Entrenoué

Well here we are ripping, tearing and ready to go. I know that Travis F. is back, but does he find that a lead only like Jean M. is better than a beat. James don't you come out of hiding. He's been kidnapped and tripped it was stalled was told on Tuesday when the executive committee of the bishops' council received newspapermen in interview. The bishops present were S. L. Greene, Little Rock, and W. A. Fountain, Atlanta, in addition to Bishop Sims.

It was just a few weeks ago, Wilberforce had submitted its needs. In the legislature everything seemed to say that the over half a million dollars needed for the next two years would be appropriated and approved by the governor.

State Assemblyman Chester K. Gillespie had attacked Wilberforce's president, Dr. D. Ormonde Walker, but nothing had come of his efforts. Many friends had risen up in the university's defense, and the North Central association had admitted the institution to Grade "A" rating.

Out of the clear, rumblings began to be heard to the effect that Governor Bricker was going to slash the proposed appropriation. It was not just a rumor; the governor had decided to cut the Wilberforce money to the bones—so much so that Wilberforce could not have functioned, it is said.

Whatever would have been the official reason given, the real motive lies deep in the past political activities of the governor and the university president. They are on different sides of the fence politically, and Dr. Walker has been outspoken against the things that the governor holds dear and vice versa, it is stated.

Word came to Bishop Sims of the slash. So serious was the whole business and such was the need for speed that the bishop had to get audience immediately with the governor. His words and plea alone were not enough, so he had to turn to Pennsylvania's Governor Arthur H. James as an intercessor.

Governor James induced the Ohio executive to give audience to the A. M. E. bishop, who was accompanied by Bishop Greene, "but all the credit is due to Bishop Sims," Bishop Greene declared.

What Bishop Sims said and what arguments he gave, only those present know, but Governor Bricker was won over and the $550,000 for Wilberforce left in the appropriation bill and the bill signed.

If Wilberforce had not received this money, its entire educational program would have been deeply shattered, to the extent that it would have undoubtedly lost its "A" rating. Thus, Bishop Sims was also praised for saving the rating of the school.

When questioned as to the fitness of Dr. Walker, who formerly pastored St. James Episcopal church, Cleveland, and about the recent dismissal of six professors at Wilberforce, the bishops were united, in warmly defending the Wilberforce head.

Closing one of the most successful membership drives in the last ten years of the history of the Des Moines branch of the N. A. A. C. P., the two contestants vying to win the trip to the National convention at Richmond, Va., turned in a report of 374 members and a total of $424.50.

Mrs. Gladys C. Carr, wife of Melvin E. Carr, was winner of the contest with a report of 253 memberships and $270.50; and Mrs. J. B. Morris, wife of Editor Morris, whose report was 121 memberships and $154.

The membership contest closed with a program at the Burns M. E. church Friday night, June 23. The Rev. A. Ross Brent, pastor of Maple Street Baptist church, was scheduled to be the speaker, but was unable to arrive.

Speakers were the Rev. John C. Bain, Atty. S. Joe Brown, Mrs. J. B. Morris and F. O. Morrow, president of the local branch.

Musical numbers were offered by Bennie Dacus, who played a viola solo; and Miss Sarah Steele, musical director of East Des Moines center, who sang.

Last year's membership drive totaled $396.50 and 344 members. Mrs. Morris won the contest with a report of 237 memberships. Mrs. John Estes, 1423 Center street, won second prize with 107 members.

National Meet

GREETINGS FROM PRESIDENT

Richmond, Va. June 28.—The full operation of democracy in our country is that which makes it possible to "delight in recognizing the contributions which members of the Negro race have made to American life and the part which they have had in the progress of the nation."

This was the sentiment expressed by President Franklin D. Roosevelt in a letter of greeting read at the thirtieth annual conference of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, which opened here at the Mosque auditorium, Tuesday, June 27, at 8 p. m.

Referring to the Negro people of America as "an integral group in our American democracy" the President said, "we look to you to uphold its ideals, to help to carry its burdens and to partake of its blessings."

BURY LITTLE CHICK

Baltimore, June 28 (ANP)—The song hits composed by diminutive Chick Webb, the "Shoe Shine Boy" who became the greatest drummer in the world, followed him to his grave this week as his band played them in slow tempo at his funeral here.

