling days. No one can be really fastidious and not use a deodorant. There are excellent preparations on the market which deodorize without interfering with the natural functions of the glands. One of these should be applied at least once a day, preferably after bathing.

If you are among those who perspire very freely, a non-perspirant may be necessary to correct the condition. Otherwise a good deodorant may be used to advantage. These preparations come in different strengths and you should read the directions carefully before applying. A non-perspirant is a boon to the fastidious woman in any season and saves a great deal of wear and tear on your clothes.

Perfumed Pick-Ups

Once you have taken care of the fundamentals of summer daintiness—at least one bath a day and regular use of a deodorant or non-perspirant—there are any number of delightful pick-ups which make you look and feel fresher.

A light eau de cologne or toilet water rubbed over the entire body will make you feel cool and fresh and add a fragrant aura to your comings and goings. It will make you feel luxurious and well-cared-for although many eau de-colognes and toilet waters are so inexpensive that they do not properly come under the heading of luxuries.

And in this battle against perspiration, don't forget that your head, too, perspires more freely in Summer. Wash your hair often in Summer, if possible every week or ten days, to prevent that sticky, stringy look that we see all too often. Be sure to use a good shampoo.

Make a complete change of clothing daily. Never put anything away without airing it thoroughly overnight. Try to limit your wardrobe to washables so that you will feel free to wash out a whole day's costume after one wearing.

Remember that "cleanliness is next to Godliness" and while we can't all be perfect, we can at least avoid offending in this most unenviable manner.

What are your beauty problems? Write Marie Downing, Larieuse Beauty Foundation, Room 521—319 North Fourth St., St. Louis, Mo., and she will be glad to answer them. Be sure to enclose a self-addressed stamped envelope.