It was estimated that more than 10,000 persons were in or around Waters A. M. E. church, where the funeral was held. Many women fainted during the long services. Hundreds of musicians, both white and colored, came to pay their last respects to the crowned "King of Swing."

Active pallbearers included Fletcher Henderson, Benny Carter and Al Cooper. Honorary pallbearers included Jimmy Lunceford, Cab Calloway, Gene Krupa and Duke Ellington.

Reporters from nearly 50 weekly papers were on hand to chronicle the ceremonies for their readers.

Webb died at Johns Hopkins hospital Friday a week ago following an operation for kidney trouble. Tuberculosis of the spine contributed to his death, according to doctors.

While on a tour of the South, and while playing an engagement at Virginia Beach, Va., Webb, who had not been well for some time, was taken ill and rushed back to Baltimore where he entered the hospital.

Educational night was held on Tuesday at which time Mrs. A. A. McGinty, chairman of education presided. Mrs. S. Joe Brown of Des Moines was guest speaker at the evening hour. She spoke on "Opening Closed Doors for Our Youth."

Among the interesting features of the closing day were: discussions on "What WPA is Doing for the Employment of Negro Women," by Gertrude Hyde North, chairman of legislation; "What NYA is Doing for the Employment of Our Youth," by Mrs. Helen Dameron Beshears, Des Moines juvenile court officer. Among the closing business was elections of officers, reports, resolutions, installation of officers and introduction of courtesy committee.

Many delegates from federated clubs throughout the state were in attendance.

Mrs. A. A. McGinty of Mason City, chairman of education, was elected president of the state convention to succeed Mrs. Jett.

Judge Ladd Tells Crowley, Who Attacked Men With Cue, to Get in Ring with Louis

Claude Crowley, charged with assault with intent to inflict great bodily injury was sentenced to serve a year in the county jail on Tuesday, June 27, by Judge Lay Ladd. Crowley was arrested on June 13, on a charge that he broke an arm of Frank Fowler, by striking the man with a billiard cue, after Fowler had declined to drive Crowley across town.

Fowler Testifies

Fowler, 910 Fourteenth street, former embalmer who is working in a garage, testified in a statement made while at the Broadlawn General hospital, after receiving the injury on June 13, that the trouble occurred at a billiard parlor at Eleventh and Center street, about 8 o'clock in the morning on June 13.

Crowley came into the pool hall and asked Fowler to take him over to Sixteenth street and Walker at once and when Fowler refused Crowley got a pool stick and struck Fowler in the head and broke and arm, hit one Cleveland Add on a finger and in the back, then struck at Ed Green after the stick was broke. Fowler revealed in his statement.

"What you need is to get into the ring with Joe Louis just one round," Judge Ladd told Crowley in the district court Tuesday.

INDUSTRIAL FAIR OPENS DOORS TO PUBLIC

New York, June 29. (ANP)—The Negro Industrial fair, sponsored by the Consumers and Craftsmen's guild of Harlem, Inc., a non-profit corporation chartered in 1936, opened its doors to the public Saturday after undergoing a preview for a week prior to the opening.

Occupying some 20,000 square feet of the fourth floor at 132 W. 125th street, the industrial fair is promoted to increase interest among the citizens of Harlem in colored made goods and industries. It is proposed that the fair run for the duration of the World's fair.

Rev. George W. Robinson Tells City Investigators to 'Keep an Eye on Place'

STRAW POLL PICKS ROOSEVELT, VANDENBERG FOR 1940

Washington, June 28 (ANP)—According to an early poll of 500 newspapers, it was revealed here this week that President and Senator Arthur Vandenberg will be the candidates of the Democratic and Republican parties respectively next year.

Doctors quickly decided on an operation.

He was in the hospital for a week before his death. His wife, Sally, was at his bedside at his death.

All engagements for band have been cancelled for two weeks, and when they begin to work again, Ella Fitzgerald, who contributed much toward its national success, will be in charge. The band will be known as Ella Fitzgerald's band, according to Mae Gale's office in New York.

Bardua All will continue to be front man for the outfit, and Ella will continue to sing her famed songs. The new drummer for the band has not been selected yet, although many have been rumored as slated for the position.

Drake Man Takes Bench at Hartford

Hartford, Conn.—For the first time in Connecticut history, a Negro presided over a criminal court on June 22, when Attorney Howard P. Drew, was designated by Judge Saul Seidman, to occupy his place on the bench, at a session of the city police court of Hartford.

In designating Attorney Drew, Judge Seidman said, "This, I believe, is the first time a man of his race has graced the bench and I want to say that he is as fine a gentleman and a good a lawyer as has ever appeared here. I feel honored, therefore, in being given the privilege of asking him to sit on the bench."

The action was the more outstanding since Judge Seidman is a Democrat while Mr. Drew is a Republican.

Former Olympic Star The Negro Ministerial Alliance and other prominent citizens of Hartford, petitioned for the appointment of Mr. Drew to the legal staff of the Hartford police court at the last session of the State Legislature, but, although the legislature was Republican, a deal was made between factions in which he was ignored.

A former Drake University student, Des Moines, the name of Howard P. Drew is familiar. He was among the first Negro athletes to establish a world record. During his day, he was without a peer at any distance from one yard to 220 and was a member of the American Olympic team which "cleaned up" Stockholm, Sweden in 1912.

Studied Law in Iowa Born in Virginia, his family moved to Springfield, Mass. when he was quite young. He was educated in the public schools of Springfield, Lincoln University, University of Southern California, and at Drake University, Des Moines, where he studied law and was a member of the Iowa bar association and is now a member of the Connecticut Bar.

Since practicing in Hartford, he has served on the Meadows Development Commission, as Republican Ward Chairman and member of the Republican Town Committee and as a justice-of-peace for more than eight years.

The investigating committee of the city council took no action on the "demoralizing" charges made against the Harlem club, 819 Twelfth street, one of the Negro patronized night spots here, because these complaints were not backed by evidence, a hearing at the court house disclosed Wednesday.

Complaints set out in a petition, signed by pastors of Negro churches, representatives of the Y. W. C. A. and Y. M. C. A. and other business people, were reviewed before Kenneth Sonderleiter, white owner of the building who is remodeling the club after a recent fire there; William Purcell, white operator of the club, to whom the beer permit is issued.

Representing the protesters in court were: Rev. George W. Robinson, pastor of Corinthian Baptist church; A. P. Trotter, restaurant owner, and Quentin R. Mease, executive secretary of the Crocker branch Y. M. C. A.

"Not any of these men have been there," Rev. Robinson informed the investigators, and added that "some of the men who told us these things don't care to come before the council."

Sam Orebough, assistant city solicitor, informed the protesters that "we have no way of finding these things out unless some one cares to testify."

Mr. Orebough encouraged the group that "our booze squad is trying to get something on that place to which the Rev. Mr. Robinson commented that "he is shrewd," as he glanced over to Sonderleiter and added "your's not going to find anything."

"Keep an eye on that place," the minister said.

In explaining the whole situation to the minister, Sonderleiter related: "I have a $14,000 building in a colored district I offered to sell, rent I offered to give the first month's rent free, I offered to rent it as low as $30. I couldn't rent it," he lamented and then addressing the minister queried "what was the objection?"

"Too many colored people" Sonderleiter spoke and added these prospective buyers or renters were "afraid they would get robbed, killed or murdered."

Every alibi I got—every hollow I got was too many colored people," Sonderleiter explained and lamented "I couldn't rent it! We had an empty building on hands."

NO NEGRO HELP; SOFT

DRINK COMPANY BOYCOTTED

Columbia, S. C., June 29. (ANP)—Negro soft drink stands and cafes in the "black" district of Columbia, S. C., are boycotting the Double Cola company because they refused to employ Negro help and show signs of discrimination, it is reported here this week.

The Double Cola company is a concern recently established in Columbia by capitalists from Louisville with Mayor Hayes of Kentucky, city one of the general managers. The new plant is modern in every way and is selling a very popular drink that is fast competing with Pepsi-Cola and Coca-Cola concerns manufacturing soft drinks here. Efforts are being made by the management to offset the Negro boycott, and they are rapidly making plans for Negro help.

Who Will Be Next Bishop?
Philadelphia, June 28 (By G. James Fleming for ANP)—Who will be the next A. M. E. bishops elected, is one of the important questions being asked as leaders of the great denomination from all parts of the country met here last week in three different conferences—the Bishop's council, the Connectional council, and the Young People's congress.

There was no official answer, but supporters of different candidates were present winning friends among the delegates who will attend the next general conference next year in Detroit.

There are three vacancies on the bishop's bench—caused by the deaths of Bishops W. H. Heard, R. A. Grant, and W. Decker Johnson. It is expected that these seats will be filled, and that even a fourth bishop may be named.

Among the names most often mentioned as being "very much" in the race are those of Dr. George A. Curry, Philadelphia, manager of the A. M. E. Book Concern; Dr. Joseph Gomez, pastor of St. James church, Cleveland; Dr. S. S. Morris, secretary-treasurer, Allen Christian Endeavor league.

COURAGE AND UNITY. BEAT FLORIDA KLAN'S TERROR, LEADER TELLS
Richmond, Va.—A high courage, an organizational unity, and a fixed determination to exercise their constitutional right to vote, were the characteristics which enabled 1,000 Negro citizens to turn out at the polls in Miami, Florida, May 1, despite the terrorist threats of the Ku Klux Klan.

This was a part of the inside story, as told to the thirtieth annual conference of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People here Tuesday, June 27, by Samuel B. Solomon, who organized the Miami voters in their historic action. Mr. Solomon was among the speakers at the opening meeting of the conference held in the Mosque auditorium here.

SORROW
Old Man Mose had talked with us, the day before he passed away. He said, he was going to leave us, cause he 'was going to stay. We told him that we'd write him, most nigh every day. And maybe sometime we'd come with him, and for a short time stay. Oh no you needn't bother, we heard him slowly say.

Cause I's a leaving now, and a going far away. I's waining to see St. Peter, and all the Saints above. And spend the rest of my eternity sharing in their love. He said he heard sweet music playing, and he started right in praying. We sat with him a-watching till the light of day did fade away. And as we saw his eyes last flicker, we knew he had passed away.

R. T. C.—I gave a birthday party the first of this month and invited all my friends. My best boy friend came and brought another girl and I felt let down. What was the meaning of his action?

Ans: His object was to "show off" and to try to make you jealous. Never did he realize that he was cutting his own throat by his actions. Discontinue your friendship right now, as it is best that you found out what type of boy he was before you started to care more. Such actions as this should not be overlooked.

E. C. H.—I read and enjoy your column so much. Tell me if I will make the trip this summer that I am planning?

Ans: Indications are that you will go on this journey in the month of August. A very good time is ahead for you and I assure you that you will be glad you decided on this trip.

M. R. J.—When my husband and I married we went to stay with his people and there was no getting along. His people would meet him before I could and they would get him and now we are parted and I am with my mother, but he torments me to death. Tell me what to do as he won't let me alone and won't live decently either?

Ans: You did the right thing to leave him as he put his own folks before you and was also running out at night. Since he is tormenting you, make a change of address, else protection from the police. Secure a divorce and wash your hands of this affair, for he isn't going to improve and live as you want him to.

J. J. W.—I received my private reply and was very pleased. Now tell me why it is that this girl won't allow me to come and see her? Does she still love me?

Ans: She's a determined Miss and insists on having her own way. She's still interested in you, but also wants you to show your affection for her. She'll change her mind about your visiting her in a month or so.

H. P. M.—Am a steady reader of your column every week. Will we ever own a home of our own in the town we now live in?

Ans: A home and babies too. Not soon, but eventually.

E. L. S.—I am a married lady and have been married for two weeks. I am 17 years old and my husband is 25. I want to know if there is any woman or girl in my husband's life who will give me trouble?

Ans: NONE. The only trouble you need fear is from your own friends. You are a married woman now, and incidentally your husband is a very jealous man and he won't stand for you being too friendly with any of your old boy friends.

HOW TO BE CHARMING AS WELL AS COMFORTABLE ON JULY 4

(By Hazel L. Griggs for ANP)

With the Fourth of July practically upon us, bringing its avalanche of picnics, beach parties and outdoor events, the idea of pretty and picturesque play togs become the foremost fashion thought for consideration; for it's half the fun of a holiday to feel free and easy, and yet look as casually charming as you please.

The beach or play dresses consist of perfectly designed shorts and skirts cut in one piece with flared skirts which button or zip up, the front. These outfits, made up mostly in cottons, in prints, plaids or polka dot patterns, are comfortable and adaptable for many types of play-time activity, and have the added feature of being almost universally becoming.

Dennis play clothes are paraded in many store windows, and there's a reason. It's sturdy, hard wearing, tubular and wrinkle resistant. Slacks and overalls of this material are perfect for picnics, hikes and almost any form of active diversion. The slacks are attractive when worn with gypsy striped blouses, and the overalls, halter style, may be worn sunback, if desired.

Entrenous

Well here we are ripping, rearing and ready to go. I guess the "chics" will be well taken care of now that Travis F. is back on his beat or does he find that a one and only like Jean M. is better than having a beat. James A. why don't you come out of hiding?

Hugh B. skipped and tripped lightly (as he could) up to his door at 3 a. m. Sunday and who should greet him but Papa Says Pa—"What do you mean boy and where have you been?" Says Hugh to Pa: "Pa I have been enjoying myself"—Bop! and that is the end of this woe-tale. "Any time you need me I'll always be there." Is that what Jack H. told Lula M. T.?

Chas. F. has decided to drop the "Chics" for a short while and concentrate on higher learning.

A very unpleasant sight. Yours truly climbing over Good's park pool fence after tennis balls that fell in the pool at 5 a. m. Sunday, and getting caught on the fence at the very top.

Noted in Trotters Betty P. and Anna B. looking so sad and forlorn. I wonder what he did to cause so much sadness.

I only heard, And when they got there The cupboard was bare And all the joy water was gone.

Do you know anything about that J. Schütz. To all you "Y" Stars—Better luck next time. Why was Ola McC. insulted Sunday when Nat. B. bought a pint of ice cream and ask her to cut it into? This column hopes for Evelyn Carr a speedy recovery. What no fun?

No. Cause Ike M. flaky refused to be deflunky for the "11th Street Terror" when she decided she'd like to meet a "solid gent" unknown to these parts who charmed the Center Drug with his presence Sunday. Seen about eight bells on Monday at Gladys' and Corinne's Little Chicken House—The Three Musketeers (Bill, A., Fred M. and Tom A.) and their "chics" (Ola McC., Margaret W. and Alice S.) He isn't afraid of any girl, but last week he had another fellow fix up a date for him while he sat in his car and waited. Wonder why? Have you heard orchestra, J. B. M. Jr., wouldn't it be at all if he knew where V. D. was spending a lot of his spare time. The popular song for the past two weeks seems to be "Don't Worry About Me". Well enough said and enough done. So let's fade.

Of Interest

The United States of America will celebrate 162 years of independence on July 4.

On that evening, more than a century and a half ago, practically every house in Philadelphia was illuminated with candles by patriots.

Just two days preceding, Congress had adopted Richard Henry Lee's resolution and had closed its session for the day. The adoption was celebrated with a dinner.

On June 8, a committee with Thomas Jefferson as chairman and John Adams, Benjamin Franklin, Roger Sherman and Robert Livingston as his associates, drafted the resolution: This is a portion of the same:

"The Unanimous Declaration of the Thirteenth United States of America."

"When in the course of human events it becomes necessary for one people to dissolve the political bands which have connected them, with another, and to assume among the powers of the earth, the separate and equal stations to which the laws of nature and of nature God entitles them"

After the adoption of Lee's resolution Congress took into consideration the draft made by the committee as a whole and on the following day which was the Fourth of July, 1777, adopted the said resolution.

This resolution was read from Independence Square in Philadelphia on Monday, June 8, by John Nixon from a plate form built by the American Philosophical Society for the purpose of observing Venus and had never been moved.

Due to new laws this city will be unable to celebrate as it did 162 years ago with bonfires, parades of battalions and fireworks.

Washington then turned the pistol on himself. He was not expected to live.
